Jap And Chinese Armies Flee Before Flood Water

Insurgents Push Drive In Spain

Epidemic Of Cholera Becomes Serious In India

Chinese and Japanese armies fled before a Yellow river flood today, medical authorities in India fought one of the worst cholera epidemics of recent years and thousands of hungry, war-impoorished refugees poured down Spain's eastern seaboard ahead of smashing insurgent armies.

Japanese, however, continued their relentless aerial bombardments. Chinese officials at Hongkong said 40 Japanese planes had killed 200 civilians at Changchow, Fukien province, Sunday. Canton also was bombed again today after attacks on Kweilin, capital of Kwangsi province, late yesterday.

Japanese war dispatches said fully 300,000 Chinese civilians had been made homeless and estimated that 150,000 civilians had drowned.

Although some reports were regarded as highly exaggerated, there no longer was doubt that property damage and loss of life would be widespread.

Hundreds of floating corpses were declared to be visible, and Japanese troops were turning from water to life-saving, participating feverishly in building rafts in an effort to save Chinese peasants stranded on high ground and house-tops.

Eerie scenes were pictured as refugees splashed through the water shrieking for aid.

Big Cholera Toll
India's cholera epidemic was said to have taken 12,000 lives in the past seven weeks in the united provinces, an area in the extreme north.

In Spain 15,000 war refugees from Castellon province already had crowded into Valencia, bringing tragic stories of air attacks as they fled along highways ahead of advancing insurgent troops. Whole families were reported wiped out by bombs and machine guns as they sought safety.

While the insurgents pushed government militiamen south of the Mijares river, below Castellon de La Plana on the eastern coast, another insurgent army made a surprise attack on the Cordoba front in southern Spain.

Insurgent dispatches said government resistance virtually had collapsed on both fronts.

Lindbergh Is Threatened

ST. BRIEUC, France, June 15 (AP)—Because of threatening letters to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh from the United States, French police today guarded a 20-mile stretch of the twisting Brittany coast of Northern France to safeguard the famous flier.

Police said Lindbergh had received letters from persons believing Bruno Hauptmann innocent of the killing of Lindbergh's first son March 1, 1932, and holding the flier partly responsible for Hauptmann's execution April 3, 1936.

REFUSE CLEMENCY
AUSTIN, June 15 (AP)—The state pardon board today unanimously refused to recommend clemency for Mark Henry Calhoun of Dallas county and Tommie Wells, a transient, negroes sentenced to die in the electric chair early Friday for rape.

Calhoun, 18, was convicted in Dallas county for raping a 12-year-old white girl in October, 1937, and Wells, 23, was convicted in Bowie county for the same offense on a young married white woman.

Hague Denies Dictatorship

Jersey City Mayor Is Questioned In Federal Court

NEWARK, N. J., June 15 (AP)—Mayor Frank Hague, asked in federal court today if his "word is effectively the law" in Jersey City, pointed to his quarter-century domination of the local government and said: "My judgment would be ascertained in all questions."

Hague, defending himself against CIO-ACLU charges that he suppressed free speech and assembly in New Jersey's second largest city, was asked about the "I am the law" quotation which he denies he made as a claim to local dictatorship.

"As head of the government 25 years," the vice chairman of the national democratic committee slowly responded, "associated with and head of it, naturally every one feels they would confer with me, and that my judgment would be ascertained in all questions, because I am the oldest man today in actual service in the government of Jersey City, and practically in the government of the county, and it is only natural that everyone seeks my advice and judgment."

Hague said that "under present conditions," Jersey City would deny a public speaking permit to the CIO if application were made by John L. Lewis, its national chairman. He previously had said that Lewis, lone among the CIO leaders, was not a communist.

Victims Of Storm Show Improvement

D. J. Wheeler, who sustained a broken left leg in the storm that demolished the house of his brother, northwest of Big Spring Saturday night, was discharged from the Big Spring hospital Wednesday afternoon. He returned to his home near Coahoma.

Wheeler had been at the home of his brother for a week helping to plant crops.

Other members of the family, including Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Wheeler and daughter, Roberta, 13, and Dora Lee, 10, were improving late Wednesday. Roberta, who sustained a fractured skull and other injuries, remained unconscious, but her condition was thought improved. It was reported.

Judge Defers Sentencing Of McCall

Kidnaper Found Guilty, Tells How Cash Child Killed

MIAMI, Fla., June 15 (AP)—Franklin Pierce McCall, 21, was found guilty of kidnaping James Bailey Cash, Jr., today by Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson, who said he would impose sentence tomorrow morning.

Examine Record
Judge Atkinson, who could sentence the truck driver to a rising electric chair for the $10,000 ransom kidnaping, said relatives of McCall had sent a lawyer here who wanted to examine the record.

Therefore he deferred sentencing although the defense closed its case with testimony of McCall himself, who detailed his actions in the abduction and concluded with the plea:

"It was the first time I was ever involved in anything like this. No one else ever had money tempt them that much."

Tells Story
He took the stand after the state completed its case and detailed his abduction of the five-year-old lad from his bed but insisted he did not mean to cause his death.

"I placed two large, white, clean handkerchiefs over his face," McCall related. "I went out the back door. He appeared to be sleeping. I carried him in both arms and held the handkerchiefs over his mouth and I guess over his nose but I didn't know it. I walked home."

"It was dark, and when I got home I put Steege on the bed and shook him and called his name but got no answer.

"I was afraid and tried artificial respiration to try and wake him up. I got cold water from the ice box and bathed his face but he didn't wake up.

"I knew he was dead. He didn't struggle or move. I saw he was dead and didn't know what to do. I picked him up and started out the back door. I didn't have any particular place in mind and went through the woods back of the house to the place where the body was found and placed it there."

"Then I went home and got the ransom note."

Cash, Senior, and federal agents detailed their story of the crime while Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson listened intently, preliminary to deciding upon the sentence.

McCall, 21-year-old truck driver and minister's son, who pleaded guilty to the ransom kidnaping charge but innocent to a murder indictment, hung his head and held a handkerchief to his eyes as the hearing proceeded.

Every precaution was taken for the prisoner's protection as he was brought to trial.

MRS. PHILLIPS IN QUALIFYING ROUND

AMARILLO, June 15 (AP)—Mrs. R. E. Winger of Fort Worth, defending champion of the women's West Texas golf tournament appeared likely medalist on the basis of early first round scores posted this afternoon.

