20,000 Lambs From Crockett Go To Market

Growers Shipping Fat Ones Off County's Green Pastures

Livestock men here yesterday estimated that around 20,000 milk fat lambs from the green pasture lands of Crockett county had been shipped in the last two or three weeks to market centers, principally to Fort Worth.

Attesting the fact that some of the finest sheep in the state are grown on Crockett county ranges, every load of lambs from this county sold on the Fort Worth market brought the day's top prices. Growers in this county received from eight to nine cents a pound for lambs, the nine-cent top price being reached last week by three loads of 73-pound huskies shipped by George Montgomery from the flocks of Massie West.

Considerable contracting of lambs in this area for fall delivery has also been made. George Montgomery has purchased by the head crops from the following ranchers, with the approximate number of head: Massie West, 6,300; Ira Carson, 4,000; Arthur Phillips, 3,600; W. E. Friend, Jr., 1,600; P. T. Robison, 1,700; Jess Malone, 600, and in addition to these several smaller bunches. Of this number, Mr. Montgomery will have shipped some 6,000 fat lambs to market when he finishes shipping this week.

Among growers in this area whose lambs have been shipped to market are Arthur Phillips, Ira Carson, Massie West, Wayne West, Mrs. Pon Seahorn, Bascomb Cox, Lee Henderson, Joe Davidson, P. T. Robison, Alvin Harrell, Ele and Fred Hagelstein, Hugh Childress, George Montgomery, Claude Hudspeth, Ollie Parker, Doug Kirby, Jess Malone, W. E. Friend, Jr., and others.

Representatives of three commission dealers in Fort Worth have been here for several weeks helping ranchers to sort lambs to go to market. Alvin Myers, representing Boswell and Kahn; Everett Cooper, with Shurley Commission Co., and Weaver with Daggett-Keene Commission Co. are the field men for the selling agencies in this area.

Two Ozona Youths Join U. S. Marines

Two Ozona young men have joined in the rush of American youth to enlist in the nation's fighting forces in the current effort to strengthen the various branches of services.

Sid Petty and Haskell Leath enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps in San Antonio the first of the week. They will report at Dallas today or tomorrow and from there will go into training at San Diego, Calif. Vaughan Brown and J. T. Casbeer, who accompanied Petty and Leath, gathered information with a view to later seeking enlistment in the Army Air Corp.

Oil Leases Made On 25,000 Acres South Of Ozona

Stanolind Pays Dollar Bonus On Tracts In Four Ranches

Evidence of widening interest in oil development prospects for more areas of Crockett county is contained in announcement of the lease for oil and gas development of approximately 25,000 acres of land out of four ranches in an area south of Ozona.

The Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. paid a bonus of $1 per acre and a 25-cent annual rental for this amount of acreage out of ranches of J. M. Baggett, Arthur Phillips, George Harrell and Theo Savell, in deals closed during the past week. The acreage is in a block.

Landowners To Save By Cut In Interest Rate

Federal Land Bank Reduction Saves $18,800 In Crockett

Landowners in Crockett county will save about $18,800 a year as a result of legislation just enacted by Congress affecting interest rates on Federal Land Bank Commissioner loans.

The temporary rate of 3½ per cent on first mortgage Land Bank loans will be continued for two years ending June 30, 1942. During this period the interest rate on first and second mortgage Land Bank commissioner loans will be reduced from 4 to 3½ per cent. Land Bank and Commissioner loans were originally written at contract rates averaging about 5 per cent.

At present about 55 Crockett county ranchers have Land Bank and Commissioner loans outstanding aggregating $1,255,000. The difference between the contract rate and the temporary rate thus effects a substantial saving for farmers and ranchmen.

In a statement from Washington, A. G. Black, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, said that the saving to farmers through the reduced interest rate will have the same effect as an addition to the farmers' net income.

"The ultimate purpose of the reduced interest rate on Land Bank and Commissioner loans is to help farmers keep down their fixed charges and thus leave more income for the retirement of debt principal, or to meet necessary operating and living expenses," Governor Black said.

"Money saved on interest charges will thus be reflected in increased purchasing power, benefiting both industry and agriculture, and also will help in a measure to raise farm living standards and safeguard farm ownership."

First Combine To Harvest Barley Crop Near Ozona

A novel sight for residents of Crockett county, another one of those "for the first time in the history of," will be a combine at work harvesting a field of barley in this county of 3,000 square miles with but one full-fledged farm in operation.

Such a sight is promised residents here by Bryan McDonald, who has arranged for the services of a combine belonging to Johnny Fields of Sonora to harvest 25 acres of barley in a field 5 miles east of Ozona. The machine was to have been here the middle of this week. Mr. McDonald believes his barley field will make nearly 20 bushels to the acre.

GETS MUSIC SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Dorothy Hannah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hannah, has been awarded a music scholarship in the George Pepperdine College at Los Angeles, Calif., according to notification received here this week. The scholarship was awarded Miss Hannah, a graduate of Ozona high school with the class of 1939, in recognition of her special achievements and ability in the field of music.

Three Teams In Playoff Decide Softball Champ

Williams and Laundry Scuffle For Flag Friday Night

Mentors of the four participating teams in the city softball league put their heads together this week to examine the status of the current wars, and after making settlement of various disputes, found that three teams out of the four stood at a dead heat for first half championship honors.

Consequently, a plan was adopted to settle the first half issue before plunging into the final half of the split season beginning next Monday. Managers of the Water Works, Williams and Laundry teams drew lots for the playoff, the first two drawing places in the opening contest last night and the Laundry drawing a bye, to be matched against the winner of the first game in the championship final to be played Friday night.

