Miss Carla Lee, Gregory Foster Exchange Vows

Miss Carla Dianne Lee and Gregory Kirk Foster exchanged wedding vows in a Friday evening ceremony at the Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel on the campus of West Texas State University. Dr. Dan Cooper of the First Baptist Church, of Shawnee, Oklahoma, cousin of the bride, solemnized the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Georgia Lee of Canyon and the granddaughter of Mrs. George Colebank of Tucumcari, N.M., a former resident of McLean. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Newton H. Foster of Dalhart.

The altar was centered with a bouquet of large white chrysanthemums and blue cushion pom pom mums, backed by a fifteen branch arched candelabrum entwined in greenery. Two spiral candelabra stood on either side. Floor baskets of mums and two seven branch candelabra, all entwined with greenery and bearing blue tapers, flanked the steps ascending to the altar area.

Lighting the candles were Gary and Randy Cooper, cousins of the bride.

Miss Joy Jones played traditional wedding selections before the ceremony and accompanied Gene Vaughn Morrison as he sang "There is Love," "One Hand, One Heart," and the "Wedding Prayer."

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Gail Fite of Canyon, and Mrs. Karen Foster served as bridesmaid. Flower girl was Miss Camye Wood of Dallas, cousin of the bride. The attendants wore floor length formal gowns of powder blue chiffon over taffeta, with royal blue velvet empire bodice with French sleeves cuffed in the royal blue velvet. They carried nosegays of white roses, blue pom pom mums, royal blue baby's breath, and blue Frenched carnations with a cascade of light blue satin streamers tied in love knots. Their hair was caught in the back with white roses and blue ribbon.

Gary Porter of Dalhart served as best man and Richard Gallo of

Mrs. Gregory Kirk Foster, nee Carla Dianne Lee

Dalhart was groomsman. Ushering were Jay and Mike Foster of Dalhart, brothers of the groom, and Gary and Randy Cooper, cousins of the bride. Timothy Wood of Dallas, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

The bride, given in marriage by her cousin, Benny Cooper, wore the wedding gown that had been worn by all the granddaughters of her maternal grandmother. The traditional wedding gown was a white floor length gown of rosepoint lace over French tulle and satin. The bodice was fashioned of rosepoint lace and styled with a scalloped neckline and a long fitted waist that came to points in front and back. The tightly fitted sleeves extended to petal points over the bride's hands. Tiny lace-covered buttons fastened the back of the gown and also the sleeves. The bouffant skirt of scalloped rosepoint lace was covered with tiered ruffles of the matching scalloped lace and alternate ruffles were of the French tulle. These flowed to a French train in the back. The fingertip bridal veil was of imported scalloped illusion. The bride carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis, white carnations and baby's breath accented with touches of blue. For something old, the bride wore the gold wedding band of her grandmother, Mrs. Clara Colebank of Tucumcari, N.M.

After the wedding ceremony a reception was held on campus at the Methodist Student Center. The bride's table was laid with a white organdy bridal cloth with blue satin ribbon interlacing the narrow lattice work trim. The four-tiered wedding cake on swan pedestals was decorated with a scroll design and topped with a nosegay of white roses and blue baby's breath. A five-branched candelabrum, bearing blue tapers, entwined with ivy and encircled at the base with nosegays of white roses and blue cushion pom pom mums centered the table. A silver punch bowl completed the table appointments.

Miss Janna Johnson and Miss Debbie White, Chi Omega sisters of the bride, served cake and punch.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride was wearing a navy, white trimmed knit dress with navy accessories and white corsage. The couple will be at home at 901 Margaret in Dalhart.

The bride is a graduate of Canyon High School and was an elementary education major at West Texas State University where she held membership in the Chi Omega social sorority and in the Sigma Nu Little Sisters.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Missouri Military Academy and attended West Texas State University.

The rehearsal dinner for the wedding party and out-of-town guests was hosted by the groom's parents.