With the bulk of the field yet to come in, Winger paired a 39 and a 40 to lead early players with a 79 for the first 18 holes.

Mrs. Gordon Phillips of Big Spring playing with Mrs. Winger, shot a 91.

Charges Filed

RICHMOND, June 15 (AP)—County Attorney George Roan said today a charge of aiding prisoners to escape was filed against Lucille Hughes, 17, of Altus, Okla., who is held in the county jail here.

The charge grew out of the escape of a McCoy, James Smith and Claude Jett, from the Harless Prison farm Monday in a car driven by a girl. The three convicts and the girl were captured near Gonzales yesterday.

BEGINS WORK ON CASH KIDNAPING

A special grand jury is shown in session in Miami, Fla., to consider the kidnaping of James Bailey Cash, Jr., to which authorities said Franklin Pierce McCall had confessed. Arthur A. Unger, jury foreman, is standing.

War Declared On Traffic Deaths As State Safety Parley Convenes

FORT WORTH, June 15 (AP)—More than a thousand safety-conscious Texans, alarmed at a rising toll of traffic deaths, today heard Governor James V. Allred call their convention the declaration of "a real war against unnecessary automobile deaths."

Allred, whose statewide traffic safety committee sponsored the convention—the first of its kind held in Texas—expressed hope the next legislature would enact "an effective drivers' license law."

Formation of a permanent safety league and establishment of the convention as an annual rally of forces against traffic deaths were expected to be outstanding developments of the meeting today. Beaumont, Waco, and Houston were already drumming for the next convention and several other cities were expected to extend invitations.

Fort Worth was alive with visiting traffic policemen on motorcycles as cities in all sections of the state sent delegations of officers and municipal authorities. A parade at noon, headed by a Beaumont float, was scheduled to follow the morning session.

Resolutions looking to the formation of a safety league and calling for revision of the state highway laws were expected to be acted upon this afternoon.

Proponents of changes in the laws will seek to have the highway speed limit raised from 45 miles to 60 miles an hour, with speed zones in cities of 20 and 30 miles. They also will seek changes in the license law to permit the department of public safety to revoke or suspend licenses upon holding hearings, and less severe punishment for drunk drivers, by changing the offense from a felony to a misdemeanor and placing jurisdiction in county courts.

Proponents of the change claim it would make a more practical law.

Pleas for safety also were made by Harry Hines, member of the state highway commission, W. H. Richardson Jr., chairman of the public safety commission and H. C. Keen, chairman of the Beaumont Safety League. Keen described how Beaumont won the 1937 award of the national safety council for cities in its population group.

Lee O'Daniels Is Delayed

To Arrive At 5 P. M.; Hundreds Come To Hear Speaker

Several hundred people, many of whom had hidden miles, were waiting patiently on the courthouse lawn here Wednesday afternoon to hear W. Lee O'Daniels, Fort Worth, gubernatorial candidate.

O'Daniels advised from San Angelo that he had suffered car trouble and would not arrive here until around 5 p. m.

He was scheduled to appear here during the noon hour. Long before he was originally due to arrive, scores of people began to flock to the lawn to hear the "hill billy" candidate.

O'Daniels, opening his campaign for governor, spoke to a record crowd at Waco Tuesday evening, according to press accounts. He is stumping West Texas this week.

Army Aids In Search For Wandering Youth

PINE RIVER, Minn., June 15 (AP)—Army officers took command of the search for four-year-old Richard Harley Ware today, after three days and four nights of fruitless hunting by volunteers and CCC workers.

Army field kitchens were rolled in to feed the hundreds of searchers beating their way through tangled brush and wiry swamp grass in the seven-mile square bog into which the barefoot lad disappeared Saturday when he wandered away from his father's pasture.

Bloodhounds were brought in to aid the posser.

BRIDGE FROM SHIN BONES NOW STOPS THE BACKACHE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15 (AP)—Surgery that takes shinbones and makes it into a new backbone to stop backaches was reported to the American Medical association here today.

The surgery is something new in bone grafting developed at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn. It takes spints of a person's shin bones and uses them to lay a bridge six inches long lengthwise of the aching part of his back.

The bridge is two strips of shin, parallel, like the string pieces of an engineering bridge. Chips of bone dropped upon the vertebrae alongside these "bridge bones" serve as "cement."

OIL COMPANIES MAKE APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT OF MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, June 15 (AP)—Seventeen American and British oil companies today took to the supreme court their fight against Mexico's expropriation of properties they valued at $400,000,000.

They appealed from District Judge Manuel Bartlett's decision June 7 refusing them an injunction against President Lázaro Cárdenas' decree of March 18 taking over the oil properties.

The appeal argued article 27 of the constitution, permits expropriation only of lands and waters.

Ordinance Is Discussed

Commission Passes New Livestock Order To Second Reading

City commissioners, acting after many protests and following a long investigation, Tuesday evening passed to second reading an ordinance which would restrict the keeping of livestock within the city limits.

While the proposed order would not ban livestock from the city limits, it would prohibit the keeping of horses, cows, mules, donkeys, sheep and goats within a pen which is located less than 150 feet to the nearest residence.

Any such pens not within the prohibited distance would be allowed only if they were kept in a sanitary condition.

An opportunity will be given for all objecting parties to appear before the commission and be heard either on June 28 or July 12 when the ordinance will be up for second and third readings.

The commission also extended the lease of the American Airlines at the municipal port for 60 days pending arrival of a company vice-president here to discuss a new lease. The lease normally expires July 1.

WYOMING WOMAN KILLED NEAR WICHITA FALLS

WICHITA FALLS, June 15 (AP)—Mrs. R. H. Sanders, wife of a doctor at Rock Springs, Wyo., died shortly before 11 o'clock this morning, two hours after her sedan collided with a gasoline truck on State Highway 5 at the west edge of the city.

Her daughter, Margaret, about 20, and Vernon Craighead of Electra, driver of the truck, suffered minor injuries.

Mexicans Hike Freight Rate

Workers Effect Boost Despite Order By Federal Agency

MEXICO CITY, June 15 (AP)—The Mexican National Railway, which the government gave to its 48,000 workers six weeks ago, today boosted freight rates over government objections.

In defiance of an order yesterday by the federal communication department's rate commission against the new schedules, freight charges were increased five, 10 and 20 per cent on foodstuffs, raw materials for industry and other necessities.

