Woman Killed, Husband Hurt By Robbers

Pair Stop To Render Aid To Motorists, Woman Badly Beaten

MANCHESTER, Iowa (AP)—The battered body of Mrs. Reginald Tracy, 55, was found in an automobile near Manchester Thursday after her husband was taken to a hospital. Both were believed to be the victims of highwaymen. Tracy usually carried large sums of money. Before lapsing into unconsciousness, Tracy told officers he had stopped to assist four men on the highway. Two got in the car, told him to drive for gasoline. That was the last he remembered.

Brakes

People raised on farms recall as how there are more ways of killing a cat than choking it to death with butter. Two agencies of the government are working on that theory at the moment and seem to be quite well pleased with themselves.

Back in the last session of congress the Food & Drug administration fought valiantly but fruitlessly to get a new bill through congress which would bring Dr. Harvey W. Wiley's old pure food law up to date. Unfortunately for these crusaders for truth in advertising and protection of public health the name of Prof. Rexford Guy Tutwell, Undersecretary of Agriculture, got attached to the bill.

Tutwell at the time was the special target of all New Deal opposition. His long intimate identification with the proposed food and drug act gave it the kiss of death — to say nothing of the efforts of a million-dollar patent medicine lobby.

Very quietly, in the last four months, the Federal Trade Commission has taken on a big part of the job the Food & Drug administration would have liked to tackle. The trade commission always has had control over advertising wherever unfair trade practices are involved. And now, where the F & D administration can't get at certain manufacturers under its limited authority, the commission is giving them a whirl.

The Trade Commission started out whacking at such things as rheumatism and cancer cures, claims made in newspaper advertising and on the labels were held to be untrue and therefore unfair to competitors. "Cease and desist" orders have forced most of them to stop their injurious advertising in recent weeks.

Next, FTC moved in on the refueling machines and appliances, and finally stepped up to the biggest drug manufacturers whose advertising claims were a bit too glowing.

There is another side to this story, however. The manufacturers much prefer having the Federal Trade Commission regulate their sales claims than the Food & Drug administration. When F & D goes after a patent medicine producer a consignment of his stuff is seized and he is cited to the courts for trial. When FTC thinks advertising is too claimant it so notifies the advertiser. The latter then has an opportunity to come to Washington to argue the point. If he loses the argument he is merely told to cease and desist. He doesn't get into court unless he flouts the commission's order.

So it is a good bet that when congress convenes again and efforts are renewed to get a food and drug act through, you will hear the manufacturers' lobby shouting loudly to let the Trade Commission handle most of the situation.

JOHNSON GETS FLORAL TRIBUTE

Surrounded by many of his former employees, Hugh S. Johnson, after giving his valedictory as NRA administrator, was handed a large basket of flowers as tributes from those who worked under him during the 15 months he headed the recovery administration. ## Maps Of Region Near Kidnaping Site Are Found

NEW YORK (AP)—District Attorney Samuel Foley announced Thursday that investigators found maps of New Jersey, including the region in which Col. Charles Lindbergh's estate is located, and the region in Massachusetts where Lindbergh was sent on a futile mission after payment of $50,000 ransom, found in Bruno Richard Hauptmann's trunk.

Foley said Hauptmann had reproduced maps from memory during questioning "with remarkable accuracy." Also in the trunk, Foley said, he had found "nine German-American dictionaries, each of 1,000 words, which contained the more difficult words used in the Lindbergh ransom notes."

Hauptmann's criminal record in Germany, called by Detective Arthur Johnson, showed the prisoner had been sentenced on several charges there and once escaped jail.

A special panel of 150 has been drawn from which to select a jury to try Hauptmann on an extortion indictment October 11. Five psychiatrists prepared to conclude their mental test, begun Wednesday, of Hauptmann.

J. Dean And Gehrig Valuable Players

ST. LOUIS, (INS)—Dizzy Dean has been chosen as the most valuable player to his team during the season just closed by a committee of sports writers making the selection for the Sporting News.

Lou Gehrig, New York Yankee first baseman, was picked to be the most valuable player to his team in the American league. It is the third time that Gehrig has been honored as he was named in 1927 and 1931.

Dean obtained 87 points of a possible 64 in the National league and was the only player in either circuit who won the vote of all eight members of the committee. Gehrig got 51 points.

The supreme court set December 7th as date for the execution.

Mahon Asserts Nation Looks For Security

Congressman-Elect Addresses Kiwanis Club Here Thursday Noon

"It is time for the American people to start looking ahead, and stop looking behind, toward the years of security to come," George Mahon, newly elected congressman from the 19th district, told the Kiwanis Club Thursday noon when he spoke at their regular meeting in the Crawford Hotel.

He further told them "It is up to the churches, the civic clubs and other organizations to spread this gospel."

He compared the march of the United States toward prosperity and security to the Rio Grande River, in that it would veer off to the right or left but would keep its course directly to the Gulf.

He pointed out that if the Constitution were followed in choosing representative for the house that there would be more than four thousand congressmen. The constitution allows for one representative to every 30,000 people. The present average is about one for every 250,000 of population.

Mahon told the club members that only four states in the union had more congressmen than Texas, and that several Texas members were chairman of many important committees.

