Two New Members Added To Roster Of Rotary Club

San Angelo Members Again Present Program Here

Two new members, the first since the club received its charter at the charter-night banquet April 12, were inducted into the Ozona Rotary Club at the regular luncheon of the club Tuesday noon. The new members, both of whom were listed for membership but failed to make application in time for inclusion in the charter membership list, were I. G. Rape, proprietor of the Ozona Drug Store, and George Harrell, rancher. The club met in new quarters this week, changing the meeting place from the Hotel Ozona ballroom to Randall's Drive Inn.

The two new members were received on behalf of the Ozona club by Clark Fisher of the San Angelo Club, who lectured the members on the history, obligations and privileges of membership.

Continuing their instruction in Rotary principles for the benefit of the newly made Rotarians of the local club, members of the San Angelo Club, sponsors of the local organization, presented the program at Tuesday meeting.

Bill Taylor directed the program, which included the reception of new members by Clark Fisher and a talk by E. L. Nunnally, San Angelo Club secretary, on the duties of the secretary. Others here from San Angelo for the meeting were Hobart McDowell, president, and John Powell.

President Scott Peters announced the following committee appointments for the local club:

DIRECTS TCU CHORUS

W. J. Marsh

W. J. Marsh, above, well known Texas composer and director, is director of the TCU Mixed Chorus, which will be heard in a concert at the High School Auditorium here Saturday afternoon, May 3, starting at 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Marsh composed the Texas State song, "Texas, Our Texas."

Famous Chorus Of TCU To Sing Here Sat., May 3

W.J. Marsh, Texas Composer, Director Of College Group

Ozona music lovers will get another "break" when they have an opportunity to hear the Texas Christian Mixed Chorus of 40 voices, directed by W. J. Marsh, composer of the official state song—"Texas, Our Texas"—in concert at the High School auditorium Saturday afternoon, May 3. The concert is scheduled to begin at 2:30 o'clock a week from next Saturday.

The famous musical organization, which won first place in choral contests at the State Music Clubs convention in Dallas last week, is being brought to Ozona under a sponsorship of the Ozona Music Club. The chorus is on tour of 14 West Texas cities and towns on an 11-day schedule, beginning today and continuing to May 4.

The T. C. U. musical organization is rated among the top choral groups in the state, both the men's

Another Crockett Boy Off Next Week For Training Army

Another trainee for Uncle Sam's defense training army will go from Crockett County next week, a replacement for one man turned back on the last call on April 2.

Buck Williams, being next in line among the No. 1 registrants, will leave by bus Monday night for Fort Bliss in El Paso where he will report for induction Tuesday morning. This County's sixth group of 25 questionnaires was mailed from the local Selective Service office this week. No call for additional draftees has been received by the local board to date for the month of May.

Ozona Rotary Club To Present Program For San Angelo Club

Ozona's infant Rotary Club, which came into being under sponsorship and guidance of the San Angelo Rotary Club, will in a measure return the favor to the parent organization next Friday when the local club will present the day's program at the San Angelo Club luncheon.

The program, as arranged by the local program committee, will consist of a talk by the Rev. Eugene Slater, who has chosen as his topic "The Value of Belonging," and a group of songs by Mrs. H. B. Tandy. Mrs. Tandy will be accompanied by Mrs. C. B. Beal of San Angelo.

Softballers Go Into Huddle To Launch Season

Four Teams In Prospect; Play May Begin Soon

Despite the wintry blasts that descended on Ozona this week following the almost midsummer temperatures of the previous week, Ozona's softball enthusiasts had had enough of the moderated temperatures to start the softball blood to boiling, culminating in a gathering Tuesday afternoon to plan organization of the league.

Four team managers, J. P. Pogue of the Southsiders who may play under the Humble banner, Frankie Jones of last year's Water Works aggregation, Troy Williams of the Williams crew and Arthur Kyle of the Laundry aggregation were empowered to draw up lists of possible players, divide them into teams and be ready with a report at an organization meeting to be held at the Stockman office at 4:30 Friday afternoon.

A general manager, a Kenesaw Mountain Landis of local baseball, is to be selected before the season opens and a financial campaign among players is to be launched to pay off an existing light bill from last season's play and to put aside a fund sufficient to avoid a similar indebtedness this year. A season's schedule will be worked out and play opened within the next two weeks, it was indicated.

Site Of Howard Spring Massacre In 1872 Marked

Junior And Senior Historical Societies Erect Plaque

One of Crockett County's most interesting historical spots, the site of the bloody Gonzales wagon train massacre at Howard's Spring in 1872, was marked with a bronze plaque mounted on an iron cross embedded in solid rock Saturday when a group from the Crockett County Historical Society and the High School Junior Historical Society journeyed to the site for a day's outing and field trip.

The marker, bearing the words "Howard's Spring Massacre, April 20, 1872," was set in place on the site of the incident just one day short of 69 years after the massacre. A wagon train on its way from San Antonio to El Paso, headed by Gonzales, a San Antonio operator, was set upon by a band of Comanche and Kiowa Indians and all members of the party slaughtered.

An iron cross five feet high was set in the rock with the marker mounted in the center of the cross. Adele Keeton, a member of the Junior Society, reviewed details of the massacre at the erection of a mile south of the massacre site to visit the site of the old Howard's Spring and 200 yards east of the spring

M&M Production Co. To Drill Its Noelke Holdings

Location was to have been staked this week for a new test by M. & M. Production Co. of Abilene on holdings in the edge of the Noelke field in this county acquired recently from the Mid-States Oil Corp. of Tulsa. Mid-States last week sold its holdings of 159.03 acres out of the southeast quarter of section 30, block GG, HE&WT Co. survey, south and southwest of Noelke production, for $80,000 cash and other considerations.

Surveyors were sent to the lease early this week to stake location for the initial test on the acreage. M. & M. Production Co. is headed by George and Wilbur McGarr, brothers.

Two Ozonans Become Owners Of Airplane

Alfred Cooke and George Brown, two Ozona airplane enthusiasts, have purchased a new Porterfield 65 horsepower two-place cabin monoplane from Merle Eddelman of McCamey. They will receive delivery on the plane as soon as a hangar can be constructed at the local airport.

Both Cooke and Brown have been taking flying instructions from David Curry of McCamey and they have a little more than an hour more of instruction before their first solo flight. They will then take 35 hours of solo flying before they can get a private license.

Ozona Players Placed On All-District Teams

Armentrout, Wilson To Basketball Top; Luther In Volleyball

Two members of Ozona High School boys basketball team and one player from the local girls' volleyball team made the mythical All-Ranch District teams by vote of the coaches in the district, according to notice received by local school officials this week.

