7 TIGERS MAKE ALL-DISTRICT

Just Between Us by H.B.S.

McLean's Laura Switzer is back in uniform, making everything look fine again for Hutcherson Flying Queens at Wayland Baptist College, Plainview.

Laura, a junior this year, led the Queens to their sixth national championship last season—and she was named an All-American in the process.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Switzer, Laura was selected as the most valuable player in last spring's National AAU Basketball Tournament.

Later, she was in the American group of basketball players who played a series of games in the Soviet Union and other places in Europe.

While we in McLean are quite proud of Laura, the folks down at Wayland College are, too. She's the "cover girl" of the Flying Queens' basketball schedule for 1961-62.

Mrs. LaVerne Brooks brought in one of the most unusual pictures and news items we've ever seen. She snapped a picture of a squirrel that had treed her cat.

Miss Tabby Gray, the cat, had actually been chased up a tree in the Brooks yard—and stayed there for some two hours.

LaVerne said she heard what she thought was chickens being disturbed by something.

She went to the yard to investigate, and there she found Miss Tabby Gray high up on the trunk of a tree, with the largest squirrel she had ever seen spread-eagled a few feet below.

Each time the cat moved, the squirrel barked and made threatening gestures. The wild animal was undisturbed, keeping its attention on the cat, when LaVerne brought her camera out and snapped a picture.

We had hoped to publish the picture, but there was no contrast and we knew the figures of the cat and squirrel could not be seen. Both were too near the same color of the tree trunk, and the scene was shaded by branches of the tree.

The Christmas spirit seems to be catching hold of our city. Workmen Wednesday were stringing lights and decorations over the streets in the business area, and

Muscular Dystrophy Donations Top $400

Volunteer firemen had collected a total of $402.04 in their annual Muscular Dystrophy Fund drive by Wednesday afternoon, with still more expected to be contributed before the end of the week.

Fire Chief Boyd Meador said this compares with $418.20 given to the drive last year by McLean residents.

Several canisters have been placed about the city, and these should raise the total some when they are collected, Meador pointed out.

A number of persons told firemen conducting the campaign Monday night that they would give to the fund later.

Supper Tonight

McLean volunteer firemen will hold their annual steak supper at 7 p. m. today in the school cafeteria.

All firemen are invited to attend.

Santa Day Slated Here on Dec. 16

Santa Day, the time McLean and area youngsters get their first local pre-Christmas glimpse of Santa Claus while enjoying treats and a free movie, has been scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 16.

Lions Club directors set the date for the annual downtown party at their luncheon Tuesday morning in the Hindman Hotel Coffee Shop.

The club's boys and girls committee has been placed in charge of arrangements, as well as of sacking the candy and goodies to be distributed to each youngster attending.

Several hundred children from McLean and throughout this area were on hand for the party last year.

A free movie will be shown at the Avation Theatre, after which Santa is to appear for a visit with his admirers and to assist in distributing the treats.

Meanwhile, as the Christmas season approaches, the City of McLean is taking on a festive appearance. City employees began erecting street decorations Tuesday, and decorations were being prepared by some businesses.

CITY TEAMS WHIP RATTLES IN TILTS HERE

Paced by Jim Watson and Cynthia Rice, the McLean Tigers and Tigerettes scored a double victory over Stinnett in basketball games here Tuesday night.

Watson scored 11 points as McLean dumped the Rattlers 36-29, and Miss Rice counted 26 in the Tigerettes' 59-45 victory.

Busy weekends are upcoming for the two local cage teams.

They will enter the Miami Tournament Friday and Saturday. The following weekend they are to see action in the Shamrock Tournament and a week later compete in the Sannorwood Tourney.

On Dec. 12 the locals go to White Deer and on Dec. 19 they entertain Shamrock.

The Tigers, coached by Derral Davis, were deadlocked 7-7 with Stinnett at the end of the first quarter Tuesday, but jumped to a 19-9 lead at halftime.

Visitors Pull Up

The visitors closed the gap to 26-21 by the end of the third quarter.

