

MASS SHOOTING SCENE WHERE 12 DIED—This photo-diagram points out spots where a 28-year-old war veteran, identified by police as Harold Unruh, mowed down men, women and children he came upon in Camden, N. J. In a brief wild rampage Unruh killed 13 persons and wounded two others. The veteran ran in and out of stores near his apartment on a neighborhood street corner, killing a druggist and his wife, a barber, and a small boy on a barber's hobby horse chair, a bride of a month and others he met on his mad dash. Unruh then barricaded himself in his apartment shown in center of photo, to left of drug store sign. Police finally forced him to surrender and took him through a surging crowd which cried "lynch him" and "hang him now." Tri-Power Talks On British Crisis Begin

Attlee Blasts Opponents Of Labor Regime

Premier Says Foes Want Split Between Britain, America

BRIDLINGTON, Eng., Sept. 7 (AP)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee today denounced opponents of Britain's labor government who he said was trying to make "bad blood" between Britain and the United States.

In an address before the Trades Union Congress, eight million member backbone of the Labor Party, Attlee promised Britain would do its utmost to stave the dollar shortage which threatens Britain with economic disaster.

But, he added, the problem "cannot be solved by any one government in isolation."

"There is a lot of effort being put out to try to make bad blood between Britain and the United States," he said.

"There are people here who do their utmost to foment hostility in the United States to the Labor Government. They seek for party aims to play on the prejudices of ill-informed sections of American opinion."

"They also seek to cause disunity by suggesting the United States will seek to interfere with the internal policy of this country, in this they join hands with the Communists. The emphatic statement of President Truman (in Philadelphia) should silence them."

Mr. Truman on Aug. 29 told the Philadelphia should silence them. "Philadelphia that the U. S. would help Britain in her financial crisis and said the democratic nations would not interfere."

Attlee declared that "there are in the ranks of our conservative opponents those, I think they are a minority, who would welcome economic difficulties for this country in the hope that if things get serious they might overthrow the Labor Government."

RAIL STRIKE IS SET FRIDAY

CLEVELAND, Sept. 7 (AP)—Representatives of three railroad operating brotherhoods with headquarters here decided today to make "no change whatsoever" in a plan to strike the Missouri Pacific Railroad at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The unions were considering a National (or a 11 w a y) Mediation Board proposal for arbitration of grievances by a specially appointed board—a proposal which Frank Douglas, a board member, said had been accepted by the railroad.

The dispute involves some 282 unsettled claims and an estimated $3 million. A walkout would idle about 30,000 workers.

A spokesman at one of the brotherhood headquarters here said the decision to go through with the strike was reached in a 40-minute meeting of top officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Enginemen and Firemen, and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The order of railway conductors, fourth operating brotherhood involved in the dispute, has headquarters in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and did not have a representative among the half dozen union officials who met today at the building.

Earlier in Washington Douglas told a reporter that the mediation board had "done everything we can under the law, and then some, trying to stop it, and had no success. We've given up entirely now, and it looks like a strike."

A spokesman for the Missouri Pacific said today the railroad now is accepting no freight that cannot be delivered by 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

That's the effect of a freight embargo imposed by the railroad last midnight.

Delegation Of Britain, Canada And U. S. Meet

Britons Expected To Ask Speed Up In Dollar Spending

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Britain's foreign policy and economic chiefs arrived today for talks with the United States and Canada on the British dollar crisis.

The three delegations arrived at the department with split-second timing.

First were Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and his chief assistant, William McChesney Martin.

Snyder was grim-faced as he stepped out of his limousine. He looked very much the banker in his dark blue suit, white shirt and dark blue tie.

Photographers were taking their pictures when some one shouted: "The British are coming."

Up drove British Foreign Minister Bevin, accompanied by Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, and British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks.

A few moments later, the Canadian delegation, led by Finance Minister Douglas C. Abbott, arrived.

Bevin described the three-power conference as a means "to win the struggle for one world, one world of free and democratic peoples."

UNRUH CHARGED WITH MURDER

Psychiatrists Quiz Vet In 13 Killings

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 7 (AP)—Four psychiatrists today questioned Howard Unruh, 28-year-old war veteran who massacred 13 persons on river road.

Twelve—five men, five women and two children—were killed yesterday as the silent, methodical Unruh put his "preconceived plan into execution." Three others—a woman and two youths—were wounded.

The 13th, John Wilson, 10, died this morning at Cooper Hospital, where Unruh underwent an unsuccessful operation for the removal of a bullet from his hip.

Prosecutor Mitchell Cohen said Unruh's wound is not serious. Should the psychiatrists find that Unruh was sane, Cohen said he will press for an immediate grand jury indictment, early trial and death by hanging, the penalty for murder in New Jersey. Unruh already has been charged with murder.

The prosecutor told newsmen that Unruh, a Bible-reading war veteran with an "arsenal of weapons," said in his statement yesterday that he killed because of "resentment against his neighbors."

Cohen said Unruh listed four shopkeepers as his intended victims: Druggist Mauric Cohen, 40; Shoemaker John Pilchark, 27; Barber Clark Hoover, 33, and Tailor Thomas Zegrino, 21.

He got Cohen, Pilchark and Hoover Zegrino escaped because he wasn't in his shop when Unruh walked in carrying his German luger pistol. Unruh stalked to the rear of the shop and killed Zegrino's bride of a month.

But, in addition to those four, Unruh killed Druggist Cohen's wife and mother, an insurance salesman, a television salesman, two women and a boy in car; a six-year-old boy getting a haircut in Hoover's barber shop, and a two-year-old boy who poked his head out of a window.

Mrs. Unruh left her ironing unfinished yesterday and went to the home of a next-door neighbor, Mrs. Caroline Pinner, 70. This was while Howard was eating his breakfast and, police said later, planning his massacre.

Mrs. Pinner told a reporter that Mrs. Unruh said she was worried about Howard. She mentioned that his eyes looked funny.

Suddenly gunfire echoed in the street below.

Mrs. Unruh screamed.

CAPTURED AFTER 12 PERSONS SHOT—A 22-year-old war veteran, identified by Detective Marshall Thompson as Harold Unruh (center wearing bow tie), is held in a police car in Camden, N. J., after he went berserk and killed 13 persons and wounded two. Unruh was taken from his barricaded room after police fired tear gas shells into it. Police said the street where the shooting took place looked like "a battle field." Police with Unruh are not identified. (AP Wirephoto)

Float Frame Franchise Purchased By City Centennial Association

The Big Spring Centennial association has purchased the franchise for a patented float frame to be used in the Centennial parades here. H. J. Morrison, executive secretary, announced today.

The franchise, extending over a 10-year period, will be turned over to the local chamber of commerce following the October celebration. The purchase covers blueprints and specifications for the construction of detachable automobile frames on which floats may be decorated.

Cost of each float, including construction of the frame, covering with paper, and other decorations, is estimated at about $75. Floats may be used for a number of years. Frames are constructed to fit over any automobile and may be put in place or removed easily for storage.

The 10-year franchise was secured from the Texas Float Frame company, Wichita Falls.

Members of a committee led by Jack Y. Smith Centennial Parade committee chairman, are contacting local merchants who wish to enter floats in one or more of the Centennial parades. Those who are not contacted are invited to call at Centennial headquarters in the Settles for information on the project.

All entries in the five Centennial parades must be accepted by the Parades committee, Morrison said.

Local Farmers Seek Mexican Cotton Pickers

Requests for 2,000 cotton harvest laborers from Old Mexico have been submitted to the Texas Employment Commission office here, it was announced this morning.

The requests are being forwarded to Austin and then to Washington for action, which is expected to be forthcoming in about a week, said Leon M. Kinney, local manager for TEC.

The requests were made in behalf of farmers in Martin and Howard counties.

The Howard County Farm Bureau, which several days ago announced that it might represent farmers in such a request, submitted application for 1,000 Mexican workers.

A request for another 1,000 came from the Tarrant Marketing Association in Martin county.

Unruh's Mother Is Prostrated Over Tragedy

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 7 (AP)—The mother of the berserk gunman who slaughtered 13 persons in cold blood was prostrated today in her grief over the tragedy.

Mrs. Freda Unruh, about 50, is seriously ill at the home of a sister, Mrs. E. M. Wonseller. The physician attending her said she lapses into unconsciousness frequently. Her 28-year-old son, Howard, is under close police guard, charged with murder.

Mrs. Unruh left her ironing unfinished yesterday and went to the home of a next-door neighbor, Mrs. Caroline Pinner, 70. This was while Howard was eating his breakfast and, police said later, planning his massacre.

Mrs. Pinner told a reporter that Mrs. Unruh said she was worried about Howard. She mentioned that his eyes looked funny.

Suddenly gunfire echoed in the street below.

Mrs. Unruh screamed.

"Howard, Howard," Mrs. Pinner said the mother cried. "They've done this to you." Then:

"I've got to use the phone."

Mrs. Unruh started to walk across the Pinner living room. But she never reached the telephone table. She collapsed in a faint. Later she was taken to her sister's home.

More Centennial Stock Sold To Out-Of-Towners

Earl C. Evans, president of the Texas Star Mail Carriers association and Big Spring's No. 1 Centennial booster, reported the sale of an additional 50 Centennial stock certificates to non-residents of Big Spring.

Sales were made to representatives of 19 Texas cities at a series of Star Route zone meetings held during the past two weeks.

Evans, who recently publicized the Big Spring Centennial at the national Star Carriers convention at Harrisburg, Penna., and sold stock in the celebration en route to that meeting, has conducted zone meetings at San Angelo, Ozone, San Antonio, Columbus and Dallas in the last two weeks.

Stock certificates were sold to residents of Robert Lee, Houston, Dripping Springs, Buffalo, Ballinger, San Angelo, Coleman, Big Lake, Ozone, New Braunfels, Marcos, Castroville, Curo, Smiley, Sabinal, Ledbetter, Carmine, Uvalde and Harper.

Miss McDonald Is Ahead In Race For Centennial Queen

Patti McDonald was leading a field of 19 candidates in the Centennial Queen contest, according to figures released by Mrs. Charles Watson, contest committee chairman, this morning.

