McLean O.E.S. Celebrates 69th Year

Time, in its never ending flight has taken another fractional year and has bound it tighter, with those years of yesterdays, and has brought to us another anniversary of McLean Chapter #239. The McLean Masonic Lodge was the setting for the occasion, Friday, October 12, 7 p.m. A simulated tree set up in the reception room. The branches of the tree were hung with 69 cards representing each year of the chapter since its beginning in 1904. Each card had all officers for that year written on it. A table of membership books, records and photographs were displayed in the tree. A receiving line was formed by Veral Lynn Wood, Worthy Matron, Frank Rodgers, Worthy Patron, J. Boyd Smith, Associate Patron, and the Chapter Mother, Mrs. Fidelity Stubbs.

Oma Lee Lisman and Vela Corcoran registered the guests and gave each a name tag in the shape of a tree.

Guests were seated in the Chapter Room. Conductress, Mrs. Frankie Smith presented the distinguished guest, Jr. Past Grand Matron, Mrs. Katherine Harbour, Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star. After her introduction, Mrs. Bonnie Fabian sang, "Bless This House, O Lord, We Pray", accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Johnie Rodgers. This lovely song was dedicated to Mrs. Katherine Harbour.

We were honored to have Mr. Charles E. Bairfield, Past Grand Patron, from Clarendon Chapter #6.

The Worthy Matron welcomed the guests, including many Grand Officers. Each visiting chapter was recognized and welcomed.

Associate Patron, J. Boyd Smith, opened the program with an invocation.

Veral Lynn Wood presented a program based on the 69 years of the Chapter, simulating a tree. The trunk of the tree representing the beginning of live for our Chapter.

"The Churches of Christ Salute You"

Romans 16:16

Throughout the world are congregations of Christians who have obeyed the commands which our blessed Lord gave for sinners to obey to be saved. These Christians meet for worship and are organized into local congregations. They are neither Catholic nor Protestant. They belong to no denomination. They have no central government nor earthly headquarters. Each congregation is independent, taking the New Testament as its sole and final authority in religion. The members insist that if we believe the same things early Christians did and do the same things they did, it will make us the same thing. If we were a member of no denomination, yet he was a Christian and a member of the Lord's church. The Church of Christ was established on Pentecost Day, May 3, 33, as we read in Acts 2. Every saved person was added to the church (Acts 2:47). The church is composed of all Christians on earth. The members of the church are called "Christians" (Acts 11:26). The Lord gave His name (Isa. 62:2). Human names are condemned (1 Cor. 1:13-23; Acts 4:12).

The Word of God is the seed of the kingdom (Luke 8:11). The seed produced Christians when first planted. If we do not have the same seed today, we will reap the same product. The life is in the seed. If there were not Christ on earth today, you could become one by believing in the gospel (Rom. 10:17; Heb. 11:6), repenting of your sins (Luke 13:3, 5; Acts 2:38), confessing Christ as the Lord of God (Matt. 10:32; Rom. 10:10; Acts 8:37), and being baptized into Christ for the remission of your sins (Acts 16:15-16; Acts 2:38; Rom. 6:3-4; Gal. 3:27; 1 Cor. 12:13). The Lord would then add you to His church (Acts 2:47). You would have done as some of the Corinthians: "Many of the Corinthians hearing, believed, and were baptized" (Acts 18:8). They belonged to no denomination, only to the "church of God" and were in the "body of Christ" (1 Cor. 1:2; 1 Cor. 12:27).

Seventeen centuries have passed since the beginning of the church but we still have the same truth. We have the same church unchanged in name, organization, faith and practice. We dare not use any creed except the New Testament (2 John 9). We must not add to the New Testament any doctrine, or commandment of men (Matt. 16:9). Our plea is unity--not during a so-called meeting--but for all time on the platform given by GOD'S WORD (Eph. 4:4-6). We plead no merit of our own--only the merit of Christ's shed blood and of His holy word. The Bible is the word of God. It is the word of God and is superior to any human confession, doctrine, articles of faith, discipline, etc. (2 Tim. 3:16-17). The New Testament is our guide in all things today (Heb. 8:8-13; Heb. 9:1-28; Heb. 10:9; Eph. 2:16; Col. 2:14; Luke 5: 36-37). The New Testament teaches we are to study the Old Testament and learn from the examples and principles there in (Rom. 15:4).

We invite all to stand with us on the solid rock of the Word, and "be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear" (1 Peter 3:15).

Tiger Band Adopts Statement

The Band Council of the McLean Tiger Band recently announced a statement of purpose which the organization adopted.

"The council," said Director Roger Quibideauz, did this on their own. The band council is composed of seven bandmen, president, Laura Cox; vice president, Sydney Morris; secretary, Sheri Jones; and four class representatives.

