Top-O-Texas Rodeo to Begin July 30

Efra Beutler and Son of Elk City, Oklahoma will return to Pampa to produce the Annual Top o' Texas RCA Rodeo, July 30 through August 2.

The Beutler Family is known throughout the World as the leading producers of rodeo's, and this year's event is expected to be one of the best in the history of the Top o' Texas Rodeo.

The Beutler Family represents more than fifty years of experience in rodeo production throughout the United States, including Madison Square Garden and all of the top RCA Rodeo's.

From the colorful opening ceremony, and the dignified presentation of the American flag, to fast action from the bucking chutes of top notch rodeo livestock and cowboys; there will be no doubt in the mind of the spectators that they have seen a first class rodeo in action, according to Dr. Kenneth Royse, President of Top o' Texas Rodeo Association.

Warren Hasse, popular sports announcer of Radio Station KPND in Pampa, will be describing the events. Hasse is known throughout the South West as one of the top sports announcers working primarily in the field of football, basketball and baseball. This will be his first year to announce a rodeo, but he says he is looking forward to it.

The "Ragin Cajun" from Tickfaw, Louisiana, one of the most popular figures in North American professional rodeo, will clown the show with the assistance of Frank Rhodes as barrel man. These two clowns have been popular throughout the bigtime rodeo circuit. In years past they have been clowning at Calgary Stampede in Alberta Canada, Chicago International and last year worked the National Finals in many more.

Something new in the way of specially acts will be offered this year with Rick Young's "Wild Chariot Race". This act features two exciting teams of mules doing their version of the famous "Ben Hur" Chariot Race.

Food stamp recipients can use 50-cent, $2 and old $5 food stamps until Aug. 31, the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced today.

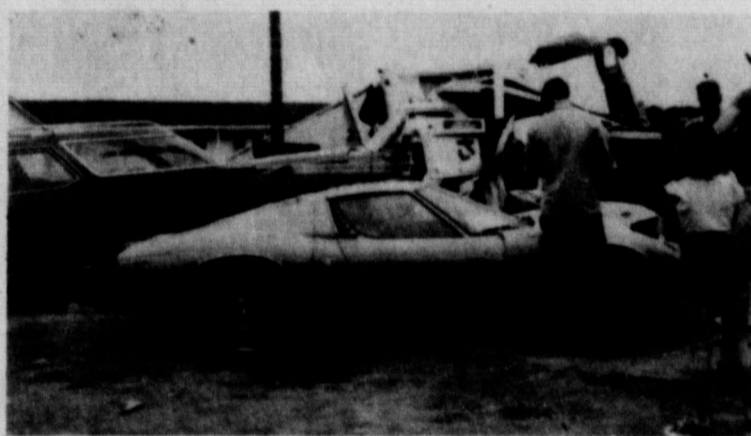

USDA introduced a new food stamp series -- $1, $5, and $10 -- on March 1 with a deadline of June 30 for spending old series food stamps at authorized retail food stores and meal services. The deadline was extended to allow recipients who were issued old coupons in March, April and May adequate time to use them.

IMPROPER LEFT TURN TAKES IT'S TOLL! A reportedly left turn out of a wrong lane started the events in which five vehicles were involved on the Fourth of July. The accident occurred at the American Station at the east end of town. Involved in the accident was a new car, which was filling up with gas, the station owner's station wagon, a pick-up camper and two other vehicles. Five persons were taken to the McLean Hospital and one to an Amarillo Hospital. A similar accident involving three vehicles was reported to occur this week at the same place.

Samuel Haynes Heads Breath Of Life Campaign

Chuck Laurent, President of the Lone Star Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation proudly announces the acceptance of the annual Breath of Life Campaign by Mayor Samuel A. Haynes of McLean.

Research and care programs for the millions of children affected by lung-damaging diseases such as Cystic Fibrosis, severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis, and a condition called "Childhood Emphysema."

Cystic Fibrosis, a genetic disease for which there is presently no known cure, is inherited when both parents carry the recessive gene for C/F. It is believed that one in twenty persons or 10 million Americans may carry the C/F gene, usually without knowing it. Current research funded by the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is seeking a practical test to identify carriers.

Because of improved therapy and constant research, many C/F patients are living beyond infancy, childhood, and into young adulthood. Children with other lung diseases whose symptoms are similar to C/F respond very favorably to much the same treatment. Their suffering is alleviated, and many times cures are affected.

