Ronnie McLroy Named To All-State Band

Ronnie McLroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McLroy, first chair French horn player in the Tiger Band, in competition in Lubbock, was selected to All-State Band, sponsored by the Texas Music Education Convention.

McLroy and Herb Germer, band director, will attend the ULL-TMEA convention on Feb. 10, 11, 12. Try-outs will not be held for chairs in the band on the first day of the convention. Ronnie was in competition with band students from UIL Area I, which includes the regions of Lubbock, Amarillo, El Paso, Odessa and Midland.

"It is a credit to the McLean citizens, the administration and the school board for providing the proper music program in which an All-State musician can be trained," stated Herb Germer, band director. "I believe this is the first All-State band member to come from McLean, and we are very proud of Ronnie and his work."

Governor Connally Announces State Essay Contest

A statewide essay contest to encourage Texans to learn more about vacation possibilities in their own state was announced this week by Gov. John Connally.

The governor said the Texas Junior of Commerce would cooperate with the Texas Tourist Development Agency in promoting the contest for seventh and eighth grade students throughout the state.

Students will write 500-word essays on the subject, "Discover Texas." Three finalists will be hosted on all-expense weekends by three of the state's outstanding tourist attractions. A novel feature of the contest will allow each finalist to be accompanied by his best friend, as well as all members of his immediate family.

Host attractions will be Six Flags Over Texas, which drew more than 1.7 million visitors last year; the Aquarena development at San Marcos, boasting the world's only submarine type theater; and the city of San Antonio, which J. Frank Doble once described as "every Texan's second home."

The governor said one local winner would be named by each Jaycee chapter conducting the contest in communities across the state. Local winners will receive certificates signed by the governor and their entries will be submitted to state Jaycee headquarters for judging against those of other winners across Texas.

Urging the cooperation of Texas school officials and teachers in stimulating student interest in the essay competition, Governor Connally explained its purpose:

"The contest was conceived after research conducted for the Texas Tourist Development Agency by Belden Associates revealed that most Texans are manifestly uninformed about vacation possibilities in their own state.

"By 'discovering' Texas for themselves, Texans can become better spokesmen for the state's growing list of tourist attractions in directing strangers to vacation sites. At the same time, they should become better acquainted with places in which they might wish to spend their own vacations."

Deadline for submission of "Discover Texas" essays to local Jaycee project chairman is March 15. Grand prize winners will be announced in April.

McLEAN ISSUES 543 POLL TAX RECEIPTS

A final tally of poll taxes paid or exemptions claimed by the Jan. 31 deadline shows that 8,661 Gray County voters will be eligible to vote in this year's elections.

A total of 6,639 poll tax receipts were issued, with only one of these a non-fee receipt to vote in the federal election only.

Exemptions for those over 60 totaled 2,022.

In McLean, Ruby Cousins, county deputy tax collector, reports a total of 543 poll taxes have been issued in Precinct 5.

BULLETIN

A three-judge federal court ruled Texas' 64-year-old poll tax voting requirement unconstitutional Wednesday, throwing doubt on 1966 voter registration and possibly setting up a special legislative session.

No Refunds

Anyone who has paid his 1966 poll tax and has ideas about getting his money back is going to be disappointed.

The court did not invalidate the tax itself. The court held only that non-payment of the tax cannot be used to keep people from voting.

So unless the state legislature abolishes the tax, it will continue to be on the books as a levy that everyone aged 21-60 is supposed to pay.

Easter Seal Society Makes 1965 Report

How the resources of the Texas Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the Easter Seal Society, and its affiliates were used to help rehabilitate disabled Texans in 1965 was made known this week by George J. Zachariah, president of the society.

The greatest share—$494,335.16—financed direct services for 14,396 Texas youngsters and adults. Such services as physical, speech and occupational therapy, equipment loan or purchase, pre-school activities, and medical evaluation and diagnosis were provided to victims of polio, cerebral palsy, arthritis, stroke, multiple sclerosis and other orthopedic conditions.

In Texas, Easter Seal funds also financed extensive "indirect" services, including educational help to parents, scholarships for students in rehabilitation, seminars to train professional and volunteer workers, and programs of information for the public.

Service to the disabled children and adults of Texas communities, Zachariah states, "... is our sole reason for being." He said the society looked forward to even greater needs as the population increases.

HARLEM STARS COMING TO McLEAN SOON

The hilarious Harlem Stars are coming to town. Advertised as the greatest and funniest basketball team in the country today, the Stars are a combination of Negro stars who tour the world, making fans laugh.