Miss McDonald was followed by Sara Chanslor and Mary Louise Porter in second and third positions after the first tabulation of votes. Several contestants failed to turn in votes for the first count, Mrs. Watson said.

The leading contestant had compiled 230,400 votes Wednesday morning. Miss Chanslor had 172,800, and Miss Porter reported 115,200.

Others who had submitted votes and the order of their standings were Barbara Lytle, Teddie Carpenter, Mamie Jean Meador, Muriel Floyd, Frances Weir, Doris Jean Courson, Mary Fells, Sue Caroling Watson, Dalpha Gideon, Marjha Bearden, Janette Beene, June Cook, Ellen Eastham, Bobbie Green, Joyce Howard, and Wanda Richardson.

Votes will be counted and new standings will be released next Tuesday, Mrs. Watson said. The contest is being sponsored by the General Hyperion council of the four Hyperion clubs in Big Spring.

Votes are awarded nominees on the basis of the number of tickets sold to Centurama, historical spectacle to be presented during the Big Spring Centennial, Oct. 24.

Dulles To Run In Senate Race

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Sen. John Foster Dulles (R-NY) said today he would "gladly accept" the Republican nomination to run for the Senate in this fall's special New York election.

New York Republican leaders have been pressing Dulles to make the race.

Former Gov. Herbert Lehman has announced he will accept the Democratic nomination if it is offered.

The contest is to fill the unexpired term of Sen. Robert F. Wagner, Democrat, who resigned.

The term ends Dec. 31, 1950.

When Wagner resigned in July because of illness, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey named Dulles to fill the seat until November's election.

At that time, Dulles said he would not be a candidate in the election. Since then, however, party leaders have pressed him to make the race. They argue that he has a better chance than any other prospective candidate of keeping the seal for the GOP.

DC-4 Lands Safely After Fire Warning

MEDFORD, Ore., Sept. 7 (AP)—A Northwest Airlines DC-4 landed here safely today after turning back on a Seattle-to-Honolulu flight when a warning light indicated fire in the baggage compartment.

Fire extinguishers were used while the plane was returning here and on landing, baggage was removed and no evidence could be found that there had been a fire, officials said.

The plane carried 11 passengers and six crewmen. Capt. R. O. Fohamut was in command. It turned back when about 3 1/2 hours out of Portland.

Cargo consisted chiefly of baby chicks and perishables.

City Schools Have Record Enrollment

School administrators and supervisors today pondered over the problems posed by a record first day enrollment.

Tabulations at noon Wednesday showed a total of 1,987 pupils enrolled after the first day of school of the 1949-50 term. This was 126 more than the corresponding date a year ago. The percentage of increase was 4.3 per cent, compared with 2.3 per cent after one week last year.

It is considered possible that the enrollment may hit the 3,000 mark by the end of the week.

The sharp increase was in the face of declines in some of the schools, notably the Kate Morrison, which serves Latin-American youngsters. With children out in the fourth through the seventh grades, this school showed only 120 as compared with 180 a year ago. Similarly, Lakeview (colored) school was down from 110 a year ago to 81 the first day this year.

Elsewhere, the picture was up, with some heavy gains. Central Ward had 361 as against 218 last year; College Heights had 324 instead of the 310 a year ago; East Ward was 201, a gain of one; North Ward was at 203, compared with 192 last year; South Ward had 232 instead of the 195 on the first day last year. West Ward had 366 and Airport 161; a total of 527 as compared with 519 for West Ward (where these children registered originally last year).

Total white elementary enrollment was 1,978, an increase of 25 over last year.

A sharp upsurge was noted on the eighth grade level. Wednesday the total stood at 220, whereas last year it was only 154, a gain of 66.

Last year's short eighth grade, now in freshmen in high school (the ninth grade) had gained substantially, showing 176, or a pickup of 22 over the year's time. The 10th grade had 192, the 11th had 173, the 12th had 127. Total high school enrollment was 668, a gain of 11 over last year. In the eighth grade and the high school, however, first day figures this year are in comparison with those after one week last year. Thus, the gain likely is even more pronounced than it appears.

By grades, the breakdown on elementary enrollment showed 287 in the first, 283 in the second, 289 in the third, 243 in the fourth, 252

Yugoslavia Loan Study Near End

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 7 (AP)—The work of an international bank commission studying Yugoslavia's request for a $250 million loan is nearly completed, it was reported last night.

Yugoslavia has sought the loan to offset the economic boycott which Russia and other anti-Yugoslav nations have imposed on her.

Nobody Was Prepared For Blow That Was Struck Dec. 7, 1941

It is altogether likely that history will confirm Maj. Gen. Walter Campbell Short's description of himself as the military scapegoat for Pearl Harbor, though popular opinion at the time blamed him and his Navy opposite number, Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, for want of due diligence in protecting Hawaii from assault. Both were relieved of command, and both practically disappeared from the public ken.

General Short died in Dallas last week and was to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, in the uniform he wore for forty years. Native of Illinois, he was commissioned a second lieutenant from civil life in 1902, and by February of 1941 he had reached the rank of lieutenant general, in command of the Department of Hawaii. After his retirement he became connected with the Dallas assembly plant of the Ford Motor Company.

Before the congressional investigating committee General Short maintained that he was a scapegoat. He had faithfully executed his orders as he understood them, he asserted. Neither then nor on any subsequent occasion did the sidetracked general ever express bitterness, or seek to whip up public sympathy for himself. He took his medicine like a soldier, and whatever his faults or failures as commander in Hawaii, the public can render him credit for that.

That there was laxity and confusion at Pearl Harbor goes without saying. It was not confined to the high command, nor to the military either. Almost to a man Americans believed that if Japan struck at all, it would be against Malaya or the Philippines. Pearl Harbor was the last thought in the official and public mind. By the gift of hindsight, we know now that it would be the natural and most vulnerable spot the Japs could strike.

The Philippines had several hours of warning, but there, too our aerial defenses were destroyed almost in toto at the first blow. Almost all our 25 B-17s were caught like sitting ducks on a millpond. We were not prepared for the blow militarily, spiritually or psychologically.

Truman Picking Up Campaign Where He Left Off In 1948

In his Labor Day speech at Pittsburgh President Truman fired the opening gun of the 1950 congressional campaign, and as such it served notice on the enemies of the "Fair Deal" that the administration will take the aggressive from the start.

Many of his Fair Deal proposals, the President declared, have made progress in the face of "trumped up slogans" like "statism" and "collectivism," thought up by "a lot of paid agitators, promoters and publicity experts who make a fat living by frightening the people in the higher income groups."

But in spite of "a scare-word campaign" intended to "confuse the people and turn them against their own best interests," Mr. Truman declared his fight for the Fair Deal will succeed.

Acknowledging that "we still have a long fight on our hands" against the "selfish forces of reaction and special privilege," the President added that "the people of the United States have been winning that fight for 160 years," and "I am convinced that we will continue to win it through the years to come."

Well, that is a fighting talk; and a recalcitrant Congress and more especially the political forces which hope to overturn the paper majority now enjoyed by the Democrats in next year's election would do well to take note of it. Some of the Democrats in both houses who have joined hands with the Republicans in blocking or delaying administration measures would be wise to take note, too; November of 1948 is still fresh in the public mind. Everybody said the Truman style of campaigning wouldn't get anywhere then. Many of these same doubters will be saying the Truman style of campaigning won't get anywhere in 1950, either.

Merry-Go-Round-Drew Pearson Second Lady Of Land Will See To It Pop Doesn't Marry St. Louis Widow

WASHINGTON — Capitol society's biggest question mark is whether Vice President Alben Barkley will or won't marry the widowed Mrs. St. Louis, Mrs. Carlton Hadley.

The speculation comes up at every cocktail party, and as usual was the subject of much buzzing at a recent party in honor of Barkley's daughter, Mrs. Douglas MacArthur, whose husband is the nephew of the famed general and who holds down the State Department's important Western European desk.

Mrs. MacArthur, asked point blank whether her father was going to marry Mrs. Hadley, summed it up quite briefly.

"Leave it to Sis," she said, referring to her elder sister, Mrs. Max Truitt.

"Do you think Sis is going to let anyone push her but as father's official hostess and second lady of the land?"

NOTE — Mrs. Truitt as the Vice President's hostess attends most White House dinners, including the exclusive dinner for Winston Churchill to which not even Senators Connally and Vandenberg were invited.

probably will prevail. This will mean that the pound buys less British food imported from abroad, which may mean another round of wage demands.

But it also means that British exports can better compete abroad. For devaluing the pound is a painless way of lowering wages, lowering costs, and underselling competitors.

However, the Snyder plan also is a temporary stopgap — unless Britain takes advantage of this financial help to do two things:

1. Increase industrial efficiency, get new labor-saving machinery, and permanently lower costs.
2. Reduce expenditures and balance the budget.

Both will be difficult.

Britain's Basic Problem—Much more difficult, however, is Britain's long-range basic problem—namely, diminished resources. No temporary stopgap such as devaluing the pound can cure this. The British once were affluent because they were milking a lot of colonies, because they had their own coal and iron ore and the most modern factories in the world.

Today, British iron ore is exhausted — even as ours is becoming. Coal is down so deep it is expensive to mine, factories are nowhere near as modern as ours, labor is not efficient, and Asiatic colonies are gone. Millions of people in those colonies once lived just above the starvation level while the British empire wore ermine. Now, with the social revolution in Asia, the British, on a crowded, overpopulated island, still cling to the standards of living they maintained as an empire.

But if John Snyder insists on lowering those standards too much, then Britain may follow the French and Italians and become one-third Communist — or more so. That's why the financial talks opening today are so important.

BACK TO THE FARM — Vice President Barkley, America's most-loved personality, sometimes gets tired of gazing at the 96 ram-buncheon personalities over whom he presides in the Senate.

So last week when asked what plans he had made for the Labor Day week end, Barkley replied: "I am going to escape from the Senate and go down to my farm in Paducah, where I plan to just gaze at the cows and the pigs. I am sure that will refresh my outlook on life."

