Good old saber-rattling Nikita! We wonder if he actually thinks his opinion matters when the American people go about the job of electing a President.

The Russian dictator launched a tirade Tuesday in Warsaw, Poland, against the Republican nominee for President, Barry Goldwater, and he cautioned the Communist world that it must "clean our weapons" while awaiting the outcome of the presidential election in November.

Perhaps Khrushchev should show concern for his piecemeal taking of the world could be threatened with the election of a man like Barry Goldwater.

It is possible he sees this man as a freedom-loving American who earnestly wants to preserve our liberties.

The Russian leader wants no part of war, anymore than people in the United States. He has been backed into a corner on previous occasions, without a shot being fired.

But the crafty Communist was right back at his old tricks as soon as the pressure let up.

We hadn't intended to get into the subject of politics this week, but we do want to give one of our subscribers a chance to "sound off" on the subject.

So without comment from JBS, here is a letter received a few days back from Mrs. F. J. Bailey, 82 North Seminole, Amarillo:

"I think my subscription expires pretty soon. I debated if I would renew it, since you are such a Goldwater man, but everyone has a right to their own opinion.

"I was born a Democrat and Texas, of which I am very proud. Even if the Democrats are not always right and the wind blows in Texas, the only thing that can blow harder than a Texas wind is Goldwater.

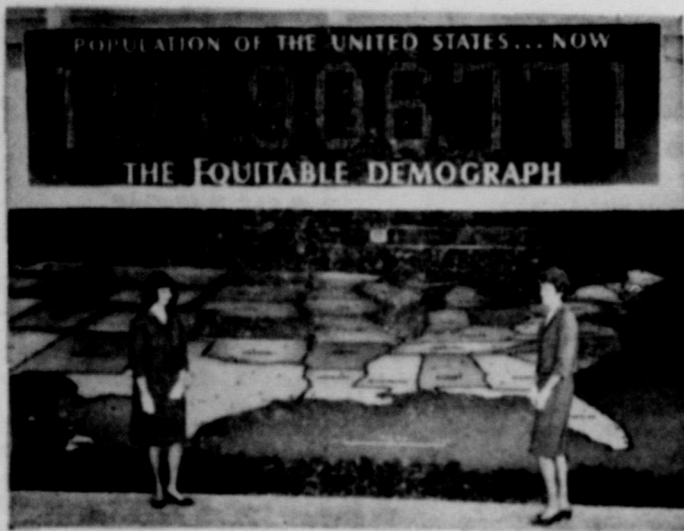

"A few days ago I thought we were in for a big blow, but it was over in a little while. It was only some Republicans passing through on their way to San Francisco.

"But McLean is my hometown, so be it Democrat or Republican, here is my money for my renewal."

Thank you, Mrs. Bailey. We truly do enjoy having you for a subscriber—and we respect your opinion, as you respect ours.

F. M. "Oil Patch Pete" Ballard, president of the Wink Chamber of Commerce, came by the office the other day and left his real eye-opening calling card.

52 Years After Being Laid School Cornerstone Yields Its Contents

Several well-preserved articles more than 50 years old were removed Wednesday afternoon from the cornerstone of the Alanreed School building.

The structure, erected in 1912, is being torn down, to be replaced by a modern new building.

Largest item taken from the cornerstone by H. H. Worsham, Alanreed School business manager, was a book placed there on Oct. 3, 1912, by F. R. McCracken.

Title of the book was Pioneer Days in the Southwest.

Other articles ranged from a newspaper clipping to a penny and a Liberty-head nickel—both dated 1912.

Three New Testaments and three small American flags also were among the keepsakes.

Notes From Address
W. J. Ball, at the time an Alanreed merchant and member of the board of education, had placed in the cornerstone the pencil-written notes used in his address at the cornerstone-laying ceremonies.

Other members of the board at the time were G. E. Castleberry, president, and Dr. J. A. Coppedge.

Notes were written in the Testaments by P. F. Yoacham, Castleberry and Ball.

Pictures postcards also were among the articles discovered.

Youth on Horse
One showed William Lanham Ball on his horse, "Button." The youth had written: "I will go to school in this new building. My teacher's name is Miss Alice Hardin. I am nine years old, in the fourth grade."

