HOMETOWN TALK

By Beddy

Now is a good time to build a home, local craftsmen declare. They point out that demand for houses of the type working people could rent for a moderate rate is as great in Big Spring now as ever and that with completion of the new railroad shops the demand will no doubt increase.

There are a number of people in the city who own vacant lots on which they could erect such homes or, perhaps, houses in which to reside themselves, they point out.

One leading craftsman said the other day that "we have also many idle building craftsmen of the highly skilled, and efficient type, men who are and have for some time been residents of the city and who need employment. Many of our local contractors are finding little demand for their services so by building now one may get at cost the knowledge, skill and ability of experienced contractors and their skilled mechanics. To build now would be savings to owners in time and confusion that usually attend such matters during periods when building is booming."

Local lumber yards, we are reminded, have facilities to fill all needs, and those facilities are being but partially realized. "We should not expect our workmen to work for lower scales due to slack times, but it is a good idea to use that labor; to use material at existing costs. Labor costs, it is declared, will not advance, but material costs may rise.

Those interested in restriction of Mexican immigration; something we view as beneficial both to the United States and Mexico, will find much of interest in an article appearing in the latest issue of the Saturday Evening Post, entitled, "The Mexicanization of American Business."

Another contribution to the same issue of The Post is a short story by A. W. Somerville, son of J. A. Somerville, vice president of the Texas & Pacific Railway Company. Young Somerville is perhaps the country's best known writer of fiction and verse dealing with the romance and history of railroading. He has frequently been employed on the road through here.

Don't forget you may win $25 in cash if your suggestion of a name for the all-city pageant being planned by the City Federation is adopted. Send your suggestions to the Contest Editor of The Herald. The contest will close February 15.

The following bit of advice from Glenn Frank's pen is very sound and, we're glad to say, is not needed by local school men:

I suggest, therefore, that we schoolmen stop centering our energies on trying to wheedle the newspapers into giving more space to the schools; that we do our best to do things in our schools that will be so vital that newspapers will take the initiative in giving space to them; and that we try to make it increasingly clear that press and school have a joint responsibility in seeing to it that there is thrust into the stream of public thought, in terms that men who haven't a Ph. D. can understand, those new ideas, new idealisms, and new spiritual values that have been thrown up as by-products of the sciences, philosophies, and practical adventures of the modern mind.

The sale is held to raise funds to send delegates to the missionary convention at Amarillo.

HOUSE AND SENATE AT OUTFIGHT AGAIN

Senate To Engross With Bill; House Turns It Down

AUSTIN, Feb. 7 (AP).—In the face of the house's action in rejecting Austin as a centralization point for the penitentiary system, the senate today voted to engross the bill by Senator Edgar Witt of Waco, the administration measure providing for an industrialized central plant near the capital.

An effort to suspend the rules and place the bill on final passage failed by a vote of 15 to 8. A two-thirds affirmative vote was necessary.

The senate refused 13 to 9 to reconsider its action of Wednesday in tabling an amendment by Senator A. J. Witt which would have precluded centralization near Austin. Senator Eugene Miller of Weatherford contended that it would be futile for the senate to pass a bill placing any part of the system near Austin, in view of the house's attitude.

The house refused to adopt a resolution which would have created a committee to confer with the governor over a compromise bill to replace the Austin-site measure, advocated by Governor Moody.

Mrs. Lee Weathers, local expression teacher and popular reader, is directing the play.

Supplemental Fee Bill Framed

AUSTIN, Feb. 7 (AP).—A substitute bill for the measure proposed by Senator Pink L. Parrish and members of his committee revamping the fee system was accepted by the house state affairs committee today.

The substitute, offered by Representative R. M. Hubbard of New Boston, leaves the existing law much as it is except the schedule of fees is slightly altered.

It brings all officers, regardless of population of their counties, under terms of the fee laws and directs a strict accounting of all their fees of office.

The Hubbard bill limits the earnings from fees of all kinds to $12,500 in counties of 150,000 population and over, while the Parrish recommendation did not allow the maximum of $12,500 to officers whose counties had less than 200,000.

OIL MEN ASK PRORATION BE MORE ELASTIC

CENTRAL COMMITTEE MAY CONFER WITH MOODY NEXT MONDAY

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 7 (AP).—An appeal to Governor Moody for legislation giving the railroad commission wider latitude in oil proration orders was the next move in order today for the oil producers' state committee meeting here.

A discussion with the governor was sought for Monday by the central committee. He will be asked to present new oil regulation to the legislature.

Operators expressed belief that this action, coupled with emergency measures now being worked out in individual fields, would permanently solve the situation of the Texas producer.

Reports submitted yesterday to committees from various fields indicated producers were voluntarily cutting back production and that this would soon be substantiated in production reports.

Unanimous decision by Yates pool producers to petition the railroad commission for a 30,000-barrel per day reduction in allowable output was decided upon at the second meeting of the oil producers' committees.

WICHITA, Kan., Feb. 7 (AP).—

The operators' committee for the Vaguel pool of McPherson county has fixed a 75 per cent proration basis for the fifteen days beginning Feb. 15. At first it was planned to prorate from 25 to 50 per cent from Feb. 15 to March 15, but it was decided to produce the minimum amount in order to be better able to handle new wells. Seven wells in the pool have a potential production of around 11,000 barrels daily. At present each well is held in to 50 barrels a day.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7 (AP).—A committee composed of fifteen prominent oil men assembled here today to take its first step toward reducing petroleum production in California, declared to threaten demoralization of crude oil and gasoline markets. The committee included representatives of leading oil companies in the California fields.

Steers Tackle Tahoka Here This Evening

Before leaving for Abilene Saturday, the Big Spring high school Steers will tackle one of the toughest opponents of the season Friday night in the high school gym when Windy Nicklaus brings his Tahoka cagers from the south plains country to this city for an engagement.

Tahoka has been meeting exceptional success with clubs in its territory and are conceded an even chance with the Steer quietest that has not been traveling at championship form during the past three weeks.

Coach Nicklaus is a graduate of Texas Tech College at Lubbock and has gained an impressive reputation since assuming athletic control at Tahoka for turning out scrapping clubs. His cagers have battled Lamess, Lubbock and other Class A teams of the South Plains section on almost even terms this season, the report stated.

WHEN TAFT, ILL., WAS CARRIED TO HIS HOME

Pale and worn and pronounced by physicians "a very sick man," William Howard Taft is shown in this remarkable NEA Service picture as he was carried into his Washington residence upon his arrival from Asheville, N. C. The former president is pictured here as he was borne upon friendly arms from the automobile which conveyed him from the railroad station to his home.

BRADY JURY WEARY, NOT DEBATING

COURTROOM, AUSTIN, Feb. 7 (AP).—The silence of the jury deliberating the John W. Brady murder case had lasted almost 60 hours just before noon today, and there was not the slightest indication that the old disagreement was passing.

There had been a bit of song and some "whistling" from the jurors' quarters yesterday, but this morning, they sat at the windows, too weary of the problem, it seemed, even to talk.

Once a man went by on the sidewalk and half shouted out, "Get busy up there," but the answer was toneless and half-hearted.

Judge J. D. Moore, meantime, had shown no intention of letting them go and hopes that a verdict still might be reached. Few others connected with the case had any.

