Sign Owners Must Get Permits

Owners of signs along Interstate and federal-aid primary highways face a June 30 deadline to apply for a permit and a license for them.

The Texas Highway Beautification Act, in effect since June of 1972, requires owners of signs which are within 660 feet of Interstate or federal-aid primary highways and are visible from main traffic lanes to file permit requests with the district offices of the Texas Highway Department. The permits cost $5 each.

Before permits can be approved, sign owners must obtain a $25 state license and post $2,500 bond for each county in which they have a sign. Maximum bonds of $10,000 are required for owners with signs in more than three counties.

Both license and bond applications can be obtained from Right of Way Divisions, Texas Highway Department, P.O. Box 5075, Austin, 78763 or any Highway Department District office.

Signs advertising the sale or lease of property upon which they are located or related solely to activities conducted on the property are exempted by the act along with underground utility markers, signs erected for official purposes by Federal, State and local governmental agencies and, in some cases, those posted by churches and nonprofit service organizations.

Although approximately 15,000 permits have been approved it is estimated that thousands of signs remain in violation of the act.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

Seven weeks had gone by since Jesus' death and resurrection, and the Day of Pentecost had now arrived. As the believers met together that day, suddenly there was a sound like the roaring of a mighty windstorm in the skies above them and it filled the house where they were meeting. Then, what looked like flames or tongues of fire appeared and settled on their heads. And everyone present began speaking in languages they didn't know, for the Holy Spirit gave them this ability.

MRS. CLEO WAYNE VICK

Viola Winegeart and Cleo Wayne Vick Exchange Vows In Baptist Church

Bouquets of white gladiolas and delphiniums placed before the prayer bench in the Baptist Church of McLean formed the setting for the wedding ceremony of Viola Winegeart and Cleo Wayne Vick. Rev. Herman W. Bell, pastor, read the double ring marriage vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Winegeart, Sr. of 501 N. Clarendon St. in McLean. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Vick of Childress.

The bride, given in marriage by her father with the "her Mother and I" avowal, was radiant in her formal floor length wedding gown of Angelmist peau de sole and re-embroidered Venice lace over bridal taffeta designed with high neckline, bodice, sleeves and hemline of the gown. Her detachable chapel length train of peau de sole and lace complimented the gown. Her veil of imported illusion fell from a coif, and she carried a cascade of white and lavender spring flowers and an orchid in the center with long white streamers. She carried out the tradition of something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue. The something borrowed was a Cameo bracelet from her parental grandmother.

Mrs. Larry Davis, Tucson, Arizona, assisted her sister as matron of honor and Miss Becky Bohlar served as maid of honor. They wore empire a-line floor length dresses of purple taffeta and carried a bouquet of white, purple and lavender spring flowers with long white streamers.

Other bridal attendants were Chrissy Davis of Tucson, Arizona, niece of the bride was flower girl, Susette Dupris of Amarillo, niece of the bride was ring bearer for the bride. Candle lighters were Michelle Dupris of Amarillo, niece of the bride, and Ronnie Justus of Pampa, cousin of the bride. Denise Winegeart, niece of the bride served as miniature bride.

Clifford Vick, brother of the groom, of Pampa, assisted the bridegroom as bestman. Groomsman was Travis Winegeart, Jr., of Borger, brother of the bride, Randy Curry and Gary Griffin of McLean, served as ushers. Chet Bohlar served as ring bearer.

Mrs. Russell Caldwell, organist, played "True Love", "The Hands of Time" "Romeo and Juliet" and traditional bridal music and march, and accompanied Mark Box, vocalist as he sang, "A Time For Us." "The Twelfth of Never," and as the couple knelt on a white prayer bench, he sang, "The Lord's Prayer".

An arrangement of white roses and purple spring flowers accented the lavender cloth overlaid with a crocheted lace cloth (crocheted by the groom's mother and given to the couple) for the reception in the church fellowship hall. A three-tiered cake with lavender flowers arranged around cake and topped with lavender flowers surrounding a bride and groom, was served by Miss Linda Hunt of Pampa and Miss Becky Wilson of McLean. The guests were registered by Miss Debbie Ryan, Lisa and Bobbie Cochran, cousins of the bride, passed out the rice after the reception.

