Baptist Revival Meeting To Open Here October 20

Dr. Porter M. Bailes Of Tyler To Preach At Daily Services

Announcement of the annual fall revival meeting of the First Baptist Church of Ozona was made this week by the Rev. Clyde Childers, pastor of the church.

The revival, to continue 12 days, will open next Monday night, October 20, and continue through Friday night, October 31.

Dr. Porter M. Bailes of Tyler, Texas, one of the church's leading evangelists in the South, will preach during the revival meeting. Song services will be directed by Carl Head of the Emmanuel Baptist Church of Freer, Texas.

Dr. Bailes is pastor of the First Baptist Church at Tyler, Texas, a church of over 2,500 members. He has been head of the Tyler church for the past 14 years. He is a native of South Carolina, a graduate of Mars Hill College, of Furman University and of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. Before going to his present pastorate, he served churches in Indiana, Kentucky and South Carolina.

Dr. Bailes is a popular evangelist, holding about 12 revivals each year in addition to his heavy duties as pastor of the great church at Tyler. He is also a popular convention speaker, having spoken to the State Convention several times, the State Laymen's Convention and the Pastors' Conference which meets each year at Seminary Hill, Texas. He has been the principal speaker to the great Palacios encampment. He has also delivered numerous commencement addresses to Baptist College and University classes in Texas. He has at one time led in the annual revival at Baylor University, an honor which is accorded some of the (Continued On Page Eight)

Scouts Guests Of Rotary For Luncheon Tues.

Scoutcraft Demonstration Given By Boys Of Troop 53

Boy Scouts of Troop 53 and their Scout leaders were honor guests of the Ozona Rotary Club when they met Tuesday noon in the basement of the Methodist church.

Heading the boys were Scoutmasters Jack Baggett and Heyward White; L. B. T. Sikes, assistant Scoutmaster; Boyd Lovelace, neighborhood commissioner, and Joe Galbraith of Del Rio, Field Executive of the Concho Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Scoutmaster Baggett introduced the Scouts and turned the program to L. B. Cox, III, who directed the boys in a program of Scoutcraft.

Billy McWilliams read the Tenderfoot requirements, and Lowell Sweeten demonstrated the nine different knots which a Tenderfoot must know. Bland Tandy outlined the requirements for a second class Scout and Perry Hubbard demonstrated semaphore signalling, one of the second class requirements.

Requirements which a boy must fulfill to become a first class Scout were recited by Arthur Byrd Phillips. A demonstration in first aid was given by Charles McDonald, Tom Ed Montgomery and Loraine Wyatt, with Billy McWilliams acting as the patient.

Star, Life and Eagle Scout requirements were outlined by Wayne West. As an example of the merit badges which boys may earn, Dick Henderson explained the facts which a boy must learn to qualify for a merit badge in photography. Bill Carson explained the Senior patrol.

Two Ozona Young Men Answer Call To Army Service

Lee Frank Dudley, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dudley, and Barney G. Maples, former Ozonan who has been living at Sanderson for the past several months, composed the Crockett County selectees chosen to fill the October call of the Selective Service system.

Dudley and Maples left Wednesday night for El Paso to report at Fort Bliss for selective service training in the U. S. Army.

A call for one man, to report November 14, has been received by the local board.

Ozona Cavalcade Will Accompany Lions To Menard

Game Called At 8 p. m.; Big Delegation Of Fans To Go

An Ozona cavalcade of cars will take the highway headed east Friday afternoon accompanying Coaches Patterson and McCook and their fighting Ozona High School Lions on their night-time invasion of the stronghold of the Menard Yellowjackets, District 8-B contenders.

The Ozona Lions will be seeking their fifth straight victory of the current football season and their third success in the march toward the district championship. Already they have downed in succession Rankin, Junction, Big Lake and Ricksprings, the second and last named being district competitors.

The Menard night game, the first and only game under the lights this season for the Lions, will be called at 8 o'clock Friday night. Menard officials have advised local school officials that the best route for team and fans from Ozona to Menard is by way of Junction, the Menard road turning off about a half mile this side of Junction. It is understood that the 27-mile stretch from Junction to Menard has been surfaced. The distance is 127 miles, and fans are advised that an allowance of three hours for the drive will make it a comfortable trip.

Members of the team and coaches will leave at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon for the scene of combat. School classes will be dismissed at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in order to allow team supporters ample time for the trip. School officials will not sponsor the trip for the band and pep squad members but efforts will be made to provide transportation for as many fans as desire to see the game.

Film Of France Before Invasion Shown At School

France before the German invasion may be seen by Ozonans when a four-reel picture in colors is shown in the High School auditorium at 3 o'clock this afternoon during the assembly hour. The pictures were taken in France before the outbreak of the war, the last to be made in that stricken nation.

The public is cordially invited to see the film.

Lions Chalk Up Spectacular Win Over Ricksprings

Slashing Attack Downs Angoras 34-7; 4th In Row For Locals

Time marches on, and the Ozona Lions get better and better, faster and faster and tougher and tougher on the opposition.

Reports were conflicting on the power of the Ricksprings Angoras—they looked big—and the Lions were maybe just a bit uneasy when they clashed with the Edwards County lads here Saturday afternoon. That may account for the dazzling offensive they uncorked from the opening gun and continued without let-up until the closing minutes of play, when a recapitulation of the day's scoring showed the count standing at 34 to 7 in the locals' favor.

There's no secret about how it was done. It was a combination of a stalwart line that held the opposition powerless most of the way, and even slipped in to commit a bit of larceny to almost bring about the seldom-witnessed touchdown by a lineman—plus a sparkling backfield that slashed its way to long gains on power plays, on dazzling laterals and spectacular forward aerials that completely baffled and disheartened the enemy. The Lions were in complete command all the way except for the brief moment when the excellent passing arm of Jack Babb showed results in connecting for the Goats' lone marker early in the fourth period.

