

Floods Strike Chicago Area

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Torrential rains dealt devastating blows to Chicago and communities in northern Illinois and northern Indiana over the weekend.

Transportation, both rail and highway, communications, and power were disrupted by the early October rain storm. Rainfalls ranged up to an unofficial 10 inches in some Chicago areas.

Hundreds of families were driven from their homes in Chicago, the southwestern suburban area and in the Hammond-Gary area of Indiana. Thousands of homes were flooded as Chicago was pelted with the heaviest rainfall in nearly 70 years. Water covered highways in many parts of the storm belt.

Train service on four major railroads was halted by waters from the Chicago River which overflowed tracks at the big Union Station.

A tieup of many Chicago industrial plants was in prospect after a quarter of the main source of electric generating capacity was knocked out.

The flow of the Chicago River, which runs through the center of the city, was reversed for five hours last night to halt the flooding of buildings on the edge of the downtown district.

Damages from the storm were estimated unofficially as high as 10 million dollars. But some city officials said an accurate estimate could not be made immediately.

Gov. William G. Stratton ordered heads of the Illinois National Guard, state police and state highway system to survey the flood situation for possible emergency action.

37 Men Lost In Ship Disaster; Search Stopped

NORFOLK, Va. (U.P.)—Eleven seamen, survivors of the capsized freighter Mormackite, were safely in port today with harrowing tales of two days floating helplessly in stormy, shark-infested waters.

Lost in the disaster were 37 of their shipmates, including the captain, Patrick J. McMahon of Valley Stream, N. Y.

A Coast Guard board of inquiry sets out this morning to find a full explanation for the sinking last Thursday, apparently caused by shifting of the ship's iron ore cargo. The 6,000-ton vessel capsized so quickly there was no chance to send a distress message and crewmen were unable to get lifeboats into the water. The ship carried no life rafts.

The Mormackite sank under the brutal pounding of wind-whipped Atlantic seas 150 miles east-southeast of Cape Henry.

The 11 survivors were brought to Norfolk yesterday by three Navy destroyer escorts. With them came the bodies of 12 who died. The remaining 25 bodies were not found and presumably went down with the ship, or disappeared more terrifyingly among the sharks that survivors reported seeing by the hundreds.

Some of the sharks were "12, 14 and 16 feet long," reported Padilio del Valle of New York City. One of three who clung atop a makeshift raft, Del Valle said rescue came just in time to keep his group from taking their own lives. After his arrival in port yesterday, he told newsmen:

"On the last day we started to think how we could take our lives away from the easiest. When you're drinking salt water and taking it into your lungs, it is terrible. Yesterday (Saturday) morning the three of us decided to do it. Then we saw a Navy carrier and then there were planes. Another hour and we would have been dead."

Physicians at the U. S. Public Health Service hospital here said none of the 11 survivors was in serious condition.

The Coast Guard called off the search for other survivors yesterday.

The bus will leave Big Spring at 3 p.m. Friday for Vernon and the Vernon-Big Spring football game. Quarterback Club co-captain R. H. Weaver said today that reservations should be made promptly if a bus is to be chartered. Thus far, only about 10 persons have indicated they will make the trip.

Thirty-seven are required to fill a bus and cost will be approximately $6 per passenger for the round trip. Reservations may be secured by telephoning No. 4-4132 or 4-8122.

STABBING ACHE HAD A REASON

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (U.P.)—It wasn't work or worry that gave Robert McClellan those stabbing headaches—it was a 2½-inch knife blade imbedded in his skull for eight years.

Saturday a Marysville doctor took X-ray pictures that showed the blade pressed against the left optic nerve. In a delicate operation, where a slip could mean blindness, the doctor removed it.

McClellan, a Negro farm hand, figures the blade was plunged into his head during a fight in Arkansas, his native state.

Parents Blamed In Racial Flareups

LOS ANGELES (U.P.)—U. S. Commissioner of Education Samuel M. Brownell says parents, not children, are blocking racial integration in the public schools of the South.

"It is remarkable the way integration has been accepted by the youngsters," Brownell said in an interview last night on his arrival here. "I haven't found any major feelings of prejudice on their part—even in Washington."

He attributed recent flareups among pupils in Washington, D. C., to parental inspiration brought on by a long tradition of segregation.

Jurors Declare Alaniz Innocent

By WILBUR MARTIN
WACO (U.P.)—Nago Alaniz has been found innocent of being an accomplice to a South Texas killing called a "political murder."

A jury of salesmen, clerks, farmers and industrial workers returned its verdict yesterday at 10:27 a.m. It was the first time that a veteran court house employee could recall a verdict being returned in Waco on a Sunday.

Alaniz, a dapper 39-year-old attorney from Duval County, had been accused as part of what the state said was a plot to kill the chief rival of Duval County's political boss, George B. Parr.

By mistake, the state charged, the son of Jacob S. Floyd Sr., of Alice was killed.

The shooting took place in the garage of the Floyd home on Sept. 8, 1952. The case was tried here on a change of venue.

About 30 persons were in the old fashioned, tiny, 54-by-54-foot district court room when the verdict was read.

There was complete silence as Judge D. W. Bartlett read the finding.

Alaniz buried his face in his hands when the words "not guilty" were spoken by Bartlett.

His tiny, pretty wife, Elvira, clung to his arm.

"It's wonderful," Alaniz said of the verdict.

Floyd, father of the slain youth, Buddy Floyd, 21, was not in the courtroom at the final moment.

Alaniz still could be tried on two other counts of the three-count indictment returned against him. These allege murder and conspiracy to murder. Bill Alcorn, district attorney and central prosecutor here, had no comment when asked if and when Alaniz would be brought to trial on these counts.

Percy Foreman, Alaniz's attorney, said in Houston last night he had learned that his client was never in danger of being found guilty. "It was 11 to 1 for acquittal after the first 30 minutes," he said.

The state charged that Alaniz and Mario (El Turco) Sapet, San Antonio bar owner and former Duval County deputy sheriff, had plotted to have the elder Floyd killed. It said Alaniz was to lure Floyd Sr. to his garage with a telephone call but "lost his guts" at the last minute and called him to the secret meeting to warn him.

Sapet, the state said, was to provide the killer's getaway car. Sapet has been sentenced to 99 years on conspiracy charges in the slaying.

Hurricane Hazel Menaces Haiti, Changes Course

MIAMI, Fla. (U.P.)—Hurricane warnings were hoisted over Haiti and the Dominican Republic as far east as Ciudad Trujillo today as hurricane Hazel approached with 115-mile winds.

Storm warnings were raised over the eastern part of the Dominican Republic and the Mona Passage, the water gap between the Dominican Republic and Puerto Rico.

Besides the winds, Haiti was warned against torrential rains which posed a threat of floods, and abnormally high tides.

The massive hurricane was expected to buffet eastern Cuba with winds and rains but without the main force striking that island south of Florida.

W. L. Davis, storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau, said it appeared from present indications that the center of the storm would move through the windward passage, the body of water between Haiti and Cuba, or over the western portion of Haiti.

From there it would pass into the southeastern Bahamas.

At 11 a.m. EST the hurricane was 230 miles southwest of Port Au Prince, the capital of Haiti and 750 miles southeast of Miami, Fla., Davis said. Florida was not threatened at present, but "we do not feel safe until these storms at least reach our latitude or further north."

The storm was in a position which the Weather Bureau termed "critical" for a wide area.

"Hurricane winds should be felt in Haiti during the day unless the storm again comes to a halt or changes course," said Leonard Pardue, meteorologist in the Miami Weather Bureau.

"More important to Haiti is the probability that torrential rains in its mountains will cause serious floods. Most of Haiti's cities and towns are in valleys protected from the wind but wide open to floodwater rushing down out of the hills.

A slight change in course, and this is possible with the storm moving so slowly, would carry the wind-and-water threat to eastern Cuba, where the biggest city is Santiago de Cuba and, farther east, the U. S. Navy has a base at Guantanamo Bay.

The northeasterly course would place Florida and the western Bahamas in the clear if it is continued. A more northerly course would carry the threat to the central Bahamas, and a swing back to its old, northwesterly course would bring a storm alert to Florida.

"These areas aren't completely out of the woods until we get a better indication of the storm's future course," said Pardue. "The storm is entering a critical area."

Eastern Jamaica, too, may feel gale force winds but only a change of course would take full hurricane winds to that British Caribbean possession.

Hazel slowed to a three or four mile an hour advance last night, about 180 miles south-southeast of Kingston, Jamaica.

Forecasters warned that it remains a dangerous hurricane.

FTC Accuses Coffee Board

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The Federal Trade Commission today charged the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange has unlawfully restrained international trade in coffee and thereby "promoted substantial increases" in prices.

The complaint named the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, Inc., four of its officers and eight of its members, and also the New York Coffee and Sugar Clearing Assn., Inc.

The FTC said, in announcing the complaint, that it was a followup to the economic study of the coffee market made by FTC last spring.

In its report on this study, the FTC said last July that the sharp increases in coffee prices during 1953 and early 1954 "cannot be explained in terms of the competitive laws of supply and demand."

A complaint issued by the commission before the FTC is answerable before the commission itself. In the normal course, a hearing is held and the commission then makes a decision as to whether the charges have been substantiated.

If it decides the charges are true, the commission can order a defendant to cease the alleged illegal practices.

Administration Reports 1,743 Security Ousters

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The Eisenhower administration today raised to 1,743 its official count of federal workers fired or resigned with subversive data in their files. The figure was up 1,314 since last March.

The number was reported by the Civil Service Commission as of last June 30 and covered the period since President Eisenhower's new security program went into effect May 28, 1953.

The count has become a hot political issue.

Vice President Nixon has said repeatedly the administration has removed "Communists, fellow travelers and security risks" from the government payroll, "not by the hundreds but by the thousands."

Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell has challenged Nixon to name a single Communist or subversive in the government and potential danger arising from talks.

The table, however, did not include Defense Department figures, which came in a couple weeks later.

The Eisenhower security program substituted for one that had been in effect under the Truman administration. Unlike the previous Truman program, the new one made no distinction between disloyalty to the government and potential danger arising from talks.

The new tabulation listed the 1,743 "separations" as cases in which the employees' services were "terminated," or who resigned, with their files containing "information indicating, in varying degrees, subversive activities, derogative associations, or membership in subversive organizations."

Altogether, the new tabulation showed 2,611 cases of "termination" for information under 8 (A). That reference was to the section of the Eisenhower security program covering such matters as sex perversion, felonies and misdemeanors, and all other types of derogatory material, along with information relating to subversion.

Under the same "8 (A)" heading 4,315 were reported as having resigned before determination of their cases.

That total of 6,929 separations compared with 2,486 reported last March.

The first figures put out in tabular form last March 1 showed only 2,427 off the government payroll under the security program, 383 of them under the subversive section.

Condition Of Crump Continues To Worsen

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U.P.)—Edward Hull Crump, the 80-year-old man who has been the political "boss" in Memphis for nearly 50 years, remained in critical condition today.

He has been under treatment at his home for severe heart disease. He was listed as "critically ill" last Wednesday. Successive bulletins by his physicians have all said "weaker."

Water Usage Stays High In September

Water consumption during September of this year far exceeded same period last year, records at the City Hall show.

A total of 171,437,000 gallons was used last month. September use of last year was only slightly more than 123 million gallons. Hot temperatures and dry weather are believed to be the main causes for the excessive use.

Average during the past month was approximately six million gallons per day, which is higher than any previous September.

Installation of two large 20-inch pipe connections of the CRMWD supply line near the filtration plant could not be effected until last weekend because of the tremendous daily use.

City Manager H. W. Whitney Thursday and Friday afforded an opportunity to make the connections because water use fell off considerably those days.

Another connection must still be made from the CRMWD line to the filtration plant, it was pointed out.

The agency said the total in its breakdown of categories of derogatory information in the files exceeded the number listed as fired or resigned "because an employee might have in his file information falling under more than one category."

The largest number—284—of separations involving subversion was listed for the Army, followed by 260 from the Air Force, 231 from the Veterans Administration and 227 from the Navy.

Today's report 35: 8th grad 67

Today's report by the Civil Service Commission listed 618 cases in which there were allegations of sex perversion compared with 194 in March; 2,272 charges involving felonies and misdemeanors, compared with 605; and 3,657 lumped in a broad miscellaneous category, compared with 1,045 in that class last March.

CROWD THREATENS LENSEMEN

MILFORD, Del. (U.P.)—Bryant Bowles, under arrest on charges of conspiring to break Delaware's education law, said today his pro-segregation organization will refuse to turn over all of its financial records to the state attorney general.

"I'll turn these records over to any authorized court that requests them," Bowles said, "but I'll not turn them over to the attorney general."

Bowles referred to subpoenas issued last Friday by State Atty. Gen. H. Albert Young calling on the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People (NAAWP) to hand over the data on their finances and operations.

The NAAWP officials were scheduled to meet with Young in his office in the nearby state capital of Dover today.

Supreme Court antisegregation edict. He was arrested twice yesterday on charges of conspiring to violate the state education law by leading a boycott of Milford high school, where 11 Negroes were admitted to classes last month for the first time.

He is free under $5,000 bond for a Nov. 3 hearing at Dover. The charges, a misdemeanor, carry penalties of up to $500 each or a prison term if the fines are not paid.

Two news photographers covering an NAAWP mass meeting yesterday were cornered for 20 minutes by a crowd and relieved of some film.

Late Saturday, the state took another step in its growing battle against the NAAWP when Gov. J. Caleb Boggs ordered Bowles arrested on the conspiracy charges.

As a result of the boycott, the Milford School Board ordered the pupils transferred to an all-Negro high school in Dover 18 miles north of here, but the Negroes, in turn, boycotted these classes.

The two photographers at the airport were cornered by the noisy crowd, which hurled insults, demanded their film and called for "an explanation of your position."

The ringleaders told the photographers, Warren Winterbottom of The Associated Press and Walter E. Dombrow of the Columbia Broadcasting System, to climb onto a truck platform and speak over the public address system.

Both men refused but the CBS man eventually intoned the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

"They called out, 'Show our side once in a while.' You always show the worst side.' You're playing the Communist game and other things not so polite," said Dombrow. "They ripped my shirt a bit, taking off a few buttons."

Winterbottom described the crowd as boisterous but not outright disorderly. He said he and Dombrow were surrounded for about 20 minutes but added he was not given rough physical treatment.

The AP cameraman said he was forced to give up an empty photographic plate holder. He said he

Optometry Board Votes To Repeal Advertising Limit

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Optometry Board voted unanimously today to repeal that portion of a new rule which sought to limit advertising by optometrists.

The action, taken in special meeting, came in the face of three court suits brought in Austin, Beaumont and Dallas against the advertising restriction.

No reason for the repeal was given, but Charles Babb, attorney for the board, said a written statement giving the reasons would be released soon—perhaps today.

A scheduled hearing in Judge J. Harris Gardner's 53rd District Court was delayed this morning pending the board's action.

It appeared that the motion would become moot in view of the board's action today.

Bowles was arrested yesterday by a state police detail at the Harlingen Airport, eight miles west of here, while an alternate hearing and hearing crowd stood by.

They cheered when the plane bringing him from Washington, D.C., landed, and they jeered when he was served with the warrant and he was taken to Dover for the first of two arraignments.

He posted $3,000 bond there and then was brought to Milford for a second arraignment and posted another $3,000 bond. Both bonds were signed by local property owners who used their real estate as collateral.

When Bowles returned to the airport he noted that "Justice (Robert H.) Jackson, who voted against segregation, has departed."

"I did not see anyone remove their hats or bow their heads," Bowles said, "and I didn't ask 'em to. I don't know how much if any money it costs to cross the Great Divide but I'll bet if he (Jackson) asked the CIO for some they would have furnished him plenty."

Major Haynes Funeral Is Held

Maj. Jessie C. Haynes, 33, wing air inspector at Webb Air Force Base, succumbed at about 7:45 a. m. Sunday in the base hospital. He had suffered a heart attack Friday noon.

Funeral services, with full military honors, were held Monday morning in the base chapel. The funeral service attended by many friends and co-workers of Maj. Haynes, were conducted by Chaplain (1st Lt.) Francis E. Jeffery.

During the services a symbolic fly-by of three jet aircraft flanked over the chapel. The jets streaked overhead in a finger-tip formation, with the third position unfilled, to signify Maj. Haynes' absence.

Haynes, who resided at 1517 Sunset, came to Webb in January of 1952 from Williams AFB, Chandler, Ariz. Originally assigned here as an assistant flight commander, he was later appointed flying safety officer.

Last June he was promoted to the rank of major, and in August he was appointed the staff position of wing inspector.

Texas Mutual Policyholders Win Non-Assessable Battle

AUSTIN — Policyholders won their battle against assessment on "non-assessable" policies written by the bankrupt Texas Mutual Insurance Co.

The firm was organized at Beaumont in 1949 and placed in receivership last year. District Judge J. Harris Garner said its 38,000 policyholders should be assessed to pay its $1.3 billion claim, even though the policies "non-assessable."

The district judge said that the company was not entitled to write "non-assessable" policies because its assets were less than the minimum required.

The Austin Court of Civil Appeals overruled Judge Garner, and $30 Fine Assessed On Charges Of Theft

A man tried in City Court this morning on a charge of petty theft was assessed $30 by Acting Judge Grover Cunningham Jr.

The man admitted taking a dress valued under $5 from McCrory's Five and Ten Cent Store last Saturday. He was arrested by police Saturday night on a drunk charge and investigation revealed that he was the thief.

Her 18-month-old son, Ray, escaped with only a black eye but four other women involved in the crash were injured.

Rayford Martin is a former employee of the Big Spring Motor Company here.

Mrs. Martin is the daughter of Mrs. Ollie Aitaway, Big Spring; and a sister to Fred Beckham, also of Big Spring.

ON GOP CAMPAIGN

President Arranges Meet To Get Political Report

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH DENVER — President Eisenhower arranged another political conference today to receive a report on a phase of the Republican campaign to keep control of Congress.

Starting the final week of his Colorado work-and-play vacation, the President scheduled a meeting with Sen. Frank Barrett, Wyoming Republican.

From Barrett, Eisenhower was to get the latest word on the campaign progress of the party's candidate for the U. S. Senate from Wyoming, Rep. William Henry Harrison.

Former Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, defeated by Barrett in 1952, is Harrison's Democratic opponent in a close race.

Full details on Eisenhower's plans to step up his personal campaign for election of another GOP Congress in November may be disclosed at the Denver White House this week.

He plans a farm speech somewhere in the Midwest, possibly in Illinois or Indiana, and another major campaign address in the Washington area, but there has been no official announcement on the place or date of either talk. His final address of the campaign will be a "get out the vote" speech election eve, Nov. 1, probably from Washington.

Murray Snyder, White House press secretary, said the reaction of the public and GOP leaders to the President's nationwide television-radio address Friday night continues to be "generally very favorable."

In that speech, Eisenhower envisioned a "cold war of partisan politics" breaking out in Washington if the Democrats recapture control of Congress.

In reply, Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Rep. Sam Rayburn, Texas Democrats who lead the minority party in the Senate and House, telegraphed the President, "it takes two belligerents to make a war, and therefore there will be none unless it is initiated by the executive branch."

Indications are the President will return to Washington Friday.

