Sales Booths To Be Directed By Women

Women brokers go to work Friday in handling the Big Spring Centennial souvenir certificates.

Club women by the scores will man sales booths in stores throughout the city, offering the $1 shares to all persons who help underwrite the city's October birthday festival. Mrs. Douglas Orme is directing the Friday-Saturday activity, and reported that a full corps of saleswomen had been engaged.

Forty-five hundred soldiers and sailors, as against 2,300 yesterday, moved into the port area to unload food ships tied up by the 18-day stoppage. Another 2,700 men were ordered by the Royal Air Force to stand by for duty tomorrow.

The Centennial stock certificates sell for $1 per share. Purchasers may either keep the certificates for souvenirs, or submit them for redemption next December, provided funds are available for that purpose after the celebration is staged.

Problems Of Administration And Of Candidacy Face Gov. Shivers

A little over a week ago young Senator B. C. Morris of Greenville expressed surprise and delight at being elected president pro tem of the Texas State Senate. He placed his second in line for succession to the governorship if the governor should resign or die.

Governor Shivers was something of a boy prodigy himself. He was elected state senator at 27, youngest in the state's history.

Probing Of Probers Points To Need Of Some Sort Of Reform

At first, it looks like a sheer case of the congressional pot calling the judicial kettle black, but more than likely it's just another instance of "shooting from the hip" when a little more careful aim was in order.

WASHINGTON—Politically speaking, President Truman in his new economic message climbed down from the inflexible limb on which he had been roosting precariously since his inauguration.

One presidential caller Monday, from Capitol Hill, has come away with storm warnings, however. He found the President calm enough about the economic situation and congressional reaction to his views on it, but not calm at all over the trend in the Senate toward playing down military aid for Europe.

Published Sunday morning and weekday afternoons except holidays by THE APPRAISED NEWSPAPER CO. Incorporated in Texas under the laws of the State of Texas, under the charter of March 3, 1919.

"What the Nationalists would like, of course, would be an outbreak of war between the United States and Russia," says the dispatch. "Since this appears unlikely, the next best thing would be some sort of common anti-Communist front among Asiatic nations which would be a big asset if not a substantial boost to the Kuomintang position."

WASHINGTON TO AMERICANS—Ambassador Leighton Stuart has warned all American diplomats in China to be on their best behavior in dealing with the Communists. Stuart believes the Communists' action in jailing and beating U. S. Vice Consul Olive in Shanghai is just the first step in a campaign to brand all American diplomats as spies.

Hollywood-Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD—A check on the Oscar derby at the midway mark reveals a scant field. Never have there been so few contenders for Academy honors at the six-month post in Hollywood's annual race. From this vantage point, it appears that only "Letter to Three Wives," "Home of the Brave," "The Window," and "Champion" make serious bid for blue-blood honors.

Contenders Are Few For The '49 Oscar

Of course, studios often hold their Academy hopefuls until release at the end of the year. But last year's winners—"Johnny Belinda," "Hamlet," "Sierra Madre"—were all brought out in the first part of the year.

Nation's Economy Would Take A Whipping From Steel Strike

WASHINGTON, D.C.—ONCE MORE IN A deeply serious moment of its history the nation holds its breath as two giants, the steelworkers and the steel industry, get braced for struggle.

IN SHORT, A LONG STEEL STRIKE would have crushed recovery in a thousand ways. The strike lasted a month, not long enough to throw the whole country out of whack. The men went back into the mills and American prosperity began its climb to the highest peak in history.

Years of research pioneering guarantee LUCKIES ARE A FINER CIGARETTE!

Constant research at Lucky Strike's famous cigarette laboratory—America's largest and most completely equipped—is devoted to giving you a finer cigarette!

THERE is no finer cigarette in the world today than Lucky Strike. Here's why: Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And every step in the making of Luckies—from before this fine tobacco is bought until the finished cigarette reaches you—comes under the watchful eye of the largest and most completely equipped cigarette research laboratory in America.

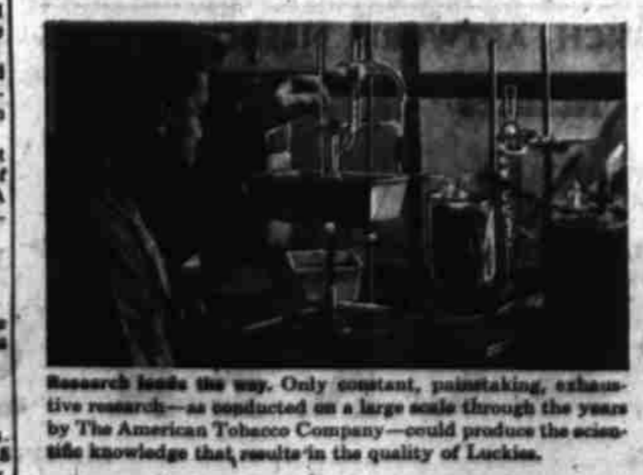

Testing tobacco. Samples from every tobacco-growing area are analyzed before and after purchase. These extensive scientific analyses, along with the expert judgment of Lucky Strike buyers, assure you that the tobacco in Luckies is fine, light and mild. No wonder Luckies are a finer cigarette.

Luckies stay fresh. After Lucky Strike cigarettes have been packaged, they must be tightly sealed to remain fresh. Here you see the cellophane seal being tested for air-tightness. Such instruments are in constant use at every plant.

For many years, the famous Lucky Strike laboratory in Richmond, Virginia, has been a center of cigarette science and technology. In this remarkable building you can see a fascinating collection of scientific instruments—microscopes, spectrophotometers, balances, projectors, humidification chambers, and many other complicated and costly machines.

Research leads the way. Only constant, painstaking, exhaustive research—as conducted on a large scale through the years by The American Tobacco Company—could produce the scientific knowledge that results in the quality of Luckies.

