Truman Says Tax Repeal Is Impossible Now

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (U.P.)—President Truman said today it will be impossible to repeal any excise taxes before the next session of Congress.

The President told a news conference the subject will require a great deal of research by Senate and House taxation committees as well as by the Treasury Department.

This was in line with views previously expressed by congressional leaders after Mr. Truman advocated repeal of the transportation tax on goods in his last economic message to Congress.

Rodeo Announcer Plugs Local Show At Lions Meeting

Reports and announcements dominated the Lions club program Wednesday.

Dittmann Mitchell, announcer for the rodeo, started the ball rolling with a plug for the 1949 Big Spring Western show.

He took occasion to pay a glowing tribute to Toots Mansfield, president of the Rodeo Cowboys Association and six times world's champion calf roper.

Smithwick Denied Bail, Held In Jail

ALICE, Aug. 4. — Sam Smithwick, accused of murdering Bill Mason, redman, was denied bond and jailed today at the conclusion of his examining trial.

Justice of the Peace Brown Full ordered Smithwick held in jail pending action of the grand jury now scheduled to meet Oct. 31.

Although H. M. Wilder, the defendant's attorney, had pleaded that Smithwick be given bond, Dist. Atty. Sam Reams insisted that in his opinion this was a capital case and that a jury would assess Smithwick the death penalty if he is found guilty.

The largest crowd ever to witness any case in Jim Wells County, attended today's hearing. More than 400 persons jammed the district courtroom and scores were outside.

The trial was resumed from last Wednesday. On Wednesday, Avellno Seener, the state's star eye witness, testified he saw the 66-year-old deputy sheriff shoot Mason last Friday while the veteran newspaperman sat in his automobile.

As the trial opened today, Dist. Atty. Reams said the state had no further witnesses to present. The defendant, a tall, 263-pounder dressed in khaki shirt and trousers, and wearing shiny tan cowboy boots, calmly sat chewing gum.

Wilder told the court: "At this time the defense is not going to introduce any testimony. However, we would like to ask the court in setting bond in this case to make a reasonable bond.

"I just talked to the district attorney and we have not been able to give on bond, and of course, judge, it will be in your discretion.

Mrs. FDR Will Return To UN Assembly Post

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (U.P.)—President Truman said today that he had rejected an offer by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt to resign from her United Nations post.

He said she will return to the next General Assembly as a delegate.

The President said that no reference to Mrs. Roosevelt's controversy with Francis Cardinal Spellman over benefits to parochial schools was contained in her letter.

He described it as the routine formal offer to resign that virtually all holders of diplomatic posts send in regularly.

A reporter brought up the subject at Mr. Truman's weekly news conference. The newsmen said he had been told that the widow of the late President had offered to resign her post with the United Nations.

(She is a member of the Human Rights Commission) because of her controversy with the Catholic prelate in New York.

Mr. Truman replied promptly that Mrs. Roosevelt offers her resignation every year. In the last case, he said she expressed no reason. Asked if he will accept the resignation, Mr. Truman replied she's going back to the United Nations.

Big Match Mystery Is Deepening

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (U.P.)—President Truman said today he is not acquainted with James V. Hunt, a former Army officer who has been mentioned in a Senate committee's inquiry into operations of "five percenters."

Mr. Truman made the statement at his news conference when he was told that a case of 2,500 books of pocket matches, inscribed with the name of James V. Hunt, was purchased last December by Hunt from the Universal Match Company in St. Louis.

The President said anybody could purchase those matches. He added, in answer to questions, that matches he frequently passes to White House guests were not given him by Hunt.

He said the reporters' information that Hunt had made the purchase of 2,500 such match folders was the first he had heard about it.

Roger White, attorney for Hunt, told a newsmen the matches were bought at the request of the White House for use on Mr. Truman's presidential campaign trip last fall.

Mr. Truman said he did not know Hunt, who is reportedly a friend of Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vamliar, V. Truman Army aide.

Senate investigators, meanwhile, indicated the first phase of the public inquiry into the activities of "five percenters" will deal with Army buying.

Our spending policies are already liberal enough — some will say, too liberal. This is certainly not the time for further liberalization as for any additional expenditures except in those fields where the necessity is inescapable.

Shivers said natural resources can stand some additional taxation, adding that the time was near when they will have been "fully exploited" and other sources will have to be found if heavy state spending continues.

Shivers said the only major job left unfinished by the last session of the Legislature was in providing for elementary buildings and support, and providing new facilities for the M. D. Anderson Cancer Hospital, the new medical branch of the University of Texas, the University of Texas Dental school and the Texas State University for Negroes.

Shivers Says State In Need Of New Taxes

AUSTIN, August 4. (U.P.)—Governor Allan Shivers has given Texans and their representatives his pattern of spending and taxation for next January's certain session of the Legislature.

State services that "we must have" will demand new taxes, Shivers said, but he drew sharp lines defining the musts.

These were limited to elementary and educational buildings, and money to support such services as those rendered by the state hospitals for the insane.

On general spending, Shivers in his first policy report to the people since he succeeded the late Beauford H. Jester as governor, had this to say:

"In recognition of changing business conditions, with the possibility before us of an economic recession, it is imperative that the taxation emergency must not be allowed to expand and convert itself into a more liberal permanent policy of spending and new taxes.

"Our spending policies are already liberal enough — some will say, too liberal. This is certainly not the time for further liberalization as for any additional expenditures except in those fields where the necessity is inescapable."

Shivers said natural resources can stand some additional taxation, adding that the time was near when they will have been "fully exploited" and other sources will have to be found if heavy state spending continues.

4,000 Centennial Certificates Sold Officials Report

Centennial certificate sales had moved past the 4,000 mark this morning as additional reports were tabulated from a city-wide canvass conducted by club women.

Several other reports were still outstanding this morning, officials said, and many of the club women are continuing canvass work.

Some who had not completed work in their assigned territory were submitting partial reports and retaining supplies of certificates to continue their work. Other workers were being urged to follow the same procedure.

Officials announced this morning that centennial certificates were distributed to residents of no less than 25 states by Earl Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Payne, who recently made a 10-day trip to Harrisburg, Pa., where they attended the national convention of Star Route Mail Carriers Association.

Evans, who is president of the Texas Star Route Carriers Organization, and Mr. and Mrs. Payne traveled in a station wagon covered with banners, placards and stickers which advertised the centennial. They distributed literature in the convention hotel and installed a large banner in the lobby, inviting all delegates to the centennial.

Evans and Payne both operate star routes out of Big Spring. Mrs. Payne is employed at the Settles hotel.

President May Agree To Some Curbs, However

WASHINGTON, August 4. (U.P.)—President Truman today rejected suggestions that he compromise in his request for $1,450,000,000 for arms aid to friendly nations.

Mr. Truman indicated at his news conference, however, that he does not oppose suggested congressional curbs in his broad authority to allocate the funds and specify nations to receive the aid.

He said the arms aid bill to implement the Atlantic Alliance should be passed by Congress as soon as possible and that the full amount sought should be granted.

Democrats and Republicans alike have agreed that Mr. Truman may not get all that he wants in the request for arms aid.

House Foreign Affairs Committee members appeared determined to trim the amount asked even after they received figures in Soviet military strength. They had a full day of closed door sessions yesterday with arms and State Department experts who helped draft the big arms aid program.

Mr. Truman said he does not care anything about black check authority to allot the arms aid money.

He said he is content to let Congress work out the details.

The important thing, he said, is to provide the money and provide it quickly.

The situation shaped up: 1. There is heavy sentiment to curb the broad grants of presidential authority proposed and spell out the amount of assistance to be given, the nations to receive it, and the conditions under which it shall be provided.

