Aren't you glad the elections are over at last? I am so tired of politics being the main topic of discussin that I'll welcome almost any new subject. Whichever candidate you preferred in the various elections, I hope you took the trouble to vote. Even the results of the election is not in as this column is being written, I am sure that the vote was very

When you look back through history and see how important one vote has been on occasion. it is frightening.

For instance, did you know that John Kennedy was elected President by less than one vote per precinct across the nation. One-half of one percent of the votes cast in Illinois and New Jersey gave Kennedy 43 electoral votes. Had that tiny percentage of the votes in those two states been reversed, the election would have thrown into the House of Representatives for a decision. Thomas Jefferson was elected President over Aaron Burr by one vote in the House of Representatives: John Quincy Adams gained the Presidency by one vote when that contest was decided in the House.

And the list goes on. Besides, I truly believe that if you didn't vote, you can't gripe about the outcome.

This Presidential election however, was one of those that I would have voted "None of the above." if I had been given that Whatever the results, we should all get behind our newlyelected President and pray that he is a good, dedicated statesman who will make the right decisions for our country for the next four years.

One of the advantages (or disadvantages) of being a newspaper editor is that I usually get appointed as chair-man of any publicity committee of any group I work with.

The same thing happened as members of various churches were discussing the city-wide Larry Jones Crusade which is planned for the McLean High School Auditorium Nov. 18 through 23. I got put in charge of publicity, which means that I get the releases from Jones' headquarters in Oklahoma City. Last week I got some infor-mation that said that Wanda

SBA Amends Disaster Loans

LUBBOCK-The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has amended Disaster Declaration #1900 for the State of Texas to include "extreme hot weather" as being car disaster loan eligibility.

The SBA makes available disaster recovery loans to farmers, ranchers and agriculturerelated businesses who suffer ed hardship due to adverse weather in counties declared a disaster area, as well as in all bordering counties within the state. The loans are low-interest and terms of the loans are based on the borrower's repayment ability. Texas producers who lost crops because of the drought or extreme hot weather may receive program and eligibility information by calling (806) 762-7481.

Physical disaster loan appli cations filed under declaration 1900 must be received by February 12, 1981. The deadline for economic injury disaster loan applications is May 12,

By Lisa Patman

McLean's Tigers had no reservations Friday night about giving the Miami Warriors a good scalping in a 26-0 victory, the Tigers' third win in district

Tiger James Matheny led the action as he paced his team-mates with 104 yards on 11 carries. Terry Todd, injured last week in the game against Claude, was back on the field with 76 yards, and two touchdowns on 11 attempts. Brock Crockett added 72 yards and a touchdown on 14 tries, and Bill Skipper upped his total by 33

"Every one of our running backs averaged six yards a carry." Coach Jack Dorsett said "They couldn't have done it without our offensive line. The line did a super job.

"We had eighteen kids on the field Friday night and they all played well. We threw the ball more, opened up our offense. We completed only 3 of 9 passes, but we had three dropped."

McLean began scoring action Friday night after a Miami fumble left the ball on the Warrior 8 yard line only two minutes into the first quarter. Brock Crockett, running through a spot opened up by the line, took the ball in for six points. The extra point attempt was no good.

In the second quarter Tigers Tim Killham, Theron Stubbs, Dudley Reynolds and Bill Hambright combined forces to stop a Miami drive. After the punt to McLean and several advances by Dusty Sanders, Terry Todd, and James Matheny, Tim Killham, in a nail-biting play, squeezed between two Warriors to snare a weak pass thrown after a quarterback rush. The catch brought the ball to the Miami 24. Crockett, aided by Skipper and Matheny, then advanced it to the Miami 11, setting the Tigers up for their second score of the night. Terry Todd, eluded several the goal line, upping the score to McLean-12, Miami-0. Although there was no further scoring in the first half, McLean fans were treated to some exciting action as Miami gained the McLean 17 yard line before a probable touchdown pass for the Warriors was slapped down by McLean's

Miami tackles and pranced over

Theron Stubbs. Third quarter action saw Brock Crockett taking full advantage of the screen set up by James Matheny and Bill Skip-per, running 13 yards to the McLean 48. Todd carried the ball to the Miami 38 for another first down, and a Sanders pitch-out to Matheny was successful in bringing the ball to the Miami 25. Sanders' handoff to Matheny was protected by Dudley Reynolds and Tim Kill-ham, and the ball was moved to the Miami 14, setting up McLean's next touchdown. Terry Todd, on a quarterback sneak, slipped around right for the third touchdown of night. McLean led 18-0 at 6:31 in the third quarter.

