FIELD DAY AT LOCAL RANCH ATTRACTS 600

Enthusiasm Not Dampened During Rainy Saturday

Rain was far too welcome even to slow activities at the Panhandle area Texas Junior Hereford Association Field Day last Saturday at the Doctor Hereford Ranch here.

Some 600 persons from all over the Panhandle were on hand for the event, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Faris Hess of McLean.

Dallas County 4-H Club walked away with top honors in the team judging competition, with Boys Ranch FFA finishing second; Armstrong County 4-H, third; Hale County 4-H, fourth, and Swisher County 4-H, fifth.

Wayne Porter of the Dalhart 4-H took first place among individuals in judging, and was presented a registered heifer from the Dr. Hereford Ranch.

Larry Golden, Lockney 4-H member, was second and received a saddle for his efforts. David Mooring, Donley 4-H, won a pair of boots for finishing third.

Saddle to McLean Youth
A McLean youth also was awarded a saddle during the afternoon. Jakey Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Faris Hess had won the award in last Saturday's public speaking contest sponsored by the Panhandle Junior Hereford Breeders on Aug. 8.

Kay Maddox of Miami, selected queen on Aug. 8, was presented a $100 western suit.

In adult judging, Carrol Higgins, cattle breeder from Hereford, took first place; Ted Berry of Texoma, second, and Bob Skaggs, Pampa, third.

The association presented Mr. and Mrs. Hess a silver tray for serving as hosts to the third annual Field Day.

Contestants waded through the mud Saturday morning to judge in the competition.

After being served a Flip Breed-roo barbecue at noon, they visited eight demonstration stations during the afternoon to hear about and see the various phases of ranching.

The awards were distributed late in the afternoon by C. F. Milner, president of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

DECISION ON DEPOT UP TO COMMISSION

Testimony Given In Hearing Held Here on Tuesday

Whether the Rock Island Railroad depot in McLean will be closed is now up to the Texas Railroad Commission.

Representatives of the commission conducted a hearing here Tuesday to gather information in favor of and opposed to closing the station, as requested by the railroad.

Testimony was presented by witnesses for and against the action during the four-hour session at city hall.

Rock Island officials introduced a statement of revenues and expenses showing a loss of $2,649.03 in the operation of the depot here from June 1, 1963, to May 31, 1964.

According to the statement, 82 car-load shipments were sent from McLean during this period, compared with the receipt of 34. Eighty of those cars dispatched from here carried livestock.

Shamrock or Groom
W. J. Pasteur of El Reno, Okla., the railroad's division superintendent, said while giving testimony that if the depot is closed, ranch-

Much Conditioning Ahead 33 Tigers Report For Grid Workouts

Thirty-three youths had reported for McLean High School Tiger football workouts by Wednesday afternoon.

Coach Fred Hedgecoke, beginning his first year at the Tiger helm, praised the desire of the gridsters Wednesday, but said that much conditioning will be required before they are ready for action.

Helping the new coach, who came here from Panhandle, with the workouts are Bob Schneider, assistant coach, and Jim Goss, junior high coach.

Workouts are being held two times daily—at 7:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.—at the grade school playground.

Field Re-Sodded
No practice is planned at this time on the Duncan Field gridiron, which was re-sodded during the summer.

Coach Hedgecoke said most of the players were out of condition when they reported for workouts on Monday. The youths donned their pads for the first time Wednesday.

The Tigers open their 1964 season on Sept. 4 in Shamrock. Their first home game will be the following week against Panhandle.

Season reserve seat tickets for the Tigers' home games are now on sale at Parsons Rexall Drug at $5 per book. Five games will be played here—Panhandle, Wheeler, White Deer, Memphis and Wellington.

Gray County Designated Drought Disaster Area

Gray County has been approved as a drought disaster area, County Agent Foster Whaley announced this morning.

Whaley was notified by John Masterman, an aide to Congressman Walter Rogers, early today that the U. S. Department of Agriculture had designated Gray, Wheeler and Potter Counties as disaster areas.

This means that county farmers and ranchers with land in the soil bank can use the acreage for haying and grazing through Oct. 31.

However, Whaley cautioned the landowners to wait for official notification from the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office in Pampa before turning their cattle onto the soil bank land.

Buck Henley of McLean received a telegram this morning from Sen. Ralph Yarborough indicating that drought relief action was forthcoming from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Henley and 29 other residents had wired the senator Tuesday night to ask assistance in having Gray County designated as a drought disaster area.