2. There is substantial sentiment for a sharp cut in the amount and duration of the program.

Instead of approving an arms aid plan to run through June 30, 1950, many committee members favor limiting it to next March 31, with the idea Congress can extend it if necessary. Those supporting this proposal would cut the financial authorization at least in half.

Hijacking Suspects Are Turned Over To El Paso Authorities

LeRoy Knight and Charles Webb, accused of hijacking in connection with the robbery of a California man, L. Veech, last week, have been turned over to El Paso authorities by Sheriff Bob Wolf.

The attack allegedly was committed in the mountains near El Paso. The two took Veech's car and money, beat him and finally chased him from the vehicle on a local street.

Knight and Webb were arrested in Lubbock and brought here for safekeeping.

W. P. Edwards Dies In San Angelo Today

Will P. Edwards, 80, pioneer rancher, former bank president and real estate developer, died in a San Angelo hospital at 12:30 a. m. Thursday.

He had been in failing health for the past 14 months and seriously ill for several months.

The body was to be brought to Big Spring at 5 p. m. to lie in state at the family residence, 523 Hillside. Time of funeral awaits the arrival of Will P. Edwards, Jr. who had been visiting in the Pacific Northwest.

Mr. Edwards, a native of Ft. Worth, Texas in Fayette county, where he was born in 1869, came to this area in September of 1899. As a young man he had engaged as a cotton buyer in Bryan, Waco and Waxahatchie.

From Tom Mabry he acquired the well-known Lucien Wells ranch in northern Glasscock county. Through the years he held to this spread, known to many who have never seen it by the famous H. W. Caylor painting which hangs in the First National bank.

When Marion M. Edwards, the eldest son, attained high school age, the family moved to Big Spring in 1910. During the winters Mr. Edwards resumed his practice of buying cotton, returning to the ranch in the spring. Later he became one of the best known cotton buyers in this area. Until his retirement a few years ago he still traded some in cotton.

In 1917 he acquired a ranch south of Coahoma, an operation purchased from him by Marion Edwards 12 years ago. The following year he purchased a 76-section spread 12 miles south of Odessa. This big ranch straddled the Ector-Crane line. Later he purchased a big ranch in Andrews county but sold it a few years ago.

When the Howard-Glasscock pool pushed westward to his Lucien Wells ranch in 1930, he got his first taste of oil production. The Edwards pool bears his name. This was but a forerunner of some fabulous wells which were developed a decade later in the Sand Hills of his Ector-Crane ranch.

At first he ran ungraded cows on his Glasscock ranch, but soon he disposed of these and thereafter devoted his operations to commercial Hereford production. Mr. Edwards also developed extensive

Want Ad Marriage Set For Saturday As Gal Says 'Yes'

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. Aug. 4. (U.P.)—An ex-soldier stepped up his romance today with the 18-year-old girl friend he found through a newspaper want ad.

He met Miss Irene Krebs Tuesday night after she answered his want ad. Their marriage date is set for Saturday.

More than 500 applicants answered Donaldson's ad in the St. Joseph News-Press and he chose Irene.

Premotion and commotion have swamped the young couple since they met.

They're going to have a public wedding.

"I've signed a contract with a manager to stage the wedding Saturday night," Donaldson said. "I don't know where it will be. We can't get the ball park or the municipal auditorium."

Irene said she thought at first the want ad for a bride was just a joke.

"I telephoned about 5 o'clock to find out what it was all about," she said. "I don't remember the conversation. It was all kind of stuttery."

"We made a date to meet in a drug store and I still thought it was a joke. I didn't think he'd be there."

"I got there late and met him. After I'd talked to him for a while I didn't know quite what was happening. I wasn't surprised when he proposed."

The 23-year-old former soldier came home from the service to find his old girl friends had married or moved away. Orville Montmore, his partner in a general contracting service, planned to be married Saturday so they decided to make it a double wedding.

Donaldson decided the best way to get a bride in a hurry was to use a want ad and include his telephone number.

The response was so great, it causes an overload on the telephone company's dial system.

"The telephone calls started arriving about every five minutes," Donaldson said. "Some of the girls thought it was a gag and just wanted to get in on it."

"But a couple of them cried when I turned them down."

He said he made dates to meet about a half dozen of them at a drug store.

"Did I make appointments for them all at the same time?" he was asked. "No-o-o. You want me to get hung at sunrise?"

Irene was the first of the girls he met.

He proposed the same night,

and she said "yes."

Prayer Long Used In War Against Insects

WASHINGTON, (AP)—In the long history of man's constant fight against grasshopper and locust plagues, the use of prayer has the best record of accomplishment. In Biblical times many plagues of locusts—the same insect as the grasshopper—were recorded as having been successfully wiped out by mass prayer.

The second year the Pilgrims were on the American continent their meager crops were attacked by swarms of what they described as grasshoppers. Their only weapon against the insects was prayer, and they prayed. History records that it worked. At least their crops were saved.

In the early days of the Mormon settlement in Utah, their very existence there was threatened by a locust plague. While they were all praying for deliverance from this pest, great swarms of seagulls came over and devoured practically all of the insects. A statue to the seagull stands in Salt Lake City today.

In 1878 the Governor of Missouri set aside one day for fasting and prayer in an attempt to combat the worst grasshopper outbreak in American history. Records show that after that the plague began to lessen and finally disappeared.

Every weapon against the grasshopper which so-called modern science has developed has failed to halt the periodic increases of that pest in the U. S.

One of the outstanding Department of Agriculture experts on the grasshopper, J. R. Parker, admits: "In reviewing the occurrence of grasshopper outbreaks and the development of grasshopper control during the last 100 years, it becomes apparent that in spite of greatly improved control practices and more intelligent appreciation of the problem by land owners and public agencies, there has been no marked decrease in the frequency and duration of outbreaks, or in the size of the area affected."

Anti-grasshopper methods have ranged from the screwball to the weird. A Texas farmer conceived the idea of raising flocks of turkeys in areas where there were continued outbreaks with the thought that they would eat the grasshoppers. The turkeys ate up all the grasshoppers they could hold, all right. But when the glutted turkeys fell asleep the grasshoppers ate off all of their feathers.

The "hopper-dozer" invention came along. This consisted of a giant metal scoop which was pushed along the ground in infested areas until millions of the insects were collected. After that kerosene was poured on them and ignited. Digging huge trenches in front of moving swarms to catch them for the kerosene treatment was part of the same plan. Both methods proved more costly than they were worth.

For years some control experts thought that late and early plowing was the answer—killing the eggs by this method. This practice has also been abandoned as too costly.

Spreading of poison bait by airplane is the newest method of fighting 'hoppers and said to be the most efficient of the scientific approaches yet devised. The Department of Agriculture now has more than 32 aircraft engaged in ably he worse next year and in 1951. Thousands of tons of bait are being spread over hundreds of thousands of acres throughout the west. Immediate results are encouraging. But there is no claim that such aerial warfare will in any measure reverse the new grasshopper cycle in the U. S. now in full swarm and which will probably be worse next year and in 1951.

IT WAS DEEP WHILE IT LASTED — Three boys wade hip-high at flooded street intersection in northwest Washington after a freak storm hit the area, blocking traffic and flooding house basements when the water reached almost 60 inches in some places. T-SHIRT REPLACES RED COAT

Santa Claus Already Making His Plans For Next Christmas

NORTH POLE, N. Y. (AP)—A little way up the road that climbs Whiteface Mountain, Santa Claus is sitting on his knees, making plans for next December.

Because it is summer, the red suit hangs in the closet most of the time and Santa wears a t-shirt, but the white beard is there and nobody, except maybe a youngster who had never seen his picture, would have any trouble recognizing him.

The little village just off the highway in Santa's Workshop, which suddenly appeared in the middle of the pine forest last month because six-year-old Patricia Reis began asking some questions as a couple of winters ago.