Salvador J. Romero, ex-office boy and now general manager, has insisted the 8,526-mile system's freight rates must be increased if it was to be operated on an "economic basis."

In line with that policy, he declared, notice has been served on the mining industry, Mexico's largest, that its freight rates would be increased an average of 43 per cent this month. Spokesmen for mining interests declared the boosts would be "ruinous."

Although a business recession induced by the government's expropriation of the $400,000,000 foreign oil industry and a loss of tourist traffic during the Cedillo revolt hurt the railroads during the first 45 days of their worker-ownor operation, management spokesmen were optimistic.

Shipping Magnate Unreconciled On Family Marriage

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Commodore Edgar F. Luckenbach, multi-millionaire shipping magnate, still was unreconciled today to the marriage of his daughter, Andrea, 18, to a 22-year-old butter-end-egg salesman.

But serenely oblivious to parental wrath, "Bubbles" Luckenbach and her bridegroom of a day, William Dobbie, sailed the waters of Long Island Sound in a yacht borrowed from the bride's half-brother for a three-day honeymoon.

Commodore Luckenbach objected to the marriage, he told friends, because he thought his daughter, who will inherit $1,000,000 in three years, was "too young."

The couple was married late yesterday by the Rev. Dr. Richard Hagarthy, Methodist Episcopal minister of Manhattan, N. Y.

CHILD DIES

Filibuster Is Threatened In Senate

Bloc Talks Against Measure On Flood Control

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The senate approved a compromise flood control bill today, clearing away one major obstacle to adjournment tonight.

The action, which sent the bill to the White House, followed a lengthy round of debate that leaders had feared might become a full-fledged filibuster.

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—An administration drive for adjournment of congress tonight bogged down this afternoon in senate oratory over extension of federal flood control powers.

Object to Land Title
A bloc led by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) and including Senators Burke (D-Neb.), Davis (R-Pa.), Lodge (R-Mass.) and King (D-Utah) held the floor to demand modification of a pending $375,000,000 flood control bill.

Final action on that measure and on the administration's spending-lending and deficiency appropriation bills could not be reached until they finished talking.

Their chief objection was to a provision giving the federal government full title to lands involved in construction of reservoirs and dams. The contention was that this would be a violation of the rights of affected states.

Some informed senators said that despite the continued oratory there was a good chance of meeting the adjournment deadline.

Most major provisions of the relief bill were approved last night, but senate and house differences over distributing $212,000,000 of farm benefit payments were still in controversy.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.), author of the benefit plan, discussed the controversy with President Roosevelt, and reported afterward he thought a compromise could be reached promptly.

O'Mahoney said he was "not concerned with a filibuster" against the bill but asserted he did not know how long the speech-making might continue.

Before encountering the flood control deadlock, the senate approved most provisions of the relief bill which would cut cotton's share to about $83,000,000 and would substantially increase the sum going to corn growers.

The two chambers spent most of last evening approving or rejecting piles of run-of-the-mine legislation. Galleries were crowded, and spectators lined up in corridors in a vain effort to gain admittance.

WAGE-HOUR MEASURE SENT TO PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—Only President Roosevelt's signature was needed today to start an unprecedented federal program for nationwide regulation of industrial working hours and minimum pay.

Congress approved compromise legislation late yesterday after senate debate that left little doubt the law soon will encounter a constitutional test in the courts.

The act is calculated to fix the minimum pay and maximum hours of 760,000 industrial workers, as well as the hours of another 1,500,000 unaffected by the wage provisions. It will go into effect 120 days after being signed by the president.

The act establishes a maximum work week of 44 hours for the first year, 42 for the second and 40 thereafter, with time and a half pay for overtime. Workers in seasonal industries, which do not operate more than 14 weeks a year, may be employed for 56 hours a week before being paid overtime.

Says Soviets Being Led To Socialism

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The federal bureau of mines said today communistic control of industry and labor in Russia was insubordinating living standards and leading toward state socialism.

These observations were made in a report on Soviet production of minerals, which the bureau said was so unsatisfactory as to have a "sobering" effect on the Moscow government. The whole 1938 industrial plan, it added, was drawn up on a comparatively modest scale as a result.

READING AND WRITING

"THE GREAT AMERICAN NOVEL," by Clyde Brison Davis; (Farrar & Rinehart; $2.50).

Clyde Brison Davis, whose "The Anointed" introduced him brilliantly to the world, is still battling 1000. The tempo of "The Great American Novel" is slower, but the book is quite as effective as its predecessor, and that's intended as a high compliment.

The new book is a sort of American "Little Man What Now?" in spite of the fact that the writing and the atmosphere are both very different. It is the story of a little man who wanted very much to write, and who thought (as many of us have!) that the newspaper game was good preparation. But this is no study of an author such as our British friends write so often and so futilely. It is the study of a common man, in terms of life, not of type.

Homer Zigler began in Buffalo. He thought he would marry a girl named Frances Harbach, and then wrote the great American novel. But things were not so simple. Frances was not, he thought, true to him. He fled Buffalo; got a job in Cleveland. After Cleveland came Kansas City, and a disaster. It was there that Homer met Pearl, and was pulled into a marriage that remained always a millstone.

San Francisco and better jobs came next; finally Denver and the depths as well. For it was in Denver that Homer suddenly found his age had caught him up.

The story is set against a moving background, a sort of world panorama. Homer is a speck in the picture, but even so Homer grows a little. It is a long time before he touches the edge of cynicism, which is presumably the distinguishing mark of the newspaper man. He tries and respects his work, and time after time he almost escapes the hopeless treadmill of his family life. But never quite—and of course he never writes the Great American Novel, although there are moments when the reader feels that perhaps Homer senses the fact that he himself is material for the billing.

This is a great story-telling on Mr. Davis' part, flawed for this reader by only one thing, which is the emphasis the author puts on Homer's dreams of his lost Frances, dreams, which accompany him through life, and which betray him as life itself did.

Trade In Air?

A trade has been in the air for some time between the Hubbers and Manager Charles Barnabe. Nothing has passed between Business Manager Harry Faulner and the Baron leader yet.

The catcher who is due to come out of Oklahoma City and relieve Al Berndt of some of the harness duty appears to be great shakes as a mittman.

