Moore Oilers Cop Second In LL First Half

By Ernie Boyd

The Ozona Little League finished play in the first half of their split season Monday night when the Moore Oilers surged from 7 runs behind to rout B&B Grocers 19 to 10 and take undisputed possession of second place.

The win allowed the Moore Oilers to finish their first half of play with a record of 5 wins and 4 losses while Ozona Oil, with first place already sewed up, stopped Mason 12 to 7 to end its first half with a record of 7 wins and 2 losses.

B&B, a scrappy bunch of real little guys, and Mason Motors either tied for third place or for last place depending on your view of the matter, each having won 3 and lost 6.

Ozona Indians Drop Decision to Midland Colts

By Ernie Boyd

Two bases - loaded home runs by Coy Sanchez of the Midland Colts gave the Midland team a 10 to 7 win over the Ozona Indians in Ozona last Sunday afternoon.

Albino Sanchez was the victim of both telling blows but otherwise held the visitors pretty well in check as his mates held a 7 to 4 lead before the second of the four-run blows in the sixth inning.

The Ozona center fielder, Danny Rios, robbed the visitors from Midland of a third homer when he leaped high over the center field barrier to grab a ball that would have cleared the fence.

Ozona scored three times in the first inning on a walk to Tony Gomez and singles by E. B. Martinez, Huey Martinez, and Albino Sanchez, and then added four more in the third on four hits and a sacrifice on which the Colts failed to get anyone.

Midland broke into the scoring column in the second when they got one run on two singles and a double and then added four more on Sanchez's first bases-loaded blow in the third.

The Colts pulled to within one run in the fourth and then came the clincher in the sixth when Sanchez unloaded his second four-run sock.

Ozona got a final threat going in the seventh but with two on, the rally died without a run.

The Indians will travel to Midland for a return match with the Colts Sunday.

Formal Dedication Of Ozona Gas Plant Scheduled Friday Morning

Green Resigns As Ozona High Band Director

Eddie Green, Ozona High School Band director for the past two years, resigned Tuesday to accept a position with the Lake Highlands High School in Richardson, Texas.

Green, in resigning his post, stated that his reasons were all personal ones and that his relations with the Ozona school system had been most happy.

In the two years during which Green served as director the Ozona Band won sweepstakes both years, grew considerably in size and was considered the best Class A high school band in the area.

Green attended Sul Ross and Texas Western in El Paso before he took over the Albany High School Band and turned it into one of the state's better bands.

Lake Highlands is the second High School built in Richardson in the last ten years, with the first rising from class B to 4-A during that time. Lake Highlands will be in 3-A year and is expected to go 4A the next time High Schools are classified.

Thunder Storms Drop Much Need Moisture In Area

A thirty-five day spring dry spell was broken in Ozona late last week when a thunderstorm accompanied by a little hail, dumped slightly over an inch of rain on Ozona and over a large portion of the county.

Ozona last recorded rain on April 25th when 46 of an inch fell, bringing the total for April to a not too impressive .75 for the month.

Ozona's moisture came in form of a brisk shower about 10 a. m. on the morning of the 30th and then in a hard thunder storm about 3 p. m.

Rain fell over much of the county and in general somewhat heavier to the south, east and west and a little bit lighter to none in a few places to the north.

Heaviest rainfall reported was at Fred Hagelstein's ranch south of Ozona where over two inches fell.

Ozona's long dry spell was not shared by all of the Co. as rains had missed the immediate Ozona area several times in the past few weeks.

The cold front which spawned the rain also proved to be a record breaker as 90 degree weather vanished and noon time highs over the weekend barely reached 70 with early morning readings sagging as low as 48 degrees.

The suddenly unseasonable cold caused many Ozonans to light fires that have not been used in a good many weeks and those who had disconnected heating systems were seeking some warmer clothes than those in use recently.

The rain was a great spirit raiser for Crockett Co. ranchmen, many of whom have been experiencing extreme drouth conditions for the past six months.

Formal open house and dedication of the new three and a half million dollar Ozona Gas Processing Plant, the outgrowth of the opening of the fabulously rich Ozona gas field two years ago will be held at the huge plant Friday morning, followed at noon by a barbecue dinner at the Ozona Country Club, prepared and served by the famous Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang.