Not willing to play about with the opposition to take their measure, the Lions went right to work as soon as the ball game was under way. They received the kick and on the third play after the kickoff, L. B. Cox smashed through a big hole opened by the Lions forward power, mixed it with the Angora secondary and tossed the oval to Roy Coates when the going got tough and Coates sauntered the rest of the way for the first touchdown—a jaunt of some 70 yards for the two carriers. Cox took it over through the line for the extra point.

The second quarter had barely got under way when Hannah, standing on the mid-stripe, tossed a short one to Cox, who side-stepped the last Ricksprings tackler to complete the 40-yard gallop for the pay dirt. He took it again and slashed through the line for the extra point, bringing the Lions total to 14.

A few minutes later, Floyd Hokit had set up his team for another counter. The Angoras were trying desperately to get out of their own territory. On their own 20, Babb had his good right cocked for a long heave when Hokit slapped the ball out of his hand and Ozona recovered on the 20. (Continued On Page Eight)

Rains Of Past Week Put Year's Total To 36.88

2.5 Inch Fall Registered Here Wednesday Morning

An already established record rainfall for the year 1941 climbed higher during the past week to push the total so far this year to near the 37-inch mark.

Last Thursday night brought .88 of an inch of rain which came on the heels of slightly cooler temperatures. Then early Wednesday morning a fall began which mounted to torrential proportions, the day's fall ranging to 2.5 inches, making the week's total 3.38 inches.

The week's fall, added to the 33.5 inches recorded for the year up to last week, shoves the total to the staggering figure of 36.88 inches—and still two and a half months to go on the year.

Attendance Increase At Scouter Training Sessions In Sonora

An increased attendance was registered at the second session of the six-weeks Scouters Training program Tuesday night in Sonora. Thirty-two Scouters were present from the six towns composing the Ranch District, an increase from around 20 present for the opening of the training course Tuesday night of last week.

Speakers who presented the second phase of the training course Tuesday night were Sally Worley of Ricksprings, Jerry Pennington of Eldorado and Boyd Lovelace of Ozona. Both Ozona Scout troops, Troop 53 and the Latin-American Troop 63, were represented. Mr. Lovelace, Ozona's neighborhood commissioner, and Jack Baggett, Troop 53 Scoutmaster, and Eugenio Ramirez, Scoutmaster of Troop 63, and Andres Tijerina and Alejandro Garcia, troop committee men, composed the Ozona delegation.

The Scouter training course is being held each Tuesday night in the High School gymnasium at Sonora, with Scouters from Ozona, Sonora, Eldorado, Menard, Junction and Ricksprings in attendance. M. E. Noble of Ricksprings is chairman of the school, and Joe Galbraith, Boy Scout Field Executive for the Ranch District, with headquarters at Del Rio, is in attendance.

School Board Appropriates $500 For Band

Instrumentation To Be Improved In Senior And Jr. Divisions

Immediate improvement in instrumentation of both the Senior and Junior bands of Ozona School System will result from an appropriation of $500 for the bands made by the school board at a meeting here Saturday.

Facts concerning the need for the additional fund were gathered and presented to the school board by the Band Mothers Club and the aid of that organization, working in conjunction with the band director, Cyril Pingelton, was enlisted to handle the expenditure of the appropriated fund to bring about the greatest possible improvement.

Greater interest on the part of students in band work had led to a serious shortage of instruments, particularly the type which an individual would not buy for himself but which is essential to the band. This type of instrument will be purchased with funds from the board appropriation to bring both the junior and senior bands up to greatest possible instrumentation.

With the Spring band contests in mind, Director Pingelton sees greater possibility of the Ozona organizations making a much more impressive showing in such contests when the improved instrumentation is brought about by the board's appropriation.

$50 PROFIT FROM SUPPER

Members of the Young Peoples society of the Methodist Church realized a profit of approximately $50 from a supper staged in the church basement Thursday night. Funds derived from the sale will go to the society's project of maintaining a young Ozona Mexican boy in school at Laredo.

Sewer Rate Set By Commission Effective Nov. 1

Back Charges Lopped Off, Original Rate Is Restored

A monthly sewer rental rate which home owners of Ozona will be required to pay was levied by the Commissioners Court in session here Monday and a full-time supervisor was employed to look after maintenance of the sewer system.

A rental charge of 50 cents for the first connection and ten cents for each additional connection per month was the rate fixed by the court. This is the rate originally fixed by the court as the monthly rental charge for sewer connections here when the plant was installed, but collection was discontinued after a time because a majority of users were not paying and no special collector was employed.

The slate was wiped clean of all back charges in the court's order, which provided that "no charge will be made for service up to and including October 31, 1941, but beginning with the fiscal year Nov. 1, 1941, each owner of a home with sewer connection is asked to pay promptly on or before the tenth of the following month."

A threat of discontinuance of service was made with the declaration "and failure to do so (pay promptly) will be construed as an invitation to be cut off and the specially employed collector will act accordingly."

Although a "specially employed collector" was mentioned, the court's minutes did not disclose the employment of such a collector. J. A. Sparks, who has served as part-time supervisor of the sewer system, was employed on a full time basis at $125 per month, but the order for his employment specifically exempted him from collection duties.

Possibility of early necessity for enlarging the disposal plant was pointed out in the court's order which called attention to its conclusion that "The Ozona Sewer System is expensive to operate and an additional disposal plant soon will be required," and outlined the monthly levy to be made on users of the system.

"This court is the agent of all the taxpayers of Crockett County and it should act accordingly and the court asks fair cooperation," the order concluded.

At the final session of the training school tonight, Joe Galbraith, Field Executive for the Ranch District, Concho Valley Council, Boy Scouts, will be in charge of actual organization of the Pack. "OIL SHORTAGE" BACKFIRES . . .

The so-called "oil shortage" scare on the Eastern seaboard, prompted for reasons hard to understand, has vanished like a morning mist.