In opening his talk Mahon told the members that 13 years ago the Kiwanis Club of Abilene presented him with a gold watch as a prize for winning an oratorical contest and that he had carried it continuously ever since.

Betty Bob Ditts favored those present with a vocal selection and Dean Miller was presented in a clever dance number.

Jim Little had charge of the program which was prepared by George White.

Kleberg Request Denied By U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government Thursday denied a request of Representative Kleberg that ranchmen not be required to skin condemned sheep sold to federal agencies in the drought area.

The Texan contended that skinning such animals was uneconomical.

Texas Given Two Million For Relief

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Relief Administration Thursday allotted $2,339,000 to Texas for October. The administration said a supplemental allocation for general purposes, probably between one and two million, be made later.

Thursday's grant was divided: $1,647,000 for drought relief; transient relief $133,000; student aid, $37,000 and rural rehabilitation $500,000.

Sheep Buying Program Ends

5916 Ewes Have Been Purchased In Howard Co. During Campaign

Sheep buying in Howard county has been completed with purchase of 5,916 ewes.

Of this number 5,417 were condensed and killed on the ranges of 29 ranchers. The remaining 499 were shipped from here.

County quota was given at 6,390 at the outset of the purchasing program.

With more than five thousand ewes gone, total sheep inventory of the 20 sheepmen stands at 19,373, far above the number of sheep estimated for the county before the program began.

Cattle buying has been resumed in counties north, south and east of here, but local authorities are dubious that it will ever be started here again.

Borden county has an allotment of 1,000 head, Mitchell, 1,000, Glasscock 600, and Nolan 2,000. Counties to the east have heavier allotments of the 100,000 head to be brought in Texas in the final phase of the government's buying activity because the program started later in those counties than in those west of here.

Moore School Opening Set For Friday

Renovated Plant Has Auditorium And Gymnasium Additional Room

Opening of the new auditorium and gymnasium at Moore school house will be celebrated Friday 8 p. m. from the renovated school quarters, 5 miles north and one mile west of here.

A full evening of entertainment has been arranged in tribute to advances made by the school which got its start in 1906 when Sid Moore gave four acres of land for school purposes.

The school experienced a steady growth in enrollment and a corresponding expansion in building and equipment and addition to the teaching staff. Beginning as a one room school, two class room spaces were provided by a damin petition. A three room structure was constructed in 1916 and a fourth, together with an auditorium and gymnasium.

A new well and mill, with water piped to the plant, a teacherage and a light system to be installed soon complete the facilities of the school.

At the present time there are more than 100 students enrolled in the school.

President of the school board is W. L. Harrell. Other members of the body are R. M. Wheeler and A. K. Mayhew. The board has cooperated unselfishly in the development of the school.

Moore school has the distinction of having a man for president of the P. T. A. He is G. C. Broughton and he is one of two men presidents in the entire district. The Moore P. T. A. was aided in organization by Messrs. W. J. McAdams and Charles Kobert. It has 42 active members. Among its activities is the furnishing of 7 letter sweaters to basketball boys.

The school has made a good showing in interscholastic league activities, winning the rural title in both literary and athletic work. The school team was runner up in basketball.

Four teachers are now employed at the school. Two of them have taught together for 11 years. They are Miss Sarah Phillips, principal, and Miss Twila Lomax. Others are Miss Opal Creighton and Miss Marie Cook.

Miss Creighton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Creighton of Big Spring, graduated from high school here, attended college two years and is teaching first, second and third grade work.

Miss Cook is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cook of Moore community and graduated from high school here. She attended high school for two years and teaches in the sixth and seventh grades and has charge of dramatics.

Miss Lomax is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Lomax of Lomax community. She attended her first two terms at Moore. She also graduated from Big Spring high school and has attended two colleges, is now teaching the fourth and fifth grades and Spanish.

Miss Phillips is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips of Moore community. She attended school one year at Moore and took work in two colleges. She is also coach of athletics in addition to serving as principal. Both she and Miss Lomax are near their degrees.

School work will begin Monday and the school will work toward affiliation next term.

The program arranged for Friday evening includes music by the Moore band, readings from the board by R. M. Wheeler, history of Moore school by Miss Lomax, song by Carl Young, address by Mrs. Pauline Brigham, county superintendent and Garland A. Woodward.

Goslin Drives In Winning Tally

Thrilling 12 Inning Game Decided With 2 Walks And A Single

DETROIT—The Detroit Tigers came from behind in the second game of the world series Thursday afternoon and defeated the St. Louis Cardinals in a thrilling 12-inning game, featured by the air-tight pitching of Hallahan and Rowe, with the latter striking out seven batters during the game. The Cards went into the ninth inning leading, 2 to 1, when Fox, first up, singled, and was sacrificed to second by Rowe. C. Walker, batting for White, singled to center, tying the score, after an easy pop fly was allowed to fall between Collins and Delaney. It should have been an easy out, but Ed Delaney and Collins got mixed up on signals as to who was to take the ball. The game then went along until the twelfth inning, when Cochran, first up, struck out. Gehrig and Greenberg were walked by Bill Walker, who had relieved Hallahan in the ninth, and then Goose Goslin ended the game by scoring Gehrig with a neat single to left field.

The victory in today's game brings the series all square, with a victory each for the Cards and Tigers.