A. McEachern, manager of the Cleo Smith Lumber Co. on that day of Oct. 3, 1912, wrote a note, too, and wrapped it around a penny: "Trusting that the enclosed article will be more plentiful in your day than in mine. Also that less value will be placed upon it and that human life and immortal soul will have a higher estimate than in mine."

A picture of a bearded man was signed by Robert Y. Mangum, Alanreed's first postmaster.

Ex-Sheriff Writes
There was a note also from Arnie Reeves and R. P. Reeves, "ex-sheriff of Gray County."

S. L. Ball of Tyler had written: "I used to live at Alanreed and while now at Tyler I am proud of (See CORNERSTONE, Page 2)

CHANGES FOR WHEAT, FEED PROGRAMS SET

Substitution Will Be Permitted On Farms in 1965

Substitution between wheat and feed grains will be permitted on American farms in 1965, the secretary of agriculture has announced.

Miss Evelyn Mason, manager of the Gray County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office at Pampa, explained this week that this substitution will be applicable on individual farms only if the farm has a wheat allotment and a feed grain base.

The producer also must comply with both programs and divert at least the minimum under both programs.

Miss Mason said a producer could sign up in both programs, divert the acreage and then plant the permitted acres under both programs all to wheat or all to feed grains.

Similar Basis
Wheat certificates will be issued on a basis similar to that for the 1964 crop. The number of certificates issued to a farm will not be increased because of the substitution of wheat for feed grain.

Likewise, the feed grain price support payment will be limited to the normal production of the feed grain base, less the diverted acres.

The ASCS office manager added that if the farm completely complies with the program, the total production of wheat will be eligible for price support loans even though the wheat acreage is in excess of the wheat allotment because of the (See WHEAT, Page 2)

Lions Told of Need Support Asked For New Junior College

Establishment of a junior college in Pampa would greatly improve the education level of this entire area, the McLean Lions Club was told Tuesday.

E. L. Henderson of Pampa, chairman of the committee seeking establishment of a Pampa Junior College, discussed the importance of such an institution when he appeared as guest speaker at the regular Lions luncheon meeting.

Henderson urged as many residents of the McLean area as possible to attend the State Board of Education hearing on Aug. 3 in Pampa.

The state board is sending a committee to Pampa to look into the need for a junior college for Gray County. The committee has asked that the entire county be included in the junior college district.

The hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. on Aug. 3 at the Coronado Inn.

Would Hold Election
If the State Board of Education grants permission to establish a junior college district, voters in Gray County then will ballot in an election to determine whether the district is to be formed.

Henderson said the tax cost for operating the college has been estimated at 40 cents per $100 valuation on the county basis.

A $1.4 million bond issue would be required to construct facilities for the college in Pampa.

Henderson says he feels it is "urgent now that we have facilities to further educate these children."

He explained that so many more youngsters would continue their education after high school, if facilities were available.

Attendance Increases
As an example he cited the establishment of a junior college in Lubbock several years ago. A survey had shown prior to this time that only 30 per cent of the Lubbock students went on to college after finishing high school.

education.

We read some interesting facts in The Clinton, Okla., Daily News this week concerning Presidents Abraham Lincoln and John F. Kennedy.

It is sort of "fantastic," as the headline said. Thought you might like to see the comparison of facts.

Both Lincoln and Kennedy were concerned with the issue of civil rights.

Lincoln was elected in 1860, Kennedy in 1960.

Both were slain on Friday and in the presence of their wives.

Their successors, both named Johnson, were Southerner, Democrats and had previously served in the U. S. Senate.

Andrew Johnson was born in 1808, Lyndon B. Johnson was born in 1908.

John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of Lincoln, was born in 1839; Lee Harvey Oswald, Kennedy's assassin, was born in 1939.

Both Booth and Oswald were Southerners favoring unpopular ideas.

Both Presidents' wives lost children through death while residing in the White House.

Lincoln's secretary, whose name was Kennedy, advised him not to go to the theater, and Kennedy's secretary, whose name was Lincoln, advised him not to go to Dallas.

the labors of my brothers and my friends in erecting this building."

He was a brother of W. J. Ball. Two pictures of the building now being razed are among the items removed from the cornerstone.

Another postcard recovered contains a touched up photograph of a huge watermelon, so large that people were standing on it.

Grown at Alanreed

The postcard indicated the watermelon was raised at Alanreed.