Peb Everett of McLean has been announced as one of 9 outstanding citizens to the Gray County Steering Committee of Texans for U.S. Senator John Tower.

Question and Answers Concerning McLean Schools

QUESTION: Where and how does the school purchase their parts for the school?

ANSWER: The Culberson Chevrolet Agency, Pampa; Adam Auto Parts; Simmons Chevrolet; National Auto Garage, Oklahoma City; and Motor Parts.

QUESTION: Is it still against the state law for a school district to do business with a member of the school board for the services or materials that can be obtained at other places in town?

ANSWER: Yes. But, it has been a practice in McLean for many years to purchase school bus repair parts from a business firm that had the lowest prices for the same quality of merchandise, whether a board member owned the firm or not.

QUESTION: What will the total cost of the windows and doors in the old school building (High School) be when installation charges are added to the purchase cost?

ANSWER: $15,511.63. The money for the windows and the installation was made available from surplus money. No money has been borrowed for the windows or anything else.

QUESTION: Why isn't the school board trying to make plans for a new high school building while the oil and gas interests would still be paying around 40% of the cost, instead of waiting until the local property owners would be forced to pay a much larger portion of the cost?

ANSWER: The majority of the taxpayers in McLean ISD have, within 5 years, voted down 2 bond issue elections. There is no indication at this time that the majority of the taxpayers want a new high school. Until such time that the majority of the McLean ISD taxpayers tell the board that they want a new high school building, it would be foolish for the board to hold a bond issue election. Due to the fact that 2 bond issue elections within the past 5 years have failed in the McLean ISD, the board would probably survey the taxpayers to see if a majority of them would vote for a bond issue to build a new high school, before they, the board, would make plans for a new building, or call a bond issue election. It is true that the oil and gas interest are paying around 40% of the local taxes, and the oil production is going down, which means that every year the oil companies will be paying less taxes.

Note: In the October 12th issue of the McLean News, I reported incorrectly information regarding the announcement of the winners of the election for Mr. and Miss M.H.S., Most Courteous, etc. The elections are held in the fall because of the deadline to submit their pictures for the annual. Because the date of receiving the annuals has been changed to July, the Award Day assembly in the spring has been selected as the date to reveal the results of the elections, the same as Val-Edictorian, Salutarian, etc.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Competitive auto and homeowners insurance ratings legislation failed to clear the special session, but Gov. Preston Smith claimed the gathering served a purpose.

Smith, disappointed at a log jam in conference committee on the session's wind-up night, declined to call lawmakers back to work as he hinted he might. He said he and legislative leaders decided another session now would be fruitless.

The Governor announced he will make recommendation for "thorough reform" of the insurance regulatory system before he leaves office in January.

"I am hopeful," he said "that, because of the exposure and public attention that this issue has received during the past 30 days, competitive rates and other insurance reforms can and will be approved."

He cited these accomplishments of the session in addition to those which had been wrapped up earlier:

Establishment of a Texas Offshore Terminal Commission to define the role and responsibility of State government in developing a deep draft offshore port for supertankers.

Relaxing of trailer and brake lighting requirements for trailers.

An increase in funds by $1 million for the Anderson County Junior college occupational extension center.

Defining the legal age at which both male and female youth offenders can be tried as adults.

Appropriations of $211,372 for a citrus and vegetable training center and improved beef production programs at Texas A&M University.

The Legislature also passed a bill to lower rates in the hurricane windstorm insurance pool for coastal areas. It petitioned Congress for a constitutional convention on an anti-busing amendment.

ALLOWABLE MAINTAINED For the eighth straight month the statewide oil allowable will be retained at 100 per cent for November.

Production is expected to be slightly more than 3,500,000 barrels a day.

Major oil buyers requested 3,753,055 barrels of crude daily next month, a decrease of 23,538 from the October record.

The East Texas field, where an 86 per cent production figure was set, is an exception to the 100 per cent allowable. So is Kelly-Snyder at 76 per cent. Tom O'Conner at 70 per cent and Big Wells at 80 per cent.