Though there is still no cure for Cystic Fibrosis, today there is real hope, based on the realities of more public understanding, more public support, more advanced research and better care. But with this progress, the need of six million children who struggle to breathe grows larger, and with it, the need for more volunteers and more funds.

Everyone can help. The job cannot be left solely to dedicated parents of C/F and lung-damaged children. The cause is great enough to engage the attention and support of men and women everywhere who care about children and lung diseases. Promise your support call Mayor Samuel A. Haynes at 779-2947 and help destroy cystic fibrosis.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Reasonable Wear and Tear"

Because the rent for his apartment was high, Henderson figured he could do pretty much as he pleased with the elegant furnishings. During his occupancy he broke two valuable lamps, lost a costly pitcher and a painting, and spattered the antique furniture with unremovable stains.

When the landlord demanded reimbursement for the damage, Henderson said he could not be held liable for "reasonable wear and tear." But a court saw things the landlord's way and ordered Henderson to make good.

If you are renting a house or an apartment, chances are that somewhere in your lease there is a clause about reasonable wear and tear. This puts common-sense limits on the use you can make of the premises. In other cases, courts have held it wrong when

1) a man chopped wood indoors, ripping the wallpaper, splintering the woodwork, and punching holes in the plaster;

2) a woman let her bathtub overflow, causing extensive water damage;

3) a man, trying to chisel open a stuck window, gouged great holes in the sill;

4) a couple permitted their pet poodle to soil the living room rug at will.

On the other hand, the law recognizes that a certain amount of deterioration—scuffed floors, worn carpets, nicked chairs—can come from normal, everyday use.

Nor is the tenant usually liable for harm done by the elements. Accordingly, in another case, the weathering and weakening of porch railings and outside shutters were held not the tenant's responsibility.

As one judge put it:

"Reasonable wear and tear contemplates that deterioration will occur by reason of time and use despite ordinary care. A tenant is not required to renovate the premises at the expiration of his lease."

MUSIC IN WORSHIP

A preacher once told me that he could worship with an instrument or without one; many other people feel the same. For instructions concerning music in soeship these people will often turn to one or more of the Psalms. Of course there is no Psalm that contains authority/instruction concerning the use of mechanical instruments of music in the worship of the church. If there was a Psalm that contained such a command, one could not worship without mechanical instruments! Still, many claim they can worship with or without the instrument! If God commands Christians to use instruments, they cannot worship acceptably without using them. If God does not command Christians to use instruments in worship, they cannot worship acceptably by using them. The early church, steadfast in the apostolic doctrine did not use instruments of music in worship. (Acts 2:42; Gal. 1:8-9; 2 John 9)

Some contend that the Greek word "Psallo" is authority for instrumental music in worship. This word is the only authority that some present for the use of instruments in worship. It is found in one of the forms in the following passages; Romans 15:9, James 5:13, 1 Cor. 14:15, Eph. 5:19. It is translated in these passages into these English expressions: "sing", "sing psalms", "making melody" (in the heart). Many of those who say that "psallo" includes, or means the playing of instruments, will also say that they can worship with instruments, or without them. However, if playing on instruments is embraced in the word "psallo" as it is used in the New Testament, we cannot worship without such playing! If playing on instruments is NOT included in "psallo" we CANNOT worship acceptably WITH instruments. The New Testament names the instrument to be "psalloed" in Christian worship and that is the heart! (Col. 3:16; Eph. 5:19)

James said: "Is any among you afflicted? Let him say, 'Is any merry? Let him sing psalms'" (James 5:13). Sing Psalms" in this passage is from a form of "psallo". "psallo" INCLUDES playing in a mechanical instrument. ONE COULD NOT DO what James said to do without using such an instrument, regardless of how merry he might be! "Why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" (Lk. 6:46)

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The row over medical malpractice insurance has landed in district court here.

Argonaut Insurance Companies, one of the largest carriers of malpractice insurance, filed suit to join the State Insurance Board from freezing rates at the June 3 level.

Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie charged insurance companies appeared to have inflated their rates when a new law required them to file with the Board.

"It's beginning to look like the classic case of weighing the butcher's thumb along with the hamburger," Christie said. He said one company nearly doubled quoted mid-May rates after the legislature ordered filing with the regulatory agency.

A Board order of June 27 put companies on notice that only premium rates in effect June 3 may be charged for renewal of policies for doctors and hospitals unless a 90-day notice of increase is furnished the insured.