First half championship honors will lie between the Williams and Laundry teams, with the decision to come from a match between these two teams Friday night.

The Williams crew, behind the pitching of Slim Davidson, outpointed the Water Works teams, led by Frankie Jones, 13 to 10 in the opening match of the championship series under the lights last night, thus earning the right to meet the bye holders, the (Continued on Last Page)

Building Trades Enjoying Active Season In Ozona

New Construction, Remodeling Projects Under Way

Building trades in Ozona are enjoying a revival of business as activities in home and business building show a steady uptrend during the past few weeks.

Construction of the new Mexican school building heads the list of projects now under way here, but in addition to the school work, one new residence is under construction here, and one on a nearby ranch, and a number of residences are undergoing repairs and remodeling.

Joe Pedigo, San Angelo contractor, has started work on a new home for Mr. and Mrs. Madden Read on their lot in the north end of town. The Read home is to be a seven-room frame structure, with three bedrooms and two baths, and will cost in the neighborhood of $7,500.

Harry Friend is having a six-room house constructed on his ranch east of Ozona, and the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co. here has just completed a six-room residence and two-car garage for the Continental Oil Co. on its Todd lease near the three deep producers fifteen miles northwest of Ozona.

The Ozona Laundry's new home, being built five blocks north of its present location, is expected to be ready for occupancy within the next week or ten days, it was announced. W. N. Hannah, owner of the laundry, is having the new building constructed, with J. S. Whatley the contractor.

Formal Opening Of New County Line Inn Dining Hall Friday

The County Line Inn, operated by Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Sewell, 15 miles east of Ozona on the Crockett-Sutton county line, will celebrate completion of its new dining and dance hall and inauguration of cafe service with a formal opening party at the Inn Friday evening, it was announced this week by Mr. Sewell.

"Chicken in the Straw," delicious lunches, steaks and sandwiches will be featured in the Inn's menu, it was declared. A competent chef, who has worked in some of the largest hotels and cafes in the state, has been employed and good food is guaranteed. Ozonans are invited to the formal opening party Friday night.

Airport Ready For Landings By Next Week

Breakdown In Machinery Causes Delay In Clearing

Crockett County's new airport being laid out on a 270-acre tract leased from the Couch ranch lands five miles west of Ozona, will likely be ready for the first plane landing some time next week, according to announcement this week by E. R. Kinser, county commissioner supervising the airport work.

A breakdown in the county bulldozer, being used to clear the runways of brush and trees, caused a delay of a few days in completing this phase of the work, the commissioner reported, but repairs have been made and it is believed that the job will be completed to such an extent as to permit plane landings by next week.

Mr. Kinser, himself a flying enthusiast, said that a number of persons had indicated an interest in the proposed organization of a flying club here, announced in the Stockman last week. Frank Jones, manager of the San Angelo Municipal Airport, and CAA instructor there, has indicated a willingness to instruct a local club, if one can be organized, or to assist the local group in securing the services of an instructor in case a full time instructor is desired. Jones said that he could give two days a week to instruction here.

A club membership of between fifteen and twenty will be necessary to start a club here, it was indicated. If there is enough interest manifested, a meeting will be called in the near future and the plan discussed in full.

J. A. Sparks Hurt When Flying Belt Tangles About Legs

J. A. Sparks, engineer at the Ozona Water Works plant, is nursing severe bruises and numerous scratches on his legs as the result of an encounter with a wild belt which tackled him at the plant last Friday.

An emery wheel which Mr. Sparks was using slipped from its base and crashed between his feet. The rapidly spinning belt wrapped about his legs, inflicting painful injuries. Strength enough to withstand the force of the flying belt until it broke and flew off the driving pulley was all that saved Mr. Sparks from more serious injury.

Masons Install New Officers At Meet Mon. Night

New officers of the Ozona Masonic Lodge for the coming year were installed at a called meeting of the order held in the lodge rooms Monday evening.

Houston Smith acted as installing officer and T. A. Kincaid, Jr., as installing marshal.

The new officers who were seated include Lowell Littleton, Worshipful Master; Bob Moore, Senior Warden; Oscar Kost, Junior Warden; Scott Peters, Treasurer; R. L. Flowers, Secretary; W. E. Friend, Jr., Tyler; C. J. Van Zandt, Senior Deacon and W. E. White, Junior Deacon.

Children Honor Judge Davidson On 84th Birthday

Children, in-laws, grandchildren and friends gathered at the Davidson ranch last night to participate in a big family dinner given in honor of Judge Charles E. Davidson, venerable Crockett county judge, on the occasion of his 84th birthday.

The grandchildren inaugurated the celebration by singing "Happy Birthday" and the birthday cake centered the big table. Fried chicken and harmonizing goodies formed the dinner menu.

Mudge Noelke Well Blows In; Heavy Gas Ratio

Continental Oil Co. and others No. 4-B Todd proved the third and by far the largest producer from the Strawn lime field on the J. S. Todd estate ranch, 15 miles northwest of Ozona when it came in Sunday, flowing naturally 580 barrels of 41 gravity oil in four hours.

The new producer, quarter mile south extension to the Conoco Todd field, is bottomed at 5,765 feet. The official Railroad Commission gauge through a two-inch outlet off seven-inch casing gave the well a daily potential production of 3,480 barrels of the high gravity oil.

