Homecoming Plans Being Finalized

Plans for the Homecoming June 20th and 21th, are gradually being formulated. The most important thing right now is for the news to get to everybody. Let's spread the good word and unite Exstudents, Reunions, etc. into one bit Homecoming Celebration. We will be getting more news into the McLean News for you to see and to let your relatives and friends away from here know about, Cards giving the date have been sent to all former students whose addresses are known. Complete plans will also be sent about the first week of June. Mark your calendars now so people of McLean can spread out the Welcome Mat.

Rt. I Boxholders Need To Write Letters To Rep.

The U.S. Postal Service are proposing and planning to abolish Route One in Mc-Lean and have mail addressed . Department of Agriculture. would probably slow up the mail to the ones on this route by one or two days.

If you receive mail on Rt. 1 McLean and wish to continue receiving mail this way instead of receiving it addressed to Rt. 2 Shamrock it is imperative that you inform Congress man Jack Hightower of your wishes immediately.

It is important that you write a letter to Mr. Hightower and state in the letter how close you live to Mc-Lean and how far you live from Shamrock. Cooperation of everyone on this route may help the landowners in Gray have some bearing on the Postal Department's action concerning this change.

Address your letter to: Lee McMurtry Office of Rep. Jack Hightower 205 E. 5th, Room 310 Amarillo, Texas 79101

Soil Conservation To Celebrate 40th Anniversary

April 27, marks the 40th Anniversary of the Soil Conservation Service of the U.S.

Soil and Water Conservation Districts have grown beside the Soil Conservation Service, bringing a better life and future to everyone, a local conservation leader

Tony Smitherman, Chair-man of the Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District, said the SCS has been giving technical help to landowners here since

The Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District, organized November 13, 1945, was created to County develop needed conservation measures. SCS assists the district under a jointly-signed agreement.

"The Gray County District covers about 600, 000 acres with 620 operating units, said Smitherman. "About 530 landusers are planning and applying conservation practices on their land with the technical assistance of the Soil Conservation Service, " he said. SCS conservation professionals assisting the Gray County District are Perry Gruhlkey, Jim Roach, and David Polk.

The Soil and Water Conservation District, assisted by the Soil Conservation Service, are sponsors of various local programs including Red Deer Creek Watershed, McClellan Creek Watershed, Great Plains Conservation Program and the North Rolling Plains Resource Conservation and Development project.

Some outstanding achievements by landusers in Gray County since the formation of the District are construction of 463 ponds, 484, 695 ft. of diversions, 1,028,658 ft. of cross fences, and 500, 00 ft. of underground irrigation pipeline. Other accomplishments include 70,000 acres of brush management, 500,000 ft. of terraces, 368 livestock wells, 100,000 acres of pasture and range seeding, and 5,000 acres of irrigation land leveling. In the past 40 years, Gray County landusers have practic ed conservation and are producing more foods to feed the nation.

It is time for the Senior Prom and many young people Il have to make the choice of attending or not attendthe dance planned for you. Some of you will attend, tifying your actions with, "It only happens once in s lifetime and after I attend, I'll repent." A few will e no evil conscience about participating in the prom because a preacher can quote Scripture after Scripshowing God's total disapproval of such, your course not be altered. Let me share with you a true acunt of Johnny Thompson, now a gospel preacher, as told it. "I was going to the prom and I had thought out it for days and then decided to go. After all I ould be a senior but once. I well knew that informing parents would be most difficult for I was a minister's who had been taught all my life the problems and ngers involved in the modern dance. I decided to tell m at breakfast.

"Dad", I said, "Since I am a senior, I have decided to to the Senior Prom." I waited for his reply, but there only silence. I expected my father to take me to severely. I thought certainly mother would cry. still there was silence, a terrifying silence. Then father replied, "So you are going to the prom?"
"Yes sir", I said, "after all I'll be a senior only once." looked at me and then hung his head. Then he said rds I'll never forget: "Son, your mother and I have ed to teach you for the past sixteen years what is right what is wrong. We have done our best to bring you as a Christian young man. But you're right. Son, are a senior and almost grown. So if you have deled to attend the Senior Prom, go ahead, but please nember this: If the Lord should come and find you e, please tell Him that you came because YOU wantto not because WE sent you." These words shook me into reality. I then knew that lust overcome. I must not go. I have never regretted going, but continue to thank God that I was given strength to throw my influence fully behind the arch and its work in the community. Blessed is the n that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he Il receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath prosed to them that love Him' (James 1:12).

Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth, and let thy rt cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in ways of thy heart, and in the sight of thine eyes; know thou, that for all these things God will bring into judgment" (Eccl. 11:9).