Four minutes later freshman Kevin McDowell took the ball in from 2nd and goal on the 3 yard line, for McLean's fourth and final touchdown of the game. Sanders' bullet pass to Killham was good for the bonus, and the Tigers wrapped up the ballgame 26-0.

Attendance was low for Friday's game, with only 450 persons showing up for the contest. "You have to remember that total includes the players, the bands, pep squad, and people supporting our opposition as well as our regular fans," said Dorsett. "The whole coaching staff has been disappointed in this year's attendance. It's hard to believe that a town that hasn't had a winning season in over ten years doesn't support the boys this year. Seems like people only get involved with the kids when something goes bad and they can criticize them. With the kids doing as well as they have been, we're really dis-appointed in the turn out."

The Tigers, who are hoping for some real support from the fans, will travel to Booker Nov. 7 for the next gridiron action.
"The Booker game could be for the district championship. If Booker wins, they have district sewn up, but if we win, we'll have to beat Follett for district," Dorsett added. "Booker runs a five on defense, and we've had our best luck all year against a five, but for our split six, their offense is effective. On paper we've got one of the best defenses, and they've got one of the best offenses, but our offense hasn't yet opened up as much as they could," he noted. Booker is about our size, except for one man, Rueben Qualls, he weighs 240, and for the last three weeks," was all-state last year. He'll be over Kincannon. Also, their quarterback is one of the best in the area. He can really throw. We have to keep him con-tained; he's really hurt a lot of teams, he's really been scrambling.

Aren't Our Kids Terrific?

Congratulations, McLean young people! The citizens of McLean last weekend celebrated one of the quietest, cleanest Halloweens in recent memory. This year the spooks and goblins confined their fun to trick or treating, going to parties, and having fun, instead of destroying property and messing up the city streets.

This writer has certainly been quick enough to point out the problems when our youngsters have misbehaved, and I want to be the first to tell our young people how proud we are of them for their fine behavior Halloween.

There is a lesson to be learned here, I think. One of the reasons there was so little destruction was because of the football game here Friday night, with parties, free malts at a local drive-in, and a spaghetti supper scheduled afterwards. Saturday night many of the McLean youngsters attended a large party at a local church.

The point is that the cliche about "empty hands are the devil's workshop" may be true. We parents should make a concerted effort to see that our teens have wholesome activities planned throughout the year, and many of our problems in McLean would evaporate.

McLean has some of the best youngsters and teenagers in the Panhandle. We always have had. Now we adults need to do some work and make some plans to help our young sters remain among the best. How about it, Mom and Dad?

Letters To The Editor

It seems we as adults like to condemn young people when they do wrong but we never think to "praise" them when their behavior is good. Perhaps this is why many teenagers behave badly...just for attention. If they get special atten-tion for good behavior, maybe they would be as willing to go in the right direction, provided they still got attention

I sincerely think the McLean young people should be com-mended for their good behavior this past weekend.

This is the first year I can ever remember the town not having lots of evidence of Halloween "tricks." I have seen nothing except a little shaving cream and soap on windows which can easily be washed off.

Thank you for respecting your community. I am proud of your behavior.

> Sincerely, A Teacher

Texas Baptist Skirt Controversy

HOUSTON, October30--Texas Baptists in their annual convention here skirted the waves of controversy over biblical interpretation and institutional control to affirm their Bold Mission Thrust to share the gospel with everyone on earth by the year 2000.

The anticipated biblical inerrancy battles that have strained not only Texas Baptists but the Southern Baptist Convention the past two years never got off the ground. A record number of 4,200 concerned messengers listened to a series of speakers calling for unifying Baptist purpose in a "passion for missions.

The mood of most messengers seemed to "amen" the words of Richard Jackson, pastor of North Phoenix Baptist Church when he said emotionally. "It's time to shut up and listen to what Jesus has to say...While we squabble about the inspiration of the Word, the world is desperate for our

It includes more than $13 million for support of Southern Baptist missionaries in 94 countries and for other mission causes outside Texas More than $24 million of the budget will help support 23 children's homes, hospitals, colleges and other mission causes within Texas.

Carlos McLeod, pastor of First Baptist, Plainview, was re-elected to a second one-year term as president of the 2.2 million-member convention.

Baylor University and the Bap-tist Standard might be challen-ged never developed.

Messengers adopted 12 re-solutions, but only three drew debate. They involved abortion, support of the Baptist Standard and the reaffirmation of Texas Baptists' basic beliefs and support "for each other."

The convention went on reord opposing the use of tax-supported medical facilities for abortion after voting down an amendment by Charles Holland of Longview who cited cases of poor children who are victims of rape or incest.

Chuck Lowe of First Baptist Church, Houstin, sought to delete two paragraphs from a resolution commending the Baptist Standard for "attempting to interpret events and movements that effect the welfare of the people."