Ozonans' Relative Dies In Seminole

A relative of two Ozona residents, Homer D. Crawford 67, of Seminole died last week.

Mr. Crawford was a former resident of Christoval and was a brother of Mrs.
Buck Dorsey of Ozona and an uncle of Dick Kirby, also of Ozona.

Mr. Crawford was a longtime resident of Christoval but had been living at Seminole for the last few years prior to his death.

Ozona and West Texas landowners, civic and industrial leaders have been invited, is being hosted by top officials of the owner companies associated in operation of the new facility.

Reportedly coming by jet plane from Los Angeles, California office of Pauley Petroleum Co., who with Delta Drilling Co. of Tyler, Texas, opened the rich gas field in early 1962, will be Edwin E. Pauley, chairman of the board of Pauley Petroleum and other officials of that company. Also to be on hand will be officials of Delta Drilling, Northern Gas Products Co. of Omaha, Neb., and Johnson and Lindley of Houston, the associated companies forming the new firm to operate the Ozona Gas Processing plant.

Eddie G. Durrett of Odessa, in charge of drilling operations in West Texas for Delta Drilling, will be here, as possibly will be officials of Northern Natural Gas Co. which has contacted to buy all the residue gas from the plant.

The invited guests will assemble at the plant at 10 o'clock Fri. morning, June 5, for an inspection tour and explanation of the plant's operation. The plant has been in operation since mid April, loading out its first commercial butane and propane on May 1.
Since that time the plant has been turning out these products from processed gas and loading out transport trucks each day, taking the liquefied gas to consumers.

The plant presently is processing some eight million cubic feet of residue gas daily. It is expected to be operating at its ultimate capacity of 48 million cubic feet daily by 1967.

The gas is fed into the plant through a pipeline gathering system which collects gas from the Hunt-Baggett, and Joe T Strawn gas fields and the Ozona East and Southeast Canyon gas fields. The residue gas is being fed into a newly laid line for Northern Natural Gas Co. from the plant to Northern Natural's mainline junction near Eldorado.

From there the gas goes into the company's main line for customers as far away as California.

Henry Miller, superintendent of the plant, has been busy the last week making plans for the formal dedication of the plant, the visit of company officials and hosting the large number of invited guests.

The Odessa Chuck Wagon
Gang, known nationwide for its feat of feeding crowds of thousands in a matter of minutes, will be making its first appearance in Ozona, as will the landing of a jet airplane on the Ozona Municipal airport.
The Chuck Wagon Gang will be at the Country Club to serve the barbecue dinner to the company's guest list.

THE FOG LIFTS

That "compromise package" of changes in the "Civil Rights" bill our Senators are considering is described as comprising "clarifying amendments." We applaud this terminology as the first honest and forthright language to be applied to a bill so ponderous, so loose in its construction and so deliberately confusing that only our most erudite lawyers profess to understand it in toto.

Those "clarifying amendments" — and their underlying philosophy of passage at-any-price — really do clarify the bill's objective: the seizure of power.

Whittle away and water down the racial appeals as may be needed for votes.

Let those states with civil rights legislation run their own show — until the Federals see fit to crack down.

Let the kids (of all colors) attend the school in their own districts, and forget this shuffling and dislocation of young people to achieve "racial balance."

But get the power! Hand over to the Executive Department the authority to nullify the Magna Carta, to sidestep the Constitution and the courts and govern by intimidation and injunction.

As President Johnson revealed in the peroration of his Ann Arbor address unveiling the "great society" he is planning for us, a function of the Government hence forward will be "to pursue the happiness of our people."

That "unalienable right" of all men to the pursuit of happiness, as noted in the Declaration of Independence, now becomes — if you ask Mr. Johnson — a duty for the Government to administer!

The memory of the "midnight ride," it would appear, is to be eclipsed by the anti-occupation of the midnight rep. With the passage of the "Civil Rights" bill, we may expect to enter into a new era... the era of "Smile, damn you, smile!"

Bill and Bob Meinecke, both of whom received their degrees at Texas University Saturday, are visiting with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Hurst Meinecke this week.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From State Capitol

Austin, Texas — Texas Restaurant Assn., headquartered in Austin, is backing a proposal to legalize the sale of mixed drinks in Texas.