Henry Brooks, district attorney, who had his second case of statewide interest in the prosecution of the elderly former civil appeals court judge for Miss Leahia Highsmith's slaying, walked about the court house impatiently.

P. C. Stacey of the West Texas Machine company will have charge of the demonstration. All farmers interested in building a terrace either this year or next, are asked to attend. Mr. Bush believes that a great deal of time and worry will be saved if the farmers learn to do the work correctly the first time.

Farmers are asked to meet early as the terracing building demonstration will start not later than 9 o'clock on the morning of February 12.

SCOUTING IS ADOPTED BY LIONS CLUB

Competitive Athletics Listed In Definite Work Program

Furtherance of the Boy Scout program in Big Spring with view of establishing one or more permanent camps and the promotion of school athletics were two activities adopted by the Big Spring Lions club at the regular Friday noon luncheon following suggestion of the major activities committee headed by H. L. Bohannon.

C. S. Holmes, newly elected president of the Buffalo Trails scout area and an honorary member of the Big Spring Lions Club, spoke in behalf of the Boy Scout proposal as did Dr. Chas. K. Bivings, local physician, who has had considerable experience in the movement.

Mr. Holmes told members of the Lions Club that the work of making good citizens is the greatest need of America today. He sighted an incident along a certain division of a major railroad company whose losses from theft amounted to approximately $47,000 in one year. Officials became alarmed over the huge figure and sought relief. One official suggested the railroad company get behind the Boy Scout movement, pay a scoutmaster to see that troops were organized and place necessary funds at disposal of the various scout troops. In one year's time the loss from thefts and pilfered box cars was reduced from $47,000 to $10,000.

"Boys must have some activity. It is human nature for boys above 12 years of age to break away from their fathers and mothers. If their energy and minds are properly directed such as is done by the Boy Scout movement, they will become intelligent and useful citizens, but on the other hand some of the boys turned loose on the world will be lost if their young minds and bodies are not put to work along the proper lines," said Mr. Holmes.

Mr. Holmes gave a brief history of Boy Scout activity which was started in this country in 1910. First troops were organized in Big Spring in 1911 and the organization was given a national charter in 1916 by congress and is the only organization in existence that was chartered by congress. Scouting is active in 57 civilized nations, Mr. Holmes said.

Dr. Bivings urged the Lions club to support the suggestion of the major activities committee because of the work's permanency. He said the project of a summer camp has been highly successful in other localities and that it is a work that will be continuous in its nature.

Announcement that a district meeting of Lions club in this territory will be held in Midland next Thursday night was made and 10 or 12 members of the local club indicated they will make the trip to the neighboring city. Melvin Jones, international secretary, is to be present at the meeting. The banquet in the Scharbauer Hotel dining room will start at 7 o'clock and all members of the Big Spring club have been invited to attend and present a brief program. B. T. Cardwell, H. S. Faw, M. L. Tinsley and Cecil Collings were appointed by Frank Boyle, president, to arrange a brief skit for the program.

There were five visitors present at the Friday meeting being J. D. Reed, of the Texas Electric Service company, Theron Hicks, local jeweler, J. F. Gould, architect at the Couden Oil Company refinery, G. R. Porter, manager of the Wm. Cameron Lumber company and W. F. Steward, manager of the Snow-white Creamery.

AUDITOR'S ADVICE IS RECEIVED

AUSTIN, Feb. 7 (AP).—A complete "detailed" audit of the comptroller's department has not been satisfactorily accounted for, Moore Lynn, state auditor, told the senate today.

Lynn was invited before the senate after he filed a special report concerning affairs of the comptroller's department.

AUSTIN, Feb. 7 (AP).—A complete "detailed" audit of the comptroller's department was recommended by Moore Lynn, state auditor, in a supplemental report sent to the legislature by Governor Moody today.

Lynn said his examination of the comptroller's accounts was still in progress, but that "the gravity of the situation is such that we deemed it advisable, at this time, to submit our findings for your consideration."

Resolution Representative Alfred Petsch of Fredericksburg announced he had prepared a concurrent resolution for a thorough investigation of both the comptroller's and state treasurer's departments. A committee of seven, three from the senate and four from the house, would be named to make the inquiry.

Lynn said the comptroller had advised him that funds collected by his office were temporarily deposited in the American National Bank of Austin, which neither paid interest on, nor gave security for the balance carried in the account. Lynn said the comptroller made no mention of any other bank accounts.

Reading of Rep. Petsch's resolution was referred until the afternoon session of the house, when objection was made by Rep. Harold Kayton of San Antonio.

The Senate, acting on a resolution by Senator Archie Parr of Benavides, invited Lynn to appear before it this afternoon for statements and questions bearing on his criticisms of state department.

Asked Balances The auditor said he asked Austin banks to furnish the balances at December 31, 1929, of all accounts in the names of state departments or officials.

Probers Favor Seating Texas G. O. P. Member

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP).—A house elections committee reported today it was unanimously in favor of giving Harry M. Wurzbach, republican, the seat now held by Representative Augustus McCloskey, democrat, from the 14th Texas district.

The chairman, Representative Sears republican, Nebraska, announced the stand of the committee after an executive session. The report had not been made to the house, since it was not in final form, but the statement by Sears was taken to mean the controversy was virtually at an end.

The committee verdict came as no surprise since McCloskey had "readily conceded the election of Wurzbach after a recount of ballots last week.

'Hot For Paris' Opens Sunday, Ritz Theatre

Five names—Walsh, McLaglen, Brendel, Dorsay and Moran, each box-office headliners—play an important share in the Fox Movietone all talking picture, "Hot For Paris," which comes to the Ritz theatre for an engagement of three days starting Sunday.

In the world of film entertainment the name of Raoul Walsh as director stands at the top of the list. At the moment his production "The Cock Eyed World" is "breaking records around the world with a world's record established at the Ritz, New York, where it was premiered. Victor McLaglen famed above his other characterizations as the "Flagg" of "What Price Glory" and "The Cock Eyed World"; El Brendel, the comedy hit of "Sunny Side Up," and Fifi Dorsay, the French irresistible whose first picture, "They Had to See Paris," endeared her to the nation.

With Walsh directing and McLaglen, Brendel and Fifi Dorsay costarring, "Hot For Paris" could be nothing less than the sparkling entertainment that it is. The story revolves around McLaglen, first mate of a windjammer, who buys a ticket which wins the big prize in the Grand Prix in Paris. He does not know he has won a million and the sweepstakes office where he purchased the ticket persistently hunts to find him. Believing that they are officers on his trail he eludes them and in running away encounters Fifi Dorsay, a singer and dancer in a cafe at Havre, falls in love with her and has many hilarious adventures leading to an amazing conclusion.

McLaglen is at his screen best as John Patrick Duke, and he even sings a song written for him by Walter Donaldson and Edgar Leelie, "I'm the Duke of Kakiyak." Fifi Dorsay sings two numbers "Sweet Nothings of Love" and "I Want to See Gay Paree," also dances, with a back ground of beauties.