The teams left immediately after the game aboard a special train for St. Louis, where Friday they will meet in Sportsman's Park for the third game of the series.

Following is the play by play description of Thursday's game.

Detroit—White grounded out Collins to Hallahan, who covered first. Cochran grounded out to Collins unassisted. Gehrig was safe when Collins threw wild to Hallahan on first. Greenberg grounded out, Martin to Collins on the first ball pitched, retiring the side. No runs, no hits and one error.

SECOND INNING

St. Louis—Collins flied out to White in deep center field. Delaney singled through second. Delaney scored on Orsatti's three base hit. Roethlisberger popped out to Greenberg. Hallahan flied out to Fox who made a beautiful catch, retiring the side. One run, two hits and no errors.

Detroit—Goslin singled over second base. Rogell fouled out to Delaney back of the plate. Owen struck out, Fox fouled out to Delaney back of the plate, retiring the side. No runs, one hit and no errors.

GAME A HILL COUNTRY BUSINESS

Deer, turkey, and fish, the game resources of the Texas Hill country, rank with live stock and agriculture in cash returns. Thousands of sportsmen go to the section each year and either lease hunting rights by the year or pay $4 per day for the privilege of hunting.

One of the by-products of the Buchanan dam project, whose completion awaits an act of the legislature to create the state agency to have it in charge, has been pointed out by Cong. J. F. Buchanan, Mr. Buchanan, who as chairman of the national house appropriations committee holds the purse strings has committed himself to developing a federal game breeding area and a federal fish hatchery in the upper reaches of the Colorado river above Lake Buchanan as soon as the lake comes into being.

The plan means much to the sportsman of Texas. It means more to citizens of the upper Colorado country in attracting thousands of persons early and in assuring greater financial returns from the leasing of hunting rights.

Construction and operation of this hatchery and game sanctuary will create considerable employment for Texans, all to be paid for by the federal government.

STOPPING HOT OIL

The legislature agreed it was wise to give the railroad commission authority to stop the shipment of gasoline refined from illegal oil.

Yet it was unwilling to put this power into the hands of the commission immediately, and forced a 90-day delay in the effective date of the measure.

This reflects a strange trend of legislative reasoning. The lawmakers evidently had thought they curbed traffic in the products of

The Old Chuck Wagon

In days of the old West, when cowboys were away from home, every one of the riders of the range looked forward to and longed for the meeting of "the chuck wagon." These hardy men naturally looked for appetites that were hard to appease, but today one finds them bragging about the "grab" we serve at all of our coffee shops. They like our food, our service, and the reasonable prices which we charge. Meet them as they are away from home, look for a billion... opportunities for yourself the wonderful food we serve.

hot oil, as well as in the illegal oil itself; but on technicalities, the courts said not now. The same lawmakers say explicitly, they still regard such traffic unlawful, but that it will not be subject to punishment until Dec. 25.

A lot of hot oil can go through the state before Christmas.

But the same set of lawmakers, who alone can declare the legislative intent will be back this month. Perhaps they will decide not to continue as sponsors and authors of such a farce.

FURTHER WORK RELIEF

Governor Ferguson will call the legislature back, probably next week to act upon a group of measures chiefly designed as public improvement and work-creating programs.

The Port Arthur bridge construction bill deserves a place on the list. Governor Ferguson submitted it to the recent session. It was one of the many measures failing to get consideration then.

The state now has authority to build toll highway bridges, where no other kind can be financed. It does not have authority to contract with the public works administration to apply tolls to a repayment of a loan for such construction. That alone was the purpose of the Port Arthur bill.

The measure would enable the state highway commission, as requested by the commissioners court of Jefferson county, to borrow about $2,000,000 for the construction of a high bridge over the Neches ship channel, as part of the interstate highway through Orange to Galveston.

A large share of the cost would go to creating jobs, in a county whose unemployment and relief situation is acute. The measure was especially urged before legislative committees by Allan Shivers of Port Arthur senator-elect as one to provide work for men who want jobs and not the dot.

Governor Ferguson has pointed out if the legislature will set in motion a large-scale development and work program, it could be justified then in turning to the issue of appropriating $5,000,000 for a Texas Centennial. Her statement fits well for the Port Arthur bridge project as for many other worth ones in Texas.

SCIENCE ADVANCES TO DEATH!

It is not entirely without significance that the first bit of news from the annual meeting of the American Chemical society, at Cleveland, was announcement of a discovery of an exceptionally poisonous new gas.

This gas, according to Dr. George H. Clady, research chemist, is a fluorine compound somewhat like phosgene gas. It produces death if inhaled; furthermore, a blanket of it in a trench would explode, with disastrous result, if its temperature were raised slightly. All in all, it looks like a very neat little addition to the chemical warfare unit's arsenal.

Thus we have another scientific triumph—whose chief result will be to make it a little easier for us to help wipe the human race off the earth. The future is dark indeed, unless we can learn to use the discoveries of science for constructive ends.

TRAGIC PROMOTION

Acting Captain William F. Warren of the ill-fated liner Moro Castle, seems to have lived thru one of the strangest personal tragedies that any seafaring man could be called on to face.