Only one of the 15 major crude buyers requested more oil next month than this month, while 11 asked the same amount and three asked less.

Texas crude stocks totaled 97.6 million barrels on October 6, a decrease of 4.2 million from the October, 1971, level.

DEATH PENALTY RESTORAL OUT.

A bill to restore the death penalty for certain cases of murder started too late to get through the Legislature in special session.

It was knocked out in both the House and Senate because it had not emerged from committees until the last 72 hours of the session.

The legislation sought to permit the death penalty (outlawed by the U.S. Supreme Court) in cases of atrocity murder, murder by hired assassins, murder of prison guards, intentional homicide during kidnapping, rape, burglary, robbery or arson, murder of a policeman or fireman and killings during prison escapes.

BUILDING SHIFT ORDERED

The State Highway Commission received firm advice from the Legislature to move the proposed site of its controversial new 11-story, $20 million building.

Lawmakers said they don't want the building on the block across the street from the state capitol and governor's mansion. They indicated they prefer an underground parking garage topped by a park on the choice site in downtown Austin.

The legislative resolution recognizes the Highway De-Funds will not be appropriated until next year. Since parliament should be compensated for the $1.5 million it spent on the site and plans, the Highway Department is pressing for a two-cent-per-gallon gasoline tax increase, it is expected to go along with the Legislature's directive without further argument.

COURT SPEAKS

The Texas Court upheld lower court verdicts that a Bowie County couple should collect damages due to an explosion at Lone Star Ordinance Plant which damaged their home.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals at Austin affirmed the State Savings and Loan Commissioner's orders permitting creation of savings and loan associations in Bay City and Hallettsville.

AG OPINIONS

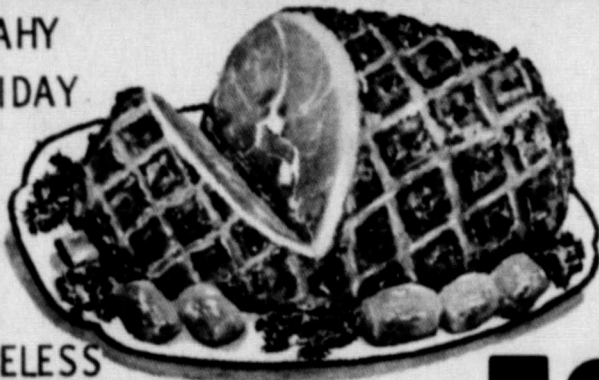

A school district may not sell land to a company in which a school trustee is interested, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said in a new opinion.

The same opinion stated a school district may not lawfully purchase supplies or services from a company in which a trustee owns nearly 10 per cent of the shares. The district can contract with a company which receives it: supplies from another in which a trustee owns an inappreciable number of shares.

In another opinion, Martin concluded election code

COMMON CAUSE OPENS SHOP

Common cause, the national lobby for citizens, announced opening of its first state organizational headquarters in Austin.

Randall Wood of Austin, former head of the Texas Secretary of State's election division, will head the state group which has 5,000 members and seeks 15,000.

Wood said Common Cause will seek four legislative objectives next year: wider disclosure of campaign finances, better public access to information, a code of ethics requiring full financial disclosure by public officials and a strict law requiring lobbyists to tell who hires them and pays them.

SHORT SNORTS

Presidential candidate George McGovern received an exceptionally warm welcome to the Texas capitol during his last visit to Texas.

Efforts to raise hunting and fishing license fees failed in the House of Representatives. Another try will be made next year.

Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville will head a national campaign for a constitutional convention to prohibit forced busing to achieve racial balance in public schools.

A $48,000 national grant will help Texas A&M Agricultural Experimental Station finance a study of the gulf shrimp industry.

Sen. John Tower advised Texas farmers and ranchers who suffered crop, livestock or property losses from natural disaster since June 30 they may be eligible for federal assistance.

A charter is being sought for Heita Bank in Montgomery.

