Wheeler can thank the president of Shamrock's board of education for the "yes" majority vote in last Friday's election to consolidate the Wheeler and Kellerville school districts.

H. C. Brannon, the Shamrock board president, wrote a letter to all school patrons in the Kellerville district a couple of days before the election.

In the letter, Mr. Brannon wrote that he felt Kellerville would be better off by consolidating with Lela.

"If the financial problem is given equal consideration with the opportunity for education, then NEITHER Wheeler, McLean nor Shamrock can offer the incentive that Lela offers," he wrote.

"Lela, as all the other districts, absorb the students of the Kellerville district without any major increase in expenses. Their buildings and teaching staff are adequate to do this."

We talked with one Kellerville district taxpayer, who believed he could see clearly through such a suggestion. He was of the opinion that Shamrock felt the consolidation with Lela could eventually mean Shamrock would get Kellerville after all—through consolidation someday with Lela.

Perhaps many other Kellerville people felt the same way. They had turned down consolidation with Shamrock last year.

Why Mr. Brannon should choose to take several digs at McLean in his letter, we don't know. It goes without saying that McLean people have hoped all along when Kellerville patrons decided to consolidate with someone they would choose McLean.

We have always had close ties with Kellerville, and we hope last Friday's vote to consolidate with Wheeler will not break those ties. To our knowledge, the McLean board of education has never exerted any pressure on Kellerville to consolidate with us.

It is true that the circulation of a petition calling for such consolidation was started here at about the same time of a similar move by Wheeler.

But the circulation of the petition was stopped to await the outcome of last Friday's election. Many Kellerville students have attended school in McLean, and they were welcome. The welcome mat will still be out in the future.

Let there be no misunderstanding . . . any district would be happy to consolidate with Kellerville. Schools are forever in need of more money, and the additional $60,000 (we're told it's this much) from the Kellerville district would be most welcome anywhere.

To quote further from Mr. Brannon's letter:
"It is common talk around Wheeler that, 'as soon as Wheeler gets Kellerville, we can build us a new high school . . ."

"Consolidation of school districts would necessarily mean that taxes would be equalized over the newly created district. This tax equalization is required by the laws of the State of Texas and will be necessary regardless of whether consolidation is with Shamrock, Lela, Wheeler or McLean. Shamrock and Lela have no additional building programs in mind. It would therefore be quite easy to determine just what equalization of taxes would mean in the case of either of these two districts. This is not the case when consolidation with either Wheeler or McLean is considered. Both of these districts are in need of new facilities and no one is in a position to even estimate the additional costs of such new facilities."

Switchover to Dial Phones Set For Next Sunday at Alanreed

Next Sunday is the big day in Alanreed telephone history. It will be "ring out the old, ring in the new" at noon that Sunday when Alanreed's new dial telephone system is put into operation by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

"Ring out the old" means an end to the manual telephone system which has served the community since telephones were first installed at Alanreed.

"Ringing in the new" heralds the advent of the automatic telephone system. It will mean that Alanreed has modern up-to-date telephone service, George Newberry, telephone company manager, said.

Newberry said that almost everything is ready for the switchover. He said that all of the existing poles and wires were replaced and that presently telephone installers are placing dial telephones in customers' homes and businesses.

New Underground Cable
He also said that since the telephone switching equipment which will serve Alanreed telephones is located in the company's building at McLean that a new underground cable stretching from Alanreed to McLean will be placed in service soon.

As the time for the change to dial approaches at noon on Sunday, a few last calls will be trickling through the present switchboard and the last familiar "number, please" will be heard.

At noon Sunday a final check of calls being handled will be made to assure that no emergency calls are involved. Then the cutoff order will be placed to telephone men who will go into action—and the new dial system will be in operation.

With these moves, too, every telephone number in Alanreed will change. New telephone numbers will begin with the prefix GRanite 9.

The actual change to dial operation will take perhaps one minute or slightly longer to perform. But the job to be done in 60 seconds climaxes several months of painstaking effort by local telephone people, Newberry pointed out.

The switchover to dial service means the end for toll charges on calls made between McLean and Alanreed.

For cattlemen and city residents, the rains were most welcome. But for the area farmers, it was just too much moisture at one time.

Gray County Agent Foster Whaley said this week that some farmers have already planted their cotton as many as two and three times. For many, it's all to do over again.

Still, Whaley said there are varieties of cotton, it still isn't too late to plant. He tells about them in his column this week.

