See and see this fine production presented by the Clarendon College Players under the direction of Mr. J. H. Smith on April 27 and 28 at 8:00 p.m. at the Harned Sisters Arts Center on the Clarendon College Campus. Admission price will be charged. Depicted in this production is the back bone of America—where will you find it? Everywhere, I'm at the store, the church, the school, the farm and most anywhere you look, but most of all in the hearts of all dedicated Americans.

Now you know where I am, do you know what I am? I'm American fortitude. That good ole quality born in this nation's men and women who stubbornly fought to make this country what it is today. Perfect by any means, but living all the time to be the best country on this planet.

Roderic Fabian To Represent McLean At State Meet

Among the many talented people that participated in the District meet of the UIL Literary events held at Clarendon Junior College in April, several were fortunate enough to place highly and go on to the Regional meet held at Texas Tech University in Lubbock during April.

These were: Ann Wiginton, who placed 1st in District; Nan Wiginton, who placed 3rd in District below Ann in Spelling and Plain Writing; Kerry Anderson, who placed 2nd in District in ready writing; David Haynes, who placed 2nd at district in science; and Roderic Fabian, who placed 1st in District and 1st in Regional in science to qualify for state meet to be held at the University of Texas at Austin on May 4, 5, and 6.

The contestants were on hand to witness a peace demonstration that took place on the Tech campus on the day of the contest, and later saw a football scrimmage at Tech stadium. Both were interesting, but the contestants were quick to admit that the latter was not as amusing as the former.

The visitors showed great interest in our historic relics, especially the hand-wound Claxtonola ringing out "Turkey in the Straw", the bedroom with its chamber pot - a forerunner of our modern bath-, the J. L. Allen organ, bought in 1908, and the numerous wedding dresses representing the styles of 1832, 1897, 1902, and 1905.

Members of the Pioneer Study Club served the group a delicious lunch in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church. Ice Cream was courtesy of the local Lions Club.

Five teen-age local girls acted as hostesses at the luncheon and at a rest and recreation hour after returning to the museum. They were Jan Coleman, Kay Layne, Regina Lamb, Rose Ellen Dwyer, and Mary Dale Glass.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin jarred legislators with an opinion that they are prohibited from hiring not only their own relatives but those of other lawmakers.

The opinion, requested by new House Speaker Rayford Price, thus declared illegal a long-standing practice which, only within the last few weeks, has attracted widespread critical attention.

Meanwhile, State Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford, whose family hiring practices and son-and-daughter job swapping with another legislator triggered a threatened investigation, said he may resign.

More than 40 legislators freely admit relatives were on the state payroll (usually in the Senate for House members' kin-folks and in the House for the Senate kin) during the last five years. Many of the cases involved nothing more than legislators' children working as pages, but combined salaries of the improperly-hired totaled more than $120,000 since 1967.

Martin said an article of the penal code forbids a member of one house of the legislature from hiring a relative (within restricted degrees by both blood and marriage) of a member of either house when the employee is paid from public funds.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes issued prompt orders that any Senate employee related to a legislator will be dropped from the payroll immediately.

House Speaker Rayford Price said he also plans full cooperation.

With one state representative indicted for allegedly using state postage stamps to buy a pickup truck and another known to have leased furniture for his state office from his own firm, the House administration committee also proposed new limitations on lawmakers' expense accounts.

NO NEW TAXES:

Gov. Preston Smith, in a statewide campaign speech via television, threatened to veto any tax bill passes by the legislature in special session this summer.

"I will present a budget that will require no new taxes, and I will use every available authority of the governor's office to insure that such a budget is enacted by the Legislature," said Smith.

Smith claimed he is the only candidate for governor who "can and will insure that taxes will not be higher in 1973."

Financial observers are waiting to see how the governor is going to shave the 1973 budget by an estimated $150 million to avoid another tax bill. He may rely on increased federal revenue-sharing or an increasingly-improved revenue picture.

REVENUE-SHARING AIDS CITIES, COUNTIES

A federal revenue-sharing bill approved by the U.S. House Ways and Means Committee last week would provide $202 million a year to Texas cities and counties.

Allocation of the funds would be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1972, if the bill becomes law.

Enthusiasm of some city officials for the revenue-sharing plan was dampened by an apparent provision that states participating would have to adopt state income taxes or receive a lesser amount than those which do levy taxes on income.

DROUGHT GETTING WORSE
A Texas climatologist reported spring drought conditions are getting worse over most of Texas.