THE BIG SHOT

by FRANK L. PACKARD

SYNOPSIS: A chance meeting in New York with Phil Martin, a reporter, ripens into friendship and brings Enid Howard, embryonic novelist, to the threshold of adventure. Martin is seeking to penetrate the mystery of New York's gangster leader known as the Big Shot. He is aided by Shive Frank, a gangster who promises him a photograph of the underworld leader. Martin confides in Enid and the same night she is accosted on a dark street by Frank who gives her a package for Martin. He slinks away and before Enid's eyes is slain in a fusillade of machine-gun bullets from a speeding car. Enid flees to her room and finds her package contains a photograph of the master criminal. It is her brother.

Chapter 5

BLOOD CALLS TO BLOOD

In the privacy of the little room she called home, Enid scrutinized the features of the man in the snapshot. It looked like Roy—her brother who had gone off to war and never returned. Long years of silence had seemed to confirm Enid's belief that he was dead but withal, Enid had never been sure. She had clung to a hope that some day he would come back.

From between portraits of her mother and father on the mantelpiece she took down a cabinet-sized, silver-framed photograph of a smiling, dark-eyed, clear-cut young soldier in Canadian uniform.

Her eyes filled suddenly with tears. Roy! They had been such chums. He had been too young when the war broke but had enlisted the day he had become old enough to do so. She had been so proud of him. He had gone over in '17—that was 13 years ago. She had been not quite 13 then, and he 18.

He had never come back. Just a few months before the armistice he had been reported missing. "Missing" "Killed in action" would have been easier to bear. "Missing" it had hastened her mother's end. He had never come back. "And he come now—like this?" Was Roy, her brother whom she had adored and worshipped, a master criminal? She tried to tell herself it wasn't true.

She bent over the photographs and compared them critically. There was a difference in years, of course, but the same distinctive features were there. She was convinced the figure in the snapshot was Roy.

Her elbows were on the table now, her head tightly clasped in her hands. Granting that it was Roy, it didn't mean that he was a hunted criminal, that he was the Big Shot whom Phil Martin was so eager to trap. There was some mistake somewhere.

And yet why should Shive Frank have singled out an innocent man? And how, unless they had in some way been brought together, would a photograph of Roy be in the possession of a man of Shive Frank's stamp?

But that was not all. This was a picture of Roy. Therefore Roy was alive. Apparently he had been in America, for at least several years since the war. Why then had Roy never come home? Why had he never written? Like a crushed thing her head went down on her desk and was buried in her arms. Her shoulders shook convulsively.

"I don't believe it!" she moaned. "I will never believe it—never, never—until I have found him, seen him with my own eyes—and he himself has told me it is true!"

Find him! Yes, she would find him! She rose impulsively to her feet, her head thrown back, her eyes alight with resolution. The game in a sense was all in her own hands. Shive Frank would never telephone to Phil Martin now, and Phil Martin would never know she had the photograph—and neither would the police! Both the police and Phil Martin must be kept out of this until she had found Roy.

Well, she was free to do that. For another two weeks anyway she would be alone in this house—the home of her old nurse Martha Debbins.

When Enid determined after the death of her parents in Winnipeg to pursue her literary efforts in New York it had been only natural that she should turn to Martha Debbins. She had been her childhood nurse and had given her maternal care to both Roy and her. Then Martha had married and gone to live in New York. But the contacts were maintained, and Martha quickly responded to Enid's suggestion that she live with her while she was pursuing her writing.

With her two children, Martha was visiting in Maine with some relatives of her dead husband. He had died two years before, leaving a small competence and a home and Martha managed with that and her sewing.

Enid glanced at her wrist watch. One o'clock. It seemed incredible that it was only a half hour since she had left Phil Martin in the Gondola.

She laughed out a little suddenly, unaccountably. What did it matter that it had been merely half an hour! All that mattered was that it was still not late to do something now, at once—to begin her search for Roy tonight. She must find Roy before Phil Martin did.

The one thing she could do now was to go to Eszy Myer's place on First avenue. She did not expect to find Roy there from what Shive Frank had said, but there might be some of the gang present through whom she could obtain another clue that would lead her to Roy himself.

She picked up the snapshot and the photograph in the silver frame, and, carrying them into her bedroom, locked them in her trunk. There would be no portraits of Roy in evidence anywhere!

And now she restored the automatic to her handbag and stood for a moment inspecting herself critically in the mirror. The result satisfied her. She was all in black, naturally—her father's death had been very recent—and she was therefore as inconspicuously dressed as she could be. She could do nothing more in that respect.

She extinguished the lights and let herself out, locking the front door behind her. She lifted her shoulders in a grim little fatalistic way, and, descending the stoop, started to walk quickly toward First avenue.

Hoping to succeed where others failed Enid seeks, the Big Shot and finds adventure, tomorrow.

WHY JAPAN WANTS BATTLESHIPS

There are a lot of angles to the London naval conference that are a bit complicated.

There is, for instance, the proposal to abolish battleships. Japan objects to this, and until you look into the matter you may find the Japanese objection hard to understand.

The explanation is this: neither Britain nor the United States possesses a naval base in the far east big enough to serve dreadnaughts. As a result, Japan knows that neither nation could ever force a big naval engagement in Japanese waters.

Japan, therefore, wants to retain the battleship. Her position is not hard to understand.

But if all battleships were abolished, the 10,000 ton cruiser would be the line-of-battle ship; and the British at Hongkong and the American base at Manila are amply large enough for ships of this class.

Under those circumstances, either nation could launch a naval attack on Japan from a point close to Japanese waters.

Japan, therefore, wants to retain the battleship. Her position is not hard to understand.

Mitchell is right

There isn't much to quarrel with in Attorney General Mitchell's statement that no one hereafter will be appointed to the federal prohibition force unless he is a personal believer in prohibition and a teetotaler.

To be sure, there are eminent, honest and capable men in this land who are neither of these things. But we're inclined to agree that the place for them is not in the organization that exists to enforce the prohibition law.

Much of the current dissatisfaction with prohibition is doubtless due to the fact that many of the dry officials and legislators responsible for the law have been personally wet.

If Mr. Mitchell can help to change that situation he will be doing all of us a favor.

BUSINESS DICTATES

Chicago's experience with municipal bankruptcy, dismal as it is, may yet provide a considerable gleam of light for the misruled American city dweller.

Chicago is broke and has been broke for quite a while. Now a committee of prominent citizens, holding tax anticipation warrants as security, has pledged a fund big enough to carry the empty city treasury along; but it has tacked a kicker on to this pledge that may spell confusion for the politicians.

This kicker is a simple stipulation that the money be properly spent. Not a penny is to be disbursed without the full knowledge and approval of the committee, which is composed of business men and not of politicians.

There is just a faint bit of light in that procedure. In the long run it may turn out to be a beacon of considerable importance.

Suppose, now, that a big city like Chicago suddenly puts all of its expenditures in the hands of a non-partisan committee of business men.

How long would a departmental payroll be kept at twice its rightful size for the sake of ward-heeling runners and their friends? How long would expensive contracts with friends of political big-wigs be tolerated? How long would an official last who had nothing to recommend him but the fact that he had always played ball with the boys at election time?

The answers are obvious. A stunt of this kind could free a city, overnight, from the dead weight of politics that afflicts nearly every municipality in America.

THE CHEMIST'S RESPONSIBILITY

A London chemist predicts that newsprint paper may eventually be made out of air, so that exhaustion of the pulpwood forests which now constitute the source of supply will not put all the newspapers out of business.

His statement recalls, once again, the supreme importance to this modern world of synthetic materials. We are using up our natural resources at a terrific rate.