Kenny Willingham tossed in eight points; Domy Woods, seven; Joel Meacham, five; Tommy Hill, three, and Clyde Windom, two.

Gibson of Stinnett was top scorer of the game, with 16. Coach Lloyd Hunt's Tigerettes jumped in front at the beginning and stayed there.

McLean was ahead 15-8 after one quarter; 32-19 at intermission and 49-23 at the end of the third period.

Miss Rice's 26 points were good for scoring honors in the game. (See GAMES, Page 5)

BAND QUEEN: Emme Grigsby, McLean High School senior, reigns this year as queen of the Tiger Band. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Grigsby, she was selected queen by band members and crowned at halftime of a recent football game here.

Graveside Services Are Held for Infant

Funeral services for Richard Scott Grigsby, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Grigsby of Pampa, were held at graveside in Hillcrest Cemetery Friday morning.

Rev. John Dyer, pastor of the Hobart Street Baptist Church in Pampa, officiated, and the services were under the direction of Lamb Funeral Home, McLean.

Richard Scott was born Tuesday, Nov. 21, in Highland General Hospital in Pampa and died at 12:30 a. m. Thursday in the hospital.

He is survived by his parents; a brother, Robert Burton, and a sister, Marjorie Lynn, of the home; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mildred Grigsby, McLean; maternal grandparents, Mrs. Doris Hatch, San Diego, Calif., and A. C. Crawford, Fort Worth, and paternal great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Landers, McLean.

Players Selected By 2-A Coaches

The Champion McLean Tigers placed seven players on the All-District 2-A team selected Wednesday night by coaches at a meeting in Canadian.

Four of them—Clyde Windom, Jim Watson, Kenny Willingham and Donnie Woods—also won berths on the district squads chosen last year.

McLean gridders named to the mythical team include:

Windom, senior, offensive guard and defensive linebacker; Joel Meacham, junior, offensive tackle; Willingham, senior, offensive quarterback; Watson, senior, offensive halfback and honorable mention as defensive halfback; Bob Patton, sophomore, defensive middle guard; Jim McCarty, sophomore, defensive cornerback; Woods, junior, honorable mention as offensive end and as defensive cornerback.

It also was announced earlier this week that Windom had been given honorable mention as fullback on the All-State Class A team.

Coaches from the District 2-A schools picked the top players at a meeting called for that purpose Wednesday night in Canadian.

The district championship trophy also was presented to Coach Derral Davis of McLean during the meeting.

The complete list of All-District players:

OFFENSIVE TEAM

Center—Ronald Ables, Memphis senior.

Guards—Clyde Windom, McLean senior; Don Gailey, Memphis senior.

Tackles—Joel Meacham, McLean junior; Charles Stout, Clarendon junior.

Ends—Leon Gibbs, Clarendon senior; Tom Waters, Canadian senior.

NORTH FORK PROGRAM SET

Rev. Don Cameron, pastor of the Berger First Baptist Church, will be principal speaker for "Mobilization Night" services sponsored by the North Fork Baptist Association here next Monday.

The program is scheduled at 7:30 p. m. in the McLean First Baptist Church, with some 350 representatives of association churches expected to attend.

Rev. Dan Beltz, pastor of the local church, urged all McLean Baptists to attend. He said the First Baptist Church has been challenged to have 75 at the Monday meeting.

This will probably be the largest mass meeting of the year for North Fork Association Baptists. Such meetings will be held in hundreds of associations across the Southern Baptist Convention.

Rev. Wally Shelton of Allison is the associational Training Union director, and Rev. Meredith E. Wyatt, Shamrock, and Rev. Glenn Hickey, Wellington, are moderator and vice moderator, respectively, of the association.

Features of the program will be a combined youth choir under the direction of Rev. Joe Weldon of Kellon, a model Bible readers quiz and a model Training Union program.

ANOTHER DAM SITE PICKED

More good news has been received here in the long wait for the start of construction on the road between McLean and Hedley.

