UNLIMITED" VERDICT ON WATER WELL

Over 450 Gallons Per Minute Pumped For Four Hours

LEVEL UNCHANGED

Drilling Second Well For Emergency Installation

An unlimited supply of water as indicated in the new well, completed recently by the Water Control and Improvement District on Water works hill, Sunday, when a new and larger pump was installed and the well pumped at the rate of more than 450 gallons per minute for four hours without lowering the water level in the hole.

After repeated efforts to get a pump on the well with the pumping equipment first installed, the effort was abandoned by the drilling operators last week and they left for San Antonio to bring back a new pump.

The new pump was installed and the test run Saturday. Less than a minute after the centrifugal pump was started, water gushed from the pipe in a powerful stream. The well was pumped for nearly an hour on that occasion until it was thoroughly cleaned. Gauges set in the hole to measure the water level remained at a standstill, indicating a steady flow of water. The pumps were speeded up until the volume gauging device showed over 500 gallons a minute being pumped and still the water level was not lowered.

"I don't believe you could install a pump large enough to exhaust the water supply," was the comment of Driller J. C. Crowder of San Antonio. He and other members of the drilling crew estimated the well would produce upwards of 1,500 gallons a minute.

Complete Quota In Crockett Co. USO Campaign

450 Raised Here For Service Recreational Facilities

Crockett County has subscribed the assigned quota of $450 in the United Service Organizations nationwide drive for a fund of over $2,000,000 with which six of the nation's leading service organizations will provide recreational centers in and near military and naval training posts and defense production centers over the nation.

On the basis of the per capita system under which quotas were set for the different counties of the state, Crockett County's quota is approximately $415, but state headquarters set the figure at an amount of $450 and that amount was subscribed.

The campaign in this county was handled by Scott Peters, president of the Rotary Club and named county chairman for the U. S. O. drive. Mr. Peters handled the campaign almost single handed. A check for the full amount of the quota was dispatched to state USO headquarters Tuesday.

Funds collected in the nationwide drive are to be administered jointly by six service organizations, the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic Community Service, the Salvation Army, the Jewish Welfare Board and the National Travelers Association. Recreational centers near Army and Navy training centers and in crowded defense production areas are to be provided for the moral and recreational guidance of men in the service and young defense workers.

AMPLE WATER FOR OZONA USERS—Water from the 450 foot well atop water works hill, recently drilled, was flowing at the rate of between 450 and 500 gallons per minute when the above picture was taken Sunday morning. The well was given a four-hour test Sunday, pumping between 450 and 500 gallons a minute, and the water was not lowered in the hole. Another well is being started at once, the two to be equipped with centrifugal pumps and present small wells abandoned.

Anniversary Day Speakers Stress Community Gains

Judge Davidson Cites Progress; Hardeman Lauds Heritage

Crockett County's patriotic program for its Golden Anniversary was featured by speeches from Judge Chas. E. Davidson and Rep. Dorsey B. Hardeman, of San Angelo. The former alluded to a few salient facts in connection with the county's formative life in stressing the progress made. Rep. Hardeman told the people of Crockett to "preserve their heritage" as a keystone to a future life of freedom, liberty and security, fashioned after the "good old American way."

Rising to speak amid rounds of applause, County Judge Chas. E. Davidson addressed the large throng of people assembled in the city park with marked evidence of feeling and sentiment. The aged, but still vigorous, county leader appeared deeply and poignantly mindful of the import of the occasion, Crockett County's Fiftieth Anniversary.

He won considerable laughter by opening his remarks with the declaration, "On occasions like this, some old worn-out fellow like me is always selected to represent his community."

Alluding to special events attendant upon the organization of the county and stressing the soundness of Crockett County's institutions, the Judge closed his remarks with a few appropriate expressions of sentiment. He reminded his audience that Crockett County's progress from early settler days has been guided by the same principles voiced by David Crockett: "Be sure you are right, then go ahead."

Judge Davidson noted in his talk the fact that he was the only living member of the first Commissioners Court held under the live-oak tree fifty years ago. But, he added that Commissioners Henderson and Byrd, of the original court, were represented in the gathering by descendants.

The venerable county leader told his listeners that "the will to do" is a great force, and with perseverance will always mount obstacles. He cited the instance back in the old days when the Commissioners decided to give Ozona a city park and were laughed at when it was made known that 144 trees would be planted in holes blasted from solid rock.

He stated that Phil Perner, pioneer merchant, bet him a suit of clothes that there would not be more than 10 per cent of the trees standing at the end of one year. "And," added the Judge, "every-one here today can see that the (Continued on page four)

Ordovician Test, Two New Shallow Wells For Noelke

Moore-Olson To Go 8,500 Feet; M&M Seek Two New Tests

A projected Ordovician test and two new tests, offsets to producers, featured developments in the Noelke oil field in western Crockett County during the week.

Moore Exploration Co. and Olson Oil Co., of Midland have filed notice of intention to deepen their No. 2-C, H. M. Half estate, a test less than a mile west of the opener of the Noelke pool, which failed in the sand pay horizon of that area. The well is to be deepened from 2,956 feet to 8,500 feet unless production is obtained at a lesser depth. The shallow well was drilled with cable tools, but a rotary rig is to be installed for the deep exploration.

Big Historical Edition Of Stockman Is Scheduled For Appearance Next Week; To Contains Eighty Pages Of Crockett Features

Crockett County's Golden Anniversary Historical Edition, which will be delivered to the public next week, is being eagerly and anxiously awaited, judging from comment and the advance orders for extra copies.

Running to schedule, the Ozona Stockman will go to press next week with the last of the special 10-section paper. There will be 80 pages of pictures and words, a comprehensive outline of Crockett history. Every effort has been made by the staff to make this special issue a worthy one and a valuable one.

"Namezy" Quilt Nets $105 For Church Group

Paul Perner Bids In Auction Prize Of Unusual Design

Going once, going twice, going three times, are you all through? Sold! To Mr. Paul Perner, of Ozona, for $105.

Thus went the unusually designed and beautiful quilt of the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service as a featured opening event of the Anniversary Day's patriotic program in the Ozona Park Tuesday afternoon.

Rep. Dorsey B. Hardeman, of San Angelo, principal speaker of the afternoon, was selected as auctioneer, and he did his job well though only an amateur at this ancient art of selling. At one stage of the spirited bidding when stakes were high, he suggested that it would be a good idea for both husband and wife to "share" the bid. But, he quickly added that by sharing he meant for each to (Continued on Page Five)

"Fifty Cheers For Fifty Years" From The Bill Grimmers

"Fifty cheers for Crockett's fifty years. Greetings old settlers and friends.—Bill and Nan Grimmer."

This was the greeting from a pair of former Crockett Countians now living in Winfield, Iowa, belatedly received yesterday by N. W. Graham, master of ceremonies at the program in the park here Tuesday commemorating this county's fiftieth anniversary. The greeting was dispatched by telegraph but arrived by mail a day after the celebration was completed.

Mrs. Grimmer is a daughter of Judge and Mrs. Charles E. Davidson, who were especially honored in Tuesday's celebration.