The Todd field was opened April 3 when Continental and others No. 2-B Todd was completed at 5,691 feet for a natural flow of 840 barrels of 40.6 gravity oil through an 11/64th inch choke on 2-inch tubing in 12½ hours. No. 3-B Todd, the second producer 1,170 feet east of the discovery, was completed May 12 at 5,850 feet, flowing 661 barrels of 41.6 gravity oil through two-inch outlet off seven-inch casing, in a seven-hour test. No. 4-B Todd is 660 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the west line of section 29, block WX, GC&SF Ry. Co. survey.

Sunday Night Show To Be Inaugurated At Ozona Theatre

H. L. Senteney, new manager of the Ozona Theatre, has announced that beginning next Sunday night the theatre will have a Sunday night show.

The Sunday night show, an innovation here, will start a 9 o'clock, after the Sunday evening church services. The Sunday night show will be in addition to the regular matinee performance in the afternoon as heretofore. Time schedules for the Sunday shows will be strictly observed to prevent conflict with church services, Mr. Senteney declared.

An added attraction on tonight's program at the local theatre will be the showing of a technicolor picture, "The State Fair of Texas." The picture, which shows all livestock exhibits and other attractions at the fair, is expected to be of considerable interest.

Few Here Cast Absentee Votes In Dem Primary

Absentees May Ballot To Three Days Before Primary

Absentee voting for the first Democratic primary election, slated for July 27, got off to a slow start here, according to reports from the office of County Clerk George Russell.

Only two ballots had been requested by absentee voters the middle of the week, the clerk reported, although persons who will be absent from their voting precincts on election day were permitted to vote beginning last Sunday.

Voting by absentee ballot will be permitted until within three days before the election, July 24. Those who wish to cast absentee votes may do so at the clerk's office or may have the official ballots mailed to them.

This Man Willkie

The nomination of Wendell Willkie as the Republican presidential candidate signified a triumph of aggressive public sentiment over machine politics. And, on top of that, it was a political miracle.

Mr. Willkie has never held public office. Six or seven years ago he was virtually unknown, save up a limited industrial circle. Pp to a year or so ago the public at large knew little or nothing about him. A few months before the convention, some of the leading columnists began writing about him, observing that he would make a model candidate but that, unfortunately, his complete lack of influential political backing made his nomination virtually impossible.

When the Willkie campaign got under way, it was run entirely by amateurs. His name was not entered in any state primaries—though he did receive a very large and purely voluntary write-in vote in some states. No delegate to the convention was really pledged to him. The comparative handful of votes he received on the first ballot came from unpledged delegates who, with the whole field to pick from, considered him the best man. And long before that ballot was polled, it became evident that supposed Dewey and Taft strongholds were cracking fast in favor of Willkie.

The obvious question is, what manner of man is this, who so dramatically licked the GOP bosses to a standstill? And the obvious answer is that he is a very remarkable man indeed. No one doubts his intellectual capability for the number one U. S. job. A Jeffersonian in political philosophy (he first voted Republican in 1936, when he became convinced the New Deal had abandoned Democratic principles and was moving toward collectivism) he has done a magnificent job of publicizing the issue of the individual versus the state—he is implacably opposed to government going into business competition with its citizens, and to dictatorial government domination of the social and economic life of the nation.

erty of those whose views we abhor no less than those whose views we endorse. He detests fascism, and all that it stands for. The nomination of Senator McNary of Oregon for second place on the ticket was what the sporting fraternity call a natural. No senator has so strong a following in the West, and in the all-important agricultural states. He is perhaps the ablest parliamentarian in Congress, and is universally popular. His record as minority leader during the GOP's leanest days has been excellent. He is a definite asset to the ticket.

Many experts are saying that the nomination of Mr. Willkie makes the renomination, by draft if necessary, of President Roosevelt almost certain. Reason is that the Democrats must now put their best foot forward—and the President is their best foot by far. Mr. Willkie is far too strong a candidate, far too good a speaker, to oppose with a colorless or routine candidate. If these forecasts prove true, and colorful Mr. Roosevelt does run against colorful Mr. Willkie, it should be one of the most dramatic campaigns in our history.

No More Boondoggling

There have been noticeable developments in respect to financing the vastly costly national defense program. First, it is widely urged that the pay-as-you-go plan be followed as much as possible, even though heavy tax increases prove necessary.

Second, there is general demand that all other government expenditures be drastically reduced—and non-essential bureaus and departments be entirely eliminated. There never was a time when businesslike planning of the affairs of government was more necessary to the national welfare. No longer can we afford boondoggling. No longer can we afford the old log-rolling practice, whereby congressmen and senators are virtually forced to vote for unnecessary expenditures in return for promises that other congressmen and senators will approve pet expenditures for their districts. No longer can we afford "experiments" which disrupt industry and labor, and pamper the incompetent and lazy while the hard-working and efficient pay the bill.

The American people are ready to make great sacrifices. They will pay every cent necessary for defense without grumbling. But they are going to insist that every cent goes for an essential rather than a political purpose. They are going to demand that their sacrifices are not in vain. They want real statesmanship, motivated by high patriotism, irrespective of party labels, and they do not want local short-sightedness and selfishness.

Youth Movement

The rush of young Americans to flying fields this summer has taxed new facilities as fast as they have been provided and still they come. That is the Youth Movement that counts. That is the answer to the charge of totalitarian slaves that democracy is decadent. The eagerness of youth to fit itself for possible combat in the sky is no isolated sign of what young America thinks of its opportunities to make the American way the way of strength. In the last two years the number of students taking R.O.T.C. training in our high schools, academies and colleges has increased by 20 per cent. The number totaled 186,750 in the academic year just ended. That number would have been much greater if Congress had provided adequate funds. The War Department has now on file 50 applications for senior R.O.T.C. corps in universities and 111 junior units, but none have been added since 1937 because funds were not available. Before the next school year this deficiency should be made up. Thanks largely to the R.O.T.C., we have 103,000 reserve officers today, compared to only 2,900 available in 1917. —Chicago Daily News.