The bride is a 1973 graduate of McLean High School and a student of Pampa College of Hairdressing. The bridegroom is a 1972 graduate of Shamrock High School and is employed by a service station in Shamrock. The couple will make their home at 307 S. Missouri Street in Shamrock after a short wedding trip to points in Texas.

Pre-nuptial events included a lingerie shower hosted by Becky Bohlar, Debbie Ryan, Becky Wilson, and Gale Harkins, and also a miscellaneous shower hosted by Mesdames A.C. Wood, Russell Caldwell, Frank Simpson, Howard Williams, Bob Dunliven and Boyd Reeves.

Almost 40 million homeowners will improve their homes this year. Most of them will be on remodeling budgets. Many will try to shave costs—sometimes through "false" economies.

With labor charges continually rising, work that homeowners do themselves can represent substantial savings. But, do-it-yourselfers should be sure they have the time, patience and degree of skill needed for the project. It can cost more to undo an amateur's mistakes than to call in a pro at the start.

Some jobs — roofing, for example — should not be attempted by amateurs. Shingle application requires particular skills, and working on a rooftop can be dangerous. A reputable contractor is well worth the cost.

Low-quality materials are hardly ever the place to save money. "Cheap is dear" if materials don't hold up, must be quickly repaired or replaced, or make the whole job look tacky. Generally, labor charges run about the same, regardless of the materials' cost. And the higher cost of quality materials often can be amortized over their longer life expectancy.

While most remodeling can increase a home's resale value, upgrading does depend on the project. Improvements such as low-maintenance siding and roofing are obviously worthwhile to any homeowner. But highly personal projects — like expensive, built-in stereo speakers — may have value to the present owner but not to a future one. The cost of such jobs may not be easy to recoup.

MIKE HAYNES and KAY LAYNE

Kay Layne and Mike Haynes Plan Garden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. William Bryan Layne of McLean announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Beverly Kay, to Mr. John Michael Haynes. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Morse Haynes, also of McLean.

The bride-elect is a 1973 graduate of McLean High School, where she was a honor student. She plans to attend Texas Tech University in the fall.

Her finance is a 1969 graduate of McLean High School and received a B.A. degree in journalism from Texas Tech in May. He was on the Dean's list every semester at Tech.

"We preach not ourselves, but Christ" (2 Cor. 4:5)

One of the great tragedies of every generation is procrastination in spiritual matters. Many keep thinking; tomorrow I'll do something about my life, tomorrow I'll do what God wants me to do. For many of these however, tomorrow never comes. The Bible says, "Go to now, ye that say, Today or tomorrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain: whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away. For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that." (James 4:13-15) God does not promise anyone a tomorrow - only today... now! "Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation." (2 Cor. 6:2)

Our earnest and sincere prayer is that you will come and share with us this great spiritual feast...that you too may know "the peace of God which passeth all understanding." (Phil. 4:7)

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

While the 1973 Legislature managed to avoid a tax bill, outlook for 1975 is "bleak," with new revenue needs ranging up to $700 million, according to Texas Research League.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby earlier came up with a similar gloomy estimate of a $533 million tax boost during the next regular legislative session, but Gov. Dolph Briscoe declined to agree.

According to Texas Research League, state spending from key funds is expected to increase by $550 million in 1976-77 and the increase could run as high as $850 million to $1 billion.

Revenues, meanwhile, are due to rise $550 million to $625 million over the present biennium.

However, TRL cautions these factors must also be considered:

Federal revenue sharing funds (which accounted for $316 million of 1974-75 income) will drop by at least $100 million, because Texas received a three-year allocation to spend in a two-year period for the current budget.

An estimated $156 million surplus at the beginning of the next biennium will decrease from $75 million to $100 million depending on bills signed by Governor Briscoe.

"With the highest projected spending increase ($1.050 billion), the 1975 Legislature apparently would find itself faced with the need to find $600-$700 million in additional biennial revenues," said a new TRL report. "Even (an $850 million spending hike), means projecting a biennial revenue need of $400-$500 million."

If the next legislature decides to overhaul school finance formulas, a biennial cost increase of perhaps another $300 million can be anticipated, TRL concluded. Briscoe, at the national governors conference in Nevada, refused to be pessimistic and promised budgeting innovations and other economy moves which he feels can check a tax boost.

DIM VIEW OF CONSTITUTION CHANGE

County officials are getting together to fight any constitutional change which would drastically alter county government, according to Judge Robert W. Calvert, chairman of the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission.