The productive capacity of the American oil industry is more than adequate to meet today's enormous military demand, as well as the normal civilian demand.

This country produces more than 60 per cent of all the oil in the world. It produces oils of a quality unequalled elsewhere.

NO TEACHER'S PET NOW . . .

Testifying before the House Banking Committee, Chairman Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board, said that inflation could not be prevented if wages and salaries, which constitute the main factor in establishing prices, are allowed to rise indiscriminately.

Mr. Eccles' views are reflected by most economists. The fast-rising wage trend has been a strong and growing influence for price inflation in all fields.

will suffer, not gain. It avails a man nothing if his income rises, for instance $2 a day, while the cost of living advances as much or more.

So far as the work week is concerned, it is ridiculous to suppose that we can keep defense production to schedule while working on a peace-time basis.

Labor, like all other groups, must make sacrifices, too. Mr. Eccles simply pointed to the inevitable. The period of "business as usual" and "politics as usual" is over for the duration of the emergency.

A WORD TO THE WISE?

Mr. Kaname Wakasugi, former Japanese consul-general in New York and more recently Minister, has long had the reputation of being an expert on Japanese-American relations. His recent interview in the newspaper Nichi Nichi, which he gave by telephone from Los Angeles, was a handsome justification of his expertness both because of the soundness and perhaps the unpopularity of his advice.

NO DISCRIMINATION . . .

In some quarters, it is being urged that rigid controls be placed on the prices of farm products of all kinds.

It is difficult to see how this could be done without bankrupting a large segment of the agricultural population, unless equally strict controls were placed over the farmer's costs for materials and labor.

A ceiling should be placed on farm prices when, and only when, equitable ceilings are applied to all other prices.

SCRAPE OFF THOSE BARNACLES!

THIS BUSINESS OF Living BY SUSAN THAYER

When the World Settles Down

Already we're talking and planning for the days when there will again be "peace on earth" and this great nation can once more devote itself to the business of every-day living.

All sorts of people are talking of this future. Ministers in their pulpits . . . teachers in their school rooms . . . women in their homes and, most important of all, manufacturers in their factories and in conference groups all over the country.

For months now industry has been building new plants . . . creating new machines . . . training new mechanics and workmen, and this increase will continue until the end of the emergency.

Only think of the unfilled wants of 130 million Americans which industry can fill at the end of this emergency when all of our factories, all of our machines and all of our man power can be used for the making of peace-time commodities!

Free American Industry is proving that it can build armaments faster than the regimented industry of a dictator country.

So let's make certain that our American Industry stays free and is allowed to do as much for the satisfaction of the citizens of this country as it is now doing for their defense!

There are 37,000,000 dwelling units in the United States. The walls of most of them leak heat to freely that America's domestic heat bill is $1,000,000,000 larger than it would be if those walls were insulated.

EIGHTH WONDER . . .

In spite of the fact that America's defense production is climbing steadily to new heights every month, there are still mistaken people—often with a political axe to grind—who insist that it has bogged down.

The record shows that industry has already finished and delivered a dollar volume of defense goods greater than the government specified as necessary for our defense as late as March 10 of this year.

Before the passage of the lease-lend bill American industry was asked to produce $9,329,000,000 worth of defense equipment of all kinds—some of it equipment that had never been made here in quantity before.

All this was done—and done quickly—on the basis of the total appropriation of $9,329,000,000.

When that appropriation was raised, however, production problems were multiplied. New plans had to be made, and then changed again when Congress appropriated more billions.

Today, with the pending lease-lend additions, appropriations total $66,000,000,000—an increase of 607 per cent since March—and the end is not in sight.

LOG-JAM . . .

"Industrial management will never strike against defense!"

In spite of uncertainties of what the future holds in the form of unnecessary restrictions and controls, industry has rolled up its sleeves and gone to work in record time.

According to Mr. Fuller, however, industry could do an even better job than it is doing if some of the uncertainties were removed.

"It builds armaments for the defense of freedom, while the principles and institutions on which that freedom rests are progressively being sacrificed.

of freedom rather than our liberties themselves.

"It see, for the first time in the Republic's history, the individual's right to work made subject to the arbitrary whims of private organizations, all with the implied sanction of the government itself.

"Here is the basic log-jam of defense . . . Unless American industrial management has freedom to pursue its function of free enterprise and unless the American worker has the right to work, neither can contribute its 'full participation in the national defense program' which the President requests, and which the people of the nation are entitled to get."

COLUMNISTS' CAPERS

When you're working under pressure sometimes your mind gets a little twisted and things you bang out in a fog of cigarette smoke, to the tune of jangled nerves, sounds a whole lot different the next morning over that stimulating cup of coffee.

Another outdoor columnist tells about an accident witnessed while driving out to a bass lake: "The drunk driver crashed into Miss Miller's rear end, which was sticking out in the road."

And a few more little gems from here and there: One society columnist said that a couple wed for ten years had had their first "chill." The Des Moines Register said the bride carried a "bouquet of roses and baby."

WAR AND THE SPORTSMAN

One of the big fishing tackle companies sent out a form letter to all its representatives and dealers not long ago that was very, very pessimistic about the probability of fishermen being able to buy hardly any type of fishing equipment in another year.

However, a later check-up with ten of the leading fishing tackle companies showed a different story. One remarked that they went through the last war with no serious setbacks and they had plenty of material to last throughout 1942 and thought they could even manage to get more after that.

PERPLEXED?

In this era of confusion it is little wonder that so many people are perplexed as to the financial course they should take.

This uncertainty may be of a business or personal nature. It may involve your present or future course of action.

We are not possessed of mystic powers to foresee the future, but we do have common sense, long experience and wide sources of information. Perhaps we can help you. That's what we are here for.