The latest rains increased to 11.34 inches the total amount of moisture this year.

5.84 in June
In 1963 at this time the city had received 8.72 inches.
The month of June has been the big difference. Last year residents saw 3.84 inches of rain during the month. Already in June, 1964, a total of 5.84 inches have fallen.

McLean recorded 2.90 inches last Saturday alone. Booming thunderstorms rolled through this area, putting McLean and other parts of the Panhandle under a severe weather alert.

Sunday brought another 1.19 in. (See RAIN, Page 9)

Four Days of Rain Bring 4.85 Inches

Oh, yes, the rains came down . . . Four days of precipitation closed out last week on a soggy note in McLean, with a total of 4.85 inches of rain falling.

McLEAN 66 CELEBRATION SHOWS PROFIT

Association Will Meet Friday To Hear Fund Report
A meeting of the McLean 66 Roundup Rodeo and Horse Show Association is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday at city hall.

Association President
Truitt Johnson invited all Riding Club and Lions Club members to attend.

A report will be given on the celebration held earlier this month—the most successful in years.

Johnson said that a complete financial report should be ready by Friday.

Virtually every phase of this year's celebration showed a profit, with the barbecue adding several hundred dollars to the total.

Johnson expressed his thanks to all who helped with the entire celebration, and especially to those who donated to the barbecue.

Beef Donated
The six beefs for the barbecue were donated by Faris Hess, Morse Triangle Ranch, George Saunders, Clyde Magee, RO Ranch and Claude Powell and Truitt Johnson.

Cooper's Market furnished the beans and Puckett's Food Store the onions and lettuce; Parsons Rexall Drug the pickles, hot caps, leed tea cups, knives and forks, the barbecue sauce and napkins; Mead's Bread the bread, and 27 McLean women each made a large bowl of potato salad.

Johnson said Flip Breedlove, Donley County agent, donated his services in barbecuing the meat on the DR Hereford Ranch south of town.

Appreciation was also expressed for the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which operated the west concession stand at the rodeo arena and helped turn the meat while it was being barbecued.

Many donated their time to work during the rodeo, Johnson pointed out the job of rodeo judge, which usually costs the association $50 and more, was filled by Bob Sherrod, who refused pay for his work.

Johnson said the fact that everyone worked so well together helped to make this year's rodeo and entire celebration one of the best ever.

Sherrod, who served as chairman of the rodeo, joined Johnson in thanking all who helped with the various parts of the celebration.

"I asked a lot of people to do a lot of things," Sherrod said, "and they were eager to help out. Many of these people didn't belong to the Lions Club or the Roping Club, but still were willing to help when needed."

Sherrod said he "just wanted these people to know that we appreciate everything they did, even though we didn't have the time to express our thanks to them during the celebration."

LONE STAR FARMER: Harry Tate (left), McLean High School student, shows his Lone Star Farmer application to Nelson Christie, local vocational agriculture teacher. Tate is the first McLean youth to receive the Lone Star Farmer degree—high state honor in Future Farmers of America—in years. He will receive the honor at the state FFA convention next month in San Antonio. Harry Tate to Receive Honor Lone Star Farmer Degree to Local Boy

A McLean High School Future Farmer of America chapter member will receive the Lone Star Farmer degree next month—the first local youth so honored in several years.

Harry Tate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orphus O. Tate of Route 1, will be awarded the degree at the state FFA convention at San Antonio in July.

Nelson Christie, vocational agricultural teacher here, said this week that the McLean youth was selected with other degree recipients from among thousands of FFA members.

Christie praised Tate for his interest in agriculture and his continuous efforts to improve his farming activities.

In his application for the degree, young Tate showed a net worth of $1,807.54.

Owens Livestock
Included in his holdings are two registered Red Poll cows, a registered Red Poll cow with calf, Hereford cow with steer calf, Hereford heifer, white cow with calf, two mixed heifers, three head of pigs for pork production, a show steer and a shed and pig pen.

Tate showed earnings of $198.12 on his four-acre cotton crop last year, and a loss of $33.04 on his show steer.

He does extra chores to help pay part of his livestock feed bills.

Tate and several other members of the local FFA chapter will attend the state FFA convention in San Antonio, accompanied by Christie.

Three Residents To National Convention

Three McLeansites were on their way back home today after attending the Future Business Leaders of America convention in Washington, D. C.