The senator's telegram advised Henley and other co-signers: "Am informed that Gray County application for drought relief being approved today by USDA."

The emergency period will end on Oct. 31.

Landowners who desire may permit other livestock owners to use the land for grazing purposes.

The grazing rate has been set by the county emergency drought committee at not less than $1 nor more than $1.50 per acre per month.

Drought Dented
If the land is used, the owner will be required to give up one-half of his earned soil bank check on the acreage grazed or mowed (See DROUGHT, Page 7)

Dr. Waldrip had experienced similar results at Throckmorton. Weaning weights of calves were increased 20 to 25 pounds over a two-year period. Further increases are expected as range continues to improve under this type of management.

Dr. McIlvain stated that results had indicated that chemical control of sagebrush and shinny oak had made them more net profit than any other type of range practices applied at the Woodward Station.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
 by Vern Sanford
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—(Special)—All available money and manpower of the Texas Water Commission is being dedicated to a long-range state water master plan.
 Gov. John Connally authorized the agency to transfer money already appropriated by the Legislature for other purposes. Existing state plans, in Connally's opinion, "fall short of satisfying the water needs for all of Texas."

In 1961, the commission produced a plan for meeting Texas water needs to the year 1980.
 Both the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers are coming up with their own long-range plans covering parts of Texas. They propose diversion of water from surplus areas like the Sabine to watershed areas like the Nueces.
 Connally said the federal government is considering a water pollution control bill which would surpland state authority in the field.
 He urged the commission to explore "all reasonable alternatives," including those contained in preliminary reports of U. S. agencies.
 The governor indicated he will authorize other state agencies to cooperate in the crash program. He also pledged his help in any way possible and to recommend to the Legislature "necessary funds to fulfill this important responsibility."

TEXTBOOK PROTESTS PILE UP
 —About 500 individual letters and 39 petitions bearing 3,398 signatures concerning three high school biology books have been received by Connally, Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar and the State Board of Education.
 And more are arriving every day.
 Most protesters claim three of the eight biology books being considered for public school adoption by the State Textbooks Committee have "an excessive amount of evolution in them."
 All letters and petitions are being filed for the State Textbooks Committee to review, since Connally, Edgar and the state board have no say on textbooks selection.
 The 15-member committee has the task of picking five books each in 18 subjects from the 226 books under consideration. Public text will have an opportunity to make formal complaints about the biology texts, as well as any others which are considered "objectionable," before the committee's selection list is submitted to individual school districts.

DROUGHT AID—Sen. Ralph Yarborough announced here that 23 counties will qualify for drought aid under two federal programs.
 Eligible for emergency loans through the Farmers Home Administration are Brazoria, Dallam, Dawson, Falls, Gonzales, Hardin, Hartley, Jefferson, Lavaca, Navarro, Wharton and Wilson Counties.
 Eligible for haying and grazing privileges until Oct. 31 under a U. S. Agriculture Department program are Collin, Dallas, Donley, Eastland, Freestone, Jones, Rockwall, Rusk, San Augustine, Scurry and Taylor Counties.

SALES TAX RAISE SUGGESTED—A Texas State Teachers Association spokesman last week suggested the Legislature raise additional funds for education through increasing the sales tax or removing present exemptions.
 L. P. Sturgeon, TSTA public relations director said a half cent increase would raise $50,000,000 a year and an across-the-board amendment another $51,000,000. TSTA is driving for a $45 a month increase in teachers' pay.
 If Texans paid the same amount of taxes as citizens of neighboring states, argued Sturgeon, Texas would have enough money for public school and higher education improvements.

Drew Word completed two diversion terraces on his place north of Alameda.

Gray Brothers have rebuilt a farm pond on their place south of Pampa. They increased the height of the dam about seven feet and doubled the storage capacity of the dam. They used the carry-all owned by the Gray County SCD to rebuild the dam.

A diversion terrace was staked for Taylor Wright on the farm he rents from Srvin Prouse.

Tom Henderson, who farms east of Pampa, is in the process of seeding his 10-acre waterway to western wheatgrass.

Hubert Keahey plans to re-seed his waterway to this grass.

R. L. Pugh has completed a pond on his ranch south of Pampa.

T. D. Anderwald is leveling about 10 acres on his farm south of Kingsmill.

C. M. Herrington has completed two diversions on his place west of McLean.

Proper Use of Rangeland Pays Off
A 19-year study of stocking rates at Woodward, Okla., showed the following results:

Where pastures were heavily stocked at the rate of 12 acres per cow, the per cent calf crop was 81. Weaning weights of calves at seven months was 404 pounds.

