Kathy's Korner

I hope you had a terrific Thanksgiving, as my family and I had. We shared good food, times, and memories with loved ones...what better way is there to spend the holidays?

Among the good "surprises" I received during the holidays was a visit from Tommy Milam, who was home on leave from the Air Force. Somehow the few months Tom has been away have really changed him...he's slim, trim, hard-as-a-rock, and looks fantastic in his uniform!

He seemed to have shed the shy, younger Tommy, and uncovered a mature, confident man. He was also very proud of who he was and where he's going, and that was certainly refreshing!

I was as proud of him as if I were his mother...but I don't think Margaret would let me get that carried away!

I visited with Angie Wilson, who was home over the holidays from McMurry College in Abilene. She had a few surprises for me, too...but none that are printable!

I was able to visit with several "old friends" who've gone off to college, but I missed one and I understand that's my good fortune, for apparently he had something tacky planned for me. However, lack of time (and perhaps the fact that Texas got beat!?) saved me from him.

Sorry, Allen...better luck Christmas!

When you're in a family the size of mine, it seems the children (when growing up) take certain roles and rarely get out of those roles, even when they finally reach adulthood.

Although I have an older brother and sister, I've always felt like a mother hen (a nice word for busy-body) towards the rest of the clan, and have often felt it my "duty" and "responsibility" to make sure they didn't go without too much...that no one hurt their feelings too severely...and if there was something I thought they really wanted (not necessarily needed) I tried to see that they got it.

Over the years, I've learned that's not the best thing a person can do for their siblings and I've tried to cut back, but the urge is one that's apparently slow to out-grow.

When one of them tries to reciprocate, I don't know how to act.

This weekend, sister Sally did something for me that is one of the most thoughtful acts I've known. To many, her gift of me might not mean much, but to me...well, I just can't describe how wonderful it is!

She presented me with a weekend in Dallas with her, and a ticket to the concert of one of my favorite performers.

To even think of bestowing a gift such as this is great, but for her to actually go through with it - to take the time and trouble to secure tickets and reservations is something I never expected.

I feel guilty because she has sacrificed her time and money to give me something that is sheer luxury for me, and I know what it's costing her...I feel apprehensive because I haven't

Alanreed-McLean Area Museum Receives $30,000 From M.K. Brown Foundation

Christmas came early for the board of directors of the Alanreed-McLean Area Museum, in the form of a $30,000 gift from the M.K. Brown Foundation.

According to Museum board member Ruth Magee, the board of directors had investigated the possibilities of purchasing a different building for the museum, and had accepted bids from area contractors for the purchase and renovation of local buildings. Contractors came up with the $30,000 figure, as the total cost for the renovation project, and M. K. Brown Foundation graciously met the expense for the bid.

"The money will be used to buy a building downtown curbuy a building downtown (currently owned by Johnnie F. Mertel), which is adjacent to a building already owned by the Alanreed-McLean Area Museum," explained Mrs. Magee. "These two buildings, when renovated, will provide much needed space for the preservation and expansion of the present museum items."

The M.K. Brown Foundation

was first contacted by Museum supporter Vera Back, who thought the foundation might be interested in helping the museum. Mrs. Back and Alice Shortsmith were two very active and dedicated founders of the museum, which became reality several years ago.

The late Mrs. Shortsmith left the museum with a donation in her will, and that money provides the cornerstone on which the museum operates.

The money received from the M.K. Brown Foundation will go strictly towards the renovation and preservation of the museum, according to museum officials.

It will not be used for the general operating of the museum, therefore, donations and memorials are still needed and greatly appreciated.

The renovation projects have not been awarded to any contractor, yet, as board members will gather to make their final decision soon. The buildings that will be renovated are located across the street from the museum's present site.

Changes Made In School Calendar

Some changes or corrections have been made to the school calendar, according to school superintendent Jim Rutherford.

The corrections include, students will attend school December 21, and return to school Jan. 2, and the school holiday scheduled for March 11-12, has tentatively been moved to March 14 and 15.