OLD TIMERS OF CROCKETT GATHER FOR REUNION ON COUNTY'S 50TH BIRTHDAY

Home Folk Enjoy Old-Fashioned Celebration; Rep. Dorsey Hardeman, Judge Chas. Davidson Principal Speakers

Tuesday, July 22, 1941, will long be remembered as the 50th anniversary date of the founding of Crockett County. And the day's festivities as planned by the Celebration Committee struck a responsive chord in the hearts of every man, woman and child that gathered in Ozona for the occasion.

The Crockett County of today paid a solemn but joyful tribute, paradoxical as it may seem, to the Crockett County of 50 years ago. The citizens of 1941, with their "home-folks" reunion, memorialized the pioneers of 1891.

Reunion Crowds Entertained By Roping Matches

Spicy Local Talent Program Provides Home Coming Feature

Taking the reins from the oldsters who in past years have steered Ozona's annual rodeo, race meet and stock show to a place of pre-eminence among similar shows in this area of West Texas, a group of younger Ozona men, with a minimum of advance notice, Tuesday staged a show that would have done credit to any organized group of rodeo promoters.

It was the afternoon feature of the old settlers reunion and Crockett County home coming in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of Crockett County. Calf roping and goat roping for men and boys, novelty horse races and matched roping events furnished plenty of thrills for the sizeable crowd which left the ceremonies in the downtown park to go almost in a body to the show grounds. Of course, the rodeo program was in no wise an attempt to measure up to the standard of previous years in the matter of putting on a rodeo, but it was an enjoyable one just the same and the committee composed of Dock Lee, Vic Montgomery and Bill Childress deserve the credit for a worthwhile contribution to the county's birthday celebration.

Ropers who took part in the various events were competing for prize money made up of nominal entry fees in each event. After the grand entry, boys under 18 years of age competed in a calf roping event, with Raymond Williams taking first money by tying his calf in 19.2 seconds. Pee Wee Smith was second with a time of 31.9 and Donald Wilson third with 35.6. As a matter of fact, these three boys were the only one who caught, no time being registered for Tom Ed Montgomery, Roy Coates, Boochie (Continued on Page Eight)

Another Crockett Selectee Ordered Inducted Aug. 18

After a lull through the month of July, during which this county was not called upon to furnish any new selectees to Uncle Sam's training army, the 22nd call of the Selective Service headquarters received yesterday asks one white man from Crockett County. Two calls for Negro recruits, issued during the past month, made no demands for colored selectees from this county.

The next selectee from this county will be inducted August 13.

Five Are Fined In Justice Court

Cal Young, Negro, paid a fine of $1 and costs in justice court here Monday on a charge of drunkenness. Clarence Daniels and Blunt Bridges, charged with fighting, paid similar fines. The Negroes were arrested by Sheriff W. S. Willis.

Two Mexicans, also rounded up by the sheriff, were charged with fighting and fined $1 and costs. They were Manuel Herrera and Castillo Cervantez.

The spirit of progress sparked the ozone of Ozona as hundreds of old-timers, members of their families, friends and guests met first in the city park and mingled together, reminiscing of early days in mutual respect for the pioneers and reviving memories of special events long erased by the hand of Father Time.

The long picnic tables were bountifully heaped with the things to eat that West Texans like most, barbecued beef, pinto beans, pickles and onions, tea and coffee. It was a grand spread prepared a la Bob Cooke style by Texas' "Maestro of the Barbecue" in person.

A cool southerly breeze sifted its way down through the hills and onto the valley to make the day a perfect one, a real toast to the famed climate of Ozona with its altitude of 2,348 ft. Old Sol barely managed to break through the thick shading of the pecan and mulberry trees in order to "crash" the party.

About 1 o'clock, the 2,000 or more "guests of the county" on its 50th birthday, with appetites satisfied completely, assembled in front of the platform for the patriotic program. Alongside the stage the sound-truck of the West (Continued on Page Eight)

Amerada No. 1-A Extends Todd Field 4,000 Ft.

North Extension Flows 127 Bbls. First Hour Up To 257 Bbls.

A 4,000-foot north extension of the Todd deep field in Crockett County, 15 miles northwest of Ozona, provided the biggest news from the West Texas oil field areas last Friday when Amerada No. 1-A, Todd estate, was completed a large producer.

From perforations at 5,562-5,722 feet, opposite the field pay in the Strawn lime, the well was brought in to flow 127 barrels of high gravity oil in the first hour. Shut in two hours, it flowed through two-inch line off casing and made 252 barrels the second and 257 barrels the third when it was shut in.

The Amerada well became the ninth producer in the Todd field. It kicked off and cleaned itself into the pits after being washed with water through 2-inch tubing run to 5,706 feet. The well had been drilled to 6,400 feet in Ellenburger dolomite, where a sulphur water was encountered and the hole was plugged back to 6,128 feet and the casing perforated at 5,562 to 5,722.

The crinoidal section of the Strawn lime, the producing formation in the field, was topped high at 5,562. It was not tested as drilled, Amerada electing to explore the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician. The new well is 4,000 feet north of Continental and others No. 7-B Todd, nearest producer, and is 660 feet from the south, 1-960 from the east line of section 25-WX-GC&SF.

A quarter mile south of the new Amerada well, Continental and others made ready to drill at No. 9-B unit, 660 feet from the north and west lines of section 29-WX-GC&SF.

U. S. O. WELFARE WORK

It goes without saying that families of the lonely young fellows who are being trained to defend the Nation are contributing what they can to make camp life easier for their own and others' loved ones. Nobody understanding the situation and giving the matter a moment's thought, however, would want the responsibility to end there. The youngsters toiling to master military duties with no means of relaxation to relieve their drudgery are the Nation's own—everybody's. To realize their plight is to want to help them to have some of the enjoyments that would be theirs if they were at home. It is the very least anyone can do to show his appreciation of the sacrifices these young Americans are called upon to make for our common security. No thoughtful person, certainly, would want to see the government trying to conduct the kind of welfare work the U. S. O. is engaged in. The trainees get their fill of government in work hours, so to speak. The Salvation Army, Catholic Community Service, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Jewish Welfare Board and Travelers' Aid Association, as members of the U. S. O. organization, are obviously more capable of handling the recreational program in an efficient and understanding way. The human, personal touch can come only from the general public participation that is made possible through these agencies.—Los Angeles Times.

CHINA AND RUSSIA

There is a distinction between the conqueror advancing farther and farther from his home bases and the victims retreating farther into their home lands. And there is another and more deep-seated distinction between the aggressor and the peoples battling to retain the existence as free nations which they have possessed for centuries. It has been difficult for years to look behind in Sovietized Russia and determine how well organized and content the Russian people have been. But we know surely that they are a people, like the Chinese, vast in numbers and unified by their nationality. Early as it is to say so, the inference that the Russians will fight as the Chinese have has much to sustain it. The war news gives numerous proofs of the Red armies taking their losses and fighting on with grim determination. High now, the price of victory to Germany and the Germans grows during each day and week that Russia continues her determined resistance. As it grows, it will be a price harder and harder for Germany and the Germans to pay.—Detroit News.