Following hearings in Corpus Christi, Calvert said he sees an "incipient opposition to any suggested changes in county government."

He cited three letters from county officials expressing a dim view toward tampering with their jobs. Calvert said the commission is committed to no course on the subject.

The 37-member body is concluding its hearings over the state and will make recommendations to the legislature next November. Lawmakers will sit as a constitutional convention next year. Calvert urged legislators to attend the hearings in eight cities this month. Committees will begin drafts conclusion of the public discussions.

The remainder of the constitutional hearings are set as follows: Friday, June 15, Beaumont; Orange and Port Arthur; Thursday, June 21, Abilene; Friday, June 22, Wichita Falls; Thursday June 28, Waco; and Friday, June 29, Austin.

COURTS SPEAK

Unsafe conditions in public housing units are grounds for suits where tenants are injured, the State Supreme Court held in a case growing out of a death due to a defective heater.

In another case, the High Court upheld lower court judgments of $197,500 in damages against Mobil Pipeline Company on behalf of a family of a Mobil Oil Company employee who died in a Beaumont explosion.

The U.S. Supreme Court in Washington, meanwhile, upheld a Texas law requiring immunization of school children against several diseases. The top court ruled 7-2 that states cannot indirectly tax liquor sales on U.S. military bases.

AG OPINIONS

County commissioners can spend county funds to provide for parking and a service building for county-owned vehicles and parking for the public having business in the courthouse, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

In an election contest, on notice of appeal, district clerks should prepare a transcript and forward it to the court of civil appeals clerk before delivering it to attorneys for the appellant.

The Board of Chiropractic Examiners can adopt rules limiting the size of newspaper advertisements of chiropractors.

County Clerks are not authorized to set filing fees for discovery proceedings if an action is still pending on the docket at the time the proceedings are instituted.

If no action is pending, clerks are entitled to a fee of $3 for each instrument issued but not for filing instruments prepared by others.

CLAYTON JOINS SPEAKER'S RACE

Rep. Bill Clayton of Spring Lake, 44, a veteran of a decade of service in the House of Representatives, made his candidacy for speaker official last week. Clayton is a conservative Democrat.

Other candidates include Reps. Fred Head of Troup, Jzmes Nugent of Kerrville, Carl Parker of Port Arthur and Dave Finney of Fort Worth. Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi is also regarded as another strong possibility.

APPOINTMENTS

Tom Browning of Athens was named acting director of Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement division after Executive Director Clayton T. Garrison fired Stetson Reed.

Governor Briscoe designated Ronald Thomason of Weatherford as Texas State Artist for 1973-74. A.C. Gentry Jr. of Tyler was selected alternate state artist and Bette Lou Voorhis of Austin

WEIGAND HORST LICHTENFELS

German Bicyclist Tours World

By Cherylan Holmes

Pedal for your college degree? Such is the case with West German native Weigand Horst Lichtenfels, who spent last Thursday night in McLean.

According to German law, one can earn a degree in journalism by taking courses in a university, serving four years as an apprentice or accomplishment of some outstanding or unusual feat.

Horst, as he prefers to be called, chose to pedal around the world. He has wheeled his way these past three years some 46,000 miles winding through 42 countries.

Lichtenfels purpose of two-fold as he is also a goodwill ambassador of West German Boy Scouts. During his travels, he has been made honorary member of boy scouts in sixteen countries.

As an ambassador of that national youth organization, Horst wears traditional scouting uniform; scarf, felt hat, and shirt, all well decorated with rank and merit insignia from countries he had visited. His riding habit is completed by knee socks, high top boots and "Lederhosen", German Leather Hotpants. On his return to Germany, these clothes will be displayed in the German Boy Scout Museum.

While in McLean, the 31 year old German publishing house worker was a guest in the home of scoutmaster and Mrs. Melvin Woods. Thursday evening, Woods took Lichtenfels to the M.K. Brown Boy Scout Camp where he introduced him to many of the staff preparing for summer camp to begin this week.

To make the trip, he has a specially designed bike. It is a three-speed Victorian model and weighs almost 300 pounds when fully loaded. Lichtenfels says the three speed is preferable to ten speed machines because ten speeds have so delicate a transmission and require too many troublesome repairs.

The muscular foreigner carries full camping gear, spare tires and tubes, writing materials, souvenirs and other personal items. Each piece has its own place; in the canvas bags strapped on the bike or in one of the four cases on both sides of front and rear wheels.