Executive Vice President W. Price, Jr., of the 2600-member organization, reports that a six-member committee of his group has drawn a bill for presentation.

TRA's bill would authorize local option elections on the sale, by food establishments, of distilled spirits in sealed containers of two ounces or less. Also it would extend the liquor curfew until 2 a. m.

"Sky's The Limit" — Legislative Budget Board members heard a warning from their executive director, Vernon McGee, that "the sky seems to be the limit" on state agency spending requests for 1965-67.

As an example, McGee cited budget proposals of the State hospital system, and institutions of higher education.

He also noted the legislative committee of the State Bar of Texas judicial section has proposed big pay boosts — of $12,000 a year — for judges. Under the Bar Committee's plan, base salaries of district judges would be doubled — from $12,000 to $24,000 a year. Court of Civil Appeals judges would be raised from $16,000 to $28,000, and the Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals from $20,000 to $32,000.

Rump Delegation Threatened — Threat of a rump liberal delegation to the national democratic convention was posed by State AFL-CIO President H. S. (Hank) Brown.

Brown said a sure way to prevent that is for all legally-elected delegates to be seated at the state democratic convention at Houston on June 16 and for the convention to embrace the national party platform and all party nominees.

Gov. John Connally said moderate-conservative delegates will comprise two-thirds of the July elected representatives at the June meeting, and he does not want resolutions endorsing all planks of the national platform.

Courts speak — Sunday closing laws specifically authorize emergency purchases, Supreme Court held in a Nueces County case. Case involved weekend sales by Shoppers World on emergency certificates.

Decision did not pass on constitutionality of the 1961 closing statute, although one judge said in a concurring opinion the whole act should be declared invalid.

"Backtagging" pick up — The system of certifying for brucellosis eradication by vaccinating cows and culls as they go through livestock markets, called "backtagging", is catching on fast, according to Federal and State animal health authorities.

U. S. Department of Agriculture says that reports on 2,104 head of backtagged cattle were received from more than 20 slaughter houses in April.

Follow-ups on the backtagged cattle, in addition to samples taken from 2,905 other cattle last month, produced a negative reaction.

State Highway Engineer Witt C. Green celebrated the 24th anniversary of the State Highway Department, and his 22nd with the department.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner have been visiting in Big Lake this week. The son of Mr. Turner, Von Parker of Big Lake, is the son of Mrs. Turner's first husband in Dallas.

Miss Sally Baggett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Baggett of Ozona, is visiting in Aransas County, this week to attend the graduation of her brother, William A. Baggett, from the U. S. Army Academy.

RICHARD WHITE

BELIEVES EFFECTIVE REPRESENTATION IS STILL THE KEY ISSUE

Malcolm McGregor has tried in every conceivable way to divert attention from the key issue of effective representation, and the records shown here will explain why.

RICHARD WHITE

Richard White served two terms in the State Legislature. During these two terms he became recognized as one of the most active and effective legislators in the House. While in office, he authored, introduced, and passed six times as much legislation for his state and his home district as did McGregor who was serving on the same delegation at the same time. Just as important, he carefully studied each piece of legislation to come before the House and as the result of his studies he introduced many amendments to improve proposed legislation. White also received a committee chairmanship and served on the important Judiciary and Conservation and Reclamation Committees among others. After completing his service in the House, White remained active in the Democratic Party being elected to serve as El Paso County Democratic Chairman. He is a proven aggressive legislator who votes by content of a measure instead of fancy titles, and he is an active Democrat.

WHITE'S OPPONENT

Malcolm McGregor has served ten consecutive years in the Texas House. With such a tenure, it should be assumed that he is by now one of the most respected and influential members of the House, a man at the top of the seniority ladder. THE OPPOSITE IS TRUE. During the last session of the Legislature, when McGregor should have been at the height of his political career, he was, instead, relegated to political obscurity. HE HELD NOT ONE SINGLE CHAIRMANSHIP, not one single vice-chairmanship, nor was he a member of any major committee. He was able to pass only two of ten bills which he introduced. McGregor's loss of prestige in the House is attributed to his voting record over the last several years. While some of the legislation he has supported has been good, he has tended to vote by title rather than content of a bill, and he has usually ended up IN THE CAMP OF A LOSING MINORITY BLOCK. Titles of some of these bills have been appealing, but they were defeated because of content which would have been unfair to a majority of the citizens of Texas.