George B. Armentrout and Donald Wilson, outstanding players on the basketball squad, were named to the all-district squad and Florence Luther was selected for all-district honors among the volleyball girls.

Besides Armentrout and Wilson, the basketball all-district team is composed of Oglesby and Paige of Eldorado, Hudson and Ory of Sonora and Owens of Rocksprings. With Miss Luther on the volleyball honor team are Freddie Gardner of Junction, Gladys Surber of Junction, Jami Trainer, Mary Lee Hefflin and Pat Gilmore of Sonora, R. Mund of Eldorado and Cowser of Rocksprings.

The district is composed of teams in Ozona, Sonora, Eldorado, Junction and Rocksprings. Each player designated by vote of the coaches to membership on the all-district teams will be presented with a gold award, such awards to be made this week.

Work Of Laying New Hardwood Floor In Courtroom Started

Work of laying a hardwood floor in the district courtroom of Crockett County courthouse was begun early this week. The new floor was ordered by the Commissioners Court in response to a request contained in a petition signed by about 75 citizen taxpayers and presented at the April term of the court.

The move for a new floor in the big courtroom was initiated by members of one of the local dance clubs with Early Baggett heading a committee to circulate and present the petition. The district courtroom served in the early days as the principal place for social gatherings and old timers, and some not yet numbered among the old timers, retain pleasant memories of the room as the scene of jolly community dances. The dance club plans to revive the custom when the new floor is laid.

Dr. K. P. Barton To Preach Sunday At Methodist Church

Dr. K. P. Barton of San Angelo, district superintendent of Methodist Churches in this district, will be the preacher at the morning service next Sunday at the Ozona Methodist Church. Rev. Eugene Slater, pastor, announced this week.

Dr. Barton is considered one of West Texas' outstanding churchmen and one of the most interesting speakers. All members and friends of the church are invited to hear him Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

SEEKS SENATE POST

Gerald C. Mann

Caravans left Sulphur Springs this week inviting towns, cities and counties to send delegations to that city Saturday when Gerald C. Mann will open his campaign for the United States Senate to fill the place left vacant by the death of Morris Sheppard. Gerald Mann was born in Sulphur Springs, went to school there, worked there and there launched in 1938 his successful campaign to become Attorney General.

The day's program will climax with Mann's speech from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Printing Work On High School Annual Started

Books To Be Off Press Shortly Before End School Term

"The Hitching Post," 1941 annual being published by pupils of the Ozona High School, went to press this week. The books are expected to be ready for distribution near the end of the school year.

The annual will contain 64 pages, filled with pictures of school students, scenes and activities about the grounds from the kindergarten through the graduating class. A section will be devoted to advertising of business firms in this territory whose patronage of the advertising section produced sufficient added revenue to make publication of the book possible.

The book is being printed on the finest grade of enameled book paper and is to be bound in a custom made cover with an embossed pioneer scene in recognition of the fiftieth anniversary of Crockett County's organization being celebrated this year.

Orders have already been placed for more than two-third of the limited number of the books being printed. Those who have not yet placed an order for a copy of the book and who desire to purchase a copy are urged to see or call Supt. C. S. Denham at once.

Rev. Slater To Preach At U. Of San Antonio

Rev. Eugene Slater, pastor of the Ozona Methodist Church, has accepted an invitation to be the preacher during the Religious Emphasis Week at the University of San Antonio. The special services during the week will begin Monday, April 28, and continue through Friday, May 2.

TWO NEW HOMES START

Construction work has been started this week on two new homes in Ozona, one for Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henderson and one for Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Davidson, Jr. The Henderson home is to be built on the site of the old home moved last fall and the Davidson home is to be built on the east half of the old Davidson homestead place on Broadway. Both are to be imposing residences.

R. E. McWilliams Named Crockett Deputy Sheriff

Former Ranger Accepts Post Under Sheriff W. S. Willis

R. E. McWilliams, a Texas Ranger for the past seven years, and a former deputy sheriff of Reagan and Runnels counties, has been appointed a deputy sheriff in this county under Sheriff W. S. Willis.

Mr. McWilliams, who resigned his position in the Texas Rangers force to accept the local appointment, will succeed Marion McBee, who has resigned effective May 1 to accept a position as deputy in Irion County with special duties in guarding against livestock thefts in that area. He will make his home in Barnhart.

Mr. McWilliams served for six years as a deputy sheriff in Runnels county and was for a time a deputy under Sheriff A. W. Billingsley in Reagan County. While serving in the Texas Ranger force the past seven years he has seen duty in San Angelo, Lubbock, Austin, Goldthwaite and other towns and was stationed along the Mexican border for a time. He is a former inspector of the Livestock Sanitary Commission and served as president of the West Texas Sheriffs' Association and the Texas Sheriffs' Association.

Ozona Band Members To Participate In Abilene Band Meet

Forty members of the Ozona High School band, under the direction of Cyril Pingelston, will leave Ozona early Saturday morning for Abilene where the group will participate in the state band contests Saturday and Saturday night.

The local group has been going through prolonged daily practice for the past week or more in preparation for participation in the state contests. Contests numbers which the band has been rehearsing include the required "Castle Ruins Overture," the selected "Regal Overture" and a warm-up number, "Hillsboro March." These three numbers will be played as the first step in the day's contests, to be followed by an exhibition of sight reading. Late Saturday afternoon or night, the band will participate in the marching contests.

A large contingent of parents will accompany the band group.

Ozona Boy Wins Regional Title In Declamation

Arthur Byrd Phillips Is First In Marfa Region Eight Meet

Arthur Byrd Phillips, seventh grade pupil, took first place in regional competition in junior boys declamations at the Region 8 Interscholastic league meet in Marfa last Saturday. Arthur Byrd had won in his grade, in the county meet and in the recent district meet at Fort Stockton, which entitled him to try for the region title. Region 8 is made up of districts from here to El Paso.

The regional title is the highest honors that grade school juniors can attain in Interscholastic league competition, only those in the high school divisions going to the state meet.

Bobby Lemmons and Virginia Hays, Ozona High School typing team, who won first place in the district meet, failed to place in the regional competition. The group of Ozona students were under the supervision of Miss Mildred North, commercial department teacher, on the trip to Marfa.

FACTS TO CHEW . . .

