Citizen Files For Representative

A McLean man tossed his hat into the ring for state representative from the 87th District Wednesday—the first Democrat to file as an opponent to the incumbent.

George W. Terry, owner of Terry's Electric, formally filed as a candidate for the seat in the Texas Legislature now held by Grainger McIlhany of Wheeler.

Two Republicans have also entered the race, and both of them are from Pampa—Johnny Wills and Warren Fatheree. It was erroneously reported last week that Wills would run as an Independent. Wills makes his formal announcement this week in The McLean News, and Terry said he plans to have his campaign platform ready to present to the voters in the near future.

First Campaign

This marks Terry's first campaign for public office.

As the county and state races began to warm up for action at the primary on May 5, the filing period also is open for the McLean city commission and board of education.

Three positions are to be filled on each of the governing bodies, with the city election set for Tuesday, April 3, and the school balloting on Saturday, April 7. Deadline for filing for the city commission is March 3 at the city hall. Filing will end for the school board on March 8 in the school district office.

30 Days Before Election

Deadlines are set to end 30 days prior to elections.

Commissioners whose two-year terms expire this spring are Creed Lamb Jr., Roy Barker and Joe Burroughs.

School trustees serve three-year terms. The terms of Spencer Sitter, Faris Hess and Dr. Joe Sutherland expire this year.

Residents have until Jan. 31—next Wednesday—to buy their poll tax, a requirement before they can vote in the elections this year.

Just Between Us

How complacent we Americans are!

Far too many things are going on that we disapprove of, but the opportune moment never seems to arrive when we declare this positively is all we're going to put up with.

Take, for example, the new postal law that appeared Wednesday headed for certain passage in Congress. And there's no question about the President signing it, once the measure is presented to him. While all government officials are screaming "hold the line" on prices, they push through another law that certainly will mean the lifting of more money from every one's pocketbook.

To be sure, the postal rate increase itself will cost the individual American very little over a year's time. But its effects will be felt in the increases made necessary by the extra burden on the nation's businesses.

We still do not know what amount the increase will be for The McLean News. We hope the hike will be small. It is true that newspapers and magazines have enjoyed a low, low postage rate through the years, making it possible for subscribers to buy these products at a price all can afford.

But such publications are invaluable to America's way of life.

On the state level, citizens have permitted our lawmakers to do just about anything they and the lobbyists desire. We grumble to each other about the ridiculous automobile insurance laws and the disgustingly complicated sales tax. We hesitate, though, to collar our state representative when we have the opportunity, shake our finger in his face and tell him in no uncertain terms that we don't like the way he has voted on some measures in the Legislature.

Actually, we in McLean seldom have a chance to get these things off our chests. About our only method is the U. S. mail, since the 87th District representative lives in Wheeler and isn't often seen in these parts.

There is a golden opportunity coming up, though, that will permit us to let off a little steam in a very positive way. This is an election year!

TEA PARTY: Mrs. Alice Short Smith (far right) and others on last year's world tour with her attend a tea ceremony in Kyoto, Japan. Japan was the last country visited by the group.

Around the World CAGERS KEEP PERFECT MARK

By ALICE SHORT SMITH

The comeback this country has made and is staging is phenomenal. Tokyo is now the largest city in the world.

In the last 10 years gross national production has gone from $30 billion to $150 billion, and in these figures inflation just about doubled. The principal slow-down of that period was our own 1958 recession. The post-war growth has been greater than West Germany.

Industrial production has been going up at about 16 per cent annually compared to our 4.6 per cent, and their personal consumption at 6.6 per cent compared to our 5.6 per cent.

The post-war economy in Japan is clearly consumer oriented. It concentrates on expansion of industry for export to stimulate living standards. This is in contrast to Russia, which emphasizes industrial expansion at the expense of the consumer.

I know from experience with the Japanese that they are good farmers. Only 17 per cent of the land can be farmed and the farms average about two acres with 45 per cent of the population living on farms, compared to our 10 per cent and Russia's 34 per cent.

In the last three or four years they have produced about 80 per cent of their food needs. They have some mechanization, but they are geniuses at using fertilizer and "double cropping."

There is a great deal of construction going on all over the country. As might be suspected, the money situation is tight and the cost high. In fact, Prime Minister Ikeda called for a slow-down in expansion.

