Providing safe pedestrian crossings over high-speed urban expressways presents a constant challenge to traffic planners and engineers. Shown here are two ways the problem can be solved. A spiraling, cast-in-place concrete pedestrian overpass crosses a four-lane highway in Fort Worth, Tex., and a horizontally curved concrete bridge serves the same function in Boston, Mass. Gently inclined ramps make the going easy for adults and side railings provide a safe enclosure for children. Both structures were designed to be attractive as well as functional.

National 4-H Week will be observed throughout the country from Sept. 24 through Oct. 1. Recognition will be given to the activities of nearly 2.25 million boys and girls who participate in the activities of some 96,000 4-H clubs.

Organized for young people between the ages of 9-16 in cities, towns, suburbs and rural areas. 4-H clubs carry on a wide variety of educational projects in civic and community service, in farming, homemaking and personal improvement. The goal of developing good citizenship is foremost in all 4-H programs.