Picketing Private Home

Henry's plan to open a tavern in a suburban neighborhood raised the hackles of nearby residents. One afternoon, several men showed up at his house with protest signs and began to picket.

Equally incensed, Henry went to court for an injunction against this "intrusion into my private life." At the hearing, the picketers insisted they were mainly exercising their right of free speech.

But the court sided with Henry and issued an injunction.

"The home is a retreat from outside affairs," said the judge.
 "When the right of free speech is weighed against the right to privacy, the balance favors the privacy of the home."

Courts generally have concurred in placing a high value on the home as a privileged sanctuary from strife.

Nevertheless, residential picketing has sometimes been allowed under special circumstances — such as the fact that the occupant of the house is a public official.

Thus, the picketing of a governor's home by a civil rights group was upheld in court. The judge said the picketers "had a legitimate right, protected by the Constitution, to appeal to those in authority for redress."

And the picketing of a landlord's home by disgruntled tenants was sustained on the ground that he had no other known headquarters where they could vent their feelings.

Of course, even if picketing itself is considered lawful, it may still be condemned because of the manner in which it is done.

In another case, the home of a hospital executive was subjected to mass picketing by boisterous marchers. Furthermore, they flaunted signs that were plainly libellous. This time, a court held the picketing unlawful.

"Conducted at a considerable distance from the hospital," said the judge, "in a residential area, it was apparently aimed to cause humiliation and mortification to (the victim) and his family. It represents a form of direct and unmitigated coercion, a foul blow."

Cates Bill Passes House

House Bill 49 of which Phil Cates is an author, which allows for the spraying instead of dipping for the problem of scabies, had its final passing by the House of Representatives, Friday morning, October 13. It is now up to the Senate, his office said.

growing crops and livestock creates a lot of off-farm jobs. Over $21 billion is invested in improvements related to agricultural production.

It is well that we pause during the Thanksgiving season to reflect on the importance of agriculture to our daily lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Bailey and Allen of Kress visited in the E.M. Bailey home over the weekend.

Marketing Report

It's almost time for witches and goblins--so be sure to have some food treats on hand for these Halloween night visitors.

Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reminded shoppers that apples are a good choice. They're great for bobbing and biting--easy on the pocket book too. "Nuts for cracking and then crunching is another suggestion," she said. Spooks will enjoy breaking them open and reaping the fruits of their labor. "Peanuts are especially suitable for this season."

The best part about using such foods for Halloween treats is knowing the witches, ghosts and goblins will feel much better the morning after, the Texas A&M University specialist pointed out.

Good buys in the produce section of the supermarket involve items in good supply resulting in economical prices.

"Apples, bananas, Tokay grapes, oranges, honey dew melons, potatoes, celery, cabbage, carrots, dry yellow onions, sweet potatoes, hard shell squash, collards, mustard, turnip and greens, and rutabagas make up this group."

In addition, such seasonal vegetables as cauliflower, broccoli and eggplant are increasing in supply and their prices are slowly declining.

Of course, pumpkins which offer a variety of uses remain available at stores.

"Beef prices remain about the same as the past few weeks," Mrs. Clyatt continued.

Check for family preferences when shopping--most markets are featuring various cuts of mature and baby at special prices.

In general, round steaks and roasts, short ribs, beef, stew meat and chops and steaks furnish the best beef values, she added.

"Look for best pork on shoulder roasts and liver, picnics and fresh age and end-cut loin roasts and chops."

Versatile fryer chickens, main a bargain--cooked in a variety of different ways, serve them at least four times weekly. Quality of fryers on the market is excellent.

"Large size eggs are in supply and Grade A large eggs offer the best combination of quality and economy for egg money," she continued.

Words to the wise cook: not use whipped butter in soups, since this shortening is not the same as for whipped butter.

 County ***

Texas A. & M. College
Extension Service
By FOSTER WHALEY

On Tuesday, November 21, starting at 7:30 p.m. in the new M. K. Brown Civic Auditorium in Pampa, a special program is being sponsored by our Extension Farm Management Committee.