The present administration is conservative and pro-Western and they appear to have about 60-65 per cent majority. The Communists have about two to three per cent, leaving the Socialists in the 30 per cent range. As you know, the Communists can do cause lots of trouble with their small number.

The people are friendly, courteous and efficient. They work hard and play hard. Baseball is really a great national sport. There are (See TRIP, Page 2)

Merchants Donate

Rites Are Held For

Local Man's Father

Funeral services for F. E. Gibson, father of P. M. Gibson of McLean, were held Jan. 17 in the Lakeview Baptist Church. Interment was in Lakeview Cemetery.

Mr. Gibson died Jan. 16 in the Memphis Hospital after suffering a stroke. He was 80 and a retired farmer.

Mr. Gibson had lived in Memphis for a number of years.

Attack Fatal For

Mrs. Banks' Father

Fred Mills, father of Mrs. H. D. Banks of McLean, died Wednesday afternoon in a Vernon hospital.

Funeral arrangements were pending this morning.

Mr. Mills suffered two heart attacks in the past two weeks, and died Wednesday after suffering another attack.

He was 77 and had lived in Vernon since the 1920s.

STATION HIT BY GAS BLAST

Gas fumes exploded in a McLean service station Monday night, blowing the owner through a large plate glass window and setting fire to a gasoline truck.

Frank Payne, who operates the Phillips 66 station on the north lanes of Highway 66, told volunteer firemen summoned to the scene that the explosion occurred when he started to light a cigarette.

Firemen quickly extinguished the flames in the gasoline truck owned by J. R. Glass, after pulling the vehicle from inside the station where it had been parked.

Payne reported that he had smelled gas fumes shortly before the blast, but didn't believe there was any danger.

Shoulder Bruised The service station operator was seated on a couch on the west side of the building. He was knocked completely through the plate glass window and some eight feet from the building.

Payne's shoulder was bruised, but he suffered no other injuries. Fire was burning in a gas stove in the same room with Payne, but firemen theorized that the fumes had been too high in the building to be ignited by the stove.

Damage to Glass' truck was believed minor.

The ceiling of the building showed some damage, but the extent had not been determined later in the week.

Sgt. Boyd Assigned

To Defense Unit

LOWRY AFB, Colo.—(Special)—T/Sgt. Earl C. Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boyd of Kellerville, is being assigned to a strategic defense unit, following his graduation from the United States Air Force technical training course for nuclear weapons technicians at Lowry AFB, Colo.

Sgt. Boyd was trained to assemble, repair and modify special weapons, related components and test equipment.

The sergeant is a graduate of McLean High School. He and his wife, the former Irene R. Hackworth of Route 1, Ravenden Springs, Ark., have two children.

Funeral Pending

For C. H. Butrum

C. H. Butrum of Lefors, long-time resident of the area, died early this morning in Highland General Hospital, Pampa.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed this afternoon.

Mr. Butrum was taken to the hospital in the Lefors community ambulance Wednesday evening after suffering a heart attack.

Animal Health Group Formed

The animal health situation in Gray County and Texas received major attention Monday night at a meeting in the McLean High School vocational agriculture building.

Primary target in a newly started eradication movement is the screw worm, a pest causing an estimated annual loss of $100 million.

John B. Rice was elected chairman of the local animal health committee formed at Monday's session. Guy Beasley was elected secretary-treasurer. Both are from McLean.

Other members of the committee are George Saunders, W. W. (Slick) Boyd, Truitt Johnson, James Cliett, Oscar Tibbets, Leonard Glass, Leslie Darsey, Milton Carpenter and Brynn McPherson, all of McLean, and Billy Davis and Bill Gething of Lefors.

A county-wide meeting of livestock producers and others concerned with animal health is scheduled for 7:30 p. m., Feb. 5 in the McLean High School auditorium.

In the meeting last Monday, in addition to County Agent Foster

Whaley and Vocational Agriculture Teachers Jim Weatherford, McLean, and Bob Skaggs, Pampa, it was decided to support a similar statewide effort, which has been named the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation.

The foundation's purposes are to receive and disburse funds and sponsor research and educational programs on animal health—including diseases, insects and parasites—to the end that these hazards of livestock production may eventually be eliminated. (See ANIMAL, Page 2)

many ball diamonds in every public park. Often at 8 o'clock in the morning you can see a number of games going on, even on week days. On Sunday every available diamond is taken. The professional games really draw crowds.