Years ago, the Philadelphia Record urged the Government to hoard useful metals instead of gold. It didn't. Today we have a vault full of gold at Fort Knox. We also have: (a) Word from Baltimore that the Glenn Martin aircraft factory is operating at only about 75 per cent of capacity, due to a shortage of essential materials—especially aluminum forgings and castings; (b) Another dispatch from Chicago, as follows: "Gum-chewers will be asked to sacrifice the shiny tin-foil wrappers on gum for national defense. The William Wrigley, Jr. Co. wired the OPM that its full inventory of 500,000 pounds of aluminum, intended for gum-wrappers would be made available for defense purposes. The company estimated the change from tin-foil to wax paper would save enough aluminum to make 996 airplane wings." Monopolies come high. It might be a good idea to chew these facts along with your gum.—Philadelphia Record.

DEPORTABLE ALIENS . . .

The Administration has been forced to do something sensible and constructive about the thousands of deportable aliens who are roving the county. Attorney-General Jackson said he is unable to carry out deportation orders against 6,249 aliens. Nearly all are proved enemies of the Government and constant menaces to the defense program. They can not be deported because their home countries will not receive them, or there is no way open to send them home. Detention camps seem to be the only means of holding them where they can do no harm. A House committee is working on a bill that would not only call for the detention of these proved enemies, but would provide that all alien Bondists and Communists of record should be put through a deportation proceeding and ordered into detention. For months there has been a popular clamor to treat these peo-

ANECDOTE . . .

"The United States," said Vice-President Wallace, "now has her second opportunity to make the world safe for democracy." Which calls to mind an old anecdote. Sam, a barber-shop porter, was a regular purchaser of sweepstakes. Lady Luck smiled one day, and he was informed he had won the $100,000 grand prize. With a whoop of joy, Sam gave up his job, collected his money and set out on a wild career of spending and general hilarity. Six months later, a ragged, weary, hungry and battered Sam staggered into the barber shop and asked for his old job again. He got it, and devoted himself industriously to sweeping floors and shining shoes, but he couldn't resist an occasional gamble on a sweepstakes ticket. A year rolled around, and incredible news came: Lady Luck had favored him again and Sam had won another $100,000 grand prize. But this time, there was no whoop of joy. Sam just flung down his shine rag and heaved a heavy sigh. "Oh, Lord," he exclaimed, "have I got to go through all that again?"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Walter D. Fuller, President, Curtis Publishing Company: "Security, opportunity and greater happiness do not come from having less of what our free enterprise system can produce. There will be greater safety, more opportunity and far more happiness if we work together so that everyone can have more. If we come through the emergency with no serious losses in our American way of life, of which free enterprise, a free pulpit, school and press, and free representative democracy are inseparable parts, then we can go forward toward realization of the true goals of America."

J. Howard Pew, President, Sun Oil Company: "Planning as applied to the other fellow has always been tolerated; in fact, among those groups who do the planning for the planning has been downright popular. There is no surer way of ruining a man than for someone else to plan out his life. There is no surer way of ruining a nation than for the government to plan for the lives and the activities, of its people, for a nation can be no greater than are its people."

M. C. Puckett Named To Post Of State AAA Committeeman

COLLEGE STATION — M. C. Puckett, Fort Stockton ranchman, has succeeded the late L. W. Anderson as state Agricultural Adjustment Administration committeeman from District 6, it has been announced at state AAA headquarters here.

Puckett was named to the state committee by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard after county committeemen from the 32 West Texas counties in the district had recommended his appointment.

The new committeeman, who for the past two years has been chairman of the Pecos County AAA committee, operates a 23,000-acre sheep and cattle ranch in Pecos County. Before he settled in that county, he ranched in Crockett and Sutton counties.

A director of the Southwestern Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, Puckett is well known to ranchmen all over the state. As a member of the state AAA committee, which is composed of 12 farmers and ranchmen and Extension Service Director H. H. Williamson, Puckett will play an important part in the administration of the Range Conservation Program.

The Best Food for the Most People At the Lowest Cost . . .

They went foraging sometimes those soldiers of the American Revolution whose rations consisted only of "beef, rice, biscuits, milk, peas and beer" according to records in the office of the Quartermaster Corps in Washington. For meals were often skimpy for hungry young men and almost always monotonous in a time when supplies were limited by the season and crude methods of transportation.

A soldier in the army commanded by General Washington would rub his eyes if he could be at mess in any of the camps where American boys are being trained today. Golden oranges from tropical lands, fresh peas although it is only April, lettuce and tomatoes and half a fried chicken spiced with potatoe sand gravy, and ice cream for dessert! What is this anyhow? A banquet or a soldier's dinner?

Much has happened in the 165 years since the Continental Army marched to victory. A pioneer people has become a great industrial nation and the food industry, through new methods of preservation, storage and transportation has reached a point where we are better fed than any people have ever been before in the history of the world—both in our homes and in the training camps.

Fast refrigeration trains and trucks rush the products of Florida and California to the cities of the North and East so that we can all have green vegetables and fruit all winter long. Other foods are "quick frozen" at the point of origin, with all of their flavor as well as their food value intact. Still others are put up in tin, or glass or cellophane for indefinite keeping or are stored in great electric refrigerator plants made possible by another phase of industry.

No one single thing has made the food industry of the United States the most efficient in the world, but a series of developments brought about by men and women working diligently under a system of free enterprise to achieve the results they believed were possible. Technicians in the great commercial laboratories, experts in the canning companies, fruit and vegetable growers and livestock men, transportation specialists have all striven to bring the finest products of the best gardens, farms and ranches to the largest number of people at the lowest possible cost. That, in a nutshell, is the story of what a free industrial system is able to achieve. And in sharp contrast between the limited rations of the army that won for us our independence and the balanced diet of the army of 1941 that is making America strong, we have a clear picture of what has happened. The end is not yet as each month brings still more developments in the keeping and transportation of foods so that we women, as well as Uncle Sam, can go on to still better, easier, more completely nourishing meals for our families.

THIS NATION WARNED . . .

Revelations of his activities as a Communist and Gestapo agent have focused attention of Washington governmental agencies on the status of the author of a current "best seller" as an undesirable alien. Some reports say that his deportation is being considered. We cannot picture the government doing Nazi Germany the favor of turning over to it this particular individual who has penned about as damning an indictment against its espionage and police methods as has yet been produced. And that applies, too, to the Russian government. Any one who would confess the offenses to which this author has admitted is no hero in our eyes, but he has rendered a service by producing a volume which has public appeal and which should serve the purpose of awakening the people to the dangers which are Communism and Nazism.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

but it's a great orchestra nevertheless

Even a great orchestra will make a musical mistake once in a while. And once in a while . . . out of the thousands of decent, law-abiding beer retailers in Texas . . . you'll come across one or two who operate disreputable establishments.