The program will cover such topics as "Life Insurance", "The Farmer and Rancher Will", "Death Tax Impact on Agricultural Holdings", and "Estate and Probate Considerations for Agricultural Enterprises".

Scheduled to be on the program will be Jimmy Thompson, local Pampa lawyer; Jerry Davis, certified public accountant; Ray Hammer, trust officer and vice-president of Amarillo National Bank. We believe every farmer and rancher of Gray County should avail themselves of this opportunity to plan ahead and avoid as much taxes for your survivors as possible.

We hope several carloads from the McLean vicinity will be present. There is no cost to the Seminar and refreshments will be served.

RAIN
From .80 to 1.20 inch of moisture fell over much of the county. Although this will help to bring some wheat up to stand and help other wheat to root down, it is doubtful if all wheat will tie down enough to graze without pulling up.

Another inch is needed, followed by a week of warmer than normal weather.

Light calves took a substantial drop in price last week, but we feel sure the price took a substantial drop in price last week, but we feel sure the price will stabilize in the next few days and hold strong if favorable weather continues.

Helps Shrink Swelling Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues

caused by inflammation

Doctors have found a medication that in many cases gives prompt, temporary relief from pain and burning itch in hemorrhoidal tissues. Then it actually helps shrink swelling of these tissues caused by inflammation.

The answer is Preparation H. No prescription is needed for Preparation H. Ointment or suppositories.

There won't be any wind-fall profits like we witnessed last spring wheat pasture cattle.

CATTLE ON FEED REPORT
Cattle and calves on feed for slaughter market on October 1, 1972 in 23 major feeding states is estimated at 11,764,000 head...ten percent above a year earlier. There were 6,226,000 cattle and calves placed on feed July through September in the 23 states...slightly below the number placed during the same period in 1971.

Texas continues to hold the number one spot in the nation in cattle on feed. They have 2,091,000 head on feed or about 30 percent more than the 1,608,000 on feed for the same period a year earlier. Only 284 Texas lots had 2,046,000 head of the cattle. This means that 96 percent of the fat cattle are concentrated in only 284 feedlots. These are classified as feedlots holding 1,000 head or more. There is no breakdown, but I would say 90 percent of these are in feedlots having over 10,000 head capacity.

NOVEMBER 1972

The month of November has been designated "Texas Food and Fiber Month". Purpose of the month-long observance is to promote appreciation for the abundance of food and fiber that is provided for our population by the farmers and ranchers and others in the agri-business industry.

It is a tribute that is well deserved. The fantastic productivity of our agricultural plant has given us a plentiful supply of a wide variety of wholesome, quality foods at reasonable prices.

Because of agriculture's efficiency, all of us live better for less. One farm worker today produces enough food and other farm products for himself and 48 others. Only about 16 percent of our disposable income is spent for food. This compares with about 30 percent in Western Europe and more than 50 percent in Russia.

Texas agriculture is a huge consumer as well as producer. Production of items used in

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

They're here--those crisp, cool days which mean only one thing to almost a million people in Texas: it's hunting season. The fall season brought a smile to the eyes of hunters. It is November which has that extra bounce in its step, sends the m into the hills and valleys and into marshes and timbered country for deer, javelina, quail, geese, quail and turkeys. Previews of the season have already been obtained by bow hunters, who took advantage of the special archery season which began in October.

In addition to the hunting season, most real fishermen are keeping their gear in shape for the excellent fishing which continues through the fall and winter in Texas.

What you have in Texas now--in addition to the exhilarating thrill of being out in the open hunting, camping and fishing--is the chance for accidents. Good health and hunting safety go together, says the Texas State Department of Health.

While most hunters look on themselves as Daniel Boones, far too many should never leave their television sets and comfortable arm chairs. They are the people who are out of shape, out of practice in handling their rifles and shotguns, and out of touch with good safety habits.