Argonaut went to court and got a temporary restraining order effective until a July 10 hearing, blocking the 90-day notice provision.

The provision, Argonaut attorneys claimed, imposed a past duty they could not have anticipated. They also contended that re-issuing policies at pre-May rates even though inadequate would "result in irreparable damage" to companies.

Press Buy Protested

Texas printers are strongly protesting a proposal by Secretary of State Mark White Jr. to explore purchase of a large web-offset printing press to print copies of the proposed new state constitution.

White said press dealers informed him the state could save $150,000 by doing its own printing of the document and the new official "Texas Register."

Printers, backed by an auditor's letter, claim the press purchase would cost the state far more than commercial printing of the constitution and register, and would lead to additional government competition with the printing industry.

Austin State Sen. Lloyd Doggett requested an attorney general's opinion on constitutionality of the purchase. P inter threatened a lawsuit to stop it.

White said no purchase will be made unless bias clearly show money can be saved.

Five and a half million copies of the constitution document must be mailed to voters by October. About 100 editions a year of the Register will be printed, containing official state orders, proposed regulations, notice of hearings and attorney general's opinions.

Jobless Payments Drop

Jobless benefits dropped $1 million — to $22 million — in Texas during June, according to Comptroller Bob Bullock.

But a total of $118.7 million in unemployment benefits have been paid January-June, compared with $79.1 million in all 1974.

AG Opinions

State employees may be compensated for job injuries after July 18, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Texas Air Control Board can take photos of pollution control equipment, most of which would be confidential.

The complete financial statement of a municipally-owned radio station is public information and should be disclosed.

A county can finance drainage ditches from its general fund.

A municipal utility district can contract with a private party to haul garbage and levy a charge.

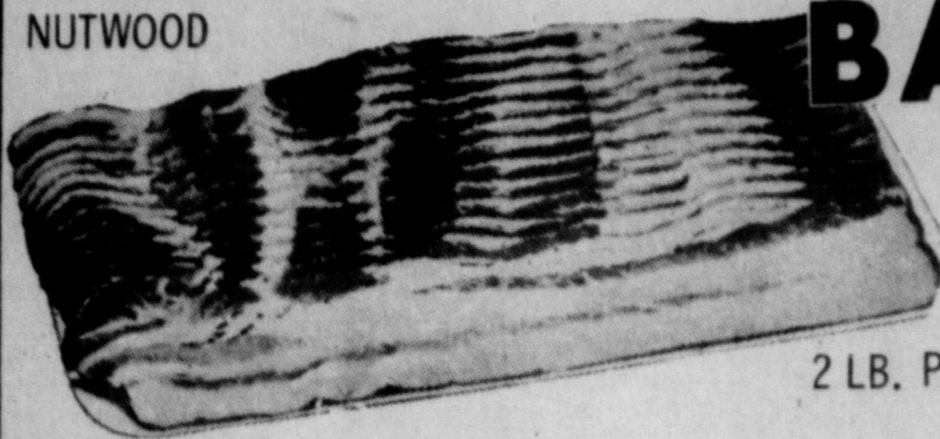

County Commissioners must fill a vacancy in a county school superintendent's office.

A "hot check" submitted for tax payment is public information in absence of any assertion of a privacy interest.

Market Report

CATTLE MARKET

A lot of the experts are amazed at how well the market is holding up in spite of the fact that more cattle are being killed. The answer is the fact that fewer total pounds of beef is being produced at a time when there is an extreme shortage of swine. Remember some months earlier when I report that fewer sows would be farrowed than in the last two decades during the first six months of the year. Thirteen thousand more cattle were killed week ending June 29th than a year earlier, but forty five million fewer pounds of beef was slaughtered for the same period.

We are effectively killing off the excess numbers of cows, calves and yearling cattle without materially affecting price.

The reason is the fact that the average slaughter weights have dropped from 1074 pounds in June 74 as compared to only 991 pound in June 1975.

Packers now have enough cattle bought out in front to last another week to 10 days. They are doing everything to break the market back. They won't hold it back for long. There has been far too many cattle sold and slaughtered having 100 days or less.

You don't wind the over supply of cattle down in the feedlot over night. Neither do you crank it up again over night. I look for the next several months to be quite profitable to cattle feeders and stocker operators that play their card right. HOG CHOLERA

Gilbert Hollis, Swine Specialist, Extension Service from Lubbock happened to be with me at the time of writing this column, when I was in McLean on July 8 and I am asking him to write in his own words a word of advice to swine growers concerning the recent outbreak of cholera near Hereford.