CANADA'S WAR EFFORTS

A summary of Canada's part in the war, recently released by the Director of Public Information at Ottawa, affords a startling revelation of the scope of the war efforts of our northern neighbor and indicates the future activity of the United States if we succeed in matching such efforts on a comparative population basis. Although Canada has an area several hundred thousand square miles greater than the United States, its population is barely 11,000,000, or one-twelfth that of the United States. At the beginning of the war Canada's permanent armed forces numbered 4,500 men, plus non-permanent militia of 55,000 men. Today the Canadian armed forces include 188,000 men in the active army, recruited as volunteers to serve wherever required for the duration, plus 170,000 in the reserve army. During the current year 72,000 more will be added to the active army. If the United States, with twelve times the population, raised an army proportionate to Canada's 430,000 men, we would have a force of 5,160,000. Canada's air-training plan includes 62 schools already in operation and 21 more scheduled to open this year. These schools will turn out 35,000 additional men this year between 7 and 10 per cent of whom are Americans.—St. Louis Star-Times.

STRIKES ARE OUTLAWED

Strikes and lockouts in war industries were outlawed in Australia "for the duration." The prime minister threatened to use the emergency powers given him last year to send "disloyalists responsible for such stoppages" to a concentration camp. At the same time he warned uncooperative employers that he would not hesitate to take over their plants. With the exception of New Zealand, Australia has proportionately the strongest Labor party in the British Commonwealth of nations. Thirty-six of the 74 seats in its House of Representatives are occupied by Laborites. Yet that has not prevented Australia from banning strikes and other stoppages of work, which would interfere with its all-out effort.—Detroit Free Press.

DO SOMETHING!

A few days ago a high-ranking officer of the army criticized those agencies that talk about morale, but do nothing about it. "The various agencies have talked big," he said, "but they've done positively nothing. We called these fellows the 'What-Can-I-Do-For-You, Boys?' in the last war, and they're the same today. They're always asking about morale, talking about morale, but doing nothing about morale." This is a challenge directed not at any small group of civilians, but at every person back home. Our military men have on their hands a tremendous job of building an army on a brand-new model. One phase of morale, and an important phase it is, too, that of providing recreation which will build morale for citizenship as well as army service, is up to civilians. Every day the news dispatches describe the horrible plight of the soldiers dumped by the thousands upon tiny communities on their days off. United Service Organizations is a group which will not stop with asking and talking about morale. It will do something about it as soon as the money is in hand.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE POCKETBOOK OF KNOWLEDGE BY TOPPS

THIS BUSINESS OF Living BY SUSAN THAYER

It was an old fashioned farm house kitchen with a big kerosene stove for summertime use in front of the coal range. A roller towel hung on the back of the door into the dining room and a short-handled pump perched above the sink which was also piped for running water. It brought back memories of kitchens I had known as a child so when I was invited to sit down for a glass of cold milk and some cookies, I gladly accepted. My hostess, in a fresh house-dress and an ample kitchen apron, went back to her job of paring potatoes and dropping them into a big yellow crock which she held in her lap and I thought how far away it all was from "wars and rumors of war" and the colossal production effort in which our own country is now engaged. But as we sat there discussing the road I had stopped to ask about, the weather and cookie recipes, this world I was trying to forget suddenly broke in upon us. "They tell me," she said, "that we built more airplanes than ever last month—over 1,400 of them, I believe." "Yes," I said, perhaps showing my surprise, "and there will be more next month, and still more the next..." She nodded her head. "I know. You see my son works in the big airplane factory 100 miles from here and my daughter spends part of each week keeping track of the things down at the tool shop in the village. They're making something that they use on planes too. I'm not sure just what, but they're busy as anything. It's awful, of course, to think of us having to take so much of our effort away from the production of peace-time goods to the building of armaments. On the other hand, it's pretty wonderful to think we can turn to and do it when we have to." She said "we" I noticed, and she meant we. For although she is a farmer's wife, living on a remote farm, she feels as if she has a vital part in the work industry is doing. Her children are actually participants and her own sympathies and interest are with it as it turns out to be equipment for defense. We may have various ideas about what course the nation should take in the months to come and we express these ideas loudly so that we sometimes look divided. But on nothing we are certainly all agreed. That is that America must be made strong and that the plants and factories of the nation are now at work for the interest of us all. No matter where we live or what we do, it is actually "our" effort and "our" success as the ships and tanks, the guns and ships roll off the assembly lines of industry.

PROPAGANDA BATTLE

One of the strongest contests in history is that between Nazi and Red propagandists. There never has been anything the equal of this mass production of falsehoods. There is reason to believe that even the German high command, which has in the main been factual in its reporting, has adopted some of the propaganda ministry's methods. As for the Russian communiques, they seem also to stretch the truth and to conceal the facts. The result is that there is no way of telling what is taking place on the eastern front, except that the Nazis are advancing. The experts, private and military, are almost frantic about it. They had agreed at the outset that it would be necessary for the Red army to retire to the main defenses in old Russia and that it probably would be a fatal mistake to try to slug it out with the Nazis in territories occupied since 1939. But they are the first to speak of catastrophe for the Russian army at each report of a Nazi advance. There has been no attempt to make a rational appraisal of the situation. Most Americans and Englishmen are incapable of judging the situation. They have little information on the strength of the Red army and a deep-seated conviction that everything Russia has is faulty. The fact is that what they said about the desirability of retreat in the early stages was predicted on

Side Glances on Texas History

By Charles O. Hucker

THE COMANCHES AND THEIR REVENGE

Early in August, 1840, began one of the most terrifying and memorably dramatic episodes in the history of early Texas—the Comanche Indians swept down from the northwest plains to wreak their vengeance on the white man for the "peace conference" at San Antonio's Council House, which cost the lives of several high-ranking chiefs.

Dramatic as was that bloody conference, chronicled briefly in this column last week, its aftermath was equally long-remembered and for a better reason. For the story of the aftermath, also called from the Texas Collection of the University of Texas Library, is the story of a terror unknown in Texas since Santa Anna's doomed march to San Jacinto.

In 1840, when the heart of the Republic was still somewhere in the east, South Texas was a wilderness. There were growing settlements at San Antonio and Gonzales, but few more. It was a wilderness so that, early in August, an army of one thousand Comanche braves could cut a war path through it undiscovered.

THEY SACKED TWO TOWNS

On the afternoon of August 6 the Comanches fell unheralded on Victoria. Two days later, so early in the morning as to catch half of the inhabitants still in bed, they struck at Linnville, to the south, and each town—unwarned, unprepared and completely paralyzed by surprise—fell in a few confused, terrifying moments. At each place the death toll, unrecorded in history, must have been tremendous; and the thriving coastal town of Linnville was burned to the ground.

Yet, gratifying as all that must have been, the Comanches satiated their revenge even further with loot from the two towns—between three and four thousand head of horses and mules and a fortune in merchandise from Linnville, which had been unusually well stocked. And with some of the goods taken—top hats and tail coats, for instance—they bedecked themselves and their horses gleefully for a triumphant return to the north.

Meanwhile, expressmen were spreading the terror northward and eastward: a thousand Comanche warriors, two sacked towns smouldering in their wake, were loose in the south. And men like Felix Houston, Ed Burlison and Ben McCulloch rose up to urge and begin preparations for a counter-attack, so that early in the morning of August 12, six days after the tragedy at Victoria, two hundred Texans met the invaders for a last-ditch fight at Plum Creek some 27 miles below Austin.

THE BATTLE OF PLUM CREEK

The Battle of Plum Creek, remembered chiefly as a display of savage and wonderful daring on the part of several Comanche chiefs who tried to hold off the better-armed Texans until their long baggage train could be got to safety, lasted for only a few minutes and then turned into a running fight which continued for fifteen miles, ending at last in the escape of the greater part of the dispersed Comanche forces.

