TO GET MEDALLION - This historic structure, presently used as a Junior High School, was the first permanent school building in Ozona, built of native rock. It served for many years as combined high school and elementary grade school until the present high school was built in 1932. It has been named a Recorded Texas Historic Landmark by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee and will be marked with the Texas Historical Building Medallion.

Jr. Hi. Building Designated For Historic Marker

The historic Jr. High School Building in Ozona, has been named a Recorded Texas Historic Landmark, significant to the history of this community and state, and worthy of preservation, today announced Charles Woodburn of Amarillo, president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

As a result of meeting TSHSC requirements for this high official designation, the Texas Historical Building Medallion with interpretive plate giving a capsule history of the structure will be affixed to the structure.

Dedication of the marker will be announced by Mrs. R. A. Harrell of Ozona, chairman of the Crockett County Historical Survey Committee. A certificate signed by Gov. John Connally, Charles Woodburn, and Mrs. Harrell will be presented at the dedication.

The inscription on the marker reads "Ozona Junior High School - The first permanent school building in Ozona; constructed of native limestone in 1910-1912, when Ozona was only 21 years old."

"The heating and ventilating system, never before used in the state when installed here, is still in operation daily."

"County Superintendent and Judge, C. E. Davidson, was the general foreman of construction. Walter Kyle oversaw stonework."

"Building was financed by sale of $75,000 of long-term bonds. Recorded Texas Historic Landmark, 1968."

The aluminum markers with Swedish steel effect are handsome and require practically no maintenance. More than 3,300 Official Texas Historical Markers have been awarded throughout Texas since 1964 when the Texas State Historical Survey Committee initiated its 5-year RAMPS Program. This program is designed to Record, Appreciate, Mark, Preserve and Survey the history of Texas.

This marker and its location will appear in the next edition of the "Guide to Official Texas Historical Markers," in tourist guides and on maps to stimulate tourist interest to provide interest in historical tours, and to acquaint the people of Crockett County with their own unique historical past.

Half Of City's Population Got Polio Vaccine

Almost 1,900 persons received polio vaccine Sunday at North and South Elementary schools. Approximately one-half of those were receiving their first polio vaccine, the other half received boosters.

State Health officials, on hand for the inoculations, were pleased with the large turn-out. Dr. Lloyd Sherill, county health officer, said the turn-out was unusually large, approximately half of the population of Ozona, and he expressed his appreciation to clubs, civic organizations and individuals who worked hard to make the drive successful.

The measles vaccine did not arrive in time to be given Sunday. However, it is on hand now and will be given August 11. This date has been set also for the second series of the polio vaccine and for anyone who did not get a booster vaccine Sunday.

4 BILLS PASSED HERE - Ring Believed Passing Phoney Money In Area

Four counterfeit $20 bills turned up in Ozona last weekend as reports concerning appearance of the phoney bills came from many West Texas towns and cities. The bills, all bearing the serial number E18204624A, are evidently being distributed by various suspects, according to Sheriff Billy Mills.

Sheriff Mills said two suspects, male and female, with the same bogus money, were arrested in Bryan the day before the bills turned up here. They are being held in custody in Houston.

The bills were passed here at Fuantoz Shell Station, Roadside Grocery, Glynn's Shell Service and Lock's Liquor Store. Victims reported that a man and two women driving an old model pickup of a light color passed the bills. In every instance the two women entered the place of business and bought small items, a pack of cigarettes, two cold drinks, etc. The man stayed in the pickup and no description was available. However, descriptions of the two women were given as one white female, around fifteen years of age, blond and of slender build. The other woman was described as female, 20 to 22 years of age, 115 to 120 pounds in weight and had the appearance of Indian origin, although she spoke fluent English.

The bills are a very good likeness, Sheriff Mills said, but the paper is a different quality and they feel different from the genuine $20 bill.

Sheriff Mills said that there are apparently several different subjects passing the phoney bills and that in all probability they meet in a designated spot and divided the proceeds before seeking new territory. He said the three who passed the bills here were evidently nowhere in the immediate vicinity at this time.

Noisy Thunder Shower Brings .80 In. Moisture

Ozona received 80 of an inch of rain in a noisy mid-night thundershower Sunday night, bringing the total rainfall for the month to .96 of an inch.

At the end of May the rainfall total for the year stood at 10.14 after a record wet spring. However, hot days the end of May and the first part of June had begun to parch ranchlands and Ozona residents were consuming large amounts of water to water lawns and plants.

Sunday night's rain brought welcome relief and brightened ranching prospects considerably.

NEARING COMPLETION - The new church of the Ozona Calvary Baptist Church on Avenue H is nearing completion. The building is being built largely through donated labor and materials, along with cash contributions. Rev. Franklin Pullen is pastor of the church.