At Sweet, the hard hitting outfielder who spent one day in the Big Springers' lineup, helping to defeat Hobbs, has just about recovered from the minor operation performed on him 48 hours after he arrived here.

Back into training the local amateur boxing team has gone. The last of the prep work, themselves for another invasion of San Angelo a week from Friday night and a possible July Fourth show here.

Aggie Beaten

Doug Jones, who has received prizes in four of the five golf tournaments in which he has entered this season, ousted Texas A. and M.'s masher welder in the finals of the Clisco Invitational last week.

Speaking of golf, Tex Mann, who returned home from the National Open meeting at Denver Monday, will strike out for the St. Paul Open at the end of the month.

Students, ex-students and prospective in-mates of Texas A. and M. are the invited guests of an Aggie reunion which will show motion picture scenes from several of the Farmers' football games last fall.

Terry Cracks At Dodgers Again

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Bill Terry, the New York Giants' manager who once got himself into a peck of trouble by asking "is Brooklyn still in the league?" apparently hasn't been cured of the habit of wise-cracking about the Dodgers.

THE BARONS LOSE TRIN BILL, RETURN HOME THURSDAY

Locals Ouhit Opposition In First Game

Late rallies in each game failed to reward the Big Spring Barons with victories in Lubbock Tuesday as the league leading Hubbers swept a twin bill from the charges of Charles Barnabe. The Barons, however, retained a tie for second place.

Frankie Grabet was shaky on the hill for the Hubbers but he managed to ride out the storm. He gave up five runs in the final two innings but the Lubbockites' early rallies proved good enough to retain the lead.

The Big Springers collected 17 base hits in that game and returned with 12 in the seven inning nightcap. A six-run uprising in the last frame tied the score but the leaders came right back with a run to win the ball game.

Other games in the WT-NM loop saw Midland and Wink split a double header in Wink and Hobbs lose a slugfest to Clovis in Clovis. The Spudders with Lucas up, tamed the Cardinals in the opener, 5-1, while the Red Birds came right back with a 9-4 win in the afternoon, a game which saw Wesley Rau, former Big Spring pitcher, make his Wink debut.

Voting Starts For TL Game Of Stars

North, South To Meet In Oklahoma City July 23

DALLAS, June 15 (AP)—Fans start casting votes today for northern and southern division all-star teams to meet at Oklahoma City on July 23 in the Texas league's Golden Jubilee anniversary "dream game."

Third of the league's annual all-star game, patterned after the major league's classic, the game is "property" of the fans. Votes will be accepted through June 30.

Fans may vote for a manager, six pitchers, two catchers, infield positions, outfield positions and a utility infielder and outfielder. To eliminate the hazard of home town fans "packing" the ballot box, an incident that gummed matters last year, league officials have ruled that only five players from one team may be named on a single ballot.

Utility players must be utility players only. A regular cannot be named to a utility post. However, regulars can be named to any position desired.

Ballots will be counted from cities outside the league, but fans can vote on one section only. Southern division eligible towns include San Antonio, Beaumont, Houston and Shreveport, while Dallas, Fort Worth, Tulsa and Oklahoma City make up the northern section.

IMPROVED FIGHTER POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 15 (AP)—You have Gene Tunney's word that Joe Louis is an improved fighter over the man who lost to Max Schmeling two years ago.

UNDERDOGS WIN DUELS AT BSAC

Springing from an apparent fear like a panther with aching claws, Soldier Thomas qualified himself for a main event with Andy Tremaine by trouncing Dilly Davis in the main event of the BSAC's three bout wrestling program Tuesday evening.

The ex-infantryman looked the very fine example of what a sly, happy pug who is being held up by an opponent would be until the time he figured he had stood enough of the ruffian ethics of the Houstonian, then executed a flying tackle across the ring that was too perfect. It caught both the referee and the opponent and put each down for the count.

Soldier had received credit for honors in the first fall when Dilly was disqualified and Davis had returned to even matters with a series of arm locks.

Gust Johnson surprised by holding Tremaine to a deadlock over the 30-minute semifinal route while the Blacksmith Fedigo whirled Don Hill to defeat in the first event.

When the smoke of battle had cleared on the Muni softball diamond Tuesday evening Lone Star Chevrolet company's aggregation and the Davidson Dairy men were still tied for the runner up spot in the industrial league.

Lone Star triumphed over West Side, 2-2, while the Milkmen had little trouble in outscoring the T&P Clerks, 12-5.

A run by Gray in the fourth frame of the Lone Star-West Side game sewed up the game for the Garage-men after the West Siders had come from behind to tie the count in the third.

Eight runs in the fifth inning of the second affair clinched matters for the Davidson team.

STARS CLASH IN Fem's Western Berg Opposes Mrs. Newbold; Babe Meets Salt Lake Girl

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 15 (AP)—This is only the second round of the women's western open golf tournament, but there were matches on the bracket today worthy of the championship duel in any feminine tournament.

Defending Champion Helen Hicks Herb of Little Rock, Ark., went up against pretty Beatrice Barrett, 1937 runnerup from Minneapolis.

Another star attraction was the battle of sturdy little Patty Berg, medalist, and Mrs. Charles Newbold, comely veteran from Wichita, Kas.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City's two-time former western open champion, faced what may be a tough opponent in Mrs. E. R. Hurry, slim San Antonio, Tex., entrant.

Babe Dirlikow, who issued a smiling warning to her rivals that "I'm hitting my drives again," tangled with Betty Botterill of Salt Lake City.

Texas Babe, a professional from Beaumont, was second to Miss Barrett in scoring yesterday. The former Olympics heroine finished under par in stopping Mrs. Frederick B. Shaw of Denver, 7 and 5.

GULDAHL IS STROKE IN LEAD

Texan Ranked As Favorite In Western

ST. LOUIS, June 15 (AP)—The gallery started out behind champion Ralph Gulda in the first round, and making it unanimous, the remainder of the field started out behind him today as the 36th annual Western Open golf tournament entered its second 18 holes.

The big, stooped Texan, who last week won his second consecutive National Open title, opened the second round of his four-round bid for a third straight Western Open championship with a one-stroke lead on the field by virtue of his wake, and Jimmy Hines of New York and Leland Gilson of Kansas City were in the 73 bracket.

The long, well-trapped course with its deceitful greens offered anything but a joy ride for most of the approximate 120 entrants, whose scores ranged upward into the mid 90s.