U. S. Passengers Rescued In Ocean

LISBON, Portugal — Nine American passengers, eight of them women, and 39 crewmen were safe in Lisbon today after an explosion and fire sank the Norwegian freighter Emma Bakke off the northwest African coast.

Two Norwegian crewmen were killed and three injured in the engine-room explosion, which sent flames roaring through the 25-year-old, 4,721-ton vessel Saturday as she neared the end of a New York-to-Casablanca voyage.

The survivors, some of them called from the breakfast table, took to lifeboats and were picked up 90 minutes later by the Argentine liner Corrientes. By that time the Emma Bakke was ablaze from stern to stern.

Lanza To Really Sing On TV On New Try

HOLLYWOOD — Mario Lanza is going back on television—this time to sing.

Columbia Broadcasting System announced that the famous tenor will sing Oct. 28 on its "Shower of Stars" show. He was on it Sept. 30, but only mouthed the words as his two-year-old records "voiced" them.

He explained later that he had been on a reducing diet and had been advised by doctors not to strain himself by singing.

O'Dwyer Returns To U.S. To Appear Before Committee

EL CENTRO, Calif. — William O'Dwyer, former mayor of New York who served a term as U. S. Ambassador to Mexico, has returned to this country to testify before a congressional committee.

O'Dwyer has accepted an invitation to appear in Los Angeles before a House subcommittee investigating Communist infiltration in Latin America, scheduled to meet Thursday and Friday.

The former New Yorker arrived at Tijuana, near San Diego, by plane from Mexico City yesterday and then came by automobile to the ranch here of his brother, Frank O'Dwyer.

At the Tijuana airport, O'Dwyer said he is practicing law in Mexico City and plans to live there the rest of his life. He declined comment on political matters, saying: "I've hung up my shoes." Indicating he has given up politics.

He said he did not know if New York authorities planned to ask him to testify on any matters there. He added: "And I don't know if they asked me if I'd go. It depends on how much time I have."

Iran Military Court Sentences Fatemi To Die By Hanging

TEHRAN, Iran — A military court has sentenced former Foreign Minister Hossein Fatemi to death by hanging for trying to overthrow Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi last autumn.

Two other close advisers of ex-Premier Mohammed Mossadegh received life sentences for their part in the 1953 rebellion against the monarchy. They are former Parliament deputies Ali Shayejan and Ahmad Rezaei.

All three plan to appeal the sentences. Fatemi, a fiery 37-year-old nationalist and Mossadegh's chief adviser, was convicted after an 11-day hearing behind closed doors. Seriously ill, he heard his sentence from a stretcher.

Fatemi publicly denounced the Shah during the tumult last autumn when Mossadegh defied the Shah and fled the country temporarily.

Gen. Fazollah Zahedi, the present premier, overthrew Mossadegh on Aug. 19, 1953, but Fatemi escaped and was not captured until last March.

Mossadegh is serving a three-year term in solitary confinement for treason.

Impatient Riders Take Action In Case

PHILADELPHIA — Two teenage riders asked bus driver Frank Gallagher what time his bus would leave the terminal.

Gallagher replied there would be a five-minute wait. Then he went into the washroom. When he returned the young riders were gone and so was the bus.

Fifteen minutes later the bus was discovered three miles away. Its motor still running. It was sitting at a corner on its regular route.

A Bible Thought For Today—

We draw our bodies from the earth, but the soul can soar to the stars. "Out of the ground the Lord God formed every beast of the field." — Gen. 2:19.

Oil Furnishes Prime Example Of Our Free Enterprise At Work

Every time you say "Texas oil man" millions of people all over the civilized world think of Cadillacs, $50,000 mink coats, millions of dollars tossed into political campaigns, and a fabulous scale of living beyond the imagination of an Indian potentate.

That is a notion as false as it is mischievous.

We know quite a few oil men who don't drive Cadillacs, or throw hundreds of thousands of dollars into political campaigns, and a great many of them go broke, just like other people.

The next time some ignorant outlander sneers "depletion allowance" whenever oil is mentioned, let him have this statistic right between the eyes: In this area, one of the hottest wildcatting sectors in the petroleum world, 84 per cent of all the wildcat wells drilled in 1953 turned out to be dry holes. Many of the wells brought in were hardly worth the effort and expense. And all of them without exception, like all other producing wells in Texas, were shut in by law to a fraction of their potential.

Hazardous business, oil. One hole-in-the-ground out of nine actually becomes an oil well. Without the depletion allowance wildcatting would be impossible and without wildcatting our oil-dependent industry, almost every segment of our economy, not to mention national defense, would be hurt irreparably. U. S. leadership in petroleum production depends on keeping those dry holes going down, in hopes of hitting something worth fooling with.

The oil business is highly competitive, perhaps the best exemplification of our boasted free enterprise system at work than any line of business in the country.

Declining Farm Prices Add To Woes Of Beleaguered Republicans

Prices paid Texas farmers and ranchers for their products between mid-August and mid-September declined eight percentage points to 262 of the 1910-1914 base. All meat animals were down, with hogs off $2.50 per cwt., sheep 90 cents per cwt. Cotton lost 1.3 cents per pound and seed a buck a ton. Everything was down except small grain, hay and wholesale milk. The firmness of hay was small consolation to Texas ranchers and farmers, since they are on the buying end in these feed-scarce days.

These figures were released Friday by U. S. D. A., so they're authentic.

Now, the complexion of the Texas delegation to the U. S. Congress was settled in the July primary, so these figures won't signify anything in the November election here.

But project them into farm belt states where the margin between the two major parties is narrow and an election can go either way at the drop of a hat, and they're dynamite.

Falling prices received by the farmer with no offsetting decline in the prices paid by the farmer mean trouble in large hunks for whatever political party happens to be in power when that kind of situation develops. This is aggravated in the case of the administration because it sponsored and put through a flexible price support plan which, however logical it may be, nevertheless replaced a fixed price plan under which farmers enjoyed a favorable price situation. They were familiar with the old plan and they knew what it could do. Whatever else it might be, it worked.

The flexible price support plan is theoretical, or at least experimental, therefore distrusted. If farmers vote according to their pocketbooks, it is no more and no less than what a great majority of other classes do.

So, the farm situation and the slack employment situation in many critical areas add up to trouble for the GOP at the polls next month. The leaders are openly scared, and well they may be. Barring a reversal of the present political tides, the House probably will go Democratic by 40 to 60 votes and the Senate by four to six. Joe Martin's warning of the end of the world unless a Republican majority is returned to both Houses is an unblinking steal from the Democratic argument of two, four, six and eight years ago.

Business Outlook—J. A. Livingston

Public Offering Of Ford Stock Might Not Be Exactly Public

When, as, and if the Ford Foundation decides to unburden itself of part of its Ford Motor Co. stock, the scramble will be like the rush for the bride's bouquet at a neighborhood wedding. The rush will create a problem in financial diplomacy for the Foundation and for Ford.

If floated right now, investors, speculators, and people who never had a piece of Wall Street would want in. That's because Ford car is the top car in the nation. Production in the first nine months exceeded Chevrolet's by 53,000 cars. Ford stock looks like a "hot" investment.

No Hollywood writer could have dreamed up a better build-up. The stock had been family owned. Then 3,089,908 shares of the 3,290,255 shares of nonvoting stock were given to the Ford Foundation. (The Ford family held on to the 172,645 shares of voting stock.) And the Foundation now is considering selling off holdings in the interest of prudence.

This isn't a typical bail-out, in which insiders decide to unload on the general public. It isn't an effort on the part of the company to raise more money, thereby diluting earnings. It's an honest effort of a great foundation to diversify. More than 90 per cent of the Foundation's income comes from Ford dividends. That's too much.

A hot, popular issue, such as Ford common is likely to be, is often called "partners stock." It's parceled out by the principal underwriters to brokerage firms for resale to the general public. The firms, in turn, allocate the shares to the partners.

POTOMAC FEVER

By FLETCHER KNEBEL

WASHINGTON — A good Republican says he hopes that in 1955 the country will send the back to the White House — apparently that's the only way to get him out of Denver.

Republican investigators turn up more Democratic "windfall" housing scandals. Democrats are so confused that one leader was heard to predict the Democrats would win the election "by a landslide."

Britain announces she has perfected an electronic brain that works wonders. It will be dedicated in honor of the English housewife — it can do everything but cook.

Judging by their action in Nevada, Republicans have figured out how to win in Nevada. Don't hold any elections.

Funny thing about this election. The Democrats are campaigning hardest against those fellows who aren't even running for anything — name of Nixon, Dixon & Yates.

New building breaks all construction records, the government reports. Everybody is anxious to get under cover as soon as possible. There's a rumor the Democrats are on the way back.

Atom scientists at Los Alamos say they should get more credit for inventing the H-bomb than Dr. Edward Teller. Los Alamos slogan: "We're doers, not Tellers."

The partners then see that their wives, sons, daughters, nephews, aunts, and excellent customers are well taken care of.

As a new issue, the stock is deliberately under priced for a "good market." It's sure of a price run-up. The partners and their friends get a free ride. The public, to split an image, gets in on the second bounce.

A Ford issue will bring back memories of 1929 and "preferred lists." On the J. P. Morgan preferred list for partners' stock were Charles E. Mitchell, then president of the National City Bank; William Woodin, who later became President Franklin Roosevelt's first Secretary of the Treasury; William Gibbs McAdoo, later a U. S. Senator; Albert H. Wiggin, head of the Chase National Bank; General John J. Pershing; Bernard Baruch; Charles E. Lindbergh, and bigwigs in both political parties. To be on the Morgan preferred list was financial knighthood and profitable.

Those days went by-bye when the mid-20s sat on J. P. Morgan's lap. But the carryover — the itch of every man for a riskless profit — persists. And that's what the Ford Foundation and the Ford Motor Co. will be up against in floating their stock. It will be a public offering to a very small proportion of the public.

