Vessels Of 3 Nations Join Hunt; Meteor Mistaken For Flare

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—The coast guard cutter Itasca reported at 12:45 p. m. (EST) today she had no information about the Earhart plane.

The message was sent to Washington in response to a request that the Itasca searching near Howland Island, report on numerous rumors that she had been found, or heard from the missing plane this morning.

The Itasca reported at 5:40 a. m. (EST) that lights, which officers at first thought might be flares from the Earhart plane, were only meteors.

Matern flew here yesterday from Oklahoma City to spend a week studying navigation and radio problems in preparation for his proposed flight from Oakland, Calif., to Moscow, Russia, via the North Pole.

Asks Italian And German Governments For 125,000 Troops

By The Associated Press

The Spanish government new agency, Agencia Espanola, declared today that insurgent General Francisco Franco had asked the Italian and German governments for 125,000 troops to aid in a new offensive against Madrid.

A purported secret memorandum addressed to Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy was said also to have requested 500 airplanes, 50 artillery batteries and tanks. The agency did not say where it obtained the memorandum.

An insurgent communique at Hendaye, on the Franco-Spanish border, reported a government battalion had been trapped and cut down in fierce fighting in the mountainous country of northern Spain near Somiedo on the Asturian front.

Sources close to the French foreign office in Paris predicted Great Britain and France might agree to give the Spanish insurgents "limited" belligerent rights in return for full Italo-German cooperation in a "hands off Spain" such patrol.

Such rights would give Franco's stronger fleet the privilege of blockading government ports and control of shipping, government or foreign, within the three-mile limit.

In London, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden indicated to the House of Commons a possible compromise in Europe's Spanish neutrality deadlock, saying the British will consider "any other proposal which is just and fair."

The deadlock finds Britain and France on one side and Germany and Italy on the other, unable to agree on methods for continuing future attempts to isolate Spain's year-old civil war.

Eden said a full session of the 27-member non-intervention committee was to be held Friday and that this should allow "a little time for reflection on the serious issues involved." This was taken to mean that Germany and Italy might "reflect" with a view to modifying their present demands.

PICKET KILLED IN CLASH WITH WORKERS

MENOMINEE, Mich., July 6 (AP)—Joseph Jozwiak, 42, was accidentally killed today in a clash between pickets and workers at the strike-bound Lloyd Manufacturing company plant.

Jozwiak, a picket slipped and fell under an automobile entering the plant driveway and was dragged nearly 300 feet. He died a half hour later in a hospital.

The fatality occurred when the Lloyd plant attempted to reopen its plant closed since June 22. A crowd estimated by police at more than 400 pickets massed about the plant entrance to demonstrate opposition to the attempt of nearly 450 of the company's 1,000 employees to return to their jobs.

State To Ask Death Penalty For Slayer

Three Young Inglewood Girls Garrotted And Ravished

LOS ANGELES, June 6 (AP)—Declaring he would demand that Albert Dyer, 32, hang for the slaying of three little Inglewood girls, District Attorney Byron Fitts sought evidence today to support Dyer's recorded confession.

Two persons have been found, he said, who saw the three girls, Jeanette Stephens, 9, and the Everett sisters, Madeline, 7, and Melba, 9, following Dyer toward the Baldwin Hills where they thought they were to hunt rabbits but instead were garrotted and ravished.

Fitts said he had refused an offer by the WPA school crossing guard to plead guilty to the fiendish crime, if he were promised a life sentence.

"I will ask the grand jury Wednesday for a first degree murder indictment," said the district attorney. "Then we will seek a quick trial and demand the death penalty."

George Riley, real estate operator, told police he saw the three girls preceded by their slayer, walking toward the Baldwin Hills the day the girls disappeared. A Japanese woman who has a store near Centinela Park, where the girls played, said she saw Dyer and then the girls pass her store.

Think It's Hot? It Reached 134 In Death Valley

LINCOLN, Neb., July 6 (AP)—Too blamed hot today?

"Tut, tut," says Thomas A. Blair, official observer for the U. S. weather bureau and assistant professor of meteorology at the University of Nebraska, pointing to the plight of citizens of Tripoli.

There, on a certain date, he says the thermometer reached 136 degrees.

And if that doesn't chill you, he adds, think of February 9, 1933, and Yellowstone national park. The mercury registered 66 below zero—lowest recorded temperature in the United States.

Blair recalls that a thermometer left for 19 years near the top of Mount McKinley in Alaska, showed a minimum temperature of 100 when recovered.

