State Capital NEWS

July 1 turned out to be a costly date for Texans. Not only did the nearly $1 billion-a-day ($604 million biennially) tax bill take effect, but property owners got notice of hikes up to 25% in their insurance rates. And just the day before (see below) the State Insurance Board staff recommended an average 2.3% increase in private auto insurance coverage effective September 1.

Tax bill raises the general sales tax from 3.25% to 4% statewide (five per cent in many cities which also levy a local sales tax); adds three cents a pack to cigarette taxes; increases liquor tax about seven cents a fifth; raises beer tax a fraction of a cent a bottle; jumps sales tax on new cars to four per cent (bringing in car rentals) and jacks up corporate franchise levy $1.25 per $1,000 of capital.

A 10% tax on mixed drink sales went into effect last month.

A new kind of "surtax" takes effect September 1. It will cost moving traffic law violators $2.50; other misdemeanor violators tried in county court, $5, and those convicted of felony $10.

Raise in homeowners' and other kinds of property insurance came without formal announcement other than notices to local agents.

Homeowners' rates rose 25% along the seacoast (hit by hurricane Celia last August) and in tornado-struck north-northwest territory of the state. Central area homeowners' rate jumped 22.1%, too.

Extended coverage of all classes went up 25% on the coast, 24.5% in north-northwest and 19.7% in the central area. Extended coverage for dwellings is up 25% on the coast and north-northwest, 19.3% in central part of the state.

Fire insurance coverage increases 5.2% — or 7.1% for dwellings.

AUTO INSURANCE UP AGAIN?

State Insurance Board staff recommended an average 2.8 per cent statewide passenger car insurance rate hike effective September 1.

Board heard recommendations at a public hearing here June 30 and indicated a decision will be made about mid-August.

Industry, which won a 14 per cent boost in rates January 1 after asking 27.7%, is asking 9.8% increase (average statewide) on passenger car coverage.

Seven state legislators and the state AFL-CIO president argued that a decline in accidents justifies lowering rather than raising rates. Since rates are fixed by territories, not statewide, some areas under Board staff recommendations would receive reductions in certain lines of coverage.

MORE WELFARE WOES LOOM

A top court decision declaring needy non-citizens eligible for assistance, threat of increasing finance burdens from federal legislation and rising medical costs put the State Board of Public Welfare on red alert again last week.

Board was told the federal bill would "save" the state $57.1 million in existing payments — but might double the number of Texans eligible for medical care benefits (which will cost $135.7 million next year.)

Supreme Court decision on aliens would add 20,000 to state welfare rolls overnight at a cost of more than $10 million a year, Deputy Welfare Commissioner Herbert Wilson estimated.

New Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell said negotiations are under way to place limits on runaway medical care costs, while maintaining adequate services.

18-YEAR OLDS CAN VOTE

Texas' 18-19 and 20-year-olds who are registered to vote can participate in any election starting this month, Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. points out.

Ratification by the 28th state of the teen-age voter constitutional amendment placed to vote if they are presently registered," Dies, chief election officer for Texas, advised.

Young voters not now registered must wait until registration period reopens October 1.

COURTS SPEAK

First case in which the Nixon administration sought to force busing in the desegregation of public schools, a federal judge at Austin gave Austin schools and U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare until July 16 to come up with a compromise plan "minimizing busing." Court found no official segregation against Austin Mexican-American pupils.

Third Court of Civil Appeals here ordered a new trial of the case involving authority of former Sharpstown State Bank president to check out bonds offered as security on a $470,000.

Both State Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals didn't meet last Wednesday, due to State Bar convention in Dallas.

AG OPINIONS

Texas Water Quality Board may contract with the federal government for increased percentage limitations on federal grants for waste treatment facilities with approval of the governor, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

- Regulations adopted by Texas Department of Public Safety Director consistent with safety standards of U.S. Department of Transportation for movement of hazardous materials can be enforced by criminal penalty provisions. Legislature validly delegated to DPS authority to prescribe duties and ascertain conditions under which law on hazardous substances may operate to impose criminal penalty.
- County may deposit all tax money collected in one general fund without regard to purpose or source of each tax, but bonds proceeds may not be deposited in general fund.
- Sellers of "earmolds" to individuals for use with hearing aids is not exempt from the requirement of being licensed by Texas State Board of Examiners in Fitting and Dispensing of Hearing Aids.
- State Comptroller is not authorized to issue a duplicate warrant for payment of unemployment compensation benefits to initial payee more than year after the original date of issuance.
- Comptroller may issue warrant to contractor or seller of supplies to the State which are purchased through State Board of Control without seller's certification of correctness on invoice.