This last change is hinging in the definite dates of the Pampa Stock Show. Pampa officials had scheduled the stock show for March 11-12 at first, and have re-scheduled it for March 14 and 15.

Gadberrys To Be In McLean

Rev. and Mrs. Doyle Gadberry will return to McLean next week for another series of revival services. The Gadberrys were here in a revival effort in 1982 and at that time, set a date to return in 1984.

They both play the guitar and sing. They spent twenty-five years in pastoral work and have been in the evangelistic ministry for eleven years pulling their travel home from one side of this nation to the other.

For a resting point, they own a home in Norman, Okla., where Rev. Gadberry is Director of Fundamental Holiness Evangelistic Association, Inc.

Services will begin at 7:30 week nights and Sunday will host two services, an 11 a.m., and 7 p.m. service, in the Pentecostal Holiness Church, at 603 N. Commerce, beginning Dec. 4, through Dec. 9.

The Gadberrys have sermons and songs recorded and the public is invited to attend according to McLean Pastor, Archie Cooper.

Santa Claus To Visit McLean Children Saturday

Santa Claus will be making at least two trips to McLean before his annual Christmas Eve visit, according to local sponsors, the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, and the McLean Lions Club.

Santa will be in McLean from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday at the Gazebo in the Bank of Commerce parking lot with members of the Beta Sigma Phi.

Children can have their pictures made with Santa for $2, and give him an early start on preparing his Christmas list.

On December 22, the Lions Club has arranged with Santa another trip to McLean, this time to verify his Christmas "shopping" list. Santa will be arriving in McLean via fire-truck that Saturday, to dispense candy, fruit, and nuts to children, and to make any last-minute changes or additions to his Christmas list. If the weather is bad Dec. 22, Santa will be in the Lions Club building, located on main street, to see the children. He will be in town at 1 p.m. that day.

And, of course, Santa will make another appearance December 24, but children will not be able to visit with him.

County Veteran Officer Schedules Stop In McLean

He will be in City Hall from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Whittler's Bench

By Sam Hayes

I certainly hope all of you had as enjoyable a Thanksgiving as my family did. We were in Lubbock at my daughter Jenny's home where most of our family proceeded to eat entirely too much turkey, dressing, pumpkin and pecan pie and everything that goes with it on Thursday, and then entirely too much fried catfish and all the trimmings on Friday night.

Of course, another pleasant ingredient to the week's festivities was the fact that the Dallas Cowboys won another game.

Finishing Thanksgiving throws us headlong into the Christmas season, and I have never seen anything like the immense crowds shopping Friday in Lubbock. We were among those wandering around, pushing and shoving to look at things priced so high you couldn't believe it, with people buying everything from "Cabbage Patch" dolls to $2,500.00 Christmas trees!

It became more and more evident to me that we have lost the real meaning of Christmas amid the swirl of a flood of advertising, the desire to give our youngsters "things better than I had when I was young," the ever-more-expensive passion to keep up with the Joneses, and the bitter, bitter taste it leaves after the holidays when the credit card bills start coming in.

Maybe each of us can at least in some way make the birth of Jesus Christ a more important part of our families celebration by bringing it to the attention of all, the real reason for what has now turned into a commercial side show.

The boys here on the Whittler's Bench have decided we are going to shop with our merchants here in our fair city as possible and help spread Christmas cheer as much as possible among those in our own community.

I had thought I would attempt to buy my wife a set of weights, but I have had second thoughts about what the outcome might be if she got any stronger. Surely I can find something suitable here in town for her which won't be so potentially threatening to my own health.

Don't forget to use the schedules from last week's paper and attend all the Tiger-Tigerette-Cub and Cubette games that you can. They will appreciate your support and you might enjoy seeing friends and getting away from the TV for a change.