With this he contrasts a 134-degree recording in Death Valley, Calif., which he says is the highest on record in the U. S.

This data is contained in "Weather Elements," a book Blair has just written.

Rush Aid To British Ship

Vessel Stopped By Spanish Insurgents Near Santander

LONDON, July 6 (AP)—Lloyd's reported today two British warships steamed to the assistance of the British steamer Gordonia today after she was stopped near Santander, Spain, by an insurgent Spanish warship.

The ship wirelessly she was stopped at 10:50 a. m. B. S. T. (3:50 a. m. Central Standard Time) about 5 miles northeast of Cape Mayo, in the general area where blockading insurgent naval forces earlier in the week seized a French freighter under charter to a Spanish Leftist aid group.

Later, however, the Gordonia reported: "Have two H. M. ships alongside now and awaiting instructions from united kingdom."

Admiralty and foreign office officials went into hasty conference. It was assumed here the British men of war were holding the insurgent warship alongside for the time being.

British warships in the Bay of Biscay area are under orders to protect their merchantmen outside the Spanish 3-mile limit. The French steamer Tregastel, seized while attempting to enter the Spanish government port of Santander, was within Spanish waters and therefore captured legally.

MERKEL ENTRANT IS SLIGHTLY INJURED

Brown Todd, Water Valley, High Man On Two Day Money

Fourth annual Big Spring cowboy reunion and rodeo swung into its third and final series of performances today with the attendance records of previous years already eclipsed.

Officials estimated attendance in four shows at 25,000 and believed that the throng which packed the grounds Monday night numbered 6,500.

Bill Brabbin, Merkel rodeo entrant, became the only casualty of the show Monday in the steer riding event when his mount threw and trampled him. He was rushed to a hospital for emergency treatment and was subsequently discharged. He suffered a slight relapse Monday night, but was apparently all right Tuesday.

High Man

Brown Todd, Water Valley, was high man on two day money by sweeping the bull calf roping and bulldogging events. He belted his calf in 11.4 seconds and threw his steer in 10.4 seconds.

Marvin Stephens was first in calf roping with 20 seconds flat. Buster Brown, loose jointed bronc buster from Canadian, won the bucking horse contest aboard "Rocky Bottom" and Dan Utley, San Angelo, atop "Bing Crosby," was second.

Buck Jones took first honors in steer riding with Earl Fore in second place.

Second place in calf roping went to Weldon Poag of Stiles with 21 seconds. Curtis McElroy of Pecora was next with 22.3.

Red Davis and Weldon Poag tied for second place in the bull calf roping event with 14 seconds each.

Among those witnessing the performance Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, Midland. They were pleased with the show and declared it superior to the larger Stamford rodeo.

Feature acts by John Lindsey, clown, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Richards, trick and fancy riders; Curley Seals, dare-devil cowgirl; and Bud Spillbury with Silver King, were drawing plenty of applause from fans.

Flying Boats Land After Atlantic Hop

Chart Route For Commercial Flights Between N. America, Europe

By The Associated Press

Two mighty flying "ships" that pass in the night successfully charted a route for regular commercial flights between North America and Europe today.

The Pan American Clipper III landed at Foynes, Ireland, after a 1,960-mile survey hop from Botwood, Newfoundland, making the ocean jump in 12 hours and 40 minutes.

The British Imperial Airways flying boat Caledonia completed the westward hop of 1,990 miles from Foynes to Botwood in 13 hours and nine minutes.

Neither carried passengers nor mail.

The Caledonia landed at Botwood at 5:06 a. m. E.S.T. (4:06 C.S.T.). The Pan American Clipper alighted majestically on the River Shannon at Foynes at 4:50 a. m. E.S.T. (3:50 C.S.T.).

A brisk tail wind speeded the American plane carrying Captain Harold E. Gray and a crew of seven on the inaugural flight.

The 19-ton, four-engine Caledonia completed her hop ahead of schedule, in charge of Captain A. S. Wilcockson and a crew of four. He had estimated the Caledonia would make the crossing in from 16 to 17 hours.

Spectators cheered loudly as the big plane dropped out of the skies to an easy landing. The plans will fly to Montreal Thursday and then on to Port Washington, N. Y., the last lap of the flight.

The Clipper's average speed was 156 miles per hour, the Caledonia's 132.

The twin surveys put Great Britain and the United States first in the field in this year's projected experimental flights over the North Atlantic by aviation interests of four nations. France and Germany are preparing for similar excursions.