Within a few decades some of our most essential raw materials will be practically gone; wood pulp, out of which newsprint is made, is only one of them.

If the chemists can find new ways to make these things we shall not have to worry. If they can't, the world is going to face some extremely tough problems during the next century.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

INSULTING YOUR INTELLIGENCE

San Angelo Times:

Voters of Texas this year are going to be asked to support or oppose a candidate for governor on issues two years old that never even affected the state in the first place.

The "bolter" question is throwing the state race back on the controversial subject of the Hoover-Al Smith campaign and you are going to be asked to vote for a man because of his opinions in that contest, which is already settled for all time. It would be just as logical for a man to base his entire campaign on the fact that he was or was not a member of a luncheon club. Unfortunately logic is not a strong point with most politicians.

The fact that the entire Hoover-Smith wrangle will be the issue in a state gubernatorial race is the unfortunate angle of the action of the state committee in barring Tom Love and other candidates from the ballot.

Texas is at the cross roads in state administration and no gubernatorial election in years is of more importance than the present one. The state, growing at an unbelievably rapid rate in population and wealth, is woefully behind many other states in the union in matters of administrative activity that are vital. Those matters — prisons, school aid, the taxing of university lands, highways — are of direct concern to you. Upon their settlement a good deal of your personal prosperity will depend.

A business executive, not an old-style politician, is needed at the helm. It doesn't particularly matter if he calls himself a Democrat (a Republican, a Socialist or a Mugwump). But it does matter that he goes into office on a well-defined policy of state problems and not on the stand he took in the Hoover-Smith, Harding-Cox or Taft-Bryan campaigns.

Tom Love or any other man has a right to solicit your votes on the basis of what he can do for Texas today. Neither he nor any other man is playing fair with you if he asks to be elected governor simply because of his quarrel with a state party committee.

HOLLYWOOD.—Something new under the sun, for Hollywood, is the work which, with talkies shares the interest of Doris Kenyon now that she has returned to cinema circles.

Miss Kenyon, one of the four principal characters in the first impressive all-talking film "Interference," for most of last year was in New York with her husband, Milton Sills, while he regained his health after a long illness.

While there, to occupy her spare time, she studied to become a diseuse, or dramatic vocal soloist. Digging around in dusty tomes wherever she could, she unearthed a dozen songs, centuries old, which she made her repertory.

One, in Greek, she found through the aid of a restaurant keeper. To sing them, she had to learn a little about seven different languages, including Japanese. She made several appearances in the east, and now plans concerts here and in other west coast cities.

HANG-OVER
William Boyd (the stage William) was awaiting his call on the set for the first scene of the day, early on a cold rainy morning, when a chorus girl joined him. Along came another chorine—one of those "booh-poo-pub-doop" kind—flaunting pep that paired chorine No. 1.

"Say," the latter groaned to Boyd "that dame must have been vaccinated with a phonograph needle."

IMITATING THE GARBO
There ought to be an association of girls who try to look and act like Greta Garbo. On the night the Swedish star's first talkie opened here, frequently different girls, wearing the traditional plain attire which is Greta's custom off-screen—severe coat with collar pulled up around her face, and plain black hat pulled low over it—would fall into line at the box-office and attract the stares of other customers.

While the fake Garbos were drawing attention, the real Greta, unnoticed, was loitering in the foyer of the theater leisurely looking over the advertising stills before going in to hear herself talk on the sound screen for the first time.

Scoring Of Schools Planned For County

Miss Pauline Cantrell plans to soon start scoring the schools of Howard County with a view of standardizing the individual schools. The scoring will start the latter part of February and continue over the early part of March, Miss Cantrell said.

Miss Alice Kennedy, who directed the "Aunt Lucia" show here last week for the P-T-A, has gone to Taylor, Texas, where she is directing the same play for the American Legion. She represents the Universal Producing Company.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Pneumonia.

We are approaching the pneumonia season, hence it is appropriate to consider briefly some of the important points in this disease.

Perhaps the most important point to bear in mind is that this is an infectious disease. Pneumonia is caused by germs known as pneumococci. The germs are passed on from person to person. In other words, we contract or catch pneumonia.

And hence this is a good time to be especially cautious against exposing ourselves to persons sick with colds or chest infections.

Pneumonia germs, however, are peculiar in that they may be present in one's throat for long periods and do no damage, and then of a sudden break their bounds and invade the lungs.

We do not know all that we should like about the causes behind this spread, but we do know that associated with, and preliminary to, such a spread is a weakened condition of the body. A debilitating cold, overwork, wet feet, wet clothing, immersion in cold water, tend to predispose to pneumonia.

Most pneumonias begin suddenly. The victim has a severe chill and a high fever. There is usually a sharp pain on the affected side. There may be present a dry cough, or the patient may bring up a thick blood-tinged phlegm.

The most characteristic element in the pneumonia picture is shallow, rapid breathing. Hippocrates, the father of medicine, described the patient's breathing as like that of a horse that has just finished a hard race.

The pneumonia patient needs every bit of strength he can command to fight his condition. Hence where pneumonia is suspected, the patient should be put to bed at once, even before the doctor is called.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—The Chinese nationalist government at Nanking, of which many Americans expected great strides toward reconstruction and modernization after its victories of 1927, has been trying to live up to the expectations.

The measure of its success will depend upon its ability to strengthen itself and peacefully persuade war lords in wide areas of China to disband large sections of their armies and permit Nanking to extend its influence. Meanwhile China is changing slowly, regardless.

"Basic economic and intellectual forces are at work molding what will in fact be the new China," says a report of the Foreign Policy Association. "City walls are torn down to make way for modern highways, even while aviation and radio are transforming older methods of communication; the ancient guilds are disintegrated by the cheaper products of western industry, and a labor proletariat develops in the cities; a literary revolution scraps an elegant classical language, and thousands of illiterates are taught to read and write in the tongue they speak."

To Limit Army to 500,000

The extent of the Nanking government's contribution to Chinese reconstruction is contingent on its area of administrative control. It has undertaken to continue foreign loan payments, institute an improved military appropriation and limit the army to 500,000 men with a fixed annual military appropriation and establish a sound banking system with a reformed currency. The Foreign Policy Association reports partial progress in putting these vital measures into effect.

Despite success in some phases of its taxation policy the government had little luck in collecting its national consumption taxes and so has been severely pressed for ready funds. Its collections having been principally obtained from the nearby provinces of Chekiang and Kiangsu. Failure to effect army limitation and financial unification of China have forced its into precarious methods of financing.

Controls Only Nearby Provinces

While the Nanking government pretends to be responsible for the whole of China its army only recently had controlled only adjacent provinces. There are least a million more troops under arms in China than its policy calls for and the general in charge of these troops have been raising taxes for themselves. Defeat of the Kwangsi revolt last year, however, has given Nanking a commanding position in central and south China. Its troubles now lie in the north, where Feng Yu-Hsiang revolted after a disbandment conference last August. Its lack of control in Manchuria was demonstrated when the Manchurian government negotiated separately with the Soviet government in the railway dispute. Army demobilization and the proposed national budget plan appear to be no nearer realization than ever because of the stalwarts in north China.