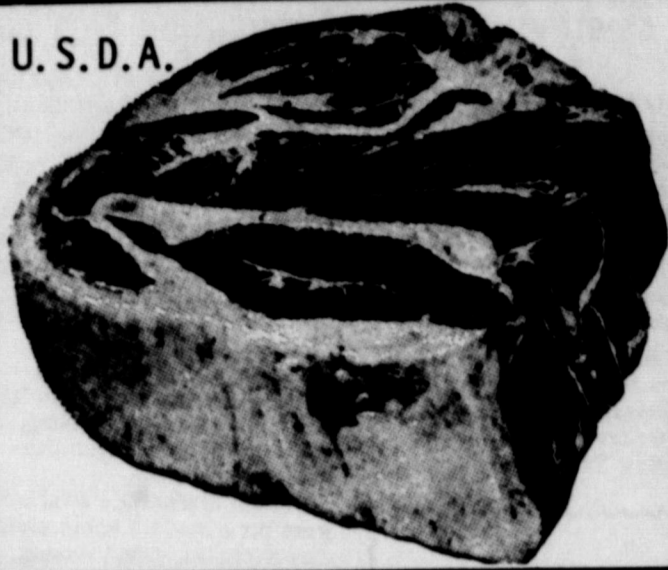

Agriculture Commissioner John White said the drought already has cost agricultural producers hundreds of thousands of dollars.

There was little rain anywhere except in North Central Texas.

Climatologist Robert Orton said there is a moderate drought in the High Plains, North Central Texas, East Texas, Trans-Pecos, and the Edwards Plateau. The Low Plains and the Upper Coast still are listed in a state of mild drought.

South Central Texas, Southern Texas and the Lower Rio Grande Valley have not entered the mild drought category.

NEW DEADLINE FIXED
 April 30 is a new tax deadline for about 72,000 Texas employers.

Wage reports must be filed by then with Texas Employment Commission for purposes of unemployment taxes during the first quarter of 1972.

Employers have been notified by mail and sent forms and instructions.

Reports must include wages paid and names of employees, along with taxes due. Employers brought under coverage of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act are mainly those who have one to four employees. New employers receive a tax rate of one per cent, which may scale downward after two years depending on unemployment experience. Some non-profit, charitable and educational organizations are subject only if they have four or more workers.

COURTS SPEAK

Third Court of Civil Appeals held Southwestern Bell Telephone Company owes all the taxes on telephone pole rental payments which it paid under protest—plus more.

AG OPINIONS

The filing deadline for independent school district trustee is midnight of the 31st day preceding the election, not counting the day of the election.

SHORT SNORTS

Health department officials urge inoculation of horses against Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE). Another outbreak is expected.

Public schools will cost nearly $2.6 billion in 1972-73, and local taxes paid about $800 million of the total. There were nearly 2.8 million pupils last year.

A fossil is defined as some evidence of plant or animal life preserved in rock.

Is now the time to refinance loans?

Capital for expansion, more money from your equity, debt consolidation, smaller payments—these are important reasons for adjusting your loan structure. It's sound business to analyze credit obligations at least once each year to make sure borrowed money is being used to full advantage. Let's talk it over. Should you decide to rearrange your debts, we would be glad to make a Land Bank refinancing proposal.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

"Look, Mom, . . . no cavities!" That's the sound most parents hope to hear when dental health checkup time rolls around every year. Of course, most of us are not that fortunate, and we have one or two cavities that require dental treatment.

But what if the story is "Hey, Mom, I've got five cavities" and the child's indigent parents cannot afford dental health care?

That is a problem State health officials have been concerned about for some time. As a result, a project has begun in East Texas to deal with that problem and other dental health problems, including the need to educate children of all socio-economic groups on proper dental health care techniques.

That project is known as the Dental Health Education Trailer, a specially-built and equipped mobile dental health clinic. The mobile clinic is currently operating in the City of Marshall in East Texas, primarily in conjunction with the public school system, but also Project Head Start Programs and other such programs. It is being used as an educational tool and not as a treatment facility.

The program is having great impact on the dental health of Marshall school children in grades kindergarten through sixth grade. Although the real measure of the program will not be in until it has been in effect for two or three years, State health officials expect to see a significant reduction in the tooth decay rate of the school children on a yearly basis. Oral hygiene practices were greatly improved in just a few weeks after the program was instituted.

So far the program has reached some 2,000 children in five different Marshall schools, and over 100 teachers have been trained in proper dental health education. These teachers see that the dental health education begun in the mobile dental health clinic continues on a daily basis in the school system. Students, who are taught proper toothbrushing and flossing techniques and tooth care, practice these methods every day in the classrooms.