Heavy water erosion also occurred on the heavily grazed pastures. Where pastures were properly stocked at the rate of 17 acres per cow the per cent calf crop was 92. The weaning weights of the calves were 481 pounds.

There was no water erosion on the moderately stocked pastures. Stocking rates on individual ranches vary according to rain fall and kind of grasses.

How Grass Produces Proteins

Carbohydrates and Fats

Grass is the most important plant grown on the earth. Yet, it is the most abused and given less attention than any other agricultural plant or product. To carry out a sound range conservation plan the following basic knowledge is essential on how grazing and mowing affects grass plants and their production of proteins, carbohydrates and fats.

When a grass seed is planted there is enough food stored in the seed to sprout the seed and start the green plant growth. The plant from this point on must produce its own food to survive and reproduce itself.

How Grass Makes Its Own Food

Plant food is manufactured in the leaves and not, as many people suppose, drawn from the roots of the soil. The roots carry phosphorus, nitrogen, potash, calcium, water and other minerals to the leaves. The leaves take in carbon, hydrogen and oxygen from the air. From the above raw materials proteins, fats and carbohydrates are produced in the leaves with the aid of energy received from the sunlight.

One of the most important things to remember about the above manufacturing process is that carbon, hydrogen and oxygen from the air and water make up 95 per cent of the solid material of the plant. Minerals from the soil make up the other five per cent of the plant.

Effect of Grazing or Mowing

Perennial grasses store food in their roots in late summer or early fall. This process starts at the time of seed formation and continues until the plant goes dormant. Seventy to 75 per cent of the stored food is used to start new growth in the spring and to help keep the plant growing vigorously during the growing season. If the plant is continually grazed close so that very little food is stored, the plant will not produce much the following year.

When all of the leaves and stems are grazed or mowed off, the plant becomes a food user instead of a factory.

Since proteins, carbohydrates and fats are manufactured in the leaves there must be adequate growth left above the ground if the plant is to be very productive. When the growth above the ground is removed the plant takes stored food from the roots to produce new leaves and stems. This causes a delay in forage production. Continuous defoliation kills or stunts the plant.

Research shows that many grasses will not reach their maximum vigor and growth where more than half their leaf surface is removed by frequent grazing or mowing. This close grazing or mowing causes a reduction of the root system because the roots live off of food manufactured in the leaves. The more roots you have the more water and minerals that can be brought to the leaves to manufacture food with. Since 85 per cent of the plant material comes from the air the more leaf surface you have, the more proteins, fats and carbohydrates that can be produced.

What is Considered Proper Range Use?

The "take half and leave half" idea is considered proper use of most grass plants. When half of the grass is left we will not only have a healthy plant, but will have enough growth left on the ground to hold the water where it falls.

WASHINGTON AND
"SMALL BUSINESS"
 By C. WILSON HARDER

There are some who say Chief Justice Earl Warren should be impeached. Others say he should be hanged. But it is difficult to find a sound legal base for either one of these proposals; neither do such suggestions reflect a good American image.

Several states have already approved a move to amend the Constitution to set up a new type of supreme interpreter of national law. C. W. Harder composed of the chief justices of the 50 states. It can be expected this movement will gain momentum.

Viewed objectively, and realistically, there is only one conclusion to be reached in reviewing the recent Supreme Court decision on the election of state legislatures. The Warren Court has sown the seeds of anarchy in the United States.

The nation was never set up as a simple pure democracy, whereby the will of 51% of the people could demand and enforce anything. Rather, to protect the rights of minorities and of property, a republican form of government was established. The United States Senate was set up to represent property rights, but without the power of taxation. The House of Representatives set up to represent all people, was given the power to initiate tax and spending measures.

When the Constitution was drafted, this concept did not come easily. The Jeffersonian group argued for a simple pure democracy. Alexander Hamilton opposed this idea, once declaring heatedly, "The people, sir, are a great beast."

Hamilton's feelings were borne out but a few years later during the French Revolution.

It is also largely forgotten that Hitler proceeded on a perfectly legal basis under the Weimar Constitution which provided no checks or balances. As a forceful demagogue he acted with majority of Germans voting for him.

Many states, when setting up their constitutions, followed the U. S. Constitution. The lower house is elected on representation by numbers with representation in the upper house according to districts. In these many states, this system has kept the farm interests from passing discriminatory legislation against the cities, and has also kept cities from passing legislation to the detriment of agriculture.