Japanese Peace Treaty Blocked By Variety Of Complications

GENERAL DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S renewed call for negotiation of a peace treaty with Japan is couched in such laudatory terms regarding that defeated country's progress as to demand careful consideration by the allied powers.

There are, however, stubborn complications to be overcome before headway can be made toward implementing the general's recommendations. Divergence of views among the allies thus far had precluded a settlement.

MacArthur first advocated a peace treaty more than two years ago. Subsequently the Far Eastern big four (America, Britain, Russia and China) considered ways and means but couldn't agree on the method of procedure.

Russia wanted a treaty drafted by the four powers; America and Britain thought it should be done by the Far Eastern Commission comprising the 11 nations which fought against Japan—the United States, Russia, Britain, France, China, the Philippines, the Netherlands, Canada, Australia, India, and New Zealand. China offered an unsuccessful compromise that the Far Eastern Commission draft the treaty but that decisions be subject to the unanimity of the big four.

SINCE THEN THE SITUATION HAS become immeasurably complicated by the success of the Chinese Communists against Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's nationalist government. Should the Chinese Reds establish a stable regime it would split the Far Eastern big four into two equal camps—Russia and Communist China on one side and the Anglo-American pair on the other. It would be communism versus democracy again.

Despite the difficulties, however, the time is rapidly approaching when action will have to be taken. MacArthur says the Japanese have "fully and faithfully observed their surrender commitments" and "have well earned freedom and dignity and the opportunity which alone can come with the restoration of peace."

The general asserts that the "threat of communism as a major issue in Japanese life is past. . . . The basic causes of social unrest throughout Asia have largely been eradicated in Japan by a re-design of the social structure to permit equalization of individual opportunity and personal privilege." The budget has been balanced.

OF COURSE THIS DOESN'T MEAN that Japan's misdeeds will be forgotten. She has sinned greatly and must expect the allies to insist that safeguards be taken against further transgression. However, Europe would seem to provide an object lesson in the matter of delaying too long in making peace treaties with Germany and Austria.

One of the manifestations of the cold war in Europe has been the failure to make treaties in the shooting war. The cold war which is being waged in the Far East won't be concluded until a peace treaty is made with Japan.

'Statism' Is Alarming Word If Not Looked Up In Dictionary

WASHINGTON, (AP) — THEY'VE GOT me over a barrel and all confessed I mean President Truman. General Eisenhower former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, and Senators Bridges, Pepper, and Capehart.

They've been throwing around the word "statism" like it was a bad word that we don't want any part of.

But I looked it up in the dictionary—and there "statism" sounds like a nice word about something that's always been here.

Byrnes, who once was one of the most powerful Democrats close to Mr. Truman, made a speech June 18.

He warned that "we are going down the road to statism." And he called for a cut in federal power and spending.

This tickled the Republicans. They took it as an attack on Mr. Truman's "Fair Deal" program. They beat the Democrats on the head with it.

"THAT," SAID SENATOR BRIDGES, New Hampshire Republican, in a speech about the Byrnes speech, "is quite a statement. . . . This man has taken off the blinders. He sees the trend in this country."

Senator Capehart, Indiana Republican, didn't seem sure what Byrnes had in mind. Capehart suggested that when Byrnes mentioned "statism" he might have been warning against sliding into "socialism or communism."

But Senator Pepper, peppery Florida Democrat, blasted Democrat Byrnes for giving the Republicans ammunition. Pepper said he and his fellow Democrats deny their program "involves the awful, odious trend which someone might call statism."

This made me pretty gloomy, particularly since "statism" didn't sound good and I hadn't looked it up.

That's when I ran for the dictionary—the latest unabridged Webster's dictionary. It said "statism" means:

"Belief in a government, as in a republic, in contrast with belief in communism or a Soviet government."

Now you can see why I'm confused. All these big men talking against statism and, from the dictionary, it seems that "statism" is a belief in the republican form of government we've always had.

Ruled in art circles as an authentic American primitive, she is known to the public for her nostalgic rural scenes on Christmas cards. When young she was a hired girl. In 1887 she was married to Thomas Solomon Moses, a farmer, who died in 1877. Her hands became too crippled with arthritis to hold a needle for embroidery she tried oil paints found in the barn. She was discovered through paintings exhibited in a drugstore window.

Ballad Singer Hitches His Wagon To A Star

By HOWARD C. HEYN (or Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 6 (AP)—Bearded ballad singer Burl Ives has added dramatic film roles to his sundry activities as an entertainer. He is also on a diet, which may or may not have anything to do with his new vocation as a serious actor.

Ives has been working days in "Sierra" and flying each night to nearby Laguna Beach to play the lead in a summer stock presentation of "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

Heretofore Ives' film appearances have been as a singer of folk songs. "But I don't want to be just a vaudeville act in a movie," he said. "I want real parts."

He got one in "Sierra," but Universal International decided he'd better sing a little also; the picture might sell better.

Edmond O'Brien, in "Dead on Arrival," described his role: "I play a dead man. And the reason I look so dead now is, I'm in every scene I get poisoned, then I solve my own murder before the poison takes effect. That's a work-out."

Songs aren't born in the twinkling of an eye, says Hoagy Carmichael. But he makes it sound almost that easy. "You find a few notes that go together," he said on the "Young Man with a Horn" set. "And the rest gradually fall into place."

"The really good tunes practically write themselves. 'Stardust' was written in a day. That's a good example." Then, after a thoughtful moment, he added: "The words, though, didn't come for months."

Psychological movies are going to the dogs. Duke at Metro is that Lassiie is being reedied for a good-dog, bad-dog, Jekyll & Hyde role. The collier's stand-in, Laddie, will have to double for him, however, in scenes showing Lassiie snarling and biting. Seems Lassiie is too well adjusted; he's never been trained to be anything but refined.

Wall Street's New Boy Wonder Is Going After Common Man

NEW YORK, (AP) — A 26-YEAR-OLD EX-Air Force sergeant has set out to become the new boy wonder of Wall Street.

"Robert M. Tanney—he said his middle initial "doesn't stand for Midas"—opened a stock market office of his own today. Thereby, he believes, he became the nation's youngest independent broker.

As yet he hasn't tried to buy a seat on the curb exchange (cost about $6,000) nor the stock exchange (around $40,000). But they are his next goals.

"I am primarily going after the working and middle classes for business rather than the top executives," he said.

"You don't have to be a Morgan or a DuPont to own stocks."

HIS IDEA TO RING THE DOORBELL of the common man and convince him that buying common stock in sound American industries is today's best investment bet. He plans a staff of 40 salesmen to wage a door-to-door selling campaign. He already has hired four.

Tanney, who has been buying and selling stocks since he was 11, thinks that one of the biggest things wrong with Wall Street is that too many stock salesmen merely wait for investors to phone them.

"The older men rather resent the younger generation coming in," he said. "I know some young men who are making $350 to $500 a week selling securities because they go after new business."

"And I know some oldtime customers' men who earn only $20 to $25 a week because they sit in their offices and do nothing but put up a big front. But they eat two-bit lunches. And they have to be careful how they cross their legs—or else the hole in their shoe will show."

But Tanney thinks Wall Street has a sound future even though the flow of risk capital today is slow.

"It'll pick up," he said. "There's plenty

Juvenile Experiences In Gay Nineties Have Familiar Ring

Forty years can make a lot of difference, and yet not so much at that.

For instance, Bernard Fisher was telling me some of the things which he and his companions did as boys in the early 1890s.

He recalled how they used the Read's dam (pond) north of town as a swimming hole. That's where he learned to swim. On the way back to town, temptation frequently was too much and blouses (shirts were unheard of for young boys) were stuffed with borrowed peaches.

The boys liked to hunt. On Saturday mornings, and sometimes after school, they would start out toward South Mountain. By the time they got there they usually had all the birds and small game they wanted. Longer excursions involved use of a burro hitched to a crude cart to carry supplies out to the lake near the U.S. 80 overpass six miles west of town. They hunted with easy success, cooked game over an open campfire.

Approximately four decades later we followed much the same pattern. It was in the Read tank that I learned to swim along with a number of my companions.

Today it would be considered unsanitary to paddle in a dirt pond, but to us it was rare luxury. We hadn't been briefed on germs.

The peach orchard had disappeared largely so we migrated further down the track where an apple orchard offered opportunities. We still found blouses handy. Ours were buttoned at the bottom to furnish a ready made pack. In Fisher's, day they had draw strings at the bottom.

Perhaps the biggest difference was in the supply of game. We did only a modest amount of hunting. Sometimes we would stay out all day with a few rabbits and occasionally a duck or few doves to show for our efforts. Most of the game had disappeared.

Fisher had one experience we could hardly match. On one occasion he and his friends got a supply of game and paused on scenic Mountain to make camp at noon. About that time they flushed a skunk and disposed of her. But they found a number of kittens, which they put in their sacks with intention of domesticating them. They overlooked one detail. Satisfactory domestication of a polecat involves a bit of surgery. Enroute home the kittens were disturbed by the jostling they got in the game bags. They responded in a perfectly natural way. The boys were ostracized and the game and bags had to be destroyed.

I recall on one Boy Scout camp years ago how a plague of skunks was encountered. We had nothing but rubber sling shots for offensive weapons but did a neat job since a polecat can't get out of a good trot so far as speed is concerned. Joe Black had brought such a quarry to bay in a bush one day. Jubilantly, he kept shooting the creature in the nose, he said. But he had his anatomical directions confused. Each shot provoked a fragrant protest. When Joe returned to camp, the welcome sign was buried and most of the fellows were for burying Joe, too.—JOE PICKLE.

Acheson's White Paper Fails To Answer Crucial Questions

The White Paper on China deals with a diplomatic disaster—perhaps the greatest that this country has ever suffered. But after working his way through the thousand pages the reader is left to wonder what the State Department has learned from the disaster it foresaw and could not avert.

