Eleven Area Residents Win In Chambers First Drawing

Eleven area residents were winners in this year's first "McLean

Bucks and Prize Give-away" drawings, held downtown Saturday afternoon. The drawings, sponsored by the McLean Chamber of Commerce, are scheduled to be held every Saturday at 2 p.m. at the McLean Senior Citizen's Building. To be eligible for the drawings, customers must register at each participating store. Gift certificates in various amounts and merchandise are being given away each week by local merchants. Two people will be awarded $50 each in "McLean Bucks" each week. To be eligible for these drawings, residents not only have to register at each store, but must be present to accept the money. The "McLean Bucks" must also be spent at one or more of the participating businesses. This week's winners were, Marion Harkins, $10 gift certificate from Bentley's; Edna Taylor, gift certificate from McLean Hardware; Jimmy

Britten, dinner from the Cowboy Drive In; Rocky Bailey, 10 gallons of gas from L&P Station; Paul Macina, $10 gift certificate from McLean Hardware; Mullanax Men's Wear; Lois Bentley, poinsettia from Lamb's Flowers; Betty Skipper, $10 gift certificate from the Potpourri;

Mary Dwyer, merchandise from T.J.'s Western Wear; Mrs. Buster Cofer, $20 gift certificate from Corinne's Style Shop; Colleen Mertel, $50 in "McLean Bucks"; and Lisa Patman, $50 in "McLean Bucks."

Chamber Of Commerce To Sponsor Contest

The McLean Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring their annual 'House Decorating Contest', according to Chamber spokesman, Sharon Haynes. "We had several entries in the contest last year, and a lot of people went to a lot of trouble to decorate their homes. We hope to have as much participation this year," said Haynes. $50 will be awarded to the first-place winner, $30 to the second-place winner, and $20 to the third-place winner. There will not be a category for McLean businesses this year, due to poor participation last year. "We hope everyone will either enter their home in the contest or the home of a friend or neighbor," said Haynes.

"We believe when we have so much participation in the contest, it makes McLean truly beautiful, and helps to get everyone in the 'Christmas spirit', she said. To enter the contest, fill out the entry form in The McLean News, and mail it to the news office, or call the news at 779-2447.

Tigers, Tigerettes Overcome Samnorwood Eagles November 29

McLean High School roundballers met Samnorwood on the courts Nov. 29 and came home with two victories. Freshman Jem Ann Rice led the scoring for McLean in the battle, donating thirteen points. Maria Eck and Melanie Billingsley each had twelve points, and Lee Ann Tate made three.

The Tigerettes stayed even with Samnorwood, the first quarter ending 8-8, but began to outdistance them in the second quarter, and went in at half-time leading 18-10.

Samnorwood outscored the Tigerettes in the third quarter, making sixteen points to McLean's ten, but the Tigerettes still led the match 28-26.

The Tigerettes held Samnorwood to nine points in the last period, made twelve themselves, and ended the game on top, 40-37.

The Tigers battled

Samnorwood the entire game in a tight battle, but overcame them in the end, to win 51-49.

The end of the first quarter found the Tigers behind 10-13. At the end of the first half, however, the Tigers had evened the score, and both teams went in with 22 points apiece.

The end of the third quarter found McLean leading 39-34, and McLean held on to that lead the rest of the game, winning 51-49.

Martin Gately led the scoring with 23 points. Scott Stubbs had 14, Robert Swaner had six, and Darin Corley and Elson Rice each had four.

Lefors Bandits Lose Three Games To McLean Jr. High Teams

The junior high Cubs came away with three victories Monday night, when they hosted the Bandits from Lefors. The junior varsity girls sat out to avenge their previous 15-3 loss to the JV bandits, and defeated them 11-8. Cissy Dalton and Cindy Coleman led the scoring for the Cubettes with four points each. Wendi Smith donated three points to McLean's tally to finish out the scoring.

Angie Reynolds and Shandee Rice led the varsity girl's team to a 32-23 victory over the Lefors team. Reynolds had 13 points and Rice had eleven. McLean went ahead of Lefors in the first quarter 11-7, and never relinquished the lead. Terri Lee had six points and Misty Magee made two.

The varsity boys completed the perfect evening, when they defeated the bandits 25-18. Huey Green led the scoring with nine points. Jeff Parker had six, Sid Brass and Floyd Morris each had four and Kyle Woods made two points. The Cubs were behind the bandits in the first quarter 4-3, but caught up, and at the end of the first half, led 9-7. They stretched their lead to 17-11 in the third quarter, and ended the game 25-18.

The varsity Cubs and Cubettes will participate in the Lefors tournament this weekend. They will travel to Shamrock Dec. 12 to meet the Irishmen. The junior varsity girls will begin the games at 5:15.