UNEMPLOYMENT UP -- Texas unemployment increased 15,500 from mid-April to mid-May to a total of 196,600 Texas Employment Commission reported.

During last year, unemployment increased 28%, and number of claimants for jobless benefits jumped 42%.

Seventeen of the major areas reported unemployment growth during the past month. Four had a decrease, and one remained unchanged. Unemployment rate (as percentage of work force) was 4.1% compared with 3.9% in May 1970 and 3.8% in April.

LAND SALE SET -- Leases on 97,728 acres of state-owned land in West Texas will be offered at public auction September 22 here by Board for Lease of University Lands.

Total of 316 tracts will be sold to the highest bidder in Andrews, Cooke, Crane, Crockett, El Paso, Gaines, Pecos, Reagan, Terrell, Upton, Ward and Winkler counties. Oil and gas leases are being offered for the first time in El Paso County (block of 12,000 acres). More than 44,000 acres in Deep Gas Trend in the Wellfare and Val Verde Basins also will be up for bids.

School Board To Meet Monday

The McLean Independent School District Board of Trustees met last Thursday night in a session called by Howard Gipsen, president. All board members were present.

During the 6 1/2 hour meeting, members studied and discussed the school budget, taxes, and salaries. The only action taken was a decision to stop all complimentary tickets to football games except to those working at the games. This measure was proposed by board member James Ellison.

The regular monthly board meeting will be held Monday at 8 p.m. at the City Hall. A preliminary meeting of the school board and the board of equalization will be held at 7 p.m.

A called meeting also is scheduled for Wednesday night. However, this session will be canceled if current business can be resolved at the Monday meeting.

EXTENDED AND CHANGED

The livestock feed program has been extended through September 30, 1971. This program is available only to producers who would have undue financial hardship in buying feed for foundation livestock without it -- however, the financial statement is no longer required. The program is intended for producers who derive the major part of their income from farming and ranching. Applications may be filed at the county office at any time. Also under this program assistance is available for eligible producers to cover 2/3 of the transportation cost for hay.

CAP GRAZING & HAYING EXTENDED

The grazing and haying on CAP acres has been extended to September 30, 1971. No charge will be made for this program and application is necessary only when the land will be relet to another party to graze or hay. A change has been made in the maximum that may be charged the other party. This is 50¢ per acre per month for grazing; 75¢ per acre for haying and $30.00 per ton for baled hay. If you are going to let someone else graze or hay your acres, be sure to file application and check on this charge.

GRAZING & HAYING SET-ASIDE

Set-aside acres may be grazed or hayed free of charge whether dryland or irrigated land. No application needs to be filed unless the land is relet to another party. In this case, you need to file application as there is a maximum that you may charge the other party. Please be sure to check this with us so you will not violate your agreement. This land may be grazed and hayed through November 1.

GRAIN SORGHUM ACRES

You may report your grain sorghum acres anytime after you get it planted. The papers will then be sent in for payment. It is expected that most producers will be able to plant grain sorghum -- however, if you intended to plant and were prevented from doing so by abnormal weather, please remember that July 16 is the last day to request history credit.

FAILED ACRES-Cotton and Grain Sorghum -- If you planted your cotton and grain sorghum and then lost it due to abnormal weather, you need to report this to use and request history credit within 14 days after you abandon the crop, and before you destroy the crop.

REAP SIGN-UP

July 1 through July 9 is the sign-up period for practices that you will carry out during July, August or September. These will then be reviewed by the county committee for approval. For practices to be done in the last three months of the year, the sign-up period will be early in October.

Golf Tournament Held Sunday

Terry Hugg won individual honors and the team of Chester Bohlar and Hershel Smith captured the partnership prizes in a golf tournament at the McLean golf course Sunday.

The tournament consisted of 18 holes, the first nine played as a scotch partnership (partners take turns hitting the ball), and the second nine conducted as a regular partnership. Individual scores also were carded on the second nine to determine the day's medalist.

