 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Texas Constitutional Convention delegates, bogged down again in debate, were told that, when they finally agree, they must get out and lead the campaign for a new constitution.

Louisiana Gov. Edwin Edwards and House Speaker E.L. Henry offered words of advice, comfort, cheer and condolences to their Texas neighbors concerning the business of constitution writing. Both had leading roles in adoption of a new Louisiana constitution early this year after a convention in 1973.

"You have got to take your document to the people, or it won't get done," Henry told the Texas delegates.

Special interest groups will reach their constituents, warned Edwards; so state officials must try to sell the new document drawn by the convention to average citizens who hold the swing votes.

At the same time, visiting Governor Edwards said it is highly doubtful the Louisiana revision would have been adopted had he not taken an active part in promoting it.

Meanwhile, Texas delegates had a bucketful of problems trying to get together on the judiciary article of their product. Merger of the Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals, right of appeal by the state in criminal cases and status of county judges proved the toughest items to compromise.

Even before agreement could be reached on the judiciary, delegates plunged on into the general provisions article which promised some of the convention's highest-voltage controversies over so-called state right-to-work provisions and other tough ones.

REPEATERS ARRESTED — More than 65 per cent of arrests recorded through criminal fingerprint cards last year had prior records, the Department of Public Safety reported.

Twenty-five per cent of the 273,180 arrests were of 17-19 year olds.

Criminal arrest fingerprint cards increased 21,510 in 1973 over 1972. An average of 1,019 cards a day was submitted by 635 different Texas agencies and 18 out-of-state agencies.

OIL CONSERVED — State agencies and colleges conserved the equivalent of 75,334 barrels of crude oil during March compared to the same month a year ago, the Governor's office calculates.

Overall state agency energy consumption declined 12 per cent for the month, according to a special energy report. Electricity use dropped seven percent, natural gas 12.2 per cent and gasoline 11.9 per cent, while "other" fuel use increased 3.9 per cent. The increase was due largely to conversion from gasoline-powered machinery and vehicles to diesel-powered units.

COURTS SPEAK — Cities cannot tax rolling stock of railroads, the Texas Supreme Court held.

At the same time, the High Court concluded that a doctor could not be held negligent for failure to order x-rays to detect a small chicken bone in a baby boy's lung.

A Jefferson County man, sentenced to 75 years for heroin sale, won a new trial because his lawyer was not allowed to impeach a state witness by bringing up a prior conviction.

The Supreme Court declined to hear arguments by attorneys for Elmer Wayne Henley Jr., accused of Houston sex slayings, on immediate transfer of the trial site from San Antonio.

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the conviction of Johnny Eduardo Swift, a black, for the killing of Hearn bank President H.C. Kelly, finding no racial discrimination in the grand jury commission.

A Dallas ex-policeman was turned down by the Court of Criminal Appeals in a bid for a new trial as an accomplice to murder, though the woman charged with the murder was acquitted.

homestead tax exemption where political subdivisions have approved, though they fail to so claim during rendition period, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

* The property tax for higher education does not expire in 1987 but extends for an indefinite period.

* Names of persons whose sentences for possession of marijuana have been commuted by the governor should be made public.

* The Department of Public Welfare is not precluded from negotiating a premium for its medical assistance program which can be expected to result in a reduction of the Medicaid reserve.

* Animal Health Commission records concerning an examination of cattle for brucellosis are subject to inspection by the owner, but it is not mandatory that the commission authenticate the records to make them admissible in a trial growing out of herd purchase.

* The Board of Pardons and Paroles can provide counsel for indigent prisoners whose parole is to be revoked.

* Legislative pay is not dependent on attendance, but mileage compensation is dependent on actual travel.

* Cities can regulate private sewage facilities.

* Commissioners courts may issue revenue bonds under the Clean Air Act.

* Lobbyists may file activities reports for their bosses.

"Command" Performance

Three days before concert time, a rock singer informed the promoter that he had changed his mind about doing the show. The promoter hastened into a local courtroom for help.

"I want a court order commanding him to perform," he said. "That is what he agreed to do when he signed his contract."

But the court denied the promoter's request. The court said it had no authority to force an unwilling man to sing.

This is the law's usual attitude with regard to contracts that call for personal service of one kind or another. Although the courts may award dollar damages for breach of contract, they generally won't force a singer to sing, a painter to paint, or a baseball player to play baseball.

Why? Because, say the courts, it would be too hard to tell whether the performer—acting under compulsion—was really doing a good job or was only going through the motions.

Furthermore, a forced performance is considered too close to involuntary servitude. Courts are reluctant, said one judge, to "turn contracts of service into contracts of slavery." (In that case, he refused to force a dancer to dance.)

Sometimes, however, a court will put indirect pressure on the performer by at least forbidding him to "do his thing" for anybody else. Thus, a basketball star who broke his contract was ordered by a court not to play for another team.

But even this lesser form of pressure is used only if the performer's services are unique—that is, if his employer cannot find a reasonably satisfactory substitute. For example:

A piano company went to court to prevent a disgruntled salesman from going to work for another firm. But the court decided that the circumstances did not justify such a drastic order. The court said the company was not facing any "irreparable harm," since it could hire another salesman to do pretty much the same job.

Month Long Bicycle Program Planned

Cub Scouts in this area are taking part in a month-long bicycle safety program in their packs and dens that will help the 8, 9, and 10-year-olds to know how to keep their bicycles in safe condition, to drive their bicycles safely, and to know traffic signs and rules of the road.