That was when Patricia was driving home from New York with her father, Julian Reis, a Lake Placid business man. The snow reminded her of Santa, and she wanted to know what he did when it wasn't Christmas.

Reis' answer was a little slow in coming, but he figured Santa must have a place where he worked all year round. Then he got the idea that a lot of other children besides Patricia would like to see where Santa worked.

He talked it over with Harold Fortune, a construction man who is as bombastic as Reis is quiet. Fortune owned 15 acres in the middle of the state-owned Whiteface Mountain area, and together they drew up plans for Santa's Workshop, a tourist attraction they feel confident nobody will be able to pass by as long as they have a child in the car with them.

To help, they called in 34-year-old Arto Monaco, a sensitive fugitive from Hollywood's cartoon studios who had retired to the village of Upper Jay, just down the valley from Whiteface, and gone into business building toys.

Because Monaco was likely to give away his hand-carved wooden toys that are caricatures of such things as trains, steamboats and circuses, he was almost ready to go out of business when Reis and Fortune came along. He helped design the new village, and since he'll keep on making toys, Monaco probably rates as No. 1 man to Santa.

Children get the favored treatment at the village. Parents just pay the freight and tag along. A pony cart takes the youngsters from the entrance gate and through the woods where white deer, goats, sheep, ducks and rabbits wander around. In the winter they'll ride in sleighs. There's a chute for the children to slide down into the village after the ride.

The nine little houses are huddled around a little lake like something out of a Swiss village, and in one of them sits Santa. Natives know him as Bill McDonald, a 68-year-old carpenter from Lake Placid. He rocks contentedly in his chair while his helpers—teen-age boys and girls in Tyrolean costumes—guide the children to him.

A girl dressed as Bo-Peep is one of the helpers, although nobody knows what Bo-Peep actually has to do with Santa. But Patricia Reis is a sort of helper ex-officio this summer, too, and she wears a flamboyant blouse and shorts.

Bill (Santa) McDonald claims he could grow his own beard for the job if his neighbors wouldn't kid him about it.

And maybe next year he will, he says, providing too many of the 100,000 visitors expected this summer and fall don't yank at the false whiskers he's wearing now.

Canadians estimate their country has 1,200,000 square miles of forested area.

CIO To Represent Chance Vought Men

DALLAS, Aug. 4 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers yesterday won the right to represent 4,130 workers at the Chance Vought aircraft plant here.

Erwin A. Elliott, National Labor Relations Board regional director, revealed these results of a special election called by the NLRB: The UAW collected 2,481 votes, or about 63 per cent of the total vote. The International Assn. of Machinists (Independent) had 853 votes, and 718 workers voted against any union.

The AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers won Chance Vought's maintenance electricians by getting 43 votes. The UAW had three votes, the IAM none, and three workers voted against union representation.

DISEASE PROBABLY CONTAGIOUS

Simple Precautions May Help You To Avoid Poliomyelitis

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—There is no known way to keep from getting polio—infantile paralysis—but there are a lot of things you can do that might help.

The trouble is that no one knows how the invisible protein particles, the viruses which cause the disease, are carried from person to person. They are small enough to float in air, or to be caught on, in or by anything whatever.

Millions of dollars have been spent vainly trying to learn how this virus travels. If you suspect, for example, that the virus is in a bit of food, it takes nearly a month and perhaps $500 to make sure. And then another month to learn whether the virus moved to some other suspected place.

Many facts have been learned. And common sense fills in the gaps.

Human beings certainly carry the virus while they are sick. They almost certainly get it in what goes into their mouths. Their throats contain the virus when they are ill.

If that were all, the breaking of the polio chain would be easier. But now comes the hard part. You, the mother of a family, can have this disease, without being sick, and without a chance to know you have it. And you can give it to your child, or the child of your

Japan's Economic Program Concluded

TOKYO, Aug. 4. (AP)—Gen. MacArthur's controversial program for breaking up Japan's economic giants ended Wed. The allied occupation commander said it was "accomplished effectively."

Eleven big corporations were tagged for deconcentration by a five-man review board which came here from Washington 15 months ago to make recommendations on 325 firms listed as "excessive concentrations." The board recommended divestment of certain holdings for nine others.

The 325 companies were selected for board action out of about 1,200 which had been affiliated with the Zaibatsu holding companies. Through this powerful setup, headquarters said, "a small number of families exercised all-pervasive control over the industry, commerce and finance of Japan."

From its beginning, the deconcentration program was a matter of hot international and domestic debate. In the United States as well as Japan some called it "socialization." Others criticized it as "fragmentation of industry."

A press statement issued today by MacArthur's headquarters said: "The elimination of monopolistic economic power which dominated prewar Japan, life has been accomplished effectively without adverse effect upon, and no 'fragmentation' of finance or industry."

"On the contrary, competent observers point to the 50 per cent increase in production along with stabilization during the past year as evidence of the growing health of the Japanese economy."

Some observers in Japan have called the program a success. Others have labelled it a failure.

Lubbock Man Dies In Car Collision

TRINIDAD, Colo., Aug. 4. (AP)—Emmett Busch of Lubbock was killed and three other Lubbock residents injured in a two-car collision near here last night.

Busch died in the Trinidad hospital after suffering a fractured skull in the smashup five miles south of here on U. S. 5.

Other Lubbock residents injured were: William R. Busby, 25, head injuries; Spurgeon Stewart, 22, head injuries.

A fourth Lubbock man, William E. Hicks, 22, who was asleep on the back seat of the car, suffered cuts.

Highway Patrolman James Hughes, who investigated, said the northbound car driven by Busch smashed head-on with a southbound car driven by John Bryson of Denver. Bryson's 7-year-old son was also in the Trinidad hospital suffering internal injuries.

Joanne Dru Plans To Marry Actor

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4. (AP)—Joanne Dru, actress and former wife of Singer Dick Haymes, says she will wed actor John Ireland, possibly this week end in Santa Fe, N. M.

Haymes recently married Errol Flynn's ex-wife, the former Nora Edington.

Tidelands Battle Looms In Congress

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—The tidelands dispute will be fought out in Congress.

Instead of one compromise measure agreed upon in advance by all parties, two significantly different bills will be presented.

One bill—supported by Atty. Gen. Clark and Secretary of Interior Krug—will provide for federal management of all tidelands except those within bays and harbors and under navigable rivers.

Oil tideland states will back the other measure. It will provide for state management of submerged coastal lands for three miles from shore, except off Texas. Texas claims jurisdiction of ten and one half miles under the treaty under which it joined the Union in 1845.

Spencer Rayburn told of the breakdown in attempts to get all-around agreement on a compromise measure.

Both bills should be ready for introduction in the House and Senate today, Rayburn said. He expressed hope Congress will choose one and send it to the President for his signature before adjournment.

Rayburn said there was another point on which the two sides were at odds. It is on when the legislation should be effective.

Amethyst Blasted By Red Artillery

HANKING, Aug. 4. (AP)—Official British sources said Wed. the ship Amethyst was hit at least once by artillery fire last Saturday night as she ran a gauntlet of Chinese Communist shore guns along the Yangtze.

These sources said a Communist shell hit and set afire what appeared to be a Chinese gunboat on the river in an effort to cripple or sink the Amethyst. The ship had been held hostage of the river since last April 20.

(The Communist radio in Peiping yesterday said the Amethyst sank a Chinese ship on the river, killing "several hundred" persons in a row.)

George Marshall's Advice Is Worthy Of Solons' Attention

George Catlett Marshall became chief of the new plan division of the War Department in October of 1939, and along with this job served as deputy chief of staff of the Army. He became acting chief of staff in July of 1940, and on September 1 of that year was made chief of staff with the rank of full general.