Hugg and Bohlar tied for medalist honors, each shooting a one-under par 35. In a sudden death play-off, Bohlar parred the first hole, while Hugg birdied it to take the championship.

Bohlar teamed with Smith to win the second nine partnership. Smith shot a 38 which, added to Bohlar's 35, took first place.

Bohlar and Smith also won the scotch partnership, with Clyde Windom and Sonny Edmondson placing second.

Berry Pender won the prize for the longest drive on the third hole, while Windom did the same on number four and number nine. Hugg won prizes for being the closest to the hole on the three-pars, five and eight.

In a post-tourney contest, Don Alexander won the "horse race." All golfers teed-off on the first hole, and the person with the highest score was eliminated. The golfers continued until the player was left, Alexander won on the sixth hole, with Johnny Haynes and Eddy Windom finishing in a tie for second. Golf balls were given to all winners.

A wiener roast for the golfers and families capped the July 4 activities.

Let The People Speak

Did you know that when a person votes for or against a Constitutional Amendment, it is one of the rare opportunities he or she ever has to directly express his or her personal feelings on that subject?

When one votes for a candidate for public office he does so in the belief that that candidate feels as he does about various matters and will vote accordingly.

But, quite often the reverse happens...which means that the voter not only lost his vote but his right to vote and perhaps for the entire political life of that candidate.

You'll be interested to note that when the four proposed constitutional amendments were submitted to the Texas electorate on May 18, the sum total of all such proposals to Texas' 1976 Constitution totaled only 331. That averages out only three a year for the intervening 95 years (actually 2.87). And yet you hear some people rave about there being too many amendments to the Constitution of Texas.

That's not bad at all considering the fact that life and living standards have changed tremendously in 95 years -- as have styles, customs, fashions, not to mention cars, architecture and many other things.

When mobile habits expand from horse-drawn covered wagons to jet propulsion engines -- changes have to be made. And they will be necessary in the future too, as other developments surface, bloom and gain stature.

Let's hope we will be amending our Constitution 100 years from now, for that means we are growing, growing and growing. But let's let the people amend it the way they want it amended.

It is the one and only method left for the people to express their own, individual, personal views directly to the subject at hand. Let us retain this right forever.

Burn Injuries Becoming Common

Serious injury due to burns is becoming increasingly common as more persons seek rest and relaxation in the outdoors, according to TEXAS PARKS AND WILDLIFE magazine.

An article in the June issue of the magazine cites careless handling of fuel, especially gasoline, as the most frequent cause of serious burns. The magazine warns readers to be extremely cautious when handling flammable liquids.

Another hazard, according to the magazine, is flammable clothing. A State of New York information leaflet said more than 150,000 persons in the U.S. are burned each year when their clothing catches fire, and children and older persons are the most frequent victims.

Some new fabrics are not only highly combustible but also form molten globs which burn deeply into the flesh. The article says weight and weave of the material determines how easily it will catch fire and how fast it will burn. Tightly woven and heavy fabrics burn more slowly than loosely woven light fabrics of the same material.

Full or long, loose garments can catch fire before the wearer feels the heat and is aware there is any danger.

When clothing catches on fire, the worst thing the victim can do is run, according to the magazine. Running fans the flames to greater intensity. By rolling on the ground or floor and wrapping up in a heavy blanket, coat or carpet, the victim can extinguish the flames.

The first treatment for badly burned persons should be for shock, according to the magazine. The victim should be laid down and kept warm. No attempt to clean the wound or to remove bits of cloth from the wound should be made. Cold water applied to most burns will lessen the pain and help prevent further tissue damage, but under no circumstances should grease, butter or any other ointment be applied to burns. The burn should not be touched with anything except a sterile dressing.

New Laws Affect Boaters

Boat owners in Texas will operate under new rules as a result of actions by the 62nd Legislature.

Of immediate interest to boaters is the new law requiring children 12 years old or under riding in a Class I or Class A motorboat while underway to wear life preservers. Of the sort prescribed by the regulations of the Commandant of the Coast Guard.

The only such approved life preserver is a U.S. Coast Guard approved life preserver. If a boat is underway, and if the child does not have the life preserver, the operator will be ticketed.