Before the Ford stock can be offered, some changes in capitalization will be necessary. The Ford Foundation carries the shares on its books at $125 each. The stock paid a $10 dividend in 1952 and $15 in 1953. If it were to sell to return about 4.3 per cent, the same as General Motors, the indicated market price would be $350. And to allow for a run-up, a sure sell-out, the likely price would have to be $300.

That's too high a price for a new offering these days. Therefore, the stock would have to first be split, say six for one at a minimum. Maybe as high as 10 for one. That would make possible an offering price of $50 at the lesser split or $30 at the higher split. That would let the small investor in — if not on the first bounce, then on the second.

The Ford Motor Co. must make another decision. It will be a big issue and, presumably, actively traded. The New York Stock Exchange would want to list it. But the Exchange has a rule. It doesn't list nonvoting stock.

Will the Ford officials agree to give all shares equal voting rights? They ought to — not only to get the benefit of listing on the Big Board but because it's the decent, democratic thing to do.

As long as the Fords do a good job running the company, they don't have to worry about losing control. If they don't do a good job, then they ought not to hold on to the emoluments of control through a corporate legalism.

Record Deposits

DES MOINES (AP)—Deposits in Iowa's 530 state-chartered banks set a mid-year record of 1 1/2 million dollars last June 30 and was within 21 million dollars of the all-time high, says Newton S. Black, state superintendent of banking.

History, Present Slim Congressional Majority Make Worries For GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—History and their own slim majority in both houses are enough to make the Republicans worry about the outcome of the Nov. 2 congressional elections. Worried they seem to be.

A squad of Republican leaders descended on President Eisenhower's vacation spot last week for a conference. Afterward it was learned Eisenhower will make more speeches than he seems to have intended.

Thirty-seven Senate seats and 432 House seats are at stake in November. Maine has already elected a Republican senator and three House members.

Going into these elections for a new Congress, the Republicans in the present Congress have a margin of only two Senate seats over the Democrats and a margin of only three in the House.

In a presidential election year, when a party's candidate wins the White House through his own wide popularity, a number of his party's candidates for Congress ride in on his coattails.

Eisenhower's sensational victory in 1952 has been credited with sweeping his Republicans into control of House and Senate although even at that they barely made it in both places.

But, since this is a mid-term election and Eisenhower's name won't be on the ballot, they'll have to depend on themselves, their party's record and such help as the party and Eisenhower can give them.

Knowing their edge in both Houses is paper-thin, they know also that traditionally in a mid-term election the party controlling Congress loses strength.

They can't afford to lose much this year without losing control of Congress.

Nine times in the 10 mid-term elections since 1914 the party with a majority in the House lost some seats. The exception was 1934 when the Democrats picked up strength. President Roosevelt, elected two years before, had just begun to get his New Deal rolling.

Three times in those 10 mid-term elections the party controlling the House lost control of it:

the Democrats lost it in 1918 (Democratic President Wilson was in the White House); the Republicans lost it in 1930, in the last half of Republican President Hoover's term; and the Democrats lost it again in 1946 when Democrat Harry Truman was President.

Eight times in those 10 mid-term elections the party controlling the Senate lost seats and twice lost control of the Senate altogether: in 1918 and 1946.

Eisenhower long ago, it seems, made up his mind that while he would make a few speeches this year to help his Republicans he would do it in a general way, nationally.

Vice President Nixon applauded this approach to the election problem but Joseph Martin, speaker of the House, has advocated that the President make some individual itches for individual candidates.

By limiting himself to a general plea to the voters to elect a Republican Congress, Eisenhower can avoid going into the districts or states to plug for individuals.

If he did it for one, he'd have to do it for many. And if he skipped a state, the Democrats there no doubt would say he deliberately skipped because he didn't think much of the candidate.

If he went into a state where the Republican candidate was subsequently defeated, the Democrats could interpret that as a repudiation of Eisenhower himself.

Eisenhower faces the chance of that same interpretation by the Democrats nationally if, after he repeatedly asks the voters to return a Republican Congress, the Democrats win.

Miles And Miles Of Tape Are Used Daily In Nation

NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody complains about the red tape in government.

But we're getting to the point where our entire civilization seems to be held together by one type of tape or another.

In slightly more than a quarter of a century tape making has undergone a tremendous revolution, become a 200-million-dollar-a-year business. Some 300 kinds of tape are now made for household, shop and industrial use — not including the legendary red tape of bureaucracy.

Some 150 kinds have been developed since the end of the second World War," said W. E. Zimmermann, an executive of the Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co., which last year turned out 2 1/2 million miles of tape. This is enough to reach five times to the moon and back, although, of course, this hasn't been done yet.

"But, whether he realizes it or not," said Zimmermann, "the average man now uses some kind of specialized tape from the cradle to the grave."

He isn't kidding. Before a mother enters a delivery room, the nurses use autocleaning tape to mark bundles of towels and dresses.

The hospital employs acetate film tape to cover and preserve the baby's footprints on his birth record. There is shoe tape in his first footprint.

An acetate fibre tape helps bind his school writing pads. Tape is used to seal the box of candy he buys his first girl.

The rest of his life he is surrounded by multiplying types of tape. They are in his home, his car, his television set, his golf clubs. The insurance agent even uses a mending tape to attach riders to his policies.

When he dies, he is buried in clothes made with the help of textile tapes. The florist uses cellophane tape to fashion his funeral sprays and bouquets. The bearer in which he makes his last journey has electrical tape around his wiring. And when the tombstone maker gets around to making his headstone he uses a rubberized stencil tape as he sandblasts the name and epitaph.

The tape industry began to come out of the doldrums in 1927 with the development of a masking tape used for painting automobiles. But it hit its real stride when modern cellophane tape appeared on the scene in 1929.

Here are a few examples of strange uses customers have found for ordinary cellophane tape:

A farmer employed it to hold down his cow's tail so she'd quit hitting him in the face with it while he was milking.

A bachelor patched a hole in his underwear with tape, but complained he had to renew it after laundering.

A lady also splinted her canary's broken leg with tape and a toothpick. And one man used it to catch "a mouse with a very high I. Q."

The mouse found a way to loot cheese from a baited trap without springing it. The man finally taped the piece of cheese tightly to the trap.

"I got my mouse," he wrote triumphantly.

If You Wish Hard Enough, The Dice Roll Out Right—Maybe

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

Science calls it a game of skill and speculation. I look on it as a game of luck and separation.

What ever it is, dice throwing is not for me. There are too many experts who apparently know what they're doing when they caress the little cubes near their ear and whisper sweet nothings to them.

Authorities who evidently are on speaking terms with the bones say experiments have proved that you can wish for "high dice" and, more often than not, hit what you want.

I must speak Greek to galloping dominoes that understand only English, however. My point is there somewhere but its baby blues are never gazing directly into my countenance.

Extensive experiments tabulated recently by a Dr. J. B. Rhine of Duke University indicated that, in some way he did not profess to understand, the human mind may have actually influenced the behavior of the dice.

In one test, a pair of dice was thrown for 901 runs (a run is considered 12 casts of a pair of dice, 24 casts of a single die or four casts of six dice). Each time, the thrower wished for "high dice," in which the spots showing on the pair would add up to eight or more. On a mathematical basis, "high dice" should show up five times in every 12.

In the experiment, they turned up an average of 5.5 times in each 12, or 446 more total times than they should on a basis of pure chance.

As a check against defects in the same dice, the throwers rolled the same cubes, wishing this time for low numbers. These began appearing in proportions beyond purely mathematical probability.

The odds on wishing for correct numbers go down when dice are thrown by mechanical means rather than by hand. So says Dr. Rhine. The reason, he explained, was that the physical throwing of the dice kept the thrower from concentrating fully, but the mechanical release left him free to concentrate on his wishing.

Dr. Rhine didn't say whether a person's chant, where monotonous phrases like "Eighiter from Decatur," "Big Dick From Boston" and "Little Joe From Kokomo," bounce off the walls, helped the dice the way the thrower wanted to plant them.

Most good players must think so. The sound effects that accompany any game may be a lament but they are a necessary part of the ritual. —TOMMY HART

Austin Recollections—Raymond Brooks

Political Playback

The legend that a bear in Mexico had a paw in the selection of a high Texas state official was given the color of verity by the official himself, 19 years later.

Dr. George W. Cox served many offices, some of them stormy, as state health officer, until he resigned in 1954 mid-way of a term. In a story about his decision to resign, I quoted the handed-down legend for what it was — that somebody said someone had told him it happened.

Dr. Cox was a US Public Health doctor on the Mexican border when Jimmie Allred was elected governor. A border friend arranged a bear hunt for the new governor down in Mexico. He took young Dr. Cox along.

In camp late one day, the group discovered Gov. Allred was absent, and those around the campfire were told by the horse wrangler that Allred had ridden off, following the dogs toward an old bear trail in the ocotillo thickets.

"He'll be back," someone said. But Dr. Cox, who knew the treachery of the uncharted hills, at once got on a horse and took out after Allred. By sundown, he caught up with the lone hunter, and they rode back to camp together.

During the hunting trip, Allred's border friend suggested, "If a good job should come up anywhere in the State Health Department, Cox would be a good doctor to fill it."

Nobody was more surprised than George W. Cox himself when he later got a telegram, "would you like to be state health officer?" signed by James V. Allred.

He did like it, and began what proved to be one of the longest spans of service of any state department head.

Next day after the tongue-in-cheek story appeared in print, the newspaper got a three-page letter from Dr. Cox. I thought, "Now I'm in for it," but the letter didn't mention the story directly. Rather, it was a sort of humorous parable, bantering and good natured. It didn't disavow that something of the sort happened, but rather, by leaving it unchallenged, tended to confirm that had been the background of his becoming a state official.