Then the former chief of staff reminded Congress of some recent history. If, he said, Congress had granted his military requests in 1939, fifty billion dollars and hundreds of thousands of lives would have been saved in World War II, and that war would have ended six months earlier. A hundred million dollars spent on arms in 1939, he said, would have had the same effect as a billion spent later.

Berlin Airlift Writes Notable Chapter In History Of World

The Berlin airlift is on the way out. American and British planes flew the last 8,000-ton daily schedule last Sunday, and for the month of August the daily lift will be reduced to 3,700 tons. The average daily lift for September has been set at 3,100 tons, and for October, the final month, at 2,600 tons.

The airlift cost many millions of dollars, and dozens of American and British lives; but it marked a turning point in East-West relations, and it did more to give the Russians pause in their mad career of conquest than any other single incident. The West called their hand, and made it stick.

Race Track Officials Enabled To Flout Authority Of United States Government

WASHINGTON — In the spring of 1946 when building materials were scarce than hens' teeth and several million veterans were pounding the pavements looking for homes, this columnist published a series exposing the mysterious manner in which the Tanforan Race Track at San Bruno, Calif., was able to flout the U. S. government and spend $2 million on new grandstands, stables, etc.

and Feb. 14, 1947, there were 18 violations of CPA regulations. In that period, the track put up luxurious new construction despite orders to the contrary. Finally this was too much for U. S. Judge George H. Harris in San Francisco and, on Feb. 14, 1947, he issued an injunction banning further construction. Even this, however, was ignored. The Tanforan boys seemed to think they had protective friends in Washington.

the other two real owners, never appeared in the picture and were never prosecuted. In fact, their ownership was not known. ENTER GEN. VAUGHAN Just when the Maragos-Vaughan-Hunt team stepped into the Tanforan picture also is not known. According to information so far unearthed by Senate investigators their activity may not have started until after Tanforan found itself faced with criminal prosecution. At any rate the triumvirate was remarkably successful.

Jane Powell Wants Grown-Up Smooching

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4 (U. S. P. M.) — Enough of this kid-stuff smooching on the screen, Jane Powell. She wants the real thing. "It's time I was getting more than a quick smack from Scotty Beckett," she said on the set of "Nancy Goes to Rio," in which she has another puppy-love romance. "How long was I go on like this?"

her Warners contract. That will be in a week or two when she finishes "Beyond the Forest." Then maybe she'll have some things to say. First Crosby's boys make their first screen appearance as young men for a "Top of the Morning" trailer. The boys squelch their peg with some funny lines and show decided acting ability.

she said, making the most needless suggestion of the week. "She got to play Robert Taylor's wife in a picture. And she's three years younger than I am!" It's doubtful if Jane will soon get her wish, as long as her all-American girl vehicles continue to prosper. Bob Hope didn't let his back accident keep him inactive. He continued to have conferences on business matters and sent for a television set to while away the hours. Bob won't do another picture until next year; he is mulling a sequel to "Sorrowful Jones."

Let's Get Acquainted With This Planet Before We Visit Others

That expedition being made by Dana Lamb and his wife Ginger to find the Golden Library of the Mayas is only another indication that our home planet still has some surprises to spring upon us. There is no reason why we should discontinue the interim before space travel becomes an accomplished fact. Those of us who have a bit of money and a lot of leisure time can go off exploring unknown corners of the earth, while the rest of us stay at home and busy ourselves with speculation.

But it is not necessary for us to descend into the ocean or into the earth to find mysteries. The surface of the American continent alone presents enough riddles to occupy an explorer his whole lifetime. Scholars tear their hair over the problem of Mayan origin, and each new discovery, far from satisfying their curiosity, merely serves to set them upon another track. Tales of lost cities glimpsed in the jungle always have tantalized the imaginations of men, and since the advent of the airplane many of these tales have been confirmed. It was such a glimpse that determined the young Lamb to search for the Mayan Library.

Clark-McGrath Boosts Seen As Part Of Truman Strategy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. Influential Democrats who have explored President Truman's triple play on the Supreme Court now explain it in terms of the Truman strategy for 1952. They reason that: 1. The President will not run again. 2. He will try to obtain the Democratic nomination in 1952 for his closest adviser, Chief Justice Vinson. 3. The Chief Justice, who has been unhappy over his failure to achieve his own stable majority on the court, was eager to have Attorney General Clark, upon whom he can rely to follow his lead absolutely. The senators widely mentioned as possible successors to Justice Murphy—O'Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon—would incline to far greater independence of judgment than Clark, who has never been a political or any other power in his own right.

Particularly, it has proved fruitless in the past to bank on what a Supreme Court Justice will do once he is in office for life—as witness some of the present New Deal appointees. But the ties between Messrs. Truman, Vinson and Clark are not guesswork; they are facts. Many Democrats have long believed that the President's crown prince was the chief and that the chief wanted to be President. The Vinson gregariousness—only the vice president goes more places with more people—has fortified these opinions. When the court vacancy occurred, such Democrats began asking where Vinson stood and recalling the chumminess between him and the attorney general. Sen. McGrath also has some ambitions to consider before he accepts a cabinet post. He wants to be president but he would take a chance on being vice-president, especially as his small state and Catholic faith make the initial effort difficult.

Mr. Big Parade Gets Started Over Truman Foreign Program

WASHINGTON, (U. S. P. M.) — IT'S WHEN WE get into the foreign field that the Mr. Big Parade really begins in Washington. If President Truman asks Congress to approve a foreign program he's worked out, you can sit in Topeka and call the shots.

SO MR. TRUMAN WAS GOING TO have a bit of fight on his hands to get it through. There'd have to be hearings before the congressional committees which, after hearing a lot of witnesses, would draw up bills for the House and Senate to vote on. Right there a little rumpus started. Army? The Senate Armed Services Committee thought it ought to handle the hearings. But it goes right to the heart of our foreign relations. So the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee thought it ought to handle the hearings.

ABC's 'Bride And Groom' Program Is Setting For White-Stovall Vows

Another Big Spring woman, Eve White, became a bride over the national ABC network "Bride and Groom" program Wednesday afternoon.

She was married to Charles Glendon Stovall, San Angelo. Mrs. Stovall, former registered nurse with a hospital here, told how the romance began at the hospital's (Malone & Hogan) annual party. She planned to go alone, but when her girl friend insisted she had an eligible "blind" date for her.

When Stovall arrived to take her to the dance, the independent Miss White almost directed him to another house. He must have made a mistake, she thought. When she realized this was her date, it was almost love at first sight for her. It wasn't so fast with him. Stovall, representing the Charles Motor company in San Angelo, sized her up as a car prospect.

She was hesitant about buying, however. One night as they parked on scenic Mountain overlooking Big Spring, she told him she just couldn't make decisions. Then, out of the blue, he popped the wedding question. Miss White had an instantaneous answer: "Yes."

The most difficult task was breaking the news to her boss, Dr. F. W. Malone. One thing he had stressed when employing her was the absence of matrimonial intentions. Within the space of a year he had lost three nurses to the lure of wedding bells.

The couple was attended by her sister, June White, and Mrs. Otto Havins, also of this city.

Following the ceremony, the couple was given a number of gifts. Among the gifts were a sectional living room set, a clothes drier, matching luggage and a Cocker

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

If you like a little publicity now and then, and who doesn't? You have probably been disappointed on occasions when your very best story didn't get the headlines you wanted. If this is the case, be thankful you live in a small town. In the city, births, engagements, marriages and deaths, unless they involve the very prominent, are found in small type in a sort of classified ad department all their own.

For example, if your daughter is planning on getting married, her engagement is announced in some half-dozen lines of small type which reads something like this: "Goldman-Bregman—Dr. A. and Mrs. Philip B. Bregman announce the engagement of their daughter, Eileen Joan, to Mr. Spencer M. Goldman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Goldman."

