Groom Nudges McLean 12-6

Friday night's clash of the Tigers left host Groom on top of McLean, 12-6 after a grueling, 48-minute cat fight. McLean not only lost the ballgame, but lost starting senior tailback, Randall Wynn for the season. Wynn suffered a broken arm in the middle of the second quarter while trying to brace himself for a hard fall. "Losing Randall was detrimental to our team. He is a fine player and we were able to use him in a lot of key situations," said coach Joe Riley. "However, we are such a closely-knit team, that it only took a few minutes for the boys to regroup and take charge. Kevin McDowell stepped in for Randall and did us a fine job," he said.

Groom took advantage of the Tiger's misfortune and six plays after the mishap, quarterback Jeff Britten hit Wesley English for a 30-yard touchdown pass. Ted Britten, trying for the conversion, was sacked and fumbled the ball, leaving the score 6-0 with 5:37 left in the half.

The two teams finished the half clawing and scratching for every inch. See TIGERS, Page 2

County Deeds Hospital To McLean

Gray County transferred the title of McLean Hospital to the City of McLean at the county commissioners meeting Friday in Pampa. The warranty deed with a $200,000 non-interest bearing note secured by the deed of trust will be given to the City contingent on the county obtaining a release from Hospital Corporation of America and adjustments on any claims that may be outstanding with HCA's insurance company.

The note becomes due when and if the city of McLean transfers title of the hospital to another entity.

McLean Mayor George Terry told The McLean News Monday that Jerry Tipson at Futura has been contacted and that a contract between the City and Futura will be signed at the city council's regular meeting Oct. 11 at the City Hall. Terry said that Tipson reported that all the paper work was ready to submit to obtain a certificate of need for McLean Hospital.

Terry said that he hopes to have the hospital in operation by Match, 1984.

In other business, commissioners added $40,000 to help McLean pay for an ambulance to their proposed budget for 1984. The money will pay for the body, chassis, and box for a new ambulance for McLean. McLean Ambulance Association president Bill Thomas said that the association will equip the ambulance for about $30,000.

Thomas said that the association has one bid for the ambulance at $38,500 unequipped, but that the group was still checking before deciding on a vehicle. The city's ambulance is five years old, and will be retained with new overhead doors installed. Thomas said that some work was still to be done on the facility before the vehicles could be stored there.

The ambulance allotment is one of several items on the $3.7 million county budget for 1984. County Judge Carl Kennedy said that the commissioners will meet Oct. 11 at 9:30 for a tax increase hearing, and then meet again Oct. 14 to approve the budget.

Commissioners set the tax rate for 1984 at 18.2 cents per $100 evaluation. The rate for 1983 was 10 cents per $100.

"The rate for 1981 was 27.37 cents per $100 and we lowered the taxes last year so that the taxpayers could get their money back. We knew we would probably have to come back up somewhat with the rate this year," Kennedy said.

Cubs Come From Behind For Second District Win

The McLean Cubs, playing Dallas Cowboy-style, pulled another come-from-behind win Thursday night to take their second district victory of the season. McLean won 20-12 over the host Claude Colts.

Claude scored two touchdowns before Mc-Lean erased the zero on the scoreboard. The hosts made their first touchdown in the middle of the first quarter, but failed at the extra-point attempts. With about three minutes left in the second quarter, Claude scored again, making the score 12-0.

However, with just a few seconds left on the clock, McLean's Matt Sanderson ran 53 yards for the score. The PAT McLean took the kickoff at the beginning of the second half. On the third play, Sanderson again broke loose, this time for about 60 yards for the TD. Sanderson ran the extra point across and McLean was in the lead for the first time in the game at 14-12.

With four minutes left in the game, Lloyd Morris took the ball and ran 35 yards for the Cub's

Season Tickets On Sale

Season tickets for McLean Tiger fans will be available at the gate at tonight's (Thursday) junior high game, according to Ron Cummings, high school principal. The three-game tickets for reserved seats will sell for $7.50

Season ticket purchasers will find included in the ticket booklet an extra ticket, Cummings said. School officials had hoped to schedule another home game, but since that did not work, those who buy the football season tickets can use the extra ticket for one of the home basketball games during the middle of the season, Cummings said.