Two More Suspects Quizzed In Slaying Of Tex Thornton

WICHITA FALLS, July 14. (AP)—Two more suspects were to be quizzed today about the slaying of a famed oil well fire fighter, W. A. Thornton.

Credit Requirements Stay Same Even After Regulation W Gone

Little change in either volume or type of credit extended here has resulted since the lifting of Regulation W, according to a survey of business and business-adjacent agencies.

Consensus seems to be that the much discussed regulation was nothing more than "good business" in the first place. Regulation W was a federal ruling requiring a minimum down payment and limiting the period over which credit could be extended.

"Down payment of at least one-third has always been the golden rule with us," one automobile dealer said. "And it's next to impossible to find a finance company that will extend credit for more than two years on an automobile."

Discount paper buyers are also continuing along about the same line as when the regulation was in effect. Regulation W limited credit extension to two years and required a down payment of one-third the cost in most instances.

Bossy's Tummy Ache Terrific; Baking Soda Won't Cure It

DETROIT, July 14. (AP)—What happens when a cow gets a terrific stomach ache?

Her stomach gets all full of foam just like a washing machine churned up with modern soapless washing powders.

It takes more than baking soda to settle a cow's stomach. Unless relieved, the cow develops bloat and dies.

Dr. A. W. Quin, a veterinarian from Kansas City, Mo., reported, however, that veterinary medical scientists have developed new

DIDN'T STAY FOR THE SHOW

WASHINGTON, July 14. (AP)—Three unidentified guests who came to Don Thomas' television party last night walked out with $500 in cash and postal savings checks, two wrist watches and two rings, Thomas' maid police.

Thomas, a beautician, said three armed men knocked at the door and forced their way into his darkened apartment to rob him and three guests he had invited in to see a wrestling match.

Railroads Have Underslung Cars

CHICAGO, July 14. (AP)—A streamliner with a "low look," the latest thing in the railroad industry, will be on display at the Chicago railroad fair Saturday.

Visitors will have a chance to inspect the "Talgo," the American Car and Foundry Co.'s train that literally hugs the rails.

The Talgo has a locomotive two feet lower than present day equipment. Interior space, say company officials, suffers no loss in the transformation.

"You don't need a porter's helping hand to step down off the Talgo. It's a single, easy step. Floors of the Talgo are only 18 inches above the head of the rail as compared with 31 inches for standard railroad cars.

Each Talgo coach is supported by two wheels at the rear, the forward end being carried by the unit ahead. All equipment for air conditioning and brakes, which is ordinarily slung under the car, is carried in a separate equipment unit where it is more easily accessible.

The low gravity design and all-aluminum construction results in an overall weight reduction of 15 per cent.

There is no trustworthy record of the use of bells before the Christian era.

chemical agents to relieve bossie's stomach ache.

"One of the most efficient types of these new chemicals," Dr. Quin said, "is called polymerized methyl siloxane."

"Tablets and liquid suspensions of methyl siloxane were supplied to veterinarians. Reports on treatment of 175 cases of cattle bloat show 133 successful recoveries—a quite outstanding record."

Dr. Quin explained the washing machine diagnosis of a stomach ache this way:

"If you toss some of the new detergent washing powders into water and agitate it, a great mass of foam develops because the powder increases the surface tension of the water and air is then entrapped by films of the detergent."

"A like reaction occurs when a cow eats heavily on high-moisture legumes and grasses containing tannins."

"Saponins, according to Webster's, are a chemical which comes from plants and have the property of producing a soapy lather."

"Surface tension of the stomach contents is reduced," Dr. Quin went on, "and muscular agitation of the stomach walls then creates a foam of carbon dioxide, methane, hydrogen sulfide and other gases."

A dose of chemicals, however, will restore normalcy by increasing the surface tension in the cow's stomach.

Dr. Quin described the treatment as one of many important new developments in veterinary therapy.

Reserve Units To Get Boost

Reserve units in Texas are due to be increased to a degree within 90 days.

During that period of time, approximately 500 18-year old Army volunteers from Texas will have completed their one-year of service.

They entered service under the provision of the Selective Service Act that provided that 18-year old volunteers serving a year in the armed service would be no longer subject to the draft.

However, this is contingent upon remaining active in an organized unit of one of the reserve components for four years. This may be either in the national guard or organized reserve corps.

According to Col. Oscar B. Abbott, executive of the Texas military district, these volunteers must report to the TMD by letter within five days of separation. In this locality they likely will be assigned to the local Guard company.

Funeral Rites Are Said For Crash Victims

ROMNEY, July 14. (AP)—Funeral services for victims of the Royal Dutch plane crash in which 45 persons perished Tuesday were held today as monsoon rains flooded the city for the fourth straight day.

It was a simple ceremony attended by U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson, high Indian officials and the Dutch, Chinese and American consuls.

Services were conducted by representatives of the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths.

Sixty-five wreaths were placed at one end of the town hall. They were gifts of the Indian government.

Ambassador Henderson identified another body today—that of Vincent Mahoney, one of the 13 American correspondents killed. The number of bodies brought to the morgue now totals 42. Two of the nine bodies recovered yesterday were those of women.

A search for three bodies still missing continued about the foot of Chaktopar Hill where the Big KLM plane crashed and burned.

INSANE SLAYER'S ESCAPE GETS NO FARTHER THAN WATER TOWER

LIMA, O., July 14. (AP)—An insane slayer today admitted he was cold and sleepy after a night on top of Lima State Hospital's 130-foot water tower.

Raymond Juttia scampered up the lofty tower yesterday morning after guards stopped a desperate escape attempt.

But officials of the institution for the criminal insane apparently were not very worried. They confidently played a waiting game.