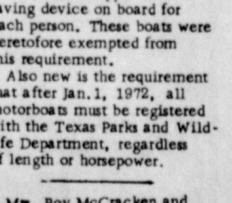

The new law does not apply to canoes, rowboats or sailboats, but these boats after Sept. 1, are required to have a Coast Guard approved life-saving device on board for each person. These boats were heretofore exempted from this requirement.

Also new is the requirement that after Jan. 1, 1972, all motorboats must be registered with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, regardless of length or horsepower.

Tips Offered To Burglary Victims

"Take your necessary precautions against your enemies," is an old warning taken from the ancient Koran many centuries ago.

It was good advice then and just as applicable today when dealing with the modern day burglar, notes the Texas Insurance Advisory Association (TIAA).

The key to foiling a burglar is to keep him out of your home or apartment. If he can't get in, he can't steal much, the TIAA reminds.

best precautions sometimes fail to prevent a burglary and then it becomes a matter of getting the stolen property back.

One of the best ways to aid law enforcement officials in their search for stolen property is to have your initials or a serial number engraved on such personal belongings as televisions, stereos, athletic equipment, guns, etc., the TIAA suggests. The insurance organization notes that there are businesses that specialize in this service, usually engraving several items for a relatively small cost.

The victims who can provide a record of such numbers of initials has a much better chance of getting valuable property back, may help break a burglary ring and will find things greatly simplified when filling out an insurance claim.

Most burglars aren't as skilled as those found in the television series, "It Takes A Thief," reminds the TIAA. Make things tough for them and they may well leave you alone.

Safety-Tough For Farmers - Ranchers

"No Texas farm or ranch could operate without water, fire and machinery. Yet these essentials are also the agribusinessman's greatest threat," according to the Vice President for Farm and Ranch of the Texas Safety Association.

Joe L. Smetana of Waco made the comment today while discussing Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week. Governor Preston Smith has proclaimed the week of July 25-31 as Farm and Ranch Safety Week to call attention to the need for greater efforts in accident prevention on rural areas of the state.

"Last year in Texas, water, fire and machinery accidents claimed the lives of at least 100 persons engaged in agricultural pursuits," Smetana revealed. Other factors accounted for 63 deaths.

Six of the deaths occurred when vehicles fell off jacks. Two more occurred when the victims were struck by vehicles in motion, and three deaths resulted when the victims were struck by other machinery.

"Tractor overruns accounted for 16 of the deaths involving machinery last year," he continued. He said these deaths might have been avoided if the tractors involved had been equipped with protective frames or protective cabs and safety belts.

"But the best way to prevent this sort of thing is to prevent tractor turn overs themselves."

He explained that agricultural workers could avoid tractor upsets by slowing down for turns, especially on slopes and on rough, muddy ground. Slow speeds should also be used near ditches and embankments, according to the safety expert. He also cautioned tractor operators to watch for hidden hazards and obstacles, and not to overload the vehicle.

"One of the most important rules to follow," said Smetana, "is to give proper, thorough training to young or inexperienced workers in the safe operation of all farm machinery."

Water was the next accident villain discussed by the Texas Safety Association spokesman.

"The deaths in boating, swimming and fishing on farms and ranches amounted to 31 last year. The most important safety step rural families can take in this area is to teach every member of the family to swim.

Flotation aids should be kept handy near all water hazards and family members should know how to administer mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Fire was the next safety hazard discussed by the expert.

"Fire destroyed at least one human life on Texas farms and ranches in each month, except October, during 1970. Twenty-nine perished in the blazes."

He said that proper preparation for emergencies such as fire is one way of saving lives. Inspections should be made on a regular basis of appliances, electrical wiring, and power tools, and the defects eliminated. Heating systems, portable heaters, and other possible fire hazards should also be checked according to Smetana.

Farm and ranch families should prepare a home fire escape plan and make assignments for each person for action in case of fire. The plan should be tried during a fire drill.

Another major cause of farm and ranch deaths in 1970 were falls.

14 deaths occurred on farms and ranches as a result of falling accidents.

"Falls generally occur when makeshift or broken ladders are used, or when people are too much in a hurry to take the proper amount of time to plan a specific job. Handrails and good lighting can help eliminate falling hazards on stairs and steps. Workers should also remember to scrape mud, grease, snow, and other substances from shoes before climbing ladders on machinery, equipment, or buildings."

One area of special emphasis during Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week is agricultural chemicals.