The record shows that Chiang's defeat was regarded as probable five years ago, that it was deemed most probably by General Marshall when he returned from China to become Secretary of State more than two years ago, and that it was judged to be certain when he rejected the recommendations made by General Wedemeyer in his report to the President on September 19, 1947. There has been ample time, therefore, to do what Ambassador Jessup and his colleagues have just been appointed to do—ample time to think about how to protect American interests and to salvage American influence as Nationalist China was losing the civil war and when the Communists had, as forever, won the civil war.

But the White Paper contains no evidence that the mountain, which should have been in labor for two years, has brought forth even a mouse. The big fat book does not even ask, much less does it answer, the crucial questions. Why, at the zenith of American power and prestige was the American influence in China paralyzed and why did the American interest founder so quickly, and why is the nation which we have championed turned against us, and why as we have multiplied our enemies have we also lost our friends?

These are the questions on which private citizens might well reserve judgment until those who are responsible for our foreign policy have spoken. But though the White Paper contains evidence for judging them, the Secretary of State does not discuss them. In fact Mr. Acheson takes the view that really there is no point in asking whether American policy was sound. Since the inevitable happened unavoidably in China, what America did or might have done, did not and could not have made any difference in the outcome. We did the best we could. Had we done more, had we done less, had we acted differently or not at all, we should still be where we are today.

The unfortunate but inescapable fact is that the ominous result of the civil war in China was beyond the control of the government of the United States. Nothing that this country did or could have done within the reasonable limits of its capabilities could have changed the result; nothing that was left undone by this country has contributed to it." This is tantamount to saying that there was no such thing as a sound or an unsound, a right or a wrong, a wise or an unwise, policy towards the Chinese civil war. All policies were equally futile. For since Chiang's defeat was inevitable, the whole conduct of American policy in China was irrelevant.

But that is to beg the question. We followed a policy in which American interests in China, American prestige in China, large quantities of American arms and of American money, were lost in what the State Department had long since decided was the inevitable defeat of Chiang. Mr. Acheson is entitled to argue that the outcome of the Chinese civil war was inevitable and beyond our control. But the Secretary of State cannot contend that our own actions and commitments in relation to that civil war were also inevitable and beyond our control. We might just as well argue that having bet on a spavined horse which we knew would fall down, no question need be asked about the wisdom of the bet. We must think only about the horse and that the horse did in fact fall down as predicted, and that it would have fallen down even if we had tripled our bet.

Russians Sure British Pound To Be Devalued

MOSCOW, Sept. 7. (U.P.) — Soviet economic writers are convinced the British pound and other European currencies are going to be devalued. The government newspaper Izvestia, in answer to a question from a reader, devoted two columns today to showing the inevitability of devaluation. Today's Moscow newspapers also published other stories on the question, including comment from an Italian paper that the "fate of Italian finances are being decided in Washington."

Izvestia declared that the "United States, urged on by an impending economic crisis, is striving to devalue not only the pound sterling, but also other European currencies."

Izvestia claimed the U. S. is making this attempt "in order to ensure itself a free hand in all the Marshallized countries."

The editorial said that in addition to the establishment of the convertibility of the pound into dollars should alleviate the transfer of American dividends received in local currency from the exploitation of American plants.

"Also to the point," Izvestia continued "is the fact that in the event of the arising of an unfavorable atmosphere the devaluation of the pound and its convertibility will give American monopolies the opportunity of removing their capital from Britain and transferring it to other countries."

The paper declared that military considerations also play "no mean role" in the struggle to devalue the pound.

"At the present time," Izvestia concluded, "it is still difficult to say what concrete form devaluation will assume. But there can be no doubt that the sharpness of the contradictions between American imperialism, the interests of which are clashing more and more, will be intensified particularly in connection with the development of the economic crisis."

Texas Junior Bar Gets Merit Award

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7. (U.P.) — The junior bar of Texas was presented yesterday an award of merit for outstanding activities.

The city of Milwaukee, Wis., received a similar award. Dallas won an honorable mention in the local classification.

Junior bars are made up of lawyers under 35. The awards were presented at the convention of the American Bar Assn.

Wild Gas Well Taming Down After Rampage

MARSHALL, Sept. 7. (U.P.) — East Texas' wild gas well tamed down considerably last night.

No longer was the escaping gas throwing up geysers of water, mud and sand — as it had been doing most of the time since Sunday morning.

Instead gas was escaping safely through a drill pipe. The crater which had been gushing and erupting at the drill site — and into which much valuable drilling equipment fell — was quiet.

"Apparently it sealed itself off," explained Ed Stanley, chief engineer of the Oil and Gas Division of the Texas Railroad Commission field office at Kilgore.

Stanley inspected the site. He said the well will have to be abandoned.

"There's nothing else to do," he said. "If they drill at that spot again, the same thing's likely to happen. We don't know where the gas is coming from. Apparently the water sands are pretty well charged."

The well — 18 miles north of here and about two miles northeast of Jefferson — had been drilled to about 380 feet when it blew out of control Sunday morning. Stanley said gas usually is not found at that level.

"It's under control as much as it ever will be," he added. "The drill pipe is bleeding off the underground gas pressure."

He said gas found at such a high level often is found to originate from a crack in a casing of a nearby well.

The 130-foot derrick collapsed with much popping and creaking Sunday night, dropping about $65,000 worth of drilling equipment into the geysering crater. Stanley said much of the equipment was recovered.

HALT DRIVE ON RAILROAD

Towns Recaptured From Chinese Reds

By SPENCER MOOSA

A P Staff

CANTON, Sept. 7. (U.P.) — The national defense ministry today claimed recapture of several villages from Communist forces driving toward the Canton-Hankow railroad from Hucheng, 170 miles north of Canton.

The ministry's announcement said ground was recovered up to a point to 20 miles west of Jucheng. That would place the fighting halfway between Jucheng and the railroad.

Chinese news dispatches said a small force of Nationalist militia-men created a diversion by a guerrilla-like raid on Jucheng itself. These reports said the raid was led by a former magistrate there.

Five Communist divisions were reported preparing to attack Anjen, 40 miles east of Hengyang, some 120 miles northwest of Jucheng.

Other reports said the Reds were building defense works on the northern side of the mountains on the Kwangtung-Kiangsi border. Mei Pass, through which the highway from Kansien to Kukong runs, was being fortified, these reports said.

ports said.

In Shensi province both sides were said to be throwing reinforcements into a battle near Fenghsien, 40 miles southwest of the Lungshai railroad town of Paochi.

Dispatches said the fate of southern Shensi hinged on the battle. A Nationalist loss there would leave Szechwan province wide open to attack. Chungking, designated as the next provisional capital if Canton falls to the Reds, is the capital of Szechwan Province.

The Red drive on Amoy in Fukien province had stalled about 20 miles northeast of the port, Nationalist reports said.

Witness Testifies Ammonium Nitrate Is Not Dangerous

HOUSTON, Sept. 7. (U.P.) — The fertilizer compound involved in the Texas City disaster was not a dangerous product, a chemical engineer testified.

A. M. Miller, former director of chemical engineering for the Tennessee Valley Authority, testified yesterday in the mass trial of $200 million in damage suits against the federal government.

Miller said ammonium nitrate is not a dangerous product, and declared all precautions dictated by prudence were taken in handling the fertilizer.

Miller was the first witness as the government began its case in an effort to prove it was not responsible for the 1947 disaster. Some 200 plaintiffs claim the government is liable in that ammonium nitrate fertilizer in the cargo of two vessels which exploded was manufactured at government owned ordnance plants.

German Killed By Intoxicated Yanks

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 7. (U.P.) — One German was killed and another severely beaten by an intoxicated group of American infantrymen assigned to current war maneuvers on the Rhine, U. S. authorities reported today.

Five soldiers of the First Division are under arrest pending further investigation of the violence at Mainz, a French zone city on the west bank of the Rhine, two nights ago.

Dewey To Study Robeson Riot Case

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Sept. 7. (AP) — Official reports on the violence that prevented one Paul Robeson concert and caused a bloody finish to another one were on the way to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today.

The governor has remained silent on the disorders, saying he would not comment until he received the reports.

These were mailed to him last night by George M. Fanelli, Westchester County district attorney, and Sheriff Fred W. Ruscoe. The governor was expected to receive the reports in Albany sometime today.

Meanwhile, a Cortlandt town official said the town council may seek to limit mass meetings such as Robeson's Sunday concert that ended with the stoning of departing concert-goers and injuring of more than 100.

It was the second outbreak of violence in as many weeks ends when thousands of anti-artist members of war veterans organizations and others turned out to demonstrate against Robeson and his followers.

Alan M. Grant, supervisor of Cortlandt Town near here where the outdoor gatherings were held, said the move to restrict such meetings was not aimed at "stifling free speech and assembly."

He said he would propose to the council that sponsors of future open air meetings meet certain health and safety requirements and affidavits "as to the purpose of such meetings."

There were published reports that a group of summer residents of Upper Westchester and Lower Putnam counties may seek to hold a meeting Sunday at the scene of the riot to voice condemnation of the violence.

The governor directed Fanelli and Sheriff Ruscoe to investigate, and submit their findings following the riot Aug. 27 which broke up a scheduled Robeson concert.

CIO Auto Workers Make New Demands

DALLAS, Sept. 7. (AP) — The CIO United Automobile Workers will ask for pensions, hospitalization and wage agreements in contracts covering 6,400 workers at the Temco and Chance Vought plants at Grand Prairie.

John W. Vinson, area director, said the union has submitted proposals to both firms.

Germany's New Government Is Convened Today

BONN, Germany, Sept. 7. (AP) — The first German government since Adolf Hitler convened today.

The Bundestag, upper house of the West German federal republic was the first branch of the new government to begin work. The Bundestag, the lower house, opens its first session this afternoon.

A federal president will be elected Sept. 12 by a convention of 402 Bundestag deputies and 400 special delegates from the state legislatures.

British high commissioner, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, and the American and French High Commissioners, John J. McCloy and Andre Francois-Poncet were present.

The session was officially called to order by Johannes Buehl, 73, of Hamburg, the oldest German senator.

Earlier, in Catholic and Protestant churches, clergymen had prayed for the welfare of the new republic.