Southwestern Bell Announces Project For McLean Customers

Southwestern Bell announced recently a $308,500 service improvement project for McLean.

According to Community Relations Manager Gary Stevens, the project will involve replacing most of the company's aerial cable in the city with buried cable—a total of more than 58,000 feet—beginning in mid-December.

Stevens noted that in addition to being more aesthetically pleasing, buried cable is less susceptible to storm damage, and as a result, the project will mean better service for telephone customers.

"With about three-quarters of the city served by buried cables, McLean should become one of the most trouble-free spots in the Pan handle," Stevens said.

"Of course, while construction crews are working on the project, motorists may experience some inconvenience, and we apologize for that,"

Stevens said. "But in the long run, McLean residents will benefit from more dependable telephone service."

Stevens said Southwestern Bell met with city officials to determine the least disruptive way to complete the construction. He said the company will make every effort to restore streets and yards to their original condition when the work is finished. The project is scheduled to be completed by the end of February, 1984.

Consolation Trophy Awarded To Tigers And Tigerettes

The Tigers and Tigerettes participated in their first tournament of the season when they travelled to Wellington, Dec. 1, 2, and 3. Both teams lost to host Wellington in their first games, and came away with consolation trophies.

The Tigerettes, led by Maria Eck with twelve points, found themselves ahead 7-6 at the end of the first quarter, and tied 16-16 at the end of the first half. At the end of the third quarter, the Tigerettes were behind 20-22, and the game ended with Wellington squeaking by, 37-36. Melanie Billingsley had eight points, Kristie Thompson, Jem Ann Rice, Lee Ann Tate, and Sharla Todd each had

In their second match, the Tigerettes defeated Lakeview 44-37. Leading 28-19 at the end of the first half, McLean outpaced Lakeview to come up with a victory.

Samnorwood was to be the victim of the Tigerette's third match. McLean jumped out to a 15-5 lead in the first quarter, and at halftime, led 28-16. The end of the third quarter found the Tigerettes leading 40-22, and McLean left Samnorwood behind, to win 50-32.

Maria Eck led the scoring with 24 points, Jem Ann Rice had 12, Melanie Billingsley had nine, and Kristie Thompson, Sharla Todd and Dedra Watson each had one point. The Tigers fell prey to the Wellington Sky-Rockets in their first match of the tournament, losing the battle 35-26.

McLean stayed neck-and-neck with the rockets throughout the game, until the fourth quarter, when the rockets began to out-distance the Tigers. Martin Gately had fourteen points, Scott Stubbs had four, and Robert Swaner, Elson Rice, Gregg Mann, and Randall Wynn each had two points. The Tigers were to repeat the Tigerette's actions, and win the remainder of their tournament games. Martin Gately, with 20 points, led the Tigers to a 51-31 victory over Lakeview.

Robert Swaner had 15 points, Scott Stubbs made ten, and Elson Rice had two.

The Whittler's Bench

By Sam Haynes

Just a few suggestions about what to do and what not to do while enjoying (or surviving) the numerous activities associated with the yuletide season.

Do establish some sort of exercise regimen to offset increased holiday eating, such as walking around your recliner twice during the half and at the conclusion of all the football bowl games.

Do not worry about being slightly late to meet your wife at the water fountain in the mall, you'll probably be there thirty minutes early anyway.

you have been wanting which you found in your favorite color and correct size, there is probably already one under the tree for you in a different color and size.

Do make the girl with the bell at the Salvation Army Stand smile by putting something in the bucket, it will no doubt make someone less fortunate smile by getting a hot Christmas meal.

Do check your wife's dress size so that you won't have a size 14 with her name on it when she wears a 10.

Do not wear your newest boots or shoes shopping, as such an error could render you permanently maimed.

Do participate in all the Christmas activities at your church and make the observance more meaningful for your entire family.

Do not mix up your presents on Christmas Eve if you are dating more than one boy or girl and are giving monogrammed sweaters.

And finally, do remember and pray for our servicemen here and overseas who will be lonely and possibly in danger as they represent us around the globe, through whose efforts we are now commanding at least some respect from cowardly terrorists and hostile governments around the world.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports Biting The Dog-Fighters

AUSTIN — Growing up at Boys Ranch you learn a lot about animals. Milking cows, riding horses, roping and all the other things involved in ranching provides an abiding appreciation of all animals.

It was therefore, especially meaningful to receive the Texas Humane Federation and the Texas Humane Information Network's "Humanitarian of the Year" award.

The award was for working to pass a dogfighting bill with severe penalties for those who promote or own dogs that are involved in staged fights.