Washington Calling—Marquis Childs

Value Of Ike's Popularity Due To Get Fair Test In Colorado

By THOMAS L. STOKES

(For Marquis Childs who is on vacation.)

DENVER — It occurs to the outside observer after a canvass of the state of politics in Colorado, that we may find here an answer to the question dominant in Republican party strategy in the Congressional election campaign, to wit:

Can President Eisenhower bestow on Republicans running for Congress sufficient of his appeal to the people to elect enough of them to control the next Congress?

Conditions would seem ideal for the test here. The President selected the state for the site of his "summer White House." He has spent six weeks here among these people. In the course of his stay, he has permitted his picture to be made with the Republican candidates for Senate, House of Representatives and governor — what is known as "the treatment." His wife is a native of this state. Her mother still has her home in Denver.

Colorado likes the President, and her people are glad he comes here and likes it here. But, as for voting in November, it appears from what you hear that the President's presence and personality will have very little to do with that. This is a state that switches back and forth politically. This year looks to be what the politically wise around here call "a Democratic year" and that is due, partly, to numerous irritations such as often provokes an "agin'" spirit among many people in an off-year election. Voters will take out their beefs against the targets available — and those could be Republican House members or Senators or Republicans who want to go to Washington in place of Democrats.

You find some causes of irritation here that are found elsewhere — dissatisfaction among farmers over the Benson farm program, anxiety among members of rural electric cooperatives — of whom there are 40,000 with their families in Colorado — about the administration's power policy which they fear endangers REA cooperatives that farmers have created and operate themselves. Also, southeast Colorado is in the drought area that embodies parts of five states.

Consequently, though the campaign is just getting under way after the late mid-September primaries. It looks at this stage as if Colorado will send to Washington, in the persons of John A. Carroll, a Democratic Senator to replace Senator Ed Johnson, another Democrat, who is retiring and now is running again for Governor, a job he held for two terms, 1932-38, before he went to the Senate in Washington. He should win more easily than John Carroll, Democrats, who now hold two of the four House seats from Colorado, may pick up another — that of Rep. J. Edgar Chenoweth in the Third District. The latter is admittedly up against a hard battle with his Democratic challenger Alva Adams, son of the late Senator Alva Adams, and grand-nephew of the famous Governor "Billy" Adams, a picturesque political figure. The Adams name is as good still in politics here as it was for so long in Massachusetts.

Campbell Gives Old Structures The 'New Look'

Old homes can be turned into beautiful new looking structures by Charles Campbell, local contractor with offices at 400 Abrams. And he can do it in a minimum of time, most jobs taking much less than a week. Campbell changes the appearance of houses by installing brick and murel stone. These stone facings actually give the appearance of brick and murel stone, and their installation is much cheaper than the products they resemble. The stone facings can be applied to practically any type structure, with stucco being the easiest to cover. Campbell says that stucco houses can be covered at less cost than usual because one step is left out in installation. On frame houses, stucco has to be first applied anyway, and the placing of stone facings is the second step of installation. On stucco homes all that Campbell has to do is place the stones. A number of homes here that looked as if they had seen their best days were remodeled with the murel or brick stone and now look as if they were just built. Stone fronts can also be made beautiful with the installation of brick or murel stone. Campbell points out that most store operators prefer the brick stone. This stone cannot be distinguished from

For Speedy Meal, Residents Call On Toby's Fast Chick

Big Spring's favorite place for the finest of food for that "it-has-to-be-quick" dinner when unexpected guests show up, or for that most delicious food for leisurely eating when there's nobody home but the family, is Toby's Fast Chick at 1801 Gregg. You're just as near most delightful fried chicken, barbecued chicken, fried shrimp, fried potatoes, hot rolls and all the trimmings, as your telephone when you use it to dial 4-9302, and the same number serves both Toby's Fast Chick and Toby's Drive-In Grocery, both at the same address. For fried chicken, barbecued chicken, fried shrimp, all served with hot rolls and honey and fried potatoes, just telephone Toby's and give them the time you would like to have your order delivered. Getting a wonderful dinner ready is really no more trouble than just setting your table and telephoning Toby's. And when you call, ask what's on the menu. There may be something else you'd rather have, something else you'd maybe like to add to your order. Best of all when you have a chance, just drive over to Toby's (you'll nearly always find a good parking space without meters) and visit this "Fast Chick" and grocery establishment. You'll find it an interesting and convenient spot to do much of your shopping. There's a rack of the most popular magazines, there are shotgun shells on the shelves for the bird shooters, there's ice for the jug or the car refrigerator, there's candy for the kids, and all fresh fruits and vegetables and meats in season. You won't be bothered with downtown parking worries when you visit Toby's and you can do away with a lot of kitchen worries when you just order a delicious chicken dinner by dialing 4-9302, or by driving over to 1801 Gregg and picking it up yourself. You won't be disappointed in food from Toby's.

Men Rescued From Tunnel Entrapment

BOSTON (AP)—Fire in a water main tunnel under construction trapped nine workmen 400 feet underground for 2½ hours last night but all were brought up unharmed. The fire did not affect the tunnel ventilation system. "Naturally we were scared," said Donald E. Sneed, 40, of suburban Everett, foreman of the crew, "but there was no panic at any time." The fire evidently was started by a short circuit in a battery-powered car used to haul rock. regular brick, even on close inspections. People interested in the stone sidings can contact Campbell for free estimates at phone number 4-2407, or 400 Abrams. The veteran contractor, who has been in business here 17 years, stands behind all his work. He also contracts stucco jobs and installs finished concrete.

Estill Gibson, about 45, was shot twice through the head with a .22-caliber revolver as he knelt on the floor of his barn inspecting tobacco. Leslie County Sheriff Carl Farmer said his son Tester, taken into custody shortly afterwards, admitted the slaying because "my father wouldn't let me drive a jeep." The boy didn't elaborate, said the sheriff. He was jailed here on a murder charge. The fastest snake in the United States—the western whip snake—crawls at scarcely more than three miles an hour.

Gilliland Expands Sew Machine Firm

Albert F. Gilliland has announced the further expansion of his business with the addition of the Good Housekeeper line of sewing machines to the other famous brands he distributes in this area. Gilliland is operator of the Gilliland Sewing Machine Exchange, 120 E. 2nd, a concern that has grown steadily since its establishment here. The firm's sewing machine repair and service department also is being expanded. The Good Housekeeper sewing machine is "economy priced" with some models available for as little as $98. Gilliland says large numbers of these machines are being sold. He purchases the Good Housekeeper in lots of 25. Gilliland Sewing Machine Exchange is best known in Big Spring for the ingenious and popular Nechi and Elna sewing machines which the firm distributes. The fully-automatic machines perform a multitude of tasks and take all of the drudgery out of sewing. The Nechi, for instance, performs 56 different types of stitch, each automatically and without the bother of worrisome attachments. The multitude of uses to which it is adapted does not mean, however, that it is a complicated device to operate. Operation of this machine is simple and can be learned in a short time. Gilliland announced today, also, that he is preparing to sell out a large stock of used sewing machines, of the treadle as well as electric type. All makes are included and bargain prices are being established. Persons interested in the purchase of the used machines may make arrangements for inspecting the entire stock by calling at the Gilliland store, 120 E. 2nd. Gilliland affords a complete service for sewing machines from his completely equipped repair shop. Parts are stocked for all makes and models. Another well-known feature of the Gilliland business is the alteration shop which is operated in conjunction with the sewing machine sales and service. Sewing of all kinds is performed.

Boy Kills Father In Auto Dispute

HYDEN, Ky. (AP)—A 14-year-old boy, refused permission to drive a jeep, shot and killed his father yesterday on a remote mountain farm. He was jailed here on a murder charge.

Estill Gibson, about 45, was shot twice through the head with a .22-caliber revolver as he knelt on the floor of his barn inspecting tobacco. Leslie County Sheriff Carl Farmer said his son Tester, taken into custody shortly afterwards, admitted the slaying because "my father wouldn't let me drive a jeep." Supreme Court Sets Rites For Justice Jackson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Brief memorial services were planned by the Supreme Court today in tribute to Justice Robert H. Jackson, who died of a heart attack Saturday. He was 62.

Jackson had been a part of the official life of the capital for 21 years and a Supreme Court justice for 13. He had suffered a light heart attack last March.

Brought to Washington by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, he was the solicitor general who argued before the Supreme Court the validity of much of the sweeping legislation of the early New Deal days. The body will lie in state at a funeral home until noon tomorrow. Services will be held in Washington (Episcopal) Cathedral at 3 p.m. tomorrow, conducted by the Rev. Alfred St. John Matthews of St. John's Episcopal Church of McLean and the venerable Albert H. Lucas, Episcopal archdeacon of Maryland.

The body will be taken to Jamestown, N.Y., Jackson's home, with burial on Wednesday at Frewsburg. N.Y. Jackson's colleagues on the Supreme Court will serve as honorary pallbearers at the Washington services.

The was no solid speculation as to the man President Eisenhower would name to succeed Jackson in what will be his second appointment to the high court. Eisenhower named Warren a year ago to succeed the late Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson.

Names first mentioned included those of retiring Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, but associates of the President discounted the likelihood of either man being named.

Indications were that no one would be chosen until after the President returned to Washington next weekend from Denver.

Famed Orchestra Silent In Dispute

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Musicians and officials of the famed Philadelphia Orchestra failed to agree early today on a wage settlement and four more concerts were canceled, including one in New York. AFL musicians, who now receive $140 a week, had asked for a $10 weekly increase. It was denied by the orchestra's executive board. The orchestra's opening two concerts were canceled.

Last night, in a compromise, the union reduced its demand to a $5 increase on a two-year contract. Orchestra officials, also compromising, offered:

1. A two-year contract with a $5 increase next year and none now, or.
 2. A three-year contract with $2.50 increases each year.
- The union rejected both offers and the orchestra, conducted by Eugene Ormandy, was destined to remain silent still longer.