Lichtenfels only traveling companion is a buff-colored bulldog pup bought in Clines Comer, New Mexico. The young dog rides in a improvised carrier cage in front of the handle bars.

Lichtenfels earns money through varied employment as needed. In Calcutta he worked in a restaurant and in Afghanistan, a radio station. He writes and sells articles and sells advertising space on the side of his bike.

Horst's many experiences would fit well into a volume of adventures. His incidents include the disappearance of his bike in Iran and its return with the assistance of the royal family, imprisonment in South Yemen, and audiences with important public figures in many countries.

He plans his homeward bound route to pass through Philadelphia where he will board a boat to France, then pedal to his home, Weisbaden, Germany. He expects to reach Philadelphia by late December.

Kunkel Reunion Attended By 46

The family of the late Samuel Kunkel met June 2 and 3 for the annual Kunkel reunion. A picnic supper at the McLean Country Club Saturday was attended by 46 persons.

The family assembled at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning for worship services, followed by a meal and business meeting at the country club. Sixty-nine persons were registered at the Sunday get-together.

President Oba Kunkel presided over the business meeting. It was decided to meet again the first Sunday in June 1974, at the country club. Family members were urged to send old pictures to Loree Barker for inclusion in a scrapbook. It also was suggested that everyone send a birthday card to Henry Kunkel, who was 91 years old on June 5.

Officers elected for the coming year were: Tom Caldwell, president; Carey Don Smith, vice president; Dorothy Caldwell, secretary; Loree Barker, historian; and Joyce Haynes, reporter.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Quite often we hear of a friend or acquaintance who has suddenly been stricken with a case of "food poisoning." Or, occasionally, a community may experience an outbreak of food poisoning from foods improperly packaged or improperly handled during and after preparation.

Since summer normally is the canning season when fruits and vegetables are at their peak, now is a good time to re-emphasize canning precautions.

Health authorities in California reported that more than 62 per cent of all cases of botulism were due to string beans, asparagus, fruits and other vegetables canned at home. Another 24 percent was due to the preparation of animal products. With the great amount of home canning and freezing done in Texas, officials of the Texas State Department of Health are concerned about the possibility of this potentially fatal disease.

You probably have had no problems with home canning and freezing. But then you may have been lucky. How would you answer these questions?

First, do you believe that home freezing, is the best method of food preparation, and the least likely to cause the growth of germs?

Is the disagreeable odor evident with spoiled food a sure-fire indicator that food is spoiled?

Are nausea and diarrhea always the first symptoms of botulism?

Before answering these questions, let's take a closer look at what food poisoning really is.

Among bacteria involved in food-borne diseases are three arch criminals of the germ world. These are salmonella germs, staphylococcus and botulism germs.

The source of salmonella is found in the intestines of human carriers and domestic animals and may be present in meat or dairy products, eggs or egg products. One strain of salmonella contaminated an unchlorinated public deep water supply in Riverside, Calif., in 1966 and produced an epidemic of 15,000 cases of diarrhea.

Staphylococcal food poisoning may occur from a large number of contaminated products. Contamination may be from bovine origin--in contaminated milk or milk products, or of human origin. Toxin-producing infections of a finger or hand, nasal secretions, or the apparently normal skin of hands and forearms. This is one reason disposable plastic gloves are widely used by food handlers.

Good sanitation in food preparation, plus proper cooking and quick, thorough cooling of prepared foods, are good insurance against staph and salmonella occurrences.

Botulism is caused by a deadly poison--a toxin--produced by a germ found abundantly in the soil. This germ is one of the spore-forming bacteria and is very resistant to normal heat and cold. It can grow without air, which makes it such a sinister threat in home canning. The germ itself doesn't cause illnesses, but the toxin it produces can be fatal to man. Although some outbreaks have been caused from commercial products, the vast majority of botulism cases have been due to eating improperly processed home-canned foods.

Now let's answer the questions. First, the pressure cooker method is safer and preferred for canning. Still, precautions should be taken as to length of time and degree of temperature for preparation of any food. Studies on the heat resistance of the spores of the botulism germ prove that home canning by the cold pack method, still widely used in Texas, is extremely dangerous. All home-canned products should be boiled for at least three minutes with thorough stirring before serving.