THE PARTY PLATFORMS

Very soon now the credibility of the voters will be tested by the accounts of the battles being waged within the platform committees of the two parties. The pundits will write spirited descriptions of how this faction or that is winning the day in fighting the battle of the party platform, to the embarrassment of this or that possible candidate. All of this, the reader will do well to take with a grain of salt, or aspirin. Some of us are old enough to remember 1932. In that memorable year Senator Hatchcock, of Nebraska, chaired the Democrat Committee on Platform and Resolutions.

"I am charged by the Committee," he said, "to deliver to you the shortest and one of the most impressive platforms ever adopted in a national convention in the United States. We advocate an immediate and drastic reduction of governmental expenditures by abolishing useless commissions and offices, consolidating departments and bureaus, and eliminating extravagance to accomplish a saving of not less than 25 percent in the cost of federal government."

Franklin D. Roosevelt flew to Chicago to make a dramatic acceptance speech.

"That admirable document, the platform you have adopted, is clear," said Roosevelt. "I accept it 100 percent."

"For three long years I have been going up and down this country preaching that government — federal and state and local — costs too much. I shall not stop

Washington News Letter

Congressman O. C. Fisher

Not long ago Senator John L. McClellan of Arkansas reported his investigating committee had found that out of every 100 major crimes committed in this country each year, only 8 of the offenders are arrested, tried, convicted and punished.

While sensible gun control legislation is in order, we can hardly hope for much improvement in law enforcement until such time as more is done about punishing the guilty after the crime is committed.

On issues of arrests, questioning suspects, and voluntary confessions, law enforcement efforts have been hampered repeatedly by court decisions. Along with this handicap, an atmosphere of disrespect for law and order has been built up by the "civil disobedience" doctrine — advanced by civil rights leaders in recent years. They preach the philosophy which holds that each individual decides for himself which law he chooses to obey or violate.

that preaching. "I propose to you, my friends, and through you, that government of all kinds, big and little, be made solvent, and that the example be set by the President."

Surely no mental reservations about the platform are evident in that rhetoric.

But just as surely, no person old enough to vote in 1968 can be unaware that FDR instituted a monstrous expansion of the Federal Government and a binge of deficit spending unprecedented in this country or any other in recorded history.

The electorate will do well to give the same kind of 100 percent acceptance of party platforms that Franklin D. Roosevelt did 36 years ago.

ROADBLOCK TO JOB CREATION

The recent crime control bill, approved by Congress and now at the White House, will be helpful. It nullifies several of the Supreme Court roadblocks regarding the questioning of suspects and the admission of voluntary confessions. There are several Court decisions, however, which cannot be reached by legislation. It is next to impossible to amend the Constitution to correct these bloopers because a two-thirds majority is required for submission of proposed amendments for ratification.

In the Potomac Park encampment here in Washington, which the Administration has turned over to the so-called "poor People," a Washington plumber (also colored) went to the encampment the other day to help install some water connections. It required some digging with a shovel. He was donating his services. Rain was dropping. He needed some help and asked for volunteers from among the hundreds of well-fed, "poor" able-bodied campers. Not one responded. One was quoted in the paper as saying to him:

"Man, that's why I'm down here — to get away from using them shovels."

Austin Report

By Hilary Doran, Jr.

Most of the action in the House of Representatives took place in committee meetings this past week. The two bills receiving the most attention and causing the greatest amount of controversy and concern were the tax bill and the liquor by the drink bill.

The liquor by the drink bill is really not its correct name or title as it actually deals with the regulating and sale of alcoholic beverages in miniature bottles and also contains many other provisions that seek to correct or change existing provisions of the Liquor Regulation Act. This bill has had major surgery performed on it in the State Affairs Committee and looks like it is headed for a bitter and heated fight when it comes up before the whole House of Representatives.

I have examined the sales tax bill and quite frankly, I am not happy with several of its major provisions. In my opinion, the State can raise revenue from other sources without taxing services such as those performed by barber shops, beauty shops, shoe shine parlors and laundries or dry cleaners, and in my opinion, the amount of taxes that would be collected by the taxing of these services (approximately fifteen million dollars) would not justify the inconvenience and unfairness by the singling out of any one group or groups of people to bear this tax burden.

I am also unreceptive to the idea of abolishing the optional city sales tax that we passed only last year and, in its place, give a rebate to every incorporated town in Texas on a per capita basis. Some towns in my district have voted for and adopted the city sales tax while others have voted against it and I am not in favor of imposing a tax on a town the citizens of which have already indicated their vote that they do not wish it.

The tempo of the legislature is starting to pick up and the fireworks are starting from this week but unless a radical change takes place, it is doubtful that a tax bill will be passed before the Fourth of July.