Joe Louis Not Expected To Fight Same Style; Is Smarter, Bolder

Wants German To Stand Up And Do Battle; Maxie Appears Willing

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—If you can take sleepy-eyed Joe Louis at his word—and Joe never was a fellow to talk just to hear his head rattle—the fight at Yankee Stadium a week from tonight may be a brannigan case as hasn't been since Jack Dempsey and Luis Firpo used everything except poison gas on each other back in the colonial twenties.

The one little doubt about the impending duello has been the possibility that Louis would be gushy and would try to play it cute, staying back of his left jab in 15 tedious rounds while Max Schmeling swore in German and waited in vain for a crack at the plant Louis jaw.

That could be a terrible thing to watch, worse than the Louis-Tommy Farr affair, where the champion pursued the hunt-and-peck method to a successful conclusion.

Happily now, all such doubts of the approaching 19th battle of the century have been erased. It seems safe to pay $30 for a ringside chair, even though it might be out in the far territory roamed so long by the immortal Babe Ruth.

Louis has expressed the hope that Schmeling will "stand up and fight." If Schmeling will, Joe promises to dispose of him in not more than four rounds. Boyoboy! Stand back and quit getting in the way of the rescue squads.

A guy as filled with zeal and patriotic fervor as is Max Schmeling will fight anything. He is a crusader with an almost fanatical gleam in his eyes. The one thing he has dreamed of for two years is another chance to hit Joe Louis. Joe need not worry about Max's willingness to whale it out.

Not that Schmeling will do anything foolish. If Louis means he wants the challenger to come out swinging, he will be disappointed. Max simply doesn't fight that way.

UT Swim Coach Ex-Michigan Flash

Robertson Was Member Of 1932 US Olympic Team

The University of Texas swimming team, which will appear at the municipal natatorium Monday, June 20, in their second annual swimming and diving show, has jumped from an insignificant position among the hundreds of swimming teams in this country to a coveted place in the first three.

This rapid ascent has been accomplished in five short years. Tex Robertson has been coach.

Bob Traleton Backstroke Star

Tex, an All-American when he attended Michigan University, hails from Sweetwater. He was a member of the 1932 American Olympic team. Since he became tank coach at UT he has gathered and improved enough aquatic talent to make the long-looked-forward-to championship of 1940 seem highly possible for Texas.

Boasting some of the nationally famous stars that will make their appearance at the National AAU meet in Louisville, Ky., next month, Robertson brings back many of the stars that were seen in action here last year plus some newcomers who are sure to make history within the near future.

Trojans Smash Loop Leaders

The Marshall Tigers retained their two and one-half game lead in the East Texas league race today but they had the Jacksonville Jax to thank for it.

The Tigers lost to Longview, 9-3, while the Texarkana Liners failed to improve themselves in second place by falling before the Jax, 14-1.

Kilgore downed Tyler, pushing over five runs on a like number of hits in the fourth while Fred Isert scattered nine Tyler blows.

Henderson and Palestine divided a doubleheader, the Pals winning the first, 4-3, and Henderson taking the second, 15-12. The first tilt went 12 innings.

Tyler announced the appointment of a new manager, William Rollins, former major leaguer, who succeeded Fred Browning. Rollings started this season as skipper of the Dayton, Ohio, club in the Mid-Atlantic league.

Ships, Oilers Square Again

Two Teams Meet For Texas League Lead Tonight

Beaumont and Tulsa clash at Tulsa tonight in a battle for the Texas league lead.

The Exporters, who trimmed the Oilers Monday night to gain a two-game margin, couldn't stand prosperity and Tulsa came back to square the series last night, beating the Shippers, 5-2.

If Tulsa can win tonight the Oilers will take the lead by two percentage points.

Last night's game was a battle of basehits with Beaumont getting 13 and Tulsa 11.

Oklahoma City ended a four-game losing streak by beating San Antonio, 1-0, behind the three-hit pitching of Clay Touchstone who bested Harry Kimberlin in a sizzling pitcher's duel.

The Fort Worth Cats edged out the Houston Buffs, 9 to 8, in 10 innings with Joe Mowry coming through with the telling blow.

More than 19,000 fans saw Shreveport beat Dallas, 10-6. It was men's night with the crowd made up of about 90 per cent of those who didn't have to pay. Shreveport bounced 16 hits off three Dallas pitchers to give the Herd its second straight set-back.

Steele Wins In Krieger Fight

SEATTLE, June 15 (AP)—Middleweight Champion Freddie Steele admitted through puffed lips today that this fight business "is a tough racket and I'd like to forget it all."

But he won't. The cause of Steele's outlook on the prize ring was Bolly Krieger, New York Jewish boy who dropped a 10-round non-title decision to the champion by a narrow margin last night.

Just before the final gong Krieger rocked Steele with a wild right flush on the jaw. "Boy, that punch was a honey," said Steele.

Outpunching Krieger 20 to 1 with sharpshooting lefts that closed the New Yorker's left eye and crimsoned his face, Steele walked away with the first five rounds and the ninth.

Steele weighed 161 pounds, Krieger 164.

Installation Of Arcs Possibility If Attendance Increases

The battle's Barons will go their supreme test as a local institution tomorrow afternoon when they return to town to oppose the Hobbs Boosters in the first of a three game series.

The test, however, will be at the gate and not from the opposition that the New Mexican have to offer. President Jack Hutcherson of the local club has promised that the WT-NM league clubs would remain here if fans showed enough interest to begin negotiations for lights for night play.

So fans must come out in numbers to show their appreciation of the unit here if they want baseball guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

The Barons will be at home for five days, meeting Hobbs Thursday, Friday and Saturday and opposing the Clovis Pioneers in a twin bill Sunday and in a single game Monday.

The Thursday and Friday battles will begin at 4:30 o'clock, the Saturday battle at 4, the Sunday game at 3 while starting time for the Monday duel will revert back to 4:30.

Says ICC Rule Needs Changing

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—H. H. Meyer of the interstate commerce commission predicted today the United States probably faces the greatest railroad salvaging operations in history unless there are basic changes in the carriers' status.

The commissioner expressed his view in dissenting from an ICC decision denying the Associated Railways company permission to acquire and dismember the bankrupt Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad.

Adverse action on the application, Meyer contended, "avoids certain present losses, but it makes certain greater losses in the future."