During the entire morning's fighting the Texans failed to lose a man and had only a few men wounded, whereas the Indians paid for their uprising with the lives of 80 braves and with the loss of several hundred pack horses loaded with loot from Linnville. The battle was one of the most successful pitched battles with Indians ever fought by the Texans, and the menace had been shattered.

But the Comanches had got their revenge.

100 YEARS AGO IN TEXAS

"The cry is—Still They Come. We rejoice to hear from every section of the Republic the most cheering news in favor of Judge Burnet. The people are rising in their might, and as the period of election draws near, are beginning to evince, by the most unequivocal demonstrations, their determination to sustain the cause of morality, and to vindicate the national honor. The virtuous and intelligent are rallying nobly to the rescue; and even those who were but recently the most luke-warm and indifferent, are becoming warmly excited, in the increasing assurance of success."

News from the West—We learn by letter from Victoria, dated July 13th, that a party of Mexicans visited Corpus Christi lately and took Mr. Phil. Dimit, a Mr. Sutherland, Graham and some others, with all the goods they had with them. They have been carried prisoners to Matamoros. Messrs. Aubrey and Kinney were not molested. It is currently reported that they claim protection under the Mexican government.

Streamlined Study Program For Texas University Planned

AUSTIN, July 23—A streamlined program of study is being emphasized at the University of Texas to allow students to complete a college education in three years instead of four.

By attending each regular term, from September to June, and the 12-week classes each summer, a student can telescope his four-year degree requirements into three years.

The intensive course of study has the advantage of allowing many men to finish college training before reaching 21 and draft age, University President Homer P. Rainey pointed out.

Texans Aid In National Drive For Aluminum

County Judges Asked To Head Campaign In Each County

AUSTIN, July 23—Reports from all sections of the state, received at the office of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel here, tell of increased activity in the National Aluminum Collection Campaign now under way.

The Governor, as chairman of the National Defense Committee for Texas, requested the county judges of the 254 Texas counties to form the organization in their respective jurisdictions and suggested that they ask the mayors of all municipalities to serve as co-chairmen for their communities. It was recommended also that chamber of commerce, veterans' organizations, and other groups be asked to participate.

Committees in each community and in the rural areas have been asked to take a house to house canvass and to gather up all used or discarded aluminum ware that housewives can spare without making replacements.

Public bins are being constructed in many communities and are located on such places as the city hall or county court house steps, or other accessible places, to enable aluminum contributors to deposit their gifts.

All of the aluminum collected will be used strictly for defense, Governor O'Daniel specifically advised and no organization is to make any profit from the collection.

Leaves for Duty

Rep. Hamilton Fish of New York, leading house isolationist, and a colonel in the Specialist Reserve, is pictured in his uniform in his office in Washington shortly before leaving for a month's active duty at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Upon the request of Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, director, Office of Civilian Defense, and William S. Knudsen, director general, Office of Production Management, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel recently asked county judges in Texas to assume leadership of the campaign in their counties. Voluntary machinery for the pick-up of used aluminum articles is being organized in each community of the state with 4-H Club boys and girls, Boy Scouts, vocational agriculture and homemaking students, and other youth groups assisting in house-to-house and farm-to-farm canvases. County land use planning committees and various civic and fraternal organizations are also helping with the drive.

Approximately 500 county extension agents, in College Station for their annual conference at headquarters, were urged by Director H. H. Williamson and other leaders in the Extension Service to assist in the aluminum campaign throughout rural areas in every way possible.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cox and Dr. and Mrs. A. Helbing of San Angelo were here Tuesday for the old settlers reunion and 50th anniversary celebration of Crockett County.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Friend and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Friend of Big Lake were among reunion visitors Tuesday.

KISS WAKENS FAINTED WOMAN—SO SHE SLAPS THE UNWELCOME DONOR

ST. LOUIS — Deputy Sheriff George Baker today witnessed the startling effects of a kiss on a woman who had fainted.

Mrs. Bertha Lyvers, 27, collapsed leaving the courtroom after a hearing on a peace disturbance complaint against her estranged husband, William Lyvers. Baker broke an ammonia capsule under her nose without reviving her. He called an ambulance.

Then, Baker reported, Lyvers, bending over his wife, kissed her. She opened her eyes and slapped him.

Law Enforcement Officers Mobilize

AUSTIN, July 23—Law enforcement officers throughout Texas were called upon today to join in a statewide mobilization for national defense.

A complete inventory of police personnel and equipment is being made in every political subdivision, it was announced by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., State Police director and chairman of police mobilization for the Texas National Defense Committee.

Sheriffs, chiefs of police, city marshals and constables were asked in letters from Garrison to report their personnel strength, transportation and communication facilities, special equipment such as arms, gas guns and masks, portable light generators, horses, boats and airplanes and jail capacities.

This information will make it possible for police authorities to "cope with any situation that might arise," Garrison said. "The state will be divided into 14 districts, and should a planned disorder or other emergency arise, additional qualified law enforcement officers would be asked to go to the affected area to assist the local officers."

Colonel Garrison also revealed that a comprehensive survey is being made of all Texas defense projects and industries essential to national defense, and the plans are being drawn for their protection against sabotage.

RUN OVER BY TRAIN, GEORGIA INFANT IS HURT ONLY SLIGHTLY

AGATEVILLE, Ga. — A gap where her front teeth had been and a few bruises were the only injuries nursed by a two-and-a-half-year-old child after four cars of a freight train had passed over her body.

A child, daughter of a farm couple, was playing on the tracks when a 20-car train struck her, knocking her between the tracks. Crewmen stopped the train after four cars had rolled over her.

THE PASSING OF THE Boomtown

Oil boomtowns exist today only in the movies. The old-time "gusher" wells are gone forever.

In the early days, as long as oil flowed, the boomtowns flourished. But soon the wells failed and the booms collapsed, carrying with them the income and security of those who had depended on them.

Today, through a sound program of conserving oil and gas, hundreds of Texas communities are enjoying a permanent type of petroleum development. Furthermore, because of conservation, we have the largest oil reserves in the world, one of our greatest assets for National Defense.

Oil now builds stable communities. It provides assured tax revenues and greater ultimate tax returns than were ever possible in boomtown days. And every citizen benefits from the income oil creates.

Conservation not only protects Texas oil resources. It also assures for many years the prosperity which oil brings to every community where it is found.

Two interesting characters in the Bible are Enoch and Methuselah. Enoch is noted for the fact that he "walked with God; and he was not; for God took him." He was the first man to be translated. Methuselah is remembered because he lived to be 969 years old. He lived longer than any other man. However, Enoch has projected his life through all succeeding generations by his righteousness and has actually lived longer and been a greater blessing than his son Methuselah whose earthly life was 964 years longer.

We may deduct from the above that it is not a matter of how long we live but how well. Our lives are projected by what we do, good or bad, and that life is most valuable that does the most good.

It is not a matter of how long you have lived in Ozona but how well have you lived here? What support and interest have you shown in the religious life of the community? What place have you given religion in your life? Is our progressive school system what it is because of your support? How much have you helped the other fellow in Ozona? In short, has your life been a process of getting or giving?