They have done a remarkable job of doing away with war damage, very little is evident.

We found Tokyo much like being in New York or any large city. We much preferred Kyoto and the trips out in Japan where we could enjoy the unique beauty of the country and the unusual charm of the people.

Of special note in Tokyo is the wonderful entertainment. One evening we went to Shochikuokai Theatre to a spectacular all-girl review. The dancers were about the best we had seen. In number they have about like the Rockettes in New York, at times as many as 200.

The background with fountains, the beautiful costumes and these very graceful Japanese girls make it a superb performance. We think the Japanese girls and ladies are about the most charming and graceful in the world.

Another night we went to see the famous Russian Bolshoi Ballet presentation of the "Nutcracker Suite" and special dances. Without question, the Russian ballet dancers are the best in the world. We missed seeing this in Russia and also in London, so it was a thrill to catch up with them in Japan.

The trip on this deluxe train was a wonderful experience. Japan has superb trains and the observation car on the Express, with wide windows on both sides and reclining chairs, was like sitting in our living room looking out at great beauty from both sides.

The farms in the valleys and on the hillsides were like a landscape artist had designed them all. The trains are always on time and you have two minutes to get off or on with your luggage, even in the large cities.

Kyoto, an old city of 1,300,000, is the most interesting and charming of the cities. It has many ancient Buddhist temples, Shinto shrines, palaces, etc. It is the place to see the ancient art of Japan.

On our arrival at the Miyako Hotel we were greeted by Mrs. Ishikawa, a friend of the Kiddos, and a lady from the mayor's office who made our stay in Kyoto much more pleasant. They went with us to some of the places and planned the most interesting things for our short time there.

Since we had already seen so many temples, we only visited three and spent more time visiting Japanese gardens. It is wonderful to see what the Japanese do with trees, rocks, ponds, bamboo and moss. They do not have a great many flowers but use different colors in foliage and go in for special shaping of the trees.

By a special favor we were shown the technique of a Japanese tea ceremony at the home of Mrs. Tamiko Sen. The Sen family were the founders of the Urusenka School which trains students in the fine art of the tea ceremony. It is the custom in Japan to remove your shoes before entering the house. After leaving our shoes on the doorstep, we entered this lovely tearoom where the only furniture was the pillows around the room to be used for seats.

After we settled comfortably on the pillows, the very charming Mrs. Sen came in and bowed three times to the floor which was her means of welcoming us to her home. Then a small charcoal stove was placed in front of her with a teakettle and the tea-making began.

At this point Mr. Sen brought in individual plates of sweets and with each plate that he put down in front of all the guests he would bow to the floor to each one, and we would bow in return. After tea was served we began exchanging little pleasantries in conversation. We then retired to what she called the Western tearoom where we sat on small stools for a visit. This was an exquisite experience.

We had dinner one evening at Kyo-Yamato, a Japanese tearoom where each group had its own room, and the rooms are lovely and very simple. In these typical Japanese restaurants you always sit on the floor and never wear shoes inside.

This evening we arranged ahead to have Maiko and Geisha girls to entertain us. The Maiko girls are young and very pretty and are trained to be Geisha girls. They sit by you and help serve you and then they do dances and songs and finally have games which you play with them.

They told us how they did their elaborate hairdress and said they had to sleep with it done up like that by having special ear pillows.

The Maiko girls are prettier and more fun than the older Geisha girls. In Japan for 300 years they have had Geisha girls for entertainment. Some people who do not know, think of them as call girls, but that is very erroneous as they are trained from little girls in all the nice charms of entertaining, and they are always chaperoned.

I might add that we ate with chopsticks as we did for nearly every meal in Japan and some in Hong Kong. By the time we left we were getting adept at using them.

Another evening we went to another Japanese restaurant, Karafune, an old Japanese farmhouse converted into a restaurant. Again we sat on the floor around a low table and the food was cooked in the center of the table.

They put vegetables in the boiling pot and gave each of us a plate of thin slices of Kobe steak, which we dropped into the pot with chopsticks and dipped up and down until it reached the desired degree of rare, medium or well-done when we fished it out and dipped it into individual dishes of meat sauce.