He said the decision compelled the M. & St. L. to make a "prompt choice" between foreclosure sale or reorganization.

Meyer asserted that "a railroad which is not given enough traffic to live must be abandoned. x x x It is only by authorizing abandonments where public gains outweigh private losses that the most essential railroad mileage of the country can be preserved."

APPEALS TO FDR

Mrs. Claire Burkitt (above), wife of Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, appealed to President Roosevelt to intervene and said she had been told the case was turned over to the department of justice. Her husband was sentenced to six months in prison for attempting to make a speech without a permit.

Women's Fashion Turn To Neptune

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—Women this summer have taken a tip from fishermen to catch their fish-er-mann.

Gaily colored be-feathered fish hooks and trout flies were noted today among the new decorative details for the lapsels of tailored suits and sport coats.

And it looks like the lady of fashion will "shell out" for shells this season. Necklaces, bracelets, rings, even hat-pins, have been fashioned of seashells.

Dainty flat fan-shaped shells about the size of a half-dollar in natural finish or dyed pastel tints, and highly polished, were attached in a series to a chain to make an interesting novel necklace.

A solitary well-formed and highly polished shell of the same type was used as a pendant on a chain finished in gold. Assorted small seashells were strung into a rope-like necklace with bracelet to match.

FAVORS FEDERAL NEWSPAPERS IN LARGE CENTERS

TORONTO, June 15 (AP)—Establishment of newspapers by the government in large centers where control of existing papers is in the hands of single interests is favored by Heywood Brown, president of the American Newspaper Guild.

Speaking at a meeting in connection with the Guild's fifth annual convention last night, Brown said he favored a government press not for competitive reasons but "to bring out all shades of thought."

"Integrity of the news is more important than any 'freedom of the press' catchword," he said.

"We live by what we read. If we can't get fair and accurate reports, we are blinded. We need a large number of papers to have real freedom of the press."

Brown also recommended an international organization of newspaper writers to work for world peace.

Blaming war on pre-war propaganda, he urged "effective collaboration of working groups all around the world" to prevent war.

Brown deplored excessive syndication in the newspaper field as tending to make newspapers all of one pattern, and said the eventual goal was the vertical union in the industry, linking editorial and business office workers with those in mechanical departments.

The Guild favors more money and security for newspaper workers, he said, and at the same time more competence.

Women Of Congress Win Legislative Laurels

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—A small band of women won new legislative laurels for their sex in the seventy-fifth congress closes tonight.

Rep. Mary T. Norton (D-N.J.), dramatically fighting for the wage-hour bill, became the first woman to pilot a major administrative measure through the house.

Mrs. Hattie Caraway (D-Ark), lone woman senator for most of the time since she was appointed in 1931, abandoned her silence on the floor and took an active part in debate.

Affable Dixie Bibb Graves stayed in the senate only four and a half months, by appointment of her Alabama governor-husband, but received praise from many colleagues for her speech against the anti-lynching bill.

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass) successfully sponsored legislation to have April set aside as cancer control month.

Rep. Caroline O'Day (D-N.Y.) helped fight a winning battle against changing child labor provisions in the wage-hour bill, and Rep. Virginia Jenckes (D-Ind) was active in excluding the canning industry from the same measure.

Rep. Nan Honeyman (D-Ore) stayed in the capitol to support farm and wage-hour legislation while her constituents renominated her.

The six women like their jobs so well that all are seeking another term.

'Hopper Fumigant Test Successful

DENVER, June 15 (AP)—A Honolulu entomologist perked the interest of grasshopper-burdened farmers today with a low-cost methyl bromide fumigant which he said has obtained a 100 per cent kill on all pests tested.

L. A. Whitney, associate plant inspector of the Hawaiian Islands, told a meeting here yesterday "I don't see why it shouldn't kill grasshoppers."

He spoke at a conference of the Western Plant Quarantine board.

Whitney said the cost to fumigate a 3,000 cubic foot atmospheric vault was only $5.25.

Experiments proved, he said, that the formula is not so effective on plants with a high oil content. It has been used in Hawaii to kill the dread Mediterranean fruit fly, he said.

Auto Mishap Unit Formed In Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15 (AP)—A new medical organization was to deal with the terrific toll of auto and machine accidents was formed here today under the name of the American Association for Traumatic Surgery.

Traffic injuries were asserted to be as grave as those of the battlefield and to offer an opportunity to save many lives by building up techniques to treat victims within the first hour after injury.

The new organization includes general surgeons expert on broken bones, and abdominal, blood vessel, nerve, joint and head injuries.

The council includes Charles C. Green, Houston, surgeon Southern Pacific Railway, Texas and Louis-

Washington Daybook By Preston Grover WASHINGTON—There is almost a bounty these days on hale and hearty Civil war veterans. It all comes of the offer of the government to pay all expenses of a veteran and his attendant on a trip to Gettysburg for the 75th anniversary observance of the battle that marked a turn in the tide of the Civil war. Congress appropriated $900,000 for the affair, most of it for expense of veterans. War department, however, have visions of nephews and cousins agitating Uncle Willie to desert from his front porch rocking chair to take a train for Gettysburg. It is easy to understand that nephews and close friends of eligible veterans are as eager or more eager to make the trip than are the men who fought the great fight so many years ago. The average age of Civil war veterans is 94 but the average age of people who would like a free trip to Gettysburg is much less. Credentials, Please Many prospective attendants have written the war department asking how to go about fitting out Uncle Willie for the trip and how also to get a ticket to go with him. The war department is quite blasé about it. If Uncle Willie fought on either the Union or Confederate side for even a day, a ticket and expense money will be sent him and his attendant. But it is up to Uncle Willie to send in his credentials, or have it done for him. Also he is the one to say whether Cousin Arabella or a neighboring blacksmith will be his attendant. The war department estimates 10,000 Confederate and Union soldiers are still living and of these, 2,500 to 5,000 are expected to reach Gettysburg by June 29 for the six-day observance of the famous battle.