With a territory larger than the United States and a population as great as Europe's, China has 7000 miles of railways and 20,000 miles of motor roads as compared with 275,000 miles of track and 3,000,000 miles of motor roads in the United States. Railways and waterways have suffered during civil war.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—While the friends of the Drammer are merily debating 'What's the Matter With the Theater,' 33 major Times Square theatrical hotels have dispossessed, bag and baggage, actors and actresses, out of work, whose overdue bill for lodging amounts to half a million dollars.

BARBER SHOPS GO FANCY
The Master Barbers are getting delusions of grandeur. They think that hair cutting, shaving and touting hair tonic should no longer be regarded as a trade, but elevated to the dignity of a profession. Refinement is the word that has gone forth. From now on, they say, this must be expressed in the literature that litters their shops. All flashy publications must go.

The old time barber shop was a comfortable place, with its red plush chairs and monogrammed shaving mugs. You could stroll in there on a Saturday night, sit around in your shirt sleeves, waiting your turn, and in language that was frequent and free, express your candid opinion of the home team or the president's foreign policy.

Then they went white-tile and fancy, introducing a lot of new-fangled contraptions that completely destroyed their individuality. And the end came when women began to invade the sacred precincts and the Police Gazette got up and gave its place to The Ladies' Home Journal.

Another chip off the beggarly status of man.

NOW IT'S THE SCIENTIFIC BOOK CLUB

If the newly organized Scientific Book Club is run by the right people it will be a great thing for those who for years have vainly tried to locate technical and scientific volumes at once trustworthy and readable.

The average writer on scientific subjects doesn't pay enough attention to literary skill. He doesn't think it important to write well. As a matter of fact, presentation is half the game; and there's no reason why a book on astronomy, anthropology or electricity, containing the last truthful word on the subject, shouldn't be so written that the man in the Ford can understand it, as well as the writer's confreres in the laboratory.

It's next to impossible to get a highbrow writer to understand the importance of circulation. For example: One page of The Atlantic Monthly has gone more merit than an entire issue of The Saturday Evening Post. But The Atlantic is read, for the most part, by a minority of educated fossils while The Post is read the country over, from the kitchen to the drawing room.

Aloneness is excess baggage. Get rid of it.

WORDS

While we're on this subject: A college professor, doubting the completeness of his verbal mastery, pawed through an unabridged dictionary and found that he knew 127,000 words.

The average man's vocabulary is limited to 3,000 words.

Most educated persons know too many words. That's why, as a rule, they are windy and tiresome in discourse. When they want to say something, instead of being direct about it and using a single simple expression that everyone will understand, they fuss around through their high-priced vocabulary, and when the thought is finally laid down, nobody knows what they're talking about.

Old Ben Franklin's rule was good. Said he:
"The fondness of some writers for such words as carry with them an air of learning, renders them unintelligible to more than half their countrymen. If a man would have that his writings have an effect on the generality of readers, he had better imitate that gentleman who would use no word in his works that was not well understood by his cookmaid."

BARBS

Former President Coolidge does not play golf "because it takes too much time to change clothes." Once upon a time, however, we saw a man play a round in long pants.

This country uses 3,000,000,000 pounds of soap a year. That isn't even counting the soft variety you hear.

We read that Atlas supported the earth. But it wasn't quite so heavy with reformers in those days.

Hockey players are said to be injured more than players of any other game. They're always skating on thin ice.

Communications From Readers

The Herald will print communications that are acceptable to it. They must be free of libel and personal abuse. Short ones will be given preference. Author's names and addresses must be signed for publication. Only original communication addressed to The Herald will be printed; open letters or letters otherwise addressed to various persons in public life are not acceptable.

To The Herald:
I see that Judge Cunningham is determined to keep the Hoovers out from being Democrats again. I want the judge to "leave 'em alone and they'll come home" etc. The judge is to be encouraged in his desire to exclude the bolters but it is better to chastise them within the party.
Leta not have any more political martyrs. Jim Ferguson once upon a time ran for the presidency on the American party ticket and was afterward elected governor de facto or proclomiento of Texas and the judge as well as myself and Tom Jordan voted for him and also in a like way and like manner did chairman Dave Wilcox. If the Herald will find a place for this letter with attached piece of sublime poetry I will be good until my friend Uncle Joe Cunningham again erupts. In which case I hereby threaten to write more verses.

GEORGE WILCOX
Abilene, Texas.

CANTO ONE
1. In fairest part of lovely earth
2. Farmer Jim was given birth.
3. No fabled star nor wise men three
4. The wise, all hid behind a tree
5. Large of eye and small of mouth
6. The wise man packed, hurried south
7. From all reports that neighbors got
8. The wisest men are going yet.
9. When Jimmie came to play and drank
10. On fair Salado's shady bank
11. The alligators rushed away.
12. Not rested 'til they reached the bay.
13. There they told the scary tale
14. To greedy shark and greasy whale.
15. And asked for help their homes to hold
16. 'Gaint Farmer Jim, the pirate bold.
17. Jay birds quarreled and fox squirrel wept
18. And sleepy 'possum never slept.
19. But Jim remained with flag unfurled.
20. And laughed aloud at scary world.
21. 'Twas not with these, he came to try
22. His mighty lance and charger spry.
23. For Farmer Jim must earn his name
24. And loosed his hawk at braver game.
25. Stout of wing and flaming eye.
26. He flew from north to south-ern sky
27. And saw below contending mass
28. Of warping creed and warring class.
29. He heard the anti shrewdly tell
30. That liberty had gone to hell.
31. Then heard the pro with head uptossed
32. Proclaim the Lord himself was lost.
33. Poor old "business" was going lame
34. And Texas winning shiftless name.
35. Then Jim proposed the status quo
36. For Jim's a lawyer, don't you know.
37. Anti sang contented songs.
38. Braver said they'd help

John G. Whitaker Is Candidate For County Attorney

The Herald is authorized to announce the candidacy of county attorney of Howard county of John G. Whitaker, well-known local attorney.

Mr. Whitaker has been actively identified with legal circles in Howard county since 1927 when he moved to Big Spring. He is known as a well educated professional man possessing sage judgment and a sense of fairness. His claims deserve the conscientious consideration of the people of this county.

Mr. Whitaker came to Big Spring in 1927 and for eighteen months was associated with Clyde E. Thomas in the practice of law under the firm name of Thomas & Whitaker. Since July 1, 1929, at which time the partnership was dissolved, he has been practicing law by himself.

"I wish to take this opportunity of expressing my deep appreciation of the splendid vote given me in the primary election two years ago for representative; and to state that if elected to the office of county attorney I shall do my best to see that all the laws are fairly, strictly and thoroughly enforced," said Mr. Whitaker.

"LOVE DIET" FOR MARRIED IN DISPUTE

By BARNEY COHAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
DENVER, Feb. 7.—A kiss in time may save a divorce.

That is the belief of a number of widely known Denver men and women who take issue with Superior Judge R. Roy Schauer of Los Angeles, Calif., who recently prescribed a "love diet" for married couples, with a list of ten rules among which is "be affectionate but moderately so."

Too much affection never caused any serious trouble in the home in the opinion of District Judge Frank McDonough, before whom hundreds of husbands and wives appear with their troubles.

Three society divorcees, a judge and a lawyer challenged some of Judge Schauer's statements, while admitting the worth of others.