Side Glances on Texas History

By Charles O. Hucker
University of Texas Library

LOVE CONQUERED ALL IN OLD TEXAS, TOO

Especially since Shakespeare called the situation to public attention, the course of true love seems never to have run smooth. And when to the universal and troublesome-enough psychological and social obstacles found even in societies devoted primarily to its cultivation are added a more obvious multitude produced by life in a semi-wilderness, love really has a tough, hard pull.

Generally such seems to have been the case in old Texas, as a variety of sources in the University of Texas Library's Texas Collection imply. One example, a whimsical diversion in what is otherwise a highly serious work, appears in J. W. Wilbarger's well-known "Indian Depredations in Texas." It concerns "a young man by the name of Saunders" who at some unnoted early time was schoolmaster in Erath County.

When young Saunders met a girl from a nearby settlement shortly after coming to the country, Wilbarger reported, "it was another case of love at first sight; or, in backwoods parlance, he fell dead at the first fire." Thereafter every Saturday he traveled ten miles to see her. But, being "as green as a cut seed water melon in everything pertaining to frontier life," he traveled alone, on foot, and unarmed.

HE LEARNS A LESSON

He was destined to learn his mistake, naturally; and one Saturday morning when he was half-way along on his pilgrimage "he heard the most diabolical yells behind him, and turning to look he discovered about 20 mounted Indians coming after him at full speed." So he dashed off at what Wilbarger called a "two-forty pace" toward a wood in the near distance. "As he was young and active, and active, and badly scared besides," Wilbarger wrote, "he made such good speed that for a while the Indians gained but little on him; but unfortunately (or perhaps I should say fortunately), when within a few hundred yards of the timber, he struck his foot against a stone and pitched head foremost upon the ground. As he fell his hand came in contact with a stick, and for the same reason, I suppose, that a drowning man will catch at a straw, he instinctively grasped it."

HIS BLUFF WORKS

When he got to his feet and found the Indians almost upon him, young Saunders shook this stick at them, not knowing what else to do; and as it happened that the stick was a black sumach root closely resembling a six-shooter, the Indians drew back in alarm. Immediately Saunders was off again, and after several further demonstrations of his root managed to reach the wood without a scratch.

"The Indians did not follow him any further," Wilbarger observed, "no doubt concluding it would not be safe to follow a man into the thick timber who was armed with a sumach root and reserved his fire until he could make sure of his enemy."

Though Wilbarger admitted he did not know the ultimate outcome of the romance, he assumed that love did find a way and that the couple won out to live long and prosperously together. "At least," he concluded, "no other conception is compatible with the known chivalry of the young American of Texas. 'Vive l'amour! Cigars and cognac!'"

100 YEARS AGO IN TEXAS

"Horse Thief Taken — A man was arrested in Columbia, a few days since, who had stolen a horse at a camp meeting, near Rutersville. Immediately after the horse was stolen, several young men started in pursuit, and finding the thief had taken the route to Brazoria, drove there post haste; but finding he had not arrived returned to Columbia, and met him on his way.—He was immediately secured and has been taken back to Fayette County, to await his trial, his name is Smith—John Smith we suppose."

"Shower of Flesh and Blood—Mr. Benjamin Hallowell, Principal of the Alexandria Boarding School, has addressed a letter to the editors of the National Intelligencer, in which (he) ascribes the shower of flesh and blood, that was reported to have fallen near Nashville, to the reddish fluid discharged by an immense number of butter-flies, emerging from the chrysalis state."

"Consul General—A gentleman of this city, received by the last mail, a letter from Glasgow containing the intelligence that Charles Elliot, of the Royal Navy, has been appointed Consul General of Texas by the British Government."—The Telegraph and Texas Register (Houston), October 13, 1841.

Having pulled the son Mike out of the fish pond three times in one day; dragged him twice, screaming and on fire, from a red ant bed that lures him like molasses draws flies; dug a sackfull of smoking tobacco out of his mouth; picked up and carried out the litter from three new and unread magazines he'd happily reduced to confetti; watered him at midnight; and endured his ear-splitting shrieks of protest to the insufferable hardships of this life—I gradually come to understand what Papa was talking about when he used to say: "Son, you'll never pay for your raising until you've raised a youngun of your own!"

Doc McCollum claims he's learned by experience that when a man's girth reaches such proportions that it cuts off his breath to bend over and lace a shoe, it's time to quit beer and go light on your breakfast.

Just this week, I learn that the long-standing feud between Charlie Wiley and Jess Maker was settled way last November.

Bone of contention between these two hunters was the merits of their respective instruments for calling wild turkeys within gun range.

Charlie is a turkey-bone man. He takes a hollow bone out of a turkey's wing, shapes it like a pipe-stem and sucks it to reproduce the gathering call of wild turkeys.

Jess, on the other hand, uses a briar leaf, cut in a rectangle and placed on the tip of his tongue in such a manner that when he blows it vibrates with the most convincing of turkey yelps.

Each claimed his caller was best. Each was loud in deriding the caller of the other.

Last November the argument had taken on such proportions and the men such heat that they got up a $10 bet. The two were to go into the same strip of turkey-haunted woods the same day, and the man who came back with a turkey first was to take the pot.

They went. They hid in the brush. They called with their respective callers. They got answers to their calls. They sneaked and called and sneaked. And when Charlie eased around a clump of brush, his shotgun raised to blow down a gobbler, what should he see but Jess sneaking around the other side of the brush, his shotgun ready to blast a gobbler. They'd called each other up!

The two just squatted there in the brush and stared at each other for a long time, their jaws hanging open, then they came back out of the woods together and turkey-less, agreeing that they best keep silent about the whole thing.

"But it's just too good to keep any longer," Charlie explained, slapping his thigh and roaring with laughter.

And I agreed with him. Grandma Black ran right square over me yesterday morning as she rushed out of the postoffice waving a package and shouting: "I've got 'em. Praise the Lord, I've got 'em!"