Candidate Browder

Rejecting the plea of "political persecution" and all technical points raised by the defense, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals has unanimously upheld the conviction, the four-year prison sentence and the $2,500 fine in the case of Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party, found guilty last January of having twice violated the federal statute forbidding use of a passport fraudulently obtained. If his appeal to the United States Supreme Court fails, Browder will forfeit his civil rights, including the right to hold public office. In the meantime, however, we have the spectacle of a convicted felon—affirmed to be such by the federal court next to the highest—using his civil rights to run for no less an office than that of President, as the candidate of the Communist party avowedly devoted to the ultimate Moscow design of Sovietizing America! Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, July 10.—BUSINESS—Looking around, with the passing of the first half of the momentous year 1940, we find that despite the terrible impact of the shattering world political, military and economic events, business in the United States has held solidly through the first six months of the year. Last September, business was fearful about expanding on the basis of war orders—fearful that if it did, a sudden stoppage of the market created by war needs would find it caught with a lot of tools and goods and plants that then would be useless.

Those fears were even intensified when the amazingly quick conquest of the Low Countries and France made it look as though the year might be ended suddenly—if unsatisfactorily. Then along came the United States' own plans for armament. Much as we may be aghast at the necessity for such action and dread the ultimate cost—the fact remains that it is this armament drive that has reassured industry and markets.

Now it appears that, even though foreign customers for arms and munitions may be knocked out, or blocked out, our own needs will keep a tremendous volume of war orders—or at least munitions orders—grinding through our factories for some years to come.

BACKBONE STIFFENS—Thus, at the half-way point of 1940, we find the stiffening of our domestic backbone giving confidence to business and industry to counteract the quivering uncertainties of the foreign war situation. The fundamental solidity of U. S. business is shown in behavior of basic price and activity indexes. For instance, wholesale commodity prices stood at 75 points last August, reached 79.2 at the year's end, and have remained near the latter level, most recently showing 78.4. The New York Times index of general business activity likewise is higher now—at 102.4—than the 94.4 of pre-war August. Department store sales are now at 85.6, less than two points below the last August rating, and general retail trade, at 102.8, is four points higher than just before the war started.

71 PER CENT 'MERITORIOUS'—A survey shows that 71 per cent of current federal employees were hired on the basis of their proved qualifications, by test, reports the National Consumer Tax Commission. Uncle Sam's merit system dates back to the assassination, in 1881, of President James A. Garfield. The shock of this crime, perpetrated by a disgruntled office-seeker, focused attention of the nation on the need for a better system for selection of government employees. Recently, the NCTC says, the merit idea has surged ahead in cities, counties and states, so that today it is estimated that 59 per cent of municipal employees and 38 per cent of state employees owe their positions to their tested capabilities. The percentage of county employees under civil service is, however, still "very small." The NCTC's current study program urges adoption of the merit system by all local governments in the interests of efficiency and economy, and paring of tax burdens to a justifiable minimum.

NO BOTTLENECK—In World War I, railroad and power "bottle-necks" choked up production and handicapped our defense efforts. This time much attention is being given to avoiding those troubles. First word on insurance of adequate electric power facilities comes from President E. L. Shea of the North American company, who advised a sub-committee assisting the National Defense Advisory Commission that his company was stepping up its construction budget to $90,000,000. He said the company had been formulating plans for serving the public interest and creating and maintaining reserves of power adequate for any emergency, and that "there need be no concern as to the adequacy of power supply for all normal and national defense requirements through the system's areas, which include such industrial centers as Cleveland, Milwaukee and St. Louis, as well as Washington, D. C. He said the holding company and its operating units expect to meet "with their own resources" all obligations arising from any national defense problems, and were working on a system-wide program to assist the preparedness movement in other ways.

Texas Bank Loans Total Billion, 18 Million In 1939

NEW YORK, July 10.—Twenty-two per cent of the commercial banks in Texas made more than 804,000 loans totaling over $1,018,000,000 to business firms and individuals throughout the state during the year 1939, according to the second semi-annual survey of bank lending activity of the American Bankers Association made public today.

The survey, which was participated in by 191 banks or 22 per cent of the 840 commercial banks of the state, showed a definite expansion of bank credit in the field of new loans. The number of new loans made between July 31 and December 31 was 6,341 greater or 3 per cent greater, and the dollar volume of new loans made during this period was $46,055,394 or 23 per cent greater than reported by an equivalent number of banks for the previous six months.

The 191 banks reported that during 1939 they made 493,783 new loans totaling $425,865,850; 305,492 renewals of loans totaling $552,230,101, and 5,178 mortgage loans totaling $13,716,556.

The survey reveals that business firms in the state are using only about half of the "open lines of credit" maintained for their use on the books of the banks. Twenty-four banks in the larger centers of the state reported that they carried on their books during the second half of the year $49,681,550 in "open lines of credit" consisting of specific amounts of credit offered to and kept available for established borrowers for use as needed by them. Of this amount $25,865,987 or 52 per cent was actually used.

Better buy NOW— And get Top Value for your Money

It's pretty conclusive proof of a real value when more people than ever before buy a certain make of car in a single year.