Here was a man who had won a position as first officer on a large modern steamship. Being human, he was undoubtedly looking forward to the day when he himself might command such a vessel. He was the top of his profession. He had a right to dream his dreams of what would happen when he got to the top of the ladder.

Then, unexpectedly compressed into a few hours, came command—accompanied by the most overwhelming emergency responsibilities that can go with it. His captain dead, he himself put in charge, a sudden fire as mysterious as any in the annals of the sea, the ship lost and scores of passengers dead almost before he had time to realize that the command was his—did any sailor ever pass through a more tragically amazing set of circumstances?

UNDER BETTER CONTROL

It is reported that the Federal Trade commission is about to urge congress to give serious consideration to the federal licensing or incorporation of public utility holding companies; and if such recommendation is made, congress would be well advised to follow it very promptly.

Here is a reform that is long overdue.

It became obvious, some time ago, that the private citizen must have public utilities field. State regulatory bodies were set up everywhere to provide such protection; and when it became apparent that there were many far-flung firms they could not reach, a federal regulatory body was also instituted.

But the holding company frequently evades both federal and state regulation. Putting it under either a federal charter or a federal li-

Under The Dome

At Austin

By GORDON K. SHEARER

AUSTIN, (UP)—Texas really is going to have a "New Deal," the membership list for the 44th legislature shows.

The senate will have 10 new members at the start, and 11 after Sen. Nat Patton, Crockett, resigns to go to congress. Five old senators were re-elected. Two have resigned; two retired, running for other offices, and Sen. Walter Woodward, Houston, will be lieutenant governor.

House changes are more sweeping. Only 83 of the present 149 members have been assured reelection. If Bodo Holekamp, Boerne, defeats Alfred Petsch, Fredericksburg, in the general election, 83 will return. Holekamp is an Independent, Petsch, the Democratic nominee.

Thirty-four house members either "retired" by not running, or withdrawing after the first democratic primary. Two have been "promoted" to the senate. Thirty were defeated for re-election. One has died.

Senator Patton admits he would rather be a state senator drawing $10 a day pay than congressman-elect without pay. He will not resign from the senate until it is time for him to go to Washington.

The senate vacancy caused by resignation of Gus Russow, Schulenburg, has not been filled. The governor having failed to call an election in 20 days after the resignation, a district call can be issued. If there is a no special election the place will be vacant until L. J. Sulak, La Grange, takes a seat as member of the 44th legislature.

No court has decided who would be members of a special session of the legislature sitting between the general election in November and January following. When Chief Justice C. M. Cureton of the state supreme court was merely an assistant attorney general he advised that members elected in November could not qualify until the following January, but some able lawyers believe a member elected in November could demand a seat by presenting an

Goodyear Airwheels Used By Col. Turner

More than sturdy wing constructions and powerful engines are necessary in building fast speedsters of the air, according to Troy Gifford, local dealer for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

"Men such as Col. Roscoe Turner, whose dazzling speed across continents and around the pyramids of the race course is continually setting new records, depend on many things in addition to wings and engines," Mr. Gifford declared.

"Superior airmanship is required to handle these bullet-like racers, both in the air and during take-offs and landings. One of the most important considerations is being able to get the heavily-loaded ship off the ground and back to earth again—ad that is where Goodyear tires demonstrate their superiority, just as they do in everyday use on automobiles.

"The Goodyear Airwheels, used by Colonel Turner and other famous pilots absorb shocks of the landing field during the take-off, when the plane is gathering speed, and when even a small obstacle might prove disastrous were it not 'ironed out' by these huge soft rolling cushions of air. And again, approaching the ground at express-train speed, the tires take up shocks of landing and the Goodyear brakes give positive control when most needed.

"Colonel Turner, who won the Bendix race in 1933, and set a new transcontinental west-east record of 10 hours, 4 minutes and 55 seconds last year, lowered the transcontinental record by two minutes and also won the Thompson Trophy Race at the 1934 Cleveland National Air Races at a speed of 248 miles per hour—taking off and landing his ship in safety with Goodyear Airwheels."

TIGER ISLAND

By Gouverneur Morris

CHAPTER 32 HUMAN BAIT

A boy, Bowers had mixed fishing with shooting and had mended and even made rods. To wrap the gun with wire he used the same technique with which the joints of a fishing-rod are wrapped.

Layer succeeded layer until he felt sure that the pieces of the barrel, when it was burst, would not fly dangerously. He added many extra layers of wire to those already concealing the junction of the barrel and the breechblock, the real danger-point.

Five nights now passed when the tigers could be heard making angry lamentations in some part of the island or the other. Bowers may have been right about the new spring crop of goats and the careless mamma, but his ears told him that the tigers were not getting enough meat to content them.

Ivy's best efforts to capture one of the wild monkeys had been unsuccessful. They relished any food that was thrown them, they made great and on the whole ingratiating chattering and chattering, but neither she nor Helen could induce one of them to climb all the way up the notched palm trunk and submit to capture.

But one day Ivy came softly through the cave to the back door where, in the pleasant afternoon shadows, Bowers was whitening her spoon out of orangewood and said that the monkeys had come on a visit and she thought perhaps if she herself kept out of sight they might actually come on the ledge and play with Helen.

"If they'll only come once," she said, "and find that nothing awful happens to them, they'll repeat. Some of them in their hearts long to be tame monkeys."