"We'll wait him out," Dr. R. E. Bushong, hospital superintendent said.

The 35-year-old demented slayer shouted answers to the questions of guards. Asked how he felt after a night on his perch, Juttia admitted "it was a little cold."

But he quickly added he had no intention of coming down.

"I'll stay up here two weeks if I have to," he defiantly replied to the pleading of guards.

Juttia has been demanding that officials furnish "protection for my family from some released convicts," he did not identify the convicts.

Shrimp Boat Blast Takes One Life

BAY CITY, July 14. (AP)—The explosion of a shrimp boat, the "Little Gypsy," took the life of Baines Luddington, 37, in the Gulf of Mexico yesterday.

Luddington and his brother, Sammy, 38, were 12 miles out in the 36-foot craft when it exploded and sank. The boat belonged to Ralph Patrons of Matagorda, Tex.

Sammy and Baines found themselves in the water with only one life preserver. Baines was badly burned. He put on the preserver and Sammy swam along beside him pushing him toward shore.

Baines finally died of his injuries, Sammy said. Sammy then put on the preserver and towed his brother's body to shore on Matagorda Peninsula. Sammy was treated for shock.

Man Asphyxiated As He Hunts Treasure

LUFKIN, July 14. (AP)—The body of a young man asphyxiated by accumulated gas as he hunted buried treasure in a deep dry well has been recovered.

He is Andrew Jackson Faulk, 27. The young man, his father, J. M. Faulk of Lufkin, and a third man were looking for supposedly buried treasure, the sheriff said.

Temperatures Drop A Bit

By The Associated Press

Temperatures leveled off to nearly normal marks over most of the country today.

Cool air moved over parts of the Northern Plains and northern Great Lakes region, sending the mercury slightly below average figures. The mercury was in the high 40's and 50's in some of the cool belt early today.

There were quite a few wet spots, but no additional rain was reported in the northeastern drought area. However, some relief to the parched crops resulted from yesterday's showers.

Rain fell today in parts of Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and another wet belt extended from eastern Virginia to the Carolinas and into Georgia. Some showers also were reported in Tennessee and eastern Kentucky and in scattered sections of the Rocky Mountains.

Yesterday's highest temperatures included 112 at Yuma, Ariz., 109 at Phoenix, Ariz. The mercury was in the 80's over most of Texas.

One Killed When Jeep Overturns

Woods is survived by his wife and eight children, of Pampa, Mo.

'SIT-DOWN' STRIKES

Czech Regime Claims Priests Defying Ex-Communication

By RICHARD KASISCHKE, AP Staff
PRAGUE, July 14. — The Czech Communist press claimed today that some priests who had been excommunicated by Roman Catholic authorities for siding with the government in the state church fight were staging sit-down strikes and refusing to surrender their parishes.

sons who read Communist-produced literature.
This decree is vital to this predominantly Catholic country, which for months has been torn by church-state strife. Here the priests and faithful are bombarded with Communist-produced "church papers" which are stamped with the seal of the Catholic consistories (administrative offices), now occupied by representatives of the ministry of education.

Texas City Issues Are Under Study

HOUSTON, July 14. — The $300 million Texas City disaster damage suit trial marked time today. Judge T. M. Kennedy had under study several motions filed by attorneys.
A legal committee for the plaintiffs has indicated it is ready to rest its case, subject to the court's ruling on a motion that the Federal Bureau of Investigation be required to produce a complete copy of its report on the disaster. The trial is to determine the government's liability for the disaster.

LAW SUIT IN PROSPECT

Dallas Favored As New Medical Site

AUSTIN, July 14. — Dallas held the inside track to secure the new state medical school as the University of Texas Board of Regents held hearings on cities' claims here today.
But there were hints that the Dallas proposition, involving transfer of the privately endowed Southwestern Medical College to the state, might eventually be contested in the courts.
The house of delegates of the Texas State Medical Assn., authorized by the 51st Legislature to recommend a site to the regents gave its nod of approval to Dallas yesterday. Of 139 votes cast by the doctors, 78 favored Dallas, 54 San Antonio, and 6 Temple.

adopt the recommendation.
Sen. Walter Tynan of San Antonio had indicated the possibility of a law suit earlier yesterday. He did not direct his remarks specifically at Dallas, but some of them were applicable only to that city. He stressed two points:
1. That no strings could be attached to the transfer of a private medical school to the state, the law providing that funds and property of such schools must be donated to the state.
2. That the new medical school must enroll 100 students more than the present enrollment of all medical schools in the state.
Dr. A. C. Scott of Temple, who endorsed location of the medical branch at either San Antonio or Temple but not Dallas, questioned how Southwestern Medical could provide classroom and laboratory space for 200 students more than the enrollment of 84 during the post school year.

Scott Would Quit GOP Chair, If Can Get Potent Successor

WASHINGTON, July 14. — Sen. Martin (R-Pa) indicated today that Rep. Hugh Scott, Jr., will step down as Republican national chairman "if we get assurance an outstanding man will take his place."
Martin said, however, that he, Scott and other Pennsylvanians "are not going to be shoved around" by those who want someone else in the key GOP post.
"There is no use talking about Scott moving out until we are sure that there is a top flight man to succeed him," Martin told a reporter.

the Republican party," Martin said. "We want to do all we can to advance the interests of the party. But we won't be kicked around under any circumstances."
Martin said Scott "didn't want the job in the first place" and indicated he is willing to give it up if such a move would unite the party behind a man all factions can agree upon.