Cummings also said that Margaret Milam will be at the gate to deliver the booster jackets to fans who ordered them.

DPS Reports Two Wrecks

Two minor wrecks were reported in McLean last week by the Texas Department of Public Safety. DPS trooper John Holland said that the first wreck was Sept. 27 at 2:45 p.m. when Marshall C. Freeks of Kirkwood, Mo., allegedly went to sleep at the wheel of his 1979 Chevrolet. The car moved to the right, off the road and hit a pole. The incident occurred on Interstate 40 near the Cedar Street intersection. On Sept. 30 at 7:50 a.m., two McLean drivers collided near the intersection of Cedar and Fourth. Kenneth Pool of McLean, driving a 1979 Chevrolet, allegedly ran a yield sign at the intersection and hit the 1974 Chevrolet driven by Pamela Jean Phillips of McLean.

There were no injuries in either wreck.

Former Oakland Raider coach John Madden and I have something in common. The gigantic, burly Madden absolutely refuses to get on a commercial airplane. As a football announcer on network television now, he is forced to travel across the country every week, but he always takes the train.

He said in one interview that his fear of flying did not develop until he quit coaching and flying on charter planes. He speculated that the fear had come from the fact that he was no longer in control on a commercial airliner, but at the mercy of a crew of strangers.

He remarked during a game Sunday that he thought the most peculiar part of his well-known phobia was that most people could not resist telling him horror stories of their own narrow escapes on planes. For years I have noticed this same trend. If my fear of flying is mentioned during a conversation, most people will tell me how silly the fear is, how safe airplane travel is, how convenient flying is...and then begin reciting near mid-air collisions, tire blowouts on icy runways, loss of power in the air, and on and on.

I wonder what that peculiar trait of human nature is, or if it has a name. Have you ever noticed that some older women simply love detailing the horrors of childbirth to young pregnant women...and then assuring the terrified first-time mothers that "there's nothing to it"?

I've even noticed the same phenomenon with my pregnant dog! Little Ming Toi, our Shih Tzu female, is expecting her first litter of puppies any minute. She doesn't seem particularly worried, but since I have never midwived for a dog before, I've been petrified. I've quit mentioning that fear, however, because as sure as I do, I get a response something like this: "Don't worry, she can handle the delivery by herself...you just stay out of the way and leave her alone" and then they zap me with "Of course, when our Belchie had her first litter she had so many problems that...she had to have a Caesarian section...had to be rushed to the vet...scattered puppies over two blocks...howled and cried for days...ran away from home...refused to eat for a week...nearly died..."

Perhaps we humans are simply trying to soothe each other's fears, whether it is of childbirth, flying, or delivering puppies. And then we just can't resist the opportunity to prove to the fearful one how brave we were in a similar situation.

I just wish someone would ask me about white-water rafting. It's the only truly dangerous thing that I have ever done and enjoyed. I've got my speech all ready: "Oh, you'll love it. The river is beautiful, and the guides are efficient and thoughtful. It's a won- See DISTAFF, Page 2

Amendment No. 3

AUSTIN — For years Texas agriculture had available a method by which it could promote its goods; thereby creating more jobs in the industry and related industries such as finance, trucking, railroading, storage, processing and exporting.

However, a court decision in 1975 determined that the refundable self-assessment program constituted a "tax" and since farm products in the hands of producers are exempt from taxation, the court declared the program unconstitutional.

On November 8th, Texas voters will have the final say as to whether producer organizations of commodities such as wheat, cotton, corn, grain sorghum, soybeans and others can assess refundable fees on their own products in an effort to expand markets and sales of the products.

Those who favor the amendment say that it will help correct a problem which now finds 40 per cent of all crop land in Texas idle. They add that if new markets can be found and portions of this idle land can be put into production that in turn it will create thousands of new job opportunities in many industries throughout the state.

There would be no cost to the state. Assessments are made on the producers. Those who do not wish to participate can request a refund. Finally, it is the producers themselves who would vote on whether assessments should be levied.

Those who disagree with the proposal say that producers should not be required to contribute for promotion unless they want to contribute. They also say that since producer boards are quasi-governmental that they would be intervening in private enterprise and that the government does not promote other types of products.