Too much affection never caused any serious trouble in the home in the opinion of District Judge Frank McDonough, before whom hundreds of husbands and wives appear with their troubles.

The status of marriage depends on the wife's attitude," Mrs. Barker maintained. "Cold wives drive husbands away from home and family. If a man loves his wife and she professes to love him, he wants her to show him this affection. The happiest couples I have known have been the most demonstrative.

"Women for generations have been taught to deal out their affection niggardly, so men will appreciate it. That to my mind, is the wrong theory.

"While too many kisses on the part of the husband may annoy the wife, too few on the part of the wife may make the husband seek them elsewhere.

"I can't agree that affection should be used in moderation," declared James W. Kelley, prominent attorney. "I think that fewer homes would be broken if more ardor was shown by both men and women.

"It is the lack of affection that sends men and women to the divorce courts. I can conservatively say that one-half the divorce cases I have handled have been based on the lack of affectionate demonstration.

"At Right Time
"If a little affection at the right time and a lot of affection at the right time is displayed, I believe a lot of marital rifts would be sidetracked."

Mrs. Marian Newcomb, young divorcee, asserts that married life is a fifty-fifty affair, and if happiness is to be attained, affection also must be in about that 50-50 proportion.

"You know there is an old adage, 'familiarity breeds contempt,' and perhaps too much affection does likewise," she states, "I haven't had a great deal of experience along this line, but I do think that there can be too much affection in the home and that one tires of constant kissing."

Mrs. Georgia Ross Canary, divorced wife of the wealthy oil and cattle operator, concurs in the opinion of the California judge.

"Everyone wants things that are hard to get, whether those things are kisses or fame," she said, "and if kisses are too plentiful, both a wife and husband will lose their appetite for them."

R. H. Hekerson of the United States Biological Survey is expected to arrive in Big Spring Monday to confer with J. V. Bush, county agricultural agent, and farmers interested in eradicating predatory animals.

J. V. Bush, county agent, expects his father, E. H. Bush of Laurel, Miss., and a brother, R. H. Bush of Tyler, to arrive soon for a visit to the state.

BY DEMING SEYMOUR
(UP Feature Service Writer)
NEW YORK.—(UP) Skirts are growing still longer.

They will be no longer next spring than they were last fall. Hemlines are moving gradually down in spite of the stubbornest rebellion the fashion world has known in many seasons—a rebellion waged by women who liked short skirts because they looked younger in them, and had more freedom of motion.

The forecast that skirts will keep on growing longer is not the guess of a designer, nor is it the interested prophecy of a merchant who has long skirts to sell.

It is the conclusion of Amos Parrish, "weather man," of style, whose agents watch what women are wearing in every representative sector of American life and who undertakes, by determining trends, to tell department store buyers and executives throughout the land, at twice-a-year clinics, what the mode of the moment will be six months hence.

Skirts weren't as long last fall as they were alleged to be, Mr. Parrish points out. They were just getting longer. They have been getting longer, slowly but certainly, since 1928.

Next spring, he says, the skirt most in fashion for daytime street wear will be the middle calf length, five to six inches below the knee and 13 to 14 inches above the ground, depending on the height of the wearer.

Most suits and ensembles for street wear and most daytime dresses and coats will be of the same middle calf length.

Three other lengths will be in fashion, if Mr. Parrish's censuses and charts are indicative of tendencies.

For active sports wear, dresses of "upper calf length," three to four inches below the knee, 15 to 16 inches above the ground. A few suits and ensembles for street wear and most evening wraps will also be of this length.

For formal afternoon wear, the longer calf length, 10 to 11 inches below the knee. Of this length also will be a few very formal suits and ensembles for street wear and most of the formal afternoon dresses.

For evening wear, dresses of ankle length at one or more places. A few evening wraps will be ankle length and a few will be hip length.

Many women believe that skirts were arbitrarily dropped last fall from the knee to the ankle, but the tendency to longer dresses goes back two years. By April, 1929, most dresses were two inches below the knee, and last October most dresses were "upper calf length."

By spring fashion analyses show, dresses most in fashion will be about two inches longer than last October.

Six different skirt lengths have been in fashion in the last seven years. Four-fifths of the dresses were of ankle length in 1923. Five years later skirts were about as short as women could wear them at the knee or higher.

Then they began to get longer, and Mr. Parrish avers that women themselves brought about the change. They were tired of the plain straight line effects, and began to add bows and pleats and other details. And circular godets, flat hips and flounce effects didn't balance with short dresses.

Wouldn't Take $5.00 For The Good It Did Him

SAN ANGELO CARPENTER SAYS ORGATONE PUT HIM IN BETTER SHAPE THAN HE'D BEEN IN TWO YEARS

"Honestly, I wouldn't take $500 for the good Orgatone has done me," said E. A. Shanks, a well known carpenter, living at 28 W. Eighteenth Street, San Angelo, Texas.

"My whole system had been in a rundown condition for about two years," he continued, "and I suffered from severe pains in my abdomen. I lost strength and energy every day for what food I ate, wouldn't do me any good and it would cause gas to form and would seem to press against my lungs, which would make me miserable. I didn't sleep at night and would get up in the morning feeling worse than when I went to bed. I had a severe case of constipation and had to take strong laxatives most all the time."

"Soon after starting on Orgatone the severe pains began to leave me and now I am better in every way than I have been for a long time. I get up in the mornings now feeling fine and can work all day without tiring out. I eat anything I want and am not bothered with stomach or indigestion troubles. I am not constipated and in fact, my general condition has improved. Orgatone certainly proved the right medicine in my case and I am glad to say a good case and I am glad to say a good word for it."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Big Spring at the Cunningham and Phillips Drug Store.

Mrs. T. E. Johnson has returned to her home in Edward Heights after a few days in a local hospital where she received treatment. She is doing nicely, it is reported.

Mrs. Barker Hostess

The Valentine party of the Blue Bonnet Bridge club given Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. O. Barker on Nolan street was one of the loveliest parties of the week. Cut flowers were used generously to carry out the color scheme of the Valentine season. Lacy Valentines were used as place cards and harmonized with the bridge appointments.

Prizes were wrapped in red and white crepe paper and tied to resemble a Valentine. Mrs. W. D. McDonald won high score award, while Mrs. John P. Wolfe won cut visitors' high score award was won by Mrs. Harry Johns.

The one course luncheon carried out the red and white idea. Three tables of club members and one table of visiting guests were entertained.

DAILY ROUGHAGE IS AN ESSENTIAL IN ANY DIET

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Effective Relief for Constipation. Also Adds Iron to the Blood

Do you suffer from constipation? Are you one of those who have tried one "vest pocket cure" after another and still have no sense of permanent relief? If so, this is big news to you! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is natural, effective relief for both temporary and recurring constipation. It is the original—and today is included in the diets of millions of people who formerly suffered from constipation.

When roughage is missing from food, constipation is the consequence. The soft foods we eat today seldom include enough roughage. The simple necessity, then, is to see to it that sufficient roughage is included in our food.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the bulk that your system requires. In addition, it is rich in iron. Scientific research proves that nearly all this iron is absorbed by the system, building red blood and bringing the glorious color of health to the complexion.

Miss Cox Hostess To Members of Sorority

Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority met Thursday evening with Miss Clara Cox in the Driver home on Johnson street in regular session. During the short business session it was decided that the club would be affiliated with the City Federation and that meetings henceforth should be held in the community clubhouse.