Says Policy Is Developed On Electric Power

WASHINGTON, July 14. — U. S. Sen. Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma predicted yesterday that Southwestern Power Administration officials have unwittingly developed a new policy for public power distribution.
He was commenting on the Senate Appropriations Committee's recommendations that House-approved funds for public power agencies, including SPA, be slashed.
Thomas said that the SPA had worked out a program with the Texas Power & Light Co. where the government puts hydro-electric power into the system, reversing the right to take it out for possible sale to preferred customers such as RIA co-operatives and public groups. The excess could be sold to private companies.
"All the committee is asking is to extend that policy throughout the United States," he said.
Thomas added that such policy would make unnecessary the building of steam plants for use in hydro-electric power production and construction of distribution lines where they already are built.

Air Freight Line Loses Charter

WASHINGTON, July 14. — The Civil Aeronautics Administration today suspended the operating rights of Strato Freight, Inc. It operated the plane in which 53 persons were killed in Puerto Rico last month.
CAA Administrator D. W. Rentzel accused the company of operating faulty equipment. He also asserted that it has repeatedly violated safety regulations.
Rentzel suspended the operating rights under his emergency powers. At the same time, he filed a formal petition with the Civil Aeronautics Board asking that Strato Freight's flying authority be permanently revoked.

Presidents Have Retained Control Of 'Secret' Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressmen have been slow to catch on that they can't make the President or his lieutenants give them information he doesn't think should be made public.

One of the most familiar headlines of recent years reads: "Confidential Data". Usually it involves material obtained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Last year the big case was that of the FBI letter to the Secretary of Commerce regarding a loyalty check on Dr. Edward U. Condon, director of the Bureau of Standards.

A few weeks ago the Senate subcommittee on immigration recommended that the Justice Department produce its files on 368 persons, most of whom were connected with the United Nations and foreign governments. The attorney general declined to deliver the files. He agreed, however, to reply to certain questions about the 168 persons, and the committee accepted the compromise.

The argument started when George Washington was President.

Seventeen Presidents have had to thrash out the matter with their Congresses. Every one of them won. Congress has never forced the issue once a President has taken a determined stand.

At the heart of the question is the doctrine of the supremacy of the three branches of the federal government in their own fields. None can give orders to the others in matters which the Constitution, the laws or legal precedent leave to the others' discretionary information, would be contrary to the public interest.

Congressmen debating the issue have often said: "Why should the President be the sole judge of what should or should not be made public?" Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) violently objected when in 1930 President Hoover refused to furnish the Senate with various data concerning the drafting of the London Naval Treaty in 1930. His point was that the Senate and the President were partners in the treaty-making process, and pertinent documents were the joint property of the two partners. The argument on the other side has been that the President is the only feasible person to make the decision. If Congress were to insist on reading the material and then learned that its release had damaged the public interest, the harm would have been done.

What can compel a President to produce documents he thinks ought to be kept secret? Political scientists see no practicable way of doing it. The courts can't force the President to exercise his judgment one way or another. The only thing Congress could do would be to impeach him, and to the experts that idea is politically inconceivable. Strong public opinion would be required on behalf of a chief executive pilloried in his light to prevent the release of information he believed would injure the nation. Suppose Congress should manage to impeach and have imprisoned for contempt a department head who had refused its demands? The President could immediately pardon him, for the pardoning power is unrestricted. Nevertheless, the issue has been raised even more frequently in recent years. The nation has never before had so many secrets it wished to guard, such as the atomic energy program and the far-reaching FBI investigations of Communist spy activities.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt repeatedly came to grips with Congress on the issue between 1941 and 1944. The battles were mostly over FBI reports and the records of the Federal Communications Commission Mr. Roosevelt finally had the controversial FCC records transferred to the White House files so that Congress would have to call on him personally to produce them. This was a device that President Theodore Roosevelt used. The Senate in 1909 tried to force the head of the Bureau of Corporations to hand over certain documents relating to an anti-trust case. The long struggle over the matter ended when TR ordered the bureau chief to hand the documents to him for safe keeping. President Truman took the same action in the Condon case directing the Secretary of Commerce to send the disputed FBI letter to the White House files.

In many of the disputes Presidents were seeking to preserve the secrecy of foreign relations. It was such an issue that George Washington faced in 1793, when the house requested him to give certain inside information concerning the negotiation of the Jay Treaty, establishing peace with England.

Making Pilgrimage In Medieval Dress

LISEUX, France, (U) — Henri Metz, an 80-year-old Bavarian who has lived for many years in France, passed through here recently on a pilgrimage which he says will also take him to Lourdes, Padua and Rome. According to the newspaper "Republique du Sud-Ouest," Metz, who wears the clothing of a Medieval pilgrim and carries a long staff, hopes to cover more than 5,000 miles at the rate of 22 miles a day. He says he is making the pilgrimage for world peace and to advocate release of all imprisoned bishops and priests.

Some Greek Cynics led lives somewhat similar to those of early Christian hermits.

Cool Food In Summer Chases The Heat Away

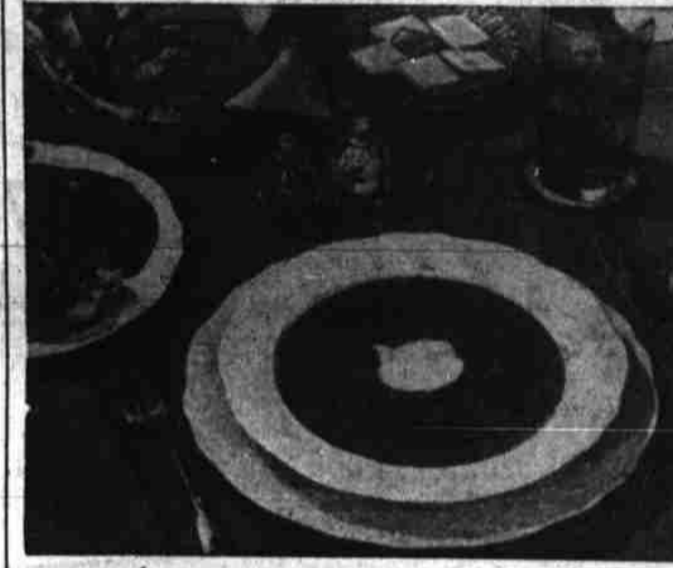

SUMMER FRUIT PLATE — Chase the heat away

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
If you like to serve soup and salad luncheons in hot weather, here are two new recipes for you. The soup pictured is a version of that old perennial "Borscht". The salad is a particularly delicious combination of July fruits with a creamy new kind of mayonnaise. Since it's a good idea to serve at least one hot food on each menu, even in torrid weather, you can let the soup preface a casserole dish. When you serve the salad you may wish to precede it with a warm soup.