This night we had as guest Mr. Yoshijiro Ishikawa, 80-year-old member of Japanese UN, chairman of the board of the electric railroads, among many things. He understood some English but had an interpreter and we all enjoyed the exchange of ideas.

He gave me a gift, as is the custom there, which was wrapped very carefully, and the wrapping always discloses a wish of health, happiness, etc.

One custom of the Japanese people we particularly liked is taking off your shoes when you enter the house. That was a wonderful boon to the weary traveler. Another idea we liked very much was that of placing a small damp finger-tip towel in a tray by the side of the plate. They did that in all of the Far East countries and we liked it so much.

We never really learned the proper art of sitting gracefully on the floor. That is something you have to practice from childhood.

And that is the end of my wonderful trip around the world, the memories of which I shall enjoy the rest of my life.

The thing I enjoyed most was seeing the people from all over the world, how they lived and what they believed. I tried to converse with them at every opportunity. This was difficult at times. Sometimes it was only a bow and a smile but I do have a close feeling toward the people in the countries they visited.

Thank you for letting me tell you about my tour.

Right-of-Way Check Received by County

More right-of-way money has been received by the Gray County commissioners court for SH 273 work.

A check for $1,654 was sent to the county the past week by the Texas Highway Department as partial payment for the state's share of the cost of land needed on SH 273 between SH 70, one mile south of Pampa, east and 3.5 miles north of Lefors.

The check was transmitted by District Engineer Charles W. Smith of Amarillo to the commissioners court.

The right-of-way land is needed for the current SH 273 improvement project between Pampa and Lefors.

Baptists Change Time Of Evening Services

Rev. Dan Belz, pastor of the First Baptist Church, announces that, beginning next Sunday, the time for the Sunday evening services will begin at 6 p. m. for Training Union and 7 for the worship service.

The change from the hours of 6:30 and 7:30 was made at the request of Training Union and youth workers, who felt that the earlier time would be more feasible.

be controlled. "Animal health," Chairman Rice said, "is not only a concern of the producer but the economic loss also affects business and consumers. We all have a role in this program."

The foundation's first major effort will be a program aimed at controlling the screw worm. The proposed program is patterned after the successful drive in Florida and the Southeast.

The screw worm was almost eradicated in Florida.

"Through county organizations such as ours," Rice said, "every livestock producer and other interested persons will have an opportunity to support the foundation and its programs. Producers are being asked to contribute on the basis of 25 cents per head for adult cows, horses and steers."

Contributions may be made to any member of the committee. All funds collected will be passed on to the foundation for support of existing research facilities and conduct of large-scale field tests.

Rice added: "We know this first program will cost several million dollars, but if we can remove the screw worm from the scene the annual savings will amount to several times the cost of the control effort."

on her around the world trip comes to an end with this issue of The McLean News.

We hate to see it stop, for there hasn't been a one of the articles this reader didn't enjoy. Many of you have told us you found them interesting, too.

Several of the pictures accompanying the articles didn't reproduce in the News as we would have liked. Indeed, the subjects in some could barely be seen.

This was the result of our attempting to use color prints which Mrs. Smith had made. For some reason, even though the pictures were of excellent quality, the engravings didn't turn out clear. The black and white prints reproduced well.

Temperature Rises To 66 Wednesday

Almost spring-like weather pushed away the icy grip winter had held on McLean Wednesday, shooting the thermometer to a high of 66 degrees.

Sub-freezing readings had stayed in the city since last week.

No measurable amount of moisture has fallen in the past week, although the city received some snow last Thursday and again on Sunday, and a light rain was falling this morning.

Weather Observer Pete Fulbright reported that the moisture to date in 1962 is 29 inch, compared to 75 by Jan. 25, 1961.

McLean had .08 inch of rain and snow on Jan. 4, .13 of snow on the following day and .08 of snow on Jan. 8.

Judy Wyatt of Fort Worth visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wyatt, over the weekend.

Both Texas and national automobile accident statisticians now estimate that if highway crashes are continued at the present rate, every other person now alive either will be killed or injured in one.

COMMITTEE FORMED

John B. Rice was elected chairman and Guy Beasley secretary-treasurer of the newly organized Gray County animal health committee.

Although this committee was formed to work on all diseases and insect pests of livestock, their primary target is to stamp out the screw worm problem in Texas.