The Bundestag elected Karl Arnold as its president. He is a Christian Democrat and minister president of the largest state — North-Rhine Westphalia, which includes the Ruhr.

Ten of the 11 states voted for Arnold. Only Bavaria's deputies abstained.

Carl Estes Honored For Work In Industrialization Of East Texas

LONGVIEW, Sept. 7. (AP) — An East Texas publisher, Carl Estes of Longview, last night heard people from many stations in life pay tribute to his leadership in the industrialization of East Texas.

The climax of "Carl Estes Day" came in a ceremony on the campus of LeTourneau Technical Institute.

Heading the list of notables was Sen. George W. Malone (R-Nev.),

Business and civic leaders arranged the appreciation day as a tribute to Estes for his leadership over a period of years in attracting new industry to this sector.

The publisher of the Longview News and Journal was given a Cadillac sedan on behalf of businessmen and friends. He, in turn, presented it to LeTourneau Tech. as the first $5,000 contribution to a fund to build a $200,000 building for the school.

Mrs. Estes added another $5,000 check to the fund in lieu of a second Cadillac presented to Estes a short time ago by Harrison County citizens.

Responding to the tributes, Estes promised that a steel mill would shortly be built in East Texas. He did not elaborate on his statement.

Estes helped effect purchase of Lone Star Steel Co. facilities from the federal government two years ago.

Three Texas congressmen and a number of judges were present at the ceremonies.

Sen. Malone lauded Estes' energy and perseverance and said: "Carl is the only man I would come this far to see. If he operates this way when he has heart trouble, we're going to have a tough time with him when he gets cured."

Malone said LeTourneau Tech is now turning out 2,000 trained technicians annually. "But they have to go East to get jobs," he said. "What we need is industries here to employ them."

Industrializing the South and West will help us keep them at home," Wendell Dunbar of Longview, general chairman of arrangements, said Estes had been largely responsible for a dozen large projects in the Longview and East Texas area in recent years.

Tokyo Rose's Mate Quizzed Again In Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7. (AP) — The husband of the accused Tokyo Rose was summoned for cross examination today in her treason trial. His direct defense testimony yesterday pictured her as:

Stoutly pro-American in wartime Japan against her will, working for Radio Tokyo merely to earn a living, disliking the Japanese military, refusing to help Japan's war effort, aiding allied prisoners of war and saving along the wanted America to win.

Felice d'Aquino, the husband of Iva Logori d'Aquino, said neighbors had gone so far as to warn their landlady not to keep them — they were so pro-American they must be spies.

Defense Atty. Wayne Collins led d'Aquino, phrase by phrase, through treacherous utterances attributed by the government to Tokyo Rose, on Radio Tokyo's wartime broadcasts to American servicemen. One by one, he denied bearing his wife's broadcast any such statements.

D'Aquino testified the name Tokyo Rose was given his wife by American writers Clark Lee and Harry Brundidge despite her denials. "My wife said she was not Tokyo Rose that there were many women on Radio Tokyo..." Then Mr. Brundidge or Mr. Lee said, "Well, you were an announcer on the Zero Hour (program), you'll do. And they started preparing a contract."

The contract was to have paid Mrs. D'Aquino $2,000 for her exclusive "Tokyo Rose" story for Cosmopolitan Magazine; but D'Aquino said he later tore up the contract.

Lamesa Armory Gunned By Fire

LAMESA, Sept. 7. (AP) — Fire swept through a corrugated iron National Guard armory at the Dawson County fair grounds late last night.

The structure—housing an estimated $250,000 in clothing, equipment, and training aids for troop C of the 124th Mechanized Cavalry—was valued at $5,000. It is owned by the Dawson County Fair Assn. Flames were controlled shortly after midnight.

Capt. Mack Wassell, troop commander, estimated the value of materials in the building.

Thirty thousand rounds of ammunition were stored in an ammunition room at the back of the building. The room was protected by double walls and the fire did not reach it.

U. S. Marines Honor Mexican War Dead

VERACRUZ, Mex., Sept. 7. (AP) — U. S. Marines and Mexican veterans who fought them jointly decorated monuments to Mexican dead here in the Marine landings of 1847 and 1914.

The ceremony took place yesterday shortly after the arrival of U. S. Destroyer Division 122 on a training cruise. City and port officials, naval school cadets, and representatives of the U. S. Embassy attended.

College Bond Election

HILLSBORO, Sept. 7. (AP) — An election Sept. 7 will decide the fate of a proposed Hill County Junior College. Voters will ballot on a $300,000 bond issue for construction, a 20-cent maintenance tax and establishment of a seven-member board of trustees.

Ten Small Trinity Dams To Be Built

DALLAS, Sept. 7. (AP) — Construction of 10 small "detention" dams on Trinity River tributaries will begin this year.

J. W. Hammett, soil conservation service official, yesterday said sites for the 10 dams — and perhaps more — will be announced when engineering surveys have been completed. That would be in 30 days.

Bolivia Revolt Nearly Ended

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Sept. 7. (AP) — President Mberto Urriolagotia said last night the Bolivian revolt was all but stamped out, with Santa Cruz the only stronghold of resistance left.

The rebel radio in Santa Cruz, on the Argentine border, announced yesterday the formation of a revolutionary government under Victor Paz Estenssoro. The broadcast also continued to predict victory for rebel forces in the 11-year-old Nationalist rebellion.

Paz Estenssoro, now exiled in Minas, Uruguay, issued a statement there tonight, declaring the revolt was a genuine "peoples movement." He said charges issued in La Paz that it was influenced from abroad were false.

Urriolagotia declared in an interview that the government "had dominated" the uprising. He promised measures for bettering the lot of the people, especially in the "social and farm" domains.

On Sept. 28, 1923, the New York Yankees made 30 hits in one game for an American League record.

Firestone Carries Extensive Stock For Home And Car

Practically everything for the car and home can be obtained at the Big Spring Firestone store on E. 3rd street.

Auto accessories, tires, toys, and home furnishings are on display in the big Firestone showroom. Services offered at the store include tire repair and replacement, battery charging, wash and lubrication, and Texaco motor oils and gasoline.

The Firestone store has a complete line of new Super-Balloon low pressure tires, Ted Darby, manager, announced. Life Protector tubes are also stocked.

The soft, low pressure tires can be made standard equipment on any car without changing wheels, Darby said. Softer, smoother rides and better braking are obtained with the Super-Balloons.

Tire repair service, automobile, truck, or tractor, is given anywhere in the Big Spring area by the concern. A mobile repair and replacement unit with compressor, hydra-flator, and other tools answers calls anywhere in the area.

In the home furnishings line, Firestone has on display a number of combination radio-phonographs in a variety of finishes ranging from blond to mahogany. Radios, refrigerators, washing machines, and both gas and electric ranges are stocked.

Automobile owners who like to see to it early that they have an ample supply of anti-freeze liquid on hand for the frigid months ahead can eliminate that concern by calling at the Ted Phillips Tire company, Fourth and Johnson streets, today.

Ted Phillips, owner and manager of the concern bearing his name, recently received a shipment of the famous Prestone anti-freeze, the most established product of its kind on the market.

The Phillips company also has in stock a liberal supply of used tires, perfect on use on farm trailers and older model automobiles.

The concern, too, maintains employees whose job it is to equip vehicles with seat covers, exactly to order. The establishment stocks several grades and a variety of colors in seat covers which the customer can see before making a final decision.

The famous US Royal tire, universally accepted and universally used, is sold by the Phillips store. Individuals who do a lot of driving would be wise in letting the Phillips personnel run a tire safety check on their machines.

US Royal inner tubes are among other items the concern stocks in quantity.

Business telephone number of the Phillips store is 472.

Rounded Service Featured At New Rowe Garage

Just about any problem that can confront an automobile owner can be solved at the Rowe Motor Co., located at 1011 Gregg street.

This establishment, which serves this area as distributor for new Packard automobiles and Willys-Overland Jeeps, has all that it takes to keep an automobile in operation, or if a new vehicle is desired, new Packards and Jeeps are available on the floor.

A complete service station is operated in connection with the Rowe Motor Co., being housed in part of the firm's modern new building. This department features Humble gasoline and lubricants, as well as Atlas tires, tubes and accessories. Lubrication service is a specialty.

Rowe's automobile repair service is unsurpassed in West Texas. The multiple facilities that were installed recently when the firm moved into its new building enables Rowe's mechanics to take care of any job rapidly and efficiently. They can handle anything from a routine motor tune-up to a complete overhaul.

Rowe, of course, maintains a complete parts department where replacements for all Packards and Jeeps are stocked. The parts are precision-made by the manufacturer.

Dependable used cars also are available at Rowe's, and the local firm always makes sure that such vehicles are in excellent condition before they are passed on to the customer.

Falfurrias Man To Get Second Trial

KINGSVILLE, Sept. 7. (AP)—District Judge Paul A. Martineau said on Oct. 3 he would set a date for a second trial for Robert S. Bell of Falfurrias, charged with slaying his son-in-law.

Bell won a new trial on grounds of jury misconduct after being sentenced to 10 years in prison.

SLEEK, NEW MODEL—The 1950 line of Harley-Davidson motorcycles are now on display at the Thixton Cycle shop at 908 W. 3rd street. These feature a muffler that takes the "crack" out of the sound pattern, a wider variety of colors, and increased power on the twin types.

Star Dealer Has Newest Models

Cecil Thixton, who has just been honored as the outstanding Harley-Davidson dealer in Texas, has something else of which he is duly proud.

It is the new 1950 H-D line of models, now on display at his shop at 908 W. 3rd.

A muffler that has been meliorated and the addition of brighter colors are features found on the new line.

"The engineers have taken the 'crack' out of mufflers for the 45 cubic-inch and the Big Twin hydraulic," Thixton explained. "They have replaced it with a deeper, more pleasing tone."

Twin cylinder motorcycle colors available for the new season are ruby red, Riviera blue, brilliant black. At an optional extra charge other colors include Metallic Green, flight red, azure blue and white. Silver, of course, is reserved for cycles destined for use by law enforcement agencies.