SUMMER FRUIT PLATE
Arrange attractively on an individual salad plate, a banana cut in half lengthwise and dipped in lemon juice, slice of honeydew melon, seeded grape halves, or sliced cherry halves, diced cantaloupe, and fresh pineapple cut in matchstick pieces. Top each serving with 1/4-cup Creamed Cottage Cheese. Garnish with sprigs of watercress and serve with Fruit Salad Mayonnaise.

FRUIT SALAD MAYONNAISE
Ingredients: 2-3 cup condensed milk, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1-3 cup orange juice, 1/2 cup melted butter, 1 egg yolk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash of cayenne pepper, 1 teaspoon dry mustard.
Method: Put condensed milk, lemon juice, orange juice, melted butter, egg yolk, salt, cayenne and mustard into mixing bowl. Beat with rotary egg beater until mixture is well blended and thickened. If thicker consistency is desired, chill before serving. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

CHILLED BEET AND SAUERKRAUT SOUP
Ingredients: 2 cups beet juice, 2 cups sour cream, 4 cups chicken bouillon, 2 cups sauerkraut, salt and freshly ground pepper (to taste).
Method: With a rotary beater thoroughly combine beet juice and 1 1/2 cups sour cream. Add chicken bouillon, sauerkraut and salt and pepper to taste. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving top each portion with a spoonful of the remaining sour cream. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Salmon In Aspic, Swedish Style, Is Delicious Hot Weather Treat

Even though vacation time may be scheduled for the end of summer, it's easy to give the family a taste of famous ocean resort specialties right now on budget dinners.

Salmon in aspic is a favorite delicacy that's easy for thrifty home cooks to present with distinction. For a beautiful thrifty variation of salmon that will have extra special hot weather appeal, flavor the gelatine mixture Swedish style with a cup of beer. This delicate malt seasoning will impart subtle aromatic flavor that has an inspired affinity for salmon and probably will baffle enthusiastic guests who try to figure out what wonderful seasoning magic you used.

Or, if your family prefers the "something hot-something cold" formula for hot weather menus, co-star a hearty fish stew, seasoned with beer, with a tossed green salad, and cheese and crackers for dessert.

Salmon-Aspic Mold
2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
1/2 cup cold water
2 teaspoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 8-oz. cans tomato sauce
2 cups water
1 cup beer
Dash tabasco
2 cups flaked salmon
Sprinkle gelatine on cold water in top of small double boiler; dissolve over hot water. Combine remaining ingredients, except salmon; mix well. Add gelatine. Chill until syrupy; fold in salmon. Pour into 1 1/2 quart mold; chill until set. Unmold on serving platter. YIELD: 8 servings.

Method: Mix and sift the cake flour, baking powder, and salt. Pour in the cream and mix vigorously with a wooden spoon until dough forms. Flatten out somewhat, gently, in bowl and mark off with a spatula in 12 portions; put half of each portion in a separate mound on a greased baking sheet with a tablespoon. BUTTERMILK LEMON PUDDING
Ingredients: 2 1/2 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon all-purpose flour, grated rind of 1 lemon, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 eggs (separated), 1 tablespoon butter or margarine (melted), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup buttermilk.
Method: Put the sugar and flour in a mixing bowl and mix well; add the grated lemon rind, and lemon juice. Beat the egg whites until they form peaks that curl over slightly when rotary or electric beater is slowly withdrawn; without washing egg beater beat rolls until thick and pale colored. Add the beaten yolks, the melted butter or margarine, the salt and the buttermilk to first mixture; stir well. Add egg whites and fold in until no white shows remain. Pour into custard cups; set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate (350F.) oven for about 45 minutes. Chill, invert on individual serving dishes if desired; there will be a cake-like base and a custard-sauce top.

SOIL CONSERVATION

Abruzzi Rye Makes 17.5 Bu. Per Acre

Abruzzi rye on the E. H. Hatchler in the Vincent soil conservation farm five miles northwest of Big Spring made 17½ bushels of grain to the acre, E. C. Russell reported last week. The Russell brothers, who are farming the Hatch place, planted 63 acres of rye for cover crop last fall. The rye kept the soil from blowing, Russell said. He will plant more rye this fall with the seed harvested. The Russell brothers planted their cotton two rows in and skipped two rows. They will drill the rye in the blank rows. Eight acres of cotton planted this way last year took 500 pounds less seed cotton to make a bale, Russell said.

The rye kept sand from blowing to the cotton and saved the cost of gathering the extra 500 pounds to make a bale. The Russell brothers are using rye cover crops as part of their coordinated soil conservation program in cooperation with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

Willie Winters, district cooper-grass this spring using a grass planter made from a sword corn planter furnished by Fred Keating of the Big Spring Experiment Station. The Soil Conservation Service helped Keating adapt the corn planter for grass seed.

Road blocks have been completed on the Ralph Collins ranch in the North Concho River Soil Conservation District. The road blocks were built to protect ranch roads from washing and spread water on grassland. A diversion was also constructed above a cattle guard to keep soil from washing in and filling the cattle guard. T. R. Morris with the Soil Conservation Service at Big Spring helped lay out the road blocks and diversion.