After a while she stole back to the front of the cave to see if she had guessed right. What she discovered was the opposite of what she hoped. The wild monkeys had not yielded to Helen's invitations and handshakes. It was she, the had little egg, who had yielded to theirs.

Ivy was disappointed and at the same time she was more amused than troubled. It was not the first time that Helen, as Ivy expressed it, had listened to the "call of the wild."

She returned to Bowers and reported. He cut a delicate shaving from the handle of the spoon and thought "Helen! If not Helen, then what—?" and a smile flickered in the corners of his mouth, "who?"

That night the tigers paid a visit, but this time they came up through the back valley and kept a certain distance. Bowers' arrangement of heavy logs all ready to fall was viewed by them even in their ravenous state of hunger with profound suspicion.

To the question "Who?" there could be but one answer. No pig or goat was to be obtained. Helen had run off. Ivy was of course out of the question, and it seemed to Bowers that he himself was the only possible solution.

Two nights later, while Ivy was soundly sleeping, the opportunity offered. The moon was nearly full. Having looked out of the cave and seen nothing and heard nothing he had gone to his back.

He perceived the tigers almost at once. One was standing and one was lying. Their heads were turned in his direction. The one that was lying down growled and rose to its feet. The head looked thin and rang. Their ribs were prominent. Bowers fetched his gun and hammer-stone, to use on the safe side, also his ax and climbed down the notched ladder into the gully.

He believed in his deadfall. He believed himself to be in no more danger than if he had remained in the cave. Nevertheless, at finding himself on the same level with his enemies, his heart beat faster.

"Well," he thought, "here I am, a big lump of sound meat. Come and get it!"

Finally the female stepped one paw a little way into the network of shadows and then the other. Nothing happened. She looked nervously to the right and left and then upward. In the jungle she had never seen just such an arrangement of tree-stems and she did not like it.

Nevertheless, after another long period of balking, she made one more step forward; and then, her eyes on Bowers and the tip of her tail moving in spasmodic jerks, she began to creep slowly toward him.

She could have reached him with one bold leap. In building the deadfall he had not thought of this possibility. She looked for all the world as if she were getting ready to spring. He was badly frightened, but his head remained clear and his hands did not tremble too much. He calculated as well as he could where she would be toward the end of her spring. Holding the gun with his left hand, he directed the muzzle toward this imagined place and with his right hand grasped the hammer-stone with which to strike the firing-pin when the time came.

The muscles of the great gaunt she-beast were all tensed and quivering, but she did not spring. She tensed forward inch by inch until presently the first trigger obstructed her. She placed one forepaw lightly upon it. The first touch could not have broken an egg but as she continued to edge forward, the paw had to support weight, and suddenly the trigger gave way and in a moment she was broken and hurled under a ton of heavy timbers.

Now, of course, was the male's chance, but in the crash of the dead fall and the sound of his mate's one scream he forgot the hunger that tortured him and fled in an object panic of fear and with no more subtlety than a common house-

Quizzed In Slaying After Lindy Clues

Colorado officers and Omaha police questioned Charles W. cat when jumped by a dog.

The crash and the scream waked Ivy from her sound sleep. She hurried through the cave to the back door, stumbling, tripping and barking her shins in the darkness.

Bowers was already more than half way up the ladder. He was badly shaken and his nerves were jumping like fleas. He was panting as if he had been under water, and words came from him only in jerks.

"We got one . . . phew!" This was followed by a broken laugh. He leaned against the side of the cave and bit his lips.

"You're not hurt?"

His breath now came and went more smoothly.

"No," he said. "But was I scared!"

"What happened?"

Words and phrases now came easily and he told her full speed ahead.

"And so," he finished, "all we have to do is to build our trap again and wait until the male comes into it. Just now he probably thinks that he would rather starve to death. But he won't be strong enough to do that. Hunger will hurt him so that he'll be willing to try anything once. The yellow dog! Sending his wife in first to see what would happen! Then, if nothing had happened and she'd got me after taking all the risks, he'd have driven her off until he had eaten all the choice pieces."

They rebuilt the deadfall only to find, one morning, that it had been sprung during the night. Examination disclosed the crushed mangled body of McLeod's thirty-foot gibbon, which had swum ashore from the Bolinas.

Hitherto they had hardly given the great serpent a thought, but now they experienced retrospective thrills of horror. He could have coiled up their ladder and into the cave at any time, and without effort and crushed one or the other of them as they slept.

At the base of the gully where the volcano ash was loose and deep, they scraped a shallow pit and buried the remains of the pythons. When the deadfall was once more set, they thought, the odor of these remains, uncovered for the purpose would draw the remaining tiger into the trap.

But the remaining tiger was again ravenously hungry. He lurked in the neighborhood of the deadfall all the time they were rebuilding it, and behaved so menacingly that they laid and maintained a barrier of fire against him. Sometimes he came close to this fire and roared at them.

While Bowers toiled Ivy stood by with the gun and the hammer-stone ready to pass them to him if the need arose. This time he was working backward from the mouth of the gully in order to place at least a few heavy logs and one loosening trigger between them and the enemy.

But this necessitated certain changes and rearrangements, and what with this and the fact that he was working nearly all the time with one eye on a tiger, made progress slow.