Market Report

Spring's cantaloupe, asparagus and tomatoes are hitting Texas supermarkets, but pork prices are up this week.

"Higher pork prices are due to a lower supply; however, there are scattered features on Boston butt roasts, end chops, quarter-loin cut into chops, and liver -- and good values on smoked picnics and frankfurters, Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt reported.

The consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System, also noted that beef prices are still low.

Slow economic conditions and large cattle supplies likely will prevent any beef price increases for awhile.

Look for specials on chuck cuts, ground beef, liver and an assortment of steaks.

Fryer chickens offer good values -- mostly on whole birds Article Written and for eggs, the large size is the best value.

At fruit counters, economical choices include oranges, pineapple, apples and pears. Grapefruit supplies are dwindling, so prices are up.

Best buys on vegetables center on potatoes, cabbage, carrots, bulk turnips, rutagreen--collard, mustard and turnip.

Also, radish, tomato, cantaloupe and green onion supplies are increasing.

Asparagus should be in good supply for the next month or six weeks, but don't wait too long to buy it -- compare prices by weighing bunches. CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: In buying frankfurters, notice the package weight for price comparisons. Some packers use 14-ounce packs instead of full pounds.

Hobi Club Meets In Lankford Home

The Swa-Pa-Hobi Club met Tuesday, April 15 in the home of Ramah Lou Lankford, for their regular monthly meeting.

The meeting was called to order by president Virginia Tate. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and roll call answered by each member with "A Helpful Hint, " or a Bible verse.

Some visiting was done, then all assembled in the living room and had a "sing song, " then more visiting.

Refreshments were served to Freda Bailey, Lena Bailey, Loree Barker, Emily Rippy, Sophia Hutchinson, Bea Lester, Maggie Johnston, Maxine Gordon, Virginia Tate, Jerry Corbin, and two visitors of Jerry's, her grand-daughter Nacole Corbin and nephew Scott Modderman, and the hostess Ramah Lou. Next meeting will be in the home of Bea Lester.

Mrs. Lydia Ann Smith

On Former Resident hopes to work another five

A feature article appeared recently in the Amarillo Globe News, which was entitled Meet Your Neighbor, written by Bill Cox, Globe News Staff writer.

The article was written about a former resident of McLean, Mrs. Lydia Ann Smith, who has worked as a checker for Furr's Super Market in Amarillo for 20 years. She was recently appointed to the post of checker specialist, in charge of training checkers for the Furr stores in the Amarillo division which includes 10 stores in Amarillo and one each in Pampa, Borger and Hereford. In her new assignment, she will be responsible for training and working with about 200 checkers.

Mrs. Smith, who lives with her husband, Ernest at 1012 W. 13th in Amarillo has seen some revolutionary changes in the grocery business. She started in the food business at McLean in 1943, her hometown where she was raised on a sand-land farm and was graduated from high school.

She had a job as bookkeeper in the Modern Market at McLean, owned by the late Buddy Francis. Besides keeping the books, Lydia also help. ed with numerous other chores-ranging from checking to sacking to taking orders over the phone and filling them for home delivery. The customers knew they could depend on her.

Lydia and her family moved to Amarillo in 1953, and she was hired as a checker at the Furr Store at 16th and S. Wash. Cut green pepper into 1/2-inch ington, where she would work for the 20 years.

When Furr Food stores sponsored a "checker of the year" contest for about five years in the 1960's, she won it every vegetables and refrigerate. Yield:

Woman's Age: Her Secret?

May a woman lie about he age? The question is not alway a frivolous one. On the contrary serious courtroom battles have been waged over this very issue

Suppose, for example, that : bridegroom finds out after the wedding that his bride is olde than she said she was. Does he deception give him a right to ar annulment on grounds of fraud'

Generally, no. Annulments are indeed granted for fraud, bu only when the fraud involve something truly fundamental to the marriage relationship-some thing more vital than mere age The reason is that the law pre fers, whenever possible, to preserve a marriage, not to destroy it. One judge added wryly:

'Should the courts grant annulments just because womer concealed their correct ages, the floodgates of litigation would be thrown wide open."

In another kind of age deception, a woman motorist was haled into court for giving three different ages-all in the thirties-or three different registration state-

Here too, however, the court decided that her misstatements were not momentous enough to make her guilty of an offense. The court pointed out that the main purpose of asking for the woman's age was to make sure she was old enough to drive. In this case, said the court, there was no doubt about that.

Nevertheless, it may be a different story when a woman takes some years off her age in applying for life insurance.

In this situation, there is no question of gallantry, no question of maturity. It is simply a question of arithmetic. An insurance company calculates its risk on the basis of the woman's life expectancy, which in turn depends primarily upon her age.

