Sen. Hightower Asks Clearing of Use of Charter Aircraft

Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon has asked the attorney general for a ruling to "clear up" the confusion surrounding the use of charter aircraft by delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

Hightower is chairman of the Convention's Committee on Administration.

"The Committee, using guidelines set down by the comptroller's office, had been approving all travel vouchers early in the convention," Hightower pointed out.

He noted the Convention's advisory commission recently has refused to honor vouchers issued in by some delegates because they have been using charter planes.

Hightower asked Attorney General John Hill to clear up the legality of a delegate receiving reimbursement for chartering an airplane for travel to and from Austin for the purpose of attending the convention and returning home.

The Vernon Senator said the Administration Committee always has followed the letter and spirit of the law, and now that this question has arisen, we are simply seeking a ruling from the Attorney General as to what actually is the law."

Visitors in the E. M. Bailey home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Southern and Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Bailey and Allen of Plainview.

Former Resident Named C-Chairman At Amarillo College

A former McLean High School graduate, Mrs. Margie Railsback Garner, has been named co-chairman of the Department of Office Occupations at Amarillo College.

Mrs. Garner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.J. Railsback of McLean, earned both her Bachelor of Business Administration and Master of Business Administration degrees at West Texas State University. She has done additional graduate work at North Texas State University, West Texas State University, and Texas Tech University.

Mrs. Garner joined the faculty at Amarillo College in 1968 as a clerical/secretarial instructor in the Business Administration Department. The Business Occupations Department and the secretarial division of the Business Administration Department merged this past spring into one department--that of the Office Occupations Department.

In addition to the one- and two-year general office and secretarial programs, new programs in this department that will be available to the students beginning in the fall semester are: Medical Secretary, Legal Secretary, and Court Reporting. The Court Reporting program is the only such program offered in a Texas public supported community college.

The Office Occupations Department utilizes a very comprehensive Audio-Visual-Tutorial Laboratory (one of three such labs in the entire state of Texas) to enable the student to individualize his instruction. This lab uses sophisticated video-tape, slide-tape, cassette-tape equipment, -- but most importantly--it utilizes an instructor to assist the student at all times. Eight full time and six-part time instructors complete the Office Occupations Department faculty.

Mrs. Garner graduated from McLean High School in 1962. She is married to Dale Garner and they have two daughters, Julie and Susan.

Caprock Baptist Changes Name

Joe Riggins, pastor of the Caprock Baptist Church, stated that the members of the church have changed the name of the church from Caprock Baptist to Bible Baptist Church. They have purchased the building, which they are now in, which was the former Presbyterian Church at third and Gray Street. The pastor extends a welcome to everyone to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnie Mer-tel visited in Houston this week with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Phillips.

Former Residents In "Texas"

Residents of McLean have close connections with "Texas", the musical drama of the Texas Panhandle written by Paul Green, which plays in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park nightly except Sunday through August 24. This is the spectacular story of the area in the 1880's which has played to more than 600,000 people.

The members of the company with roots in the McLean area are: Lynn and Cheryl Richardson who sing in "TEXAS" are the nieces of Bob Hawkins; Carol Coleman of the hospitality crew formerly lived in McLean with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. John Coleman; The grandparents of Joe Shannon Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. M.M. Shadid and Mr. and Mrs. H.W. Brooks, were old settlers in McLean.

Local Youths Involved In Vandalism Acts

Four local youths were taken into custody last Friday night by Wheeler county authorities for throwing rocks and other destructive articles off of an overpass east of McLean onto passing vehicles.

Such violations have been occurring for almost a year according to local officials without any individuals being caught. Reports that rocks, bottles, and fireworks were tossed onto passing vehicles causing damages as serious as broken windshields have been received.

According to lawmen, persons who engage in such violence are not only responsible for damage to an auto but for also resulting wrecks and injuries.

Trew Baby Wins Contest

Jan Trew, 10-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Trew of McLean won first place in a baby contest at Darrrouzett, on July 7, in the birth-to-one year old category.

City Park Has Improvements

McLean City Council took more steps to improve the city park facilities at their most recent meeting. The group decided to replace tennis court fencing and to secure a piece of playground equipment.

As a part of the project, the restrooms have been repaired and four new picnic tables put into service in recent weeks.

Original plans had called for the creation of another double court financed by donations from individuals. However, estimates from builders priced the proposed courts at $14,000.

"We had received $700 in donations," said Mayor Sam Haynes, "but the price was completely out of our range so all the donations have been returned."

Gray Co. 4-H Dress Revue Held

Over 70 boys and girls participated in the 1974 Gray County 4-H Fashion Festival Thursday July 11, in St. Vincent's School Parish Hall, Pampa.