Marriages rate about the same amount of space for the average couple. There is no picture or large headline.

Only such a notice as: "Gordon-Goldstein—Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Goldstein, 320 Central Park West, New York City, announce the marriage of their daughter, Arline, to Mr. Benjamin Friedman, son of Mr. Ida B. Friedman and the late Abraham Friedman of Passaic, N. J."

Junior also rates a small story when he enters the world. But that's the case in most papers.

For example: "Carlin—Dr. and Mrs. Alvin H. Carlin announce the birth of sweet Judy Rose's brother, David Wayne, July 7, 1948."

Other items of interest are in the column called "Deaths."

One read: "The Officers, Directors, Children and Staff of the Pride of Judea Children's Home express profound sorrow and deepest regrets at the untimely passing of Tillie Slatin, esteemed President of our Unity Sisters Auxiliary. Her life was full of human kindness, her leadership was progressive and able and we know that our Home has lost one of its ardent friends and supporters."

Every person, they say, desires three preas notices, their birth, their marriage and their death, and they usually get them. It's the form that varies.

Northside Baptists Have Bible Study In C. J. Couch Home

Members of the Northside Baptist Woman's Missionary Society met in the home of Mrs. G. J. Couch, 1000 N. Gregg, for Bible study.

A series of prayers were offered for the Northside revival which will begin Friday, Aug. 5. Mrs. G. T. Palmer presided at the meeting.

Members of the group voted not to meet Tuesday, Aug. 9, but rather have a visitation program in interest of the revival.

Mrs. G. C. Couch taught the Bible study from Genesis 12 and 13.

Mrs. C. R. Moad Is Study Leader At WSCS Meet

Mrs. C. R. Moad taught the lesson on "Burma" at the meeting of Woman's Society of Christian Services in the parlor of the First Methodist church.

Record Player Speed Fight Ending After Giddy Whirl

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Phonograph and record makers gradually are getting straightened out in their 78-45-33 1-3 speed fight.

One trend seems clear—all three speeds are here to stay.

There are a lot of details that are hard to be worked out, but those in the trade say it won't be long before you, the consumer, will know exactly where you stand.

Until now, the consumer's head has been spinning at all three speeds. The reaction was bad. People just delayed buying records of any kind.

And they were so confused that they also approached the purchase of a record player with all the caution of a woman buying a hat to match a pair of gloves.

Here is how the thing stands now and what you can expect.

Until about a year ago everybody was happy, or fairly happy, with records that played three minutes or so when the turn table revolved 78 times a minute.

Then came Columbia with a record that played at 33 1-3 revolutions per minute for about 25 minutes—the "long playing" record. Columbia spread the virtues of their system for all to see.

Four months ago RCA-Victor introduced another type of record that played about the same length of time as a conventional disc but revolved at 45 r. p. m. Its advantages also were proclaimed.

There is no question that either of the two new types has a decided advantage over the conventional record both in the quality of the music and in mechanical convenience.

But the source of confusion is simple. If you are one of the 18 million people owning a conventional phonograph, you have to decide (1) whether to continue buying 78 rpm records which might become obsolete (2) whether to decide on 33 1-3 and block yourself off from RCA-Victor artists, (3) choose 45s and ignore Columbia's huge library of recordings.

The box score on public choice is inconclusive. Columbia says it has sold some 3,500,000 recordings in a year and that there are between 750,000 and 1,000,000 machines equipped for 33 1-3 speed.

RCA-Victor gives out no figures for its four months of operation with 45s. One trade source estimated there were 250,000 players for its 45s in use. Record sales probably are in proportion.

If you think the public is having troubles, look at the manufacturers and distributors of records and players. They have to plan well in advance for production, and they must produce what they think the public will want many months in the future.

What speed player should a manufacturer combine with his radio? He might have the best radio in the world, but he would limit his sales if he picked the wrong record player.

Well, what did they do? Most of them picked all three speeds. RCA-Victor says there now are 30 manufacturers incorporating 45s in their equipment. Columbia says "just about every manufacturer in the business" uses 33 1-3 speed. And the basic speed still is 78 rpm. That points the way for beating the confusion—buy all three.

Suppose you can play any speed. Whose records are you going to buy? That's the big question. That's the last big competitive gamble for the companies.

Columbia says there are 14 companies making records at 33 1-3 speed. There are two companies making the 45s.

Trade sources and a number of music critics regard 33 1-3 as ideal for classical recordings and albums because of the 25 minutes of uninterrupted presentation. A lot of people are influenced by their opinion.

Dance tunes and "pops" seem to be preferred alone and not in tandem with a half dozen others. That means 45s. Dance records usually get rougher treatment than classics. The seven-inch non-breakable 45s fit right into that groove. And they handle more easily and require less storage space.

The preference for single "pops" tunes also means 78s. And there are thousands of kids who can't go beyond a dollar at a time in their be-bop budget.

Capitol Records is the first to reach that conclusion. It is recording its classical at 33 1-3. The other two speeds are reserved for popular music.

There are trade rumors that Decca, the other big independent, will use 33 1-3 for classical and albums, continuing its other releases at 78 rpm. Decca officials maintain silence.

But in the midst of the fight between RCA-Victor and Columbia to win ultimate favor for their new speeds, the old conventional 78 is making a big comeback.

Recently there was a wave of nationwide price cutting on all makes of those records by independent dealers. They unloaded their stocks. That didn't swamp the demand. Decca proved that when they launched a half-price sale with a response they described as "simply terrific."

Then RCA-Victor announced it would start issuing its 78 rpm Bluebird record Aug. 10 for less than 50 cents. It had been off the market for three years.

So no matter what happens to speed, there is plenty of music.

The all-time record steel production in the United States was 89,641,600 tons in 1944, a war year.

6 Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., August 4, 1949

The per capita output of steel in the United States in 1947 was roughly eight times the average for the entire world.

Toronto residents think their Yonge St. is the longest street in the world. It continues as Ontario Highway No. 11 for 895 miles.

Freedom Wave Creates New Nations Since First World War

By SIGRID ARNE
WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The pink checked Icelandic fisherman, the stout-eyed worker in the rice paddies of Burma, the bushy-haired Ethiopian herdsman — they and some 600 million other new and old men in 16 nations have celebrated a "Fourth of July" since World War II.

While 100 million Europeans lost their political freedom behind the iron curtain, six times as many have won the right to completely or partially run their own government.

The largest chunks of humanity to shake foreign rule were in British India—450 million and Britain, of all the centers of empire, has freed more of her subjects to go it for their own than any other.

Most of the old British subjects have chosen to remain under the common roof of the British commonwealth, on equal voting terms as Canada is.

Most of the areas which have gained various degrees of political freedom have adopted British and American ideas.

Most have set up two-hour parliaments. Most provide for presidents with terms of four to six years. Some limit their presidents to two terms. Some have prime ministers as well as presidents.

These are the new political "persons" that have joined the family of nations:

These small Arab states were clipped off the old Turkish empire after World War I. From 1920 to 1941 they were French protectorates. At the start of World War II—when the allies needed a friendly Arab world—the French military commander in the area signed an independence treaty.

Early in World War II Ethiopia was taken by Italy. The British soon liberated the nation, with provision for British use of Ethiopian railroads. On May 25, 1941, the Ethiopians took back full control of their nation and set up a two-house parliament.

This little land of 134,000 people celebrated the 150th anniversary of its parliament.

But from 1814 to 1944 Iceland lived under Danish rule. On June 17, 1944, it proclaimed itself a republic.

The shift here has been, and is, painful. On March 6, 1946, the old ruler, France, recognized the republic of Viet Nam, to be formed from the five old divisions of Indochina.

But war with Communists still blurs the new republic's fate, and something like 100,000 French troops remain.