On this date the hog cholera outbreak is restricted to the one herd where it was confirmed last week. This herd has been destroyed and the owner paid an indemnity. Several herds have been placed under premise quarantine as a result of having a direct or indirect contact with the initial herd. No further positive identification of cholera has been found today. However, tet testing continues by veterinarians from the Texas Animal Health Commission and the USDA. Most likely boundary quarantines will be established sometimes this week and movement of all swine will be restricted within these boundaries.

I would simply suggest that you not panic and just continue to follow good herd

Fresh fruits head economy buys in the market this week, Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, reported.

Currently soft fresh fruits--plums, nectarines, grapes, apricots, Bing cherries and peaches--are available in varying amounts at various price levels, the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

Other good fruit values are Valencia oranges, bananas, lemons, cantaloupes, watermelons and honeydew melons.

Increasing supplies of fresh vegetables make this an idea time to can extras. Those worth considering, pricewise, are soft shell squash, corn, carrots, snap beans, cabbage, green onions and potatoes.

More economical vegetable buys are lettuce, tomatoes, radishes and green onions.

Nonfat milk will continue in heavy supply for at least a month or more.

Fryer chickens are in good promotional favor, and Mrs. Clyatt suggested either chicken or an economical small turkey would make a good barbecue treat.

Grade A large size eggs continue to offer the best combination of quality and economy.

Turning to beef, she reported prices about the same as last week. In general, best beef values are round steaks and roasts, ground beef and chuck roasts and steaks.

Pork prices remain relatively high, but some good buys can be found by comparison shopping from newspaper ads, she said.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Consider the many forms of fish available. They add variety to the menu and protein for good nutrition.

Some people believe that goldenrod grows over buried treasure.

health and swine sanitation practices. It's our hope that no further spread of hog cholera is found and that no further spread of hog cholera is found and that his problem clears up as quickly as possible. But, if you should discover a sick hog in your herd, remember, suspect hog cholera first. Report a sick hog problem by calling collect to the USDA Inspection office in Amarillo at 376-2291. They will send out a livestock inspector to inspect your animals. No hog that has died prior to the arrival of the inspection can be paid for if it died from hog cholera, should cholera be diagnosed in your herd.

Again, please be assured that all possible precautions are being taken by state and federal veterinarians to prevent the spread of this cholera outbreak.

Higher, Higher, How Much Higher? ... Changes in Brucellosis Indemnity ... Summertime Harvests.

Last March, during the annual National Pork Congress held in the Midwest, a few brave optimists were talking about hogs "hitting $50 at a few markets by late summer." It sounded good, but not too much was made of it.

Now hog prices during the first few weeks of summer have hit the $60 area in many markets across the nation.

Why? Take a look at the hog numbers. Here in Texas we are not the nation's leading hog state, but what happened here is similar to the situations in the major hog states.

As of June 1, hogs and pigs on Texas farms totaled 800,000 head. That doesn't mean much by itself, but put it in perspective and you find that hog numbers in the state are at their lowest level since 1966. It also is a decrease of 14 per cent from a year ago. Breeding hog numbers are 20 per cent under a year ago.

Nationwide, the same story is true. Hog numbers are at their lowest level since 1964. The number kept for breeding, at 7.4 million, is down 17 per cent, and market hogs and pigs are down 19 per cent.

For the future, it appears, say economists, that hog prices should hold up through the year. Hog producers intend to farrow 4.7 million sows now through November, which is 13 per cent below a year ago and down 19 per cent from two years ago.

REVISION IN THE REGULATIONS for paying indemnity to owners of cattle destroyed because of brucellosis as well as tuberculosis have been announced. They are:

1. Allowing indemnity payments for nonregistered (grade) bulls affected with brucellosis. Formerly, no indemnity was paid for these bulls.
2. Limiting to 15 days the extension periods which may be allowed for each of the following: identifying infected cattle, destroying infected and exposed cattle, and cleaning and disinfecting contaminated premises.

Changes in the tuberculosis indemnity payments are:

- A. Allowing indemnity payments for unregistered (grade) bulls and steers affected with tuberculosis and for certain cattle which have been exposed to the disease.
- B. Allowing payments for half the cost of destroying cattle disposed of because of tuberculosis--including half the cost of transporting such animals to the point of disposal--with prior approval by the federal veterinarian in charge.
- C. Limiting to 15 days the extension periods allowed for destroying affected cattle, and cleaning and disinfecting contaminated premises.