The famous ball team will meet the McLean Jaycees on Feb. 25 at 8 p.m. in the municipal gym. Admission will be $1.50 for adults, $1 for students and 50 cents for children under 12.

When the name Harlem Stars is mentioned, hoop fans get ready for an evening of entertainment. Fans will see a fancy exhibition—razzle dazzle ball handling, intricate routines, both planned and impromptu comedy and all sorts of "shenanigans."

The Harlem Stars are unique in the fact they never try to run up a huge score against opponents. It is their policy to keep the game close, devoting much time to comedy stuff.

The Harlem Stars enjoy playing basketball every day even if they have to travel hundreds of miles to do so. The Stars began their season in Alaska the last week in September and will hit between 36 or 40 states and the following other countries: Mexico, Canada, Australia, Japan and some parts of Europe. The round horseshoe is the magic carpet that has taken these basketball jesters to all parts of the world.

Magicians is what owner, Boid Buie, calls them. Referring to his Harlem Stars when they begin their zany antics on the basketball court—razzle dazzle ball handling, intricate pass patterns, trick shooting, marathon dribbling and impromptu comedy antics—all go to make this the greatest show in the business. "Go Man Go" really describes the Harlem Stars when they are on the court.

Their policy is that "The World Is Our Audience." Send Them Home Laughing," and they can return for years to come.

SEVENTEEN DIDN'T DIE

"The Texas Department of Public Safety closed its 'Operation Death-watch' period of 10 days extending from 80 fatal crashes. Forty-three with 93 traffic deaths, 17 fewer than the estimated 110 traffic deaths," stated Sgt. J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol supervisor for this area.

These 93 traffic deaths resulted from 80 fatal crashes. Forty-three of these fatal accidents were one-car crashes resulting in 43 deaths. Thirty-two of these fatal accidents were two-car crashes resulting in 43 deaths. Four of these fatal accidents were three-car crashes resulting in six deaths. One of the fatal accidents was a seven-car crash resulting in one death.

Region Five recorded seven of these 93 traffic deaths; two were killed in Lamb County, one in Crosby County, one in Young County, one in Haskell County, one in Wheeler County and one in Hemphill County.

Of these 93 traffic deaths, 72 were males and 21 were females. The youngest person killed was a nine-month old infant and the oldest person killed was 84 years of age.

The veteran patrol supervisor said, "No doubt the evasive educational campaign undertaken wholeheartedly by the news media of the state, the cooperation of law enforcement agencies, and the willingness of hundreds of thousands who drove legally and defensively brought about this reduction of lives lost. I am sure this particular campaign and its results are clear and factual evidence of what can be done to reduce accidents and save lives."

Benefits Available For Elderly Persons

"We are looking for senior citizens 72 and over who are now eligible for a special monthly benefit," Hal Geldon, social security district manager in Amarillo, stated.

These are older men and women who were previously denied benefits because they had less than 6 quarters of coverage under social security. This is roughly about a year and a half of employment.

Now, men who are 76 or older and women 73 or older may receive $35 a month if they have 9 months of work under social security.

Men 75 need 4 quarters (about 1 year) of work under social security. Women, now 72, need 4 quarters, about a year. The woman who will be 72 in 1966 may qualify for the $35 monthly payment when she reaches that age with 5 quarters (1 1/4 years).

Some widows whose husbands had some social security credit may receive $35 monthly widow's benefits when they are 72.

Geldon suggested that persons 72 or older who think they meet these requirements should get in touch with the Amarillo social security office at 1006 Adams Street.

Mrs. Ben Chilton of Whittier, Calif., came last week to be with her mother, Mrs. Louie James, while she is in the hospital.

If you're looking for safety in numbers, try these figures on United States Savings Bonds.

The value of Savings Bonds adds up at a safe, steady rate. When your Bonds are held to maturity, you get back $4 for every $3 that you invest. And that interest is guaranteed.

Furthermore, you don't pay any state or local income tax on E Bond interest. The federal income tax may be deferred until you cash them. When you need the cash, your Bonds convert in a jiffy. But the best part of the Savings Bond quotation doesn't show up on the tables—the pride you can feel that your money is put to work helping to strengthen freedom's cause throughout the world.

It all adds up to the fact that United States Savings Bonds are a mighty hard-working investment. Millions of Americans have found Bonds the star-spangled way to save.