A horsepower increase of some 10 per cent in the overhead valve models give greater acceleration. Thixton said the increase was due to a change in design of the intake port.

The popular 170-pound lightweight model 125 has a new, low-speed, current cut-in generator, drop forged steering head, and a comfortable "bucket type" saddle with foam rubber.

Thixton, who earned his dealership honor here Saturday at a

Hopper-McNerlin Nuptial Vows Are Revealed Here

Word has been received here of the wedding of Helen Jean Hopper and Glenn McNerlin in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Shepard in Coahoma Sunday, Aug. 23.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hopper, 801 Johnson. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. McNerlin of Monahans.

The Rev. Paul Eppler, pastor of the First Methodist church in Coahoma officiated at the informal service. Single ring vases were exchanged by the couple before an altar of honeysuckle foliage interspersed with fernery. Arrangements of pink and white roses comprised the centerpiece of the nuptial bower.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a tailored, white gabardine suit. Her accessories were black. She wore a corsage of pink gardenias. For something old, she carried a white satin Bible belonging to her grandmother. For something borrowed, the bride chose a star shaped comb set with rhinestones. Something new was a necklace, a gift of the bridegroom and something blue was a garter.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth and centered with the tiered wedding cake surrounded with pink and white roses. Mrs. C. E. Dodson attended the refreshment service.

Mrs. McNerlin attended Big Spring high school. The bridegroom is a graduate of Tulsa, Oklahoma high school and is a former lieutenant in the Air Corps.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Lubbock, where McNerlin is the director and leading vocalist of the Bob Tucker Band.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

There's nothing very steady about our friendships and hatreds. This is as true on a world-wide scale as it is in individual lives.

We found a chart in a national youth newspaper recently which proved rather interesting and we thought it might prove so to you, too.

In 1788, according to the chart, we loved the British and hated the French, that was during the French and Indian War.

In 1776, we loved the French and hated the British, that was during the American Revolution.

In 1798, we hated the French, Sea battles with France.

In 1812, we loved the French and hated the British, War of 1812.

In 1846, we loved the Southern and hated the Mexicans, Mexican War over Texas.

1861-1864, North hated South and South hated North, Civil War (British aids South).

1898, we hated the Spanish, Spanish-American War.

1899, we hated the Chinese and the Philippines, Conquest of Philippines.

1900, we loved the Japanese and hated the Chinese, Boxer Uprising in China.

1904, we loved the Japanese and hated the Russians, Russo-Japanese War.

1914, we loved the Japanese and hated the Russians, Marines land at Vera Cruz.

1914, we loved the British and French and hated Austrians and Germans, World War I.

1915, we loved the Italians, Italy joins Allies.

1916, we hated the Mexicans, Pershing invades Mexico.

1917, we loved the Japanese and Chinese, but not the Russians, Japan and China were Allies in World War I. The Russian Bolshevik Revolution was in progress.

1918, we loved the Italians and hated the Russians, our troops invade Russia.

1927, we loved the Japanese and hated the Chinese, U. S. bombs Nanking.

1935, we hated the Italians, Italy invades Ethiopia.

1936, we loved the Chinese and hated the Russians, Communists despoil China.

1939, we loved the British and French and hated Germans and Russians, beginning World War II.

1939, we loved the Finns and the Russians, Russia invades Finland.

1941, we loved the Russians and hated the Finns (?) Russia invades Finland.

1941, we loved the British; Chinese, Dutch, Russians and hated the Germans, Italians and Japanese, World War II.

1942, we loved some French and hated others, despite Vichy Regime.

1942, we loved the Mexicans and other Latin Americans, Allies in World War II.

1945, we loved the Chinese, tried to love Russians, British.

1949, we love the western European nations (including western Germany), the Italians and Japanese, and we hate the Russians eastern European nations and half of China.

And by 1950, we will have probably changed our minds again.

Richard And Robert O'Brien Serve As Hosts To Japanese Dinner Party

Richard and Robert O'Brien served as hosts at a Japanese dinner party in the home of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. P. D. O'Brien, 101 Lincoln.

Preceding dinner, guests were entertained with recorded Japanese music.

The table was provided with individual place mats of Chinese handwork linen. Each setting was arranged with a miniature Japanese table service including chopsticks and holders, Choku (Sake) cups and everglaze crystal teacups. All table appointments were brought from Japan and China by the hosts.

Centerpiece for the table included a mat of greenery with sinias arranged in a design around a brass Temple lantern in which small candles burned. Miniature wigs showing various Oriental hair-dress completed the arrangement.

Gaily colored paper lanterns hung in the archway between the reception room and dining space. Various pieces of Japanese art completed the room decorations.

The mantel held an arrangement of zinnias and dancing fans in a porcelain boat. The focal point of the room decorations included a display of various sizes of aquariums containing gold fish, ivy and decorative porcelain goldfish artfully arranged so that all appeared to be under water.

Mrs. Elbert H. Boullion, Jr. served coffee in the living room during a display of various articles of Japanese clothing. Movies were made of the guests in the Oriental costumes and other slides were projected depicting Japanese life and customs.

Guests were presented with their table place cards, hand painted by an elderly Japanese woman. The cards contained "invisible" words of fortune. Other gifts were a pair of lacquered chopsticks, presented by the hosts.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Elbert H. Boullion, Jr., Charles Lovelace and Luan Wear, Ardis McGasland and Ann Blankenship, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Dents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rude, the hosts, Richard and Robert O'Brien and their mother, Mrs. P. D. O'Brien.

Whetsel-McDaniel Reunion Is Held

The Whetsel-McDaniel family reunion was held at Christo Concho Lodge, Christoval, Sunday and Monday.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Whetsel, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Whetsel, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Whetsel, Sonny and Jackie, Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Little and Doylene, Mrs. W. W. McDaniel, all of Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. L. McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. Richard McDaniel and Dickie, all of Longview.

DALLAS LADY LOSES 58 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Baranowitz's Diet is not a fad.

It contains nothing harmful, but it is a scientific method of eating. It is not a fad. No starvation diet—no weakness—no longer. Baranowitz's, the original program. Diet. Follow routine, follow it up steadily, and you can not put it off.

Here is proof:

"I want to tell you what weight I have lost in 54 weeks by using Baranowitz's. I weighed 165 pounds when I started. I now weigh 107. I am so pleased I tell you."

Staseys Get Series Trip

Minor league baseball went to Big Spring Broncs players, and expenses to the World Series went to Manager Pat Stasey and wife as highlights of the Appreciation Night at Steer Park Tuesday evening.

Carlos (Potato) Pascual, winner of the most popular player award, was presented with a bevy of gifts. Gold baseballs went also to Al Aton, business manager, and Bobby Myers, bat-boy.

The $500 gift to Mr. and Mrs. Stasey represented all the net contributions by fans after expenses for the awards to others were deducted. A few dollars shy of the round figure, the committee gathered in enough to do the job Tuesday.

Stasey accepted the gift, graciously acknowledging his own appreciation of fan loyalty and generosity. "All a manager has to do to win first place," he said, "is to get him a bunch of ball players who can win in spite of anything the manager can do." Alluding to ill-luck in play-offs, Stasey said he was still looking for the solution of "how to win a Shaughenessey."

Gifts to Pascual, made possible by Lee Hanson, sponsor of the contest, included a suit of clothes, a hat, shoes, shirt, belt, underwear and tie. The Potato piled up 1,464 votes. Next was Ray (Cookie) Vasquez with 833 and Manager Stasey with 819.

Mrs. Stasey was presented with a bouquet of a dozen red roses by Sue Wasson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wasson. Miss Wasson last week, as "Miss Big Spring," had been chosen queen at the Lamesa rodeo. A bouquet also went to Mrs. Al Aton.

Announcement was made of the payment of last indebtedness against the ball park. Total value of the park was estimated at $34,600, according to records of the Big Spring Independent School district, to whom it was given by participants. Of the original $26,600 put into the park, $20,600 was in popular subscription and $6,400 put in by the school district. (Rentals by the baseball club to date have paid back $3,400 of this amount. They amount to $1,200 per year.)

Several firms and individuals, including Cosden Petroleum Corp., Supps Construction, Taylor Electric, Texas Electric and others, made contributions of time and materials valued at $5,000. Stasey put in $3,000 on improvements, accounting for the total value. The last $1,000 note against the property was paid off Tuesday. It is now debt-free revenue bearing property for the school district.

Players receiving the gold baseballs were Felix Gomez, Ace Mendez, Al Lopez, Carlos Pascual, Ray Vasquez, Hector Bonet, Al Valdes, Lazara Coto, Julio Ramos, Bert Garcia, Louis Gonzales, Francisco Perez, Ernesto Mayorquin, Eddie Noreiga and Bert Baez.

Arrangements for the affair were handled by a committee composed of Joe Flock, A. Swartz and Dr. W. B. Hardy.

DODGER'S SAFETY DODGE—It looks like the awkward squad in action as Preacher Roe (28), Brooklyn Dodger pitcher, hooks around Boston Braves catcher Mickey Livingston to the safety of home plate in the second inning of the double header at Ebbets Field in New York Labor Day. Despite Livingston's all-out effort, Roe was called safe. Roe protested the decision so strongly that umpire Art Gore put him out of game. Roe scored on Carl Furillo's single to right field. Dodgers won, 13-2. (AP Wirephoto)

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

H. M. Rainbolt, owner and operator of the Wagon Wheel here, hosted the personnel of the Big Spring baseball club with a big feed here Tuesday afternoon. It was Rainbolt's way of showing his appreciation for the job the Broncs have accomplished for the city and for the enjoyment he has derived from it.

Of course, Chef T. V. Rogers dished up the steaks.

When Joe Langston, the general manager of the Abilene baseball club, dropped in here the other day to take a gander at the Broncs, he was asked if the pitching importees from Big Spring were doing his Blue Sox any good. That would be Gil Guerra, Will Roca and Fernando Rodriguez.

"Roca is winning occasionally and is making us a good hand," replied Joe. "However, Gil and Freddy can't get any out. I don't know what the trouble is."

On that very night, Guerra was pitching a two-hit shutout and since has run his winning streak to three games in a row. One never knows what's ahead in baseball.