Check Safety To Make The Holidays Bright

- Before hanging strings of lights, spread them on the floor and check for frayed or bare wires, cracked insulation, loose connections, and damaged plugs or light sockets.
- Check extension cords for wear or damage and don't run them across walking areas.
- Test lights before putting them on the tree. Unplug them before making repairs or replacing bulbs.
- Overloading circuits with too many lights can cause fire. Follow manufacturer's instructions about the number of lights allowed on one circuit.
- Choose a fresh, green tree, trim its base and keep it in plenty of water. If the needles are brown and break off easily, it could be a fire risk.
- If you buy an artificial tree, make sure it has been tested for flammability by Underwriters Laboratories (UL).
- Place your tree away from the fireplace or other heat sources and out of the traffic pattern.
- Never string lights on a metallic tree. Light strings with damaged insulation can electrically charge a metallic tree. Instead, shine unattached colored floodlights or spotlights on the tree.
- Always turn off lights before leaving home or going to bed. You'll save money and be safer, too.
- Never use lighted candles on a tree or near evergreens. And don't burn evergreens in the fireplace.
- Do not use inside lights on the outside. All outside lighting equipment, including lights, cords and plugs, should be waterproof and made for outdoor use. Also, hang sockets downward and don't leave a socket empty.
- When hanging lights on the rooftop or in tall trees outdoors, stay clear of electrical lines. Make sure you or your decorations don't come in contact with them.
- Should you receive a CB radio or television this Christmas, let a qualified serviceman install the CB base unit or television antenna for you. This delicate job is best left to the professionals.
- Be sure electrical toys are tested for safety. Look for the UL mark.

Tigerettes, Tigers Split Games With Briscoe

Basketball season is underway for the Tigers and Tigerettes, with teams travelling to Briscoe last week and Samnorwood this week.

The Tigerettes were handed their first defeat of the season, losing 62-44 to Briscoe. McLean trailed 16-14 at the end of the first quarter, and by the end of the third quarter, Briscoe had stretched to a comfortable 17 point lead, winning the game 62-44.

Patricia Rodgers was high point for the Tigerettes with 12 points. Jem Ann Rice had 10, Lee Ann Tate had seven, Tanya Cummings had six, and Kristy Thompson had five, and Angie Reynolds and Wendy McDowell had two points each.

Also playing for the Tigerettes this year are Shawn Crockett, Samantha Harris, Kim Wiginton, Terri Lee, and Melanie Billingsley. Ms. Billingsley is currently side-lined with a shoulder injury.

The Tigers, however, started off on a winning note, handing Briscoe a 43-32 loss. The Tigers jumped out to a seven point lead by the end of the first quarter, and although Briscoe moved to within two points by the end of the third quarter, McLean held on to win the game 43-32.

High point for Briscoe were Mike Reynolds and Randy Hall with ten points each.

Junior High Roundballers Begin Play

After opening the basketball season against Hedley the junior high Cubs and Cubettes each lost a heart-breaking 26-25 squeaker to different opponents.

The Cubettes, coming off a sound victory over the Hedley Owls, met with defeat at the hands of the Claude Colts November 19, losing 26-25.

McLean found themselves trailing by six points at the end of the first quarter, and went into the dressing room at halftime trailing 17-10.

However, in the third quarter, the Cubettes, led by the sharp-shooting of Kim Beaver and Misty Magee, made seven points and held Claude to five closing the Colt lead to 22-17.

McLean's defense improved

even more in the fourth quarter, holding the Colts to four points, and hitting the boards offensively for eight points.

However, the combined team efforts of the Cubettes were not enough as Claude went on to win the game 26-25. Kim Beaver had 12 points, Misty Magee had 11 Dollie Haynes had 2 points. High scorer for Claude was Cindi Johnson with nine points.

The Cubettes returned to the victor's path November 26, when they travelled to Skellytown, and defeated them 31-18, to put their season record at 2-1.

Misty Magee had 10 points, Darla McAnear had seven, Kim Beaver had six, Alicia Reynolds had four, Dollie Haynes and Deana Billingsley had two each for the Cubettes. Mary Reeves of Skellytown had eleven points.

Completing the 1984-85 Cubette roster are Tiffany Lopez, Tina Cummings, Wendi Smith, Ronna Young, Cissy Dalton, Danna Watson, Mari French, and Sissy Barker.

In previous action, the Cubs lost 45-23 to the Claude round ballers.