"Sorry," she apologized, after bumping into me. "Guess I'm a little excited. I've been gumming my grub and waiting for this set of teeth for over three months. Would stop and visit longer, but I'm heading for the house where I aim to scorch up a steak thick as a nigger's foot!"

Pictures Of Ancient Texas Buildings In U. Of T. Collection

AUSTIN, Oct. 16—Photographs of ancient Texas buildings—many of them dating back to the period of the Republic of Texas—are being collected by the Archives Division of the University of Texas Library here.

The thousand-odd pictures in the present collection—taken as a part of a nation-wide project of the Historic American Buildings Survey—include the Stage Coach Tavern at Chapel Hill, Washington County; the well-known old Post Office at Fredericksburg; and the Johnson's Institute building at Driftwood, Hayes County.

Another is the home of Anson Jones, last president of the Republic, now preserved in the state park at Washington-on-the-Brazos.

The University Library's Archives Collection is the home of more than two and a half million original manuscript documents which are source materials on the history of the state, the South and the Southwest.

Latin-American Good-Will Agent Back From Tour

AUSTIN, Oct. 14—Unique experiences have been the lot of Mrs. Elithe Hamilton Beal, University of Texas radio script-writer, who has just returned from a five-weeks' air voyage through Mexico and Central America.

Mrs. Beal was sent on a fact-finding expedition by the University's Institute of Latin-American Studies, to gather first-hand material about the countries south of the border for a new University-sponsored series of broadcasts to Mexico and Central America.

Traveling alone, she several times found herself landing at an airport with no interpreter on hand to greet her, and was forced to depend on her "smattering" of Spanish to find her way about.

She inspected sections of the Pan-American highway under construction, visited the only producing rubber plantation north of the Amazon River, jumped from airplanes to packmules and back again, and interviewed high-ranking government officials, radio station and newspaper representatives in each of five Central American countries.

B. Cox, Melba Cullins, Ailene Cooke, Wayne West, Bill Carson, Billy Hannah, Calvin Williams, Mary Faye Lucas, Adele Keeton, Byron Williams, Eddy Cooke, Tom Ed Montgomery, Charles McDonald, Elba Jean Smith, Priscilla Baker, Jim Ad Harvick, and Georgia Nell Senne.

2500 Correspondence Students Of U. Of T.

AUSTIN—Learning by remote control, nearly 2,500 students last year enrolled in University of Texas correspondence courses.

Total registration in the University extension teaching bureau's 269 "mail order" courses last year was 2,436. Miss Julia Vance, registrar, has announced. These courses were taught by 118 members of the regular University faculty.

In addition to correspondence work, the bureau has supplied group study courses to 46 study clubs over the state since the beginning of 1941.

A word about the calibre of the distinguished new automobiles that Buick now brings to market for 1942

Two thoughts stood solemn sentinel throughout all the planning of our 1942 cars.

The first was: — in their materials these cars must not trespass on the current needs of national defense.

The second was: — in their quality and performance they must not be an "ersatz" product.

If you think this leaves only a cramped and stifling byway for engineering to advance in, remember that difficulties are sometimes the spur that real ability needs.

Our new cars, it seems to us, superbly prove this. But we neither expect nor ask you to take our word for it.

The real way to know what they are, and how marvelously they perform, is to breeze them down a country road or tool them through clotted traffic.

The sure way to gauge their mettle and their inmost goodness is to plump them squarely into the stiffest task your imagination can supply.

So come try the gorgeous new cars that we not only say pace the pack for 1942 but are bold enough to believe set an all-time high in all-round automotive excellence.

They will make you glad — nay, proud — all over again that you're living in America — and now!

Hobbies Discussion Topic At Meeting Of Ozona Woman's Club

Hobbies formed the discussion topic when the Ozona Woman's Club met Tuesday afternoon at Rendall's Drive Inn, with Mrs. V. I. Pierce as hostess.

Mrs. J. W. Henderson spoke on "My Home Is My Hobby." She pointed out that the business of making a home is instinct. If you have a home for a hobby you never lack something of interest to do, she said. Of course, it takes a heap of living to make a home, and that is what she intends to do when she moves into her new Colonial type home now nearing completion.

Mrs. George Bean discussed "My Family is My Hobby." She traced the stages in the development of a baby to childhood. Honest praise is better than coddling, Mrs. Bean declared. American women are thankful for their children, the privilege of teaching them to be honest, upright, and straightforward in today's war-torn world. Miss Elizabeth Fussell spoke on "Character Is My Hobby." Miss Fussell declared unselfishness to be the primary objective in character training. Proper character development in life lead to easy adjustment to the demands of society.

Present for the meeting were Mrs. Carl Colwick, Mrs. W. R. Baggett, Mrs. V. I. Pierce, Mrs. W. E. Smith, Miss Elizabeth Fussell, Mrs. M. Johnson, Mrs. P. T. Robinson, Mrs. Hillery Phillips, Mrs. George Bean, Mrs. Stephen Perner, Mrs. Hubert Baker, Mrs. J. W. Henderson, Mrs. Lee Childress, Mrs. Ira Carson and Mrs. Joe Pierce.

Lt.-Mrs. Phillips On Wedding Trip To Florida

(From Heart O' Texas News, Brady, Oct. 2.)

Miss Lois Barbara Jones became the bride of Lieut. Charles R. Phillips in a quiet wedding at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sol G. Jones of Brady Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. Roy May, pastor of the Methodist Church of Eden, officiated, using the double ring ceremony. Two seven stick candelabras flanked the fireplace which was banked with palms and all white baskets of white gladioli. An arrangement of white gladioli also centered the mantle.

Miss Lurine Townsend of Ozona played as pre-nuptial music, "Because" with the Lohengrin Wedding March for professional, and Bach's "Prelude," softly during the service.

The bride was lovely in a black crepe afternoon dress, with chromium trim outlining the plain neckline, the three-quarter sleeves and the long torso waist to which the full skirt was gathered. Her corsage was of white gardenias and feverfew. For something old, she chose her mother's cameo.