Kansas Moves Rapidly Toward Complete Integration In Schools

By RENE J. CAPPON
TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Stepping softly but taking long strides, Kansas school officials are moving rapidly toward complete integration of white and Negro schools.

The atmosphere has been one of great calm. The South has been deeply stirred by the Supreme Court decision last May that segregation in public schools is unconstitutional. Integration steps in the nation's capital, in Baltimore and other communities have produced parent protests, student strikes, even minor riots.

Here in Topeka, a step-by-step integration program has caused scarcely a ripple of debate—much less a vociferous opposition.

Castillo Has Heavy Lead In Guatemala

By CARLOS ESCUDERO
GUATEMALA (AP)—President Carlos Castillo Armas and his anti-Communist supporters piled up astronomical leads in Guatemala's capital today as returns trickled in from balloting on the revolutionary chief's retention of office and election of a constituent assembly.

As yet, there were no results reported from outside Guatemala City. The capital had 100 polling places, the rest of the country about 3,000.

In returns from 115 of the capital's polling centers, Castillo Armas polled a whopping 31,410 "a's" in the oral plebiscite on whether he should hold the presidency from which he ousted leftist Jacobo Arbenz Guzman.

Only 174 persons spoke out against Castillo, and 15 others abstained or their votes were declared void.

The Nationalist Anti-Communist Front (FAN), a group of political parties backing the President, also pulled ahead of the Catholic-backed Civil Electoral Committee (CCE) in the returns for deputies who will write a new constitution. In all, 66 deputies will be elected.

The 115-precinct vote in Guatemala City was 19,216 for the FAN, 11,768 for the CCE, 163 for the Free Unions Federation and 339 for other scattered candidates.

The government outlawed the Communists and their left-wing supporters and voided the constitution soon after Arbenz and his Red-backed regime were overthrown. The ex-President is now in exile in Mexico.

Theft Of Jewels Once In Mexican Court Reported

NEW YORK (AP)—Theft of jewels, valued by the owner as high as half a million dollars and once worn in the court of the ill-fated Emperor Maximilian of Mexico, has been reported to police.

Armando Araujo, an advertising executive, told police yesterday most of the missing jewelry had come to him from his great grandmother who he said had been a lady-in-waiting to Maximilian's empress, Carlotta.

Araujo first gave the intrinsic value of the gems as $75,000. Later he upped this to $200,000 and said historical values might increase the sale price to $500,000.

The theft, he told police, was discovered early yesterday when he and his wife, Juanita, returned from a theater party.

More than 3,000 soldiers died from exposure, illness and privation during Gen. Washington's Revolutionary War encampment at Valley Forge.

Commies Parade In City Of Hanoi

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Elements of the Communist-led Vietminh 305th and 322nd divisions, loaded down with the booty they won at Dien Bien Phu, paraded through the crowded business section of Hanoi yesterday.

Making their first gala appearance in the city they took over from the French Saturday night, the Communist-nationalist army was given a spirited welcome from the holidaying population. The troops entered into the festive mood. Many of them carried bouquets of flowers, sang, strummed on guitars and played accordions as they made their way down the Boulevard Francis Garnier, in the center of the city.

Prominent among the array of material they trundled through the streets were American 105mm cannon, bazookas and light arms captured from the French last May at Dien Bien Phu, as well as Russian anti-aircraft guns, jeeps, command cars and trucks.

Among spectators were U.S. Consul Joseph Corcoran, members of the three-nation international armistice commission and a score of foreign newsmen.

Foreign correspondents remaining in the city include the only six nonofficial Americans still here, four Britons, eight Frenchmen and two New Zealanders. Two women are among them.

Twenty other foreign newsmen, fearing they would not be able to get out later, left Hanoi Saturday night for Haiphong. Corcoran told the Americans remaining that the State Department had instructed him not to give them shelter or provide them with communication facilities even as a last resort.

Sooners Should Win National Grid Title

By ED CORRIGAN
By The Associated Press

Unless an unexpected disaster overcomes Oklahoma, the Sooners should win the mythical national college football championship this year.

With only three weeks of the season gone, time probably has run out on Notre Dame. The one defeat the Irish suffered at the hands of Purdue probably will deprive young Terry Brennan of a title in his first year as a head coach.

AT STEER PARK

Leilani, Taft Clash Tonight

Two big, handsome men of different nationalities clash in tonight's main wrestling event in the edification of Big Spring and area fans. Scene of action is Steer Park, the starting time 8:15 p.m.

Vern Taft, a guy who must have a great sense of humor, having been submitted to perilous conditions while serving with the U. S. Marines in hand-to-hand combat, meets Alo Leilani, a native of Pago Pago, Samoa, in the main event.

Leilani might have been fighting side by side with Taft had not a vision deficiency knocked him out of regular military service. As it turned out, he served with the Hawaiian Territorial Guard, organized as a home force for protection of installations on the islands.

Taft, a pleasant fellow with a wide grin and a bayonet scar above his left eye, recalls some unpleasant experiences, but he is not regretful. He carried on, physically, to play football and basketball at University of Utah, and was also a track and gymnast star. He was Rocky Mountain intercollegiate heavyweight wrestling champion for three years. He majored in physical education and psychology.

Leilani also is American-trained, so far as college goes. He played football while studying first at Weber Junior College in Utah, got his degree at Colorado A&M.

John Hernandez, formerly known in these parts as Polo Cordova, of Mexico City and Los Angeles, comes back to the South-

Oklahoma is already over the big stumbling block of its schedule, and, although Bud Wilkinson's lads still have seven games to go, none of the remaining teams figures to be in the class of Texas, which fell before the Sooners, 14-7, last Saturday.

Oklahoma still has Kansas, Kansas State, Colorado, Iowa State, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma A&M on its schedule. Some of these certainly are not pushovers, and that greater qualifier, the one-platoon system, could work against any club.

But if the Sooners can lick an outfit like Texas without the aid of Gene Calame, they ought to be able to take anyone else with him. He probably will be back against Kansas.

Jim Harris took over for Calame and the sophomore substitute made his gloomy coaches eyes light up. Harris' passing was a revelation and he'll be heard from in the future.

The rest of the Notre Dame schedule is loaded with booby traps and the only hope the Irish have of coming out on top as the expected in the preseason Associated Press poll is to sail through their opposition and for the Sooners to be upended at least once.

Notre Dame was impressive in its 33-0 victory over Pitt. The victory showed that Brennan and his crew were capable of rebounding after a humiliation. That's a good sign, but the Irish still have to tackle Michigan State and Navy in the next two weeks.

At the moment, UCLA and Wisconsin are Oklahoma's chief rivals for national honors. But even their position is precarious. The Uclans barely got past Washington, 21-20, and Wisconsin had considerable trouble beating Rice, 13-7.

Both UCLA and Wisconsin stay in their own leagues for the rest of the campaign. The Uclans have five more Pacific Coast Conference games left, starting with Stanford, while the Badgers still have to get by half a dozen Big Ten foes.

HIGGINS HIRED AS SOX BOSS

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox today hired Frank "Pinky" Higgins to manage the American League ball club the next two years. He will replace Lou Boudreau who ran the team the last three seasons.

Higgins, former star major league third baseman, has been managing in the Red Sox system the past eight years. He piloted the Louisville Colonels in the Triple A American Assn. to the little World Series title this season, defeating Syracuse of the International League in the best of seven interleague series which ended Saturday.

Boudreau had one year to go on his Boston contract. Gen. Mgr. Joe Cronin told a gathering of baseball writers: "Gentlemen, the Red Sox have decided to make a change in managers."

He said the Red Sox will "meet the obligation" insofar as the second year of Boudreau's current contract is concerned. He added that if Boudreau should get another job in baseball any necessary adjustment will be made.

Higgins, a Texan, began his major league career immediately after his 1930 graduation from the

Trinity Tackles Rugged Western

By The Associated Press

Trinity's Tigers, last unbeaten team in the Gulf Coast Conference, run into another tough one this week.

Victors 6-0 over East Texas State last weekend, the Tigers will journey to El Paso Saturday night to tackle high-scoring Texas Western of the Border Conference.

The other two members of the league—North Texas State and Midwestern—also play outside foes. North Texas, which beat Hardin-Simmons 20-7 last week, goes to Chattanooga to tackle Chattanooga and Midwestern, loser to McMurtry, 14-7, plays Arizona State at Tempe at Wichita Falls.

Reeves Will Learn His Fate Today

FORT WORTH (AP)—Whether John Reeves, under fire from several of the clubs, is to continue as president of the Texas League may be determined at the fall meeting of the league here today.

Eddie Dyer of Houston, former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, removed himself for consideration for the place over the weekend and this was taken as a sign that opponents of Reeves may not have sufficient votes to oust the incumbent.

Dyer reportedly was backed by six of the eight directors. But with him out of the picture there may not be another man with comparable support. Six votes are required to change the president.

Winger Claims $700 At Temple

TEMPLE (AP)—Oklahoma City pro golfer (Bo) Winger shot a record straight 5-under-par 65 yesterday for a 54-hole total of 197 and the championship of the first Temple Open Golf Tournament. He took $700 first money.

Coming in second with 202 was Doug Higgins of Midland. George Weaver of Houston and Fred Hawkins of El Paso tied at 205, splitting third and fourth place money. Buster Reed of Fort Hood and Chuck Klein of San Antonio had 206.

Bracketed at 207 were Billy Maxwell of Fort Hood, former National Amateur champion, Sam Reynolds of Wichita Falls and Earl Stewart of Dallas.

Winger's 197 was 13-strokes off par. He fired a 67 in the first round and 65 Saturday.