Easements for the road right-of-way have been delivered to the office of Donley County Judge R. E. Drennan and signing by land owners should be completed by now or within the next few days.

The Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority also announced that a new site has been selected for the Greenbelt Dam on the South Fork of the Red River.

Location of the proposed dam had been a major problem in planning the new hard-surfaced road between McLean and Hedley.

Held up Decision

State Highway Department authorities had repeatedly delayed making a definite decision on the new road because the site of the proposed dam was not determined.

The newly selected location is above the mouth of White Fish Creek, which would place the dam far upstream from the place where the new road will cross the Salt Fork.

Dr. S. H. Townsend, president of the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority, said the new site was chosen after tests revealed water from White Fish Creek carries three or four times the amount of sulphate as the water from the Salt Fork.

Cost to Be Cut

The new location also is expected to cut the cost of the proposed dam by 20 per cent.

A check for $2,406.67 has been received by Gray County for right-of-way payment on another county road project, according to the Texas Highway Department.

The amount is partial payment for the state's share of the cost of land on Loop 171 between U. S. 60, 15 miles east of Pampa, and SH 273.

J. Fred Smith Dies Of Heart Attack

J. Fred Smith, brother of Ruel Smith of McLean, died Tuesday night at his home, 2105 Queen Street, in Fort Worth.

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon in Fort Worth.

Mr. Smith, a former resident of McLean, was 71. He was found dead in his bed Wednesday morning, the victim of a heart attack.

A builder, real estate and insurance man, Mr. Smith moved from McLean in the 1930s.

In addition to his brother here, he is survived by his wife, Gertrude; one daughter, Carol of Fort Worth; two sons, Dickie of the home and Gene of Lafayette, La.

He was preceded in death by one son and a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Smith left McLean Wednesday to attend the funeral services in Fort Worth.

Hess Buys Herefords

Paris Hess, McLean, has purchased 19 Hereford heifers from Charles Goodner of Woodward Okla., according to a news release from the American Hereford Association.

In Greece and Egypt Around the World

By ALICE SHORT SMITH

While Greece has a very low standard of living, there is very little unemployment. Many Greeks are migrating to other countries for higher wages.

The tourist business is increasing at a substantial rate. All the other countries we visited to date were down substantially in tourists, particularly from the U. S.

The John O'Connors from Dallas were there, along with several couples from Bartlesville, Okla., and as a result we were invited for cocktails to a lovely Grecian home—friends of the O'Connors—and later to a supper club for dinner and dancing.

The next evening by a wealthy family for dinner in their lovely garden, which was one of the most attractive gardens that I have ever seen. It is such a treat to be invited into a home in any foreign country.

Sunday we drove to Corinth and Epidaurus. The roadside view was extremely interesting. There would be women walking along with long robes and heavy veils or riding a donkey sideways, working on something as they rode along.

There were many little donkeys carrying heavy loads, giving us the feeling we had dropped back into the past. At Epidaurus we saw an old Greek theater built in 350 B. C. that was not uncovered until the 19th century.

It was in perfect condition and is used as an amphitheater for grand opera and also for plays. People come from Europe to see the performances there.

In the seventh century B. C., Corinth was the most important city in Greece on account of its controlling the strait. Paul came from the other side and took a boat there for Rome. We saw where Paul talked to the Corinthians.

The next day we went to see the Acropolis, Parthenon and the Grecian Ruins, then flew to Cairo.

Felix K. Zollcoffer was a former weekly newspaper publisher, Tennessee congressman and editor of the Nashville Banner. One hundred years ago this week, however, he found himself a Confederate brigadier general with the duty of anchoring the eastern end of a thin Confederate line that ran across southern Kentucky from the Mississippi River to Cumberland Gap.

His specific job: To defend the Cumberland River in eastern Kentucky. It was a job for which he had little training and one which he would bungle.

When Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston had sent Zollcoffer up from Tennessee to defend the Cumberland in September, he never dreamed the former editor would cross the river. It was natural, Johnston figured, that Zollcoffer would stay on the southern banks, keeping the river between him and his enemy.