These "black sheep" retailers constitute a tiny minority. Yet they tend to drag down the good name of beer.

By arousing public indignation, such undesirable retailers endanger your right to enjoy good beer. They also endanger the benefits to the public that beer has made possible.

For example, in Texas beer has created 31,165 new jobs with an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and paid $2,273,968.64 in taxes last year.

The brewing industry wants "black sheep" retailers eliminated entirely. You can help us by patronizing only the reputable, legal places where beer is sold. And by reporting irregularities to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

Side Glances on Texas History

By Charles O. Hucker
University of Texas Library

THE SAN SABA PADRES MEET THE COMANCHES

The history of Eighteenth-Century Texas is essentially the story of its first large-scale pioneering movement—the rise, prosperity, and sudden decline of its Franciscan missions—which, though given up in 1794, prepared the way for permanent settlement by Anglo-Saxons in the 1820's.

They were not easily discouraged, the padres of those missions; yet, as all pioneers must, they met some severe setbacks. In his third volume of "Our Catholic Heritage in Texas," a seven-volume work being published by the Knights of Columbus, Dr. C. E. Castaneda of the University of Texas gives a detailed account of the most dramatic of them—the San Saba massacre of 1758.

The mission on the San Saba River, near present-day Menard, was founded in 1757 as the first of a chain which were to bring the gospel to the Apache Indians of central Texas; but it was a great disappointment. For after eleven months — by March, 1758 — no Apaches had presented themselves, except in passing. Only three still-hopeful padres remained: Fray Alonso de Terreros, Fray Jose Santiesteban, and Fray Miguel Molina.

ENTER THE INDIANS

On March 2, however, a great horde of warriors from the north, mostly Comanches, appeared in the neighborhood—but in war dress, came to wipe out their ancient enemies, the Apache tribes. And on the 10th, early in the morning, they called on the mission, two thousand strong. Many had rifles.

The padres, who had refused to take refuge in the fortified presidio across the rivers, received them with friendliness. Fray Alonso gave them tobacco, but without effect. He stood quietly by while they looted his storehouses. And when they announced that they were going on to the presidio to seek out Apaches, he gave them a message for the commandant urging him to admit them peaceably.

The Spanish officer, however, had decided to take no chances, and when the Comanches approached, his men fired a volley which sent them scurrying back to the mission. Now Fray Alonso offered to return with them and, taking one of five soldiers he had, rode calmly out of the patio. Then, without warning, both were suddenly shot down, and the massacre was on.

A DAY-LONG RIOT

From early morning on throughout the day it continued. Fray Santiesteban was struck down as he knelt in prayer; his head was cut off and played with as if ball. The soldiers were shot and cut to pieces. Only eight persons, including Fray Molina, held out beyond noon in a barricaded room.

There they were by no means safe and twice had to flee to new refuges to escape roasting to death, for the Indians were firing and destroying everything they could not carry away. By nightfall only Fray Molina and three companions survived, the padre with a broken arm; and in the darkness, somehow they reached the safety of presidio.

For three days the Comanches lingered, considering an attack on the fort. Then at last, on the 20th, they seemed to have gone, and the few soldiers in the presidio ventured out to the mission. It was ashes and ruins, and the bodies of eight victims lay in and about it, all mutilated.

This was the death-blow to the mission movement on the San Saba. Although the greatest prosperity of the Franciscan missions in Texas was still to come, henceforth the Apaches and their northern neighbors were left to their own religious devices.

A. & M. To Resume Big Building Program

COLLEGE STATION — The Board of Directors of the A. & M. College of Texas today had cleared the way for resumption of the $1,575,000 building program launched last fall and delayed by refusal of a former state auditor to approve the financing plans.

Last week Governor W. Lee O'Daniel signed a bill authorizing the college to construct four new dormitories, a federal agency office building, and make needed additions to the college power and steam plant.

In Wednesday's meeting here the Board of Directors located the new federal office building at the southwest corner of the campus building area and provided ample parking facilities.

Contractors who originally had been granted the building awards met with the board and Architect Alfred C. Finn of Houston, and it was determined that only a 2 percent penalty was occasioned by the delay from October 16 to May 1, when building will be resumed.

The building program probably will be financed by a Reconstruction Finance Corporation loan, but Texas bond houses will be given an opportunity to present proposals, and the most advantageous to the college will be accepted.

No Clothespin on this Car's Nose!

Buick SPECIAL, 6-passenger Sedanet, $1006. White sidewall tires extra.*

WOULDN'T a sprinter or a long-distance runner look silly trying to race with a clothespin firmly clamped on his nose!

Yet, in a sense, something fairly close to that happens in nearly every car that lacks Buick's sensational Compound Carburetion.†

For your engine has to breathe in huge quantities of air to be mixed with gasoline before it is burned in the cylinders. But single-carburetor fuel supply systems can handle only a given volume of air.

To that extent, then, an ordinary engine has a clothespin on its nose—a limitation on air supply for big power operation.

We remove that clothespin very simply—by having two carburetors; one that handles all casual driving smoothly and efficiently, another to jump in with more air and more fuel when you call for extra power by stepping on the gas treadle!

Simple? Very simple indeed.

And simply marvelous in the extra FIREBALL wallop it gives you and in the gas savings you get—as much as 10% to 15% over previous Buicks with the same-size engines.

Maybe you'd better go see your Buick dealer now.

Cancer Control Workers Go Over Top In Campaign

Over 60 Members Enrolled; Drive To Close Apr. 26

Already over the top in its own self-fixed goal of 50 enrollments, the local unit of the Woman's Field Army for the control of cancer has fixed Saturday, April 26, as the closing date for the local campaign, it was announced this week by Mrs. Carl Colwick, Crockett County captain of the Woman's Field Army.

More than 60 members had been enrolled up to Wednesday of this week, Mrs. Colwick reported.

"The results of the campaign are most gratifying," Mrs. Colwick said. "The committee members have worked faithfully and the Ozona people have responded interestedly." Mrs. W. E. Friend, Jr., secured the largest number of memberships of the group of workers.

Enrollment in the cancer control movement are being taken at $1 per person. The amount collected here will be sent to the state headquarters of the W.F.A., to the office of the state commander, Mrs. Volney Taylor, and 30 per cent of the amount will be sent by her to the American Society for the Control of Cancer in New York for its projects. The other 70 per cent will be spent in our own state on cancer control educational projects.

If there are any who did not have an opportunity to enlist in this worthy cause, Lowell Little-

North Motor Co. To Observe 22nd Birthday May 1

Next Thursday, May 1, the North Motor Co., local Chevrolet and Oldsmobile agency, will observe the 22nd anniversary of establishment of the business in its present location—the big brick building at the north end of the square.