Robinson Launches Administration Drive For Reorganization

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—Democratic Leader Robinson, opening the fight for the administration's judicial reorganization bill, told the senate today that judges more than 75 years of age "usually are in a state of mental and physical decline."

A he spoke Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.), leader of the opposition to judicial reorganization, emerged from a long White House conference and said he was still opposed to any compromise which would add any justices to the supreme court.

Wheeler and Senator Bone (D-Wash.) talked with the president an hour and a half.

Robinson began the senate debate after that chamber had agreed without a record vote to take the judiciary legislation up for consideration.

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—The senate battle over the Roosevelt court bill, regarded as likely to produce the gravest debate since the League of Nations fight, got under way today.

Democratic Leader Robinson of Arkansas, launched the administration drive for reorganization of the courts. He made the move after five months of heated discussion in congress and out.

Early in the afternoon, the stocky majority leader moved to begin consideration of the Roosevelt bill, calling for the appointment of as many as six new justices to the supreme court if those over 70 years of age do not retire.

Holiday Death Toll Highest In History

2-Day Celebration Results In Violent Death For 563 Persons

FIREWORKS BLAMED FOR FOUR DEATHS

Highway Toll Soars To New All-Time Record Of 310

By The Associated Press

A total of 563 men, women and children met violent death in the two-day celebration of the nation's 161st birthday.

The toll was believed the highest in the history of America's observance of Independence Day.

Only four deaths were attributed directly to fireworks. Traffic accidents constituted the biggest single cause. A total of 310 persons were injured fatally on streets and highways.

There were 142 drownings Sunday and Monday.

The four fireworks deaths compared with 11 last year. This year's victims were three children and a man. Geraldine Mulvey, 8, Woonsocket, R. I., and Julia Fries, 9, Baltimore, Md., suffered fatal burns when their dresses were ignited by sparklers. Eloise Hope Burton, 4, bought a penny box of matches to ignite fireworks at Price, Utah. Neighbors found her fatally burned in her yard. Howard C. Marsh, 48, Roxboro, Mass., was injured fatally while tamping powder in a home-made cannon.

Among the states New York had the largest number of fatalities from all causes—39. Michigan was next with 36 and California third with 34. Pennsylvania had 26, Ohio 25, Texas and Missouri 21 each. Vermont was low with only one death from violence.

Ideal weather in most sections of the nation drew motorists to the highways by tens of thousands. The toll of 310 traffic deaths was the largest in more than a decade.

May Probe FD's Income Tax Returns

President Takes Reporters On Tour Of 560-Acre Hyde Park Tract

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—Chairman Doughton (D-NC) said the senate-house committee on tax evasion and avoidance would decide today whether to investigate President Roosevelt's income tax returns.

Rep. Fish (R-N.Y.) who represents Mr. Roosevelt's congressional district, has charged the chief executive used revenue law loopholes and deducted losses from his "farm" at Hyde Park, N. Y., in making out tax returns. Fish asked the committee to inquire into his allegations.

The president took reporters Sunday on a personally conducted tour of his 560 acres at Hyde Park, emphasizing the tract was not a farm but a forestry project from which he expected eventually to make a profit, except for interest and taxes, on the sale of Christmas trees and commercial timber.

Doughton expressed no advance opinion on what the committee would do about Fish's assertions. He said, however, he saw no need of calling additional witnesses before the committee.

Gain Reported In Available School Fund

Educators Ask Increase In School Aid Per Capita Apportionment

AUSTIN, July 6 (AP)—Robert S. Calvert, statistician in the comptroller's department, estimated today the surplus of the available school fund at the end of next month would be $3,117,898.92, a gain of more than $1,600,000 in a year.

Immediately after he had presented his estimate to the state board of education, school mail from various parts of the state applied to the board to raise the school aid per capita apportionment from $19 to $22.

They contended the ad valorem tax for school purposes should be retained at 20 cents on the $100 valuation and said the apportionment could be fixed at $22 with such retention.

Gov. James V. Allred meanwhile pointed out the property tax for schools department was reduced to almost nothing if the apportionments were not raised and added he would "like to see the ad valorem tax get a break."

Speakers for boosting the state school aid figure from $19 to $22 included Mayor C. K. Quinn of San Antonio, Dr. A. W. Birdwell of Nacogdoches, president of the state teachers' association, and W. H. Norwood, superintendent at Corsicana.

Quinn asserted that "adequate education is the best assurance against the radicalism which is sweeping so many countries and from which we are by no means immune."

State Superintendent L. A. Woods joined in the appeal for a substantial increase in the apportionment. He asserted many Texas children were not afforded the opportunity of attending school for nine months.