This month the Viet-Namense formed a government. The leaders announced their intention of staying inside the French union.

Here as in a few other areas, there is no clear-cut understanding in Washington of the exact political privileges granted the individual citizen. The main chance lies in the fact that Nationals are running the government, although often with the advice of French experts.

The United States ruled these islands from 1899 to 1947. Now the Philippine government has given the U. S. a 99-year lease on military bases, and the U. S. voted them war-damage relief.

After more than two-centuries of British rule, India gained independence on Aug. 15, 1947, breaking up into two nations, India and Pakistan. Both chose to stay inside the British commonwealth.

There is perhaps the most dramatic battle for sovereignty, led by little Mahatma Gandhi with his hunger strikes and his "passive resistance."

This British colony became independent Jan. 4, 1948, in a treaty with the British. It chose to leave the British commonwealth and "absolve" the British of any further protection of the Burmese, who have been dominated by the British since 1812.

This is a union of nine states, ruled by the British since the last century. In 1949 the British granted Malaysia the right to run their home affairs. On Feb. 1, 1948, the Malays set up an independent government, with a provision that they will work with the advice of a British expert.

Daniel Against Tidal Compromise

QUITMAN, Aug. 4 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Price Daniel is still against any compromise in the tidelands ownership dispute.

Yesterday, he told a crowd at the 4th Wood County Old Settlers Reunion:

"Why should we take half a loaf now and leave nothing for our grandkids?"

He charged that the federal government "is trying to take property we won at San Jacinto after recognizing our ownership for more than a hundred years."

"I will not personally support any tidelands legislation that does not fully recognize ownership of Texas to lands within the original boundaries of the Texas Republic," he said.

Gov. Allan Shivers is scheduled to speak to the reunion Friday.

Atties Recovers

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee has "quite recovered" from a cold which had confined him to his country home since last Saturday, an official spokesman said today. The cold forced him to cancel a week-end speaking engagement.

Tension Reigning At Red Trial Over Questions To Be Answered

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Harsh-edged tensions have developed at the Red conspiracy trial over what kind of questions the judge will permit defense witnesses to answer.

The issue, raised early this week when Federal Judge Harold R. Medina imposed new restrictions on the scope of defense testimony, boiled over yesterday in a welter of angry courtroom clashes.

Several times the judge called on U. S. marshals to silence protests of defense lawyers. One lawyer was shoved into his seat by a deputy marshal.

The court's restrictions kept one witness from giving anything but her name and background for an hour while the debate over proper questioning raged.

The witness, the 18th called by the defense, was Mrs. Geraldine Lightfoot, a Communist Party functionary in Chicago.

After eliciting the witness' background, defense lawyers started to question her about a Communist party regarding Negroes.

Judge Medina promptly shut off this line of questioning, a touching off an outburst of protests.

The judge has ruled that in order to speed up the seven-month-old trial there will be no more defense testimony concerning what he has called "peripheral issues."

Among these, he has said, is what the Communists claim they have done for labor veterans, youth, women, Negroes and other minority groups. Also, the judge has ruled:

"There will be no more testimony on lynchings, attacks on workers' homes, massacres of workers — at they call them — or force and violence against workers.

"We've had an end to that. We are here to decide whether these defendants, these 11 men, are guilty — or conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government by force and violence."

Repeatedly yesterday, he told defense lawyers to "get down to the issues" and avoid "broad, general questions that lead to long speeches on irrelevant issues."

"The trial is going to move now," the judge said.

To break up a bitter stalemate on defense tactics in questioning the witness, the judge several times took over the questioning himself.

Conference Set On Bus Walkout

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 4 (AP)—A federal mediator says he will call a union-management conference on San Antonio's bus strike before the end of the week, probably tomorrow.

The announcement was made by Walter C. White, commissioner of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Wage demands are the basis for the strike, which began Monday.

CAN HE BE MURDERER? Friends Amazed As Police Seek Ochoa

LAREDO, Aug. 4 (AP)—You could have knocked George Ochoa's friends down with a feather.

They wait, amazed, as officers hunt George in this country and Mexico, to talk with him about a couple of brutal murders.

Like one crows said: "That isn't like George. He's mean as hell when he's drunk—but he's always fought with his fists—not guns."

Handsome, sporty (Gavo) Ochoa, 26, was quite a guy in this town, a polished gentleman when sober and a panther on wheels when drunk. A gay caballero, blue-eyed and smiling, George was well-educated, clever, witty, an athlete, and a devil with the ladies.

He had a strutting pride in his great, deep chest and the muscles that rippled over his trim, 190-pound body.

"He took off his shirt at the slightest opportunity," Manuel Garza, president of Club Campestre, Nuevo Laredo Country Club, said dryly. "He loved to show off those muscles—it was one fault I found with him. But everybody liked George."

and beat them all. He won the money.

When George came in after nine holes to drink a soda pop, Dr. Leopoldo Garza of Nuevo Laredo, brother of Manuel, approached him and said:

"What are you doing here, Gavo? They are looking for you across the river for killing a man."

"This is the last straw," George smilingly replied to the physician. "What are you trying to do—hang a dead man on me?"

Another physician friend, Dr. Oscar L. Elizondo, also saw and talked with George at the country club.

"He was completely normal, refreshed and tranquil," said the doctor.

The two physicians, Elizondo and Garza, sat on the terrace of the country club yesterday afternoon and discussed what they called a possibility that George suffered a mental black-out Sunday.

The discussion involved the prominent five-inch scar that begins over George's right eyebrow, crosses the eyebrow, and runs along the side of his face. It is an old, white, scar.

The two doctors said they thought the effects of the old blow, combined with liquor, might produce mental black-outs for George.

CHARGED IN MURDER

But today George is accused of murdering Henry D. Whittenburg, 21, South Texas gunner, and is wanted for questioning in the slaying of Air Force Corp. James Lindsay, 30, of Oneida, Tenn. Both men were slain, in separate rooms, on separate floors, in a downtown Laredo hotel Sunday.

George knew Lindsay but it has not been established that he ever met Whittenburg. The slain men were acquainted, and both knew Mrs. Rosa Maria Ochoa, George's beautiful wife, Dist. Atty. E. James Kazen, said today.

Both Whittenburg, who operated the Farmers Gin Co. here, and Lindsay, who had lived here before and had come back to see his wife, were killed with shots from a .22 caliber pistol.

The motive?

"I think there was a motive of jealousy," Police Chief D. O. Gallagher said. He declined to elaborate.

Born in Laredo, George inherited the prosperous customs broker's business established by his father. His firm, which handles the shipping of goods from Mexico to the United States, provided him with plenty of money—and spare time.

"He was very touchy when drinking," Manuel Garza said.

About the time the second body was found, George was being picked up by a friend for a sojourn date at the Nuevo Laredo Country Club.

He played with five of his friends

Youth Charged In Axe-Slaying

CROCKETT, Aug. 4 (AP)—James (Dude) Frizzell, 18, is charged with murder in the axe-slaying of a 19-year-old bridegroom of two weeks.

Slain, with his head split, was Joe Al Huff of Crockett, member of a work gang cutting pumpwood in a remote section 18 miles north-east of here.

Sheriff Loyd Lovell said Huff and Frizzell quarreled after drinking wine.

Justice of the Peace C. R. McPhail said Frizzell's brother, Billy Joe, 15, tried to take the axe from his brother but failed. He said Billy Joe then drove to summon authorities.

Paris Teen-Agers Emulate Valjean

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 4 (AP)—Police here are looking for a group of youths who are using the tactics of Jean Valjean, the fictional character who fled the law through the sewers of Paris.

For the last six months, a group of boys have been hunted in connection with the looting of parked automobiles and repeated burglaries at a west side club.

Always they have escaped police right in the middle of a chase.