Pink and white carnations outlined the reflector on which the three tiered wedding cake rested. Three tall white tapers in pink and white holders were placed on either side of the lace covered refreshment table. Mrs. E. W. Shuffield and Mrs. Roy May assisted in serving coffee and cake to the guests.

Out of town guests for the wedding were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Phillips, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kidd, little Janelle Jackson, his niece and C. A. Duncan, all of San Angelo. Rev. and Mrs. May and baby of Eden and John Bryan formerly of Ozona.

Lieut. Phillips received his commission in the air corps September 25 in San Antonio, and he and his bride left after the wedding for Orlando, Florida, where he will be stationed as an instructor.

J. D. Moss, minister of the Church of Christ, read the ceremony in the presence of the family. The bride wore a beige wool tailored suit with dark brown accessories.

Mrs. Evans was graduated from Ozona High School in 1940 and has been employed at the Cosden Wholesale oil station the past seven months. The bridegroom attended Eldorado High School and has been in business in San Angelo for the past three years.

There's no hocus pocus about building anything—from a new porch to a new city. It's out in the open where we can see all of the work. What it takes in men and materials can be seen for the looking.

It's easy to see what our local Construction Industry has done for this town! Look around you! And think back a little ways. It's hard to believe this is the same town.

If you look behind the scenes you'll see more happiness, more health and a better future for all of us. That's what our local Construction Industry has done for this town! That's the biggest job it's done.

It's mighty important to realize how local Construction has done its big job. The job has been done by individual effort—by free enterprise.

STUDIES . . .

By ADELE KEETON

As this is the first week of the second six weeks period, report cards came out Tuesday. Some of the grades were not so good. Pupils wonder why the grades are poor, never stopping to think how little time they spend trying to make their grades better. Every once in a while a student feels somewhat "fed-up" on school and grumbles, "Why do I have to study?" Seldom does a student think of studying as anything but a boring passtime. A student doesn't stop to realize the good that we will receive in our later life by taking advantage of the opportunities we have now to study and learn. The fact that we can make good grades if we try shouldn't be the only reason we have for working and studying. We should study to see how much we can learn and what we can make of ourselves when we grow older and get "out on our own." We should try hard this six weeks not only to bring up those poor grades but to take advantage of all our studies and opportunities to learn.

Editor's Musings

By ROZELLE PHARR

Once I heard a very interesting story about a couple of Chinese. A traveler in Shanghai saw two coolies engaged in a heated argument. The Chinese were waving their arms, shaking their fists, and stamping their feet, all the time apparently hurling at each other the bitterest epithets their brains could devise. But not a blow was struck. The traveler was surprised at their actions and when he inquired what the trouble was, he was told by one of the bystanders that the two coolies were "fighting."

"Fighting?" he asked in astonishment. "What kind of a fight do you call that? They prance around and talk fast and make faces, but not a blow is struck." "That is right," replied the bystander, "The man who strikes first is beaten, because thereby he confesses he has run out of ideas."

It seems to me that if we, the people of the world today, participated in that sort of "fighting" that the world would be a much better place for ourselves and the future generations.

Isn't it a shame that little sisters know so much, especially when Joe Corbell sends you three boxes of candy, Joyce.

Claudie, why did you want to sit on the outside at the tent show? Was it the drummer or the boy that works for "Smith's"?

Waving at the soldiers didn't seem to do two seniors any good. Anyway, they didn't have any addresses next morning.

Band, Pep Squad Perform At Game

Following a week of hard practice and marching, during rain and sunshine, the Ozona High School Band performed during the half of the football game here. Saturday many of the citizens of Ozona expressed very pleasing compliments pertaining to the performance. The band formed an anchor and played "Anchor's Away." When the students had cleared the field, an anchor outlined by pop corn remained.

Considering the fact that the band is just beginning to get settled and well organized, they have done excellent work. Of course, as the year progresses, so will the band.

In a plea for more instruments, the band mothers are giving all the help and support they can. They are asking for more help and support from other various clubs and organizations. There are a large number of pupils who would like very much to be a part of the High School Band, but are unable to afford an instrument, so it is for these pupils that instruments are needed.

Several pieces of new music have arrived recently, consisting of some popular music as well as the other types. The band students are looking forward with much enthusiasm.

For the benefit of those who do not know what pupils are in the band, they are:

Seniors: Billy Hannah, Wayne West, Bill Carson, Red McWilliams, Mary Faye Lucas, Adele Keeton, Dorothy Capps, and Gem Ella Dudley.

Juniors: Bud Cox, Henry Patrick, Virgil Oden, Charles McDonald, Mervin McLaughlin, Jimmy Pharr, Joy Coates, Rozelle Pharr, Margaret Russell, and Bland Tandy, Pris Baker.

Freshman: Ruth Townsend, Daphne Meinecke, Joy Hubbard.

Grade School: Sue Beasley, Doris Busby, Jo Nell Coose, Myrta-stine Hokit, Dick Lee McDonald, Joe Perry, Bennie Gail Phillips, and Max Word.

Director Cyril Pingelton and Drum Majorette Lottie Owens have done excellent work with the band.

Another Lions' Victory Honored

It seems as though there is a meeting in study hall every Monday morning. Well, it will continue to be that way as long as the Lions continue to win these ball games. For the fourth consecutive Monday, the high school student body met in the study hall following another football victory.

Talks were made by Stanley Lemmons, Bill Carson, Roy Coates, Tom Ed Montgomery, Byron Williams, L. B. Cox, and Billy Hannah, all of whom seemed to have little to say except that they were very happy that the Lions came out on top again.

Last, but not at all least, the usual talk was made by Coach Patterson. By "usual" it is meant, as stated by Coach Patterson, "Mr. Sikes told me to say something different this time, but I don't know anything different to say as long as these boys keep winning these games. We are just all proud of the boys."