Ghent Sanderson, chairman of the board, predicted the appointment would be raised.

Fighting Is Renewed Over Disputed Area

Jap And Manchoukuo Commands Alarmed By Developments

HSINKING, Manchoukuo, July 6 (AP)—The Japanese army declared today it had defeated a sizeable detachment of Russian troops in a day-long battle on the disputed frontier of Manchoukuo and Siberia.

The Japanese-inspired government of Manchoukuo immediately made strong representations to Moscow over the renewed outbreak of hostilities.

Soviet troops, the army charged, launched two attacks against combined Japanese-Manchoukuo border guards Monday morning near the little frontier town of Chienshan. An army communique declared the Russians opened fire and wounded one Japanese soldier before the assaults were repulsed.

Heavy Cannon Fire Throughout the day, the army asserted, the Soviet troops brought up heavy artillery and in the evening started a bombardment of the Manchoukuo side of the border with heavy cannon.

At the same time, the army spokesman said, an attack in force was made by a detachment of 150 Soviet soldiers.

The Japanese and Manchoukuo troops were said to have advanced to meet the assault, driving back the alleged invaders with a vigorous counter attack.

Two Soviet soldiers were reported to have been killed and many wounded.

The latest outbreak was considered here to be serious, coming as it does so soon after the break between Russia and Japan caused by last week's battle of the Amur river.

Only the most delicate diplomatic negotiations at that time kept Russia from attacking.

President Returned to the White House Today After a Five-Day Holiday at Hyde Park, N. Y. Home

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt returned to the White House today after a five-day holiday at his Hyde Park, N. Y. home.

He was accompanied on the return journey by Secretary Morgenthau, who spent the Independence Day weekend at Fishkill, his Dutchess county, N. Y., estate.

In an upstate New York Independence Day speech, the president expressed confidence in the future of America "as long as we maintain the democracy of our manners and the democracy of our hearts."

At a festival of the Dutch Reformed Church at Mt. Marion, the president declared to a countless crowd of communicants, the rising generation had no cause to fear dictatorship in America.

He also expressed the wish that some of the "poise" and "fundamentals of democracy" in this country could be transferred abroad for the benefit of nations lacking in these principles and ideals.

The 'ole man of the mauntain', Gutsipil Koepcke, who 'hain't' been home in so many moons' hits the ringside trail again tonight by accepting a call to arms with Tony Piluso in the main event of the Big Spring Athletic Club.

Yeah, it's comin' out night 'ol' Joe again and the aged Bohemian, sans a couple of inches in waist line, will throw his craft up against a young man who has climbed the local ladder of ring success to a spot as a main event.

Young Tony upset the Indian's tomato-carriage by dumping him into the laps of some of the gentlemen at the ringside who didn't want him but who were content to hold him until the referee could sound the toll.

COAHOMA IS VICTIM OF MARTINMEN

For six innings Monday on the East Third diamond the powerful Coahoma Bulldogs threatened to sweep their second straight game from the Cosden Oilers behind steady hurling on the part of Max Beard but the locals were biding their time.

Credit for the victory went to Bill Cook, the righthander with the scie delivery, first, after the second inning was over. He retrained the enemy in the several remaining rounds with very little trouble.

Fuglar picked the pellet up and heaved across the diamond to second where Howard Reid failed to snag it. Ramsey continued his mad dash on into the far corner of the diamond.

READING AND WRITING

By John Selby

THE difficulty of making contact between the general public and music has stumped a great many writers. Some feel with Sigurd Spaeth that the power way to drag music off her pedestal is to make her wife a few dirty jokes. Others have the notion that the public must be lifted up a bed of fine writing until, in a stupor, and even touch-me-not condition, the candidate may be allowed to learn.

Richard Hall, professor of music at the University of Texas at Austin, thinks that most of the human race already knows a good deal about music. A very ordinary man knows a dandelion is something of its habits. So with music. It is in this approach that uses in "Listeners' Music," and the result is rather more than might be expected from a book of that title. After all, says Professor Hall, music is written down to be heard. And he knows a great deal of people who can't read music. He can detect a sour note in the middle of Debussy's "La Mer," for example.

After the ice is cracked, Professor Hall is, of course, reduced to the usual least common denominator. The facts about music exist and must be expressed much the same by all. He does give the reader a new twist here and there, but for the most part his approach is conventional enough to satisfy but the chaps with whiskers.