Miss Mildred Creath was announced as the next hostess, Thursday evening, Feb. 29.

As lesson, Mrs. E. E. Eldredge discussed the life and literature of George Eliot and gave a comparison to modern literature. Mrs. Fox Stripling gave a sympathetic discourse on the writings of Hawthorne as colored by his life. She also gave graphic descriptions of his plots and drew splendid pictures of his philosophy of life.

Miss Vallia True continued the discussion by a description of the romances of Hawthorne and refreshed the memories of club members on the classic, "The Scarlet Letter," and many other of his loved masterpieces.

Those in the class for the next meeting will be Miss Creath who will have as her subject the character sketch of Carlyle; Mrs. L. C. Dahme will give a resume of Sartor Resartus while Miss Kitty Wingo will give sketch of Goethe and his "Faust."

Miss Cox served a delicious plate luncheon at the close of the hour. Miss Bell and Mrs. Cox were guests at the club.

J. W. Nix, who resides northeast of the city, is recovering from an appendicitis operation performed in a local hospital.

'INSULT,' SAYS ALVIN MOODY OF DECISION

Anti-Tammany Chief Replies to Executive Committee

"Insulting" the state Democratic executive committee's decision to bar as candidates but not as voters Texans who bolted the ticket and voted for Hoover is the term used by Alvin Moody, president of the Anti-Tammany Democrats of Texas, in a statement issued from Houston. It follows:

The State Democratic Executive Committee offers an insulting proposition to every democrat who in 1928 voted for President Hoover. That committee says that those Hoover supporters may sink into the democratic primaries and vote for candidates nominated by the Al Smith faction of the party, but they cannot under any circumstances themselves be a candidate for any office from dog catcher up, or have the opportunity of supporting a candidate who represents their principles.

It is hardly conceivable that any self-respecting person would accept such a proposal. It is quite possible that the courts will reverse the action of the committee, but if for any reason they do not, then I do not see how any Democratic Hoover supporter of 1928 can, without sacrificing his honor, enter into the coming primary, unless that course shall be found necessary in order to serve a great cause.

This executive committee has clearly defied the law of the state; it has spurned the sovereignty of the state just as it has spurned moral principles in the matter of oaths. In addition it has by specific act provided for negro participation in the coming primary, and even for negro candidacies—doubtless in reward for the great aid given to the cause of Al Smith by the wet element among the negroes in 1928.

The liquorized negro is welcomed as a brother; the decent white men and women of Texas who refused to swallow the Tammany-liquor program of 1928 are permitted back as moral lepers, with the proviso that they can vote only for such men as stood loyal two years ago to the Tammany-Liquor program.

I urge all the 300,000 Texas Democrats who voted against Al Smith and his liquor program in 1928, and the other 200,000 dry democrats who stayed at home rather than vote for Governor Smith to stand united now; not for one moment to consider submitting to the dishonorable terms offered them.

In a few days or weeks the political course which it is best for us to follow will develop. I would be glad to hear from all who are opposed to the Committee's action.

100 RURAL ATHLETES TANGLE SATURDAY

STEERS GO TO ABILENE FOR TUSSLE

Steer Seconds To Play In Lamesa Tournament Opening Friday Night

While the Steer regulars are returning a game with Abilene Saturday night and the Steer seconds are participating in the Lamesa invitational tournament, the local high school gym will be anything but a quiet, peaceful, deserted hall.

Nearly a dozen quintets from all corners and sectors of Howard county will tangle to select a schoolboy team favorite to meet Big Spring in the county final bout next Tuesday evening.

J. H. Kannenberg, athletic director of Howard county's official representatives to appear at the high school at nine o'clock Saturday morning when pairings will be made and tournament play started.

Each of ten squads entered in the rural school tournament Saturday will carry between eight and twelve squadmen, which leads tournament officials to believe 100 or more athletes will appear during the day's clashes.

Big Crowd Coming Approximately 300 or 400 rural school children and community residents are expected to fill the gymnasium Saturday supporting their favorites. The county tournament, climaxing event for the popular rural school basketball sport is attracted to Big Spring because of gymnasium accommodations.

A senior boys' team representing Soash school was entered with the athletic director Thursday bringing the total number of entries to ten. Other schools to be represented include Lomax, Coburn, Knott, R-Bar, Vincent, Richland, Center Point, Forsan and Moore.

Kannenberg talked the order for all ten teams to be at the high school gymnasium Saturday morning for drawings and that all clubs must be on hand ready to play immediately after the drawing is if it falls their lot to blast the lid from the tournament.

"We will need all the time possible to complete the tournament in one single day and, therefore, it is doubly important that all teams be ready to play at the hours scheduled. Particularly it is important that all teams be in the gymnasium Saturday morning at nine o'clock prepared to play in the first game if necessary," explained Mr. Kannenberg.

While the rural tournament is occupying the local basketball spotlight, the Steers will be in Abilene seeking to gain an even break with the Eagles who administered a 33 to 19 liding to the domestics last Saturday night.

Lamesa Tourney A squad of ten second string Steer players left Big Spring Friday afternoon for Lamesa where they will compete with 27 other clubs from class B schools and second teams from class A schools.

Teams which have accepted the Lamesa invitations are Klondyke-McCarty, Bar T, Sunset, Wilson, Ballard, Ackerly, Woody, Patricia, Lou, Big Spring, Hancock, Liberty, Sparenburg, Lamesa, Key, Seminole, Wells, O'Donnell, Shawmate, Fluvanna and Mullins. Officials for the tournament named last week by Coach McCollum, Murray McWhorter and Windy Nicholas, both former Texas Tech athletes, will referee the games. The lid was blasted Friday morning, but Big Spring is not slated for competition until 7:30 o'clock Friday evening when the Steer seconds meet Hancock semi-finals and finals of the tournament will be played Saturday.

Cuyler Given Two Year Term

CHICAGO, Feb. 7 (AP)—Hazen "Kiki" Cuyler, fleet rightfielder of the National League champion Chicago Cubs, has had his new contract revised to read "two years" instead of "one year." Cuyler, in Chicago with his Pontiac, Mich. semi-professional basketball team, had agreed to terms offered by President William L. Veeck, but wanted a two-year term—and got it yesterday.

Popularity Of Carnera Grows With Each Win

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—There are no figures to prove it, but the suspicion grows that Primo Carnera, Venetian carpenter, will be the highest paid athlete in the United States within as short a time as it takes to tell it.

The giant Italian heavyweight knocked out Cowboy Billy Owens, Cherokee Indian from Guthrie, Okla., in three minutes and 25 seconds of fighting at Newark last night and boosted his total earnings in America to somewhere between $40,000 and $45,000.

Carnera has made three ring appearances since he came to this country and knocked out three men in total ring time of five minutes, 22 seconds. That makes his earnings approximately $8,000 for every minute he spent in the ring.