Not all of us will live long but all of us can live well. We can link ourselves to the great God of the universe and by giving ourselves to Him and our fellow man we can immortalize our names for the generations to come. Let us resolve now that we will walk closer to Him.

Miss Dorothy Capps is visiting relatives in Coleman.

trees all lived, which goes to show that Crockett County's soil and climate will produce vegetation, if man does his part."

In stressing the soundness and security of Crockett's social and economic life and notable progress in all fields, Judge Davidson mentioned prominently its wonderful school system, the fire-proof public buildings, the Ozona National Bank, the Hotel Ozona, and other institutions.

He mentioned the opening of Ozona's two room school with no money for teachers' salaries, finally secured by public subscription. He told how the fire-proof public buildings saved insurance money, and how the hotel was so constructed that additional stories could be added whenever needed. He commended the publisher of The Ozona Stockman for the forthcoming 80-page Historical Edition in commemoration of the county's golden anniversary. And he referred to the strong financial status of the Ozona National Bank with over a million and half dollars in deposits. And he added, these are but a few instances of Crockett County's remarkable progress and notable greatness.

As principal speaker for the day, Hon. Dorsey B. Hardeman, was introduced by master of ceremonies, N. W. Graham. The San Angelo attorney and legislator spoke with expressive sincerity when he stated that he was always glad to come to Ozona and be regarded as one of Crockett County's own sons, even though he was a new comer to these parts. He recalled his address here in 1939 at the unveiling of the David Crockett monument in the city park.

An eloquent expression of appreciation for the privilege of being an American and living in a free country was voiced by Mr. Hardeman. With planes from the army training school at San Angelo flying overhead at intervals, the speaker referred to them and the comparison with the reaction in the peaceful Ozona Park to these planes and that in the bomb-plagued cities of Europe today.

"The drone of those motors to us means security and peace," the speaker declared. "These old timers, these forbears whom we honor here today have left us a priceless heritage that is our responsibility to preserve. We in America today wear the greatest title earth can bestow, the title of freemen and free citizens. There are two classes of peoples, citizens and slaves, one an emblem of pride, the other of shame and degradation."

The great heritage of freedom and citizenship can be lost, as it has been lost in Europe. Mr. Hardeman declared, by indifference and inactivity, failure to use the right that is given us by the title of citizen. America is the last bulwark of freedom in the world, he said, and that freedom

Big Lake's Old Settler Reunion Slated Aug. 15-16

Free Barbecue, Roping, Dancing To Feature 2-Day Meet

Preparations are being made to entertain and feed thousands of visitors and old settlers at Reagan County's annual Old Settlers' Reunion at Big Lake Aug. 15-16, it was announced by M. A. Wilson, general chairman of the two-day affair, who was a visitor at Crockett County's Golden Anniversary reunion Tuesday.

The free barbecue dinner will be cooked by R. J. Cook of Ozona, noted for his barbecue cooking throughout West Texas.

Features of the program will be patriotic speaking by Rep. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo, and other well known speakers; rodeos both afternoons, modern and old-time square dances on open air platforms; Walton Poage, one of the best calf ropers in the nation and Reagan County's favorite, will be matched with another roper equally as good in a 10-calf roping event each day.

The free-for-all calf roping each day will be "open to the world," with added monies to the entrance fees. In addition, there will be roping for boys under 15 and one for older boys.

A feature of the riding will be "Bus" Lindley, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lindley of Stiles, astride a two-year-old Brahma.

Old-timers from as far away as Chicago, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico have been attending the annual reunion and larger crowds are expected this year.

can be preserved more certainly by a desire and determination of its citizens to do so than by protective concrete and steel defenses.

Mr. Hardeman emphasized the fact that to protect your land and homes, true citizenship is essential. "We hear of corruption in politics and of illegal voting in this country today," he said, "but at least every voting citizen can go to the polls and mark his choice on the ballot without duress or a bayonet sticking in his back."

"No government is stronger than the public opinion that supports it," the speaker said. "Character is the basis of existence of America, upon it she is founded and upon it she bases her hope for the future. And I give it as my opinion that no American is ever going to submit to tyranny for temporary gains, and that starry flag we love shall ever remain a banner of freedom."

Rotarians Credited With Attendance By Eating Free Dinner

Members of the Ozona Rotary Club who were on hand for the old settlers reunion and barbecue dinner in the park Tuesday noon got credit for attendance at the club this week.

This was the agreement reached at the club meeting last week when it was decided to abandon the regular luncheon in favor of the county birthday celebration. Secretary Ralph Cabaness was on hand to check the members attending the barbecue dinner for attendance credit.

My Servel Electrolux Refrigerator was installed in my kitchen March 1, 1929, and has been on the job ever since. It has not cost a cent for repairs in more than twelve years continuous operation. It's the same as scarcely larger than the pilot light on range or water heater so we have figured that the cost of operation has never exceeded 2c per day even during the hottest months when so many ice cubes are needed.

Not only do we have plenty of cubes and space for ice cream, but vegetables are kept crisp and fresh; and there is steady, constant refrigeration at a temperature under 40° for milk, butter, and most foods that must have just that to be safe for human consumption.

put up the equivalent of the amount bid.

Jess Elrod, San Angelo Commission man, opened the auction for the handsome bed covering with a bid of $20. As the offered price neared the $100 mark, the bidding resolved itself into a "duel of greenbacks" between Mr. Elrod and Mr. Perner with Crockett Countians cheering lustily for the latter to keep the prize at home. And he did.

The Woman's Society for Christian Service bought the material for the quilt, cut it and assigned a block to each member to sell at 25 cents for the central square and 10 cents for the eight small component squares. These squares were to bear the embroidered name or names of the sponsor or sponsors if more than one. Then the selling members was commissioned to embroider the individual names on her respective squares. Five hundred nine names of prominent Crockett County citizens appear on the quilt. The proceeds of the auction amounting to $105 will go toward a fund being raised to retire the debt incurred in renovating the Methodist parsonage recently.

expected to be pumped into the city storage tank today. The test pump installed by the drillers is to be left in the hole and used by the district administrators until the new equipment to be purchased for the purpose arrives, it was announced by Joe North, board chairman.

Immediate plans were made for drilling a second and emergency well at a point about 160 feet southwest of the location for the first well. Mr. Crowder and his crew will drill the second well. Pumps capable of producing 200 gallons of water a minute are to be installed in both wells. Orders for this equipment have been placed and delivery of the first to equip the newly completed well is expected within the next few weeks.

As soon as both wells are equipped with the new pumps, present antiquated equipment in use in the five wells which supply the city is to be abandoned. One of the pumps in the new wells, capable of producing 200 gallons a minute, will be ample to supply the city's needs, it was pointed out, and both together will be able to supply more than three times as much as the city will use each day.

The big well was drilled to a total depth of 450 feet. Water bearing stratum was encountered at 417 feet. Drilling through the soft formation, the drill bit dropped nearly 20 inches and water rose more than 60 feet in the hole. The hole was deepened about 20 feet last week before the new pump was installed.

Completion of the two wells and production of the city's water supply from one well operating at a time will materially reduce operating costs of the local plant, it was pointed out, as well as providing an ample supply of water. When funds have been accumulated to make necessary additions to the distribution system, new and larger mains and additional supply lines, it is hoped that the local water rate can be sharply reduced, administrators declare.