The legislation makes it a third degree felony to promote a dogfight and provides for confiscation of vehicles and training devices used in the despicable sport. The new law has shut down dogfighting in Texas and stopped many cruelties to a large number of dogs.

Without the Humane Information Network, which alerted people all over the state to the merits of the bill and urged that they contact their legislators, the bill could never have become law.

An overwhelming number of people in this state deplore cruelty to animals and now that many of these people are involved in a network which alerts them to the legislative progress of humane animal bills, it is easier to secure passage of this type of legislation.

The Legislature responds to the people. The people would like to speak on these subjects, but without such a network of telephone callers to spread the word, often they don't know who to speak to or why they need to speak out.

All people who love animals should be grateful that there is a network throughout Texas to stand up to the issues and to help explain the people's story to the Legislature.

STATE SENATOR BILL SARPALIUS, center, was presented the "Texas Humanitarian of the Year" award by the two state organizations which promote protection of animals.

Man of the Shadows

Don Coldsmith, a physician who lives in Emporia, Kansas is the author of four previous novels in the "Spanish Bit" series, and was recently elected president of the Western writers of America.

This newest novel "Man of the Shadows," is at least up to the calibre of the previous very successful offerings, and will provide excellent entertainment for any western story buff.

When darkness has fallen on the prairie and the story fires are lit, young and old gathered to exchange stories of "how it came to be."

Among all tribes, the legendary supernatural figure of "Trickster" appears, and all the tribes have a name for him. For the Kiowa, he is "Uncle Saindi", for the Sioux, call him "Grandfather Iktomi", and if you are a Crow, "Old Man Coyote". His character, however, always remains the same—a whimsical, prankish old man who can hurt you or help you. The people call him "Old Man of the Shadows."

Eagle, a young warrior of the people, needs help. Separated from the tribe during a hunt, his leg broken, his horse gone, Eagle is wandering painfully in the darkness when he comes across an old man cooking meat over a small campfire. In the days to come, the old man watches over Eagle, giving him food, shelter and protection from wild animals as well as human enemies. The association between the two men in the days to come makes for a lively story rich in tradition and mysticism, and ever points toward this strange old man being the fable "Man of the Shadows." This superlative western is now available at Lovett Memorial Library.

Marbles Discovers Tension Prescription

It's a rare human being who can approach the yuletide season without feeling a bit of tension. The pressures of finding the extra money to buy gifts, of finding the right presents for your loved ones, and the extra cooking, cleaning, decorating, and card-sending are enough to send the sturdiest to the yahoo bin. I was discussing this with a neighbor the other day. This lady is cool, calm and collected in a crisis, so I wondered how she handled pre-Christmas tension.

"Simple," she said. "Throw something."
"Throw something?" I asked.
"That's right. Of course you have to do some selective throwing. I remember when I first discovered throwing, I wasn't really good at it. Once, when my husband and I were fighting at the breakfast table I threw a plate full of scrambled eggs. My aim was pretty shaky then, and the eggs somehow ended up on the ceiling, and the bumpy stuff that the ceilings had been sprayed with. Then I pouted, and the eggs dried up. It took me about six months to figure out how to get the eggs off the ceiling."
"How was that?" I inquired.
"Oh, we moved and let the new owners worry about it. But I learned a little bit about constructive throwing from that. The next time I got mad I was at the kitchen sink, peeling potatoes. Then, when my husband, the jerk, mouthed off, I just threw the potato, hard, into the sink."

"How did that turn out?"

"Not so great, actually. I hadn't taken into account the ricocheting factors of a wet, peeled potato. The spud bounced out of the sink, flew across the kitchen and broke the only piece of cut rather by accident. I was sectioning grapefruit halves for breakfast, when you-know-who started smarting off again. I don't know what came over me. I took a grapefruit half and threw it way across the room at him. It hit the wall about an inch above his head, then ever so slowly flipped right on top of his head, where all that nice, sticky juice ran all down his face. Hardly left a trace on the wall, and now he's real wary of any kind of fruit. You should have seen how he straightened up last summer when I brought home a watermelon. I keep him on his toes by letting him catch me throwing old rinds at a target pinned to the outside of the house."

If you folks doubt that throwing therapy works, take my word for it. Sometimes you don't even have to actually throw stuff. I simply told my family the story while I gazed lovingly at an overripe banana, and I haven't heard a disparaging word from them since.

glass I ever had. Of course that wasn't as bad as the time I threw the can of bacon grease and hit the wallpaper. That stuff is really hard to get out."
"And how did you get it out?" I inquired again.
"Oh, we found another house quite easily, really."

"It all seems like a lot of trouble to me."
"That's what I thought until I found grapefruit."
"Grapefruit?"
"Grapefruit--it's magnificent. I came across it