SPORT LINES

The San Angelo-McCamey football game, originally scheduled for Oct. 27, has been shifted to the night of Friday, Oct. 26, in McCamey. The Upton county metropolitan has gone in for night football in a large way this fall. Prof. C. H. Kenley, San Angelo high school principal, says the night games are proving popular all around.

All of the schools are out for the money end. The Colorado Wolves are giving up most of their home games in order to take in a little more money. Colorado has never been much of a football town.

The Sweetwater Mustangs, decisively beaten by Abilene last week, are due to tear into Cisco Friday.

The Ponies apparently need much of a threat this year, but the Nolan County writer indicates they'll be a scrappy bunch: "The Mustangs are rounding into pretty good shape this week, having suffered no casualties in the Abilene game. Fans around the coffee counters are still talking about the fight exhibited by the Ponies in the Abilene game. All declare that they never have seen a spunkier team represent the Maroon and White."

Sweetwater's passing attack, which at times worked against the Eagles, may come in handy against Cisco.

We believe the shifting of Captain Bob Flowers to quarter in place of Cordill was a wise move, and will probably result in a somewhat smoother offense. Bob is a consistent well seasoned player with more experience than the majority of Steer regulars.

One of the writers lists the Texas league products figuring in the World series:

"No world series has ever found as many players known to the Texas league as in the conflict which opened Wednesday at Detroit. Each of the two teams has been built up largely through development of players at Texas league farm points."

At Beaumont, in Detroit's regular lineup Jo Jo White and Pete Fox of the outfield and Hank Greenberg at first earned their spurs at Beaumont, while the second string catcher, Ray Hayworth tolled at Shreveport and the utility infielders, Schube and Clifton, both were Beaumont graduates. Lynnwood Rowe and Eldon Auker of the slab regulars are Texas league products, as are Luke Hamlin and Elton Hostett, the former from Beaumont and the latter from Fort Worth.

On the Cardinals' roster are Pepper Martin at third, Ernie Orestil and Joe Medwick in the outfield and Dixie Dean, Bill Hallahan and Tex Carleton of the regular pitching staff Paul Dean also had a brief trial at Houston once upon a time, but he hardly can be listed as a true Houston product."

Ray Cantrell left Thursday afternoon for Clovis, New Mexico, where he went on business.

Badgers Open With Wolves

Conference Battle Slated For October 12 At McCamey

McCAMEY, (Sp.)—The McCamey Badgers will open the fight for Class A district honors here Friday night October 12 with the Colorado Wolves. The game will start at 8 p. m.

The game was originally scheduled for Colorado, but was changed because of prospects of a bigger gate at McCamey.

In a hard fought game last year Colorado eked out a 7 to 6 win over the Badgers, and from all reports the tilt this year will be equally as interesting.

McCamey will enter the game with four practice contests behind, while the Wolves have figured in only two games.

Devils Take Colorado 2nd

Daniels' Team Opens Season With Victory Here

In a snappy, interesting game, the Big Spring Devils, jr., football team, cavorted over the Colorado 2nd team here Wednesday afternoon, 18 to 6. It was the season opener for the Devils.

Both teams played hang-up ball. Daniels intends to match other games for his junior squad, which has a remarkable record on the grid.

Games Close In Ball Loop

Teams In League No. 3 Scrapped On Even Terms

All teams in softball league No. 3, of which the Herald Type Lice were declared champions, fought thru-out the season on about even terms.

This ran especially true in the playoff, with the champions deciding all their games by one run margins except the game played with the Kiwanians which The Herald won by the margin of 13-3.

The Type Lice were noosed out in the first game by a fighting Anderson bunch by the count of 8-7.

They returned in the next game to defeat the Linck Groceryman by the identical score, 8-7 and remain in the championship running.

The lice edged a run across in the final inning to gain a 6-5 decision over the Couden Oilers and successfully landed in the semi-finals.

The Newlies experienced an easy time in their semi-final tilt when they scored a one sided 12-2 victory over the Kiwanias.

In the finals, they managed to outlast the Linckmen for the second time in the series and gain the second one run victory over the Groceryman, this time by a 4-3 score.

Other than the Kiwanias-Herald tilt, there was only one game which could be called an even one, that between the Anderson Bards and the Couden Oilers.

The Bards amassed a total of 20 runs while the Coudenites failed in all their efforts to score.

The Carter Kneec Action "ten" showed the least resistance of any team in the circuit when they were eliminated in the two games. The Couden Oilers defeated them in the first tilt by the count of 6-5 and the Kiwanias aggregation stopped them from further play when they handed the Carterites a 5-2 licking.

Although playing in one less game than did the champions, the Anderson Music company team succeeded in scoring the most runs in the playoff series. Aided mainly by a twenty run spurge in a game with the Couden Oilers, they tallied a total of thirty-nine times in four games while The Herald came in second best with thirty-seven.

The Kiwanias, although figuring in three games, did not tally as many times as did the Carterites. The Clubmen scored only seven runs in three games while the Kneec Action boys counted eight times in two games.

There were two shutouts in the series, one registered by the Andersonites over the Couden Oilers and the other by Linck over the Kiwanias.

blocking assignments. Blocking and tackling practice, plus a long session of dummy scrimmage made up the work for the afternoon. On Tuesday the first three eleven were sent through a brief but hard scrimmage session in which all looked in good shape.