At this writing, the pitcher with the best chance to break Gerald (Red) Fahr's earned-run-average record in Longhorn league play is Our Town's Bert Garcia.

GARCIA AHEAD OF FAHR'S RECORD AT THIS STAGE

In fact, if Bert didn't pitch any more during the regular season, he'd have the new mark in his pocket, since his mark for 149 innings (16 2/3 complete games) is a stinky 1.78 runs.

Fahr established the old mark last year while a member of the Vernon mound corps, at which time he allowed but 195 runs an average nine innings.

The red-head, of course, worked 35 games, as compared to 21 for Garcia, but Bert didn't join the Steeds until the season was well along.

Garcia would probably have offered a serious challenge to Julio Ramos, the league's strikeout king, in the latter's specialty had he been with Big Spring all year. As it was, Bert has collected 132 K's, which is an average of nearly nine a game.

SPENCE ONE OF BEST HURLERS IN LONGHORN LEAGUE

If Bob Spence, the Sweetwater leftie, had had a ball club like Big Spring behind him all season, he would probably have broken Jose Cinda's league mark for total wins (24). As it is, Robin has won 16 decisions and might gather in one or two more before the year is out.

Spence's cross-fire is a sight to behold. He's death on wrong-handed hitters.

FERNANDEZ TO JOIN SENATORS, SAYS SCRIBE

Collier Parris, the Abilene scribe, reports that Bobby Fernandez, the Bronc ex, is going to finish out the season with the Washington Senators, adds that he'll probably grace the outfield of the Chantanooga Lookouts in 1950.

Fernandez is the nearest thing to a big league hitter playing pro ball in West Texas now.

Harold Berry, the local lad who performed for San Angelo Junior college's basketball team part of last season, is attending TCU, where he's working out with the TCU B team.

Berry won't be eligible for varsity ball at Froggieland this fall but will probably play by the 1950 season. He'll have two seasons of eligibility remaining there.

Joe Landrum Sinks Dallas Flock By Tossing One-Hit Game, 2-0

Dallas, which has been riding for a fall finally tumbled last night—right out of the Texas League's first division.

Joe Landrum, Fort Worth's clay chunker, blanked the Eagles 2-0, on one hit as Shreveport moved into the upper bracket on a sound 13-5 victory over Houston. Seven unearned runs in the first inning really helped.

The Eagles wind up the season against the double-tough Cats. Landrum was one out away from a perfect game in the ninth when pinch-hitter Roy Sanner singled for

Shades Chrisco In Hill Duel

A playoff series atmosphere prevailed as Big Spring overhauled the Vernon Dusters to gain a 7-4 decision before some 1,500 fans here Tuesday night.

The patron was out to honor Manager Pat Stasey and his Steeds for the manner in which they've dominated league play this year and neither the Irishman or his Latin hands let them down.

Julio Ramos mounted the knob for the Cayuses and ran into heavy weather as early as the fourth frame, when the Dusters banked all their runs. However, the little left-hander survived the outburst to hang up his 22nd win of the season.

In scalping the North Texans, Ramos had to shade Darwin Chrisco in a brilliant pitcher's duel. The Cayuses got to Chrisco, seeking his 17th victory, for ten blows but Darwin was double tough in the clutches.

Misplays betrayed Ramos in the dark fourth and the Steeds were down 4-2 going into the fifth. Chrisco gave his mates a fat lead by rapping a double with the sacks drunk in Vernon's big inning.

In the fifth, the Hosses scrapped back with Felix Gomez's triple and a one-baser by Ace Mendez for one run.

They got another in the sixth on a walk to Ray Vasquez, a sacrifice by Hector Bonet, Vasquez's theft of third and a hit by Al Valdez.

Vernon threatened in the eighth when the Dusters moved runners to second and third but Ramos forced Wayne Moon to roll to Vasquez to retire the side.

Then the roof caved in on Chrisco in the top half of the eighth. Vasquez stroled again and Bonet gave him transportation to second on another sacrifice. Valdes gained an Annie Oakley and Ramos followed with an infield hit that started out as a bunt to load the baselines.

Gomez dropped a perfect bunt and Vasquez was home. Mendez followed with a one-baser to register Valdes and Ramos counted when Jess Van Winkle accepted Jorge Lopez's ground ball but fumbled erratically to first.

RAMBLINGS—Ramos fanned four to run his season's record breaking total in that specialty to 262. The game didn't get underway until 8:32 p.m. due to the pre-entertainment. Lopez, operating with a bad leg, made a remarkable stop of Bob Johnston's ground ball in the first frame.

Mendez took Cotton McCaskey's long drive off the fence in the second and forced the Duster to limit his wanderings to one base.

Ordinarily, it would have been good for a double. Bonet raced into snag Bob Huntley's attempted sacrifice just in front of the scene and help kill a Vernon threat in the eighth. Harry Scherbing contributed a fine catch on Stasey's long fly in the fifth. Stasey robbed Huntley of a sure hit with a running catch in the second.

Enos Slaughter Gains On Jack

NEW YORK Sept. 7 (AP)—Enos Slaughter of the St. Louis Cardinals is stirring up quite a fuss in the National League's individual batting race.

Slaughter today was seriously challenging Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson for the title.

Robinson is but six points in front of Slaughter. Jackie is moving at a 345 clip, including games of Labor Day. Slaughter is hard on his heels at 342.

The Dodger spark-plug dropped from 340 to 348 during the past week while Slaughter jumped from 326 to 342. Slaughter belted out 17 hits in 35 trips, a .486 fall.

Three Circuits Open Playoffs This Evening

By WLBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Three Texas baseball leagues open Shaughnessy playoffs tonight and the state's four other circuits are in the last days of play.

The first four teams in the Class Big State and Class C East Texas and West Texas-New Mexico Leagues square off tonight in best four-of-seven game series.

Wichita Falls, which finished first in the Big State League, is host to Waco tonight and second place Texarkana entertains Austin.

First place Longview opens at home against Kilgore, while second place Gladewater is host to third place Paris in the East Texas League.

Albuquerque, which topped West Texas-New Mexico League standings for the second straight year, meets fourth place Lamesa at Albuquerque and Amarillo is host to Abilene in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

The Texas Longhorn and Rio Grande final regular season play by midnight Sunday. The Arizona-Texas finished last night.

Amarillo and Abilene Monday finished in a second place deadlock. A telephone conference and remote control coin flipping gave Amarillo the choice of holding the first two games of the initial playoff at Amarillo.

In the Big State League, two games will be played at Texarkana and Wichita Falls. The teams will then switch to Austin and Waco. If more games are needed, the series will be finished at the original game sites.

Two-three-two series will also be played in the West Texas-New Mexico title.

First round playoff survivors will tangle in best four-of-seven game series for the league championship.

The East Texas League champion and the Evangeline League winner will play an inter-league series. So will the winners in the Longhorn and Rio Grande circuits.

Waco will pitch its strikeout list, Bill Pierre, tonight and Wichita Falls will offer veteran Ed Cole. Austin's opening mound choice is Dinty Moore, Texarkana's Jodie Phipps.

Joe Jones of Longview will oppose Red Fahr or Rudy Belakoy of Longview.

Bill Walker or Jim McDowell will be Paris' pitching choice, opposing Victor Stryska.

Ray Faust will pitch for Amarillo against Will Roco of Abilene.

Jackie Barren On ENM Squad

PORTALES Sept. 7 (Special)—With the first game of the season slated for Sept. 10 with Hardin College, Wichita Falls, Texas, Eastern New Mexico University Greyhounds started in on some rugged practice this week.

Trying for berths on the varsity squad are 17 of last season's 23 lettermen. Familiar faces on the field are Charlie Gant, Melrose halfback; Kenneth Livingston, Portales, end; New McDonald, Portales tackle; John Adams, Lovington guard; Charlie Hoover, Adrian, Texas, guard; Fred Beard, Roy tackle; Billy McAllister, Morton, Texas, half-back; Rex Ormon, Borger, Texas, end; John Ray, Lovington end.

Ray Walker, Hatch half-back; Kenneth Willis, Morton, Texas, quarter-back; Jack Barren, Big Spring, quarter-back; Paul Ciena, Mattoon, Ill., full-back; Ralph Kemp, Portales halfback; Ralph Langston, Denver City, Texas, center; Charlie Painter, Roswell full-back; and Al Whithead, Roswell center.

Also with the squad last year, but not seeing enough action to letter, are Bobby Benton Brown field, Texas, Wayne Calhoun, Mattoon, Ill. back; and Keigm Harp, Portales back.

Prospective freshman pulling for a Greyhound berth include: Billy Carter, Clovis guard; Billy Jack Turnbaugh, Tucumcari tackle; M. A. Dunnaway, Hobbs end; Lefty Kempson, Hobbs; Bill Winder, Morton, Texas, end; Dale Skipworth, Tucumcari end; Whit McMorris, Lamesa, Texas, half-back; Bill Hale, Floydada, Texas, end; Benny Bennett, Carlsbad center; Monty Jones, Grady half-back; Bill Hale, Floydada, Texas, quarter-back; Tom Allred, Spur, Texas, back; Joe Taylor, Lamesa, Texas, back; Walter Shaw, Mountair center; and Bill Livingston, Portales end.

Yanks And Red Sox Meet Tonight In Crucial Set

The New York Yankees, leading the American League since the opening gun, face their severest test of the season tonight when they open a vital three game series with the challenging Boston Red Sox at Yank Stadium.

Casey Stengel's crippled Yanks lead the ailing Sox by a game and a half and a Boston sweep would dump the Yanks into second place.

Stengel has selected Allie Reynolds (13-4) to face Ellis Kinder (18-3) before an estimated 75,000 plus crowd. Lefty Ed Lopat is the probable Yankee pitcher for the second encounter and Vic Raschi or Tommy Byrne for the third. The Sox are expected to counter with Jack Kramer and 21-game winner Mel Farr.

Reynolds, despite his impressive won-lost record, has had a rough season while Kinder is enjoying the best campaign of his career. Reynolds has completed only four of 25 starts. He turned in his best game last Saturday when he blanked the last place Washington Senators on three singles.