Safety in the field is a vital part of any hunting trip and it takes some thought and planning to make sure that your trip doesn't end in tragedy. How many people do you know who carry loaded guns in their cars... climb into their deer blinds with guns loaded walk around with the safety of their rifles or shotguns off and a shell in the chamber, point their weapons at others, bring their loaded guns into the camp house. Caution is something which all persons should exercise throughout every day of the year, but extra precautions against injury--and perhaps death--should be taken when you're outside of your natural element.

Safety authorities strongly recommend the use of blaze orange clothing as a safeguard against becoming a statistic. Too many hunters are mistaken for game by over-anxious, careless hunters.

You can follow the following safety rules:

When handling and demonstrating a gun, treat it as if it were loaded. Keep the muzzle pointed in a safe direction. Remove the clip if there is one. Open the action and leave it open.

If you're practicing with an empty gun, be sure it is actually empty. Check your gun when you pick it up. Even with empty guns, aim at a safe backstop.

When cleaning a firearm, the same safe handling rules apply. Keep others away when you're cleaning a gun.

In transporting guns, break them down whenever possible. Keep guns in a case or securely wrapped. Carry all ammunition separately. Always transport guns unloaded.

In practicing, know the potential of your gun. Make sure you have an adequate backstop. Keep the firing line and shooting area restricted.

Always store guns out of reach of children, unloaded and uncocked. Store ammunition separate from firearms and also out of sight. Keep the gun safety on until ready to shoot.

Agree beforehand on the area each hunter will cover. Unload gun before crossing a fence and pass gun under first. Never climb into a stand, a tree or over obstacles with a loaded gun.

When duck hunting from a boat, two hunters should face in opposite directions.

Never lay a loaded gun in the boat.

Fall is a wonderful time of the year in Texas. An you can make it a productive one and a happy one by thinking safety--first, last and foremost.

Halloween Costume Safety Hints

To a child, a Halloween costume is a ball of fun but it shouldn't turn into a ball of fire.

Clothing specialist Roxanne Schnorr with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University reminded parents that while "trick or treating," children can be exposed to many direct sources of fire which could easily ignite a costume coverup. Lighted pumpkins, colorful candles and open fires for roasting wieners or toasting marshmallows are examples of this hazard.

"Since most costumes are made for temporary use, inexpensive and often highly flammable materials are used in their construction," she explained.

"Because of this, the parent should read all labels on the box and garment before selecting a costume with a child," the Texas A&M University specialist continued. The fabric's flame resistance should be described in the labels--the safest stating the material meets the Department of Commerce Standards for flammability safety.

In addition, Miss Schnorr pointed out that some flame retardants are only temporary--washing the costume will remove them. So, consider the warnings--especially if the garment is to be used again and will be washed between uses.

"Careful selection of costumes should provide a safe and happy 'trick or treat' Halloween," she concluded.

Postal Service In Texas Due Investigation

By Senator Lloyd Bentsen

At my request, the General Accounting Office will send investigators into Texas in October to examine operation of the U.S. Postal Service in the State.

Mail service, particularly in Texas, appears to have deteriorated greatly within the past two years and this inquiry will help determine the extent and the reasons.

The GAO is an independent, non-political agency in the legislative branch of the government. It is concerned with keeping tabs on how Federal Departments and Agencies carry out the intent of legislation enacted by the Congress.

Its postal investigation in Texas is a follow-up to a preliminary survey made by my office this summer after I had received numerous complaints about mail service.

In our preliminary test, my office mailed more than 200 first-class letters from Washington to points throughout Texas. Simultaneously, Special Delivery letters were mailed from Austin to the same recipients.

45.6% of the first class letters arrived with or before those sent Special Delivery. In other words, in almost half the cases the first-class letter- which traveled a much greater distance - was delivered at the same time as the letter sent Special Delivery, or before the letter sent Special Delivery.

Incidentally, the test also raised some questions about the advantages of using Zip Codes since the first-class letters had no Zip Codes and the Special Delivery letters did.