The police said they have been tipped the boys lower themselves by a rope into a boat in a six-foot sewer at a street intersection.

France Combed For Gem Thieves

LE CANNET, France, Aug. 4 (AP)—Thousands of police today combed southern France for the four bandits who stole a fortune in jewels from the Aga Khan and his wife.

Roadblocks were thrown up from Mentone on the island border all along the Riviera — playground of the world's wealthy — to the sprawling port of Marseille, known as a criminal hideout.

Police guards around the mansion of the rich have been doubled.

Many of the millionaires here are reported hiring private detectives as an additional security.

It's Time To Freeze An Upside-Down Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A homemaker who testifies to the tremendous help a home freezer can be to a suburban family is Mrs. Peg Benjamin of White Plains, N. Y. Mrs. Benjamin's freezer is stacked with everything from cooked and packaged meals for her two puppies to chopped spinach and peeled fruits for her 10-month-old daughter, all neatly packed in the new aluminum tray-type containers.

Sandwiches for the two elder youngsters' noon lunches keep fresh and moist, and Mrs. Benjamin's freezer is always ready with meat loaves, chicken pie, and even Virginia baked hams she can take out whenever her husband phones he's bringing home friends from the city.

Says Peg: "I don't think what I do is unusual, although I was a home economist before I was married, and I'm from the South where we thoroughly believe in having lots of extra food in the freezer." "We don't have much of a vegetable garden, but we do live near enough to farming areas so we can drive out and buy strawberries and raspberries by the crate and buy fresh vegetables at fairly reasonable prices."

But it's really the convenience that has both Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin thoroughly sold on keeping their freezer well stocked. Whenever Peg bakes, she makes up extra pies, cakes, puddings or whatever she happens to be baking.

"Pies are the easiest thing in the world to freeze, and you can't tell the fresh baked from the frozen."

Peg prepares pies just as usual. Points to remember, she says, are not to cut a vent in the top crust until just before baking and to seal the top crust securely to the bottom crust. She uses inexpensive ten-cent pie plates for holding the pies, then covers the tops securely with light-weight aluminum foil that comes in 12-inch-wide rolls.

When she wants to serve pie for dinner, she removes the foil from a frozen pie, makes a few decorative cuts in the top crust (it will cut even though frozen) and pops the pie in a hot oven (450°F). She holds it at this high temperature for 15 to 20 minutes, or until the top crust begins to brown, then she reduces the heat to medium (350°F) and finishes baking. She has frozen apple, blueberry, cherry, and in the winter, mince, and pronounces them all wonderful.

"Cakes, cupcakes, muffins and rolls I bake before freezing." Wrapping them all in light-weight aluminum foil, she seals it by double-folding the edges and creasing them tightly. Adds Peg: "Lately I've been making upside down cakes in the pint size aluminum containers I've used for vegetables and fruits. I make a two-egg cake the usual way and I let two tablespoons of butter or Ingredients: 3 tablespoons salad oil, 1 cup onion strips, 2 cups celery crescents, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1/4 cup cold water, 1 bouillon cube, 1/2 cup boiling water, 1/4 cup green pepper strips, 1 1/2 cups cubed cooked chicken (lightly packed), 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, 4 canned broiled whole mushrooms (sliced), hot cooked rice, 1 four-ounce can crisp Chinese noodles.

Method: Put the salad oil in a 10-inch skillet and allow to get hot but not brown. Add the onion strips and celery and cook over low heat stirring frequently, for 5 minutes. Cover skillet and cook for 5 more minutes, but watch so as not to burn. Mix the cornstarch with the cold water until smooth. Add the boiling water to the bouillon cube and stir to dissolve. Add the green pepper, mushrooms, chicken, dissolved cornstarch, bouillon, sugar, and soy sauce to the skillet; stir well over low heat until the sauce thickens and bubbles. Allow to bubble for a few minutes still stirring. Cover skillet and keep hot over very low heat—but not more than five to ten minutes, or vegetables will get overdone. Serve over hot cooked rice and top with crisp Chinese noodles. Makes small portions for four or hearty portions for two or three.

COCOA CHIFFON CAKE
Ingredients: 1/2 cup cocoa, 1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons boiling water, 1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted cake flour, 1 cup less 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup salad oil (not olive oil), 4 medium-sized eggs (separated), 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar.

Method: Add the boiling water to the cocoa gradually, stirring until smooth; allow to cool. Sift the cake flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt into a medium-sized mixing bowl; make a well in these dry ingredients and add the oil, egg yolks, vanilla, and cooled cocoa mixture. Beat with a spoon until smooth. Put the egg whites (make sure they measure 1/2 cup) in a large mixing bowl, sprinkle them with the cream of tartar and beat with a rotary beater or electric mixer until they form straight stiff peaks when the beater is slowly withdrawn. If whites are stiff enough they will not slide. Pour the egg yolk mixture gradually over the surface of the egg whites, folding in until they are all blended; do not stir. Turn into an ungreased 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan and bake in a moderate (350°F) oven for 30 to 35 minutes or until top springs back when lightly touched. Invert pan immediately, resting two of the edges on other containers so that the cake hangs free of the table. Allow to cool thoroughly, about an hour. Loosen cakes from sides of pan with a spatula, turn pan over and hit edge sharply on table so cake will fall out. Makes 8 servings.

A good way to use the liquid leftover from sweet pickles is to heat it to boiling point and then pour it over cooked, thinly sliced beets. The beets should be left in the liquid as they cool, and then refrigerated.

Inflation Or Deflation — Economy Is Still The Watchword In Menus

Inflation or deflation—economy is still the watchword of most of us in meal-planning. And serving a family of six for only about $6.00 is a new idea you won't want to miss. It's a one-dish meal and it's called "Dinner-in-a-Shell!"

The cost of foods used in this interesting recipe have been checked. Here's a real opportunity for you to serve a novel dinner, only a little more than eleven cents a person. Serve it with salad, iced coffee and fresh fruit for dessert.

DINNER-IN-A-SHELL
1/2 lb. bulk pork sausage
1/2 lb. ground beef
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup flour
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/2 cup sour cream
1 cup water

A little gravy coloring, if desired
1 cup cooked thin carrot strips
1 cup cooked green Lima beans
Place in a large skillet and brown lightly, the pork sausage and ground beef. Add the green pepper and onion and cook over low heat until vegetables are tender. Stir in the flour, salt and pepper. Add the sour cream and water, and a little gravy coloring, if desired. Stir until all ingredients are blended. Cook until smooth and thickened (about 5 minutes), stirring occasionally. Then add the cooked carrot strips and Lima beans. Cook just long enough to heat vegetables, about 5 minutes. Pour hot mixture into hot baked Scone Pie Shell (recipe below). Cut into wedges and serve at once. Serves about 6.

*Other cooked vegetables may be used, if desired.

SCONE PIE SHELL
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 tsp. double-action baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1-3 cup shortening
1 large egg, beaten
1-3 cup milk

Sift the flour, baking powder and salt together into a bowl. Cut in the shortening. Stir in the egg and

'Breather' in Business Drop Is Indicated

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. — Signs built up today of a breathing spell—but probably not a permanent halt—in business downturns that has run through 1934 so far. A consensus produced by a top-flight official group of economists boiled down—with some "ifs" attached—to this: 1. The immediate outlook is that economic activity likely will hold at the mid-year level for the July-August-September quarter, and perhaps may rise a bit in September.

Five New Members Added At Baptist Revival Meeting

Spotted Bollworm Infestation in County Reported

Bollworm infestation of Howard county cotton seems to be spotted, both from a county-wide and community standpoint, Duward Lewter, county agent, said this morning. A medium to light infestation has been found in some fields while only a few of the insects are found in neighboring cotton, Lewter stated. "A considerable number of eggs are present in all fields, however," the county agent declared. "Infestation may become heavier in all fields as the eggs continue to hatch."