SUMMERTIME HARVEST of wheat, sorghum, and other crops in Texas continues in spite of the usual slowdowns for showers and equipment repairs.

Wheat harvest for the state is now more than three-fourths completed; this is behind schedule of the past few years. Harvesting on the dryland crop is virtually complete, and is now underway in the irrigated sections.

Bed-Wetting Is Common Problem

Bed-wetting is a common childhood problem and it is understandable that parents of bed-wetters are concerned. Parents should realize, however, that with patience and understanding almost all children will outgrow the problem.

It is interesting to note that other members of the family, including the parents, often have a history of bed-wetting in childhood and even as adults adults may have to get up occasionally in the night.

Most children stop bed-wetting between the ages of two and three years, according to the Texas Medical Association. Occasional bed-wetting up to age three is to be expected, but persistence after the fourth or fifth year deserves some attention.

Bed-wetting (enuresis) may start suddenly when some important event occurs in the family -- a new baby, a divorce, starting kindergarten--which may disturb the child's feeling of security. But unless the bed-wetting stops spontaneously and quickly, its cause should be investigated since most likely the disturbance in the child's life merely triggered a tendency that was already there. If this cause seems to be emotional, there is all the more reason not to add further strain by making an issue of it.

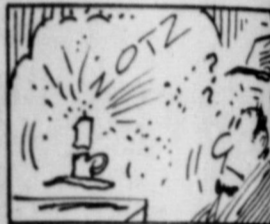

If the child has been wetting his bed, don't give him liquid at night, and make sure he goes to the bathroom just before going to sleep. Have him get up in the middle of the night to urinate, if necessary, but make sure the child is awake and conscious of what he is doing. If the child still wets the bed after these efforts, a doctor should be consulted.

Your physician can make a number of examinations to rule out urological disease.

Some people say that if a bright spark shoots up from a candle nearby, you will receive a letter.

He will also want to rule out other important physical causes. Fortunately, the more serious causes account for only a few cases; in most instances, medication will help.

If disease is not the cause of the bed-wetting, consider it as one of the problems which can be managed best if the child and his parents work together with their doctor.

Hunter Bags Old Duck

Last fall during the regular Texas waterfowl season, Jimmie B. Pickens, Idalou, bagged a male American wide-geon near Abernathy, that is of interest to all waterfowl-ers.
Mr. Pickens noticed a worn band attached to the leg of the bird. The band was turned over to Bill Pratt, Texas game warden and he in turn sent the band to the bird banding laboratory in Maryland.

The banding ID team at the lab used an etching process to bring out the old numbers on the band. This information has been returned to Warden Pratt indicating the duck was banded at Kerro-bert, Sask, on July 21, 1958.
"Normally, waterfowl do not survive in the wild as long as this duck did," Pratt said.

"The previous bands that I have sent into the banding laboratory indicated that the ducks lived for an average of only two or three years," Pratt continued. "This 17 year old duck will help the biologists determine information that will be used in setting the yearly waterfowl seasons and limits."

During the fall and winter, over 10,000 reports are filed at the Laurel, Maryland office and in some instances, reports about collected bands are received before the band information is logged. The details of each band "recovery" are very important.
They tell not only where the bird went, but how long it lived and how it died. By adding together the thousands of individual reports received from interested persons such as waterfowl hunters, comparisons are made as to time of banding and this information is made available to scientists, students and students and state wildlife agencies for their studies.

The sound conservation policies that emerge from the banding information is desig-

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Summer and vacations go together, but accidents can be an unwelcome vacation traveler unless precautions are taken, warns the Texas Department of Health Resources.

The Texas climate has something to offer for all who seek recreational pursuits--from seashores and lakes to forests and rugged mountains.

In most cases, summer recreation is associated with water for swimming, boating, water skiing and fishing. While great for recreation, water poses a serious threat to the safety of young and old alike.

Last year, for example 725 persons drowned in water-related accidents in Texas, according to Parks and Wildlife Department figures.

Swimming accidents took the largest toll--211 persons. Close behind were fishing accidents, accounting for 108 deaths. And boating, sailing, skiing and canoeing had a combined toll of 54 deaths.

Not all of these drownings involved swimmers and boaters.

In far too many cases individuals fell from a place of presumed safety--such as a dock or river bank--into the water and drowned.