On the back was a notation made by George Biles, "salesman in W. J. Ball's Store—was born June 12, 1891—arrived at Alanreed Dec. 1, 1911, and worked for W. J. Ball since July 1."

A business card bore the signature of D. B. London, cashier at the Bank of Alanreed.

Representatives of the Gray County Historical Society were on hand for the opening of the cornerstone, and indicated they would make photostat copies of many of the articles.

substitution provision. Likewise, the production of feed grains will be eligible for price support loans when such crops are grown in lieu of wheat.

May Request Base

It also was explained that producers who planted oats or rye for harvest in 1960-61 may request the establishment of a base for their farms.

By diverting from this base, wheat can then be substituted for oats and rye on the permitted acres of this base. Feed grains cannot be substituted for the oat-rye acreage.

Producers were reminded by Miss Mason of the requirements for diverted acres under the feed grain program.

Each field designated as diverted acres for feed grain must contain at least five acres, unless it is a whole field. Only one field of less than five acres can be accepted when needed to complete the diverted acres.

Sept. 1 Deadline

Final date for disposing of any excess grain sorghum is Sept. 1. Grain sorghum acreage is now being measured and diverted acres obtained under this program.

Sept. 1 also is the final date to dispose of excess cotton, or to destroy down to the domestic allotment.

Producers can harvest their regular allotment of cotton, or they can harvest within the domestic allotment and receive the domestic payment—provided that the farm does not exceed the feed grain base if the domestic allotment is less than the regular allotment.

Payment to eligible producers will be made after cotton measurement and excess destroyed has been checked.

Mr. and Mrs. Drew Ward and Beverly are on vacation in Colorado.

jumped to 85 per cent. As a result, the level of education in the Levelland area has risen sharply.

The junior colleges there and elsewhere have encouraged adult education, as well, Henderson added.

Studies prove, he said, that the education level of a community is in direct relation to the income. Thus, as the education level rises, the income also increases.

Relieves Burden

Junior colleges are a means of helping to relieve the enrollment burden on universities and other four-year colleges, Henderson reported.

Unless something is done, this burden will become even more staggering. According to Henderson, education leaders expect the college enrollment of today to double by 1970.

Accompanying Henderson to McLean was Wayland Merriman, engineer from Pampa.

Guests at the Lions luncheon Tuesday were C. P. Hamilton of Alanreed, Mike Haynes of McLean, Sammy Cubine of Falfurrias, and Ricky Mantooth of Happy.

Boss Lion Cliff Day announced that a public meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday to discuss the moving of the American Legion Hall to a more suitable location, outside the city limits.

He invited everyone to attend the meeting in the school cafeteria.

30 Years Ago

Married, Sunday, July 8, 1934, at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Sarah Lucila Jones and Mr. Travis Stokes, Rev. S. R. Jones, the bride's father, reading the impressive wedding ceremony in the presence of a few relatives and close friends.

The bride was dressed in a lovely pink crepe ensemble with a beautiful bouquet of pink roses.

The groom wore a gray business suit.

The rooms were decorated with vases and baskets of cut flowers and little Miss Lorraine Hodges, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march.

The ceremony was performed at 9 a.m. and a dinner was served to the wedding party at noon.

The young people will make their home here, where the groom is engaged in the trucking business.

40 Years Ago

One of the most enjoyable outings held recently was at the C. M. Carpenter ranch last Thursday afternoon. A number of McLean folks took supper at the cottonwood grove on McClellan Creek near the Carpenter crossing.

This grove represents one of the most beautiful natural parks in this section, and Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter proved themselves an ideal host and hostess at this outing. A big fire was ready when the visitors arrived, ready for the bacon roast, hot coffee, marshmallows, etc. The supper proved to be a real picnic affair, with fried chicken, cake, iced tea and everything that usually goes with a basket affair.

Among those present were the following: Messrs. and Mesdames J. S. Huckabee, W. B. Upham, J. M. Noel, J. S. Morse, T. A. Landers, D. M. Graham, C. S. Rice, C. M. Carpenter; Mesdames D. A. Davis, Earle Shell, S. W. Rice, S. A. Cousins, A. Stanfield, J. E. Cubine, D. A. Herron, Harold Tanner; Misses Fern Upham, Verna Rice, Floye Landers; Janita Massay, Elgin Shell, Frances Noel, Sinclair Rice, Opal Davis, Jewell and Dorothy Cousins.