Terrace lines were run last week on the farm of Pauline Allen, district cooperater in the Vincent group. Roy Lewis, operator of the farm will build a mile and a half of terraces on wheat stubble land to complete the terracing needed on his field.

Sam Buchanan deferred grazing on 540 acres of his pasture land this spring. Buchanan took his livestock off the pasture in April and will rest the pasture until fall. He is resting the pasture to let his grass grow and make seed, to improve the cover and kinds of grasses on his range.

Buchanan has a good stand of weeping and sand lovegrass on two acres of sandy land retired from cultivation. He planted the

A Garden Column by Virginia Scott. Presented by the Big Spring Garden Club.

By VIRGINIA SCOTT
Checking the garden after a rain is fun, even if it results in seeing a lot of work to be done. Weeds spring up over night, annuals fall all over themselves, and flower heads have to be cut off. Long shoots have to be trimmed from shrubs and the grass is always in need of the mower. But, the rain we must have, and we are lucky to get even a little one this time of year.

Roses that have given a fair showing for first year bloom, with us, are the new Floribunda, Glorious, and the Hybrid-Tea, Illitop. An old, but good, bedding Rose, Grass an Aachen, is worthy of mention. For lots of soft pinkish blooms, we like the Dooryard Rose, Maybelle Stearns. The color of Glorious is very bright, between red and rose, almost cerise. The blooms are single and sup-

Make Your Own Backgrounds
A most interesting experience was related to us, recently, by a couple whose neighbor cut down her own garden background so that she could see into their garden. Noisy, we'd say. But that isn't all. In cutting down her own hedge, she left their garden without the privacy they had been enjoying when the hedge was there.

Moral—make your own enclosure. We are following our own advice about that too. This spring, we had to rearrange part of a garden. After it was done, we thought we were ruined by removal of the few shrubs. We could see right into the back yards of the village lying beyond a meadow. The view included barns, horse lots, chicken houses and the like. Later, we discovered that it was not what we had removed from our own garden that laid bare the offending picture, but that the Honey-suckle on a fence across the road had been burned to the ground by the neighbor who owned the property.

All the time, we had been unconsciously using our neighbor's Honey-suckle clad fence as a screen. We had come to depend upon it, even claim it as a right or something. Then, suddenly, we awoke to discomfitment. A sprinkling of oil, a match, a puff of smoke and our own sense of seclusion was gone.

Oh yes, those vines are now climbing again and will soon cover

HOW MEAN CAN A TRICK GET?

CHICAGO, July 14 (U)—The latest gag of the "hot foot" type is a new and perilous "hot shirt."

Arthur Bard told police he was a victim as he stood on a street corner talking with friends.

Four youths, he said, approached him and squirted lighter fluid on the back of his shirt then tossed a lighted match on the wet spot.

He was slightly burned on the back before he could rip off the shirt.

that fence quite as completely and beautifully as before, but we have learned that it is up to us to fill our own gaps and never depend upon the whims of even the best of friends or neighbors.

Such happenings are not unlikely or remote. They occur any time, anywhere. So, we suggest that you go over your property and see what you are using that may belong to someone else, then re-inforce those weak spots with your own planting. This is the only insurance against the neighbor who, with the best of intentions, may some day unwittingly destroy your pleasing vistas by the mere wielding of an axe or the striking of a match.

Television Won't Replace Radio, Says De Forest

"FATHER OF RADIO"—Lee De Forest, who is called "Father of Radio," believes television will grow at the expense of radio.

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
CHICAGO, July 14.—Lee De Forest, who is called the "Father of Radio," figures radio is here to stay.

"Television won't replace radio entirely," he says. "Television range, except by rays, is limited. So there always will be sections of the country out of range."

"During the daylight hours, when housewives are at work, they can't sit down and concentrate on a picture."

But De Forest expects TV to grow at the expense of radio to such an extent that the current ratio of sets in use "may be completely reversed."

The man who developed the three-element vacuum tube that made broadcasting possible is high on what he calls "Radio's Daughter."

"Television promises to do everything that radio has done and to do it better," he says.

De Forest, ruddy, slender, and brisk at 75, set forth his ideas in an interview. He spoke as a pioneer who has been in his field since the turn of the century, as a working expert—and as a fan.

How will television affect radio fare? "The competition will compel a higher type of radio program," he said. "When you have no sight, you have to have a quality that will compensate for it."

How does he rate TV programs? "They are improving but they still have a long way to go," he said. "Basketball, boxing, and wrestling are fine. And I must confess that I like filmed westerns."

"Drama by television doesn't seem very real. Plays should be put on film first and then put on the air. It would avoid mistakes. They can be filmed scene by scene and get better background effects."

"Commercials are more interesting and effective by television. Sponsors should pay more."

What about the future? "Television will be used very much in schools," he said. "It will come into theatres for certain limited purposes—for showing such selected, set events as big football games and inaugurations of Presidents."

"Color television is bound to come," he added. "But it probably will be there or four years before it is in use on a commercial basis."

De Forest is working now on a TV color experiment. In the laboratory, he is a scientist. But on many evenings at home is just a plain fan.

"I sit down and say I'll watch for a half hour," he said. "I'm still sitting there at bed time."

KIDS JUST PLAYING, EH?

ELMHRA, N. J., July 14. (U)—Clerks in a department store office just laughed when two 12-year-old boys and an 11-year-old girl waved toy pistols at them and announced a stick-up.

But $465.96 the children had hidden in a field wasn't play money. Police quoted the kids as saying they took most of it from an open safe after the checking clerks had resumed typing and filing.

The clerks hadn't missed the money.