The major event for the 64 Cub Scout packs will be a bike rodeo later this month in each pack's neighborhood, according to William M. McElroy, Scout Executive, of the Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts of America.

"There is a big emphasis on bicycle safety in the Cub Scout program because bicycles are booming in popularity and because the accident statistics are alarming," McElroy said.

"More than 80 million people in America now drive bicycles, and most of them are children," McElroy said.

He explained that the word "Drive" is used because a person on a bicycle is not merely a rider, but he is a driver in the same sense as an auto driver. In addition to covering bicycle maintenance and safe-driving instruction, the Cub Scout bicycle safety program will include bike clinics and bike rodeos. The bike rodeo will include such events as stopping, reversing direction, signaling, changing direction by sound, quick direction changes, balance test, pedaling and braking, riding a straight path, changes in balance, maneuvering and emergency stop.

WHY VOTE?

Because it is your right as an American to vote — to express your opinion — to indicate your preference for the candidate or party — to have a voice in how your country will be run.

And your vote is important - - - for did you know three presidents were elected by a one vote margin in the Electoral College: that five of our states gained statehood by only one vote?

and may I add that as your candidate for Gray County Commissioner of Precinct 4 I would appreciate your vote Saturday, June 1st.

Thank You,

SANSAGE brush on the Milton Carpenter ranch was sprayed in the spring of 1973 to improve forage production of his grassland. Trees in background were not sprayed to maintain shade for livestock and cover for wildlife.

Sagebrush-Shinnery Robbing Moisture

Sand sagebrush and sand shinnery are robbing native grasslands of moisture according to Rodney Hyatt, soil conservationist. Both plants use at least four times as much water to produce one pound of forage, as do native grasses. The forage produced by brush generally is not grazed by livestock.

Where these plants shade 20% or more of an area, some method of control would be extremely beneficial. However, unless our moisture conditions improve, it is doubtful if aerial spraying with chemicals, will be beneficial in suppressing brush density this spring, Hyatt

THINK ABOUT THIS!

Matt. 25:1-13 The parable of the ten virgins. The main teaching in this parable is clear: Watch, be on the alert, Be ready when Jesus returns! The words "wise" and "foolish" describe two basic heart attitudes: One is Godly fear and love of the Lord evidenced in obedience and faithfulness; the other is a love of self that makes him unheeding and disobedient and spiritually blind. Matt 7:24-27 is an illustration of the two men who built their houses. One upon the rock and the other upon the sand. The wise man hears Christ's words and acts upon them; the foolish man does not heed and obey them.

Because the bridegroom excludes the five foolish virgins and says "I know you not," We may conclude that they represent professing believers who actually are not really born again. They were not filled with the spirit themselves. They took no oil.

They were rejected for their foolish indifference. Whatever light their lamps gave forth for awhile, whatever testimony the foolish virgins may have had, was a result of a "borrowed" religious experience. They expected to get more oil from their associates.

Do you depend on getting your oil from others or do you directly seek the lord through prayer and daily devotions in Bible Study? Do you depend on him to supply your needs? (Phil. 4:19)

Eph. 5:18 is a command, "Be filled with the spirit." Bible study from 10:00 to 4:30 a.m., Sunday morning. Come and let us reason together. (Isaiah 1:18) Stewart's Religious Book Store Gladys Stewart

LITTLE BOY

Somehow men never quite seem able to get over being little boys. They can handle responsibility, but sometimes their spirits sink.

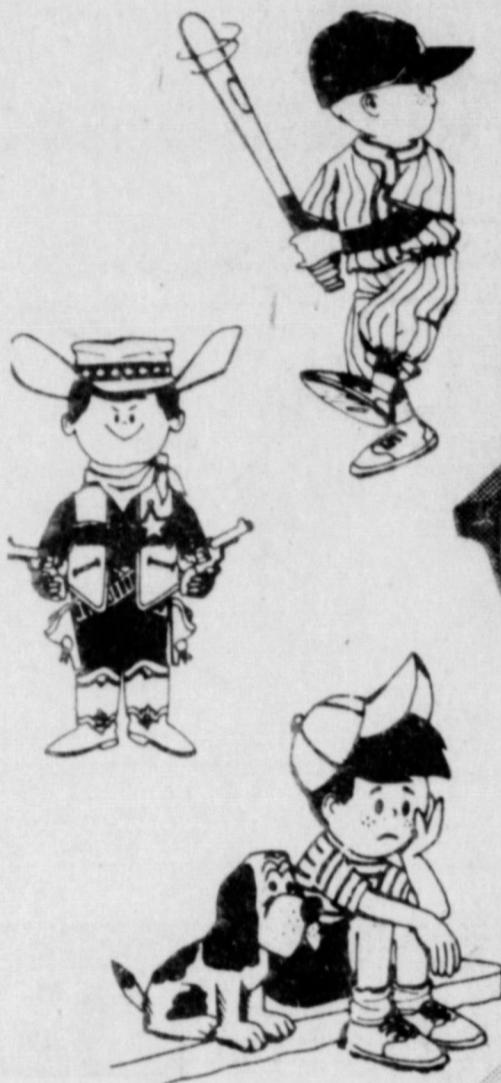

Cares can overtake a man. That's when he reverts into an unhappy, discouraged little boy. At times like these, his wife must strive to help, to understand.

A wise wife knows that the Church offers an answer to their problems. At church hope and faith are common, and friends abound.

There is something in regularly going to church that gives a person perspective, strength and faith.