Second, is odor always evident with spoiled foods? No. Factors such as acidity and nutrient value play a part in odor. Canned foods could be free of abnoxious odor, appear in good condition and still contain organisms of botulism. Never use canned goods that are puffed out on the ends or spurt when opened. And, never taste a suspect, canned food before it is cooked proper. You can even get botulism by smelling a contaminated food.

Third, are nausea and vomiting usually the first symptoms of botulism? Botulism's clinical manifestations relate primarily to the nervous system. Change in voice, such as hoarseness, often is the first sign noted. It is a serious intoxication, (not an infection) characterized by weakness, dizziness, headache and constipation. However, vomiting and diarrhea may occasionally initiate illness. Symptoms usually appear within 12 to 36 hours, sometimes several days after eating contaminated foods. About two thirds of patients die within three to seven days, usually from respiratory or cardiac failure or from infectious complications.

officials say that proper preparation of all foods could make botulism a thing of the past.

STUDENT REUNION

this class only the first four listed are still living. Every member of the 1910-11 class who attended college were in the upper ten. Our youngest graduate was thirteen year old Lucille Horton. Andrew H. Floyd died in the First World War and the First American Legion was named after him-The Andrew H. Floyd American Legion.

The class of 11-12, presented a problem as the historians. In March of 1912, the school suddenly closed its doors on account of a lack of finances. Minnie Foster Moore, who was present at the meeting and is the only living member of the class recalled that her father, T. Foster and C.C. Cook, my father, took up subscription money and the school continued for two months, and turned out graduates as follows: Minnie Foster Moore, Herman Glass, Alvah Christian and one or two others we were unable to recall. Probably J.O. Loftin, superintendent of the McLean school and Miss Grogan, the english instructor taught the extension course.

Of the class of 1912-13 Katie Robinson Ragsdale and Bryon Kibler the sole representative, though neither was present at the meeting. Other members, now deceased are Nona Cousins Doughtery, Nynvah Glass Kibler, and Nevelle Hearne.

Of the 1913-14 class, present at the meeting were: Vita Heasley, Raymond Glass, Andrew L. Jordan, Wayland Floyd. Others Leo Wadley, Bryant Henry, Ed Newman, Floy Glass, were not at the meeting. Deceased were:

Lillie Guill, Grace Hamilton, and Roy Richardson, Maud Gardenhire. Of the class of 1914-15 was Ethel Cash and Earnest L. Jordan. Others, not present were Ellen Anderson Wilson, Hortense Heame, Roger Hearne, Beulah McLain Guill, Gaynelle Wilson Quattle Baum, Doyle Foster and Harold Rippey. Deceased are Lulu Faulkner, Grace Francis Janes, Ora Garen, Ruby Newton, Nellie Smith Roach, Frank Stockton and J.L. Upham.

At the meeting there was a short memorial service honoring the memory of those who had passed on. Raymond Glass was again elected president of the group: Beatrix Anderson Foster, vice president and Vita Heasley Cook was elected secretary-treasurer.

It was fun being together again but it was sad, too that so many of the group had gone on to their reward.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Howard, Mr. and Mrs. David Gammage of Plainview, visited in the home of Alameda Crockett Sunday, also visitors in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. J.D. McClellan from Grand Prairie and Mary Ellen McClellan, Collene Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Foshce.

Market Report

Onions may upset tradition and summon smiles.

Valley onions helping increase supplies are easing the greatest onion shortage in 50 years--and prices are moderate, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt.

The consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, said economical vegetable choices in upcoming weeks will include corn, potatoes, carrots, okra, green onions, radishes, cabbage and cooking greens.

At fruit counters grapefruit prices swinging upward reflect lighter supplies, but oranges remain plentiful and reasonably priced.

Texas-grown honeydew melons are making their appearance at first-of-the-season prices, as are fresh peaches.

And at other counters, strawberries, cantaloupes, pineapples, bananas, cherries and watermelons deserve consideration.

Turning to dairy sections, the specialist predicted numerous features.

Good values will be found on a variety of milks and natural cheddar cheeses. Sour cream, margarine and cottage cheese also will wear special price tags.

At the meat counter, beef prices remain about the same, but more specials will be offered, so check carefully, Mrs. Clyatt advised.

She cited chuck cuts, round steaks, ground beef and beef liver as best buys.

Pork features, scattered and limited, will offer values on smoked ham portions, some brands of bacon and frankfurters, picnics