"Though there were no deaths directly attributed to the use of agricultural chemicals during 1970, there is always an element of danger when pesticides, herbicides and other chemicals are being used."

"In general," he said, "there is no reason why farm and ranch activities have to result in loss of life, injury, or property damage, if all rural residents would dimly be more alert to the possible hazards of everyday life."

"Accidents can be prevented and the annual Texas Farm and Ranch death and accident injury toll can be reduced," Smetana concluded.

Mrs. Lona Jones of Stinnett was a dinner guest of Mrs. Luther Petty Friday.

THEIR SOLE MEANS OF SUPPORT—YOU!

WHO PAYS THE PIPER?

The expression "passing the buck" is universally circulated in political circles, especially where government spending is concerned.

That elusive coin of the realm is called federal or state money, when it is applied for locally. It is never labeled the taxpayer dollar, even though it comes from personal or corporate income taxes, excises or sales taxes.

Every once in a while we should recall the economic fact of life that the government is not the source of income. You and I provide this source through the successful operation of the private enterprise system.

So, the next time you endorse greater public expenditures for your favorite local, state or national cause, just remember in the final analysis you must chip in with your tax dollars to help pay the bill.

Watering Tanks Stretch Water

The dry hot weather that the area has been having the past two summers has caused many of the livestock watering ponds to go dry according to Jim Roach of the Soil Conservation Service. Many of the ponds that are dry now have not been dry in several years. These dry times show why a steel tank rim or a corrugated galvanized tank rim with cement bottoms are so important to farmers and ranchmen in this area. A good livestock water well and a good water storage facility will normally supply drinking water for your livestock in the driest of times. Also water storage facilities and wells can be placed in more convenient areas to distribute the grazing of your livestock.

The photo shows a well and water storage facility that was constructed with cost share assistance through the Great Plains Conservation Program on the Aaron and Raymond Sullivan farm at McLean, Texas.

Gory Story

Witness by witness, exhibit by exhibit, the prosecutor was building his case against a woman accused of slaying her husband. But when he tried to bring in the victim's blood-blotched garments, the defense attorney raised a vigorous objection.

The court saw no justification either, and held the evidence not admissible. The judge said: "These bloodstained garments could in no manner identify the murderer. We can conceive of no other purpose than to excite the passions and inflame the minds of the jury."

It is on this ground that courts generally take a dim view of gruesome evidence. Nevertheless, the fact remains that trials often must deal with dreadful events. Evidence is not disqualified by gruesomeness if it is really useful.

Another case involved manslaughter by automobile. Here, the prosecutor wanted to show the jury a battered shoe - its laces torn - that had been ripped from the victim's foot when he was struck by the car.

This time, one of the issues was how fast the car had been traveling when it hit the victim. Since the shoe did cast light on this issue, it was held to be admissible evidence. Even if it was inflammatory, said the court, it could still help the jury reach a just verdict.

A similar rule applies to photographs. In another murder case, the prosecutor wanted to show the jury a picture of the victim's body, lying on a table at the mortuary. Over defense objections, the court allowed the prosecutor to go ahead - because the picture gave valuable assistance in showing the location of the fatal wound.

As one judge put it: "Courts and juries cannot be too squeamish about looking at unpleasant things, especially if truth is on trial."

CHEMICAL HANDLING RULES OUTLINES

Agricultural chemicals can be used or misused, according to the Texas Safety Association. To use them properly, agribusinessmen should always read the label and follow directions properly. Children should be kept away from mixing and spraying areas. In addition, chemicals should always be stored in their original containers in safe areas inaccessible to children and animals.

"I say, old man, do give me a hand," he pleaded, and Brown, wondering, did so. "Now," continued Jones, "let's get him up the stairs and into the bathroom."

After a lot of struggling, they got the horse safely installed, and Jones closed the door on him.

"What's all this about?" asked Brown, puzzled.

"I'll tell you," said Jones. "I've got a brother-in-law living with me and he knows everything. When he goes in the bathroom tomorrow morning he'll shout down: 'Here, there's a horse in the bathroom,' and for the first time I'll be able to shout back: 'Yes, I know!'"

"Harold is awfully obstinate." "In what way?" "It's the hardest thing in the world to make him admit I'm right when he knows I'm wrong."