This summer when school is out, adult education will join special low-income socio-economic areas of town as the focus of the program. Health officials have arranged with several industries in Marshall to utilize the dental health education aspects of the service and apply it to adults--to their employees.

Which Way Does The ... WIND BLOW?

The weathervane on the barn gleams in the sun this morning and points due south.

Earlier, before the wind steadied in its southerly direction, the eagle twirled, turning first one way, then the other.

It reminded me of the way I sometimes feel. Caught in the persistent cry of changing values, confused by the onrush of progressive ideas, I twist and turn, trying to select the good and reject the bad.

I'm glad for the steadying influence of my church. The principles it teaches never change. Honesty, integrity and a love of God are important whatever the mores of society. Knowing this keeps me happy in a world of change and upheaval.

Your church can do the same for you.

 County ***
Agricultural Agent

 By FORSTER WHALEY

Dry weather over the Panhandle and the entire state seems to be worse than the first four months of 1971.

Last week I talked to several agents scattered over the state from East Texas to South Texas. Without exception they all reported one of the driest four months periods on records, in deep East Texas at Linden I visited with Charles Jackson, former Wheeler County Agent. Charles said there was some selling of cattle on the account of drought. The county agent at Groesbeck reports much the same situation.

Light weight calves have taken a few dollar roll back but still stand near record levels.

At the time of this writing (Tuesday) the wind is extremely strong out of the south east. I've seen the time that a bet on rain would be safe under these conditions but there is the old saying that signs of rain fail in dry weather. Here's hoping the rule is correct, Joe Willis says a slow two inch rain would start the grass out the fastest you have ever seen, I would agree. We still have plenty of subsoil moisture and the ground has been in a three months warm up.

WHEAT PASTURE

In the absence of rain there will be few cattle left on wheat in two weeks. The feedlots are turning cattle out and replacing in a very orderly manner. This seems to be the most stabilizing thing about the market. Over the last two years we have seen the seasonal pattern of placing and finishing cattle replaced by an in with a stable number each month. This has created a situation very much to the liking of the packers. Thus the reason for the big increase of packers in the area. May 1st is final date to report your wheat acreage. Don't forget to do this.

Bob Price To Visit Clarendon College

Congressman Bob Price will be a guest on Clarendon College Campus on Friday, May 5.

Congressman Price will speak to the Clarendon College students and area High School seniors at 10:00 a.m. on this date at the Harned Sister Fine Arts Center. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Visiting this past week with Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Hinton were Mr. Walker Parker, of Happy, Texas. Mr. Parker is Vice-President of Texas Commercial Rabbit Raisers Association. Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Gideon of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Shumate of White Deer.

Mrs. Lucille Cullison left Monday to go to the Golm Sealey Hospital in Galveston for a check-up. She plans to return home soon.

Spicy Testimony

To sensation-seekers at the courthouse, this was the big day.
A local politician was on trial for seduction, and the victim—a 16-year-old schoolgirl—was scheduled to take the witness stand and tell her story.
But the girl became so nervous about testifying in public that the judge ordered everyone except relatives and newspaper reporters out of the courtroom.

Later found guilty, the defendant appealed on the ground that he had not had a public trial. However, his appeal was denied. The court said clearing the courtroom was justified if that was the only way to get the girl's story.

Courts generally agree that a judge may exclude spectators if the modesty of a witness makes that necessary. But suppose the purpose is not to protect the witness but to protect the public. May a judge exclude spectators because he thinks the testimony might corrupt their morals?

Unless local law authorizes it, judges ordinarily do not have that power—no matter how lurid
the testimony may be. Thus:
In a rape case, the judge excluded spectators on the theory that their "only motive was to satisfy their morbid tastes." But an appellate court ruled that the judge had exceeded his authority.

The court said the defendant's right to a public trial is too fundamental to be cast aside so easily.

"A judgment of conviction, where the defendant has been refused a public trial, cannot stand," said the court, "even against the meanest criminal in the land."

What if the defendant himself wants to keep out spectators, for reasons of his own? In a pandering case, the defendant took that position, demanding that the entire proceedings be conducted in secret.

But the court ruled that he had no right to that much privacy.

"A crime is a public wrong," said the court. "The community is deeply interested in the administration of justice, and the presence of its members at a trial is as basic as (the presence) of a defendant. The people have the right to know what is being done in their courts."