This is National Electrical Week, marking the 119th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Alva Edison. It was Edison's invention of the first practical incandescent lamp that gave birth to an industry that now employs more than three million men and women, or 1 out of every 20 American workers. Almost every industry owes its progress to the power produced by electricity for, truly, electricity powers progress.

NEWS OF CONSERVATION

By VAN MILLS

Location for an irrigation well was staked for Leon and Bill Bohr on their farm just northwest of Groom.

Monroe Seitz has completed a diversion on his farm just east of Laketon.

Now is a good time of the year for farmers and ranchers to determine what pastures they are going to control brush on. The advantage in profit of brush control pastures averaged $2.57 an acre annually at the Woodward Field Station. Where we have as much as 20 to 50 per cent of our rangeland covered with brush means that this much land is not producing what it should.

There are several reasons why brush controlled pastures produce more beef per acre than other pastures. It takes 350 to 400 pounds of water to produce a pound of blue grama grass. It takes 800 to 1,000 pounds of water to produce a pound of shiny oak. It takes 1,700 to 1,900 pounds of water to produce a pound of mesquite. We can see from the above figures that grass is a much more efficient user of water than brush. It is much more profitable to grow grass than brush.

The grazing use that the rancher makes following brush control will largely determine the success of his operations. If the plants are kept in vigorous, healthy condition, they will continue to produce high quality forage. If they are used too heavily, they will become weak and unproductive. A good stand of vigorous grasses will help to suppress brush.

PROPER GRAZING
Proper grazing of rangeland greatly influences net profit and continuing productivity of the land.

At the Woodward Experiment Station on heavily grazed pastures the per cent weaned calf crop was 81. On moderately grazed pastures the per cent weaned calf crop was 92.

The weaning weight of calves on the heavily grazed pastures was 404 pounds. The weaning weight of calves on moderately grazed pastures was 481 pounds per head. The net profit per acre was $2.46 on heavily grazed pastures and $2.92 per acre on moderately grazed pastures. Water intake rate was 2.27 inches per hour on heavily grazed pastures and 3.64 inches per hour on moderately grazed pastures. The desirable grasses were being grazed out on the heavily grazed pastures and gully erosion was taking place.

At the Spur Experiment Station in 156 days steers gained 163 pounds per head on moderately grazed pastures. The moderately grazed pastures produced 36 pounds of beef per acre. On the heavily grazed pastures the steers gained 110 pounds per head; the pastures produced 35 pounds of beef per acre.

One rancher said recently the weaning weight of his calves was about 460 pounds. After he leased the place out, the weaning weights of the calves dropped to 360 pounds per head under heavy stocking rate.

It does not matter whether you own or pay a high lease rate, heavy stocking does not pay. About half of the current year's growth should be left to feed the root system and keep the grass plant producing adequate forage for livestock production. Close grazing starves out the root system and reduces the plant's ability to produce food for itself and for livestock production.

Chevrolet-built cars win Four Performance Awards

Chevrolet-built cars out-performed their competition in four of eight classes at the recent Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona, Florida. Ellis J. Premo (above), Chevrolet's chief engineer, accepted the four trophies at an awards ceremony. While Chevrolet scored the most wins, other General Motors cars swept the rest of the classes. Sixty-two cars representing all U.S. auto manufacturers competed in the NASCAR-supervised trials. Class winners were determined by scores in fuel economy, acceleration and braking. All competing cars were selected at random and driven by professional drivers.

BANK NOTES by Malcolm

DID YOU KNOW...

GOLDEN AGES WERE THE FIRST MODERN BANKERS. AT FIRST, THEY ACCEPTED DEPOSITS MERELY FOR SAFEKEEPING, BUT EARLY IN THE 17TH CENTURY THEIR DEPOSIT RECEIPTS WERE CIRCULATING IN PLACE OF MONEY THEMSELVES AND SO BECAME THE FIRST BANK NOTES.

BEFORE THE U.S. MINT BEGAN OPERATIONS IN 1792, SEVERAL COIN PATTERNS WERE CONSIDERED. ONE OF THESE WAS INSCRIBED WITH TWO MOTOS: "LIBERTY, PARENT OF SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY," AND "TO BE ESTEEMED, BE USEFUL."

SMALL NOTES HAVE OCCASIONALLY BEEN USED TO SERVE IN PLACE OF COIN IN SHORT SUPPLY. A CENTURY AGO, FRACTIONAL U.S. NOTES CALLED "SHINPLASTERS" SERVED IN DENOMINATIONS FROM .54 TO .504.