The entries modeled their garments before the judges Thursday morning and were judged in their respective divisions, junior, intermediate, and senior. Special judging by Gray County Bicentennial Committee on garments of red, white and blue was held and commemorative coins awarded during the fashion show that evening.

4-H ribbons were presented to all participants by Gray County agents.

The event climaxed one short month's work by the newly formed 4-H group from McLean. Of the approximate 10 members from McLean, Donna Willis was the sole competition due to the short work time and family vacations which interrupted the work.

Donna won a blue ribbon in her division on the dress she modeled. It was her first sewing attempt and we are very proud of her accomplishments.

The leaders and members wish to give special thanks to Martha Parker, Ruth Holmes and Billie Ward for their special interest and help to the group.

We are encouraging all members to finish their garments and are planning a local fashion show to recognize the hard work and accomplishments of all. Anyone interested in joining the club is invited to attend our next meeting, Tuesday July 23, at 7:00 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Any interested adults are also urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Hardman of Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. Huey Hardman of Anaheim, Calif., spent last weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A.N. Hardman.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

The age-old warning of "let the buyer beware" has a new ring when it comes to product safety, for now there are government agencies looking out for your best interests.

Emphasis was given consumer protection by the "torch weater" incidents of the early fifties. These soft, furry-like weaters literally exploded into flames at the drop of a cigarette ash.

Early-day flammability standards resulting from the weater dangers have been expanded to include a growing number of articles and substances potentially dangerous to the consumer which are used in and around the home.

They may range from children's nightwear and toys to such things as carpets and rugs, stairs and landings, power tools, pool slides, aluminum wiring, baby beds, bicycles, kitchen ranges and tents used in camping. A growing list of these household or personal-use products are contained in present or future product standards.

The State Health Department is active in many areas of health and consumer protection, as well as health and safety of those involved in many occupations.

If you have trouble opening the lid on an aspirin container or prescription drug it probably is a safety lid made to prevent its being opened by a child.

A federal ban on certain explosive type firecrackers was put off until after July Fourth celebrations, but the law is aimed at preventing such tragedies as the one which cost a 40-year-old man his food. A friend threw a silver salute at him and yelled. The victim stepped back onto the firecracker.

The US Product Safety Commission can cite thousands of painful--sometime fatal--incidents involving consumer products. Texas has its share. Based on nationwide emergency room treatment, the PSC estimates: 356,000 children and adults with injuries involving stairs, ramps and landings;

More than 50,000 injuries associated with power lawn mowers;

8,400 injuries from power hedge trimmers;

More than 20,000 injuries involving gas and electric kitchen ranges;

419,000 injuries in bicycle-related accidents.

These are just a part of the toll from use--or misuse of products. The State Health Department hopes that emphasis on consumer protection--and consumer education--can drastically reduce injuries and deaths.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Fresh" Clerk

Lois, shopping for sandals, paid no attention to the fact that she and the shoe clerk were alone in the store. But suddenly he seized her in a lustful embrace. Outraged, she struggled out of his grasp and escaped through the front door.

Her complaint afterward to the owner of the store got the man fired. Then Lois followed up with a damage suit against the owner himself.

"After all," she pointed out in court, "he was this fellow's employer. Surely an employer is responsible for the way his employees treat the public."

But the court turned down her claim. Reason: the salesman had acted not in the line of duty but for his own private gratification.

Generally speaking, you cannot hold management liable for an employee's misconduct if it was not related to his job. This rule has been applied not only to amorous advances but also to beatings, gunplay, defamation of character—even practical jokes.

Thus, a motorist who was sprayed with gasoline by a mischievous gas station attendant was denied compensation from the station proprietor. The court said:

"The attendant was employed to service automobiles and not to hose customers."

On the other hand, you may indeed have a claim if the employee, while doing his duty, simply overdid it. For example:

A bartender ejected a noisy patron with so much vigor that he broke the man's arm. Could the victim collect damages for his injury from the company that owned the tavern?

In this situation, the court ruled that he could hold the company legally liable. The difference was that ousting noisy customers was part of the bartender's regular duties. An employer must bear the responsibility, said the court, for the employee who does his job not wisely but too well.

AUSTIN, Tex.—Fitting together an acceptable constitutional revision package proved to be fully as thorny a job as the most pessimistic forecasters maintained.

Constitutional Convention delegates limped back to Austin this week to try again for a showdown two-thirds majority vote after rejecting 91-86 the initial submission proposal which they had stitched together piece-by-piece earlier.

Hang-ups ranged over a wide area—from the separate right-to-work proposition (which is bitterly opposed by organized labor) to internal provisions of the basic revision document.