That is true of this 1940 Buick. *The Buick SPECIAL 4-door touring sedan $996

It's pretty good proof of value when a higher percentage of all new-car buyers selects that car after looking the field over.

trouble-free, low-cost, stay-out-of-the-shop service?

That is also true of this 1940 Buick.

All things considered, we think it is. Especially so when you consider current low prices.

on sheer value, it should be clear that right now, "Best buy's Buick"—the question we'd like to ask is: Isn't this also the best time to buy?

It won't cost a cent to try a Buick, get the low delivered prices and have your present car appraised. Hadn't you better see your Buick dealer now—and do just that?

Isn't this the smart time to put yourself behind a brand-new power plant, husky, thrifty, thrilling—and smoother than ever?

Buick prices begin at $895 for Business Coupe—Sedan prices start at $955—

Isn't this a smart time to get more room—up-to-date controls—sure, soft brakes—new rubber—springing that never needs lubrication—truly modern features (Buick has no less than six dozen)—months on months of reliable,

Iron Door-step Once Bed of Noted Press

MANCHESTER, Tenn. — The big doorstep of J. E. Matthews' farm house at Summitville has a colorful story behind it, for the step is the bed of an old printing press that defied the Union army during the Civil War.

The press once held type forms for the True Patriot, which paper upheld the South's cause and also denounced the Union in every edition after Fort Sumter was fired upon.

When the blue uniformed soldiers thundered into Manchester, their first objective was the enemy that had fired hundreds of verbal salvos at them.

They ripped the press to pieces and scattered its parts and type all over the streets of the town of Manchester.

The bed of the press lay in the street for a year after the end of the war.

When J. B. Harrison, a refugee from the Yankees, moved to Coffee county and built a log house, the flat piece of iron that once had been a part of the proud True Patriot became the rear of a fireplace.

Several years later, Matthews bought the house, tore it down and erected a new one. The old press bed then became a door step—perhaps the most famous door step in Tennessee or in the United States.

Honesty Takes A 25-Year Span To Come Back

TAMPA, Fla.—Diogenes, the lantern-carrying seeker of an honest man, would have loved the following story:

On Christmas Eve of 1914, Pietro Cimino, an Italian of Tampa, bought some radishes from a nearby farmer. He paid for the radishes with two nickels, but he later discovered that one of the "nickels" had consisted of a $5 gold piece.

Efforts to find the farmer later proved fruitless and Mr. Pietro then charged his loss up to experience.

On Christmas Eve of 1939, a stranger came to the house where Pietro had lived for 41 years. He explained that he was the farmer of 25 years ago who had received the $5 gold piece. The money was needed badly, the farmer explained, and that was the reason why he had waited 25 years to pay it back.

So the farmer gave 82-year-old Pietro $5 and then added $5 more for interest and went away, with the aged Italian acclaiming him as "the first honest man" he'd ever met.

Witness: "I think—"
Lawyer: "We don't care what you think. What we want to know is what you know."

Witness: "If you don't want to know what I think, I may as well leave the stand. I can't talk without thinking. I'm not a lawyer."

A banker, at the height of the depression, got a temporary job as a filling station attendant. His first customer drove in, and asked for ten gallons of gas.

"How far are you traveling?" asked the ex-banker.

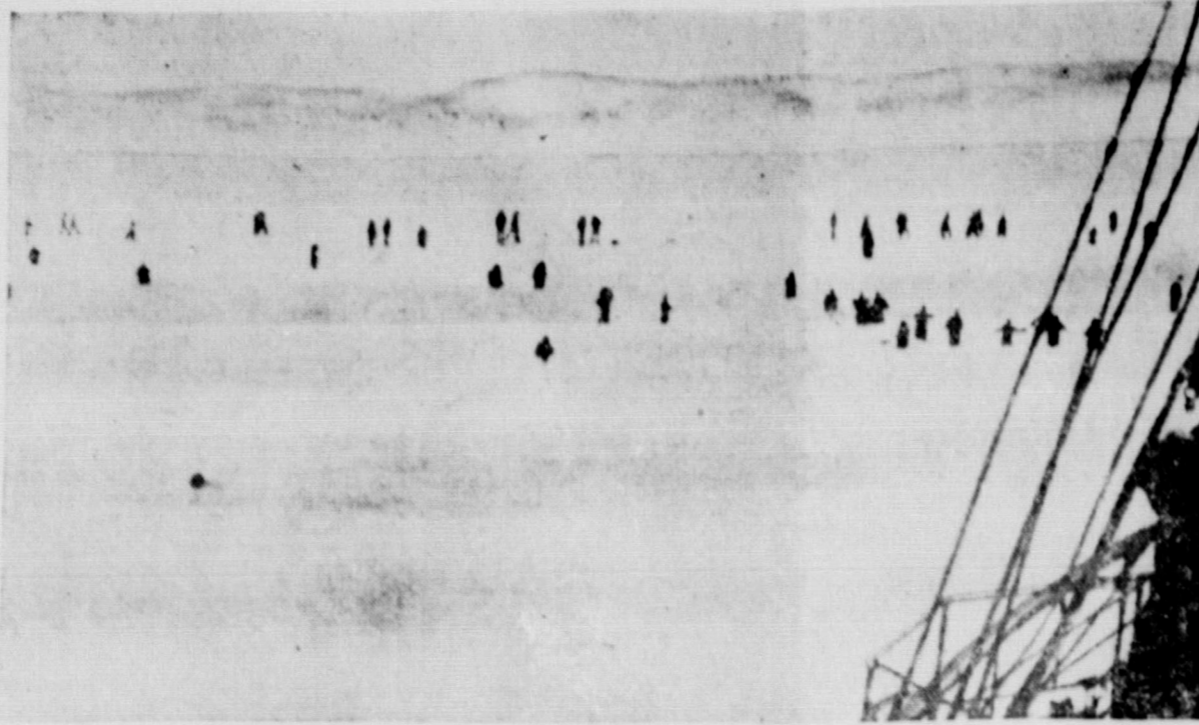

The customer explained his trip in detail. Said the banker: "Don't you think you could get along with five all right?"