Man About Manhattan by GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—I always wanted to be a drummer boy—but not any more. I found out from Charlie Carroll, Al Donahue's drummer boy. The first man in the band to arrive and the last to leave is the drummer. If he has all the instruments he must have to be a good drummer, it takes a ten-ton truck to move him. And his instrumental overhead would make a violinist with a brace of Strads look like a penny-pinching piker. One of the dullest jokes around a hand is for the boys to gather around and watch the drummer set up or "break down" and wisecrack: "Aren't you sorry you didn't study the flute?" I was not alone in that business of wanting to be a drummer boy, though. With some it has developed into something more than a boyhood ambition. The Duke of Windsor, for example, in his Prince of Wales days, he never could resist the temptation to step into the band and beat off a tattoo. Bill Leeds, the tin plate millionaire, is another who likes amateur drumming—and Harold Lloyd, who has rat-tatted in some of the best orchestras in Hollywood—and Jackie Cooper—and Frank Veloz, who (Yolanda tells me) often misses a dance step when they glide by the drum stand. Charlie Carroll says being pushed out of the drummer's seat by drummaniacs is just another thing that a fellow has to put up with. But, diplomat that he is, though only 21 years old, Charlie adds hastily that he's not troubled that way by guests at the Rockefeller's Rainbow Room where Donahue is now playing. Charlie was the youngest of the big-time band drummer boys until Dave Tough came along with Benny Goodman, Dave's only 19. Charlie has three other distinctions: (1) The boys all call him "Buttercup" (2) He's a Flatbush, Long Island, boy who made good, and (3) he's 5-foot-10 and weighs only 110 pounds. He has everything in his layout but kettle drums and he's taking lessons on them now—from Bill Gladstone, the boom-boomer in the Radio City Music Hall orchestra. He practices two hours a day—and I thought all you had to do was hit those things. Charlie practices on rubber pads so he won't disturb the neighbors. I know a piccolo player I wish would practice the same way. In case any kids want to be drummer boys when they grow up, Charlie says to tell them to remember that a complete outfit, including cases, costs about $1,500. Charlie's cost about $900 and he hasn't put in the kettle-drums yet. What's more, modern swing is death on drums. Charlie has had four sets since 1930. This includes bass and snare drums, large and small toms—cymbals, wood blocks, cow bells, temple blocks (oriental stuff), chimes, bells, muffers, greeco cymbals, brushes, sticks, mallets, a gong and a vibraphone. There's a whole lot more to being a drummer than just beating a drum. "That's all," Jack wound up, thumping the table with his fist. "That's art!" "Just so," Assey said soothingly. "Just so. I don't doubt it a bit. Tell me, did your wife help you a lot?" "Well, she helped," Lorne admitted grudgingly. "Not a lot, but she used to have some ideas." "I see," Assey said. "She helped in your early plans with rough sketches. Always different. I s'pose all her ideas was original?" "So Jack Lorne didn't know that Marina had swiped Tim Carr's sketches. And if she had swiped Tim's, she might well have swiped others." Any fool should have been able to guess what Marina had been up to. Of course, Jack Lorne had always trusted Marina. Why should he have suspected that her ideas were not always original? A brighter person would have caught on, but Lorne had admitted that he was not bright and he certainly was not. "Where are your sketches of the mural?" Assey asked suddenly. "Got 'em here!" Lorne waved a hand toward the corner. "In the portfolios there," he said. "But why not go see the mural together?" "Today is Sunday," Assey pointed out. "The post office is closed. Whose idea was it to stick in the natives?" "Marina's," Jack said. "It was fun. She knew 'em all so well. Some of them are sore, but that doesn't matter. They'll get over it." "Can you think of any one person in town who was more annoyed about the mural than any other person?" Jack laughed. "Oh, Pam was hopping. So was Aaron, and Peg, and Roddy and Nettie—and the minister, and the plumber, and—say, I wish he'd get over here and fix that tank! They were all of them sore. Everyone in it. Some of them threatened to beat me up!" "It's just this lack of appreciation for true art," Assey said blandly. "You shouldn't worry." Timothy Carr met him as he strode back to the Frye's. "The car's ready for you." "Good," Assey said. "If anyone wants me, I'll be over in the Pochet hospital." "What's the matter with you, or are you just visiting a sick friend?" "Visitin'," Assey said. "So long." Timothy shook his head as he watched the little car scud down the drive. "Don't look so unhappy," Pam said, coming up behind him. "Assey leads a charmed life, and he probably will bring the car back safely. He always does. Did he tell you all about the great ambergis loss?" "What are ambergis?" Tim asked. "And tell me, do you like steak and kidney pie?" "No. Didn't he tell—?" "Now about caraway seeds?" "They make me sick," Pam said. "But what's that got to do with—?" "I never," Tim said, "could think of carrying a woman with a passion for caraway seeds, and steak and kidney pie. Singly or together. It's one of those vital points I like to get settled at the start." "Oh, you do, do you?" Pam said. "She hated herself for turning red, and not being able to frame a proper retort, with just the proper amount of gray flippancy in it. The sort of easy and successful retort Marina could always make, to Pam's deep envy." "Oh, you do, do you?" she said again, mentally cursing her inability to say anything else. Compared with what Marina would have said, she sounded like a coy housemaid. Looked like one, too, Pam thought, suddenly conscious of her kitchen apron. And her hands. Dishpan hands of the first wash. (Copyright, 1938, Phoebe Atwood Taylor.) Tomorrow: The sick friend. Two Japanese airmen recently flew two heavily German-made passenger liners from Berlin to Tokyo.