Some persistent critics argued special interests had too big a hand in drafting the revision. Members of all factions disagreed over sections of the education article—including guaranteed equal opportunity and earmarked college building funds.

First approaches at compromise centered on efforts to eliminate some of the five "separate submission" items—that is, proposals not included in the basic revision.

$72 MILLION TEXAS SHARE—Texas received $72 million in federal revenue-sharing funds for the final quarter of fiscal 1974.

The state government's share is $24,260,347—the same as third quarter of fiscal '74.

Checks will go to all levels of government which are eligible for revenue-sharing funds. About $48 million will benefit cities, counties and other local units.

TEXAS DOMINANT — Texas still dominates the livestock industry on the basis of 1973 statistics.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said Texas last year produced more than twice as many cattle and calves as the second place state, Iowa — 16,250,000 head, compared to Iowa's 7,660,000.

Sheep and lamb production in Texas also topped the nation, and Texas ranked among the nation's top 10 dairy cattle states. Hog production in the state totalled 1,050,000 head in 1973.

HEARINGS BEGIN — First of 14 Texas Water Quality Board hearings began in Fort Worth and Dallas last week in an effort to find a suitable way to dispose of toxic industrial wastes.

Testimony will also be taken in Beaumont, Port Arthur, Mexia, San Antonio, Pasadena, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, El Paso, Midland, Amarillo, Longview and Austin.

APPOINTMENTS—Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed Jerry W. Woodlock of Gainesville district attorney of the 235th district replacing Jim J. Hatcher of Gainesville who resigned. The district includes Jack, Wise and Cooke counties.

Briscoe named Sister Austin Cusimano of Waco and David A. Garrett of San Antonio to the Advisory Hospital Council and reappointed four present members.

AG OPINIONS — Financial records and information on employees' salaries in a school district are subject to public disclosure, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- The public has a right to examine and duplicate lists of registered voters who participated in a school board election.

- Hospitals will not lose their tax-exempt status due to incidental operation of a blood bank for public charity where no rent is charged.

- Information provided by banks to local tax assessor-collectors identifying stock-owners and size and value of their holdings is public record.

- State employees must complete 15 or 20 years of employment to qualify for 10 and 14 hours vacation time for each month on the job. Sick leave can be accumulated without limitation.

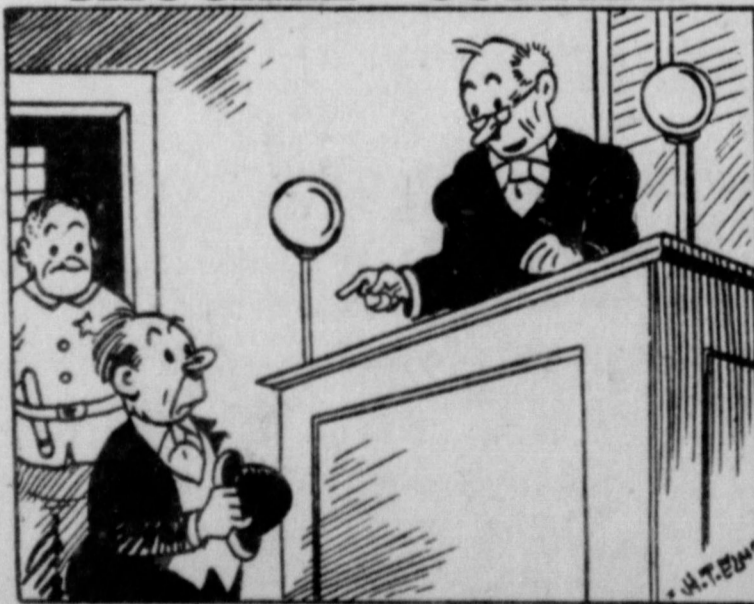

- Surplus maintenance tax receipts of school districts and junior colleges may be pledged as payment for certificates of indebtedness under law, whether or not the tax election occurred before or after effective date of the act.

- How student service fees are to be charged is decision for governing boards of each institution of higher education.

In other new cases, the High Court held:

A canny Scot was engaged in an argument with the conductor as to whether the fare was to be five or ten cents. Finally the disgusted conductor picked up the Scot's suitcase and tossed it off the train just as they were crossing a long bridge. "Hoot, man," screamed Sandy, "first you try to rob me and now you've drowned my little boy!"

A flashy character barged into a Miami saloon, demanded a double jigger of Scotch, downed it in one gulp, plunked a five-dollar bill on the bar, and walked out without another word. The bartender folded the five-spot carefully, pocketed it, and remarked to the barflies, "Can you beat a phony like that? Laps up a double Scotch, leaves a five-dollar tip, and beats it without paying."