It was disturbing to study the results of this informal survey; to see that, almost half the time, the Postal Service provides no faster service for patrons who pay extra and

NEWS for OUTDOORSMEN

WARNING TO HUNTERS

Texas has a law on its books which makes it a felony to carry prohibited weapons such as firearms of any type or character, or a knife with a blade of more than five and a half inches in length into any place where alcoholic beverages are "sold or consumed." Penalty is five years in the penitentiary.

This law also provides that all licensed premises must display a sign warning all patrons of the existence of the statute.

Particular attention is being called to this law since liquor, as well as beer has now become legalized in many areas of the state.

So, if you want to stop for a cool one, or a six-pack, while enroute to that hunting site, leave that gun (unloaded) in the car. Don't even think of taking it inside a beer tavern or any place serving or selling liquor of any kind.

And treat the deer-skinning knife or other long blade with the same respect. The scabbard is legal, but what's in it is not.

who, following the admonition of the Postal Service, are careful to use Zip Codes.

SPECIAL DELIVERY

I was interested to note, by the way, that Postmaster General Elmer T. Klassen, the man who heads the U.S. Postal Service, recently admitted that Special Delivery service isn't up to par. At a news conference on August 28, the Postmaster General said this service is "really a disgrace."

But I am afraid that Special Delivery isn't the only phase of Postal Service operation that is a disgrace. Indications are that many other facets of mail collection and delivery in Texas have been seriously impaired.

And I am anxious to obtain more factual information on the effect that changes in mail processing and other actions to reduce postal costs have had on mail service in our State.

Investigators will be sent to two of the 36 major Postal Service areas in the State to inspect and analyze service. They will trace the flow of mail along these service routes by reviewing pertinent documents and by interviewing postal employees; many of whom have expressed concern to my office about deterioration of mail service.

The GAO inquiry is designed to accomplish two goals. First, it will provide information as to the extent of the decline in mail service during the past two years. And second, it will pinpoint the reasons for the decline.

THANKSGIVING THROUGH THE YEARS

Did you know that Thanksgiving didn't become a nationwide observance until 1864? It's a fact! And this is just one of the many surprising facts about our traditional American holiday.

The first Thanksgiving was held in December of 1621, when Governor William Bradford of the Plymouth Colony appointed a day of celebration and sent four men out to shoot wild turkeys and other fowl.

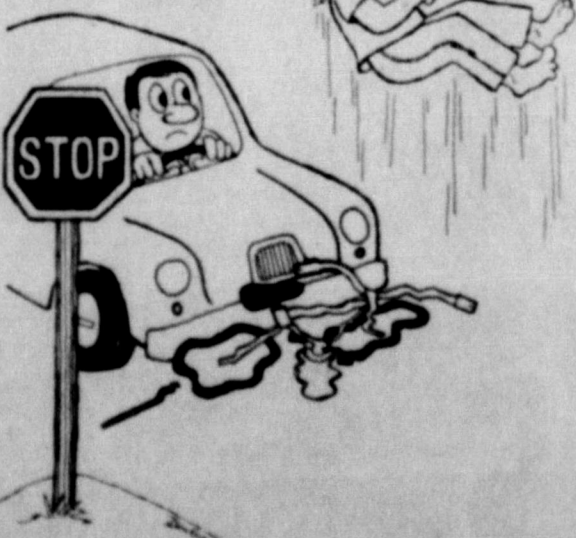

The Pilgrims had come ashore from the Mayflower on December 21, 1620. The winter that followed had been heart-breaking; half of the entire band had perished of disease, hunger and exposure. But Indians befriended the remaining group and gave them corn seed. Thus the seeds were sown for the first Thanksgiving harvest.

It was a warm and bright summer, and the crops grew and thrived. When autumn arrived, three log warehouses were filled with provisions—the harvest of 20 acres of corn, and six acres of wheat, rye, barley and peas.

It was a woman, Sarah Josepha Hale, however, who first suggested that Thanksgiving should be a national patriotic holiday. She was the editor of a popular woman's magazine and for almost 20 years she campaigned through editorials and letters to the President, state governors and others.