Kinder, who never won more than 10 games in the majors until this season, is working on an eight game winning streak.

The return to action of Joe DiMaggio and possibly Catcher Yogi Berra greatly enhances the Yankee chances. DiMaggio bowed out of the second game in the Labor Day doubleheader in Philadelphia because of leg cramps but the Jeter reported the ailment has disappeared.

Berra, out with a fractured left thumb since Aug. 7, participated in a "pepper game" yesterday. He reported the digit "felt swell and I guess I'll play." The Yogi's big bat will receive a royal welcome.

While the Yanks and Red Sox go at each other the third place Cleveland Indians and fourth place Detroit Tigers will be battling.

Meanwhile, the equally tense National League race finds the front running St. Louis Cardinals only one game ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Don Newcombe, big Negro right hander pitched the Dodgers to within a game of the Red Birds last night as he turned back the Boston Braves, 10-2, at Ebbets Field. The Cards, the Chicago Cubs and the entire American League were idle.

Brooklyn bounced back in its half of the season to sew up the game, whacking Bill Voiselle for five runs. Voiselle previously had beaten the Brooks three times including two shutouts.

The defeat was the Braves' seventh straight and it dropped them three and one half games behind the third place Philadelphia Phillies who divided a doubleheader with the New York Giants.

Philadelphia came from behind to beat the Giants, 4-2, in the ten inning opener but Leo Durocher's men took the nightcap, 4-1.

Larry Jansen had the Phils beaten, 2-0, with two out in the ninth when they rallied to tie up the game. Bill Nicholson's single broke it up in the following frame.

Sheldon Jones outpitched Hank Borowy in the finale, winning out when his battery mate, Wes Westrum, poked a three run homer in the sixth.

The Cincinnati Reds exploded for four runs in the tenth inning to clip the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-3, under the lights in Pittsburgh.

Winning Pitcher Ewell Blackwell singled to start the rally and Johnny Wyrostek climaxed the uprising with a two-run triple. Ralph Kiner poked his third homer for the Pirates and struck out to end the game.

J. R. (McCarthy) Stanley To Skipper Broncs In Final Game Here Tonight

The Big Spring Broncs will seek a series edge with the Vernon Dusters at Steer park tonight, with a local baseball fan taking over the managerial reins to map strategy for the Hoss attack.

J. R. (Joe McCarthy) Stanley, local hardware dealer and a staunch Bronc fan, has been selected to serve as field pilot for a day. He will devise the lineup for the home club, and will coach at either first or third base while the Hosses are batting.

J. M. Cramer, veteran fan from Coahoma, and probably the oldest regular fan of the Broncs, was strongly considered for the manager's post for tonight.

The Broncs will be making their final home appearance of the regular season. They leave on a four-day road trip tomorrow, with visits to Midland and Sweetwater on the schedule. The Cayuses close out their regular season campaign Sunday in Sweetwater.

The Broncs went one-up on the Dusters last night in the season's series between the two clubs. The locals have now won 20 of 19 contests with the Dusters.

Either Bert Garcia or Louis Gonzalez probably will be ready for mound duty for the Broncs tonight.

Ackerly Opens Play Tonight

The six-man football season will be kicked off at Ackerly at 8:30 tonight. Union and Ackerly teams clash in the opening District 4 contest of the year.

The Ackerly aggregation has been working out for two weeks in preparation for the Union contest. Coach Kenny Baggett reported that 18 or 20 boys have been out for the practice sessions.

Returning lettermen for the Ackerly team are Cliff Landerdale, Joe Zant, Jack Rogers, Elwyn Bass, Dick White, L. D. Seely, Bill Davis, and Gene Taylor. The Flower Grove grid forces are favored to win the district title.

Postpones Flight

LISBON, Portugal, Sept. 7 (AP)—Capt. John Brondeilo, 36, Italian pilot, has postponed until tomorrow his attempt to fly the Atlantic in a single-engine American plane.

Brondeilo said the flight to New York was delayed, because weather reports indicated strong headwinds over the ocean.

The national hard court tennis championships will be decided in Berkeley, Calif., Sept. 17-25.

GIRL SWIMMER UNDAUNTED

Shirley May Says She'll Try Again

DOVER, Eng., Sept. 7. — Shirley May France, red-eyed, string-haired and tired, said today she will have another try at swimming the English Channel.

"It beat me yesterday, but I am sure I can get across next time," said the 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., schoolgirl.

She does not know when "next time" will be, but it may be in a year or two.

Shirley May was pulled out of the water yesterday afternoon after she had tried courageously for 10 1/2 hours to swim from France to England.

She was hauled out at a point estimated to be six miles from her goal, a very cold, but determined girl.

She protested violently at this. Her shouts of "No, No," rang out over the waves.

"I am very disappointed," Shirley May said after a warm bath and shampoo to take the grease out of her hair. "It was the first five hours of the swim that beat me."

Those awful chopping waves washed the grease from my shoulders and after that, of course, I got cold quickly.

The temperature of the water was never above the low sixties and in some frigid currents might have been under 60 degrees, her handlers said.

"I wonder what could have happened if I had had a good day," said Shirley May. "Anyway, I am sure I can do it."

"The child was just battered beyond human endurance," said her coach, Harry Boudakian.

"She could have gone on a while longer, but our first concern in these hard tests is to see that she suffers no harm."

Shirley May was taken from the water virtually by force on orders from her father, J. Walter France, who decided that she had endured enough.

The girl's immediate concern is to get home as promptly as possible. The school term at Somerset started yesterday.

But her manager, New York Press Agent Ted Warner, hoped it might be possible to squeeze in a few days for a flying visit to Paris. That will be decided today.

There was a vivid red mark across Shirley May's forehead where the swimming goggles had pressed. The goggles gave her considerable trouble in the water. The inside of her mouth was sore from the salt water but she was uninjured and her main sensation last night was one of exhaustion.

However, shortly before midnight she aroused herself sufficiently to leave her little seafront hotel to have a public Trans-Atlantic radio talk with her mother.

The blonde girl swimmer has become the darling of the little Dover Street that faces on the sea. Folks here like her and they gathered by the dozens on the little lawn in front of her hotel.

Meanwhile, a relay team of six Egyptians, churning eastward across the channel early today in 11 hours and 11 minutes and claimed a new record.

Pickets Hoot British Officials On Arrival

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. — Shouting, sign-carrying pickets dogged British officials last night as they passed through New York on their way to economic talks in Washington.

The pickets chanted such slogans as:

"Get rid of those British pan-handlers."

And: "There'll always be a British Empire as long as Uncle Sam pays for it."

About 700 pickets were on hand at the dock as the British delegation, including Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps, debarked from the liner Mauretania.

The demonstrators said they were "American-Irish minutemen."

They lined up along the streets, booning, shouting and waving their banners, as the Britishers left by motorcade to catch a train for Washington. Several pickets tried to push their way into the street, but were restrained by police.

Their placards demanded release of 14 Irish Republican army prisoners, saying:

"Boycott British and six-county (Northern Ireland) goods until these men are released."

Another sign said: "England get out. America said it in 1776, Ireland says it now."

More pickets thronged about Pennsylvania Station as the British officials arrived to board a train.

John Rapp, official of the ancient order of Hibernians and picket captain, described the minutemen as "an organization of Irish American taxpayers to stop any more money from going to England."

RACCOON RESISTS ARREST, BUT IS OVERCOME, BOOKED FOR VAGRANCY

DETROIT, Sept. 7. — A venturesome raccoon gave the law a time of it last night.

Of all places, it was Detroit's "Skid Row" street of forgotten men, that the 'coon chose to investigate—and come to grief.

On Skid Row the lads do take a sip now and then of stuff that's stronger than water.

Can it be that the raccoon went that far?

Consider.

The animal fell smack out of a tree—something no raccoon in its right mind would ever do. And fell on its noggin, so hard that it was knocked out.

Some resourceful passersby laid a handy washtub over the prone body and called police.

By the time Officers William Winter and William Herbater got there, the raccoon had come to. And further, was fighting mad.

After cautious maneuvering, the officers got the raccoon into a duff bag and carted it off to the central police station.

They booked the 'coon there until it could be turned over to the humane society.

That's the story.

Polio Decline In Texas Noted

AUSTIN, Sept. 7. — Polio continued to drop in Texas last week, with a total of 63 new cases reported, the lowest weekly number since June 4.

State Health Officer George W. Cox cautiously said he thought the relatively low incidence confirmed his prediction that "the time for a natural drop in polio incidence has been reached."

The 63 cases for the week ending Sept. 3 marked the fourth consecutive week in which polio has been on the decrease since the report of 121 cases for the week ending Aug. 6.

Dr. Cox said, "without trying to minimize the gravity of the polio situation in Texas, I think we have some cause for optimism now. If we take common sense precautions regarding basic sanitation — insect spraying and refuse clearance — I think the biggest threat from polio is over for this year."

The week's report included new cases from 33 counties, three of those — Hamilton, Hemphill and Kinney — each reported one case for the first time.

ITCHING

Tormented by Itching of dry eczema, simple piles, common skin irritation? Soothing, medicated Resinol Ointment is a proved reliever of such distress. Its ingredients, often used by doctors, act gently to give lingering comfort. Well worth trying.

HEATING DEBATE

Open Gas Stove U.S. Vented, Controlled Heat

TIME—Winter, 1949-50, PLACE—An Average Home

JUDGES—People in Homes

Open gas stove speaking: 1. I burn the oxygen out of the air, this makes your walls and windows sweat, and you gasp for breath. 2. I throw off monoxide gas and smoke, poison people and smoke walls and ceilings. 3. You have to turn me up and down, manually in order to keep an even temperature or I will be too hot or too cold.

Vented controlled heat speaking: 1. Floor furnaces, gravity or forced air furnaces are vented to outside, taking off smoke and monoxide. 2. I do not burn oxygen out of air. 3. I heat automatically; controlling the temperature within one or two degrees. All safety devices are used. No sweating, no smoke, no monoxide and an even temperature.