During the year 1940, the North Motor Co. received a plaque from Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. in recognition of 25 years as dealers for Goodyear tires. The firm, started as the Sonora Garage in Sonora by the late J. J. North, father of the present manager, J. W. North, was moved here and into its present quarters, later improved and enlarged on several occasions, on May 1, 1919.

Judge and Mrs. Charles E. Davidson and Miss Dixie Davidson left Saturday morning by automobile for Winfield, Iowa, where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grimmer and family. They will be gone about two weeks.

Mrs. Quimby Ragsdale has been ill the past two weeks.

at the Ozona National Bank or any member of the committee will take the enrollment, Mrs. Colwick said.

Committee workers who assisted Mrs. Colwick were Lowell Littleton, Mrs. Lowell Littleton, Mrs. Joe Oberkamp, Mrs. Victor Pierce, Mrs. Johnnie Henderson, Mrs. Evert White, Mrs. W. E. Friend, Jr., Mrs. Hillery Phillips, Mrs. Rex Russell, Mrs. Stephen Perner, Mrs. George Bean, Mrs. J. S. Whatley, Mrs. Alvin Harrell, Mrs. B. B. Ingham, Mrs. P. T. Robison, and Mrs. Hubert Baker.

Interest In Special Edition For Crockett County Is Increasing

Interest in the forthcoming publication of the Stockman's Historical edition is beginning to show itself. Several pictures of old-timers and special events have been received from readers of the paper in response to last week's appeal. Mrs. C. F. Kerr, of Hereford, Texas, sent in a very interesting pose of the late Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Lovelace, who came to Ozona in 1892. Dr. Lovelace is remembered as the minister who married Judge and Mrs. C. E. Davidson.

Tall tales and yarns of the western plains, biographical sketches and historical articles comprise the manuscripts which have been sent in to the editor. It appears that old-timers and citizens are beginning to recognize the value from an historical standpoint which this edition will carry for Crockett County. Practically every phase of the county's development will be traced and outlined in featured style with many pictures added to the word portrayal.

The editors are particularly anxious to get in the biographical sketches of the old pioneer families and requests have been made for this material. All citizens are being asked to cooperate in this effort to assemble a complete record of the original families and their descendants. Those individuals who have not been approached as yet are urged to communicate with the Stockman editors or to send in the pertinent facts of their family history which they have in their possession.

Indications are that the Historical edition commemorating the 50th Anniversary of Crockett County will exceed the 64 pages first set by the publisher. Merchants and business men of Ozona are taking considerable advertising space in view of the fact that the circulation will be tripled for the special edition in order to meet requirements of present subscribers and others who are interested in obtaining copies.

Future Homemakers Of Ozona High To Attend State Rally

Ozona's Future Homemakers chapter will be represented at the Future Homemakers of Texas rally to be held in San Antonio April 30 through May 3, it was announced this week by Miss Allena Kinney, head of the homemaking department of the local high school.

The following girls, under the direction of Miss Kinney, will leave Wednesday for the rally: Sybil Luther, representing Homemaking III class; Frances Bean, of Homemaking II class; Louise Bean of Homemaking class I, and Norma Lovelace, representing the local club. These girls were selected on the basis of their work for the year and the results of a recent test.

The theme of the rally this year will be "The Voice of American Youth." This will be the first time that Ozona High School students have competed in the state contests for homemaking students. Each contestant will enter two contests. The club has already entered its scrap book, year book and news articles in a contest to be judged during the rally. There are appropriate prizes awarded to the school making the most points at the rally as well as individual awards.

Last year the rally was held in Dallas with approximately 2,345 contestants from all parts of Texas. This year there are expected to be even more entries as a new division has been added for boys who are taking homemaking courses.

Discipleship Is Topic At WMU Meet

"The Challenge of the True Discipleship" was the topic at the meeting of the Baptist W.M.U. Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Claude Hill directed the program which included discussions by Mrs. J. S. Whatley, Mrs. Lowell Littleton, Mrs. John Mitchell and Mrs. J. H. Williams.

Others present were Mrs. R. K. James, Mrs. J. T. Keeton, Mrs. Clyde Childers, Mrs. R. F. Powell, Miss Maybelle Taylor, and Mrs. J. T. Patrick.

The Annie Sallee circle met with Mrs. J. W. Keeton for a Royal Service program. Present were Mrs. Cleophus Cooke, Mrs. Ben Williams, Mrs. Charles Powell, Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, Mrs. Leo Baucom, Mrs. Pink Beal, and Mrs. J. W. Keeton.

Texan Takes Honors In Beery's "Bad Man"

"The Bad Man" coming to the Ozona Theatre next Sunday is a powerfully persuaded Wallace Beery vehicle in which the best performance is given by a Texan called Chill Willis. Mr. Willis plays a cowboy who takes a chattering female off the neck of the hero. This is not a vital function in the plot, but Mr. Willis is still the best actor actor in the cast and that's the kind of picture "The Bad Man" is.

Mr. Beery, for his part, portrays Pancho Villa once more but with more wrinkles and a bigger panza. At the head of a guerrilla force he descends on an Arizona border ranch bent on theft, kidnaping and rape. The ineffectual American who owns the place once befriended him in a Chihuahua crisis. Pancho, now called Lopez, remains only to cut the Gordian knots of American law and morality and makes his gringo friend ver' ap-py.

The heroine is Laraine Day who performs neatly and looks fetching in probably the last capital U-cut dress the Hays office will permit.

Ora Louise Cox Selected For SMU Sophomore Award

Ora Louise Cox of Ozona, sophomore student at Southern Methodist University, has been presented with the Dorothy Amann Award which is given each year to an outstanding sophomore girl selected by the Mortor Board made up of outstanding senior girls.

SCHOOL WORK—

I can not recall the number of times I have heard students say lately that they didn't want to study because they had the spring fever. I cannot even recall the number of times I have said it myself, but I have just realized that it doesn't help matters a bit to grumble. Either the spring fever doesn't effect the teachers as it does the students, or it makes no difference to them how much we have to work, because they haven't let up on the assignments one bit. The past few weeks I have been wondering who has grumbled the more, the students because they have to do, or the teachers, because the students won't work. It seems that the teachers have just discovered that school is nearing the end and that we are only half way through with our books. It being almost imperative that we finish these books, our assignments, in some cases, have just about doubled, regardless of social activities and spring fever. Nevertheless, we who are industrious continue to get our work up, and we who are not industrious continue not to get our work up. It makes no difference, school and work continue just the same. So let's not get too lazy, but really go ahead with our work just the same.