Released

P. G. Wodehouse, noted British author, is free again. He was captured by the Germans in the fall of France, and has been released from the Silesian internment camp and granted full freedom within Germany. He is shown here (left) on visit to Berlin.

Plans are being drawn now, Mr. North announced, for a new storage tank to be erected on the hill, probably north of the present half-million-gallon storage tank. The new tank is to be smaller in diameter but higher, thus providing ample volume and pressure, and is to be covered as a health precaution.

Use of the present storage tank as a public swimming pool by next summer is envisioned by the water works administrators. Plans for this step which have been under consideration call for improvements and beautification of the tank and surrounding area, building of a false bottom over a part of the tank to provide facilities for small children and installation of diving boards and other swimming pool equipment. Water drained from the pool would be used in irrigation of the city park and school grounds and the tank would serve as reserve storage in case of serious fire outbreaks, chlorinating equipment to be installed in case of such emergency.

Masterpiece Filmed In Mexico City Much of "Blood and Sand" Technicolor

Two Bulls Were Imported For Film At Cost Of $6,500 Each

Vicente Blasco Ibanez' famous novel, "Blood and Sand" comes to the screen of the Ozona Theatre on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, July 29, 30 and 31, amidst a blaze of Technicolor reflecting the tempestuous stirring Spanish life that was magnificent while it lasted.

This 20th Century-Fox film, produced by Darryl F. Zanuck and starring Tyrone Power, owes much of its thrilling spectacle, its panorama of color, and unforgettable scenery to the fact that Director Rouben Mamoulian took a troupe of 300 actors and technicians to Mexico City where a good part of the picture was made.

It was the first time in years that an entire troupe trekked out of the United States for foreign locales. But it was necessary. An authentic Spanish background was needed for this story of the humble hungry urchin who became his country's greatest hero, only to succumb to the wiles of a beautiful temptress. And Mexico City is one of the few places in the new world that retains the beauty, the color, and the vibrantly rich Spanish atmosphere of the old.

Tyrone Power and other members of the cast, who appear with him in the thrilling bullfight scenes, were coached by the leading matadors of Mexico and Spain in the intricacies of bullfighting footwork.

Realism was carried as far as importing two bulls from Spain for their appearance in "Blood and Sand." They are no ordinary bulls, but are from the celebrated Muira herd, the same breed that was the nemesis of the hero of "Blood and Sand," and they cost $6,500 each.

Linda Darnell and Rita Hayworth, Tyrone Power's love interest, and top featured players, appear in lavish surroundings. As an international adventuress, Rita's screen home is one of the most spectacular and extravagant "rendezvous" to be seen in the movies. To bring it to the screen cost the studio $80,000.

Other members of this magnificent cast include Nazimova, Anthony Quinn, J. Carrol Naish, John Carradine, Lynn Bari, Laird Creger and Vicente Gomez. Robert T. Kane was the associate producer and Jo Swerling wrote the screen play.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Childress, W. T. Childress, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Weaver and children and Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Childress all were here from Balmorhea for the celebration and reunion Tuesday.

Mrs. W. R. Phillips, Mrs. J. E. Newkirk, and Mrs. E. A. Crisman, and son, Ervin Allen, Jr., spent Monday in San Angelo.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, July 21 — STANDARDIZATION—Want to buy a wheelbarrow? Not many folks do, of course, but just to illustrate the standardization and simplification trend—which is due to be speeded up now under pressure of the defense program—it's pointed out that wheelbarrows now come in only 41 different sizes; there used to be 125! Donald M. Nelson, purchasing director of OPM, has announced a government program designed to save scarce defense materials by simplifying hundreds of non-defense consumer goods. This has been going on, in a mild way, for some 15 years, but from now on there will be much greater restriction on stocking of odd sizes and styles. It should be one of the least of the hardships of civilian co-operation for defense. Other examples of standardization during the last 15 years, that the average customer hasn't even noticed; shotgun shells have been reduced from an array of 4,600 different types to less than 350; more than 8,000 sizes and varieties of abrasive paper and cloth have been reduced to less than 2,000; and where there used to be 5,000 kinds of spades and shovels, there are now only about 1,000.

THE WOMAN BUYS—The female of the species is wealthier than the male. Women in the United States control 70 per cent of all private wealth, and they spend more than a thousand dollars every second. They buy 90 per cent of all food, 95 per cent of all furniture, 75 per cent of all clothing. They even purchase 63 per cent of all men's ties! But, as a leading woman's educator points out, "they own the money, they spend the money, and yet they never learn much about money." Since money is so clearly woman's responsibility, declares James Madison Wood, president of Stephens College, "she must be educated for the job." The head of the Columbia, Mo., women's junior college has long been recognized for the "practical-minded" preparation his school gives its girls, teaching them sound budgeting principles, home management, personal finances. But there are 37,000,000 adult able-bodied women in America, and their estimated collective holdings exceed $210,000,000,000. The training of this giant army of women, Dr. Wood contends, can strengthen our financial structure and do its share in bolstering democracy here at home.

BITS O' BUSINESS — Electric output for the nation last week ran 18.5 per cent ahead of a year ago

Mexico Makes Land Expropriation Payment

Mexican ambassador Dr. Don Francisco Najera (right) hands acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles the Mexican government's check for $1,000,000, in payment of the amount due on account of the claims of American citizens whose lands in Mexico have been expropriated since August 30, 1927, under the Mexican agrarian program.

The nation's machine tool manufacturers are almost doubling their 1940 production rate—shipments for the first six months being $348,000,000 worth, or 93.3 per cent more than in first half of 1940; almost all workers in that trade are in companies on a two- or three-shift basis. Sales of General Electric in three months ending June 30 were 62 per cent higher than for the same period last year, but net income after all charges and taxes gained only about 7 per cent. Nation's department stores still doing fine, with sales for week ending June 12 up 19 per cent over corresponding week of year before—the gain for four-weeks period was 21 per cent. Apparently British housewives are as brand-conscious as Americans—and for American brands; they object to getting specially-packed shipments that don't show the brand names.

SHORTER WEEK — The first five-day week in the history of the grocery business, given last May to 7,000 retail employees of the A & P's eastern division, has worked out well enough that the five-day, 48-hour week is now being extended throughout the company's whole chain "as far and as fast as possible." John A. Hartford, president of the company, noted that in some localities adoption may be delayed or even prevented by state and local labor regulations and local agreements. Company officials pointed out, in connection with the move, that "low prices and good working conditions can and do go hand in hand," and cited A & P's annual report to stockholders. They said "it shows that our customers are currently enjoying the lowest retail prices in relation to our costs in the history of the grocery industry; that during 1940 our growers and shippers received 13 per cent more of the consumer's food dollar than in 1937; and that we were still able last year to give our employees actual wage increases and added compensation totaling more than $4,000,000." Stores will continue to be open six days a week, and salaries will remain the same as for the six-day week.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR — Cooling idea for ladies' watches is to surround them in a small cube of transparent plastic, so that they look as though they were frozen in the middle of an ice cube. If you're joining the Navy, watch for tarpaulins made of woven glass—said to be lighter in weight than canvas, and unaffected by sea water or salt air. Carolina Aniline and Extract company has a new synthetic chemical to be mixed with any paint to prevent mildew on painted surfaces. Jitterbugs needn't worry about any war shortage of imported bamboo reeds for saxophones and clarinets, for there's a new line of plastic reeds out, in five degrees of stiffness. Possible bargains in regulation "girls' bicycles"—for the present styles call so insistently for wearing slacks or shorts that bike dealers are worried that the models built to accommodate skirts may become a drug on the market. Electric lights on auto dashboards to flash when the generator is not charging, or when oil pressure sinks to the danger point. Sugar is the latest food to be impregnated with vitamins. An orange-nut bread is latest to join the canned bread ranks.