NO SEALING COMPOUND, NO CANS OF PINEAPPLE, COURT IS TOLD

HONOLULU, July 14. (U)—It takes more than tin to make a can for sliced pineapple, the American Cans Co. told federal court today.

The company said its product here will stop tomorrow unless 180 barrels of sealing compound are unloaded from the strike-bound freighter, Hawaiian Wholesaler.

It asked admiralty libel seizure of the ship to unload 3,500 pounds of the compound, which acts like a mason jar ring. Without it, the cans cannot be sealed.

Overtime Pay Issue Argued In The House

WASHINGTON, July 14. (AP)—The House headed into another debate today on how to pay overtime to workers receiving premium, or extra, pay rates.

The issue was whether the House would agree to Senate amendments on a bill to base overtime pay on regular, rather than premium, rates. The bill would prevent what has been called "overtime on overtime."

As it passed the House, the bill provided that overtime pay for workers in the longshore, stevedoring, building and construction industries should be figured on regular pay rates, and in no case on premium rates. The premium rates are those paid for night, Sunday, or holiday work.

The Senate knocked out the part relating specific industries, and thus made the bill applicable to all workers covered by the federal wage-hour law.

The Senate then added a retroactive section which would outlaw wage claims for back pay already filed by longshoremen and stevedores on both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. An effort to amend the same section in the House bill was ruled out of order during the House debate.

The question has arisen prominently on the waterfronts. Witnesses at labor committee hearings explained that one rate is paid for day work, and a higher rate is paid for night and holiday work. The higher rate, they said, is a premium paid because of the extra hazard of night work and the undependability of Sunday and holiday work. The higher rates have been customary for over 30 years, they added.

Has Panhandle Weather Changed? It's Bringing Too Many Tornadoes

DALHART, July 14.—People are looking at the skies these days for something more than signs of rain, hail or dust storms.

They are looking for tornadoes. The old boys with legs bowed from years of wrapping 'em around a cow pony will push their stonies back on snow-capped heads and tell you they don't like this new twist to the weather. They'd prefer it like in the old days when winds and liquor were both hard and straight.

They all pretty much feel like "Uncle Bill" McIntosh who used to punch cattle on the Texas High Plains fifty years ago and is still in the cattle business in Dalhart. "Up here in the peak of Texas," he said, "we used to give out with a belly laugh when someone asked if we were afraid of tornadoes. We'd snort derisively that we'd never had one—our straight winds blew 'em plum to perdition."

But those days may be gone forever. Twice this spring a tornado has struck close to Dalhart, one within five miles, the other within four. Other twisters have hit the Panhandle this spring. The worst was a death-dealing tornado that lashed Amarillo in May. There was one just last week near Lubbock.

The favorite spawning ground of tornadoes, so far as the Dalhart country is concerned, is along Rita Blanca canyon about 12 miles south of Dalhart. The first tornado the old timers can remember formed in that sector in 1921. It dissipated near Dalhart and killed no one.

The second tornado to spawn along the Rita Blanca draw was two years ago. It dipped to earth almost immediately, rattled and damaged buildings and the residence of Everett McIntyre, but didn't injure him or his wife.

The third tornado was born in that area in April this year, again struck the McIntyre farm, did more damage than its predecessor. Then hopped and skipped northward nearly 30 miles before it broke up. It damaged buildings on a half dozen farms and ranches.

The second one followed by about a month, striking in mid-May. It formed near Nara Visa, N. M., 45 miles southwest of Dalhart on the Rock Island railroad and U.S. Highway 54. The funnel form passed over Nara Visa about noon on Monday, May 15, and smacked its leisurely and very damaging way northeastward until after midnight it dissipated near Guymon, Okla. It killed a man in Oklahoma.

Cow country calculating about the reasons for this spring's tornadoes, by far the worst since the second one struck May 15: W. W. (Chunky) Bowling, a retired cattleman who moved to Stratford 48 years ago, is positive the Dalhart cow country weather has changed. "Uncle Bill" McIntosh agrees. Most of the change has come since the Dust Bowl days that spanned the mid-1930s.

Bowling pointed out that there are less winter blizzards now than 20 years ago. Incidentally, blizzards have claimed many more lives in this Panhandle country than tornadoes.

June temperatures in the Dalhart country always used to reach 104, with a record top of 108. Now temperatures are lower—one summer, the top was 93—but the air is more humid. "We've had eight good wheat crops in succession," Bowling said. "That never happened before."

Flores Rhoades, who grew up with this country, says her nephew contends that the mounting weight of the polar ice cap has caused the earth to tilt more on its axis, changing the climate in certain areas.

District Court Reporter Joe Niblett read of such a slip, understanding that it is giving Dalhart the same kind of weather that Oklahoma and Kansas areas up to 200 miles north of here formerly had. That could account for the tornadoes, he thinks.

Mrs. Rhodes' husband, Henry, who pushed cattle over this area during the free range days, believes this is just a freak weather year.

Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan returned an inquest verdict of accidental death from drowning with convulsion as a contributing cause, and hogs.

MEXICO, July 14. (AP)—The federal health department sent an expert to the U. S. frontier today to draft means of combating infantile paralysis.

The government said this step was taken "in view of the increasing incidence of infantile paralysis in the U. S., and especially in Texas."

AUSTIN, July 14. (AP)—Funeral services were to be held today for Mrs. Jessie Driakill Beldin, 85, whose father built the Driakill Hotel here. She died yesterday.

COMPETITIVE CUTTING AT LIMIT

High Store Costs May Result In Another Wave Of Mergers

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—Increasing business costs raise the prospect of a new wave of mergers and consolidations among department stores and specialty shops.

The insistent consumer demand for lower prices is being met with competitive cost cutting that many retailers claim has reached a practical limit.