On Thursday afternoon of last week five cars of Fourth of July picnickers left McLean for Dripping Springs, a beautiful spot in the Palo Duro Canyon south of Claude.

According to reports, they had lots of fun on the road going and coming, but their pleasure at the canyon was rather "dampened" by the heavy rains which fell continuously during the time they were at the springs. The party returned home Friday, and from the looks of their automobiles, the rain and mud was quite as bad as represented to be.

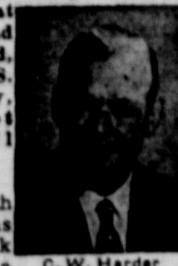

Among those enjoying the trip were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wiles, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Dunkle, Misses Frankie Mae Upham, Mattie Patterson, Ruby and Mary Anderson, Nona Cousins, Bernice Rowland of Clarendon; Messrs. Byrd Gull, Donald Beall and Fred Landers.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Current events as they may be written by future historians.

And there came a time in the Great Land when the Poobahs on the Pelomac felt there was a stirring of unrest among the people with many believing that the great god that had been created, called U. S. Treasury, could not solve all problems.

So forthwith the Poobahs brought back into being a C. W. Harder god of a still more ancient peoples that one time lived on the River Tiber. This ancient god, called Janus, had two heads with each head looking in opposite directions. And because the ancient peoples never displayed Janus in times of peace, but only in times of war, the Poobahs therefore declared a War on Poverty.

And thus it came into being that with one head Janus proclaimed to all the land that never before had there been such great prosperity, whilst the other head shouted equally as loud never before had so much poverty afflicted the Great Land.

And the peoples of the Great Land thought this wondrous strange indeed, and went about their business.

But it so happened at this time there was a mighty struggle going on for the minds of men between the Great Land and the Dark Land ruled over by the Ivans. Both sides wanted the other peoples of the world to follow them, yet neither.

And that is how the whole world finally was, to use a word now extinct, sold, by the Ivans of the Dark Land, and communism became the system amongst all peoples throughout the world.

wished to bring down on each other fire and brimstone to win the struggle in this manner.

So they were both engaged in a mighty effort of selling, which was a term used when there was a system that was called free enterprise.

And the Poobahs of the Great Land had taken from their peoples billions upon billions of dollars to give away to the undecided people to convince them that their way was best. The Ivans of the Dark Land preached to all the peoples that the only way to prosper and peace for all was to follow their way.

Now it so happened the Ivans of the Dark Land were not as scrupulously honest as the Poobahs of the Great Land, and they only talked about what one head of god Janus said.

And thus the Ivans throughout the world heralded that one-fifth or more of the peoples in the Great Land were living in dire poverty, and thus the system used in the Great Land could not possibly be any good.

And these undecided peoples listened in wonderment, "How does it happen," they asked each other, "if the system of the Great Land is so great, they have gone to War on Poverty!" And they henceforth decided the thing they needed least was more poverty.

NEWS OF CONSERVATION

Bill Crisp plans to start constructing terraces this week on his farm north of Alanreed.

Bill irrigated this land with a sprinkler irrigation system last year. He said that he needed the terraces to conserve moisture from natural rainfall and irrigation.

This work will be done through the Great Plains Conservation Program.

IRRIGATED PASTURE—Indian-grass, switchgrass and bermuda grass have been proven as economical pasture grasses. Bill Crisp, Cecil Seaney, Elmer Balch, D. W. Swain, Harvey Taylor and Tom Anderwald are some of the land owners that have established grass under irrigation in Gray County.

Sound management is very important after the grass is planted. Undesirable plants should be controlled so the established grasses will receive maximum growth the first year. Grazing can usually start at the beginning of the second growing season.

Proper irrigation, deferment and fertilization are very important for maximum forage production. This can be done by splitting pastures into three or four grazing units. Each unit should be rested three to four weeks between grazing periods to allow sufficient time for regrowth.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICTS—A Soil Conservation District (SCD) can be compared to a public school district; however, a SCD does not have the power to levy taxes.

It is composed of landowners within the designated district boundaries. Five elected district supervisors direct the SCD's soil and water conservation activities.