If you want further information about the agricultural commodities amendment or any of the other 10 amendments, please write to me, Senator Bill Sarpalius at Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711.

of ground they covered, but neither was able to cross again into touch-down territory and the half ended with Groom leading 6-0.

When the second half began, Groom found themselves facing Tigers more determined to keep Groom out of their territory, and were forced time after time to punt the pigskin. Seniors Scott Stubbs, Elson Rice and junior Bill Billingsley chucked up among themselves more than 16 assist tackles, seven un-assisted tackles and two sacks. "I think we really caught Groom and a lot of people by surprise," said Riley. "One of our main goals this year has been to regain the respect of our peers, and we're doing that. We really have good leadership in so many different boys and that makes the jobs they have to do much easier."

Groom did manage to hit paydirt one more time, when Tim Weinheimer took the ball in on a seven-yard run. Ted Britten, this time trying for a two-point conversion, was unsuccessful, and the score, with 2:45 left in the third quarter, was Groom 12, McLean 0.

The Tigers, unstoppable, drove 69 yards before quarterback Elson Rice took the ball from Groom's one yard line into their endzone. The PAT was unsuccessful and with 6:14 left in the game, the scoreboard read 12-6, Groom.

McLean held Groom to 15 yards for the remainder of the game, but was unable to get a drive going or change the score. The game ended with Groom leading 12-6. "I know that as far as records go, this game will go down as a loss for us, but I don't feel so bad losing a game like this. We made Groom fight for everything they got. They know they've been in a fight - a tangle," said Riley. "In my opinion, Groom is one of the top two teams in the district. I think a lot of other people out there are going to be taken by surprise if they think we're going to be an easy game."

Governor Mark White REPORTS

AUSTIN — Recession in the oil and gas industry this past year brought home a clear, sobering message for Texas: We cannot remain economically dependent on this single industry. It is time to concentrate our efforts on expanding other Texas businesses and attracting new ones to provide the necessary diversity for a strong and stable economy.

In the face of sluggish demand and dropping prices for oil and gas, we learned just how dependent we have become. By mid-summer, 637,000 Texans were looking for work and state tax revenues, heavily tied to the oil and gas industry, declined sharply, leaving the state with a decrease in estimated revenue for 1984-85 of about $3 billion.

Not all our economic concerns are related to these diminishing energy resources. But even as the industry recovers economically, it will provide fewer and fewer jobs for Texans as we move toward the 21st Century. With our population growing at twice the national average, at least 160,000 people are entering the job market in Texas each year.

To meet this challenge, I have established the Governor's Office of Economic Development (OED), staffed by aggressive professionals working to broaden the markets for Texas products and services and to help Texas communities attract the kinds of new businesses they need and want.

This office will promote expansion of trade, particularly exports of Texas agricultural products, manufactured goods and services. Through careful planning and technical assistance, the OED can help minimize the risk to small businesses ready to expand into new markets and help identify high growth businesses and their corresponding foreign markets.

Studies show that 80 percent of our growth and new jobs are expected to come from expansion of existing businesses in Texas.

Currently, Texas lags third behind Florida and California in gross revenue from exports. With a concentrated trade expansion strategy, we can increase sales, create new jobs and rebuild this state's revenue base.

Attracting new businesses, which will improve a community's quality of life and tax base, has become a highly competitive enterprise. Not every Texas city and town has the resources and network to know what businesses to target.

The OED can provide local governments with needed background data on businesses looking to relocate. This office is developing a base of detailed economic and technical information to build a case for relocating to Texas.

Texas is a good place to live and work and, with a well-coordinated strategy at the state level, we can make our communities economically stronger and able to afford the quality schools, transportation systems and other public services which enrich our lives and provide a healthy future for our children.

Loose Marbles Sniffs Out The Quirks Of Aromatherapy

Most of us have, at one time or another, been astounded to read about some of the subjects of modern-day research. We've snickered at the scientist who studies the sex life of the tiddlywink, heehawed at the guy who is intensely curious about the effects of bad breath on a frog's mathematical abilities, and we've written scores of irate letters to our congressmen when we've heard that the government is underwriting efforts to discover if elephants are happy being gray and wrinkled. Now there is a study being conducted on aromatherapy, which should at least lift our spirits, if not our eyebrows.