The Allied Troops Retreat From Dunkirk

The picture shows the allied troops wading out from the beach to the rescue boat in the right foreground, during the evacuation of Dunkirk. This was one of the most remarkable retreats in history, 887 British craft taking part in the operation. Another Notch for a Nazi Flyer

Like the gunmen of America's wild west pioneer days who notched their guns for every killing, the pilot of this German fighting ship has a white stripe painted on the tail of his plane for every enemy shot down. The stripe is topped with the colors of the nationality of the vanquished pilots. This Nazi now has a "score" of eight.

4 Millionth Buick Rolls Off Assembly Line At Flint, Mich.

FLINT, Mich., July 10.—The 4,000,000th Buick passenger car rolled off the final assembly line in Flint this week signaling the highest continuous production in the history of this division of general Motors and a record breaking total for the 1940 model season.

The milestone car was built four years and 36 days after the 3,000,000th was produced, registering an average production since 1936 of a quarter of a million cars annually and representing the shortest period in which this volume has been turned out by this manufacturer.

It took nearly 20 years to manufacture the first million Buicks. That total was reached in March, 1923, at a time when the industry was expanding its facilities to meet a rapidly increasing public demand. Former peak Buick production occurred in 1926 and 1927, the previous high of 250,116 units having been produced in the latter model year. The second millionth car came off the assembly line in November of that year and the next millionth took eight and a half years, until May 25, 1936.

Buick number 4,000,000 marked the conclusion of the best six months production in the company's records, it was announced by Harlow H. Curtice, president, who said that since the first of the year output has averaged 27,837 cars a month and has exceeded the volume of the best previous corresponding months.

Output for the first half of 1940, he said, totaled 167,024 units while production of 1940 models, since their introduction last fall through June 30, totaled 278,251, establishing this as a new record year.

Typhoid Fever Is Still Persistent Killer In Texas

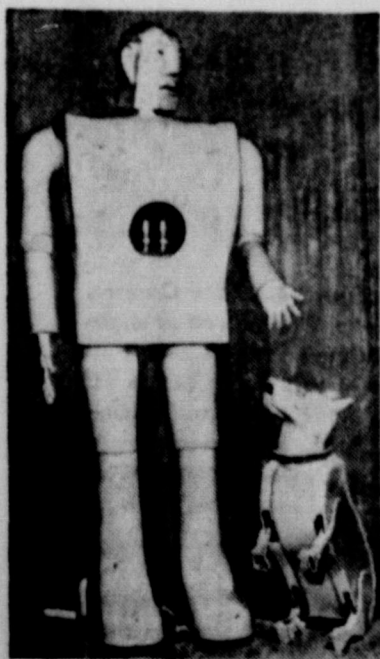

AUSTIN.—The control of typhoid fever in the United States represents an outstanding achievement in preventive medicine. In 1900, the national death rate from this disease was 31.3 per hundred thousand; today, the rate is 1.9. This marked decrease in typhoid deaths is based on knowledge of its cause, how it is spread, and the application of control measures. Perhaps at this time, no other disease is more vulnerable to scientific attack than typhoid fever. "Indeed, it is no exaggeration to say that from a public health point of view, there should be no typhoid fever," declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

However, Dr. Cox pointed out that typhoid, while an unnecessary evil, was a persistent attacker of Texans. Each year about four hundred Texans die of typhoid, and approximately four thousand are ill. The average duration of illness is about six weeks, which makes typhoid responsible for the loss of 168,000 man days in Texas each year.

Typhoid prevention is a simple procedure. Typhoid vaccine is injected under the skin in the upper part of the arm, in three doses, usually at weekly intervals. It ordinarily protects against the disease from two to three years or longer, although one who is definitely exposed to infection should be re-vaccinated at more frequent intervals.

Typhoid fever can be controlled by the use of pure water, pasteurized milk or clean milk, clean

Nazi-Fascist Penetration In South And Central America Pointed Out By Pan-American Experts At Austin Meet

AUSTIN, July 10.—One of the most far-reaching conferences ever staged on the University of Texas campus, a two-day parley on Western Hemisphere problems brought on by Europe's war, was held here this week.

Among the 26 Pan-American experts present from both sides of the Rio Grande and from business, and government as well as education, were such speakers as Henry F. Grady, assistant United States secretary of state; Amos Taylor, chief of finance division, U. S. Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, and George Wythe, liaison officer for the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Roland Hall Sharp, Christian Science Monitor Latin-American expert, who opened the first of five round-table sessions Tuesday, declared that Nazi and Fascist penetration has already begun in Central and South America.

He listed German population totals in Latin-American in excess of 1,000,000; Italian, 5,000,000.

Following him, Dana G. Munro, director of Princeton University's School of International Affairs, called for an improvement in the personnel of U. S. diplomatic staffs to the Latin-American republics.

"It would be difficult," he said, "to exaggerate the harm which has been done to our Latin-American relations in the past by bad diplomacy."