"A Key to the Art of Music," by Frank Howes, is a five-headed monster. Mr. Howes (of the Long Times) tries to interest his reader five ways. He divides his book into these sections: The Philosophy of Music; the Technical; the Literature; history, and criticism. There is not room to do much more than suggest when the field is so broad; it is to the author's credit that he pretends to do no more.

For fun and amusement, there is a book by J. Rosamond Johnson's "Rolling Along in Song," which is a book of 87 negro songs, more or less chronologically placed, and, of course, arranged by the compiler. Some things are included which might be left out; and the other way about. That is always true.

BULKY BUREAU: Texas is setting up a board for teacher retirement pensions. The board is a non-salaried group, composed in part of public officials already in the harness.

The board must list now about 48,000 teachers actually employed. It must determine the status and eligibility of thousands who return to the profession after interruptions of employment. It must be prepared to meet the demands of several thousand new teachers each year.

There will be a complicated financial record-keeping setup. The state will be provided taxes, the teachers making contributions. Mail alone will average probably 40,000 letters a month, before the board ever sends out the first teacher pension check.

This is one security program the state undertook without federal assistance. It is the one special group of people, apart from the aged, for which the state agreed to levy taxes.

One ray of encouragement to the taxpayer is that the teachers themselves are to chip in each year for administrative expenses.

FORGOTTEN PAROLE LAW

Texas authorized a parole amendment, under which it was expected a much better system would replace the old. But the legislature failed to pass a pardon and parole law acceptable to the governor, and effects of the amendment are largely nullified for the present.

Authors of a bill insisted they had reached agreement on a new form, but failed to get it acted on in recent sessions.

A new parole status may be offered in the fall sessions. The pardon board is functioning now largely through the "self-enacting" form of the constitutional amendment.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Saying their vows to the muted strains of "O Promise Me" in the Little Church Around the Corner, an orange-blossomed bride and her bridegroom were promising to love, honor, and obey when two Western Union boys suddenly entered and began pelting them with rice.

ASTONISHED at the turn of events, this wide-eyed innocent (who has a long and honorable career as professional best-man and well-wisher to his credit) decided to investigate. It seems a friend of the bridegroom in Atlanta, unable to attend the ceremony, ordered Western Union to have a couple of messengers on hand with plenty of rice. The lads were to hurl about 20 pounds at the happy pair. This they did with alacrity.

NOW the custom is an established thing. Although this occurred only a few weeks ago, the vague, inexplicable efficiency of the grapevine system got the word around, and the company now receives requests every day to rice some happy couple. I must try it some time.

LOUNGING in the bar of a Broadway hotel, Billy Jones, the comedian, was gratified to note this episode: An actor who is known as "The Death of the Party" was filling his cigarette lighter.

"This is a good lighter," he observed. Glancing up, his companion inquired: "How many cigarettes do you get on a gallon?"

That reminds me of the young pulp-writer who was moaning the fee (the usual 10 per cent) exacted by his agent. "They're a no good lot," he muttered. "Show me an agent and I'll show you a rat."

A huge individual detached himself from a nearby table and came over. "I'm an agent," he said without humor. The hack paled but managed to make good. "And I," he answered, "am a rat."

Then there is this trifling of trivia, although I personally cannot vouch for it. Several days ago the occupants of an office building were amazed at a lot of hammering in one of the choice suites.

"I'm having my office sound-proofed," the executive explained. "I can't stand the street-noise."

However, the truth of the matter is this: Since he has become a playboy, the executive sleeps off his parties during working hours. His snore was demoralizing the staff.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

By Walter Lippman

'CRAZY AS A BEDBUG'

The lawyer for Robert Irwin, who murdered three persons, has announced that his client is as crazy as a bedbug. That has still to be determined.

There have been instances in recent years where a defendant who was plainly guilty of murder has escaped the death penalty by convincing the jury that he committed such an atrocious and revolting murder that no sane man could have done it.

In a recent address before the Connecticut Medical Society, Dr. Foster Kennedy reminded his audience of a case in which an English judge, Lord Bramwell, met this kind of defense and dealt with it.

For one of the few things we know with reasonable certainty about the human psyche is that there is no sharp dividing line between those who may commit crimes and those who do not commit them.

Between those in whom the impulse is so faint that it is negligible and those in whom it is so strong that they do not control it, there are an infinite number of degrees.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—The hurricane, having gathered force these many months, was blowing at last. It was the best Hollywood storm I ever saw.