Larry Williams, Linda Tindall and Mrs. Mary Tom Riley represented the McLean High School FBLA chapter at the national gathering.

Approximately 1,250 high school and college students from almost every state took part in the three-day convention which closed Tuesday.

The McLean delegation took the chapter's exhibit, which earlier won first place in Texas.

Built by Williams

The local exhibit, which was built by Williams, was entered in the national contest. It was not known this afternoon how it fared in national competition.

Members of the FBLA met in the Sheraton-Park Hotel in Washington for their general sessions. Some of the nation's outstanding businessmen spoke.

Tours of the city of Washington also were on the agenda, including visits to the White House, Lincoln Memorial, Washington Monument, National Gallery of Art and Mount Vernon.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to express our thanks to all our friends and neighbors for the cards, food, visits, calls and flowers while Irene was in the hospital.

13 Accidents Occur On County Roads In Month of May

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 13 accidents on rural highways in Gray County during the month of May, according to Sgt. J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for six persons injured and an estimated property damage of $4,575.

The rural accident summary for Gray County from January through May of 1954 shows a total of 69 crashes resulting in two persons killed, 48 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $42,800.

Deaths Increase

The sergeant expressed serious concern over the increase in fatal motor vehicle traffic accidents and deaths throughout the state.

"For the first five months of 1954, 1,025 persons have died in traffic, compared to 871 for the same period of 1953," the sergeant stated. "This 18 per cent increase is very alarming and when you realize our heavy volume traffic months are still ahead, we must anticipate increasing problems in the accident picture. There is an increase in all types of accidents throughout the state and it is something that merits our greatest concern," he said.

MR. AND MRS. LUTHER PETTY

MR. AND MRS. LUTHER PETTY OBSERVE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Petty were honored by their children with an open house on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday afternoon, June 7, at their home.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Nora Loveland.

The serving table was covered with a gold cloth and held the centerpiece of gold roses and white snapdragons and a white and gold candle with "50" on it in gold.

The two-tiered wedding cake was decorated with white and gold bells. Other refreshments were gold and mints and gold colored punch.

Serving were Frances Ann and Patty Petty, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Petty.

Corsages of white carnations and white carnation boutonniers were worn by adult members of the immediate family and those serving. Mrs. Petty wore a corsage of gold orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Petty were married on May 19, 1904, at the home of his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Petty, in the southeast part of McLean.

The observance of their Golden Wedding Anniversary was delayed until June 7 so that all of their children and grandchildren could attend.

Mr. Petty was born in Collingsville, Ala., on March 25, 1885. When he was a child of 2 years, the family moved to Weatherford, Texas.

Later they moved to Elmer, Okla., and in 1904 came to McLean.

Mrs. Petty was born in Pettis County, Mo., near Ionia, on Aug. 17, 1880. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Francis.

The family moved to McLean on Dec. 20, 1909.

McLean has been the home of Mr. and Mrs. Petty almost ever since their marriage. They lived in Idaho from 1918 to 1923, and their three sons were born there.

They have five children:

Francis Luther Petty, associated with Union Oil Co. in Midland; twin sons, Harold Geo. who is parts manager in an implement store at Mexico, Mo., and Herman Leo, former missionary to Nazareth, Israel, who now teaches school in Abilene; twin daughters, Mrs. Zora Isabel Loveland of Dallas and Mrs. Zora Isabel Billingsley of Amarillo.

COTTON FOR LATE PLANTING

Are you having to replant cotton? It may even be too late to plant the first time yet. In either case, you need to plant a cotton variety that will produce good yields with mature bolls at harvest, according to County Agent Foster Whaley.

"It is important at this late date to plant only varieties which offer good yields," says Bill Gunter, area extension agronomist. Based on research at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock, several varieties have proved suitable for late planting (June 20-30) over a several-year test period.

Among these are Gregg, Paymaster 101-A and 57-B, BII-Co 90 and Stormrider. Stormrider is an open-boll variety, but when planted late in the season, there is little cotton loss, says Gunter.

According to data from J. D. Bilbro, USDA agronomist at the center, yields of several cotton varieties have been compared for two years at two different planting dates.

Two of the varieties are among those recommended for late planting. Gregg variety planted June 20-21 in each of the four years averaged 581 pounds an acre. Paymaster 101-A averaged 572 pounds lint an acre. This compares to 702 pounds for Paymaster 101-A planted at the same date.