But Zollcoffer thought differently. As November ended, his men were busily constructing ferries to cross to enemy country.

Union Troops Deploy
Across the river, a Virginia-born Union general, George H. Thomas, watched Zollcoffer's every move and deployed his men along the river to keep the Confederates from advancing beyond the river.

On Dec. 2, some of Zollcoffer's troops began shelling one of Thomas' encampments near Wainsborough. The union encampment was thrown into confusion, and before it ended, Zollcoffer crossed the river and occupied the north bank.

In a way, it was a brilliant move but if Zollcoffer was proud of it, his superiors were horrified. Of his own volition, Zollcoffer had trapped himself between the Cumberland River and the Yankees.

Far to the north that same week, a new state was being named.

Delegates from 31 northwestern Virginia counties were meeting at Wheeling, on the Ohio River, to write a constitution for the state, which was to be carved out of the Confederate state of Virginia. The new state, to be named Kanawha, would then join the Union.

Name Is Questioned
There were many things to settle in writing the constitution, and the delegates were prepared for a long stay at Wheeling. (One question was how large the state should be; at one point, planners of the proposed state had it stretching from Tennessee south to Pennsylvania and east to the Atlantic Ocean.)

But before the meeting was a week old, the delegates were beginning to question the name. "Kanawha" had been picked as the name by a convention in August, in recognition of the Great Kanawha and Little Kanawha Rivers that flowed across the area into the Ohio. The name had been approved in popular referendum by a vote of more than 18,000 to 781.

But then a quarrel began. Name the state "Allegheny," suggested several delegates. "Augusta" was a better name, others said. "Western Virginia" and "West Virginia" also were among the favorites.

As the debate continued, it became apparent the choice lay between the original name, "Kanawha," and "West Virginia." Early in December, the issue came to a vote. By a vote of 30 to 14, "Kanawha" was junked. On the same day and by the same 30-14 vote, "West Virginia" was approved. It has remained West Virginia to this day.

APPLE PECAN ROLLS make a Good Breakfast Better

Their plumes of cinnamon and apple drifting through the house make these rolls warm persuaders for generous breakfasts.

They whip up appetites. Before you know it, the members of the family are eating—and enjoying—the sound breakfast essential to build quick energy for the morning's work. These Apple Pecan Rolls are light and hot and love to drink up butter. Spicy with cinnamon, with a taffy-like topping, each bite is crunchy with nuts and tastes of apples. With good reason! The rolls unfold a thick filling of canned apple sauce and pecans blended with butter and brown sugar. And they stay so fresh and moist they can be made the afternoon before and just reheated in the morning.

1 package roll mix
2 tablespoons sugar
6 tablespoons butter or margarine

1 1/2 cups canned apple sauce
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup chopped pecans
Cinnamon

Prepare roll mix according to directions on package, adding 2 tablespoons of sugar. Cover; let rise until double in bulk.

Add 2 tablespoons butter to apple sauce; cook 10 minutes to evaporate some of the liquid, stirring occasionally; cool. Melt remaining 4 tablespoons butter in 9"x9"x2" pan; add brown sugar and heat until melted.

Roll out dough to 17"x9"x1/2" rectangle; spread with cooled apple sauce, sprinkle with pecans and cinnamon; roll up jelly roll fashion. Slice in 1" slices. Arrange cut side up in pan on sugar mixture. Cover; let rise until double in bulk. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, 20-25 minutes. Serve warm. Makes 16 rolls.

Temperatures Drop Across the Panhandle

Temperatures began dropping after a pleasant Thanksgiving weekend, and were expected to go much lower today as another blast of Arctic air moved across the Panhandle.

The high reading Wednesday afternoon was 39 degrees, according to McLean Weather Observer Pete Fulbright. By shortly before 5 p. m., the mercury was sliding again and had dipped to 36.

While fog and clouds have hung over the city much of the week, only a trace of moisture has fallen.