But John Ford, directing, told me this was just a mild forerunner of the real thing. The hurricane, playing the title role in his picture, was warming up, just practicing on a stage-enclosed lagoon surrounded by roof-reaching palms and jagged rocky shore.

If this was a dress rehearsal I want to be having tea with Garbo out at Culver City-Hollywood when the A-No. 1 hurricane strikes in Hollywood-Hollywood.

It's one thing to read about standing four-square to all the winds that blow, and it's another thing to get your troupe torn one from another by one of James Basevi's better storms.

That I take it, is what Lord Bramwell had in mind when he asked whether the defendant would steal the umbrella if a policeman had been present.

That is why the current confusion about mental disorder and criminal responsibility tends to make real criminals out of potential criminals. It is no doubt true that an actual murderer is an abnormal person.

Because most criminals are persons who have such a low mentality that they cannot imagine the policeman if they do not see him, or have such egotism that they believe they can outwit the policeman, they do not have the checks within themselves which restrain the anti-social impulses of more law-abiding persons.

As the impulse to kill. In the imperfect condition of our knowledge, the remark of Lord Bramwell goes to the heart of the practical problem.

MARTIN CO. COTTON IS FREE OF INSECTS

STANTON, July 6—Insect pests which are menacing crops in other sections of the state have not yet invaded Martin county, reports from different communities show.

Crops are beginning to need rain, though drought conditions do not prevail. Fields in general are well-cleared of weeds. Early cotton is blooming.

Chapter 11. KAY TALKS TOO FREELY. Kay held Ted back as the others entered the mess shack.

"I brought you this," she said, suddenly shy at the look in his eyes, as he gazed inquiringly at her. She unbuckled a cartridge-studded belt with a swinging gun, and handed it to him.

"You said you'd sold yours," she explained simply. "This was one of Dad's. I'd like to have you have it."

A huskiness came into Ted's throat as he tried to thank her, but she hurried in without waiting for him to voice his feelings.

By the time Kay got back to her cabin, the bitter blow of the morning seemed nothing more than a joke. It would be a great relief to have the $10,000 insurance money paid off on the mortgage, and she'd have her house and barn into the bargain.

A sudden impulse decided her to go over and tell Aunt Kate and Babs about it, and she turned down to the corral to get Flicker.

"Won't Josh Hastings be mad if Flicker's gone, with a trial money paid off on the mortgage, and she'd have her house and barn into the bargain.

Ted Gaynor had gone off right after lunch, and was planning to bring his mother and sister back within two or three days.

"I'll be no end of fun, Flicker," she murmured, with sparkling eyes and a heightened color as her mind dwelt on Ted Gaynor.

Her mind full of schemes and plans for the future, Kay covered the 10 miles to the Flying Six in what seemed no time at all, and came trotting up to the ranch house to find Aunt Kate dosing on the porch in the sunshine.

"Hello there!" Aunt Kate awoke with a start at Kay's call.

"Well, it's about time you were coming over to see how I was getting on," she grumbled, but the affectionate welcome in her eyes belied her querulous greeting.

Kay dismounted and ran up the steps, looking about with an inquiring eye to see if there were any signs of Josh Hastings. She was torn between the hope of getting away without seeing him, and the mischievous desire to flaunt her new plan before him.

"I suppose Babs isn't home from school yet," Kay observed, as she kissed her aunt. "It was so upset last night that I'm afraid I didn't give you a very cordial welcome," she added apologetically.

"Made me feel about as welcome as a pole cat!" Aunt Kate was never one to mince words. "But I don't hold it up against you, considerin' the circumstances. Luckily Josh Hastings did the welcome for you. There's a fine man that!"

"She shot Kay a quick shrewd look out of her bright black eyes. "It was good of him to step into the breach the way he did," Kay answered evasively. "Is he back from town yet?"

"How'd you know he went to town?"

Before Kay had a chance to answer, a deep bass "Hello!" sounded from the direction of the corral, and the next minute Josh Hastings rounded the corner of the porch.

"Hello, there!" There was nothing in his greeting to indicate whether he had overheard Kay's tirade against him. He came up to the porch and held out his hand, which Kay was reluctantly forced to take.

"It seemed like mighty bad news then," Kay answered, "but now I see it in a different light. It's opened up all sorts of possibilities."

"Sensible girl," he commented. "So you've come over about the offer I made? Well, I'm standing right behind it."

"Oh, no," Kay answered sweetly. "I've no more intention of selling than I ever had. I just came over to see Aunt Kate."

There was a moment's pause. As Kay glanced innocently up at him, she could see the natural flush in his face deepen. That was the only evidence of surprise he gave, but his blue eyes narrowed.