Plants Need Proper Management For Most Productive Growth As Forage

By Sam Fitzhugh, Jr. Work Unit Conservationist

If we ask the "man on the street" where or how a plant gets its food, he will usually tell us that it gets it from the soil. This is not entirely true, however. If we analyze the soil, we don't find any proteins, sugars, starches or vitamins. What we do find are mineral elements such as potassium, nitrogen, sulphur, magnesium, iron, calcium, phosphorus, etc.

These are 'raw materials' for the plant. When moisture is available in the soil and temperatures are favorable, these raw materials are dissolved and are then absorbed by the plant roots, transported up the stems and into the plant leaves. Here, with energy furnished by the sun, hydrogen from the water, and carbon dioxide from the air, the plant manufactures food. The leaf is the only place that food is manufactured, by this process called photosynthesis.

Now, what happens to the food that is manufactured in the plant leaf? A part of it goes back into the root to nourish them, to keep them healthy, to extend them and to replace dead root tissue. Perennial grass plants may replace up to half of their root system each year. A large vigorous root system is needed to gather moisture and raw materials for the food factory. A part of the food manufactured goes into the production of more leaves, to increase the ability of the plant to make even more food. A part of it goes into stems and seed to carry on the reproduction of the plant.

Another very important function for plant food is that part that is stored in the plant roots. This is the reserve "energy" for the plant. While the plant is growing, it stores food for its own use for the next year. After the winter is over and growing conditions are favorable, the plant has no green leaves so it draws on the food it stored the year before to send up the first few green leaves which re-establish its food factory.

When the first few green leaves in the spring are removed by grazing, the plant must dip into its reserves to send up some more leaves. If these are cropped off repeatedly, the plant soon runs out of reserve food and literally "starves" to death.

Most perennial grass plants store food in the roots more actively immediately after the seed have been formed. Up until this time, the plant devotes most of its energy to making leaves and seed and, in the roots is lowest while the plant is making most rapid growth. If we graze these plants at this stage year after year, we are catching the plant at its most critical and vulnerable point and we cannot expect it to remain vigorous healthy and productive under such conditions. These plants, however, can be safely grazed during this period occasionally if they are vigorous. Unfortunately the period when plants are most vulnerable is also the period when they are most nutritious and when they put the best gains on livestock. These facts point up the need for deferment and proper range use.

The amount of perennial forage plants that we can safely harvest with livestock varies somewhat with the kind of plant, the site, plant vigor and with the season when it is grazed. Research has shown that proper range use is "grazing half and leaving half" and, we might continue, "so both halves will get bigger".

By Mrs. L. B. Cox, Jr.

The Clean-up Campaign Committee wishes to express a deep and sincere thanks to every one who helped in any way to make our community more attractive and healthier by cleaning their own premises pruning and planting and destroying all fly and mosquito harbors.

Especially they wish to express their appreciation to County Judge Brock Jones and to members of the Crockett County Commissioners Court, to D. C. Ratliff and the county road crew for the use of county equipment for cleaning roadways, barpits, draw beds and fence right of ways at the cemetery and park areas. Also we wish to thank Scottie Houston and the Highway maintenance crew for always trying to keep the highways and roadside park clean and safe.

To Bill Cooper and the sanitary service workers who worked day to day hauling away all trash. To the South Elementary and Lockett School officials, P-TA, Boy and Girl Scouts, Lions Clubs, The Junior Garden Club for prize winning Litterbug posters, displayed in business establishments.

To Mrs. Mahlon Robertson of the Historical Society for the posters on the traffic post. Especially does the committee wish to thank Evart White, publisher of the Ozona Stockman, for his cooperation and generous space in the paper.

The committee feels that the community as a whole is much cleaner, thanks to the clean-up effort. However, there are still some unsightly cavant lots, dirty areas between sidewalks and the pavement. Some areas are overgrown with weeds and brush and many old cars around body works garages and on some private property.

The committee hopes all local people will observe the anti-litter practices and all will be more careful with trash.