NEWS OF CONSERVATION

RANGE SEEDING—Harris King of McLean reported that the 60 acres of native grass he seeded this year has come up to an excellent stand.

Harvey Taylor also got an excellent stand of grass on his farm north of Alanreed. He seeded 71 acres this year. Harvey is irrigating 55 acres of the seeded grass. The recent regular rainfall has been ideal for grass seedlings.

DEFERRED GRAZING—Many landowners and operators practice some native grass deferment each year. Grass that is rested during the summer produces cured forage that can be used by livestock during cold winter months when there is a shortage of dry feed.

Milton Carpenter, Stan Friend, Harvey Hudgins, Mrs. J. B. Noel, James Cliett and Billy Davis are some of the ranchers who plan summer deferment in their annual grazing programs.

Most ranch units can be managed so that one or more pastures can be deferred each summer. Pastures that are rested through a three to six months-period will improve in range condition and plant vigor, which will result in an overall increase in range production.

BRUSH CONTROL—Billy Davis, Johnny Hines, Leslie Webb, Harvey Hudgins, J. D. Fish and John B. Rice did approximately 4,000 acres of brush control this year.

They sprayed sassafras and shiner oak brush which will reduce plant competition and give the better grasses a chance to grow. Deferred grazing is recommended for three to six months following brush control.

SCD CARRYALL—The Gray County Soil Conservation District has a two-yard carryall available for farmers and ranchers in Gray County. Curtis Schaffer, Elmer Balch, Sailor Brothers and G-ray Brothers have used the carryall. They highly recommend it for most earth-moving projects.

HOME OF HOUSTON LIVESTOCK SHOW AND RODEO—The largest livestock exhibition building under one roof in the world will be the home of the Houston Livestock Show beginning in 1966. The air-conditioned building covers 12 acres and will have stalls to accommodate 1700 halter cattle, 600 horses, 1200 swine, 1200 sheep and goats, and a 208 x 80 livestock judging arena. It will provide separate sheep and swine arenas, an auction arena for breed sales and commercial cattle, facilities for poultry and rabbits and a milking parlor with observation facilities. The exhibition building is adjacent to the famed Domed Stadium which will house America's largest and wildest rodeo.

CATHERINE DWYER HEFNER IN MEMORIAM

By RUBY COOK

When John Dwyer was only 20 years old he left his home in Tipperary, Ireland and came to America to make his mark in the world. He worked in a manufacturing plant in Philadelphia for a while, then, moving westward, settled in Greely, Neb.

When he was established there, he sent his Norwegian sweetheart, Marie Caroline Hansen, met and married her in Denver. To this union was born, in Greely, Catherine, Phil, John Mary, Martin and Michael.

In time, John and Caroline became dissatisfied in Greely, deciding, finally, on a home in the Panhandle of Texas.

Catherine, the oldest child, was 14, in 1906, when her parents moved their family to a sandy-land farm three miles northwest of McLean. The younger children were sent to the Peterson Creek School because it was nearer.

Catherine entered the McLean School, walking three miles twice a day. No one thought walking six miles a day was a hardship, for 58 years ago there were no highways, no cars and the Dwyers were not the only ones who had no buggy for family use.

In the Dwyer home, water for drinking, household use, as well as for washing, was carried from a spring to the house. The women made lye soap and the washing was done on a rub board, the clothes boiled in a black pot in the yard.

Ironing was done with sad irons, a task that often required a whole day for the two girls. Shirts were made for Mr. Dwyer and the boys and all the garments the women wore were made at home.

There were cows to milk, milk to care for and keep cool with damp cloths, butter to churn, vegetables gathered and prepared for meals.

Into this busy and hard-working family the last child, Arthur, was born.

Perhaps Catherine did more than her share of the work, for she was strong and healthy; besides, no studying was done until all the work was finished. And Catherine had already set her goal to be a school teacher. She made friends easily and she liked people, lots of them.

At home she had little opportunity to mix with others. The boys could walk to town, or perhaps ride horseback, but no way was provided for the girls. Once in a while Mr. Dwyer would take his family in a wagon to the Peterson Creek School to some church service. That was the extent of her social life when she lived at home.

At last came a time when she could take the county examination for a certificate to teach. She passed, happily. She taught several terms at Peterson Creek and one at Lefors.

Catherine liked the freedom and outside activities her work brought her, and the salary was most welcome.