DISSECTION OF A SENIOR

By VIRGINIA HAYS

Seniors are interesting creatures. They are interesting to watch, to study, and to know.

Many times in the past years I have wondered what a Senior felt, what he did, and what he learned while in that honorable grade. Now that I have reached that goal, I am going to attempt to write my reactions.

The most outstanding thing I learned was that Seniors are just regular people. It was like a slap in the face to find that I felt no different when I became a Senior. I still ate three meals every day, still went to school, and still had my likes and dislikes.

One thing I did observe, I decided that we Seniors knew more than anyone else, we were more intelligent. My confidence knew no bounds: it spread until one day my bright balloon of confidence was burst as all balloons are. I found, to my utmost surprise, that my knowledge did not reach as far as it should. I arrived at the conclusion that I was only a small fish in a big pond of fish.

I began to notice other Seniors. One by one their bright balloons of confidence burst. We began to realize that our education concerning this world had just begun. Some of us discovered something that many had learned before our time. School does not teach one everything; the knocks of life must be endured, for they bring one strength.

A Senior's happiest moment occurs when he is marching down the aisle toward his highest reward, graduation. It is a day that all who have graduated will remember. I, for one, hope that I shall reach that goal with the respect and love of my teachers and friends.

New Student For Sophomore Class

The Sophomores have a new member in their class. This new Soph is a girl by the name of Gloria Kimble, age 15. She came to our honored ranks from the Plains of Texas and plans to stay with us awhile. The lucky Sophs seem to have her in their clutches, because of her looks and brains they are very much afraid that they are going to lose her soon. She was born in Floydada, Texas. In her former home, she was president of the Sophomore class while she was there and president of the H. E. Club two years, counting this

Style Show Is Staged By Home Economics Group

The annual style show of the Home Economics Department was held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock under the direction of Miss Allena Kinney, homemaking instructor. The show was entitled "Around the Clock with a High School Girl." The introduction was given by Mary Frances Bean. The seventh grade girls, who had just completed their garments, modeled pajamas and housecoats. The stage was a bedroom scene.

The seventh grade girls taking part were Barbara White, Louise McLaughlin, Nan Tandy, Rosalie Lemmons, Joy Hubbard, Elaine Oathout, Maxine Hankins, Daphne Meniecke, Ruth Townsend, Ada Ballard, Marie Williams, Joyce West, and Charlene Williams.

The Homemaking I Class modeled school dresses. Mary Elizabeth Gray sang "An Apple for the Teacher." Those participating were Melba Cullins, Louise Bean, Alene Cooke, Susie Hokit, Mildred Nethery, Bertie Sue Brownrigg, Mary E. Gray, Billie Laxson, and Lila Lee Cooke.

The second year class modeled tailored clothes. Those modeling were Gem Ella Dudley, Frances Bean, Dorothy Capps, Adele Keeton, Mary Faye Lucas, and Jean Bush. A trombone solo was played by Mr. Cyril Pingelton.

The third year girl models were Claudia Everett, Marjorie Ross, Frances Bean, and Sybil Luther. The Junior Trio sang "Moonlight and Shadows."

HEARD—

Bill and Margaret were doing O.K. on the historical trip Saturday.

Parks are very convenient sometimes, aren't they Eddie and Mildred?

The strains of "Worried Mind" floating across the camping grounds of the Seniors. Some of the Seniors must have drunk too much coffee, for they were having a hard (?) time sleeping.

Quite a few "kids" had a good time Thursday night while their mothers were dancing.

FELT—

Very scared when Wayne pushed Stanley into the tank. These cement tanks are rather rough on the legs, aren't they, Stanley?

A very hard landing when Wayne got thrown off a horse last Friday.

Some Seniors felt very bad on the Senior trip. What was wrong, didn't the tobacco and cigars agree with you?

TASTED—

Some very good food at the Junior and Senior banquet and on the Senior trip.

SEEN—

Lipstick on the sleeve of Boochie's football jacket. Shame on you, Boochie!

Pea Wee's sticking his tongue out at Margaret in study hall. Was it pretty, Margaret?

Jessie and Gloria stepping out together at the dance Wednesday night. Nice going, Jess.

Roy's playing with the younger generation. Don't you know that you should be studying algebra, Roy?

Historical Club Enjoys Trip To Howard's Well

The Historical Club took a trip to Howard's Well Saturday morning to put up a marker. The marker was erected at the spot where the Gonzales massacre occurred. After climbing the hills and looking for Indian arrowheads, the club members went to the spot where the stage drivers used to change horses. Then they went down to the Charlie Coates' ranch, where they were served a very delicious dinner. They returned to Ozona at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Attending were Bill Carson, Wayne West, Lloyd Coates, Bertie Sue Brownrigg, Lila Lee Cooke, Zella Thurman, Mildred Netherly, Billie Laxson, Eddy Cooke, L. B. Cox, Charles McDonald, Mary Faye Lucas, Dorothy Capps, Norma Lovelace, Adele Keeton, Margaret Russell, Mr. Cyril Pingelton, Mr. L. B. T. Sikes, Mr. Dan Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Denham, Mr. and Mrs. Will Baggett, Mrs. B. B. Ingram, Mr. Watt Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coates, and Mr. Ben Robinson.

The Prowler

By Gem Ella Dudley

Three cheers for Bill, who finally decided that all women are, but definitely, not alike.

Leroy, have you found out where Lila lives? Come, Lila, don't keep him in suspense.

My dear Ginny, just what is this I hear about your supposedly pushing George off a cliff? George seems to have pulled through, maybe we'd better ask him.

Wayne, I didn't think rattlesnakes worried you—is it just when they're in caves? Well, at least broncos don't worry, do they? Poor Mrs. Coates, or shall we say poor Boochie! Reason: Carrying for "too" many tired and hungry Historical Club members is quite a job!

Speaking of rattlesnakes, what more proof is needed than the snake's rattler to show that he is dead—but some people!

My, how gossip gets around! Especially when the Freshman girls get together in the same study hall with something to write on.

SPORTS

by Trout

No girls represented Ozona at Ft. Stockton Saturday before last, but "Trout" Armentrout showed his brutish self on the tennis courts until he was "taken under" or "undertaken" by Mentone.

I should not like to argue about the girls not being good enough to represent Ozona, because there are some very good tennis players in our school.

In order for "Trout" to go to Ft. Stockton, he had to win over Basil Dunlap, Tom Ed Montgomery, Donald Wilson, and L. B. Cox.

In Ozona, the girl champions in doubles were Gem Ella Dudley and Virginia Hayes, who won over Joy Coates and Ethel Mayes, Mary Perner and Margaret Russell.