Aromatherapy is a mood-altering remedy in which odors elevate mood, ease stress, help insure peaceful sleep, and increase attention. However, aromatherapy is not new, and those researchers who are spending someone's hard-earned cash to study it are barking up the wrong honeysuckle vine. It's not that aromas--aw, let's call them smells and get it over with--aren't effective. It's simply that the average human being has been aware of their influence since the first time a chocolate bar was waved under his nose. However, we may be at fault by not utilizing the power of smell to its fullest.

LOSE MARBLES

Let's say your eldest has just taken the family car without permission, and has driven most of the gas out of it before he carefully wraps it around the nearest stop sign. You are about to have a bug-eyed fit, and the thought that maybe capital punishment isn't all that bad is creeping into your poor, anger-infested brain. Chances are you considering doing something which the kid, at least, will be sorry for. Now if the aforementioned offspring really uses the power of smell as it was intended, he will whip your favorite candy bar out of his pocket, wave it under your nose, and claim that he had just sneaked out to buy you a surprise. You will melt in his hands, so to speak.

The smart household cook, whether male or female, knows that slow-fried onions produce an aroma to stimulate even the most stubborn taste buds. And if those onions are the only thing the chef produces, he or she can be assured of a relaxing dinner at a restaurant which serves big, thick, juicy steaks and pecan pie. There is not a human alive who can forgo dinner after he's been tempted by the smell of frying onions. And there aren't many household chefs who can't be uplifted, moodwise, by dinners they don't have to cook.

Perhaps because we know so much about aromatherapy already, those researchers should turn their attentions to a much more puzzling area--earotherapy. I, for one, would certainly like to know how a child who hasn't cleaned his ears since birth, who considers stereo headphones a necessary part of his normal wearing apparel, and who never manages to hear a teacher's homework assignment, can zero in on the vibrations of a candy bar hidden inside a box marked "wedding shoes." I was saving that candy for bank statement day, when I really could use a mood brightener. Of course, I was only going to smell it. (Shut up, hips.)

Onward, researchers

Dale Glasses Nominated For WT Honor

James Dale and Mary Lou Glass of McLean have been nominated as Parents of the Year at West Texas State University.

They have been nominated by their daughters, Terri, a sophomore majoring in mathematics education, and Jamie, a junior. They are among nine couples nominated.

Clinton and Billie Ray Williams of Panhandle, whose five children attended WTSU, were presented as Parents of the Year during halftime ceremonies of the Parents' Day football game on Sept. 24. The Williams also attended WTSU.

Of the six children in the Glass family, four have attended WTSU. In addition to Terri and Jamie, Maridale Glass Miller and Sherry Glass Kramer are recent graduates.

Dale and Mary Lou have attended each Parents' Day since 1977, according to the nomination form. Glass attended WTSU in the 1950s and his father attended in the early years of the university, wrote the daughters.

Terri and Jamie Glass also cited their parents' attendance at numerous reception banquets, graduation ceremonies, football games and concerts during the past several years.

Each of the four Glass daughters have been active in band at WTSU.

This is the sixth year for Parents' Day.

††† McLean will face Shamrock at Duncan Field on Oct. 19 in a Lion's Club flag football contest, it was announced this week. Johnny Haynes, president of the McLean Lions, said at the club's Tuesday luncheon that Shamrock had accepted a challenge from local members to play in the flag football game.

††† Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Medley of Skellytown were guests of honor at an open house in observance of their 39th wedding anniversary on Sunday afternoon Sept. 22. Hostesses were C. N. McCurley, Mrs. B. E. Phillips, Mrs. A. F. Cornelison and Mrs. Vester Cook. One daughter, Mrs. Zelona Guinn of McAllen, was unable to be present.

††† James Lynn Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Thompson, was honored with a birthday party Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 2, at the family home in observance of his sixth birthday. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served to the following guests: Denise Lamb, Kelly Davis, Kathy Raines, Velda Williams, Roger Mac Bowling, Kelly Marshall, and James' grandmother, Mrs. Janie Pittman of Hollis, Oklahoma.