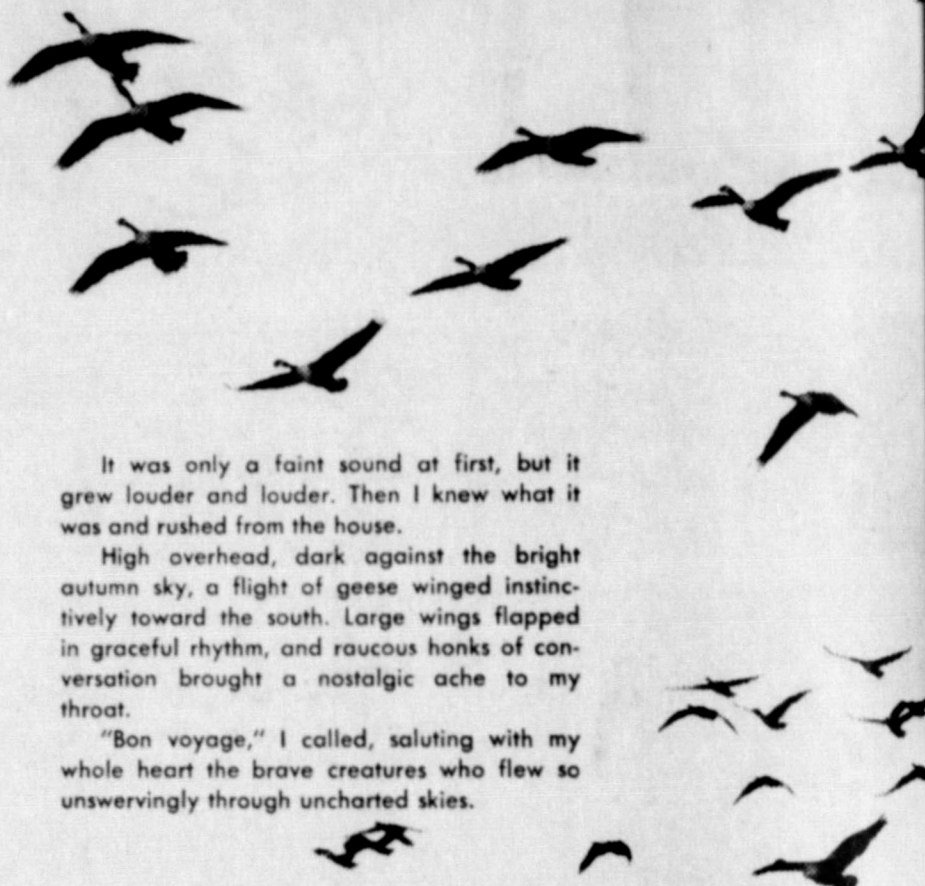

Finally, she was able to win the support of President Lincoln. In the third year of the Civil War, he believed that the Union had been saved; he therefore proclaimed a national holiday to be celebrated on the last Thursday in November as the day to be observed each year.

It Happens in TEXAS!

BICYCLE riders must observe all traffic signs and signals. The Texas Safety Association points out that the greatest percentage of bicycle fatalities occur because bike riders violate rules of the road.

FLIGHT SOUTH

It was only a faint sound at first, but it grew louder and louder. Then I knew what it was and rushed from the house.

High overhead, dark against the bright autumn sky, a flight of geese winged instinctively toward the south. Large wings flapped in graceful rhythm, and raucous honks of conversation brought a nostalgic ache to my throat.

"Bon voyage," I called, saluting with my whole heart the brave creatures who flew so unswervingly through uncharted skies.

And I wondered at us humans. How we doubt and fear and flail about, worrying about tomorrow and a dozen other somethings! Our course is not unknown. God promises abundant life if we but follow Him.

Your church is your guidebook to God. Worship there and find the security that comes from within, the result of understanding God and one's relationship to Him.