There should be some very good basketball players on next year's squad, as most of the boys have been having some vicious games at noon in the gym.

Football practice has been underway for a few days now after being discontinued for a few weeks due to cold weather. Prospects are "running high and looking good." There are some stewart looking young sprouts from Junior High who look as if they might be "walking dynamite." We sincerely hope so, for I am going to bet on Ozona next Nov. 11, and I want to win. Anyone of you fans interested in football will know what game that is.

FRIENDSHIP—

"Friends loveth at all times," Proverbs.

Yes, this wise old saying from the Bible is very true. True friends are people who need no explanations. You should never have to explain to your friends; they don't need it; your enemies won't believe you anyway. Friendship is the basic principle of all happiness. Friends are people in whom you can confide. Boys and girls (especially girls) will nearly burst if they can't find someone to tell their secrets to. When you know that you have a friend or friends to confide in, it gives you a very contented feeling deep down inside. Many's the time that I nearly burst until I got to my friends to tell them my worries. When I tell my friends my secrets and the way I feel, I have no fear of the news going any farther. Yes, it is true that without friends, life is bare.

Seniors Trek To Pecos River For Annual Outing

On Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, the Seniors left for their annual trip. Approximately 20 people enjoyed the trip to the Pecos River. When the party reached the river, Mr. Caruthers immediately set out to catch frogs. After eating supper, the group put out their lines. Most of the "kids" stayed awake all night, but some of the sleepy-headed Seniors just had to go to bed. While on the trip the Seniors voted "Worried Mind" the most popular song. When dawn broke, the Seniors hopped into their bathing suits and went for a swim. They arrived home at about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Quoting George on the fun they had:

"I don't know about the rest of the kids, but Virginia and I surely did have fun climbing hills."

4TH GRADE NEWS

Tokyo, Japan April 16, 1939

Dear Jack:

I have just had dinner with a Japanese family. Dinner was served in a dining room, and the wall was moved so we could see the garden.

I had to learn to squat on cushions, and it was very hard to fold my legs under me.

I had turtle soup, but there were no spoons. I had to drink it out of my bowl. Then I was given a fine white fish. It was very good.

There were vegetables such as sweet potatoes, ginger root, lily bulbs, and a salad made from seaweed. Finally I was given a big bowl of white rice. There were tea and fruit juice to drink.

Your friend,

Ralph Garden Tokyo, Japan April 17, 1941

Dear Billy Joe:

I like it here. I am in Tokyo, Japan. I took a bath last night. We couldn't get in the tub until we were clean. When we were clean we went to a big tub. When we got in the tub we were clean, so we didn't change the water. The same water is used for all the family. We could not sit down in the tub because it is too deep. I swam awhile. After the bath I went to a room where the maid showed me the dresser. It was so little that it looked like a doll dresser. The bed was a soft pad on the floor.

Your friend,

Sam Perner Tokyo, Japan April 17, 1941

Song and Dance

After dinner the walls of the dining room were moved to make a larger room. Musicians came in with instruments. They sat on the floor and played. One of them sang a long, long song that told the story of Tokyo. The singer's voice was low and husky. A low husky voice is thought beautiful in Japan.

Pointed Quotations To Inspire Classes

The job of putting quotations on the English board every day is "Boochie" Coates'. When he is too busy, it is Byron William's job. The quotations usually selected suit occasion of importance. For instance, on March 21, the first day of spring, the quotation, "Spring, the sweet spring, is the pleasant years king," was used.

Some other popular quotations that have been used are the following:

"It's easy 2 C, but hard 2 4 C."

San Jacinto Day Program Presented By Sixth Graders

On Thursday afternoon, April 17, the Sixth Grade Social Studies class, under the direction of Miss Scott, presented the annual San Jacinto Day program at assembly in the High School Auditorium. Pierce Reese and John Furell were the narrators for the presentation, which had as its theme the heroes of San Jacinto and the pioneer women of Texas.

The following is a copy of the program as it was rendered: A song, "Stay Where You Are" by the entire class; pioneer woman portrayed by Bennie Gail Phillips; a duet, "Little Grey Home in the West," by Miss Ruth Stuart and Miss Lurine Townsend; Azalia Babb as Senora Alvarez; Billy Rose Schwalbe as Mrs. Dickinson; La Vern Tillery as Margaret Lea Houston; a song, "Faith of Our Fathers," Doris Bean as Joanna Troutman; a song, "Texas, Pride of the South," sung by the class; Peggy Jeffreys as Mother Goose; Mother Goose Melodies sung by the class, the Virginia Reel danced by Murgins Davidson, Jo Nell Coose, Myrtastine Hokit, Doris Bean, Buddy Russell, Fred Currie, Charles Snyder, J. W. Terry, Earl Tillery, and Peggy Jeffreys; Patsy Marie McBee; a song, "Mammy," by the class; Jean Hays as the Red Cross Nurse; a solo by Dick McDonald, "I Don't Want to Get Well"; Billie Jo Leatherwood as Grandmother; "Long, Long Ago" by the class; Jo Nell Coose, Myrtastine Hokit, Doris Busby, Mildred Porter, and Lois Nell Williams as modern mothers; a solo, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine" by Mary Elizabeth Gray; a song, "Texas, Our Texas," by the class; and the Pledge to the Texas Flag given by the class.

Riding A School Bus

By VIRGINIA HAYS

Did you ever ride a school bus? If you have, you will understand my writing this dull essay; if you haven't, maybe you will understand after you trudge over the bumpy words of my essay.

Many times I have wondered why school busses were ever invented. It seems to me that the school children who rode horses to school were much more comfortable and happier than the children who ride to school on busses nowadays. I suppose I should not be the judge, for I have never ridden a horse to school.

First, I'll explain the way a person feels when he rides in a school bus. A school bus must be larger than an automobile. It has racks over the seats in which you may place your books, horn, shoes, or whatever you do not wish to carry. If you get up suddenly, more than likely you head will encounter the rack with a somewhat muffled crack. Of course, you're being a lady or a gentleman, you will say nothing aloud, but calmly sit down and twiddle your thumbs. Of course, your head will suffer the consequences and throb like an Indian drum for the rest of the day. A person must bump his head at least once a day, so why not bump it as your morning exercise and get it over with?