OUT OF THE CAN

Dream of catching your own "canned" salmon? Well, if fishery biologists are successful in many states across the country, this seemingly unlikely event may come to pass.

The salmon in question is kokanee, a close cousin of the Pacific sockeye species, relate the fishing experts at Mercury outboards. While possessing certain traits common to the salmon tribe—especially table fare appeal—this diminutive salmon shuns seaward migration.

A freshwater dweller, the kokanee represents a bright hope in the fishing picture which becomes more challenging to biologists each year. With fingers crossed, experimental introductions are being made wherever suitable waters exist.

Kokanee are cold water lovers, preferring a temperature of around 55 degrees. In many recently constructed reservoirs, such conditions prevail. After spawning, which occurs every three or four years, kokanee die—characteristic of Pacific salmon.

Fishing for these tasty gamesters is largely done by trolling at favorable depths. A worm-baited hook preceded by weighted gang spinners has proven most productive in kokanee waters. Since they run in schools, where one is taken more action in the same spot usually results but handle with care; they possess extremely soft mouths and must be boated with caution.

Though most familiar in western states today, kokanee experiments are taking place elsewhere. With persistence and good fortune, the folks at Mercury say, there is a possibility that these savory fish may become fairly common across the land.

Kokanee may never replace the canned variety, but they'll be a welcome addition to every fishing family.

Motorists Urged To Get Inspection Sticker

Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety commended Texas motorists for their improving compliance with the Motor Vehicle Inspection Law.

"Already some 250,000 more vehicles are displaying the new inspection sticker than there were at the same time last year," he said. "This indicates that Texans are aware of the benefits of having their cars inspected early. Not only does it give each driver the assurance that his vehicle is mechanically sound, it also relieves him of the irritating necessity of having to wait in line as the April 15 deadline draws nearer."

During the summer of 1965, the DPS conducted its annual training program for all garage mechanics desiring to be qualified to inspect vehicles at authorized inspection stations. At that time, each mechanic was urged to request permission to inspect any vehicle whenever its owner brought it in for repairs or service. This technique has paid dividends in helping increase the number of vehicles inspected to over four per cent of the number inspected at this time last year.

"Those drivers who have not yet had their cars inspected should make plans to have it done as soon as possible," Garrison said. "And they should have no trouble locating an authorized inspection station. A new official standard sign has been issued each station, and is displayed near the service entrance where the inspection is made."

"It is easy to see," the DPS director said, "that lines will begin to form as the deadline draws nearer, for if a station inspects only four or five a day during the next month or so, then the load will increase to 15 or more per day as the owner brings his car in later."

In urging motorists to have their car inspected now, Garrison reminded them that when a mechanic asks for permission to inspect a vehicle he is attempting to have time for himself and the motorist.

Have You Considered Nursing as a Career?

Does a young person in your family want to become a nurse? Mostly aspiring nurses are young women, but sometimes young men also enter the profession.

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, advises counselors, parents and prospective nursing school students of four approaches to entering the nursing profession:

A four-year college or university program leading to a baccalaureate degree.

A three-year diploma or hospital program leading to a diploma.

A two-year community or junior college program leading to an associate in arts degree.

A 12-to-18-month program for practical nursing.

The baccalaureate and diploma school graduates are eligible to take examinations or licensure as an R. N. (registered nurse). The two-year junior college graduate is eligible to take examinations to become an R. N. in many states. The practical nurse graduate is eligible to take examinations for licensure as a licensed practical nurse (L. P. N.). Since licensure laws vary from state to state, the State Board of Examiners should be contacted in each state for full information on the requirements for taking an examination.

In all cases, the schools must offer a program in which both theory and planned clinical practice with patients in hospital settings, public health agencies and other institutions are provided for the students. These schools must meet the requirements of the State Board of Nurse Examiners.

The requirements include standards for theory, practice, faculty, preparation and other criteria related to the nursing profession. It is important that the school be approved by the National League for Nursing, the official accrediting agency for schools of nursing.

CANDY IN THE KITCHEN

Children love candy, and — let's face it — so do many grown folks. And old folks, too.

Ah, but dentists say that sweets are bad for teeth, and don't some nutritionists call them empty calories? Is there room for candy and sweets among the four food groups on which good nutrition is based? Or must we embrace a dietary austerity that turns its back on sweets completely.