TEXAS LEADS IN

Austin—A state department of agriculture bulletin issued recently said Texas led the nation in oil, gas, wool, roses, sheep, goats, hides, cotton, mohair, pecans, onions, mutton, helium, spinach, turkeys, sulphur, highways, pipe lines, beef cattle, cotton seed, carbon black, land in farms, sorghum grains, number of farms, railroad mileage, mineral production, acres of cultivated land, total number of domestic animals.

STUDENT PASSES ADVANCED TEST, FLUNKS EASY ONE

AUSTIN — The University of Texas offers the case of Louis Engleke, Galveston senior: Engleke who has studied Spanish a half-year reported for an examination which was intended to cover a year's work. By mistake he took a two year exam. He rushed back and took the one-year exam. He passed the two-year test, failed the one-year.

Oil Field Cash for USO

Reoustabouts, drillers, producers, farmers and town people chipped in their change and put Hutchinson County more than $500 over its quota for the United Service Organizations. Here J. C. Phillips (left), editor and manager of the Borger Daily Times, director of the USO drive for Hutchinson County, is handing E. B. Germany, Dallas, Southwestern regional chairman, a check for $2,000. Germany flew to the Panhandle city to receive the check and to thank the Hutchinson County committee.

Linda Darnell Co-Stars In "Blood and Sand" Film At Ozona Theatre July 29-31

Linda Darnell really is the sweet young lady she appears to be on the screen. The beautiful raven-haired Texan, who shares top-featured billing with Rita Hayworth in the 20th Century-Fox technical film, "Blood and Sand," starring Tyrone Power, still blushes every time she goes into a romantic scene in the movies.

In "Blood and Sand," coming Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, July 29, 30 and 31, to the Ozona Theatre, which was produced by Darryl F. Zanuck, she had plenty of occasion to blush, for she had seven very, very romantic scenes with Tyrone. One of her kisses lasted ten seconds, which is a long one for Hollywood these days.

Despite the fact that she shied away from love scenes, Linda has nevertheless become one of the top romantic stars of the 20th Century-Fox lot. The studio is well aware of this and is gradually easing her into romantic roles.

Whatever quails the lovely star experiences each time she goes before the camera are not in evidence in her acting. Her performance in "Day-Time Wife," "Chad Hanna," and "The Mark of Zorro" were flawless exhibitions of poise.

Linda's irresistible charm and beauty have even won over the sophisticated University of Michigan student body. Richard C. Ar buckle, one of the leaders of the J-Hop, the university's principal social function of the year, recently wrote to Miss Darnell to tell her that she had been voted the most beautiful young woman in the nation, and invited her to reign as queen at their dance.

This isn't the first time that Linda's outstanding beauty has won popular acclaim. Just before she appeared in motion pictures, she was the official greeter for Dallas, Texas, at the time the Pan-American Exposition was meeting there.

She wasn't chosen for her beauty alone, but also for her intelligence and charm. She was one of the top-notch students of the Dallas High School, and won several prizes for history. She is also a talented artist and can discuss Surrealism and Van Gogh with as much facility as she can turn in a good acting performance.

In "Blood and Sand" she has had all the inspiration a young actress can hope for to do her best. Her supporting cast includes such names as Nazimova, Anthony Quinn, J. Carrol Naish, John Carradine, Lynn Bari, Laird Creger and Vicente Gomez.

Rouben Mamoulian directed from the screen play by Jo Swerling which was based on the famous novel by Vicente Blasco Ibanez.

Rev. A. R. Watson of Christal, father of Ralph Watson of Ozona, and a pastor of the Ozona Baptist Church some forty years ago, was among Crockett County agitators here for the reunion Tuesday. Rev. Watson came Saturday to spend a few days with his wife and family here.

Century Plant Not So Rare In Davis Mountains Section

In the east and midwest, century plants in bloom are big news. The papers make much of the blooming plants, with pictures and write-ups.

But travelers in the Davis mountains find that seeing a century plant in bloom is no great thrill—in fact, it almost becomes monotonous. Dotted the hillsides along the road are hundreds of century plants in full bloom. Sometimes patches containing ten and more plants can be seen.

A small park at the intersection of the Pecos-Balmorhea and Fort Stockton-Balmorhea highways near Balmorhea is almost covered with blooming century plants. At least ten such plants are in full flower there.

A small roadside parking spot just west of the roadside park near Mertzton also has its blooming century plant.

Blooming century plants may be rare in the east but in their native habitat, this year at least, they are far from unusual.

Children Learn ABC's of Broadcasting

"Mike fright" will never inhibit these third grade pupils of Texas State College for Women's demonstration school. All Denton children, Bobby Schmitt, Betty Ray Peters, John Edward Tabor, and Elizabeth McPherson have set up a complete radio broadcasting unit this summer and are now thoroughly familiar with the broadcasting process from the writing of program scripts to the actual transmission of sound.

5,000 Take Exams For Patrol Jobs

AUSTIN, July 22—Approximately 5,000 young Texans will take examinations for Highway Patrol and Drivers License Examiner jobs in mid-August, state police director, Homer Garrison, Jr., said today.

Three thousand applications already have been received and another 2,000 are expected before the July 29 deadline, he said. Application forms are obtained only by writing the Department of Public Safety in Austin, and must be executed and returned by July 29.

An eight-week training school will begin early in September at Camp Mabry for the more than 100 successful applicants.

7% Increase In Traffic Deaths First 6 Months

AUSTIN, July 23—With 140 traffic deaths reported for June, State Police statisticians today announced a seven per cent increase in Texas fatalities for the first six months of 1941.

In the first half of 1940 there were 787 deaths; this year the toll for that period rose to 843, an increase of 56.

Worst record was made by towns of under 2,500 population, where fatalities jumped 29 per cent, from 38 to 49.

Highway deaths increased from 429 to 514, a gain of 85 or 20 per cent.

Thirty-two fewer persons were killed on county roads, where the toll was reduced from 138 to 106, a drop of 32, or 23 per cent.

Cities recorded a bare reduction of four per cent with a saving of eight lives, their toll dropping from 182 to 174.

Military personnel was involved—either as drivers, passengers or pedestrians—in 10 per cent of all the fatal collisions, said Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., state police director.

Dallas, co-winner with Kansas City last year for the nation's top safety award, took fourth place in the rating of cities of more than 100,000 population. Fort Worth and Houston showed a decrease of one death each; San Antonio remained on par with last year's record, and Dallas recorded an increase of one death.

Coates, Sonny Brock and Shorty Colquitt.

Entry fee of $3 each and 19 entries made the calf tie-down event of money interest to the contestants. Tom Powers captured first place in a time of 22.4 seconds, P. C. Perner copped second money in 25.5 seconds and Spot Friend was third in a time of 30.2 seconds. Others competing in this roping event were Dock Lee, B. B. Ingham, Lee Dudley, Bill Childress, Jake Miller, Joe T. Davidson, Lewis Doran, Phillip Schneemann, Joe Couch, Raymond Williams, Levold Parker, John Coates, Gordon Powers, Beecher Montgomery, D. A. Parker and Lewis Powers.