The world was dark for Catherine in 1915. That was the year her mother died. Catherine moved back into the home to take her mother's place. Arthur, the youngest child, was 8.

Instead of three women to do the inside work, there were only two. Three years later, Mary died, and then there was but one, Catherine. She was now 26.

Uncomplaining, Catherine carried on. Teaching school, doing the housework, sewing, doing the laundry alone, and at the same time being the sister-mother to her five brothers and helping her father. It was too heavy a burden. She gave up her teaching so that she might make a better home for the boys and her father.

In 1925 Catherine married Carl Hefner. They lived in McLean for four years before moving to Huntsville. Catherine still kept tab on her family, still worried about them. So far as possible, every other year she came to see them. Her father died... Martin... John...

Until four years ago Catherine lived in Huntsville, but Carl's health was failing rapidly and the couple moved to Frederick, Okla. Carl needed constant care. Catherine gave it to him.

Strong, healthy Catherine; she never seemed to think any tasks were too heavy or that her emotions might be stretched beyond their endurance.

Most of us dream of leaving something—some part of us that will live on after we are gone. Some dream of riches he will leave as a memorial, of great power, of a book or a picture that will live through the ages.

As measured by worldly standards, Catherine had no riches, no fame, no power to live after she had gone.

Last month, the body of Catherine Dwyer Hefner was laid to rest in the McLean Cemetery. She had lived a life of strength, of truth, of gentle patience, of tremendous and uncomplaining courage.

What greater heritage could she leave than this: That the world was better because she had lived.

Visiting recently in the Kid McCoy home were Dr. and Mrs. Kid McCoy and daughter, Sandra, of Hawaii, Dr. and Mrs. John Schweda of Gonzales and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Farris of the LT Ranch at Crosbyton.

WISDOM OF ESTATES

The death of an intestate person (one who has made no will) may give rise to many problems regarding distribution of his separate estate. In the preceding column we investigated the manner of dividing the community estate upon the death of a husband or wife. Now we shall see that, where separate property is involved, a completely different set of rules applies in determining heirship and apportioning the estate among the rightful claimants.

It may be well to recall that the separate estate of a husband or wife includes property owned by either before marriage, and that which is acquired after marriage by gift or inheritance. Any other property acquired after marriage is presumed by law to be community property until the contrary is clearly proved.

Now, here is a general idea as to how your separate property will be divided if you do not make a will with contrary provisions prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and if, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of previously deceased children, the children and their descendants immediately obtain a full (fee) title in two-thirds of the real estate involved. The surviving spouse receives a life interest in the remaining one-third of the real property, which passes on to the children and their descendants upon the death of the spouse.

The rule for distributing personal property—cash, stocks, bonds, furniture, or any other items not constituting real estate—is different. Here the surviving spouse gets full ownership of one-third, and the children and their descendants inherit the balance.

Now suppose your husband or wife survives, but there are no surviving children or their descendants. In this case the surviving spouse inherits all of the personal property involved.

With regard to real estate, the survivor obtains full title to one-half, and the other half is divided between your mother and father, if both survive you. If only one of them survives, he or she receives only half of this portion, and the other half (or one-fourth of the entire real estate) will be divided among your brothers and sisters and their descendants) who survive. If there are no surviving brothers and sisters and their descendants, then the one surviving parent inherits the full one-half.

Where no parent survives, but there are brothers and sisters and descendants, the full one-half is divided among these survivors.

And, if there are no parents or brothers and sisters (and their descendants) surviving, then the surviving husband or wife inherits all of the real estate.

DALLAS' BIG 'MAIN PLACE' PROJECT

Located in the center of downtown Dallas, the model above shows the three major buildings which will be constructed in several stages on the ten-acre Main Place site. Estimated to cost $120,000,000, the first stage will be the 34-story, $41,000,000 office building in the center of the picture. Later phases will include the massive second office building on the left, which will straddle Main Street, and on the right, a large department store with a 400-room hotel on top. The development is actually one big, ten-acre "super block" tied together with outdoor plazas for pedestrian traffic 18 feet below ground level.

24-HOUR PATROL SERVICE IS STARTED FOR HIGHWAY 66

In a program to benefit the increased number of motorists traveling Highway 66 during the summer months, Capt. J. W. Blackwell of the Texas Highway Patrol has announced inauguration of 24-hour patrol services for this transcontinental highway.

State police and engineering departments of seven states are cooperating in the joint enforcement and engineering study during the months of June, July and August.