Ernie Vossler of Fort Worth led amateurs with 209. Behind him, in order, were Jim Hickey of the University of Houston with 212, Frank Wharton of Dallas with 214 and Johnny Thornton of Waco and Howie Johnson, Houston, tied for fourth at 218.

Association May Divorce PGA

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The Winter Golf Sponsors Assn. meets here this afternoon to decide if it will pull away from the PGA in staging tournaments next year.

Charging that the PGA made an agreement with the association last February to sign 3-year contracts for 10 tournaments with no raise in prize money but never having signed the contracts, M. P. (Monk) Wilson, president of the winter sponsors association, is proposing that unless the PGA goes through with it the tournaments will be turned into invitational affairs.

The sponsors agreed to give the PGA $2,000 from each tournament for operation of its tournament bureau exchange for the contracts. But the PGA in May appointed Bob Leacock of Kansas City to schedule the tournaments and he has not approved the sponsors' schedule.

Unsung Athletes Helped Navy In Grid Successes

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Where did this football talent seem to come from suddenly on the undefeated Navy squad?

The Middies, three-time winners, vaulted into the national limelight Saturday with a smashing 25-0 victory that dumped Stanford from the undefeated ranks.

They came home from that one to a terrific welcome last night. Tecumseh Court in front of the midshipmen dormitory was dark when the buses pulled in, but within seconds it was brilliantly lighted and filled with 3,600 shouting midshipmen.

Some of the names they hailed were strange to last year's varsity roster.

Some were buried among the jayvees or so far back among the varsity subs that only their parents knew they were there.

Dick Echard caught public attention fast as one of these Johnny-come-latelies.

Hardly anyone heard of him until the Dartmouth game, when an injury to first-string quarterback George Welsh gave him his chance. Echard threw two touchdown passes to pull Navy ahead

Yale Pass Goes Incomplete

Vernon Lions Next For Big Springers

After last weekend's action, only two District I-AAA football teams remain undefeated and untied. — Big Spring and Breckenridge.

The Big Springers opened defense of their co-championship successfully, turning back Lamesa in a spirited struggle, 14-6. Breckenridge was idle.

Levelland and Vernon also turned in conference wins. Levelland nudging Snyder, 13-6; Vernon was surprising Plainview, 19-13, with a touchdown in the last few minutes of play.

Big Spring and Vernon clash in Vernon Friday night in perhaps the top struggle of the week. The Lions have emerged as one of the real powers in I-AAA football after a slow start.

Breckenridge and Sweetwater both make their conference starts. Breck will be at home to the hard-luck Plainview team, which has yet to win a game. Sweetwater goes to Snyder in the other conference clash, Lamesa tries to bounce back against Levelland in a game at Lamesa.

Levelland remains the highest scoring team in the league with a total of 138 points distributed over four games.

Snyder has yielded fewer points than any other team, 25.

Dykes And Olla Collide Tonight

By The Associated Press

Floyd Patterson, the Brooklyn 19-year-old who showed real punching power in his last start, is a 1-3 choice to score his third straight victory tonight at the expense of San Francisco's St. Nicholas Arena.

Ferdinand, making his New York debut, has a 39-10 record with 10 knockouts.

Bobby Dykes of Miami and Ted Olla of Milwaukee, a couple of stiff-punching middleweights, collide in a 10-rounder tonight at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena. Dykes is a 5-8 favorite to record his 101st victory. Starting time is 10 p.m., EST, for the ABC telecast.

The top fight of the light week is scheduled for Syracuse's War Memorial Auditorium Friday night when Carmen Basilio, the top-ranking welterweight contender, meets Alie Gronik of Detroit in a 10-rounder.

Detroiters Won't Be Easy To Budge This Season

By ED WILKS
By The Associated Press

If anybody plans to knock off the Detroit Lions for the National Football League championship this season, they've got their work cut out for them. The Lions aren't going to be easy to budge.

A case in point is what happened to the Los Angeles Rams yesterday at Detroit. In past years the Lions just rolled over and played dead for the Rams, winning only 4 of 17 meetings since 1946.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

It doesn't seem right to penalize a football punter because he happens to boot a ball into the end zones. Twenty yards is taken from his aggregate if his kick bounds across the double stripes.

Frosty Robison, Big Spring's punter, wound up with a sparkling 39.1-yard average in four tries against Lamesa here the other night. In reality, he never had a kick of less than 43 paces and his average would have been about 44.5 had one of them not come to rest in the end zones.

They may pay off for accuracy as well as distance on punting but, at least, when a player kicks one into the end zones there is no danger of the opposition grabbing it and running it back for a touchdown.

I know of one instance here years ago when it would have been impossible for officials to take 20 yards from a punter just because the ball happened to wind up in the end zone.

The incident occurred in a grade school game. The young man, so thoroughly had he been tutored on fourth down kicking, elected to boot away on fourth down at a time his team had the ball on the opposition's nine yard line.

The Big Spring Steers may not have been able to stash their opponents away with the effectiveness they showed a year ago. On the other hand, in all their games, they've been just as good as they had to be in each outing.

Prior to last weekend's game with Lamesa Coach Carl Coleman remarked "we'll have to play better ball than we have, to win."

The Longhorns went out and did just that. They had to be "up," in order to beat out an inspired and resolute Lamesa team.

And how have the Steers been winning their games? Through sheer power, mostly. Fact is, their rushing aggregate through four games exceeds that of the great 1952 club.

Against Andrews, Stephenville, Ysleta and Lamesa this year, the Steers have moved the ball 1,052 yards net on rushing tries. Last year, against San Angelo, Pampa, Brownwood and Plainview, the Longhorns picked up 858 yards on the ground.

The Steers' air arm hasn't been anything to brag about yet. Still, they haven't had to make use of the pass. Their rushing power has proved more than adequate.

Friday night's win marked the first time since 1944 that the Steers have been able to measure the Tomatoes two years in succession. (The margin last year was 39-0.)

In 1943, the Longhorns spanked Lamesa, 41-20; then returned the following year to sneak past the Tomatoes, 7-6.

The announcement out of Abilene to the effect that the professional baseball club there lost $32,000 in 1954 is not an exception to the rule in the WT-NM League.

It seems to be very fashionable in that organization to finish in the red.

Still, the league is talking of moving up a notch to Class B. Well, they keep raising the national debt limit.

Kettler Leads SWC In Gains

DALLAS (AP)—Southwest Conference football statistics this week appear to have answered the questions asked before the season started: Will Texas A&M have a top quarterback and will Southern Methodist have a capable passer?

Elwood Kettler has done the answering at A&M where he has moved into the conference lead in total offense with 380 yards in 88 plays. Duane Nutt of SMU has gained more passing in two games than all others expect Bobby Jones of Baylor in four. And he's only 28 yards back of Jones.

Kettler wasn't even in the top 10 ball-carriers week before last. But he roamed for 113 yards against University of Houston Saturday night to move into third place with a total of 207. And it was enough to push him from second place to first in total offense.

Jones still leads passers with 236 yards on 11 completions in 30 throws. Nutt has gained 210 on 15 out of 24, and he has the top passing average of the conference — 625.

Rice's Dicky Moegle managed 64 yards rushing against Wisconsin and increased his lead in ball-carrying since Buddy Dike of Texas Christian, the second place man, got only 55 against Southern California. Moegle leads with 281 yards on 26 runs. Dike is second with 260.

George Walker of Arkansas tops punters with an average of 44.3 yards on 11 kicks while Ray Taylor of TCU is second with 42.6. L. G. Dupre of Baylor didn't play last week but retained the punt return leadership with his average of 19.7 yards. Delbert Shofner of Baylor still is the leading pass-receiver with three catches for 128 yards. Henry Gremminger of Baylor is second with 105 on five.

SMU tops the league in team offense with an average of 327.5 in defense, allowing only 218.2 yards per contest.

Yesterday the best the Rams, admittedly still shaken by the bruising tie with San Francisco's 49ers the previous weekend, could do was a field goal as Detroit rolled to a 21-3 triumph.

Not once did Norm Van Brocklin, the Rams' ace passer, get off one of his famed touchdown heaves. And when he tried to direct the Rams on a ground attack Detroit's defense bunched up to give up just 61 yards.

The victory — constructed on a 1-yard plunge by Tom Dublinski, a pass interception and Lew Carpenter's 60-yard scoring run gave the Lions a 2-0 record in the Western Division and set them 'up for a Saturday night home encounter with twice-beaten Baltimore of the Eastern Division.

The only other unbeaten team in the Western Division had a tough time staying that way yesterday. The 49ers found themselves seven points down in the final period at Green Bay, but with the help of Y. A. Little, who came off the bench with his broken hand, caught fire for a 23-17 victory.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Bears defeated Baltimore 28-9, Cleveland beat the Chicago Cardinals 31-7 and New York ran wild against Washington 51-21. Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh 24-22 Saturday night.

Little, injured in the Rams' game, rushed in against the Packers and 11 plays later the 49ers were only one point back. Again at work, Little tossed a 53-yard pass that carried to the 16 and five plays later he himself pushed over from the 2 for the deciding TD.

Aggies Host TCU Purple

By The Associated Press
Arkansas, which was supposed to finish last, and Texas, picked to take it all, clash at Austin Saturday in the banner game of the Southwest Conference's first full week of championship play.

Only things are somewhat different. Arkansas is the only undefeated team left in the league and has won two conference games to insure itself against closing out in the cellar no matter what happens from now on.

Texas, loser of two of four inter-sectional games, will be making its conference start with the faith of its followers a trifle shaken.

Elsewhere all the teams except Baylor turn from inter-sectional wars for the urgent business of deciding who's best in the fight for the title.

Once-beaten Texas Christian will be at College Station Saturday afternoon to meet Texas A&M, which will be playing its first conference game. Rice and Southern Methodist battle in their conference opener at Houston Saturday night.

