Petitions For Hospital Bond Issue Are Finding Many Willing Signers

Renditions Of Property Are Picking Up

Vote On Site Purchase Likely To Be Set Aug. 25 Or 26

Petitions asking the city commission to submit a $50.-000 bond issue, with which lands for the West Texas state hospital would be purchased, were being signed readily Monday morning and propertied voters were flocking to the city hall to make renditions in order to be eligible to vote in the anticipated election.

Over 200 Although there was no accurate check, it was estimated that the number of signers was well over the 200-mark at noon. One man obtained 90 signatures in two hours. Shortly after noon, H. W. Whitney, city tax assessor, said that 54 persons had made renditions since the office opened Monday morning.

The petitions, it was understood by those circulating them, were to be kept out until Tuesday afternoon when they will be campiled for checking against tax lists and submission to the city commission Tuesday evening. It was a fo.e gone conclusion that the election Stewart Rites would be ordered either for Aug 25 or 26.

Men and women lived in a orld which was strangely reduced, and which was being chipped away, bit by bit, by enemy fire. The suspense, the conflict of hope with reason; was almost endurable. The nerves of the women shat tered occasionally. But when those side heard drills working under their feet and knew that mines were being laid, discipline was ood. It remained good after the explosion on September 18.

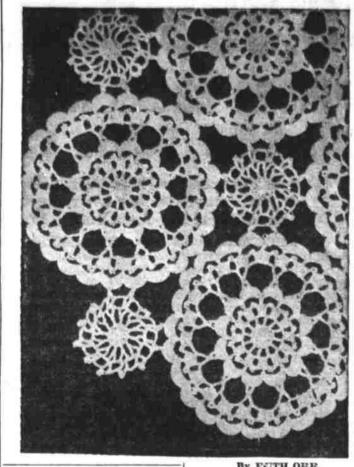

There were good days. The first na lonalist airplane was sighted and droped a trunk of chocolate for the children. Food ran low, but allbough many horses had disap sured, the one that was the pride of a certain officer with the ving force was spared. And the best day of all was, of course, September 27, when far away look-cuts staring through the dry, thin air of Toledo saw the head of the

Are Women Better Shoppers Than Men?

GRANTING a woman's reputation for wise buying, let's trace the methods by which she has earned it. Where does she find out about the advantages and details of electric refrigeration? What tells her how to keep the whole household clean-rugs, bathroom tiling-and have energy left over for golf and parties? How does she learn about new and delicious entrees and desserts that surprise and delight her family? And where does she discover those subtleties of dress and make-up that a man appreciates but never understands?

Why, she reads the advertisements. She is a consistent, thoughtful reader of advertisements, because she has found that she can believe them-and profit thereby. Overlooking the advertisements would be depriving herself of data continuously useful in her job of Purchasing Agent to the Family.

For that matter, watch a wise man buy a car or a suit or an insurance policy. Not a bad shopper himself! He reads the advertisements too!

Planning The South's Agriculture

One of the provisions of the farm tenancy act which the including, it may be added, the atpresident has recently signed is that those who become tempt owners under it must adopt farm programs prescribed by Court. For if this bill is a legitifederal authority until their farms are paid for in full federal authority, until their farms are paid for in full.

Probably there will be very little in such supervised difference between him and the farming that has not already been preached by county New Dealers is that they have the agents and farm magazines for many years in the South. courage of their convictions, where-Such measures as terracing, crop rotation, the raising of livestock, "living at home," more dairying, the planting of soil-building crops, use of fertilizers and co-operative marketing, probably will be included in the programs. The dif- to exclude southern goods from ference will be that the tenant who becomes an owner will interstate commerce in order to now do these things under compulsion. Some tenants would now do these things under compulsion. Some tenants would viously, as a simple matter of jushave done them before but were prevented by short-sighted tice, it is right to subsidize southlandlords. Others failed to do so because of shiftlessness ern agriculture in order to comand a contempt for anything that smacked of "book farm-eral government is to fix wages in ing."

It should be interesting to watch the operations of the bill in this respect. If federal supervision takes its accustomed course, it will involve some high-flown theories, some adventurous experimentation, which may bring it into distrepute. Generally speaking, however, the route to better farming in the South is prefit well charted. Not lack of the an overwhelmingly powerful school and start learning about the supposed interests of Massachusetts employers, dad. Instead of sharing a joint then there is no reason why it bank account with his producer-bank account with his producer-ba farming in the South is pretty well charted. Not lack of knowledge, but an economic system that made the application of it difficult, has been the South's agricultural incubus.

Of special significance, as the supervised program develops, will be the crops which it encourages in place of the supervised program develops.

And if it is to do all these things, year-old sprout's ambition to quit then an overwhelmingly powerful federal bureaucracy has to be created. And if this bureaucracy is to encount the constitution and the obligation of the Supreme to about the constitution and the obligation of the Supreme Court to enforce it.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts cemed somewhat startled at the charge made by several commentators that the wages bill is simply an internal tariff designed to proect the older industrial regions against the newer ones. He is decribed as pooh-poohing this suggestion. But his defense of the bill and of his own vote for the bill is conclusive proof that this is precise reason why he likes the bill "If enforced," he says, "it will stop once and for all the flight of in dustry from Massachusetts to other sections where sweatshop stan-dards prevail." What is this but the classic republican argument for the protective tariff? Have we not been told for generations that the urpose of the tariff was to protect the American working against the "pauper labor" of Eur

And now, having excluded the goods of Europe, Mr. Lodge and his fellow protectionists are movng on to conquer new They are going to protect Massachusetts against the South. And when they have done that, they will seek to protect Boston against the small towns of Massachusetts. And before they have finished, Senator Lodge will be in favor of building a Chinese wall around the Back Bay to protect it against the ompetition of South Boston.

Mr. Lodge is entitled to his opinion. But I hope that when the elections come along we shall not see him protesting to high heaven about the regimentation, centralization, bureaucracy and meddlecomeness of the New Deal. He has forfeited his right to object to any Mr. Lodge's argument for the bill