The secretary of agriculture, when formally requested, executes a memorandum of understanding with a SCD to furnish technical assistance through the Soil Conservation Service.

Soil Conservation Service technicians and Extension Service representatives assist the SCD in promoting an overall soil and water conservation program.

The Gray County SCD supervisors—Milton Carpenter, Curtis Schaffer, Stan Friend, W. C. Epperson and James Clett—are Gray County representatives.

Landowners in their areas should contact them or the Soil Conservation Service when they have soil and water conservation problems.

The McLean News

One of a series of reports by this newspaper and the Print Advertising Association on the advantages of print media.

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people generally do. Not only do they read; they cut out and show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples.

When people see an advertisement in print, they can compare designs . . . features . . . and prices of nationally known products and services. (And people do compare before they buy.)

Advertising in print is a handy thing. You can always check back; the message is still there even if your attention is distracted.

When you add it up, print advertising—the kind you read in this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sense.

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS
 Uncle Zeb

A Chinese proverb tells us: "Flowers leave part of their fragrance with those who bestow them."

A class reunion is a gathering where you come to the conclusion that a lot of people your age are a lot older than you are.

Early to bed and early to rise. Makes one healthy, wealthy, and wise; But college kids can't enjoy the bliss. For worrying about what they might miss.

It is said that if we think two plus three equals four we are a psychosis. If we think two plus two equals four and still worry about it we are a neurosis.

Speaking of the college student, what would you estimate the average to be worth? One insurance company came up with the information that the lifetime earnings of a high school graduate would on the average run $243,000. While the lifetime earnings of the college graduate would total $343,000. No matter how one slices it this is still a pretty fancy reward.

GRAIN SORGHUM IRRIGATION TIME IS HERE

It's grain sorghum watering time. Some grain sorghum is already showing signs of moisture stress and should be watered immediately. County Agent Foster Whaley says grain sorghum uses very little water up to the seven-leaf stage. However, some grain sorghum is past this stage.

He also stresses grain sorghum requires the most water at boot and bloom stage. No benefit is gained from irrigation when grain is past the soft dough stage. Whaley says grain sorghum at the seven-leaf stage uses about one-tenth inch water daily. From this stage through booting, water use rises rapidly.

At booting stage, the crop is using over four-tenths inch water daily. Water use drops sharply after booting is completed. Water stress at any time during the growing season through soft dough stage will reduce yields. Examine soil for moisture conditions often, says Whaley. Keep moisture at least to the 50 per cent available moisture level, especially during boot and bloom stages.

Most plant roots are in the top two feet so this area must have the moisture replenished. Water stress at the boot stage can easily cut production 25 per cent. Stress at bloom stage can cut yields as much as 50 per cent. But, Whaley warns, excessive moisture after soft dough stage delays harvest and causes tillering or suckering, which complicates harvest and lowers quality.

Plains soils will hold from one to 2.5 inches of moisture per foot of depth, depending on soil types. The more clay and organic matter present in the soil, the higher the water-holding capacity. Total water requirement during the season will run from 36 to 24 inches a year—depending on the year, says Whaley.

DON'T TELL HIM A THING

When dad was a missionary, many years ago, a distinguished clergyman called him by phone and said: "Peter, I have a young man here in the outer office, who feels that he is such a sinner that he is afraid God won't forgive him. Now you've had a lot of experience with that type; what shall I tell him?" I can still hear dad's answer: "Don't tell him a thing; I'll be right over."

Here was a young man who had at last come to see himself as he really was in God's sight—a sinner. This was just the time to pour into his ears and heart the wonderful story of God's forgiving and redeeming grace, just the time to tell him how "we have redemption through Christ's blood, the forgiveness of sins according to the richness of His grace" (Eph. 1:7) but the distinguished clergyman was at a loss to help. He was accustomed to telling people to try to be good and do good, but he had no message for the one who had come to see that he was a complete failure.

Thank God, His Word does have a wonderful message of hope for such. In fact it has a message for only such, for Christ died for sinners, not "good people." "Good people," or those who think they are good feel no need of redeeming grace. The Bible has no message for them.

"This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners . . ." (1 Tim. 1:15)

"While we were yet sinners, Christ died for us . . ." (Rom. 5:8)

There is no joy comparable to that of the consciousness of sins forgiven, and we can enjoy this consciousness only when we have acknowledged ourselves to be sinners. "All have sinned" (Rom. 3:23). "Christ died for our sins" (1 Cor. 15:3). "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16:31).