In most cases, an understated age on an insurance application will mean that the beneficiary of the policy will collect proportionately less insurance.

In fact, if the misstatement is due not to coquettishness but to plain dishonesty, the entire policy might be held null and void. The law may condone vanity, but not cheating.

The Huron Indians had men who preached to fish and persuaded them to come and be caught.

AUSTIN - Statistics and common sense indicate the 64th Legislature is heading for a wild and crowded finale, and that more bills will die than survive.

This is inevitable with more than 2,200 House bills and joint resolutions and nearly 1,100 Senate bills and joint resolutions introduced.

The system is overloaded, and the tabulations of unfinished business on legislative computers effectively turn on the warning lights.

Of about 2,400 House and Senate bills referred to House committees, fewer than 500 have emerged.

About 900 bills and important resolutions have been referred to Senate standing committees, and some 500 have come out.

With the exception of constitutional revision, which was effectively and promptly disposed of, most of the session's key business remains unfinished.

Budget bills are still in the Senate Finance and House Appropriations committees.

School finance reform measures are in sub-committees, and seem likely to stay there awhile. Agreement is far from reached on public utility regulatory legislation. Legislators have their hands full in the next six weeks, and the facts are stacked against any easy way out.

STANDARDS COSTLY

Federal water quality standards may cost Texa cities, towns and industries more than $6 billion before 1983, according to a Texas Water Quality Board invenrederal requirements call for complete elimination of pollutional discharges into waters by that date.

The Federal Water Quality Act specifies that every river, stream, creek, lake and coastal area is to be fit for swimming, boating and fishing in eight years.

Texas Water Quality Board estimates the cleanup of city wastewater discharges would cost cities $400 million a year if their part of the deadline is met. Industries would have to come up with another $3 billion, TWQB estimated.

CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED

COURTS SPEAK

The Court of Criminal Appeals, by a 3-2 vote, upheld the 1973 Texas death penalty law which permits execution for several categories of murder. Thirteen men are on death row at Huntsville prison.

Texas Supreme Court held that a man who lost an eye in an oilfield accident can collect disability insurance only for that specific injury unless he can prove that other physical problems (including traumatic neurosis) are direct results of the eye

AG OPINIONS

A county clerk has authority to issue a marriage license even though it appears applicants have been divorced less than 30 days, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A bill permitting veterans to defer paying tuitions and fees at colleges while awaiting federal benefits is constitutional.

A county can spend money to maintain and operate parks without holding an election to levy a park tax.

An investigative report of the Texas Real Estate Commission is public information and must be disclosed.

The College Coordinating Board and Vocational Education Board may refuse to renew approval of out-of-district junior college course offerings.

A statute which bans bringing a child into the state for purpose of placing him for adoption is an untional revision resolution constitutional infringement on right to travel.

GUARANTEED PEST CONTROL Rep. Phil Cates Receives Award

State Representative Phil Cates has been named the recipient of the "Outstanding Young Man of the Year Aw-We want to say "Thank You" ard for 1974" by the Pampa

> The award, given for distinguished service, was presented to Cates this week by Gray County Attorney, John Warner for the Chamber of Commerce.

> Warner reviewed Cates' life story from his birth at Pampa's Worley Hospital on January 6, 1974 through his school years in Lefors and college days at West Texas nomics.

Cates' political career highlights were also reviewed Cates was elected to his first term in the House of Representatives in 1970 at the age of 23 and was re-elected in 1972 and 1974. He is currently serving his third term.

During this session of the Legislature, Cates, who represents a ten county area, serves as Vice Chairman of the Business and Industry Committee, is Chairman of the Sub-Committee on Pollution, and is a member of the seven member House Administration Committee. He is also noted for his diligent civic and church work.

In making the presentation, Warner, read a letter written by the State Coordinator and Deputy Coordinator for the Division of Disaster Emergency Service to Speaker Bill Clayton of the Texas House of Representative concerning their visit with Representative Cates to his hometown of Lefors following the March 2uth tornado which stated:

"As a long time resident of Austin and also as a career State employee, I have become somewhat cynical in regard to the motives, attitudes, and actions of some of our political representatives.

However, last Thursday morning a tornado hit the small town of Lefors in the Texas Panhandle. As a result, it became my duty to survey the damage and make committee is composed of recommendations to the local officials as to the proper procedures for obtaining immediate relief for the people and long-term restoration assistance for the town.

It was my privilege to fly out to Lefors with Representative Phil Cates who represents District 66. I think the other members of the Legislature should know just what type of man Representative Cates showed himself to be in this disaster.