According to Miss Cox the statement was adopted to "show that we have pride and to promote spirit."

Each band student is required as a result of their adoption of the statement, to recite it to five high school students of their choosing.

The statement reads as follows:

I am a member of the McLean High School Tiger Band, McLean, Texas, the United States of America, and there is nothing that I say that could make me prouder.

On October 16, 1973, the band performed at Canyon, Texas, and was judged as an average band. Our school and organization are not average! Therefore, from this day on, as long as I am a member of this organization, I shall not let myself or my fellow students be called average again.

We consider our administration, faculty, student body, and brother-sister organizations outstanding.

We'll march together through the years That good old Tiger Line.

STATE CAPITAL

Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Future development of major Texas water projects will come to a halt unless new standards laid down by the National Water Resources Council are reversed, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby says.

Hobby, joined by State Sen. Max Sherman of Amarillo, and serving as spokesman for four Texas water advisory councils, urged President Nixon and Texas congressmen to alter the regulations.

"Unless this policy is reversed," said Hobby, "Texas stands to be harmed very substantially."

The new principles and standards for planning water and related land resources are effective October 25.

While acknowledging that they have merit, Hobby, said, they would destroy, "the long-established partnership between federal and state governments for development of water resources... for all practical purposes, the thrust of 'principles and standards' wipes out the present-day mechanics for use and control of water, and falls short of practical substitutes."

A proposed "discount rate" feature, claimed Hobby, precludes federal participation in traditional development of water projects. The standards, he maintained, would further force impractical planning for projects on an in-state basis.

In the last five years, more than $850 million have been invested by the local, state and federal governments in Texas water projects. About a fourth of that was federal money.

Refusal by the federal government to finance in the future "non-reimbursable features" such as fish and wildlife, recreational benefits and flood control provisions would ban parts of water projects that "tend to enhance the environment," said Hobby.

DOUBLE-HEADER CONVENTION PLANNED

Legislators are being polled on a proposal to split next year's constitutional convention into two sessions—one from January 8 to April 6 and the second after mid-June.

Sen. Bill Meier of Eules offered the suggestion, contending that the convention may be poorly attended just before May and June primary elections. Many legislators, who are delegates to the convention, will face opponents for re-election.

The recess, as proposed by Meier, would give legislators nearly a month to campaign before the May primary and another month before the June runoff.

Meanwhile, House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. urged lawmakers to set a 90-day flexible and extendable timetable for the convention and try to finish the job of rewriting the constitution by early April. He said legislators can do it by making use of the research of the Constitutional Revision Commission as a beginning point. Daniel said taxpayers will be saved nearly $2 million if the convention winds up in 90 days rather than extending over the full 170 days allowed.

ALLOWABLE STILL AT 100 PER CENT

For the 20th straight month the Texas Railroad Commission set the November state-wide oil allowable at 100 per cent.

Uncertainty of supplies for winter months and possible cuts in imports from the Middle East were cited by Chairman Jim Langdon.

Exceptions again were made for the East Texas Field Kelly-Snyder, Tom O'Connor and several others, where the allowable was retained at less than 90 per cent of potential.

Antonio to San Antonio River Authority board of directors John A. Mehos of Galveston to the Gulf State Marine Fisheries Commission; and Aleus Greer of Houston and William H. Sharp of Lubbock (reappointments) to the commission on Fire Protection Personnel Standards and Education.

State Insurance Board has extended the appointment of Clay Cotten of Austin as state insurance commissioner for two years.

AG OPINIONS

Counties may use federal revenue sharing funds to contract with private non-profit corporations to construct recreational facilities for the aged. Atty. Gen. John Hill concluded.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

There is no authority and no appropriation for paying state employees who resign or are dismissed (except in the case of death) in lieu of accrued, unused vacation time.

A California non-profit dental service corporation is not providing dental service in Texas by entering a contract to pay for dental services of a Delaware corporation, including its Texas facility employees, where dentists are not chosen by employees.

The state comptroller must pay statutory witness fees for out-of-state witnesses into the court registry on certification by the judge that fees are necessary to complete attendance. A county can advance funds and be reimbursed by the state.

A State Insurance Board order authorizing companies to set unusual risk rates subject to later board approval is not authorized.

A reduction in appropriations for the State Board of Pardons and Paroles in event of defunding by the Criminal Justice Council of "continuing programs" during the fiscal year which ended August 31 is not required where a new program is funded September 1.

Status of an area from dry to wet can only be accomplished by a "for" vote on a legalizing proposition, and transformation of a wet area to a dry area can only be accomplished by an "against" vote on a prohibitory proposition. A city prohibitory election which does not result in a vote unfavorable to the sale of alcoholic beverages has no effect at all upon the status of the city or any part.