John I. E. McCulloch, Washington, D. C., editor of Pan-American News, predicted that South American political parties will split this year into two groups: one favoring Pan-American cooperation, the second opposing "Yankee domination." Grady, main speaker of the two-day session, predicted that the German barter system of trading in South and Central America will damage the Latin-American republics in the long run, and pointed to 12 U. S. reciprocal trade treaties as examples of Western Hemisphere economic defenses against totalitarianism.

The conference was held in conjunction with the University's regular Latin-American Institute, launched this summer. Richard Pattee represented the United States department of state as an official observer.

Records Show Black Buffalo Once Roamed Over Parts Of Texas

AUSTIN.—The great black buffalo which were once the pride of the Great Plains roamed in Texas, too, in the old days—even as far south as the Gulf coast itself, records in the University of Texas library here show.

Until the 1840's, large herds seem to have wandered across the land. Most of the time they stayed inland, away from the settlements near the coast; and the settlers did not venture out to hunt them for fear of Indians. The daughter of one settler, however, Mrs. Dilue

Harris, later wrote of a herd's passing three or four thousand strong through her family's land one night in 1836.

"We could see only a dark cloud of dust, which looked like a sand storm," she wrote. "We were terribly frightened, for it was supposed that the Indians were following the herd. The buffaloes passed and went on to the coast, and the prairie looked afterwards as if it had been plowed."

During the days of the Republic of Texas, the Library's records show, the buffalo gradually disappeared to the north. In the 1840's, Mrs. Harris wrote, the last few remaining in the territory ran with the herds of various cattle ranchers.

"An Advertising Medium That Pays"

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

AUSTIN, July 10.—Another experiment in game restoration attempted by biologists of the Texas Game Department has apparently succeeded. It is that of raising wild turkeys in semi-captivity, but in pens large enough to prevent turkeys from assuming the characteristics of tame turkeys.

Located in Robertson county on one of the six large areas the game department has under lease in various parts of the state is a 20-acre pen. Twelve hens and three gobblers were placed in it last winter and nearly fifty turkeys were released outside the pen on the 30,000-acre tract. It was believed that not only would the turkeys inside the vermin-proof fence raise young, but their presence would decoy the hens and gobblers outside the area and thus keep them from leaving the game preserve. To date the projects have been successful on both counts. A state game manager recently counted thirty-six young turkeys inside the 20-acre pen and there probably are more. Too, the turkeys outside have not roamed to any noticeable extent. The turkeys outside the pen have also hatched a good many poults. Thus the turkey population of the area has been doubled and may have been tripled. An accurate count is impossible due to the adeptness of turkey hens at hiding their nests.

Turkeys placed inside the fence had their wings clipped last winter. However, the wings are growing out and the birds will be allowed to leave the pen soon.

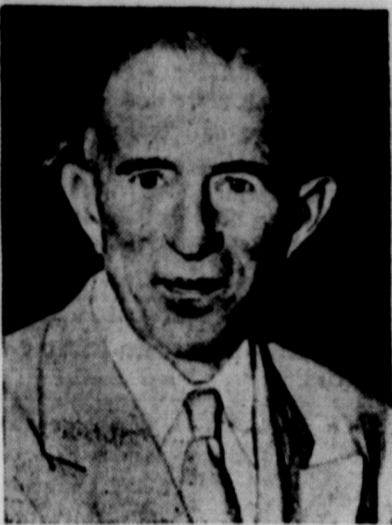

This method of raising turkeys was attempted in one other state, but with not as much success as attained in Texas, it is understood. The experiment is a Pittman-Robertson project, the federal government paying three-fourth of the cost and the game department the remaining fourth.

HOW MANY TEXANS FISH?

The question of how many people fish in Texas lakes and streams has never been known due to the unusual fishing license law in effect. Only persons using artificial lures are required to have a license. However, the game department is now taking a census which probably will determine the approximate number of anglers in the Lone Star State.

In addition to that information, the department hopes to determine the kind of fish favored by Texans. At this time, bass, crappie and catfish, in the order named, are well out in front.

Hot Weather Garden Problems Discussed

COLLEGE STATION. — July and August, months when most of Texas receives scant rainfall, confront thousands of gardeners with the problem of supplying sufficient moisture for plants. Annuals and perennials, in order to produce flowers, must have an ample supply of water during this period, and shrubs and trees set out during the year which have not yet established good root systems often need assistance in order to survive the driest part of the year.

To gardeners beset with these problems, Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape gardening for the A. and M. college extension service, offers these suggestions:

Moisture for summer growth of plants should be retained by frequent cultivation or by supplying a mulch of rotted straw or leaves.

If irrigation is used it should be supplied liberally and slowly about once in 10 days. Then it should be conserved by cultivation.

Removal of competing plants will leave moisture for desirable plants.

Supplying semi-shade for protection of cuttings or other young plants will prove valuable.

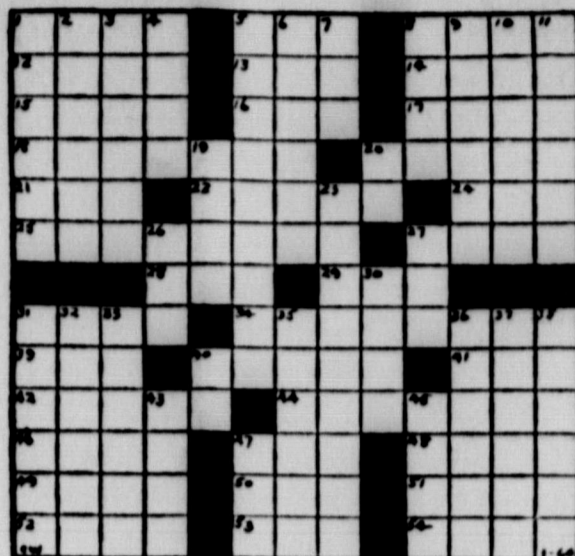

A practice common among many flower growers of sprinkling the top of the ground every morning is particularly discouraged by the specialist. Light sprinkling causes roots to seek moisture near the surface where they are easily killed and are likely to be injured by winter cold.