Coach Chevigny stated that every member of the squad slated for the trip was in good condition and that all were "rundy and eager" for the battle with the Hamburgs.

Steers Have Stiff Training Grinds

AUSTIN, (Sp.)—The University of Texas Steers had two of the stiffest workouts since the opening of their training grind on Monday and Tuesday, prior to their departure for South Bend on Wednesday morning.

Intensive signal drill was held Monday with emphasis placed on

AAA SAFETYGRAMS

OVERTAKING

WORLD'S CHAMPIONS!

The sensational and intricate football tactics of the world champion Chicago Bears, professional football team composed of such notable gridiron athletes as Red Grange, Bill Hewitt, Gene Ronson, "Bronco" Nagurski, Jack Manders, Carl Bromberg, "Ookie" Miller, "Bull" Doehring and others, will be shown on the screen at the Ritz theatre under title of "Pro Football," and as a unit of a super-special unit program featuring Grace Moore in "One Night of Love."

Mark Kelly, one of the country's outstanding sport writers, says: "The colleges have much to learn about the type of football that thrills. We have seen championship college teams turned out with regularity, and we have scoffed at pro football. But after watching the Chicago Bears for sixty minutes that we have come to the conclusion that where college teams end the Bears start with their bewildering offense."

The film shows the pros as super-footballers. They show colleges the way to scoring possibilities of super thrills that would make the sport infinitely more thrilling for the spectator.

All of the plays in "Pro Football" are shown at normal speed and in slow motion; and each play is described by Mc-Gee's inimitable commentator, Pete Smith.

Steers Mentor Says Team Looks OK Now

It happened! Yes, Steer coaches seem to think the high school football squad has hit the right track.

The big Bristow has been jubilantly informing interested parties that his team looks at last 500% better now than a week ago. "I've been believing they would snap out of their lethargy before long," Oble added, "and if they keep improving we'll be well on our way."

Bristow said that in spite of the odds leaning toward the Bowie Bears, he thought the Boves would up-set the dope at El Paso.

Not only has the team been exhibiting more flash in work-outs, but their mental attitude seems to have changed a bit. And it is hoped they will be so prepared physically that they can battle at top speed for full sixty minutes.

Another interesting development of late out at Steer stadium was Vines' sudden break into form. The big Vines boy, who has just been coasting along, could no doubt make a strong bid for an all-district guard berth with just a little effort.

One of the subs, Whisenhunt, is to replace Jones at a wing position on the starting "eleven." Jones has been almost lifeless in practice. James Stiff has been making a good fight at guard, and if he keeps improving for a week or two he may make it hot for some of the regulars.

In this respect they are taking over the work done in previous years by the Fire Boys.

They will paint, mend and repair almost any kind of toy or doll. The toys will then be given children who would otherwise do without.

The Bureau is located on lower Main Street near First street.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel some sick and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of pills, mixed water, or laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly great and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a new movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food gets stuck up in your stomach. You have a thick, but taste and your bowels in foul, sticky clots for hours. Your food sits in your stomach and you feel down and sore. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get the bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." The medicine wonderful, when it comes to making the bile flow freely. Don't trust for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name "Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. Great Drug Stores. © 1934 C. G. Carter.

Firemen Ladies Hear Quarterly Business

The Firemen Ladies engaged in a business session at their meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Woodman Hall. They cleared up business of the past quarter, heard financial and committee reports and appointed committees for the next quarter's work.

Mrs. Dora Sholte presided. Others present were: Mmes. Flora Jones, Ada Arnold, Ione Simmons, Feta Schult, Maude Miller, Martha Wade, Alice Mims, Minnie Burbee and Mrs. Smith.

BIRTH NOTICE
 Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Byers announce the arrival of a son Tuesday. The young man weighed 9 1/2 pounds.

Norvill Puckett has returned from Minneapolis, Minnesota, where he has been attending Dunn-woolde Institute.

Introducing:

MARIAN GORDON: A managing editor's command sent her flying to Reno. There she picked up not only the story he wanted but the chee she needed to expose a crook, save a husband and make her own future secure.

SILVER HOUND: To the editor—merely a good divorce-and-reconciliation story for her husband—a white flame... promise without fulfillment... beauty without warmth! to Marian—a spoiled and selfish creature who tried to bar her way.

LOV CASAD: Marian's fiance, but not entirely immune to Silver's wiles. Loyally Marian sticks to him so he has to have a man of trouble. Eventually it is his wife's intuition and detective work which keep them both from being overwheeled.

JIM McSWAIN: Silver's father, who plays the game in his own way which Marian, aided by tell-tale evidence which Silver has, unwittingly gives her, forces a showdown. There is much talk of crooked contracts—but McSwain finds a way out.

These are the four principal characters in reporter, who is assigned to an important political murder story because no one else is around to cover the yarn and he gets into more complications to the film-foot than a normal man would in a lifetime.

How Cromwell gets his story and also the girl is high entertainment. And, a sequence in which he battles the villain in the rumble seat of an automobile descending a mountain road at sixty miles an hour will give you a breath-taking thrill.