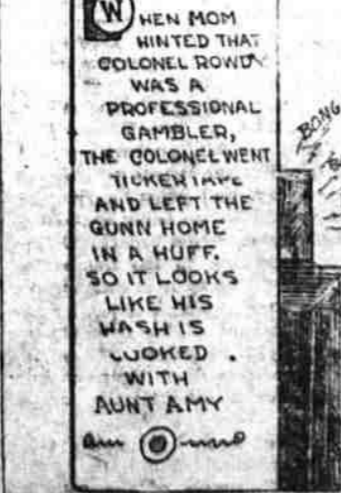

Owens made a better showing than either of Carnera's previous opponents, although that may have been because the Italian was inclined to clown his way through the first round. The Italian knocked out Big Boy Ferguson in 1 minute, 30 seconds of fighting in his first match here and Elmer Rionix of Canada in 47 seconds at Chicago last Friday night. Owens lasted 3 minutes, 25 seconds.

Eight thousand persons jammed their way into the Newark arena.

Charley Paddock is not yet ready to put away his spiked shoes for good. At least the great sprinter says he isn't. However, it is going to take more than the mere announcement of his intentions to compete in his 17th consecutive speed campaign to convince most critics. If Charley goes through with his plans he will open his 1936 appearance in the Southern Pacific relay at Long Beach, Feb. 22, as a member of the Los Angeles Athletic club sprint relay team.

Committee Plans Seventh Grade Health Tests Here

Final plans for administering the county-wide seventh grade examinations are being formulated among Howard County schools, whereby students who leave the county schools may be allowed to enter independent and city high schools without taking entrance examinations.

The following teachers have been named on the examining committee: Mrs. Sallie Brooks of Center Point; Miss Arah Phillips of Lomax; Miss Ena Mae Cook of Cauble; G. F. Halton of Vincent; Mrs. Susan Farrar Cramer of Chalk; J. R. Hale of Elbow; Miss Elsie Loggans of Morris.

Subjects in which students will be examined will include: Arithmetic, English, spelling, geography, and reading while optional subjects will be government and agriculture. A meeting of the examining committee will be called within a few days to meet with Miss Pauline Cantrell, superintendent of county schools. Final details will be worked out at that time.

PONIES GET BIG CHANCE

Victory Over Longhorns Will Throw Texas Club Out Of Race

DALLAS, Feb. 7 (AP)—It became Southern Methodist's turn today to attempt to break up the Arkansas-Texas combine at the top of the Southwest Conference basketball standing. The Longhorns, with prospects of at least tying Arkansas for the crown, were called to battle the Mustangs here.

The fact that Southern Methodist knocked Texas out of a title last year added spice to the program. Expectations were that a crowded hall would witness the battle. The Mustangs, on the basis of past performances, did not figure even to extend the speedy scoring team. But neither did they last season when they belted Coach Walker's boys out of the championship.

Tomorrow night the Texas Christian five will take a shot at "Big 'Un" Rose and company over at Fort Worth, after which the Steers will return to their home court at Austin for all but one game remaining on their schedule. The consensus is that the Longhorns can assure themselves a tie with Arkansas by sweeping the bouts tonight and tomorrow.

One other tilt completes the week's conference card, Coach John Reid's Texas Aggies, who last week trimmed both S. M. U. and T. C. U. in a swing-through North Texas, invade Houston for a joust with the Rice Owls Saturday night. Rice was victorious, 23 to 17, in a previous meeting at College Station.

The Razorbacks, who went back into their accustomed post at the top of the ladder by downing Baylor twice last week, are booked for a pair of non-conference frays with the Oklahoma Aggies tonight and tomorrow at Stillwater. Next week the four-time champions will play host to Southern Methodist at Fayetteville.

The Longhorns go into this week's series with the highest scoring record of any team in the conference. Led by Rose, forward, the Orange quintet has averaged 33 points in five games. Southern Methodist, in the same number of games, has averaged only 28.

It is coincident that Arkansas, leading the parade, and Rice in sixth place, have scored exactly the same number of points, 160, in six starts. They have averaged 27 to the game. Baylor has averaged 26, Texas Christian 25 and the Aggies 23. Texas scored 42 points against Baylor for the highest mark of the season thus far.

Table with columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Arkansas 5 1 .833, Texas 4 1 .800, Texas A. & M. 3 2 .600, T. C. U. 3 4 .429, S. M. U. 2 3 .400, Rice 2 4 .333, Baylor 1 5 .183

NERVOUS SUFFERING

Lady Says She Took Cardui, Felt Better In A Few Weeks, and Steadily Gained Health.

Moscow, Ohio.—"I had been in awful, bad health for months and months," says Mrs. Cynthia Stetson, of this place. "My nerves were all to pieces, and I was all run-down. My back hurt all the time, and I had to drag myself around the house. My legs ached and I worried all the time. I could not stand the least noise. The least little thing upset me.

"One day, I read a Ladies' Birth-day Almanac that my husband brought home, and I thought I would try the medicine I read about in it—Cardui.

"I began taking Cardui, and in a few weeks I felt myself getting much better. I took it for several months, as I was steadily gaining in health. When I finished taking Cardui, I felt fine.

"Since that time, thirty years ago, I have taken Cardui several times when I needed a tonic to help build me up, and it has always helped me. I give it to my daughters and I have recommended it to others. I think it is a fine medicine."

Great numbers of women, of all ages, have written to tell how they have been helped back to good health by taking Cardui. NC-578

For weeks general plans for the divisional basketball tournament to be held in Big Spring next week-end have been talked. However, county changes will invade our fair city to enjoy the accommodations afforded by the splendid gymnasium at the high school and to test the metal of opponents.

Now details of the tournament must be completed within the next seven days. If Big Spring does justice to the honor bestowed upon the city, visiting athletes, 70 in all, must be accommodated in private homes. Gate receipts at the various theaters will not carry the burden alone. Therefore, private citizens are hereby invited, urged and requested to offer one, two, three or more rooms that can be occupied by visiting athletes Friday night and possibly Saturday night.

The Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with school authorities in preparing for the tournament that will bring no less than 60 visiting athletes and possibly 200, 300, or 400 fans for one or two days of the tournament. If any individual believes he can accommodate one or more of the 60 visiting basketball players in his home, please notify either the Chamber of Commerce or George Gentry, principal of the high school, or W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of schools.

Let's don't rock along for three or four days and forget all about our business of entertaining our visitors, but rather get on the telephone and just call 512, the Chamber of Commerce, or 415, the senior high school, and say, "This is John Doe speaking. I'll accommodate one, two or three of those basketball hoodlums. I live at 1700 Jones street and just tell the boys to come on out when they get in town."

This is the first effort in modern history Big Spring has been granted an opportunity to entertain half the district and personally we believe this city will be overlooking a worthwhile opportunity, if our visitors are not cordially received and entertained during their stay. We'd hate to see 60 or more visitors arrive full of hope and expectancy and then be nudged off into some hostile third rate rooming house. That procedure could hardly be termed entertainment, so let's get going on this housing proposition. If some citizens find it more convenient to call the sports department of The Herald, we'll be glad to put the names, addresses and the number of visitors that can be accommodated in hands of the proper authorities.

Snyder looms as a team worthy of consideration during the coming tournament. Coach "Red" Moore's boys have thumped Abilene a couple of times this season. The latest triumph came this week when the Eagles wound up one point behind the Scurry county eagles. Earlier in the season Snyder whipped the talons off the Eagles in Abilene.

While sitting here pondering what to say next, we just happened to wonder if the Steer second stringers can appropriately be called "bum-steers." For the benefit of Insight Cross, will add there are no cash prizes offered for the correct answer.