30 YEARS AGO...
Lester Campbell, Ed.
Jackie Bentley, graduate of McLean High School, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bentley, former residents, is a member of the freshman football squad of Occidental College, Los Angeles, Calif. Bentley is listed on the roster as a backfield player. He now weighs 145 pounds, several pounds more than when he played in the backfield for the McLean Tigers two years ago.

††† A shortage of boll pullers already exists in the local area as cotton harvest gets under way. S. R. Jones, manager of the McLean Gin, said Wednesday. By Wednesday morning, 47 bales had been brought to the local gin for processing, and Jones stated that he expects an increase in the gin work daily.

††† The first meeting of the girl's 4-H Club for the 1953-54 year was held Sept. 24. Officers elected were: president - Nancy Tate, vice-president - Charlene Hall, secretary - Betty King, and reporter - Delores Ann Hauck.

††† Mr. and Mrs. James McClellan and family of Wellington spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lee and other relatives.

40 YEARS AGO...
Tiger Post... The freshman class elected it's officers Friday, Sept.

24th. Those elected were: President, Wanda Rae Allen; vice president, Robert Beall; secretary, Harold Richardson; treasurer, Dorothy Ann Goodson.

††† The national war fund committee has suggested the giving of two days wages by everyone as a conservative gift for everyone in the United States. McLean's part of the county quota was set on a population basis and is somewhat lower than some thought was proper, but there is no rule against going over the quota, which has always been a habit with McLean citizens.

††† It is to be regretted that another case of infantile paralysis has made it's appearance, but the health authorities, city council and school board are to be congratulated for their prompt action in taking precautions against a spread of the disease. This second case of the year was only about a mile distant from where the first one was reported, and both in Wheeler county, but the danger is evident when it is remembered that the child was in school Friday.

††† A quiz contest will be staged Monday evening at the USO hall, beginning at 8:30, between the McLean school teachers and enlisted men of the prisoner of war camp. The general public is invited.

50 YEARS AGO...
T. A. Landers, Ed.
Paul Mertel has opened a men's clothing shop in the Wilkerson building and is prepared to outfit men and boys in the latest style. Mr. Mertel has been associated with his father, John Mertel, in the clothing business here for a number of years, and is thoroughly familiar with the clothing business.

††† The Presbyterian Church at Magic City was dedicated Sunday by Rev. G. W. Fender, Synodical executive, and Rev. W. H. Bessire, Sunday school missionary. Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sitter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Erwin, Mrs. Sligar, Mrs. Ray and Laurence Bourland of McLean were present for the afternoon services.

††† Mrs. N. A. Greer entertained a group of little folk Saturday afternoon in honor of the 10th birthday of her daughter Peggy Marie. The honoree received several nice gifts. Refreshments of punch and cake were served to the following: Shirley Johnston, Laura Ellen Kunkel, John Byrd Guill, L. L. Smith, Jr., Bennie Mae Wade, John Kirby, Joe Charles Roberts, and the honoree.

††† News from Denworth... There were 36 present at Back Sunday school Sunday.

60 YEARS AGO...
T. A. Landers, Ed.
Miss Frankie Mae Upham gave a dinner Sunday, honoring the teachers of McLean school and Miss Mattie Patterson, county home demonstration agent. After the sumptuous feast at the noon hour, the guests spent the afternoon in a social good time.

††† W. C. Carpenter has invented an anti-freeze valve for windmills that has decided merit. Mr. Carpenter demonstrated the article for us Tuesday and ordered some printing done. A patent has been applied for and a supply of valves has been made to take care of the immediate demand for them.

††† A crowd of McLean people spent a very enjoyable time Monday evening at a chicken roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Veatch. After partaking of the nicely roasted chicken and steak, with the other fix-in's, the guests spent a pleasant hour in story telling and singing.

††† Alanreed school notes. The following students made the highest average in their respective grades for September. Low first grade - Mildred Guill, High first grade - Frank Hall, Second grade - Juandel Street, Third grade - Utah Darnell, Fourth grade - Casie Lee, Fifth grade - Houston Hall, Sixth grade - Lois Harris, Seventh grade - lone Ball, Eighth grade - Jewel Darnell, Ninth grade - Bernice Hall, Tenth grade - Ernest Jones.