Let's join all of Texas to make our state beautiful for tourists that we may take our place as a tourist attraction.

The committee is composed of presidents and civic chairmen of clubs of the city. Mrs. Bill Clegg and Mrs. Nip Blackstone from the Woman's Forum, Mrs. Jim Dudley and Mrs. Roy Coates from the Woman's League; Mrs. Stephen Perner and Mrs. Bailey Post, from the Garden Club, and Mrs. O. D. West and Mrs. W. T. Bradbury from the Woman's Club. Mrs. Bradbury was general chairman of the clean-up.

Miss Roberta Johnigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Johnigan and a student at Hardin - Simmons, is home to spend the summer with her parents.

THE PRAYER IN THE SAND

Anzio . . . Okinawa . . . Iwo Jima? On which beachhead did they find it, that cross crudely drawn in the sand? No doubt it appeared on every blood-stained shore where gallant men of Christian faith have fallen wounded or dying!

For the Cross on which Christ died has ever stood as the symbol of His Life and Truth. And often It has spoken eloquently what human lips could not frame.

Is it not too little simply to honor those who have fought and died for our freedom? Each generation must inscribe its own prayer on the beachhead of history.

Religious freedom is the heart of our heritage.

In a world in which Liberty must be armed to endure, faith must be practiced to be preserved.

Pray for yourself, your family, your nation, your world . . . in the church of your choice next Sunday.

White Charges His Oponent Supported By Ultra Liberals

El Paso - Democratic Congressional candidate Richard White has charged that his June 6 runoff opponent, Malcolm McGregor, has imported a so-called political expert from the State AFL-CIO in Austin to run his campaign.

"This man is a professional agitator who has long been prominently identified with the state-wide ultra-liberal coalition, which he now serves as secretary," White said.

White's statement continued: "McGregor ran on his record and his platform against my record and my proposed program for the 18th Congressional District of Texas in the primary, and I beat him in 60 of 78 precincts in El Paso County where we are both best known, and he was rejected in 14 of the 19 counties of the district.

"Since he was unable to out-poll me honestly, he has now been furnished with an ultra-liberal coalition professional agitator who has cooked up a campaign of hate and lies.

Little League -

B&B posted its third win of the year last Thursday when they downed league leading Ozona Oil 5 to 4 behind the tight clutch pitching of Mike Womack.

Ozona Oil had maintained a lead throughout the game until a fifth inning rally sent the Grocers to victory.

Greg Stewart led the Ozona attack with a home run while Terry Hickman was the Grocers' most potent with the stick.

Moore Oil picked up but two hits in downing Mason Motors 9 to 8 in the nightcap late Thursday. Mason outhit their opponents but walks and errors gave the Oilers the edge in a thriller. Paul Longoria was the winning pitcher.

Monday night saw one game finished under protest as the Ozona Oilers downed Mason 12 to 7.

Ozona Oil finished the game after protesting a decision which allowed Mason a run after the runner had been tagged out on the base line. The protest, however, was dropped after Mason was unable to get any further advantage from the call.

David Huff was the winner but needed help in the sixth from brother Donald. Guy Hester homered for Mason in the fourth.

In the nightcap, Moore staged its big uprising and then held on until the game was called at the end of five. The Oilers barely missed getting the ten run rule into effect in that inning when they got up to 19 and still had the bases loaded when the third out was registered.

Bill Lewis will attend summer school at Sul Ross this summer and left for Alpine Monday.

Baptist Youths To Six Flags Meeting

A total of 28 Baptist young people and their guests, plus a number of adult sponsors, left Ozona Monday and returned late Tuesday from a trip to "Six Flags Over Texas" where they held a seven-flags over Texas day, raising the Christian flag over the amusement park.

The special day, which began as a plan for a meeting of from five to seven thousand Baptist young people, blossomed into a meeting of over 36,000 before it began early Tuesday morning.

In addition to the regular amusements offered at the Park, the young people heard former Baylor All-American and pro football great, Bill Glass, preach and testimonies by such outstanding Christian athletes as Greg Walcott, Scott Appleton, and place kicker Tony Crosby.

The vast "Six Flags" attraction is located between Dallas and Fort Worth near Arlington and last year drew over 3,000,000 paid admissions and is growing in size and scope each year.