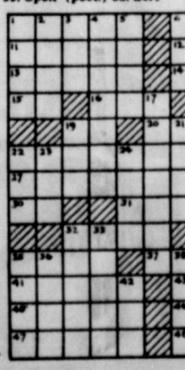

"A fellow told me I looked like you." "Where is he?" "I killed him."

One evening Jones was discovered by Brown trying to push a horse on to his front doorstep.

STEPPING OUT of a protective tractor cab to promote Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week, July 25-31, is Texas Farm Bureau Queen Harletta Capps of Vernon. The theme for this year's observance of Farm and Ranch Safety Week is "Protection-make it work for safety." Tractor overturns accounted for 60 per cent of the accidental deaths involving tractors in the U.S. in 1970. It is estimated that 90 percent of the lives lost in tractor Overturns could have been saved by protective cabs or roll bars and safety belts. Special emphasis on accident prevention in agricultural pursuits are being made during the week by the Texas Safety Association, Texas Farm Bureau, and other agricultural organizations.

How a minus on your paycheck can be a plus in your future.

Sound confusing? It isn't, really. When you join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, an amount you designate will be set aside automatically from each paycheck. That's the "minus."

That amount will then be invested in U.S. Savings Bonds. That's where the "plus" comes in. Because you're automatically saving for your future, with one of the safest investments there are: U.S. Savings Bonds.

And, by deducting a little at a time from each paycheck, you don't feel the pinch financially. Before you know it, you'll have quite a tidy sum tucked away.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5 1/4% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra 1/4%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Put a little "plus" in your future. Join the Payroll Savings Plan.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a good way to save.

Take stock in America. Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

MRS. DAVID BROWN, nee CLAUDIA RHINE

Claudia Mae Rhine & David Dean Brown Exchange Wedding Vows In Baptist Chapel

The Chapel of First Baptist Church was the setting for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Miss Claudia Mae Rhine and David Dean Brown. Officiating the double ring ceremony was Rev. Herman Bell.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. J. Boyd Smith of McLean and Arthur Rhine of Decatur. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Brown also of McLean.

The wedding setting was centered with a sunburst of Emerald and Leather Leaf Foliage. Standing on each side of Sunburst were Large Bouquets of Yellow Snap Dragons, Camellias and Mums.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother and S. father Mr. and Mrs. J. Boyd Smith. McLean. Maid of Honor, a friend, Deborah Sheehan of 615 Francis Pampa, wore empire waltz length lime Dacron crepe dress with matching Satin headress covered with lime illusion tulle. Bridesmaids Nancy Kaye Brown, a sister to the bridegroom, Jacqueline Enright and Cynthia Brooks wore empire line waltz length Yellow Dacron Crepe dresses with matching bow satin headress covered with tulle and carried bouquets of white mum nosegay.

The bride's gown was styled by her mother of White satin and chantilly lace with tiny button trim. White tulle illusion flowing from headress of Chantilly Lace and Seeded Pearl the train also of Chantilly Lace. The Bride's bouquet was a cascade arrangement of Daisies, yellow roses, and baby breath.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old something new, something borrowed, something blue, by carrying a handkerchief from both the groom's grandmother's for something old. Her complete wedding ensemble was new. She wore a borrowed blue garter for something borrowed and blue. For luck the ringbearer, Brad Gibson, placed a 1971 penny in her left shoe. Best man, a friend, was Dennis Duniven of McLean. Ushers were

ART Rhine, brother of the bride, Walter Bailey, and Ronald Roy Brown, cousin of the groom. Ringbearer was Bradley Gibson, nephew of the groom, flower girl was Joy Rhine, sister of the bride. Music was of wedding marches and Mrs. Paul Miller, organist, played "Day of Golden Promise" and "Twelfth of Never" for vocalist Debbie Stump.

A reception was held in the church for friends and guests. A white table cloth over white satin undercover covered the table. The three tier wedding cake separated with Pillars of swan and topped with miniature Bride and Groom under veil of white illusion and yellow roses, was served by Linda Littlefield bride's sister, Jenny Everett, and June Hugg. Vickie Parr registered guests. After the reception the couple left for wedding trip to Orlando, Florida. The bride wore a yellow crepe dress with matching sash, white patten slippers and white carnation corsage. Mr. Brown is stationed with the United States Navy at Orlando, Florida.