If you will just shut your eyes while riding a school bus, you might say that the feeling you receive is much like the one you had when you tried to ride your first horse when he insisted on trotting. You and the bus seat just don't work together. While you are going up, the bus seat is going down. As you meet, the jar is so terrific that you are positive you now have an upside-down stomach. Did you ever try riding over the wheel of the bus? Now, the friends, that reminds you of the first time you were ever thrown off a horse. The seat comes up to meet you. Also you have no place to put your feet. Oh, it is very comfortable, I assure you, if your bodily health can stand the strain, after so long you begin to take the bumps of the school bus just as you have taken the bumps of the horse for so many years.

would never reach the hill-top. "A fast horse can't go fast far."

"Don't hope for the best, but hope for it."

"Manslaughter is a penal offense. Man's laughter isn't penal the same."

"Deliver us from indifference." The chief sources for these quotations are "Brass Tacks," by C. Hunter, and the "Home Book of Quotations," by Stevenson.

Lion's Roar---

Riding A School Bus---

Your bus seat have become acquainted with each other and you have settled down to a quiet friendship, something drops softly from above into your lap or on your head. The natural thing to do would be to look up. As you do so, a book or a shoe will hit you between the eyes. Don't be alarmed. You have no enemies, it is just your things bouncing out of the rack.

The temperature of the bus is never right. It will either be too windy, too stuffy, too cold, or rain is drifting in through a broken window. The windows work like wallflowers, they always stick. They sometimes remind me of your guard, and your fingers are placed in a position to receive the full benefit of the window when it suddenly goes up—to mash your fingers. Again, being a lady or a gentleman, you say nothing aloud, but there is no harm in thinking.

It seems as though you have been doing a hard day's work. You are hungry and tired, cross with everyone, and you think of the history test you are to have that morning. Yes, my dear readers, the day has just begun, but you feel as though a mountain loomed behind you. The hardest part of the morning is over—the riding of the school bus.

The Dissection Of A Teacher's Heart

By HELEN MAYES

Most teachers have no hearts. At least, that is the impression that most teachers leave. When a teacher is placed on the table, and her heart is taken out or dissected, the following results will probably be obtained:

Instead of a heart, in the first place, we find a hard shell. It is a grey, cold-colored shell that is quite hard to penetrate. After this shell is finally broken off, we find a second shell. In this shell, not quite so hard as the first, are found many scribbled notes on books, paper, blotters, etc. This shows that the teacher is absent-minded and must make a hurried note of anything that she must remember.

The third shell, still softer than the second, is the very one that deals so many students misery. We find this shell filled with detentions. A strange thing about these detentions is that they are all for 45 minutes. The teacher's heart that does not have this shell is a very rare heart. We might say that it is "one in a million."

The fourth shell, softer than the third, contains those necessary evils—tests. There are all types of tests: there are hard tests, pop quizzes, daily tests, and sometimes we might even find a short, easy test. Also, in the fourth shell, we find grades. The grades vary considerably, going from excellent to poor.

At last, this operation draws to an end. We have cut through the last shell. In the center, there is a matter that seems almost soft, and we discover that this center is the source of kindness. It is true that we find many peculiar traits, detentions, tests, and grades in the teacher's heart, but it certainly is gratifying to know, after all this, that the teacher does have a soft place in her heart. Usually the students who find this soft spot are those who really study and try to do their best.

Letters of General Sam Houston Added To Texas Library

AUSTIN, Texas. — A large quantity of Texas presidential correspondence — 21 longhand letters written by the famous Sam Houston—has been added to the University of Texas Library.

The collection represents the period of Houston's second term and includes letters to General Zachary Taylor, later U. S. president; Captain Charles Elliot, British charge d'affaires in Texas; and Count de Saligny, French charge.

Among the correspondence is a letter to his "venerated friend," Andrew Jackson; others to Southwest Indian chieftains.

In a communication to his private secretary, W. D. Miller, written shortly after a Mexican army had invaded the Republic and taken San Antonio in 1842, Houston wrote:

"The people of Texas may rest assured that I will never cease to war upon Mexico until Independence is secured, or the nation is conquered... Our cause is holy."

The Houston letters are to be added to the University Library's well-known Archives Collection, which embraces two and a half million documents relating to the history of Texas, the Southwest and the South.

Sixth District Scored At State Music Club Meet

Mrs. Tandy, Dist. President, Reports Interesting Session

Sixth District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, won second place in ranking of districts for federation work done, won a loving cup for retaining the largest number of Junior Clubs and otherwise stood high in ranking among districts of the state at the state Music Clubs convention in Dallas last week. Mrs. H. B. Tandy of Ozona, Sixth District president, reported on her return here Monday night after attending the convention.

Sixth district tied with the third district, Paris, Texas, and surrounding area, in ranking on the score of securing the largest number of music club magazine subscriptions. The district of which Ozona is a part also was recognized as having federated the largest number of senior clubs of any district in the state.

Miss Nancy Dawes, former public school music teacher in the Ozona schools, appeared on Texas composers program Thursday night, Mrs. Tandy reported. Miss Dawes, now teaching public school music in the Dallas schools, played a group of piano numbers by Carl Weismann. W. J. Marsh, state chairman of the Texas Composers Guild, had charge of this feature of the convention. Mr. Marsh is director of the T.C.U. Mixed Chorus which will be heard in concert at the Ozona High School Auditorium Saturday afternoon, May 3.

The T.C.U. Chorus won first place in the choral contests, with the San Angelo Junior College chorus taking second honors.

and women's groups having won first place several years in the contests sponsored annually by the State Federation of Music Clubs.

The chorus makes an annual spring concert tour, which has in the past taken it into all parts of Texas, into several cities in surrounding states, and into New York City for the World's Fair. The group offers a varied program of religious, classical and semi-classical songs, together with a group of popular tunes from the shows. James Moudy of Washington, D. C., will be presented as a special trumpet soloist.

This year's tour of the chorus will open at Wichita Falls and includes appearances at Vernon, Pampa, Amarillo, Tulia, Lubbock, Big Spring, Midland, Pecos, Fort Stockton, Ozona, San Angelo, Abilene and Cisco. Concerts have already been given in Waxahachie, Mineral Wells, Cleburne, Breckenridge and Dallas.

Arrangements for the appearance of the chorus in Ozona were made with Mr. Marsh in Dallas last week by Mrs. H. B. Tandy of Ozona, who was in that city attending the state convention of the Federated Music Clubs of Texas.

There will be no charge for the concert here. A free-will offering will be taken to help defray the traveling expense of the group.

Reliable..... STOCK REMEDIES

Are Your Best Insurance Against Losses

This year ranchmen are going to be called upon for a more vigorous campaign against stock losses from screw worms, stomach worms and other range pests because of the exceptionally mild winter.

Be prepared with true and tested medicines. We are Crockett County Headquarters.