A pick-up load of wild Spanish goats, scarcely larger than jack rabbits, tested the skill of a group of boy ropers entered in the goat roping contest. Despite the inherently cussed nature of the goat, and their diminutive size, five out of the 11 boys under 18 competing in the event were successful in snaring the unpredictable goats for time.

Bud Cox took first money in the event when he twisted and turned to snare his salty critter and tie him fast in 20.1 seconds. Boochie Coates connected with his loop to win second place in 27.6 seconds and Roy Coates was third in 41 seconds flat. Other entries were Charles McDonald, Tom Ed Montgomery, James Chapman, Raymond Williams, Sonny Brock, Shorty Colquitt, Donald Wilson and Pee Wee Smith.

Stephen Perner might well have paraphrased the familiar old music school advertising line—"They laughed when I sat down to play"—when he "rode out to race" in the barrel race, a novelty race which depends not so much on speed but on cutting ability of the horse. Stephen and his favorite mount chopped the closely contested event by circling the four barrels set up at the corners of a rectangle in the arena area in 23.4 seconds. Lewis Powers was a close second in 23.6 seconds, and Lewis Doran took third money in 23.7 seconds.

That the saddle horses entered in this event were evenly matched is understanding it. Between the winning fast time and the slowest time of the contest there were but 3.3 seconds. Other times were Dock Lee, 25.3; Lee Dudley, 25; Tom Powers, 24.7; Jake Miller, 26.7; P. C. Perner, 24.7. Bill Childress and John Coates had hard luck when their horses cut too close and upset the barrel, disqualifying the contestants.

In the ribbon calf roping, another fat purse event, with $3 entry fee and 29 entries, Beecher Montgomery took first money, Lee Dudley, second, and Jim Parker third.

The men, too, took a try at the goat roping, and the percentage of catches was every bit as low as the boys. John Coates received a rousing cheer from the stands when he snagged the elusive goat to tie him in 14.3 seconds. Beecher Montgomery was second with a close 14.6 seconds and Gordon Powers was third in 18.3. James Childress, Phillip Schneemann and B. B. Ingham were the only other ropers, out of a field of 20 entrants, who were able to catch.

A slow-horse race, in which owners traded horses and tried to outrun their own horses, the purse going to the slowest animal. It was between L. B. Cox and Dock Lee, L. B. being the winner.

Several matched roping events closed the afternoon's program. B. B. Ingham and D. A. Parker matched skill on five calves each, B. B. nosing out his opponent by 10.2 seconds on total time. Ingham's time on the five calves was 148.3 seconds to 158.6 for Parker.

Dock Lee and Tom Powers beat P. C. Perner and Bill Childress in a matched roping in which each roped three calves. Total times were 153.6 for Lee and Powers to 185.4 for Perner and Childress. Levold Mitchell copped a match against Raymond Williams on three calves each, times being 99.7 seconds to 105.6. A matched horse race between Lee Dudley and Dudley Ingham a distance of 220 yards was won by Dudley Ingham.

Four grade school boys spiced the afternoon's program by riding the wild Brahma calves. They were Chappo Morrison, Kerry Tandy, Max Word and Tom Ed Montgomery.

Safety is an ally, not an alibi.

SENATORS AT PLAY

First Officials Of Crockett Unable To Attend Celebration

Judge W. Van Sickle of Alpine, first district attorney of the first district court in Crockett County, and E. K. Fawcett of Del Rio, who as tax assessor of Val Verde County, assessed the first taxes in this county while it was still a part of Val Verde, each was invited to attend Crockett County's 50th Anniversary celebration Tuesday but were unable to be here.

Names of these two "firsts" in Crockett's illustrious history were mentioned by N. W. Graham, master of ceremonies at the birthday exercises, as having been invited to the celebration. Judge Van Sickle was prosecutor in the court held by District Judge Walter Gillis. Both he and Mr. Fawcett expressed their regrets at not being able to be present.

Texas Utilities Company, generously supplied for the day's events, blared forth martial airs and popular melodies.

Community singing, led by A. J. Wylie, of San Angelo, opened the program. Patriotic songs, America and God Bless America, interspersed the singing of old favorites like "I Want A Girl Just Like The Girl That Married Dear Old Dad" and "Swanee River."

County attorney, N. W. Graham, ably demonstrated his ability as Master of Ceremonies and his first introduction was that of two musical entertainers from San Angelo, Miss Rickey McNorton, accordionist, and Don Lummus, pianist.

Before the introduction of Judge Chas. E. Davidson as speaker, a picture was taken of old-timers who reported being here when Crockett County was organized on July 22, 1891. Mother Hoover, the first white lady in this country east of the Pecos, came in for her share of attention and with Judge and Mrs. Davidson led the dwindling legion of early settlers who received full tribute throughout the day.

In his forceful talk, vigorously delivered (though he talked into the "mike" under duress) Judge Davidson narrated events of interest in connection with the county's origin and early history. Rep. Dorsey B. Hardeman, in the main address, paid tribute to the prominent families of Crockett who played a major role in the development of the county. He eulogized the early pioneer spirit, urged preservation of the heritage handed down by the first settlers and blessed the American mode of living under the stars and stripes of freedom and liberty. An account of the speaker's remarks are given elsewhere in this paper.

Prior to Tuesday's celebration, the Crockett County Historical Society placed a marker on the live-oak tree under which the first Commissioners Court was held. The plaque was placed Saturday by a committee from the Historical Society comprising Houston Smith, Claude Denham and Mrs. B. B. Ingham, with W. R. Baggett, society president.

After the patriotic meeting, the crowd flowed out to the Fair Grounds for the "home folks" rodeo and roping contests. Though but a ghost of the famous Crockett County rodeos held in the past, spirited contests thrilled the on-lookers who cheered repeatedly for their favorites. A dance on the platform at night closed an exciting and happy birthday for Crockett County under a brilliant canopy of stars and a wishful "Auld Lang Syne" for all.

Paisano Baptist Encampment Opens Tuesday, July 29

A dozen or more Ozona Baptists are expected to attend all or a part of the 21st annual session of the Paisano Baptist Encampment at historic Paisano Pass between Alpine and Marfa, in the Davis mountains, beginning July 29 and continuing through August 7.

Rev. Clyde Childers, pastor of the local church, will teach in the Sunday School Department on the topic "How To Win To Christ." Rev. Childers is also a member of the Young Peoples Activities Committee. Mary Frances, Louise and Joe Bean, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stewart, Sherwood Storey and Griffin Miller are among Ozonans who have indicated an intention to attend the encampment.

Preaching will be by Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, and Dr. Perry F. Webb of San Antonio. Dr. J. B. Tidwell of Baylor University, will be the Bible teacher, and Joe Trussell of Brownwood, will be the song leader, with Mrs. Sam Means of El Paso as song leader. A. C. Hoover of Ozona is one of the vice-presidents of the assembly. C. T. Mitchell of Marfa is president.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parsons from Kansas have joined the Ray seismograph crew. Mr. and Mrs. Parsons were formerly stationed in Ozona and have many friends here.