This has been done in Florida through a process of sterilizing large quantities of male flies. Since the males mate many times and the females only once and then die, they actually breed themselves out of existence.

Moderately cold temperatures will kill the screw worms out over most of Texas. A severe winter such as we have recently experienced will kill them out pretty well all over Texas.

The Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation feels that we have a most favorable year to launch a screw worm eradication program, because of the extremely severe winter.

The local Gray County committee is one of 235 that have been organized. A preliminary report of the first 42 counties organized showed each county had contributed $7,500, and none of them complete.

The goal of the state committee is to raise $3 million. Latest reports indicated the goal would be reached.

The state-suggested rate of contribution to this most worthy cause is 50 cents per head for adult animals. The local committee suggests a 25 cent rate for this area.

However, they will accept any amount.

Two community meetings have been set to acquaint people with the program. According to John B. Rice, chairman, a meeting is scheduled to be held in the McLean High School auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Monday night, Feb. 5.

A speaker from the board of trustees of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation is being sought. Mr. T. J. Richards from Paducah is being contacted. A 30-minute film, "Roundup," will be shown. This explains how the

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shelton, Becky and Susan returned Sunday night from Perryville, Ark., where they visited relatives.

TELEPHONE TALK
by George Newberry, Manager

HEARD ON THE STREET

Two ladies were talking on the street the other day and I heard one say, "My husband gave me a colored phone for Christmas and it changed the whole appearance of my room and I do not know why I did not call the telephone company office a long time ago and get for a colored telephone." Why don't you call the office today?

A NEW ITEM

One of the newest types of equipment, we have in the telephone business today, is the Bell Chimes. Folk like the Bell Chime because it can be adjusted to ring in any one of three ways, with a soft bell, a loud bell or a melodic chime.

FROM THE MOUTHS OF BABES

After touring one of our central offices, a second grade class was given an assignment by their teacher. They were asked to write about the things they learned that day.

One little girl entitled her composition, "You Could Never Without Your Telephone." And that pretty well sums up the telephone's role in today's busy living routine, whether it's here in McLean or in New York or Chicago.

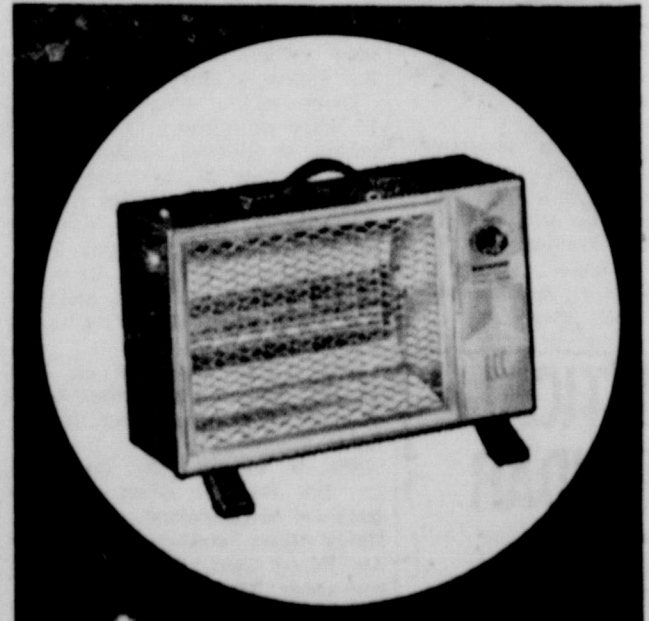

She's right, you know. You could never without your telephone . . . you could never call a neighbor to exchange recipes or call for repairs or service, or arrange get-togethers on the spur of the moment, or chat with your family or friends located far from home.

Day in and day out, the telephone is a constant and faithful companion, giving you service that's useful, pleasant and necessary. Nothing else you use so often does so much. Or, to put it more simply—you could never without your telephone.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

JOHNNY WILLS ENTERS RACE FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

PAMPA, Texas.—Johnny Wills of Pampa today formally announced his candidacy for State Representative from the 87th District, on the Republican ticket.

In announcing that he would campaign as a Republican, Wills stated:

"I have always been a conservative. For years I considered myself also a Democrat. But I have watched sadly as the Democratic Party has veered further and further to the left.

"I cannot any longer support the Democratic Party as it follows this unfortunate liberal trend. I believe that liberalism is nothing more than a one-way street to economic and social disaster."