70 YEARS AGO...

A. G. Richardson, Ed.
Through the active solicitation of Mayor J. T. Foster and members of the city council we will soon witness the construction of cement sidewalks along the east side of Main street from First to Railroad street. There will also be four crossings built at the intersection of Main and first, these latter at the expense of the city.

In The Kitchen

by Linda Haynes

October always brings the tarter, crisp apples to the stores. Although it's hard to beat a raw, crunchy apple for a snack, here are two recipes using those delicious fruits for a taste treat.

Apple Coconut Cake
3 cups flour
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
1 cup vegetable oil

3 eggs
2 1/4 cup sugar
2 tsp. vanilla extract
2 cups chopped pecans
3 cups peeled, chopped apples
1/2 cup flaked coconut
Glaze
Combine flour, soda, and salt; mix well and set aside.
Combine oil, eggs, sugar, and vanilla; beat at medium speed of electric mixer for 2 minutes. Add flour mixture; mix at low speed just until blended. Fold in pecans, apples, and coconut. (Batter will be stiff.)

Spoon into a greased and floured 10-inch tube pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour and 20 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Remove from pan, immediately drizzle glaze over cake.

Glaze: 1/2 cup light brown sugar, 1/4 cup milk, 1/2 cup butter or margarine.
Combine all ingredients in a heavy saucepan; bring to a full boil and cook, stirring constantly, for 2 minutes. Let cool to lukewarm.

Apple Nut Salad
2 eggs, well beaten
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup vinegar
6 large apples, peeled and diced
1 cup pecans, coarsely chopped
2 tablespoons whipping cream

Combine eggs, sugar, and vinegar; cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat, and beat until smooth, cool.

Combine apples and pecans. Add whipping cream to cooled egg mixture. Pour over the apple-pecan mixture; stir gently to mix.

ALANREED BRIEFS

The R. D. McLains were in Borger on Wednesday and returned daughter Brenda to her home after a visit to her brother Dan and family.

Mrs. Juanita McKee made several trips to Wellington last week for dental attention.

The Alanreed Home-maker's Club met Sept. 28 in the home of Polly Harrison for their usual meeting. Anita Bruce, President, opened the meeting with the roll call "My Favorite Recipe For Leftovers," and was answered by Anita Bruce, Lena Carter, Davie Gipson, Nell Keese, Polly Harrison and Donna Brauchi. Donna Brauchi, county agent, then gave the program on "Waste Not, Want Not". After refreshments of apple pie, coffee and punch were served by the hostess, a business session was held and the following officers were elected for 1984: President - Mary Davis, Vice-president - Davie Gipson, Sec./Treas. - Nell Keese, Council delegate - Lena Carter. One visitor, James Gipson, was also in attendance.

The Alanreed chapter of Community Improvement met Oct. 2nd in the school cafeteria. A covered-dish supper was enjoyed, and after a business session was held to re-organize the program, the following officers were named. Chairman Adelaide Welton; Vice chairman - Sid Keese; Sec./Treas. - Anita Bruce; and reporter - Lena Carter. A report sheet to be agent was prepared by Anita Bruce. About twenty persons were in attendance, and the next meeting will be the first Saturday in November.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baker of McLean visited the Robert Bruces on Sunday.

The R. L. Leaders had daughter Sharon and family of Clarendon visiting Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Sanderson of Booneville, Arkansas, are the proud parents of a baby girl born Oct. 1. She was 20 inches long and weighed 7 lbs., 5 1/2 ounces, and has black hair and brown eyes. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Astor Sanderson of Booneville, Ark., and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Daniels of Alanreed. Mr. and Mrs. Daniels made a trip to see them this week.

Getting Your Car Ready For Vacation Driving
If you want your car to get you where you're going on vacation this year, some safety and economy hints may help you to a carefree holiday.
Be sure the car has a good tune up before you start off. New spark plugs may be needed. The car should be lubricated. The oil changed. Brakes, windshield wipers, ignition, steering gear, lights and battery all should be checked.

In the old days, a Miss America here Was then to her parents so dear.
She grew up so mean The worst that I've seen.
Happy Birthday, old Annie, we jeer!