RAT POISON

Smoky Price jumped down my throat because I forgot to bring a supply of rat poison.

This made twice I had forgotten to do this. I promised I'd send a supply down by someone from McLean.

Anyone in the McLean vicinity who is coming to the capital this week, please come by so our secretary can get a supply to Smokey. Maybe he will get off my neck.

A change in procedure has been made by the Fish and Wildlife Service with reference to its sale of poison grain.

For over two decades, they have sold this grain to Gray and other counties for re-sale to farmers and ranchers for such things as prairie dogs and rat control.

In the future counties will not be able to purchase this for re-sale to farmers.

Guy Beasley called me last Saturday night, pleading for me to locate some for him. We hope we have some cornered from another county. This will be the last, if we get it.

This does not mean no more will be available. A specialist from the Rodent Control Service will be present for county demonstrations

FARM SAFETY WEEK BEGINS

Farm and ranch families throughout the United States are observing the 21st annual National Farm Safety Week July 19-25, and are being urged by participating agencies and firms to utilize good safety practices in an effort to decrease the more than 2,000 non-traffic rural fatalities that occur in the nation each year.

The Production Credit Associations of Texas, home-owned and operated agricultural financing institutions, are cooperating with the National Safety Council, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and various other agencies in the promotion of safety among the nation's rural population.

A slogan of "Safer American Families Everywhere" is being utilized, and emphasis this year is being placed on safe use of pesticides and tractors.

"Both pesticides and tractors are safe if they are used safely," commented Erbin L. Crowell, general manager of the Canadian Production Credit Association.

Crowell urged that farm and ranch families throughout Gray, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Roberts and Wheeler Counties, served by the operator-owned Canadian Production Credit Association, observe proper safety rules the year around to help decrease loss of life and costly lost-time accidents.

Patrol Investigates 18 Traffic Mishaps

The Highway Patrol investigated 18 rural traffic accidents in Gray County during the month of June, according to Sgt. J. W. Wilson, Patrol supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for 17 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $17,065.

The rural traffic accident summary in Gray County for the first six months of 1964 shows a total of 87 crashes resulting in two persons killed, 65 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $59,996.

and will release the poison grain through one farmer or rancher. This rancher or farmer will in turn be responsible for selling it to other farmers. The specialist will pick up any unused poison at the end of the time necessary for the farmers to place the bait. More on this later.

BANGS DISEASE

I was discussing the merits of the nation-wide brucellosis (Bangs disease) program with O. R. Blankenship recently. This week I brought Blank some literature which has some excellent facts. One of the over-looked items that should make everyone think twice before being exposed to such a program is the human disease element.

Undulant fever in man is caught from Bangs-reactor cattle through a number of ways: Handling raw meat, drinking milk from Bangy cows, contact by veterinarian in calving process and other methods.

It is an occupational disease with vets, I am told.

According to the U.S.D.A., there were over 6,000 cases of undulant fever in humans in the United States in 1947, when the present brucellosis program began, and about five per cent of the cattle population was affected.

By 1963, when over 85 per cent of the nation's cattle herd had been tested, the incidence of undulant fever in man had dropped to only 368 reported cases in the U.S.

By 1963, it was determined that about one-half of one per cent of the cattle population is affected. This alone is reason enough for supporting the program.

Wedding Shower Is Held on Saturday

Mrs. Keith Teeple, the former Miss Barbara Smith, was honored at a come-and-go wedding shower Saturday afternoon in the parlor of the First Baptist Church.

Hostesses were Mesdames Frank Simpson, Curby Morris, Ernie Fry, Bob Sherrod, Clyde Magee, J. Boyd Smith, Morris Brown and June Woods and Misses Sandy McDowell and Joyce Beasley.

The serving table was laid with a white cloth over blue carrying out the honoree's chosen colors of white and blue.

Blue and white streamers inscribed with "Barbara and Keith" extended from the floral arrangement of blue love violets and white snapdragons.

The crystal punch bowl and cups and white wedding napkins completed the table setting.

Refreshments of blue iced cookies, punch, mints and nuts were served by Misses McDowell and Beasley.

Gifts received by the bride were on display.