"No intention of selling, eh?" he echoed. "Just how are you planning to rebuild, without your insurance?"

"The same way the pioneer did," Kay answered calmly, thoroughly enjoying herself. "There're plenty of trees to get lumber from, and we've plenty of labor to do the job."

"Who put that scheme in your head?" he demanded brusquely, cutting short Aunt Kate's exclamation of surprise. "I never heard anything so crazy!"

A shade of doubt crept into Aunt Kate's look of interest at this sweeping disapproval of Kay's plans.

"I hope it isn't crazy," Kay answered, with exasperating calmness. "None of us think it is. But anyway we're going to try it."

"The whole idea's as wild as a loose coyote!" He turned to Aunt Kate. "Can't you stop Kay from throwing away what little money she has on such a crazy plan?"

Aunt Kate looked from one to the other, her eyes squinted in her wrinkled face. "I don't quite make out what it's all about."

to read them and were not certain they were from the Earhart plane. More than 102 planes, ten ships and 3,000 men were listed in the widespread search. There were 1,290 men aboard the airplane carrier Lexington, 613 on the Colorado, 50 aboard the Itasca, 71 on the Ontario. Personnel and radio operators aboard other vessels raised the number to more than 3,000 men. Despite the severe disappointment, the search will continue today, its center probably shifting southward 500 miles from a point 280 miles north of Howland Island to the Phoenix Islands.

Hope of immediate rescue of Miss Earhart and Fred Noonan, navigator of her $80,000 "flying laboratory," soared when the Itasca was overheard at 3:45 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, (2:45 C.S.T.) radioing the plane:

"We can see your flares; are coming toward you."

Forty five minutes later, came a second message:

"We see your flares. Go ahead."

Meeters

Then came the outer anti-climax when officers of the cutter reported to listening land stations the ship's lookout might have mistaken heat flares for a flare, and later, their decision it was "probably a meteor."

"Tiny Howland Island, destination of Miss Earhart's 2,570 mile flight from British New Guinea last week, also reported seeing the lights. Flares carried by the missing plane could not have been sighted by both.

The lights were seen today from 280 miles north of Howland, where an incomplete radio message yesterday indicated the flares were drifting with the current of the equatorial sea.

Miss Earhart's husband, George Palmer Putnam, however, was so firmly convinced the message was misinterpreted that the San Francisco coast guard radio sent out a message to searching ships of three nations asking them to shift their hunt 280 miles southeast of Howland Island.

Putnam based his opinion on the inability of his wife's radio to operate when the plane is on the water. The radio batteries were situated under the wing where they would be useless if she alighted on water. He has persistently held to the belief she had reached one of the tiny atolls which dot the equatorial Pacific. None is within 300 miles north of Howland.

sia and Japan from an open break after Japan had invoked the mutual assistance pact with Manchoukuo, the state she carved out of Manchuria, and seconded the young state's strong protests to Russia.

Although the Soviets have evacuated the Amur river islands they were reported today to be strengthening their troop concentrations all along the Russian side of the river, alarming the Japanese and Manchoukuoan commands.

MOSCOW, July 6. (AP)—Soviet Russia protested today to Japan against alleged occupation of Bolshoi Island in Amur river by Manchoukuoan troops.

Benedict Kozlovsky, chief of the Far Eastern division of the Soviet foreign commissariat, summoned the Japanese embassy's counsellor to a midnight conference for a discussion of the reputed violation of an evacuation agreement between Russia and Japan.

That agreement, reached on July 2, provided for mutual evacuation by forces of both countries of disputed islands in the Amur river, between Siberian and Manchoukuo. The Japanese counsellor pleaded he had no information of the alleged Manchoukuoan occupation of Bolshoi Island. He added, however, that if Manchoukuoan troops had landed on Bolshoi it was only to protect Manchoukuoan residents.

publican leader, Robinson served notice he would keep the court bill before the senate if possible until a decision was obtained.

The Arkansas also served notice that in view of threats from opponent to filibuster, he would not agree to adjourn tomorrow for the all-star baseball game between the American and National leagues.

Under McNary's questioning Robinson agreed that once the bill was taken up and a substitute approved, the original bills would not be open to amendment.

McNary asked if Robinson planned to continue with the court debate without consideration of other legislation.

Robinson replied that he would not object to consideration of pressing, or emergency legislation, but would reserve full freedom of action in view of the filibuster threats.

Robinson's motion was taken then agreed to without a record vote, and the long awaited battle was under way.