Agreement On Pact Defense Is Announced

LONDON, Aug. 4. — American joint chiefs of staff have reached a complete understanding with British, Norway and Denmark on organization for mutual defense under the Atlantic Pact, Adm. Louis E. Denfeld announced today. "We are going home, I am sure, with a very much better understanding of the situation than we had when we came over," the U. S. chief of naval operations told a news conference following meetings with Norwegian and Danish military commanders.

Youth Run Over By Horse Here

An unidentified youth was rushed to a local hospital last night after being run over by a horse emerging from the rodeo arena following the Grand Entry. Hospital attendants said that the boy was apparently not injured seriously. No record of his treatment could be found. An Eberley ambulance attendant who carried the boy to the hospital said his face was bruised, but that he seemed more disappointed at missing the rodeo than injured.

Thfts Reported From Big Spring Rodeo Grounds

Three thefts were reported from the rodeo grounds last night during the opening performance of Big Spring's annual rodeo. A saddle, belonging to Charlie Creighton, rodeo vice-president, and bridle, the property of Bill O'Hall, were among the missing items. E. L. Newsum reported that two wheels and tires were taken from his automobile. Police reported recovery of an automobile stolen from in front of Medical Arts Hospital about midnight. The car was found within an hour at a local drive in restaurant. Officers said that a man, two pair of leather gloves, and a pair of burglary tools were left in the car when it was abandoned.

Take your first lesson today by signing up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or if you are self-employed and the Payroll Plan is not available to you, the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. Under either plan, bonds are purchased for you out of your earnings or savings automatically! You can't forget! Saving for you becomes a safe, sure, foolproof proposition!

Home-Loan Backers See No Action Now

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (U)—Senate backers of a proposed $1 billion federal home-loan program expressed doubt today that the plan will get beyond first base at this session of Congress. A bill to put the program into effect got that far yesterday when a Senate banking subcommittee passed the measure on to the full committee. But a proponent of the bill predicted privately that the full committee probably will kill a section which would authorize $1 billion in direct loans to co-operations and other non-profit organizations. The loans, intended to spur construction of moderately-priced privately-owned homes, would be for 60 years at three per cent interest.

Cotton Allotments To Be Talked Here

Representatives of ten counties of the immediate area were to gather in the district court room this afternoon for a discussion of future cotton allotments. Leading the talks were to be Vic Delwan, district field man for the AAA, and M. Weaver, AAA county administrator here. The secretary of agriculture will make the allotments but the committee can make recommendations.

County Milk Tests Show Low Bacteria Count, Mason Says

Tests run on the milk of 17 Howard county producers now show that bacteria count is below the limit for grade A classification, C. W. Mason, sanitarian for the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit, said today. A series of four tests are being made on the milk of the 17 producers. Bacteria content of their products once went above the maximum allowable for grade A rating, Mason said. The tests were started about 10 days ago. "The last three samples of milk tested has shown the bacteria content well within the limit," Mason asserted. "Results of the final test will probably be known within a few days."

COHEN TESTIFIES AT INQUEST — Mickey Cohen (second from left), the well-known Los Angeles gambler, tells a coroner's jury in Los Angeles how he, Neddie Herbert and two others were shot as they left a Hollywood cafe two weeks ago. Herbert was fatally wounded. Cohen said he didn't have any idea who did the shooting. (AP Wirephoto).

Elizabeth's Hubby Ordered To Duty With Mediterranean Force

LONDON, Aug. 4. (AP) — Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh, was ordered today to active duty with the Royal Navy's destroyer force in the Mediterranean.

The prince, who is a professional sailor as well as the husband of the future queen of England, will join the Flotilla Leader H. M. S. Chequers at Malta Oct. 17.

Princess Elizabeth and their son, Prince Charles, will remain at Clarence House their London home.

Philip will be first lieutenant — second in command — of the 1,710-ton Chequers. He will be its executive officer, responsible for discipline and daily ship routine.

The prince's assignment was announced in the admiral's daily list of new duty orders.

The British press association's court correspondent, who writes with official guidance, said the appointment was at Philip's personal request.

"He has been on the half pay list as a lieutenant since Sept. 29 last," the correspondent wrote. "He requested the admiralty to put him back on the active list, with the consent of the king."

It will be the prince's second tour of duty as a first lieutenant.

He was appointed to the same rank in October, 1942, on the Destroyer H. M. S. Wallace. He was then 21, the youngest man in Royal Navy history to hold the rank.

The prince's orders did not specify the length of his tour of duty with the Mediterranean fleet, but such appointments usually run 18 months to two years.

LEGION LETTER
By KAY BUGG

Buddy Al Dillon has resigned his position with the Veterans Administration and is now associated with Buddy Harold Steek in Fidelity Union Life Insurance Company with offices at 309 Lester Fisher Building. Hugh Bennett and his western band played for a Rodeo Dance at the American Legion Clubhouse Wednesday evening and will play for another one Friday evening. The American Legion Roundup Club will have another Square Dance Friday evening which will be open for the public. Jerry Dykes and his band will furnish the music. Buddy and Mrs. Charles Hutchison will leave Friday for their vacation in Colorado. District Commander and Mrs. Alvin Thigpen will leave Thursday for Ft. Worth to attend the Convention. We are glad to hear that Buddy Willie Wharton is off the sick list and back at work. There will be a regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Thursday. Mrs. Virginia Schwarzenbach will preside in the absence of the president Mrs. Helen Steek. Buddies Raleigh McCullough and John Ray Dillard spent two weeks vacation in Raton, N. M. where Buddy Dillard entered his horse Verdevale in the races up there. The American Legion Auxiliary spent an eventful day Wednesday trying to decorate their float for the parade in the rain. Buddy and Mrs. Harold P. Steek and Mildred Stitzell are leaving early Thursday for the Convention in order that they may attend the Starlight Opera in Dallas. My Pal Joey is now playing there. The Auxiliary has started work on their Centennial project. Buddy and Mrs. Alvin Smith leave this weekend on an extensive tour of the Northern States. Fourteen members of the Firing Squad will leave Thursday for Ft. Worth where they will lead the Fifth Division in the Convention parade Saturday afternoon.

Bricklayers Get Move On In Warsaw

WARSAW, Poland. — A new champion bricklayer is crowned almost every day in Warsaw. Records are falling as rapidly as they are established by workers helping to rebuild this war-devastated Polish capital. The newest record is claimed by Waclaw Lesiewicz and two companions. They claim to have laid 24,000 bricks in eight hours.

Bulls Bit Cheaper At Livestock Sale Here

The market was steady with the exception of bulls, which were slightly cheaper, at the Big Spring Livestock Auction company's sale Wednesday.

Bulls ranged from 14.00 to 16.00 and fat cows from 14.00 to 15.00 and butcher cows from 12.00 to 14.00. Fat butcher calves sold for 20.00 to 24.00, plain butcher calves from 16.00 to 20.00, stocker steers from 20.00 to 21.00 and hogs up to 22.00. An estimated 330 cattle and 75 pigs were seen by the buyers.

WAC-Reserves Enlistment Drive Being Launched

A statewide campaign to appoint and enlist prior servicewomen of Texas into the WAC-Reserves is being initiated.

Lt. Mary Jane Bailey, regular Army WAC, has been assigned to the Texas Military district in charge of the program. Currently Texas has 28 officers and 80 enlisted women in the reserve. Objective is to increase this total substantially.

Trainings will be accomplished on a new basis at weekly or semi-monthly sessions. Those who cannot attend may take extension courses. Entry in the reserve can be made in the grade last held while on active duty. Only those with prior service and no older than 35 can enlist. Contacts can be made with the WAC Institute, 4001 Airport at Midland airport No. 2, Midland.