In addition to the enforcement study that will be made to arrive at a formula to determine the number of police required to adequately patrol four-lane interstate highways, the program is primarily designed as an aid to motorists, not only affecting highway safety, but making their trips more pleasant.

Patrol cars will be equipped with all facilities to handle most emergency situations. Capt. Blackwell has emphasized.

In each of the states of California, Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Missouri and Illinois, as well as Texas, a special detail of select patrolmen has received specialized training to carry out the details of the program which has been designated "Project 66."

The state's efforts will be coordinated by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

An extra effort will be directed toward thorough investigation of an ever increasing number of one-vehicle accidents.

Patrolmen assigned to the "Project 66" study will complete a more comprehensive than usual investigation form which organizes information in suitable fashion for transcribing on punch cards.

Records will also be kept as to what type of trouble motorists in distress have in order to prevent future breakdown.

Capt. Blackwell called on motorists to "accept and encourage this effort to make vehicular travel safer and more pleasurable." Proprietors of business establishments along U.S. 66 are especially asked to take note of the project so they will be in a position to make their customers aware of the study.

"We must rely on U.S. 66 business people to serve as our good will ambassadors and inform their customers of the study and service available if in distress," Capt. Blackwell concluded.

Bridal Shower Held For Mrs. Whatley

Mrs. Jim Whatley, the former Judy Wyatt, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower Tuesday evening in the parlor of the First Baptist Church.

Hostesses were Mesdames Jimmy Shelton, Joe Graham, Trullit Johnson, Miro Pakan, Elmer Day, Curby Morris, Morris Brown, Ernie Fry, Wheeler Curtis, J. W. Meacham, Frank Simpson, Arnold Sharp and Joe Taylor and Misses Jeanene Shelton and Ruth Pakan. The bride's chosen colors of yellow and white were used in the decorations.

The serving table held a floral arrangement of white stock, mums and yellow roses. A tiny bride and groom stood beneath an arch with yellow streamers marked "Judy and Jim."

A large bouquet of lilies centered the mantle flanked by votive candles. Refreshments of punch, iced cookies, nuts and mints were served. The gifts received by the honoree were on display.

Saunders Named To City Library Board

The resignation of Guy Beasley from the McLean library board was accepted Tuesday night by the city commission.

George Saunders, local rancher, was appointed to replace Beasley as a member of the board.

During the Tuesday night meeting, the commission also discussed the possibility of installing a storm sewer in the drainage ditch located between the site of the new hospital and the Assembly of God Church.

Rev. L. R. Green, pastor of the church, told the commission that his church would share in the expense of the project if the sewer was installed and covered over to make the area more attractive.

An engineer will be contacted to determine the feasibility of the project—and the cost.

Fence at Dumpground

It was announced that an eight-strand barbed wire fence has been erected at the dumpgrounds to keep litter from blowing off the city-owned property.

The new fence was installed on the south, east and north sides of the dumpgrounds.

Bids were opened on a new drinking fountain for Lovett Memorial Library. The low bid of $181 was from Terry's Electric, but the governing board decided to learn the capacity of the fountain before purchasing it.

The commission is scheduled to meet as the city board of equalization on July 7.

Rev. Green led the invocation to open Tuesday night's meeting.

Story-teller for the weekly sessions at 10 a.m. is Mrs. Thomas D'Spain. All pre-school-age children are invited.

Mrs. Lavern Carter, librarian, urged all children of school age to register at the library and receive their reading log.

To be eligible for a certificate at the end of the summer program these youngsters must read 12 or more books on their reading level.

Spontaneous ignition of paint-soaked rags has burned many a new house before the family could move in.

Tidwell Records Are On Sale in McLean

Records by Billy Tidwell and the Chevelles of McLean went on sale here this week at $1 each.

Tidwell, a past favorite on the Derby Town Jubilee here, sings "Folsom Prison Blues" and "Standing Too Close to a Heartache" on the record.

Musical accompaniment is by the Chevelles—Butch Blaylock, Larry Linceycomb and Elvin Alred.

A total of 1,000 copies of the record were delivered recently to George Terry, who is helping to promote the records.

Terry said the records may be purchased at Parsons Recall Drug, Greyhound Drug and The McLean News.

Several local and area residents contributed money to a fund to pay for the recording of the two selections by Tidwell at the Ko Co Bo Studios in White Deer. The money will be refunded with proceeds from the record sales.