Strikers Plan To 'Carry On'

National Guard On Hand As Workers Return To Three Plants

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, O., July 6.—National guard bayonets and machine guns protected the back-to-work movement of an estimated 3,000 steel workers at three plants of the Republic Steel Corporation here today.

Company officials gave the following figures for returning day-shift employees after the 7 a. m. "zero hour" for the reopening: passed without a single reported case of violence:

Corrigan-McKinney works—1,08 men returned out of normal two-shift total of 3,700.

Upson Nut & Bolt division—850 men returned out of normal two-shift total of 1,700.

Trucon Steel—600 men returned out of normal two-shift total of 750.

C. I. O. strike leaders disputed the company's figures and asserted many were office workers and clerks—not steel makers.

They also charged the company was importing "strike-breakers," alleging some came from as far away as Alabama.

"All Quiet"

The national guardsmen, 1,000 strong, reported "all quiet" throughout the Cleveland area, and with the men safely inside the plants resuming operations after 11 days of idleness, the khaki-clad militiamen amused themselves by playing horseshoes.

Stormier scenes were enacted at Niles and Warren, O., where several hundred union sympathizers massed along routes to Republic Steel mills and unleashed stonethrowing barrages at non-strikers going back to work.

Rocks smashed a taxicab windshield at Warren, and half a dozen workers' automobiles were dented by bricks heaved at them as they motored to work at Niles.

A brief-lived "mystery" over the mobilization of 400 national guardsmen at Akron, O., the big rubber-making center, was dissolved when officers said the troopers were merely being held for duty "anywhere in northeastern Ohio."

The back-to-work movement in Cleveland, breaking the slogs which has kept Republic's plants locked since May 26, left independent steel companies in a position to claim that with the exception of a few plants, all their mills were operating at least partially throughout the 7-state strike area.

Alvin Kinsaid, T. N. Neal, Lloyd Payne and L. B. "Doc" Cauble. Judges were L. A. Frain, Jack Olson, and W. N. Crain. A large crowd jammed around the contestants at the city park to hear the old time music.

GERALD MANN SPEAKS AT ROTARY MEETING

Gerald Mann, formerly secretary of state and executive secretary to the state planning board, addressed the Rotary club in its first meeting of the new Rotary year Wednesday when Tom Ashley presided over his initial meeting as president.

Mann, a prominent young Dallas attorney, talked of the value of civic clubs as did Garland A. Woodward, past president of the Kiwanis club.

The Dallas speaker came to Big Spring at the invitation of Cowboy Spring and Rodeo officials when he was here last May as commencement speaker. Mann appeared at the performance Monday evening and will present the three day prize awards at the conclusion of the show this evening.

Weldon Stamps, member of the radio station KCB staff, entertained with vocal selections, carrying his own guitar accompaniment.

Visiting Rotarians were George Bell, Midland; G. A. Hughes, Brady; Mr. Watson, Austin; Col. Perkins, Midland. Other guests were Gerald Mann, Dallas; Garland Woodward, Rev. G. C. Schurman, H. A. McComber of Big Spring, Mr. Erwin, Dallas; and Dr. W. E. Ryan, Midland.

ENGLISH VISITORS SEE FIRST RODEO

Two young women from far away Britain's shores, touring the United States in an "auto cruiser," stopped here Tuesday afternoon to see their first rodeo.

"We've been hearing of rodeos since we came to the states," said Miss Thaina Bolus, London, Eng. "and we thought this a good opportunity to witness one." Her companion, Esme Park, Glasgow, Scotland, was happy that the Big Spring schedule fitted their itinerary.

They are enroute to the West Coast and return via the northern route.

Acquiring their "auto cruiser," or trailer house to the average American, they christened it in Baltimore "with champagne and all that sort of thing," took to the open road for a long tour.

Miss Park was adverse in referring to the trailer house as such and insisted on "auto cruiser." Their cruiser contains a bed room, bath room, kitchen, living room and closet space for "73 garments." It was christened "Esme."

the EARLY BIRD gets the worm...

IF he knows where to look!

Watch a robin on the lawn some sunshiny morning. A few hops, then a pause. A few more hops, and he listens again. Then, triumphant, he pulls out a fat, wriggling worm.

A silly bird, you would say, if he merely pecked here and there, hoping to strike it lucky.

Reading the advertisements is for you what cocking his head is for the robin. Advertisers tell you just where are the juiciest buys.

Cock your eye on the advertisements in this newspaper. They may save pecking on barren ground.