But now the U. S. Supreme Court, in a decision that is more in the field of writing a new constitution, rather than interpreting it, has declared this system illegal. And this is done at a time when law is being disregarded by mob demonstrations, with even some people defending the destruction of property and the maiming of people as expressing the will of the majority.

Thus, the U. S. Supreme Court now emerges as the great enigma of modern man. And if the court is to remain consistent in its pattern of promoting anarchy in these United States, it should now declare the United States Senate illegal.

DROUGHT

Steady, soaking showers Friday and Saturday dented the drought in the McLean area, and the possibility of more needed moisture during the next few days appeared bright.

A total of 1.05 inches of rain fell Friday night and through much of Saturday, and another shower Monday night added another .04.

This brings to 12.97 the amount McLean has recorded this year and 1.17 for August.

By this same date in 1963 the city had received 12.17 inches. August of last year brought a whopping 3.81 inches to McLean. Last week's showers helped to cool temperatures off considerably, but the mercury was climbing back up toward the century mark again by Wednesday.

The high for the past week was 99 degrees on Friday. The thermometer got no higher than 79 on Saturday.

The week's low was 64 degrees, recorded Saturday and again Sunday.

All students, except first graders, enrolling in McLean Grade School for the first time should report to Dwyer for assignment.

Riley said that junior high football practice will begin on Monday, Aug. 31, the first day of classes.

All boys planning to play football must have had their physical examination before practice starts.

Proper examination forms are available in the offices of both McLean doctors. If a boy is to be examined by a doctor out of town, the forms may be obtained from either Riley or Dwyer.

Many Others Booked
 Cunningham said a host of talented performers have been booked for Saturday night.

The ever-popular sisters from Groom, Alice and Shirley West, are to return for another appearance. Newcomers will include Tonja and Dalton Stewart, a couple of Pampa youngsters.

Also coming from Pampa will be the gospel-singing Martin Family; Mike Mooreman, folk singer; Dick Burkhardt and Mattie Barrett, and the Western Melody Boys.

Other out-of-towners indicating they will be here are Becky Durning of Skellytown; Robert West, Groom; Bill Rogers, Leon Gatlin and Dick Wooley from Amarillo.

From McLean will be the Chevilles, Buck and Carl Henley, M. K. Marshall, Ann Terry, Joe Crockett and Cunningham.

George Terry will be in his regular role as master of ceremonies. A door prize will be presented by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the Jubilees, to some lucky person attending.

At the last show Jack McCellan won the electric can opener offered by the Jaycees, and Paul Lee received a transistor radio at the Jubilee before this.

Appreciate Reception
 Cunningham said Wednesday night that all performers have expressed their appreciation for the enthusiastic reception they receive on the show.

Bill Rogers and Leon Gatlin were so impressed with the reception they were given by the audience at the last Jubilee, they were eager to return.

An air-conditioner installed recently made the auditorium much more comfortable for those attending. Arrangements for the air-conditioner were made by Bob Subblefield and Charles Jones, and installation was made by Terry's Electric.

Cunningham said he and the Jaycees appreciated the cooperation of the board of education in using the auditorium, and he expressed his "sincerest thanks" to J. T. Trew, Terry, Crockett, Buck and Carl Henley and the others who have been on hand regularly to assist in any way they could to make the Jubilee a success.

TEXAS

THE PIRACY PRINCIPLE

The colorful pirate of old captured your imagination but not that of the shipowners or the governments that lost their cargoes and treasures.

Pirates were "enemies of mankind." Their acts became crimes against that government as well as against the "law of nations." A government would try to catch and to punish them no matter how and where the piracy took place.

From these early days, a rule of international law called "the piracy principle" came into being, as to crimes against mankind. Any nation might seize and punish such a person. He did not need to be one of its citizens. The crimes could be committed inside or outside its territory. Jurisdiction is worldwide.

Nations often punish their own people for crimes beyond their borders. Nations can punish aliens for crimes within their borders. They can punish aliens for crimes committed against that country when they later come into that country. A nation can also punish an alien for piracy under international law.

What about war crimes done on orders of superiors? The World War II allies have declared that certain Nazi leaders committed punishable crimes against nations.

Now and then some nations may allow a court to try a person "in absentia." Such trials without the accused present were once popular, but little comes from such trials, and they are not as highly regarded as trials in which a person has a fair chance to defend himself.