The coach and Supt. Denham, as well as the boys, said that they are looking forward to another victory over Menard on next Friday night.

Examinations Cause For Much Worry By OHS Students

Exams, exams, exams always exams. But last week the exams are really put to the students of OHS. This was the dreaded six weeks exams. Most of the kids went around in a daze. Let's see now, there was English, world history, and typing. The pupil studied and studied on these three and then they all mixed. The next morning he dragged himself to school. First exam was English—oh, if only the test papers would disappear, or if Miss Kirbie would have decided to be lenient, or would have forgotten or something, but no such luck. The pupil sweated and squirmed and finally finished the exam. Then came the suspense—waiting for the grades; oh me, oh my, he wondered what he made? If he passed he would faint dead away; if he didn't pass he would faint any way from the suspense.

But the day wasn't over, oh no, not for a long time yet, there were still two more. Then the poor punch-drunk, fact-crammed pupil went on to history and it took all his strength to get a chair. When he did, he sank as if he had no bones or feelings in his body. He read the questions: still no inspiration, easy one. Well, he knew there would be one right any way. Why discovered America? Emily Dickinson, no gee, rolly, that was English. What did Pericles do? Let's see now, he made the line-space layer, oh no, that was typing. Gee whiz if he gets through this one he will be ready to die, come to think of it, he's ready to die now. Anything to get out of this exam. Oh, here's a hard one. What did Archimedes do. Holy cow, who was that guy? Maybe he wrote the "Star Spangled Banner"? No, if he wrote that what did Francis Scott write? Maybe he jumped off a building or something. "Oh well," he said, "I'll just skip this one; it will probably come to him later. (He hoped). Poor thing, he is all mixed up."

If Miss Kirbie would give his paper to Mr. Sikes to grade for history, he'd pass O.K. Next came the typing. He reassured himself by saying "Miss North is a swell teacher, she'll probably pass me," (he hoped). First question, oh he was already starting out bad, draw the keyboard. Let's see "a" goes here, no, it goes over there, and finally he placed it where the "v" should have been and placed the "v" where the "m" should have been and so on until he was so mixed up he didn't know whether he was taking typing or Spanish. He said "I think I'll just not go home. Tuesday when the report cards come out. When the poor weary-worn student was through he was tired. He was so tucked out he didn't know whether he was all over he just waited and dreaded coming or going. After this was the next six weeks exams, hoping that he can bring himself around to coming to school the next morning.

OHS Lions Shear Angoras; Score 34-7

The Ozona Lions won their fourth consecutive game Saturday by defeating the Rocksprings Goats 34-7. This was the second district tilt of the season.

In the first quarter, Bud Cox broke loose and got to the secondary before the startled Rocksprings boys knew who had the ball. The big 190 lb. back for Rocksprings came over to cover up, but Cox lateralled to Roy Coates who ran the rest of the way like a scared rabbit. The 190 lb. back was blocked out by Cox after he lateralled to Coates. Cox took the ball over for the extra point. Incidentally, the touchdown was made on the third play of the game.

The second score came early in the second quarter. Again Cox was the key man in making the touchdown. Hannah drew back and threw a bullet pass to Cox on Rocksprings 40 yard line, and from there, Cox dodged and weaved around the half-backs and finally broke into the open and was across the double stripes for the second counter.

Again in the second quarter, Floyd Hokit, Ozona's crack end, rushed through the line and hit Babb so hard he fumbled the ball on his own 20 yard line. Fats Thurman covered the ball, pushing and throwing the Rocksprings boys every way except toward the piskin. Hannah again threw a beautiful pass to Hokit who was standing in the end zone. The score was 20-0 as the half ended.

As the second half opened, the Ozona boys were set for another touchdown. Hannah threw Hokit (Continued on Page Seven)

Boy Scouts Meet With New Scoutmaster

The Ozona Boy Scouts meet last Tuesday for the first time under the new Scoutmaster, Jack Baggett.

The Scouts were invited to a luncheon given by the Rotary for Tuesday, Oct. 14. The program is going to be presented by the Scouts.

Those attending were as follows: Jack Baggett, Wayne West, Bill Carson, L. B. Cox, Bland Tandy, Charles McDonald, Lowell Sweeton, Dick McDonald, Jimmy Reed, and Arthur Byrd Phillips.

The meeting was adjourned with the Scoutmasters benediction.

After the meeting a committee of three stayed to plan the program for the Rotary meeting. It was decided in this meeting that those on the program should practice Sunday.

Can Ozona Win District Title?

For the first time in years of the history of Ozona High, there is a winning ball club. What are you going to do about it? The boys are out there in every game and in every practice playing their hearts out—for what? They take the knock, the heartaches, and praise, for you, every student and fan of Ozona, and for the glory of their school. Sometimes it isn't easy, but it would help them over the rough places if they knew that all of you were back of them every minute. School spirit is a thing that you may not be able to define, but you, and everyone else, know if you have it.

Songs, especially if the band is used, make good cheer support at any game. Everybody can sing—at a game or pep rally; it matters not how good or how bad the music rings out clearly, and the players recognize their own school.

Yells, to come to these next, should above everything else, be unusual and distinctive as possible. And by distinctive it means that a school yell must sound, when heard from the field, so different from yells used by the rival school, that the opposing teams without conscious thought may identify their side. A little thought will convince one that this is the first essential. Other wise, why yell? And above all, let it have pep. Just what is meant by that poorly defined slang term nobody can exactly say, and everybody exactly knows. If the yell "goes," "carries," "moves," it has pep.