Recipe of the Week From Kitty's Kitchen

California Pork Chops

6 loin or rib pork chops 1 inch thick. Salt and pepper 1/4 cup flour Salad oil 3 oranges peeled and sliced 5 tbs. brown sugar 2 teas. cornstarch 1/2 cup chicken stock white wine, or water 1 cup orange juice 1/2 tsp. Marjoram 2 medium onions sliced 2 tbs. chopped parsley Trim excess fat from chops and fry out the pieces in a heavy skillet. Skim out and discard the scraps when they are brown. Season chops to taste, roll lightly in flour and brown well in hot fat, adding a little oil if there is not enough fat from the pork fat pieces. Arrange browned chops in a large shallow casserole, preferably one that will enable you to crowd them in one layer. Sprinkle orange slices with 3 tbs. of the brown sugar and let stand. Blend cornstarch with the stock or wine, orange juice, marjoram, and the remainder of the brown sugar. Pour this mixture over the chops in the casserole and arrange onions on top. Sprinkle the onions with parsley, cover, and bake 1 hour in a 350 oven. Arrange orange slices on top and bake 15 minutes more, uncovered. Serves six. Oranges and pork make a delightful combination, and this recipe makes the most of it. Serve with creamy mashed potatoes and buttered French-cut green beans, along with a plain tossed salad.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Future of the Republic

As the country plunges into the election season, with candidates for the presidential nomination stepping up their appeals, there is a depressing air of staleness about many of the statements and speeches. So many of the proposals by the candidates have the smell of defeatism about them. Their ideas for running the United States during the next four years smack of philosophies that have failed.

The American people may be discerning that the country has traveled too far down one road — to a dead end. The nation needs a new start and under new leadership.

Seven years ago, when the Kennedy administration took power, the country was forced into a path that to many citizens seemed alien and unwise. One disaster after another has struck this country since 1961. There was the Bay of Pigs fiasco, in which the Kennedy administration failed to press ahead and re-win Cuba for freedom. Then there was the Cuban missile crisis of 1962, which left the Reds firmly in control of Cuba and resulted in the U. S. quietly withdrawing missiles from Turkish soil. The nuclear test ban treaty of 1963 left the U. S. in a position where it couldn't test the super weapons that the Russians already had acquired. That treaty, surely, was one of the greatest menaces to American security.

In 1964, the Johnson administration imposed the War on Poverty on the United States. Billions of dollars were pumped into "community action" organizations, with the result that strife worsened in the country and agitation groups found an enormous new source of funds.

As 1965 began, the Johnson administration began to send large numbers of U. S. servicemen to Vietnam. The cost of the Vietnam war commenced to skyrocket, but the administration declined to press for victory in Vietnam. To this day, the administration has refused to lay waste the homefront base of the Communists in North Vietnam. It has resisted appeals from Congress that the port of Haiphong be blockaded.

The administration made the tragic mistake of allowing the war to be fought on the soil of our allies, instead of carrying the war to North Vietnam. Despite the billions of dollars spent on the war, the administration has declined to accept the truth of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's observation that "there is no substitute for victory."

The situation is perhaps even more disturbing on the homefront. Inflationary spending policies, in time of war, has damaged the dollar, to the point where a major monetary crisis threatens to overwhelm us.

The Johnson administration has failed utterly in maintaining the domestic tranquility that the Constitution seeks to guarantee. Several public figures of the administration cloth have actually encouraged the social rebellion that now causes massive upheavals in the nation's cities.

The environment of Liberalism that has been dominant in the federal government since 1961 has given the demonstrator-hoodlum elements a feeling of great confidence. They invaded the nation's capital in late April and say they will camp there until Congress meets their demands.

A rabble of Vietniks and Black Power elements believes that it can dictate to the U. S. government. Who can say what will come from this rabble army of protesters that has built a shantytown between the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial? The British once burnt the capital of the United States. This time the deed of arson may be perpetrated by the new anarchists who have been encouraged by two recent administrations to believe that civil disobedience is their right.

Never in its history has the United States been at such a pass as it is today. The arsonist and the looter openly threaten law-abiding people and entire communities. Urban revolutionaries threaten to "burn" America if they do not get their way.

If the United States does not get a change of leadership next year, if civil disobedience is not repudiated and the revolutionaries are not jailed, the future existence of the Republic will be in question. In the next election, the American people may be deciding whether they want their nation to survive as a free and peaceful land. "Law and Order" is by no means an empty phrase.

Judy Ann Ogilvy of Odesa is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Evert White, this week. The Whites had as guests last week their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Moughon and children, Dan, Wes and Dinah, from Gilmer, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Carson and granddaughters, Bonnie Carson and Chris Clegg, will return today from a 12-day tour of Hawaii.