The last rainfall came on Nov. 21, and totaled only .05 inch. Thus, the month of November has brought 2.77 inches in rain, sleet and snow and the year's total now stands at 24.88 inches.

At this time in 1960, McLean had received 30.82 inches—with none coming in November.

BALDWIN'S INDIAN BATTLE

An interesting thing about touring Texas is the exciting history you can learn from our highway markers.

If you'll take the time to read the markers that dot our highways you'll find it as exciting as reading an action packed novel.

Who's imagination would not be carried away with this marker 17 miles south of Pampa in the Panhandle (Gray County)? It reads, "In this vicinity Lieutenant Frank D. Baldwin, commanding two companies of United States troops, attacked a large band of Indians and rescued two white girl captives, November 8, 1874."

Saying no has just about gone out of style. The positive boys are having their day. It is almost a foregone conclusion that the ayes have the advantage in any vote. Folks fuss for the first name on the ballot. The chairman always paints a rosy picture for the yes votes and it seems so much easier to be among those who want to be positive.

In some cases we may find a few yes-but votes and perhaps a few extra positive marked ballot but to mark one with a definite no has almost become the anti-something or other thing to do.

Did you ever stop to think that the Constitution is—and we almost said was—one long string of negative statements. It was no from the word go. "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment or religion or prohibiting the exercise thereof." No taxation without representation. No excessive bail. The rights of people to be secure in their homes, papers and effects shall not be violated. On and on it goes with just about every paragraph containing the word no. Some of our leading early day citizens believed in saying no. You know fellows like Washington, Hamilton, Franklin and Madison. We used to hear a lot about this thing they signed.

Then all of us have heard of a fellow called Moses. He brought us a message from God. We won't repeat them here but read over again the 10 Commandments. They are negative nine to one. Even the one with neither a no or a not tells us to honor and father's and mother's, places some restrictions. You know what next time I get half a chance I am going to vote a good resounding no.

Thank you, Texas Newspapers!

For 20 years, Texas newspapers have been giving the government free space in which to advertise U. S. Savings Bonds.

You've seen the ads: you save more than money with U. S. Savings Bonds. Those ads have sold an impressive number of bonds in Texas, bonds that have helped, and are helping, your government defend freedom at a precarious moment in history, when freedom is in desperate need of defending.

When you buy these bonds you serve well the cause of liberty. You enable your country to build up her own defenses without doing damage to her economy. You insure the future for this and succeeding generations.

The space occupied by the ads that sold those bonds was donated to your government — and that means to you — by the newspapers of Texas.

We thought you'd like to know.

"The public-spirited newspapers of Texas have made an important contribution to the well-being of this country," says Ed Gossett, Co-Chairman of the Texas State Savings Bond Committee.

"We are happy to salute the generous newspapers of this State. They have done their part, and more, in giving the public an understanding of the importance of Savings Bonds — to individual buyers, and to the cause of freedom. And they have certainly made this Committee's job easier."

Smith Takes Part In Training Exercise

COAST OF CALIFORNIA—(Special)—Hershel L. Smith, Navy seaman, son of Riley G. Smith of McLean, while serving aboard the dock landing ship USS Oakhill, participated in a large-scale Navy and Marine Corps training exercise observed by Adm. George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations, on Nov. 18 off the coast of Southern California.

More than 40 Navy ships and aircraft squadrons, and elements of the First Marine Division and Third Marine Aircraft Wing took part in the operation, which featured anti-submarine warfare operations, missile firing, carrier operations and an amphibious assault. The admiral observed the at-sea phase of the exercise from the attack aircraft carrier USS Kitty Hawk and went ashore by helicopter to watch the amphibious landing in the Camp Pendleton area near Seaside, Calif.

It was his first opportunity to see the Pacific Fleet in action since assuming the Navy's top post last August.

TRIP

sitting on our balcony watching the sunset and the traffic along the Nile.