The owner of a title to a fractional interest in a patented survey less than total is not entitled to purchase only his proportionate share of the excess acreage in the survey. COURTS SPEAK

A three-judge federal court in Dallas adopted the so-called "Plan B" for Texas congressional reapportionment, which will require some readjustment of existing boundaries. Attorney General Hill said he has no plans for further appeals. Motions to intervene in the case were rejected as not "timely."

A Corpus Christi District judge set an October 26 hearing on a state motion to cite Roloff Evangelistic Enterprises for contempt in operating two youth care facilities without state licenses.

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld four convictions including two life sentences, of a Dallas man in the shooting of three.

BOLLWORM PLOWUP EXTENDED

Agriculture Commissioner John White extended the cotton stalk destruction deadline "according to individual needs" in 14 rainsoaked South Texas counties.

An earlier extension had set the plow-up deadline for October 15 in zones 1 and 2 of the pink bollworm control area. Counties affected are Cameron, Hidalgo, Wilbrey, Starr, Zapata, Jim Hogg, Brooks, Kennedy, Webb Duval, Jim Wells, Kleberg, Nueces and San Patricio. AIR POLLUTION CONTROLS TO BE CHALLENGED

Texas will challenge new federal air pollution controls in the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals.

The controls seek to limit use of autos in Houston-Galveston, Dallas-Fort Worth and San Antonio, Austin-Waco and El Paso areas are also affected by the Environmental Protection Agency proposals.

The state contends EPA has failed to show any need for controls more stringent than the state's own and that the federal regulations may worsen pollution. SHORT SNORTS

Texas Water Quality Board set a secondary hearing in Uvalde October 25 to determine what regulation will be necessary in Bexar, Kinney, Uvalde, Medina, Kendall, Comal and Hays counties to protect the Edwards Underground Reservoir against pollution.

Texas Aeronautics Commission February 26 will hear the application of southwest Airlines to extend jet service to the Rio Grande Valley.

More than 2,000 gathered here Tuesday (Oct. 23) for a Governor's conference on rural development.

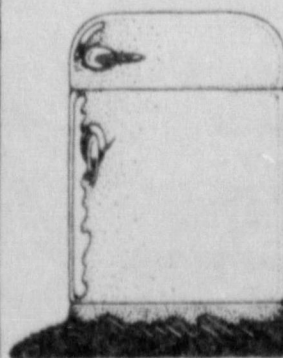

The League of Women Voters is distributing a Spanish-language voters guide for the November 6 constitutional amendments election.

MUSEUM MEMORABILIA

By Vera Featherston Back

Recently Mr. Harp of the Shamrock Junior High School brought all 52 members of their eighth grade for a tour of the Alanreed-McLean Area Museum. They were a well-behaved and interesting group.

Judging from the many letters we have received from the students, they profited by their visit. Though Leslie Smith and Robin Tarbet had very neat letters with no misspelled words (a delight to a English teacher), it was a boy whose letter we would like to share with you:

"Dear Museum Hostesses: I think your museum was great, although I had never been there before. When Mr. Harp told us we were going to the museum, I thought it would be tiresome and boring.

"When I stood outside your museum door, I saw things I had never seen before. I liked that old wind-up record player and I think it was neat. My grandmother told me she used to have one when she was young. She says that she used to like to play the record of the jitterbug dance.

"I especially liked the story of the old bell and the man that urped his false teeth into the commode. I told my mother and father the story you told us. They both laughed and said they would like to visit your museum.

"At the back of the museum I saw an old car. I wanted to know what model it was.

"The old Indian skeletons really impressed me because I had never seen a skeleton up close. I didn't think anyone could find skeletons up in these parts. I came from a city town so that is why I was so impressed by what I saw.

"The wanted-posters of Bonnie and Clyde were the only posters I kept my eyes on. My dad says Bonnie and Clyde used to rob and kill in these parts.

"I want to visit the museum again and I want to bring my friends too. We have an old sewing machine like the one you have and my mother wants to sell it, but she doesn't know where. The machine is pretty old but I think it still works.

"I liked the saddles you had in the second room. The side saddle is the only kind of saddle I have seen made that way.

"I saw a collection of arrowheads that were framed and hung up. I like the way you put up the cards telling us what they are and where you found them. It makes you stop and think way back when people used to use them. I like to collect old things and study about them in books."

"The old tom-tom I saw was very interesting. I understand that the Indians allowed out a log and stretched deer skin over it to make a low hollow sound. I also understand that when the Indians have a ceremony or war dance, they paint their faces. By the way, please send me information about the old tom-tom and if there is a story behind it, please send it to me also.

"I think your museum is the best museum I have ever been to. I wish our class could visit you again."

Sincerely yours,
Albert Farez