OCTAGON HOUSE BY PHOEBE ATWOOD TAYLOR Chapter 34 ART FOR ART'S SAKE It was a perilous trip in the overloaded boat, and the current and Timothy had a vigorous battle all the way. Assey tied up the boat, shepherded the troopers to the car, and proceeded to drive the coupe back to Octagon House. "Now," he said, as he got out of the car, "I want you to drive these fellows to Hanson, and then bring your car back, please, and leave it here for me. I want to get Jack Lorne, and then I got an errand to do." Jack was sitting in his studio before a littered table. He was dressed in crumpled green pajamas, and he hadn't yet bothered to shove off his accumulation of beads. "Have you discovered," Assey asked him without any preamble, "whether or not anything got taken or disturbed here last evening by the person who soaked Aaron?" "Haven't looked," Jack told him with a yawn. "I wouldn't know, anyway. Marina kept everything in order, in the portfolios. I never come with stuff like that. Say, come see what I've got planned for Senator Hemmingwell's dining room wall. Marina didn't like my first sketch, but I did another last night." He held out a sketch, and Assey looked at it. "Mmmmm," Assey said. "What's that in the corner, the fatted calf, or the Senator himself?" Lorne snatched the drawing from his hand and started off on a shrill tirade. Assey listened appreciatively as he wandered around the studio, peering into portfolios and lifting the lids from the countless cardboard boxes that served as files. Probably the boy thought that this display was temperance, Dr. Cummings would diagnose it as what happened when a man didn't get enough sleep and plenty of good, hearty food—including a good, hot breakfast. Personally, Assey thought the outbreak was temper. Just pettish, ornery bad temper, with a little childish tantrum thrown in. Assey crossed over to the fireplace and looked into it reflectively, and then he resumed his steady pacing around the room. There was not to be thought, much sense in telling Jack Lorne. Lorne would find out soon enough that whoever had biffed Aaron Frye had also removed the contents of all those portfolios and boxes. Removed them, and neatly burned them up. Original Ideas "That's art!" Jack wound up, thumping the table with his fist. "That's art!" "Just so," Assey said soothingly. "Just so. I don't doubt it a bit. Tell me, did your wife help you a lot?" "Well, she helped," Lorne admitted grudgingly. "Not a lot, but she used to have some ideas." "I see," Assey said. "She helped in your early plans with rough sketches. Always different. DEFINITE MOVE FOR ECONOMIES Difference between broad general statements and direct concrete itemized proposals for reducing Texas government expenses will be illustrated to the next session of the legislature by a report which the senate finance committee, headed by Senator John Redditt of Lufkin, will make. Candidates for office, many of them asking an office which has no control whatsoever over taxation or spending of tax money, are going about the country singing the old siren song of lower taxes, but without any idea of how to lower the levy or any authority to do anything about it. Talking tax reduction is a good vote getter, however, and it will be used to a far-you-well in this campaign as it has been in all others. But the Redditt report will be another matter. During the months since the last adjournment of the legislature a sub-committee of the senate finance committee has been at work, and will continue working between now and the assembling of the legislature next January. It will then be prepared to lay before the senate and the house its findings and recommendations. The report will be based on figures showing what each department and bureau and commission spends, and specific recommendations will be made on items that can either be reduced or abolished entirely, with reasons for the recommendations. That will be something the legislature can get its teeth into. So it is up to the voters to send to the legislature senators and representatives who have teeth strong enough to masticate a report that really saves money and yet does not reduce the efficiency of a department or bureau. There may be items in the report that should be rejected, but as a whole the document will do what the candidates are not doing. It will put the finger on exact spots and offer a remedy.

Yankees Move Toward Lead In American Cut Cleveland Advantage To Half Game; Dean Is Problem By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. If you want the inside dope on the major league pennant races, the thing to do, apparently, is consult the doctors rather than the club managers. For two powerful pitching arms, both of them sore now, are likely to be the deciding factors in the Cleveland Indians' bid to hold their slender lead over the New York Yankees, they'll have to get a lot more service out of young Bob Feller. Dean stayed at home as the Cubs opened yesterday with a 5-2 victory over the Boston Bees. The Indians haven't officially admitted there's anything seriously wrong with Feller's salary wing, but he hasn't had his stuff the last two starts. Washington Breaks Thrust Yesterday Rookie Johnny Humphries was blasted out in a big fifth inning that gave Washington a 7-6 triumph over the Tribe. Meanwhile the Yankees got a seven-run gift from the Chicago White Sox and won, 7-4, to cut Cleveland's lead to a half-game. The Yanks made five of their seven hits and all their runs after two were out and Rip Radcliff's error had cost another put-out in the sixth. The Cubs, looking better short-handed than any other National League club except the Giants, gained an easy victory as Tim Carlin held the Bees to seven runs. That kept these two games

"Assey leads a charmed life, and he probably will bring the car back safely. He always does. Did he tell you all about the great ambergis loss?" "What are ambergis?" Tim asked. "And tell me, do you like steak and kidney pie?" "No. Didn't he tell—?" "Now about caraway seeds?" "They make me sick," Pam said. "But what's that got to do with—?" "I never," Tim said, "could think of carrying a woman with a passion for caraway seeds, and steak and kidney pie. Singly or together. It's one of those vital points I like to get settled at the start." "Oh, you do, do you?" Pam said. "She hated herself for turning red, and not being able to frame a proper retort, with just the proper amount of gray flippancy in it. The sort of easy and successful retort Marina could always make, to Pam's deep envy." "Oh, you do, do you?" she said again, mentally cursing her inability to say anything else. Compared with what Marina would have said, she sounded like a coy housemaid. Looked like one, too, Pam thought, suddenly conscious of her kitchen apron. And her hands. Dishpan hands of the first wash. (Copyright, 1938, Phoebe Atwood Taylor.)

Walthead had advanced on Guernsey's default. Bobby Kamrath and Edgar Weller of Texas were to play Wayne Perke and Joe Malates of North Texas Teachers college in a doubles semifinals match. Christner and Walthead went into the finals through a default by Guernsey and Lucia.

Fossil 50,000 Years Old

HEMETT, Calif. (UP)—The fossilized teeth of a horse that was kicking up his heels on the American continent 50,000 years ago have been found in Wilson valley near here. It took the recent California floods to wash them out. Paleontologists estimated the date when the horse's molars were in use.

Yankees Move Toward Lead In American

Cut Cleveland Advantage To Half Game; Dean Is Problem By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. If you want the inside dope on the major league pennant races, the thing to do, apparently, is consult the doctors rather than the club managers. For two powerful pitching arms, both of them sore now, are likely to be the deciding factors in the Cleveland Indians' bid to hold their slender lead over the New York Yankees, they'll have to get a lot more service out of young Bob Feller. Dean stayed at home as the Cubs opened yesterday with a 5-2 victory over the Boston Bees. The Indians haven't officially admitted there's anything seriously wrong with Feller's salary wing, but he hasn't had his stuff the last two starts. Washington Breaks Thrust Yesterday Rookie Johnny Humphries was blasted out in a big fifth inning that gave Washington a 7-6 triumph over the Tribe. Meanwhile the Yankees got a seven-run gift from the Chicago White Sox and won, 7-4, to cut Cleveland's lead to a half-game. The Yanks made five of their seven hits and all their runs after two were out and Rip Radcliff's error had cost another put-out in the sixth. The Cubs, looking better short-handed than any other National League club except the Giants, gained an easy victory as Tim Carlin held the Bees to seven runs. That kept these two games