Wills, 27, is married and he and his wife, Lia, have one daughter, 2-year-old Eva. They reside at 1005 Terry Road in Pampa.

In announcing his candidacy, Wills pledged a vigorous fight to bring the problems and the issues before the people of Gray, Collingsworth and Wheeler Counties.

"I am convinced that the new sales tax is an unfortunate piece in the history of this state—a cumbersome, awkward, expensive piece of legislation full of loopholes and generally unfair to the great majority of taxpayers," Wills said.

"However, I am much more concerned with the problem that made the sales tax become an issue in the first place—appropriations. I am very disappointed to see current representatives and senators—as well as announced candidates—failing to even discuss, much less protest, the appropriations that forced the sales tax upon us.

"The people of this state should realize that once the appropriations bill was approved, additional taxes had to come from somewhere. The issue, it seems to me, is to cut expenditures—not constantly seek money to pay for expenditures already voted upon."

Wills also voiced a protest against the Safe Driving Plan, which he called "totally inequitable." This is the plan which penalizes drivers on their insurance premiums for moving traffic violations and accidents.

"The very idea of penalizing a man for three years on his insurance premiums for a very minor moving traffic violation is preposterous on the face of it," he said. He called for a complete revision of the plan which would penalize drivers for only one year—and then only in the case of more serious driving offenses or accidents.

In addition, Wills said he would work to have Texas insurance laws revised to permit competitive automobile insurance rates. "Competition is what made this nation great," Wills said. "In Texas the state tells all automobile insurance companies which rate they must charge—and no other.

"I am a conservative because I believe in the inalienable freedom of man," Wills continued. "I am very concerned with this increasing trend toward centralization which breeds constantly rising taxes. I believe the Republican Party is the salvation from liberalism—and I am convinced the majority of voters will also feel this way."

Wills said he would add a new innovation if voters send him to Austin. He stated that he would report at least twice monthly to his constituents on major issues before and after they are acted upon by the House.

"This is simply a matter of keeping my constituents informed of what their representative believes, and of what he is doing in their behalf. I am sorry to see that it has not been done in the past."

Wills is currently Director of Development of the Texas Rehabilitation Center, Texas hospital for the severely disabled.

In this post, which he has held for the past two years, he has had the responsibility of coordinating and developing the public relations and fund-raising activities of this famous non-profit hospital.

A native of Pampa, he attended Pampa schools and the University of Texas. He is an officer in the 36th Infantry Division, Texas National Guard. He is a member of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and is active in other civic affairs.

GEORGE H. WEATHERLY INTERIOR DESIGNER

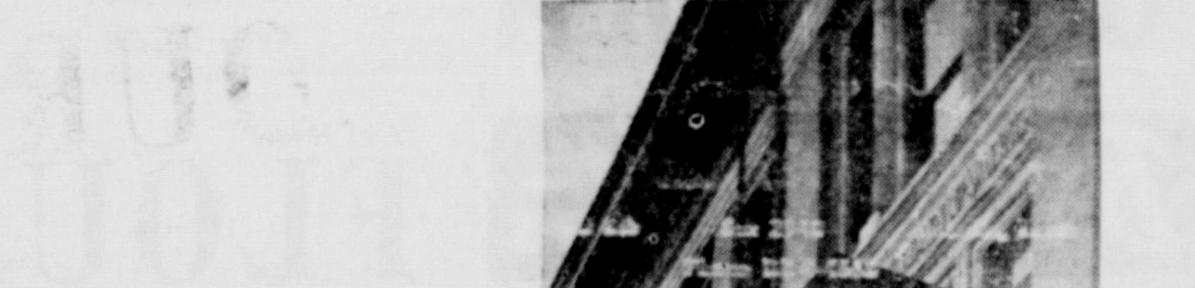

GEORGE H. WEATHERLY is most capable and reliable. There is a great deal of difference in the appearance of a room that has been decorated with good taste, and one that has not. The non-experienced person does not realize all the points to be considered when decorating a room tastefully. It takes years of experience and extensive studying to acquire the knowledge of an interior decorator.
 GEORGE H. WEATHERLY is a man who is known throughout this section as a leader in his field. For those who want to take pride in their homes let this expert help you solve your problems by calling FL 5-3411 or coming by his office the next time you are in Amarillo.