A remaining major economy step is consolidation of two or more independent retailers or merger with one of the large department store groups.

The immediate post-war years saw the peak of mergers with the initiative coming from large corporations who seized the opportunity to use their profits to advantage in expansion.

But today the profit curve is turning downward, and expansion programs are being cut to that size. There is a consequent lull in merger plans.

With lagging sales, however, independent stores are expected to seek out opportunities to join forces with other independents or with chains in order to bolster their position and insure against the effects of a recession.

In addition, many independents currently are seeking wide buying contracts either co-operatively with other stores or through buying syndicates operating on a nationwide scale.

Bigness carries considerable protection in retailing against adverse economic forces. Lower prices or greater discounts can be obtained from manufacturers and distributors on quantity orders. Special deals can be made to buy the entire output of some factories at favorable prices. Large scale financing is easier and cheaper. Better executive talent can be obtained at high salaries. Heavier advertising outlays can be made at a smaller ratio to sales. Private brands can be promoted.

All of the advantages, however, are not on the side of bigness nor on the side of chains or groups of stores. A small and aggressive independent retailer often can make a greater profit and be of greater service in his community than a large store.

Two outstanding examples of fine independent retailers are the J. L. Hudson Co., of Detroit and Marshall Field of Chicago. And there are others. Although no figures are made public, Hudson is credited in the trade with having the largest sales of any store in the nation.

But gross sales are dominated by the department store groups. The National Retail Dry Goods Association shows that 275 department stores and specialty shops in the above $1 million class had sales last year of $4,121,000,000. Included were 19 store groups in the above $100 million sales class with total sales of more than $2,387,000,000.

There is no indication that these groups are "gobbling up" the independent retailer. Their expansion plans were made during the war and carried out for the most part in the 1945-46 period. A number opened new suburban branches in 1948-49.

If you are an independent retailer and want to sell, here is a guide to your chances as measured by the policy of one of the largest department store groups.

Federated Department Stores Inc., with a sales volume of $352,700,000 in the year ended April 30, operates stores in New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Houston, Columbus, Cincinnati, Oklahoma City, and Milwaukee.

Federated replied to the question: "What is the general policy of Federated on the acquisition of additional stores?" this way: "The policy of Federated Department Stores is to acquire well established stores in communities which have diversified business and industry and definite possibilities for more than average growth. Preferable are stores in cities removed from those sections of the country where we now have heavy investments."

"We do careful economic surveys of communities where stores may be available to determine whether they come up to our requirements. We like communities where manufacturing is of a varied nature and not dependent on a single industry for its existence. Communities in richly productive agricultural regions or close to natural resources also are preferred. We are interested in the acquisition of comparatively small stores as well as large units."

"Because most of the stores presently owned by Federated are large units and because large stores do not become available very often, we believe there is a real opportunity for the acquisitions of smaller stores in smaller communities. When we get little ones, we work to develop them into big units."

Decision to sell or merge a store is based on a number of obstacles to successful operation of an independent in today's highly competitive buyers' market.

A recent survey by Social Research Inc., of Chicago said a main reason for selling was the failure of owner-managed stores to develop executives capable of running the store when the owner is ill or dies.

Retail executives pointed to several other reasons: Present high taxes are too difficult to meet, the prospect of death duties when the owner dies, the cost of independent expansion of sales territories, the cost of developing new products or redesigning old ones, failure to adopt new sales techniques being pushed vigorously by competitors.

One retailer commented: "Family owned stores let themselves run down when the family tires out and refused to progress. Too many owners, as they grow older, let themselves be gripped by pessimism about the future of the world in general and business in particular. They just give up."

What about the future of independents? Charles G. Nichols, of Youngstown, O., chairman of the board of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, said: "Don't worry, there will always be a place in the American community for a well run independent department store."

UNLESS YOU WANT PEELED-ONION LOOK, LEAVE CREW CUT TO BOYS

Those contusions on your cran- tank with her frying pan, have a tum may be knowledge bumps to which your ancestor will point with pride but most any tonorial technician will suggest that you hide them as soon as your hair holds out.

In other words, leave the crew cuts to the youngsters, most of whom can give off the appearance of a skinned onion and still be in fashion.

Head bumps, whether they be put there by an enriched brain or by a sharp-shooting wife who has zeroed her sights on your think-habit of showing up on a man when he attains manhood.

Unless your noggin has that look of eternal youth, the barbers' advice is: Don't try to remodel it by standing too close to the scissors too long.

If you have decided to take the plunge and get the Prussian trim, it might be wise to consult the locksmith before making a final decision. He generally can take one gander at the contour of your head and tell you whether or not your neighbors will appreciate it.

Cap Rock Co-Op Already Has Paved Way For Rural Phones

In practice, the Cap Rock Electric Co-operative is ahead of Poage bill which would offer telephone hope to rural-eters.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Bob Poage, Waco, would provide funds to lend to telephone companies or cooperatives wishing to extend rural service via REA lines. They would lease REA lines.

The Cap Rock made an agreement with Southwestern Bell Telephone company for use of its lines some 18 months ago.

The arrangement would be basically the same as under terms of the Poage bill. The phone company would simply lease line facilities.

A telephone developed to use power lines has proven satisfactory. So far none has been installed in the Cap Rock system.

James D. Elland, Stanton, electrification advisor for Cap Rock, estimates that there are only about 12 per cent of the cooperative's approximate membership of 2,000, using phones. He also figures that 90 per cent would use them if they were available.

In round figures, this shows about 240 with telephones and a potential market of about 1,500 additional ones.

The Cap Rock co-operative has something better than 1,000 miles of lines energized in the areas it serves—principally Howard and Martin counties, with a considerable volume in Midland and some connections in Glasscock, Borden and Dawson counties.