We visited the great museum with rooms full of wonders taken from the tomb of King Tut. It was found in 1925 with everything intact. Among the things that were put in the tomb, 1350 B. C., were a sailboat of the Nile, chess sets, walking sticks, chariot, seeds of various kinds, precious jewels, in fact, everything that might be needed for the next world.

Then there was the gold coffin, one of wood and two of granite. Egypt is 90 per cent Moslem. The women do not go to church, as that would be too much distraction for the men. They do pray at home.

They have from five to seven services per day. The men can have as many as four wives but must prove that they are able to support them.

We visited the Blue Mosque and the beautiful Alabaster Mosque lighted with 5,000 glass lamps. We visited the Church of St. Sargius, the oldest church in Egypt, where the Holy Family lived during their flight to Egypt.

The Egyptians were converted to Christianity by St. Mark, who came to Alexandria in 61 A. D. We saw where Moses was left in the bulrushes. We rather doubted that it was the exact spot; no doubt it was somewhere near there.

The trip to the pyramids and to the sphinx with the camel ride was a real experience. It takes some practice to learn to swing with the camel's lurches.

The pyramids were very interesting; however, everything was stolen from the tombs years ago. So much would be revealed from the past if it had not been for those plunderers.

Our stay in Cairo was helped greatly by Millard Neptune's friend, Fuad. They had us to their home for luncheon. We enjoyed seeing how an Egyptian lives and how they serve the food. Each food is served as a different course.

Cairo is an old and large city, 3½ million population. They had just finished celebrating eight years under Nasser the day we arrived. Egypt appears to be strictly pro-Nasser by a very substantial majority and with a great deal of enthusiasm. There is quite a lot of construction going on and the employment level appears to be relatively high.

The Lions Club received a large shipment of Christmas trees which will be sold from now until Christmas Eve.

Plans now call for keeping the trees inside, in the building just south of the S. A. Cousins Agency, since some were taken last year from the usual sales area, in the vacant lot between Callahan's and Williams Appliances.

The Lions conduct the annual sale as one of their many fundraising projects. Profit made by the club will be used to buy Christmas baskets for the needy and to help pay for the annual party for the youngsters.

Farm Facts

The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that production of farm commodities in the U. S. S. R. during 1958 was about two-thirds of the U. S. level.

During 1958, the latest year for which comparisons are available, Soviet farm production made up 11% of the total world agricultural production and U. S. farm production comprised 16%.

On a per capita basis, Soviet output is about half that of the United States. The Soviet Union is placed in a favorable position by using the 1958 season (Russia's record year) to compare farm output with ours.

Although weather also was favorable in the United States during 1958, it was not as favorable as that in Russia. Soviet farm output during a year with more average weather is probably nearer 60% of U. S. farm output.

Despite a land mass 2½ times the size of the United States, the U. S. S. R.'s area of cropland, including hay land, exceeds ours only by Russian farm output is about 2/3 that of the United States.

In terms of land suitable for tillage, the United States probably has more. In 1960, the Soviets sowed 501 million acres of crops as compared to 329 million acres sown by the United States.

BEEF WEEK SET—In tribute to the state's livestock industry, Governor Price Daniel last week proclaimed December 3-9 as "Beef Week in Texas" for 1961, marking the 8th year state-wide recognition has been accorded the Texas Beef Council. The Governor is shown delivering the proclamation to Hugh A. Fitzsimons of San Antonio, president of the Council.

SECOND STORY IS FIRST

An architect named Ross Garner designed old Fort English, and the city of Bozham, in northeast Texas, still maintains a replica of it. It is well worth preserving, too, for it quickly catches the eye of all who pass its way. One can't help but compare this historical building with that of the Leaning Tower of Pisa. Both bring to mind that the builder must have read the architect's plans wrong. Or made some error. Fort English gives the appearance that its three floors have somehow become confused. The second story is the largest of the three floors and overhangs the main floor, which is the second largest. One Texas old timer is said to have teased tourists by claiming that one of our Texas tornadoes caused the two bottom floors to be reversed.