Cromwell is excellent as the cub reporter and Arline Judge, the girl who really starts him on his mad pursuits, is a clever and charming heroine. Rita La Roy, in the role of a "heavy" who helps Cromwell achieve his end, gives a splendid performance. Bradley Page, as usual, makes an excellent villain and Charles Wilson and Thomas Jackson, as the city editor and star reporter, add convincing portrayals.

Middle aged picture fans will be glad to see Crans Wilbur, an outstanding screen hero of the silent days, in the role of a candidate for mayor, who starts all the film trouble. Others in the cast are Henry Kolker and Purnell Pratt.

Albert Rogell is responsible for the direction of "Name the Woman" and he has done an excellent job. He has kept the action smooth and convincing and has interspersed the story with just the proper blending of comedy and romance.

Justamere Bridge Club Has Meeting

All Forsan high school students, but Seymour Ballard, are entitled to enter this contest.

The price of this paper, by mail, is fifty cents per month or three dollars and fifty cents per year.

The contestants will turn their money and list of subscribers, which have been sealed in an envelope, over to Seymour Ballard each Friday afternoon after school. Be sure and get the address of the subscriber correct; also be sure to Sunday a number of Chalk people went to an all-day singing at Water Valley.

A few Forsan Royal Neighbors went to the city park Tuesday evening on a picnic. Those enjoying this fine supper were, Messrs. and Mrs. Clemens, Parker, McElrath, Alston, and their children and Miss Ballard.

Rev. B. G. Richbough gave a reading of Wallace's "Ben Hur" Monday evening at the Chalk school house. This entertainment was sponsored by the Chalk P-T. A., therefore they received part of the money taken in. The P-T. A. sold candy and pop corn also.

Mr. Roy Jones of Ross City was moved to the Big Spring hospital Wednesday morning in the ambulance. He has never recovered from an appendix operation several months ago, and Wednesday morning he became worse.

BROWN NEWS

School opened again Monday morning after closing three weeks for the children to help with the cotton picking. Most all the children were back and glad to be back feeling they will do better studying after their hard work in the fields.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller were glad to be back in a West Texas schoolroom after spending most of their vacation in Wood county.

People hear are almost up with their cotton picking until frost opens the few bolls the last rains caused to put on.

Up to Monday the gin here had ginned 290 bales of cotton.

The farmers are now afraid this little late seed isn't going to be large enough to cut before the frost catches it as it is now suffering for rains.

The small grain patches here would look better if they could get rain soon.

The Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. W. H. Cardwell, Jr. Tuesday of last week as few knew of the meeting there was a small attendance yet they with the Home Demonstration agent Miss Miller did a bit of planning for the club achievement days that will be put on this fall. The next meeting will be an all-day meeting this Friday with Mrs. Roy Motley.

FIRE CHIEFS OF WORLD HEAR OF REPEAL DAMAGE

"Have Any Results from the Repeal of Prohibition Been Noted in the Fire Service?" was a pregnant subject for discussion at the sixty-second annual convention of the Chiefs at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, the last week of August, and the conclusion reached was that fire-fighting forces have suffered from increased intoxication in the months since repeal.

A strong witness against repeal was Dr. Ross B. Davis, head of the city fire department of Philadelphia, who declared that the effect of repeal has been detrimental to his men. Intoxication among the two thousand members of the Philadelphia fire forces, said Mr. Davis, as quoted by the Christian Science Monitor, was more than double for the first seven months under repeal, double what it was for the full twelve months of 1933, and also for 1932.

Charges covering all phases of misconduct, intoxication, absence without leave, insubordination, conduct unbecoming a fireman, disobedience of orders, assault and battery, and neglect of duty, have increased in Philadelphia recently, he said, and he read off a tabulation of comparative figures to support his statement.

Cases of intoxication alone, the figures revealed, jumped from 21 in 1932, and 18 in 1933, to 42 for the first seven months of 1934.

"In the greater number of these cases in all organizations studied," said Mr. Davis, "the men concerned were below the age of 32 years. This indicates that the men within the age limit of 32 years have had little experience with or sufficient knowledge of the pre-Prohibition saloon now displaced by the newer 'tap rooms'."

100% INCREASE IN DRINKING DRIVING IN PITTSBURGH

The blame for the 100 per cent increase in automobile accidents in Pittsburgh, Pa., for the first six months of 1934 was laid by Lewis W. McIntyre, city traffic engineer, directly on the increased drinking. Due to the fact that many pedestrians under the influence of liquor were also involved in the accidents, Mr. McIntyre said, as quoted by the press:

"The drunken driver problem is increasing with us. There was a time when we would say, if you must drink, don't drive. Now we must carry it still further, and tell pedestrians, 'if you must drink, don't walk'."

The 14 INCH RULE

...a measure of safety for your child's eyes!

IMPROPER lighting frequently causes a child to bring her book much closer to her eyes than the normal reading distance—which is 14 inches.

If this is allowed to continue it may lead to defective vision, and so we suggest that you observe the kind of light your child is reading under. Only the very best is good enough, because about three-fourths of all the knowledge she will acquire through life will come through her eyes.

You can help your child make progress in her studies and reduce the possibility of future eye trouble by paying attention to proper home lighting NOW. We will be only too glad to consult with you.