McLean has got big problems! So does Amarillo, Pampa, New York and Los Angeles. Too big is too much. Too little, not quite enough. What do small towns have and what do they need?

For a long time, like many others, I have looked around at our area and said "We need, we need, we need. Driving through Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas this summer, seeing numerous small towns, I suddenly realized...we are worse off than some, but better off than most. Most towns under 2,000 population have empty buildings downtown. Most towns of any popu-lation have empty buildings downtown, in various states of Wait a minute. Why don't I do something? Would it kill me or send me to the poorhouse to buy a bucket of paint, to help someone clean up, fix up?

By the time you read this, we will have elected a president. Chances are he won't be bringing a bucket of paint to Mc-Lean. Chances are he never heard of the place. "If a few good men do nothing" could be

Texas: The Biginning 1519-1834 By Ed Syers

This new book written by Ed Syers is a book written for Texas about Texans and by a Texas, and covers the least known period in the history of this part of the world, and vertainly should be interesting to all Texans, as well as history buffs all over the country.

The volume covers from the Jime of Garay. (America's first recorded settlement) through the period of Coronado and DeSoto till the time of the battle for Texas independence.

You will find in this book the romance connected with gold Jaden Spanish ships wrecked on Padre Island, accounts of the thrilling raids by marauding Lipan Apaches, and insights to the lives of famous people such as Maria de Agreda, Philip Nolan, James Wilkinson, NOTES

Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston, as well as many more you may recognize and want to know more about.

"Texas, The Beginning" is a wonderful trip into the past which will not only excite and entertain you, but will also make you much more knowledgeable about the beginnings of Texas. It is now available at Lovett Memorial Library.

Friday night, the residents enjoyed a Halloween Party. The apple barrell for the trick-or-treaters was a big success, with a lot of grown "spooks" bobbing for apples too. The party ended by the drawing for the quilt our ladies made. The lucky winner was Jewel McCurley. We welcome Mr. and Mrs.

Gray County had a heavy turnout of 8,046 voters going to the polls Tuesday where they elected every Democratic candidate who had Republican opposition on the county ticket and a half dozen who were unopposed.

A quilting was held in the home of Mrs. Sam McClellan Tuesday. Those present were Mrs. T.W. Burch, Maggie Johnston, Vergie Everett, Marzee Lisman, Verna Biggers. Laura Goodman, Lola McCafferty, Mary Groves, Juanita Smith, Vita Cooke, and three guests from Amarillo were Cora Miller, Myrtle Smith and Jos ephine Murphy.

The Democratic Party won back the White House Tuesday in perhaps the closest presidential election ever, from the standpoint of popular votes. But John Fitzgerald Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson got very little help from McLean and Gray County in their bid for the top two positions of leadership in America. McLean voters favored the Republican ticket of Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge by a whopping majority of 543 to 169, as Democrats crossed the party line in droves.

Last Saturday I had one of those traumatic experiences I'm always hearing about. There I was, sitting in the middle of a football stadium, watching two college teams run around with a football, when I realized that I was one of a shrinking minority of women who know little or nothing about football.

In defense of my ignorance, I must say that I was never really encouraged to further my knowledge of the sport. I knew that a football was a long, pointed basketball, that football players wore shoulder padding so they looked bigger, and I knew that the players usually came off the field in worse condition than they ran onto it, but otherwise my learning was limited. I even served a brief stint as a cheerleader in my wanger years, but it was only this last years.

a cheerleader in my younger years, but it was only this last year that I realized one of the probable reasons my cheerleading career was cut short--I kept yelling "First and Ten, Do It Again!" no matter who had the ball or where they were with it. Now that I know a bit more about the game, I can see the error, but at the time I was and older, screaming things like "Did you see that call? The referee is blind. They couldn't have made the yardage." Or "That's the same play they ran last time." And "Their offense just hasn't jelled

Good grief! What's the world coming to when a woman knows that "yardage" means more than how much cloth she needs, that a that "yardage" means more than how much cloth she needs, that a "play" is more than Katherine Hepburn in The Rainmaker, that having a "strong offense" doesn't mean you need to take a bath. What can it mean when nice ladies in three-piece polyester suits run around booing referees, calling plays, and second-guessing quarterbacks? Could this be the ultimate equality of the sexes?

If this is so, if soon all of us will become devout football fans, completely knowledgeable about the sport, then I hope I hurry up and get a thorough understanding of the game, because I have a question that has been burning through my brain since Monday night's televised game-what did Howard Cosell mean when he said of a football player "That mas has the courage of a burglar." Won't some of you liberated football fans please explain Howard Cosell to me--he's driving me nuts!