The advice about the four food groups does not exclude other foods — it emphasizes the necessity for fulfilling dietary necessities first, and then allows for additions in the form of fats, sweets and other foods, up to a total food intake that does not cause undue gains in weight.

Excess Not Sensible

Eating candy and other sweets in excess, and neglecting the basic essential foods, doesn't make sense. Filling up with sweets just before a meal isn't smart, either.

But I see no necessity for being a kill-joy and eliminating all sweets, if they are used correctly — to finish a meal in which essential nutrients have been supplied, for an occasional snack, or to grace a festive occasion.

Indeed, candy and other sweets may not be entirely empty calories, when they contain nuts, fruits, peanut butter, cream, milk solids, butter, chocolate, cocoa or enriched flour. Sugar, for example, is useful as a source of quick energy, and even though it does not supply vitamins and minerals, this absence is not important if the basic foods are included in the over-all diet plan in adequate quantities.

Dentists' Objections

Dentists' objections to sticky sweets which cling to the teeth are valid, since these favor dental decay. The remedy for this is brushing the teeth or at least thoroughly rinsing the mouth as soon as possible after eating.

Eating should be an agreeable experience, not a dreaded chore. A good diet does not have to lack attractiveness; if it does, it will probably not be tolerated for long.

Sweets Add Interest

At the risk of going out on a dietetic limb, if there is such a thing, I am being so bold as to say that reasonable and moderate use of sweets to add interest to a nutritionally sound diet, plus careful mouth hygiene, is not only permissible, but desirable. Life is tough enough without making it more so.

only a 43 pound gain in 30 days or slightly less than 1½ pounds daily. The cost of this gain was slightly more than 299 cents per pound. The cost gain, the 90 days prior to Jan. 1 was about 19.5 cents per pound. Rogers said what had actually happened was the cattle probably had continued to put on 19.5 cents gains up to Jan. 15. They have barely held their weight the last 15 days of January. It cost about $1700 monthly to pay the room and board bill on this particular pen of cattle. It has actually cost the producer about $850 to hold the cattle at a static level the last two weeks of January.

A rancher with cattle on wheat pasture can pretty well estimate his losses as compared to the feed lot cattle since the snow had all the wheat covered.

Although we think the commercial feedlot offers a good opportunity to ranchers to finish their cattle, there are high risks assumed when the rancher enters one with cattle.

It could be compared to riding a motorcycle. It is dangerous enough as long as the operator is afraid of it. When you get to where you aren't scared of it, look out for a pitfall.

There are several local ranchers that are now feeding at the Triangle Ranch and Feed Co. lot. Most of them have done real well. We think more ranchers should look into the possibility. If you think the cattle feeder isn't making you a fair offer, go into the feed lot and try a pen.

WEATHER

We have had many people comment on our remarks regarding the negative side of the snow. Recently an area newspaper had a headline valuing the snow in the millions. They were thinking of the added moisture. Had the snow stayed in place, I doubt that over four-tenths of an inch of moisture would have soaked into the ground. But on the High Plains, the snow did not stay in place. Much of it stayed in place for over a week. Then last Sunday's high south wind deposited the major part of it in the bar ditches.

We stick with our original statement; the main benefit from the snow was not from the moisture added but from the protective insulation against freeze out freeze back.

In talking with Monroe Rogers, assistant manager of Moody Farms feed lot, he said the weather had cost cattle feeders thousands of dollars. He said some ranchers did not realize just how much cattle shrank. He cited an example of one pen of cattle that had been weighed on Jan. 1. The cattle weighed 572 pounds. On Jan. 31 the cattle weighed 615, making

NEWS OF CONSERVATION

By LYNN McDANIEL

Many ranchers think of deferring grazing as a loss of grazing. Research and experience show that deferred grazing increases the amount of grass produced. One experiment carried out on blue grama and buffalo grass showed the following result:

1. Ungrazed range produced 1,800 pounds of dry grass per acre.
2. Grass clipped off every six weeks produced 1,450 pounds of dry grass per acre.
3. Grass clipped every four weeks produced 1,300 pounds of grass per acre.
4. Grass clipped every three weeks produced 1,100 pounds of grass per acre.
5. Grass clipped every two weeks produced 575 pounds of grass per acre.

The reason that ungrazed grass produces more is that 95% of the weight of grass plants comes from the carbon, hydrogen, oxygen and water from the air. These elements are taken in through the leaves. The more leaves you have the more elements are taken in. Minerals from the soil make up about 5% of the weight of the plant.