Texas farmers and ranchers receive 30 cents in oil lease and royalty payments for each dollar they get for farm crops and livestock.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living

BY SUSAN THAYER

The Spirit "Quickeneth"

When the lawn has to be mowed how tired Johnny gets! Four times around the big plot out by the garage and he's all worn out. He flops down on the ground and chews a blade of grass as he gazes up at the puffs of clouds in the soft blue sky or aims a stone at some marauding cat.

But when "the gang" comes by to get him to go swimming it's quite a different story! His tiredness vanishes as if by magic and he's rarin' to go. He can spend the whole livelong afternoon down at the pool diving—swimming under water—racing the crawl and never feel the slightest bit of tiredness. The only result seems to be wet hair and a prodigious appetite when it's over and he's home again full of satisfaction and stories of his own prowess.

The difference? He wanted to swim. His heart was in it! While the lawn mowing was something he was told to do and was uninterested in.

The same kind of thing holds true with grownup people. We do well and easily the thing we put our heart into. It is the "spirit that quickeneth"—even literally.

That's why there's a lot of meaning in the fact that the National Association of Manufacturers, an organization representing many of the leading industrial concerns of this country, on whom we must depend for equipment for national defense, has gone on record as believing in the necessity of rearming spiritually as well as materially. In a statement issued by this organization of realistic business men a few days ago, they say:

"Physical defense is not enough. The American people must rearm themselves spiritually and mentally. They must rededicate themselves to the institutions and the high principles they are preparing to defend. They must recognize that there is no substitute for personal toil and sacrifice and devotion. Only by firm adherence to our traditional American ideals, coupled with adequate military defense, can we be sure that the terrible price the democracies abroad are now paying will not be exacted of us."

SNAKE BROUGHT ANGLER FISH

A sportsman whose veracity is above reproach, but who is publicly shy, recently related an odd experience to the game department. While fishing in the Colorado river he saw a water snake swimming toward a sandbar upon which the angler was standing. The snake had a 12-inch catfish in its mouth. Upon reaching the sandbar, the snake when only three feet away from the fisherman, apparently became alarmed, dropped the fish at the sportsman's feet and darted back into the water. The angler dropped the catfish into his creel.

Mother: "John, it's positively shameful the way Junior talks. I just heard him say, 'I ain't went nowhere!'"

Father: "I should say it is shameful. Why, he has traveled twice as much as most boys his age!"

Commissioners Find Little Business In Regular July Meet

Members of the Crockett county Commissioners Court found little business needing attention when they met in regular July session here Monday.

Approval of the airport lease contract, adjustment of compensation to the lease holder on the affected acreage, borrowing of $10,000 for the third class fund and checking property valuations as a board of equalization constituted the major proceedings of the session.

The court agreed to pay Joe Davidson, lessee of the Couch ranch, 60 cents an acre for the 270-acre tract which will be used as airport site, bringing the cost to the county to $1.60 per acre per year for the lease. The $10,000 borrowed is from the Ozona National Bank and is to be repaid $5,000 on November 1, 1940, and $5,000 November 15, 1940. Salaries and current expenses are paid from the third class fund.

Meeting as a board of equalization, the court checked property renditions, making a number of proposed changes, and will meet as final board of equalization on August 12.

CONOCO GETS—

Saturday night. Mudge Oil Co.'s No. 1 Noelke-State, diagonal northeast offset to the Soma Oil & Gas Syndicate's discovery well on the Noelke ranch on the western edge of Crockett county, was drilled in at 7:30 Saturday night, coming in a gusher throwing oil and gas a hundred feet into the air.

Following the initial head, the oil yield decreased to a spray and the well was shut in after thirty minutes flow. The well entered the oil and gas bearing section at 1,133 feet. Total depth is 1,141 feet. No estimate on either the gas or oil was available.

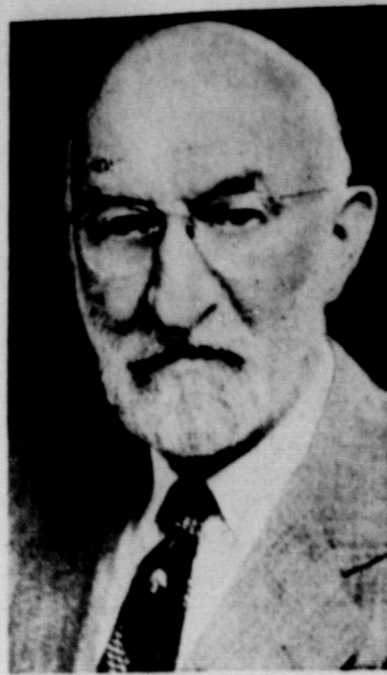

The Mudge well has surface elevation 85 feet higher than the Soma well, which ran wild for four days with a heavy initial oil production. An official gauge on May 10, however, showed production to be only 129.7 barrels of 32.2 gravity oil in four hours, with approximately 19 million cubic feet of gas daily. The gas-oil ratio being in excess of that permitted by the state, the oil can not be produced unless reduced or an outlet for the gas found, and consequently the well has remained shut in. The Mudge well is in section 30-GG-HE&WT.