Children are most susceptible to this type of accident. A good safety rule is to put a life jacket on every child playing near the water--just in case of a sudden, unplanned dip. All boaters should wear life preservers for the same reason. A near-tragedy recently on a Central Texas lake dramatically emphasizes this necessity. A young woman in a ski boat lost her balance during an unexpected turn, fell against the side of the boat and tumbled overboard. The next thing she remembers was regaining consciousness back in the boat.

One hundred persons drowned last year in falls into the water. Deaths occurred in such things as lakes, creeks, drainage ditches, mop buckets and inflated plastic swimming pools. And, 16 bathtub deaths were recorded.

How can you help make your vacation trip a happy, safe one?

First, make swimmers of yourself and your children. You can take lessons from such agencies as the Red Cross or private instructors.

Always swim in marked areas if possible, and never swim alone. If you get into trouble, your companion can toss you a life jacket or rope, or extend you a pole to help you reach safety. Never swim when chilled, overtired or overheated. Stay out of or off the water if a thunderstorm threatens. Rough water and lightning take their toll. Three East Texas duck hunters drowned last winter when a sudden norther caught them on a lake.

Always supervise small children constantly. They need your protection. It only takes seconds for a tragedy to occur.

If you're a boater, make certain your boat is in perfect shape and meets state and safety regulation--which includes having a Coast Guard approved flotation device on board for each person. It's a lifesaving practice to be wearing a flotation device. If your boat should capsize, it's a good idea to stay with it--chances are that it will float says the Department of Health Resources.

When pulling skiers, boat drivers should be aware of swimmers, other boats and obstacles above and below the water. Don't be a show-off on the water. Life is too precious to lose. All skiers should wear life preservers. Even good swimmers can be dazed by a hard fall while skiing--or be struck by a ski.

A good procedure is to have at least two persons in the ski boat--one to drive and the other to watch the skier. Learn the arm signals prepared specifically for skiers--and use them. It's hard to hear above the noise of a motor, but a hand signal can get the message across. For instance, a skier who falls should raise an arm to signal he's okay. Raising a ski will make you visible to other boats in the area.

When a person is entering the water from a boat, being picked up or having a tow rope moved into position to grab, the motor should be in neutral. Whirling propeller blades can kill or maim.

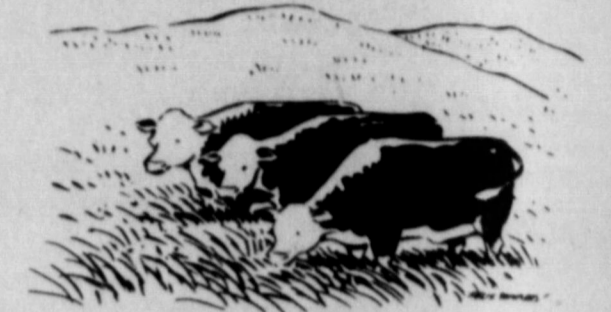

If you're out in the sun for extended periods, be cautious about sunburn. Get a little sun each day--and don't overdo it. Large doses can make you quite ill. Babies may sunburn in just a few minutes if their tender skins are exposed to direct sun rays or reflected rays. Cover them as much as possible.

Summer is a time for fun, so plan in safety with each of your recreational pursuits.

WINNING CHICKEN RECIPE--Stuffed "Calico" Chicken Thighs took first place in the 1975 Texas Chicken Cooking Contest held recently in Austin. Cheddar cheese, dried beef and pimiento strips are stuffed into boned chicken thighs which are then wrapped in bacon. The Texas Department of Agriculture and the Texas Broiler Council sponsored the cook-off.

STUFFED "CALICO" CHICKEN THIGHS

- | | |
|---|-------------------------------|
| 12 broiler-fryer chicken thighs, boned, skinned and flattened | 2 eggs slightly beaten |
| 1 2½-ounce jar dried beef, finely chopped | 5 Tbsp. lemon juice, divided |
| 12 Tbsp. shredded cheddar cheese | 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs |
| 6 strips pimiento, halved | 2 tsp. lemon-pepper seasoning |
| 12 strips bacon | 1 tsp. salt |
| | 1 tsp. MSG |
| | 1/3 cup corn oil |

Place chicken on surface smooth side down. Place 1 Tbsp. dried beef, 1 Tbsp. cheese and 1 piece pimiento on each thigh. Fold sides and secure with wooden picks.