Deferred grazing allows the low vigor plants to increase in size and build a strong root system. This is especially true following brush control where you have stunted low vigor grass plants.

Experience and research show that if you have two pastures that will safely carry 20 head per pasture the year round, the 40 head can be put in one pasture during the growing season and the other pasture can be deferred during the growing season. After the growing season, the 40 head can be put on the deferred pasture during the winter months.

TAX SAM SEZ:

A few years ago Internal Revenue reported that taxpayers were not paying several million dollars in income taxes they owed on interest and dividend income. Most of us are reporting our dividend and interest income nowadays. It's a good idea to check your interest and dividend income before you file that 1965 federal income tax return. Even the Savings & Loan Association dividends are taxable. A payment on time could keep the tax man from your door.

ROTUNDA, STATE CAPITOL
 Austin

When you visit the rotunda directly under the dome of the State Capitol in Austin you can see Texas in the past, present and future.

On the stone floor are the seals of Spain, Mexico, France, the Republic of Texas, the Confederacy and the United States. On the walls hang portraits of all Texas heads of state — presidents of the Republic and governors since 1846.

Then, looking some 300 feet straight up, one has an uninterrupted view inside the great dome. You can dream what the future has in store for Texas, as you lift your eyes.

Memories make Texans proud of their heritage. The present, too, is a challenge to continue Texas' great role in the affairs of our Nation. We all want our children to have a secure and safe future.

New Proof Of Age Required For S. S.

The Social Security Administration has established new requirements for proof of age for entitlement to social security monthly benefits.

Claimants must now submit the best proof of age available.

"The very best proof of age," according to Hal Geldon, Amarillo district manager, "would be a church or public record of birth made before the claimant's fifth birthday. Next best evidence of age would be any other record established before the person's 11th birthday."

"There will be cases," Geldon explained, "where a person will not be able to present proof of age recorded before his fifth or 11th birthday. When this is true, he will need to present two documents made after his 11th birthday."

"Many sources are used for proof of age. They include public school, church and census records. Others that may be considered would include hospital birth records, physician's or midwife's birth records, insurance policies, delayed birth certificates, marriage records and military records."

Geldon emphasized that his office is ready to advise and assist applicants in obtaining evidence that meets the new requirements.

FISHING LINES
By DICK WOLFF

To paraphrase the song, "For it's a Long, Long Time from New Year's Day until trout season" for most of us. When the cold winds of mid-winter drift the snow knee-deep in the driveway and even the dog isn't anxious to go out any more, the average fisherman becomes a little difficult to live with. He says crazy things like "It's the end of the world. Spring will never come again." Then it's time to think about a quick vacation to other climes.

Most people will head south. They take along their regular Mitchell and Ambassador fresh water fishing outfits and have a ball with bonefish in the Bahamas, barracuda in Bermuda, pompano in Palm Beach, or mackerel by Miami.

But — the angler looking for something different might consider going West or even North! The steelhead fishing is at its peak in the Pacific Northwest and the north border lakes country offers the best in ice fishing, as well as skiing, skating, ice-boating, and other winter sports.

Both the steelheader and ice fisherman will need a line which will not be effected by near-freezing water temperatures. We've always found Platyl monofilament perfect for these conditions. It doesn't stiffen up and turn brittle, like some. Garcia has just come out with a new monofilament called Bonny, which is even better, according to early reports.

Cold weather angling calls for special clothing like insulated boots, waders, and underwear. Hand warmers and "hot seats" make a lot of sense too.

Regardless of whether you head north or south, or stay in your own backyard during the cold months, the fisherman can usually enjoy his sport in some degree. Anything to help him endure those inactive months will be appreciated by those who have to live with him. Happy frostbite!

VA Gives Insurance Information

The Veterans Administration has received complaints that a private insurance company is distributing printed information in a campaign to sell its policies under the guise that they are GI insurance policies.

The material is mailed in a brown envelope similar to the type used by the Federal Government, Jack Coker, manager of the VA regional office in Waco, said.

He pointed out that the material, if read carefully, is not misleading. If, however, it is read quickly, the reader is led to believe that premium rates for the private policy are about the same as GI insurance.

The big difference, Coker said, is dividends paid over the years on GI insurance. The net GI premium is therefore considerably cheaper than that offered by the company distributing printed information.

VO officials in Washington have contacted the insurance commissioner of the state where the company is licensed and also given copies of material to the Federal Trade Commission for investigation and any action that the commission deems necessary.