Although his own parents had suffered minor injuries, Phil was deeply concerned about all of the injured and their financial plight as a result of the storm. He toured the damaged area, stopping often to console those in need of consolation. He contacted every possible source of assistance, and when I left to return to Austin, he was setting up folding cots in the temporary shelter at the school.

Throughout this ordeal, Representative Cates conducted himself as a Christian gentleman, a Texan, and a responsible human being, and I want you to know that he brought credit to himself and the Legislature, even though he has personal losses.

Our Liaison Officer for the Panhandle area, Mr. Jack Schlueter, tells me that Phil stayed on the job assisting those in distress throughout

Soil Stewardship Week To Be Observed

Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which emphasizes man's responsibility to protect and conserve soil, water, and other natural resources, will be May 4-11 this year, Tony Smitherman, Chairman of the Gray County Soil & Water Conservation District, announced today.

This year's theme, "Test of Strength, " emphasizes "how the many changes one occurring in the nation'test our strength' and affect our continuing responsibility to be good stewards of the land, "said Mr. Smitherman.

Among the churches in the district that are scheduling special Soil Stewardship services are in Pampa, First Baptist, St. Vincent dePaul Catholic, Hobard Baptist, Highland Bentecostal, First Christian, First United Methodist, Calvary Baptist, and New Hope Baptist. The churches in McLean partici= pating are the Baptist, United Methodist, and Church of Local events scheduled for the week include special sermons and bulletins with Soil Stewardship observances,

Mr. Smitherman cited food and energy shortages, environmental pollution, and the growing concern over land use as examples of changes and development affecting the use of America's natural resources.

"We hope," said Mr. Smitherman, "that during Soil Stewardship Week, millions of Americans will pause for a moment to consider their responsibilities for the protection and use of the Lord's earth. '

Members of the Gray County Soil Stewardship Committee, are Robert Sailor, Tony Smitherman, and Milton Carpenter.

The district, has provided local churches with programs, bulletin inserts, and copies of this year's observance booklet. The material was prepared by the National Soil Stewardship Advisory Committee of the National Association of Conservation Districts. The advisory churchmen of different faiths.

Nineteen hundred and seventy-five will be the 21st consecutive year that the Gray County Soil & Water Conservation District, along with almost 3,000 similar districts throughout the nation, has sponsored Soil Stewardship Week. The custom of setting aside special "Rogation Days" for this purpose began more than 1,500 years ago in France, when French peasants prayed for help after crop failures had brought widespread hung-

Recently Gray County was declared a Certified Brucellosis Free County. For a number of years we were declared a modified free county. The Brucellosis Free status is the highest status one can obtain. You would be interested to know there are only 23 counties in Texas that has acquired this status.

A Certified Brucellosis Free is one which has no known brucellosis-infested herds or cattle at the time of certification. I am not sure how long a county has to be tested and come clean each time to attain this status but I believe it is a minimum of one year. Most counties attain this status by the slaughter house test of cull cows.

A Modified Certified Brucellosis area is an area that has reduced the incidence of the animals and to not more than five percent of the herds of cattle.

All female cows from Gray County can be shipped to any county in Texas without any type of test. However, all female animals, over eight months of age originating from another county that is not also designated as a certified county, must undergo testing.

Each State has different regulations with regard to receiving cattle from other states. Therefore, you should contact your local veterinarian before attempting to ship cattle to other states.

When Texas attains a statewide certified brucellosis free status, I'm sure other states will modify their regulations toward Texas cattle.

Here are the Panhandle counties that have recently been declared certified free: Hartley, Hansford, Lipscomb, Roberts, Hemphill, and Gray, Most of the other counties that have acquired this status are located in the Trans Pe-

Thirty states have now acquired the certified brucelloais free status. We are slowly cleaning up the states but to be perfectly frank, we have been the slowest state in the nation to take care of this serious problem. The incidence of undulant fever in man has been directly related to the in cidence of Brucellosis. For instance, in 1947 before any nationwide efforts were being made to eradicate Brucellosis in cattle in the U.S. There were close to 6, 400 cases of undulant fever in man. In 1969, after many states had attained a certified or modified certified status, the average numbe of cases in man in the U.S. has dropped to less than two hundred fifty cases a year. Packing house workers and veterinarians are by far the most hazardous occupation with regard to Brucellosis. In times past drinking unpast. surized milk was a most common source for contact:ing the disease.

The disease is most prevalent in the swine industry and they are working to eliminate the disease. They started their program some time after the cattle program. They are making rapid progress in eradicating the disease. In 1969 there were forty-two cases of undulant fever in lowa. A review of