A Texas friend mailed us this item about a rich rancher who had died leaving a stable of 17 fine horses to three sons. The will provided 1/2 of the horses to go to his eldest son, 1/3 to the middle son, and 1/6 to his youngest.

Needless to say, the boys were disconcerted. For that matter, so were we. Then came word that a local Solomon at probate succeeded in effecting a proper division without, mind you, converting the animals to horse-radish.

Two County Farms Finish Extension Conservation Work

Two farms in Gray County have completed an extensive program of conservation work. The farms are Hampton and Harnley farm and M & W Farms. The conservation work was done through the Great Plains Conservation Program administered by the Soil Conservation Service.

M & W Farms, owned by Rex McAnelly, began conservation work under the program in 1969. Practices completed include 15 acres land leveling, 3200 feet of diversions, 1 tailwater recovery systems, 7000 feet of underground irrigation pipeline, and shaping and seeding of a waterway.

An excellent program of management practices are used on the farm. Minimum tillage, an erosion control practice and fuel saver, is practiced on the M & W Farm. Irrigation water management is outstanding on the farm, since little water is wasted.

Hampton & Harnley farm, owned by Dr. R. M. Hampton and operated by Henry Harnley, entered a Great Plains conservation accomplishments on the farm include 75 acres of land leveling, 9600 feet underground irrigation pipeline, 2 tailwater recovery systems, shaping and seeding a waterway, and 500 feet of diversions.

Conservation measures such as crop residue use, irrigation water management, and conservation cropping systems are practiced on the farm.

Both farms are achieving their goal of producing more

Who Are Your Friends?

Who are your friends... what kinds of people do you find yourself wanting to make friends with, asks one specialist.

She's Dr. Jennie C. Kitching, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Your friends are probably those people who do the following things consistently and over a long period of time.

Can be depended upon to do what they say they will.

Go out of their way to help others through little acts of courtesies and consideration. Do not correct or laugh at other people's mistakes.

Show respect for others by not talking behind other people's backs, gossiping or telling lies, or being sarcastic or flattering others, and by being considerate of religious and political beliefs when they differ from another person's.

Are good listeners. Share honors and praise with those they work with-- in a group or on a team.

Don't talk a great deal about themselves or insist on having their own way all the time.

Always acknowledge gifts, answer letters that call for an acknowledgement and express gratitude when kindness is shown.

furnish both state and federal agencies with reliable data on numbers of nests, sizes of broods and a year-to-year census.

According to West, many of the early mallard and pintail ducks bagged by Texas hunters are thought to be home reared birds. A more complete picture of the population makeup will be in store as a result of a banding program planned for next year.

THINK ABOUT THIS!

For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing assender of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. Hebrews 4:12.

This is a story, told by an old man, taken from the book "I was Born Again," by Norman A. Winegert.

During the Civil War I was ward master in charge of the tents where soldiers lay dying from a flu epidemic. One night a very sick soldier lad not more than 17 years of age, looked at me pathetically and said "I am going to die. I am not a Christian. My parents are not Christians. I have never attended church or had any christian training. I did go to Sunday School one time and a woman read a story from the Bible about a man called Nicodemus. He went to Jesus one night. Jesus told this man he must be born again in order to go to heaven. I have never been born again. Get the chaplain so he can tell me how before I die."

In those days I called myself an Agnostic but I was nothing but an old sinner. I told the boy to be quiet and don't worry and you'll be all right. He looked at me out of sad eyes and told me to get the Doctor if I wouldn't get the chaplain. The Doctor cleared his throat for him, but I knew he was going to die.

An hour later I went back expecting to find the boy dead. He was still struggling. He said whether you believe or not, get me the Chaplain, I haven't been born again.

I decided to get the chaplain, but came back to tell him, "Now understand I don't know whether there is a God or not, but my mother thought so. If there is she is in heaven. I will tell you what my mother told me. You can try it and see if it works. She taught me a bible verse, John 3:16; repeat this after me, For God so loved the world, he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in him shall not perish, but have everlasting life." He repeated after me this scripture. I tried to tell him another on but he had closed his eyes, stretched his hand across his chest and in a whisper he slowly quoted it again.

Then he stopped and said with a clear voice, "Praise God wardmaster, It works." I believe in him! I shall not perish! I have everlasting life! I have been born again! Your mother was right. Why don't you try it? This thing really works! Before I go I want to ask you to take a kiss to my mother and tell her what you told me. Tell her that her dying son said "It works."

The lad was right. It does work! It works! I know it works!