Baylor, loser to Arkansas 21-20 last week in its championship start plays Washington of the Pacific Coast at Waco.

The league's inter-sectional record for the season rests at 10 victories against seven losses.

TCU beat Southern California 20-7 and SMU trumped Missouri 25-6 to give the league an even break in last week's inter-sectional schedule. Texas and Rice lost their games. Texas fell before Oklahoma 14-7, Rice 13-7 to Wisconsin.

Texas A&M lost to University of Houston 10-7 on Verle Cray's field goal in the last five minutes to play.

Nabbed In The Act
Police hold manacles on Joseph Ridder in front of the vault of a Queens, New York, bank after he was trapped inside the building by an alert guard's signal. Ridder, identified as a 22-year-old Brooklyn longshoreman, was one of three bandits who attempted a daylight holdup of the Ridgewood Savings Bank.

Liberal Vs. Conservative Fight Apparent In Illinois Senate Race

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
CHICAGO, Oct. 11 (U.P.) - The joys of peace and the thickness of the pocketbook have turned into vital political issues in cross-section Illinois.

And here in a state that blends together a typical mixture of America's industrial and agricultural economies, Democrats and Republicans are fighting out a vital Senate race along the historic line of liberal-conservative cleavage.

Perhaps as nowhere else in the nation, the fundamental dispute between liberals and conservatives stands out in the battle between Democrat Paul H. Douglas, trying for a second Senate term, and Republican Joseph T. Meek, making his first bid for public office.

For Douglas regards government as the economic guardian of the people - as their rightful, paternalistic champion. And Meek, for 20 years the voice of Illinois retail merchants, is the free enterprise, unfettered, uncontrolled economy type of Republican.

Douglas cries out that Meek serves "the special interests." And Meek thunders back that Douglas is "a Socialist" and "medicine man economist."

Then there are those other issues of peace and the pocketbook. Whether he goes throughout the state, Meek bears down on the favorite GOP theme of peace and prosperity. People are doing pretty well these days, he says, and besides:

"Nowhere in the world today are guns killing American boys; nowhere in the world are planes shooting them down."

At coffee hour talks, in street corner speeches and in political rally orations, he almost always gets around to that - and to pounding Douglas as a Socialist who wants to "wreck the Eisenhower administration" and "have the government take over and run your lives."

He calls the senator "Mr. Capitalism" of Socialism, the "Pink Professor," or "Paul the Planner." He told one group of Republican women that Douglas "talks the Communist lingo" and "speaks the identical party line."

This is all part of a calculated plan. The question is whether this line of attack will make a martyr of Douglas and boomerang against Meek. It's a gamble the Meek forces are willing to take.

Meek is 50 and looks younger. He is chunky, peppery and personable, a good mixer, an able speaker. Before stepping into the Senate race, he was head of the Illinois Federation of Retail Assn., an organization of some 50,000 to 60,000 merchants, and its lobbyist at the State Legislature at Springfield.

The GOP nominee said in an interview he is counting mainly on...

Other undefeated, united teams are Canyon, Phillips, Stamford, Colorado City, Diamond Hill, Seagoville, Mt. Vernon, Dainersfield, Linden, Ennis, Teague, LaVega, West, Killen, Columbus, Beville, Port Lavaca, LaMarque, Nederland, Devine, Freer and Raymondville. Comanche, San Saba, Cartwright, Mineral Wells, Livingston, Washahele and Alvin are unbeaten but have been tied.

Another game in which unbeaten teams swap touchdowns was in Dist. 23 where Northeast of San Antonio and Gonzales meet in conference competition. Both are undefeated and untied.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

A glimpse of the Austrian mountain side.

SALZBURG, AUSTRIA—Having reached Austria, I shall stay for a time in this, the fourth largest city in the country. The three which are larger are Vienna, Graz and Linz. Although Austria is a small country, it is far from being the smallest in Europe. It has twice as many square miles as Switzerland, and almost one and a half times as many people. The population of Austria is now just above seven million. German is the mother tongue of almost all Austrians, but they have their own manner of speech. They differ somewhat in racial stock from the Germans. Their nature seems closer to the Bavarians of southern Germany than to the Prussians. Austria's standard coin is the schilling. It differs from the British shilling in value, as well as in spelling. An Austrian schilling is worth about four cents in our money, or less than one third as much as a British shilling. In Salzburg, as well as in other towns of Austria, a person can obtain Wiener schnitzel at almost any restaurant. This good-sized veal cutlet is seasoned in a special way. Often it is garnished with sardines, peas and so on. Wiener schnitzel carries the name of Wien, which is the Austrian spelling of Vienna. The right way to pronounce "Wien" is "VEEN." Restaurants in many countries serve Wiener schnitzel, but another meat product of Vienna is known much more widely. I am thinking of the wieners. Millions of wieners are eaten daily in North America and Europe. The country which seems to like them best is the United States. With a population of a million and three quarters, Vienna ranks sixth among the cities of Europe. Ahead of it are London, Moscow, Berlin, Leningrad and Paris. Tomorrow: A High Fort.

DATE DATA

Absence Didn't Make Heart Grow Fonder

Dear Miss Brandow:
Last winter and spring I dated Wayne regularly, although the first seven weeks of summer I was out of town. When I returned he hardly spoke to me and I find he is going with my best friend. Am I at fault for not writing? We didn't discuss it before I left. The one time I did have a chance to talk with him for a few minutes, he told me how much his best friend wants to date me. I'm miserable. I don't want to go with his friend; I want to go with him. DOWNHEARTED

We've got two kinds of daters in this world. There are the chasers and the non-chasers, but it's the girls who can hit the happy in-between who get their men. You were gone almost two months. That's a long time for a boy to sit around the house. Not many will take to the rocking chair with a pair of knitting needles. Most have eyes that roam—first to the mail box in eager expectation, and then in disappointment to greener pastures where there are girls, girls, girls! You've lost him, and it was your own doing. How could he know you hadn't lost interest in him or met some wonderful new fellow who had swept you off your feet? Two months full of Fridays and Saturdays! Sixteen date nights and not a single word of consolation or encouragement from you. It is the place of the one who has gone away to begin the correspondence, you know. Probably in desperation and loneliness he sought out your best friend for news of you. Given time and propinquity and what have you got? A blossoming friendship. Go ahead and date his best friend. It will serve two purposes. It may make your former beau jealous, and you will stay in circulation. What better way is there to keep tabs on him? Next, be especially nice to Wayne. Talk to him whenever you see him. Perhaps, just perhaps, this will fan any old embers back into a flame again. Giving a party? Then you want "Party Plans," Beverly Brandow's free booklet. Write to her in care of The Herald.

Prison Rodeo Crowd Pleased
HUNTSVILLE (AP)—Life-term convict Marion Frazier pleased the crowd at the Texas Prison Rodeo yesterday with his trained animal act using two dogs, a deer and a rushed-in monkey. Frazier, from Montague, got a big round of applause as the monkey, a last-minute replacement, went through his tricks like a veteran trumper. Frazier's original monkey, Chee-Chee, died from acute indigestion Friday. Prison Gen. Mgr. O. B. Ellis ordered Rehabilitation Director A. C. Turner to find another monkey. After tramping Houston streets all day Saturday, Turner found one. The crowd for the second performance of the 1954 rodeo—it's held every Sunday in October—didn't get to see prison parachuter Bill Kennedy jump. Kennedy took to the air, but called off his attempt to drop into the arena. He said his emergency chute popped open in the plane just before the leap, and he signaled the pilot to land. Only five riders in the saddle bronc event finished their rides, and only one was declared a winner. He is O'Neal Browning, a lifer from Beaumont—veteran prison rodeo performer and last year's top money winner.
Reds Move Army Opposite Quemoy
TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Red China has moved a fourth army into the mainland Amoy area opposite the Nationalists' Quemoy Island, the official Central News Agency said today. Nationalist bombers dropped 100,000 propaganda leaflets last night on coastal cities of Fukien Province, across the 150-mile-wide Formosa straits.

BIG HONOR PLANNED

Mrs. Roosevelt, Still Very Active, Now 70

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, most likely the nation's busiest and best known great-grandmother, is 70 today. She will celebrate the birthday at a dinner with more than 1,000 other guests. The party in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Roosevelt was arranged by her associates in the American Assn. for the United Nations. She is chairman of the organization's Board of Governors. Except that this dinner is in honor of her birthday, Mrs. Roosevelt will find nothing unusual in taking a seat at the main table of a gathering of prominent people. Her jam-packed day-to-day schedule is crowded with big receptions and meetings in all parts of the nation and around the world. In the past year she figures she has traveled 50,000 miles, mostly to lecture about the United Nations. Since she left the White House, where she lived longer than any other First Lady in history, she has traveled, lectured and written untiringly. But the United Nations has been her pet enthusiasm, both as a delegate and now as a volunteer booster. She says her work for the U.N. has been the most rewarding in her life. With 70 years behind her, Mrs. Roosevelt, still vigorous and in seeming good health, says she has no intention of easing up on her many activities. In contrast to the big party tonight, her birthday was celebrated privately by the family at Hyde Park yesterday. Gathered at her modest Val-Kill cottage on the edge of the Roosevelt estate were four of her five children. From California had come James and Anna. Franklin Jr. left off his campaigning for the New York state Democratic ticket, and John, a Republican, came over from his own home at Hyde Park. Anna's husband, Dr. James Halstead, and the wives of Franklin and John also were there. Only Elliott was missing. He has ranch interests in Colorado and was detained there but plans to visit his mother later this year. Interviewed recently on her approaching birthday, Mrs. Roosevelt was asked how she liked the idea of being 70. She replied: "I think one of the advantages is that you take life more calmly. You know that 'And this, too, will pass.'"