The true cheer leader is ingenious. Good health, strong resonant voices, pleasing manners and friendly, democratic attitudes go to make up a desirable personality in a cheer leader. Personality plus for a yell leader. Also P-oise, E-fficiency, P-eace—spell PEP. The students are as essential to a team's victory as the members of the team. Get them to back the school, and to keep its spirit going (Continued On Page Seven)

Eighth Grade Presents "And the Stars Heard"

Thursday, Oct. 9, the Eighth Grade of the Ozona Public Schools presented the assembly program. The class presented a play entitled, "And the Stars Heard." In the play, on a patriotic basis, the characters brought out the importance of singing. The play began as a boy was complaining to his parents about having to sing in school. After a while a girl refugee from England and two boys entered. The girl brought out the point that in England the schools sang only one song. As in most plays the children came to understand better. The play ended with the class singing some patriotic song and ending them with every one singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Mr. Denham awarded the first and second place winners a dollar for first and 50 cents for second place in the three Junior High grades. The prizes were presented by the Ozona Rotary Club.

Lemmons Captains Victorious Lions Against Angoras

Coch Patterson's choice for Saturday's captain went to Stanley Lemmons, and the spectators were well pleased with his selection. For Stanley played "head-tail" football every minute of the game against the Rocksprings Angoras.

Football is not a new thing in the Lemmons family, for Stanley is the fourth son to play on the first-string team for Ozona High. Fans are expecting the youngest to carry on the family tradition.

Stanley led his teammates in a game which brought down the highest score of the '41 season. He failed to make the day a complete success for himself when, after intercepting a pass and racing some 50 yards, he was caught from behind by Babb. The run was too long, and "Bull-Frog" had been playing too hard, for him to have that much in reserve.

Stanley, son of Mrs. Ben Lemmons, is 16 years old, weighs 145, and plays left guard. Through hard work and intense training he has made himself one of the most valuable men on the team. With his football ability and his almost straight "A" academic record, Stanley will make a good college student.

OHS 10 Commandments For School Teachers

"Thou shalt have other interests besides thy school room.

"Thou shalt not try to make of thy children little images, for they are a live little bunch, visiting the wriggling of their captivity upon you, their teacher, unto the last weary moment of the day; and showing interest and co-operation unto those who can give them reasonable freedom in working.

"Thou shalt not scream the names of thy children in irritation, for they will not hold thee in respect if thou screamest their names in vain.

"Remember the last day of the week, to keep it happy.

"Thou shalt not kill one breath of stirring endeavor in the heart of a little child.

"Humor the feelings of thy children that their good-will may speak well for thee in the little domain over which thou ruleth.

"Thou shalt not suffer any unkindness of speech or action to enter the door of thy room.

"Thou shalt not steal for the drudgery of many 'papers' the precious hours that should be given to recreation, that thy strength and happiness may appear unto all that come within thy presence.

"Thou shalt not bear witness to too many 'schemes of work' for much scattered effort is weariness to the soul and a stumbling block to weary fingers.

"Thou shalt laugh when it rains and weep, woolly ones muddy the floor; when it blows and doors bang, when little angels conceal their wings and wriggles, when Tommy spills ink and Mary flops a tray of trailing letters; when visitors appear at the precise moment when small heads have forgotten everything you thought they knew. And again I say unto you, laugh for upon all these commandments hangs all the law and the profits in thy schoolroom."

OHS English Tack-ics

Our English Class rolls around every day at 3:00 p. m. It seems that everyone jumps around as if there is a tack in his desk; and sure enough there is. The writer of this article knows from experience. And oh, what an experience!

The tacks come from all over the school building. Some come out of the bulletin board in the study hall, and the rest out of the chalk trays in various class rooms. Perhaps you have all seen them at one time or another, or better still you may have felt them. The tacks are usually about one-half inch in diameter and in the center of the track there is a sharp spike about a quarter of an inch long. And believe me, brothers, they stick when sat upon. So take my advice and always look before you flop down in your desk. I ought to know.

signify besides being members of the "Junior Red Cross"? And, how many do you need to let people know that you belong?

Mac, when you go to a tent show, you really enjoy it, or are you just plain silly? Answer that, "Red".

Dick, writing notes in English class doesn't prove profitable, does it?

Mary and Billy sit at the same desk in Study Hall, but they can still find use for that old art of note writing.

Doris, why was Melba Cullin's name written on your notebook? When did this romance come into view? Come on now, don't keep us in suspense.

Miss Kirbie is unfair to English III students. All those in favor of making Miss Kirbie do without her evening snack, say "aye."

Bud, which did you enjoy most, the fruit salad or the hula girls? Anyway, you must remember that you are a football boy.

It seems that Lila Lee is really a lyricist! Anyway, the song she wrote for the Pep Squad was very good.

Dick, are you really as lovely as you seem since Ethel has to stay at home?

Jimmy, you were doing all right, weren't you. A little car, and a little girl. Anyway, "Sug" approved.

Chappo thought that he was holding hands with Ethel. But he found out it was James' hand.

"Sug" was did you change your mind so suddenly Saturday night at the dance and not go to the ranch? Did you want to go to Big Lake?

These boys that follow these girls around in cars! I hope Basil, Chappo and Mustard can take a hint.

Congratulations boys for the good game Saturday! We are very proud of you. Here is hoping for the same luck for the fifth game.

at all times, and the pep will overflow with increasing interest.

Let's everybody show the team that he is sure of victory. Whether it comes or not, the school stands back of its team, yelling to the last minute of play, let the score go up or down. If you want our team to lose, and go on losing, begin leaving the field before the contest is over. This act of final discourtesy is the hardest one for a winning, or a losing team, to be obliged to endure. If, on the contrary, you want our team to win, to keep on fighting in the face of even almost certain defeat, keep on cheering. Many a game has been saved by its devoted rooters. The field is, after all, not the only place where the game is played.

a short pass and Hokit toted the ball over for the fourth touchdown of the game. Cox plunged for the extra point.

The Rocksprings lads still held on and were later awarded for their "bulldog like" determination.

The touchdown was set up by two long passes, Babb to Brown Babb again passed and the ball was batted down by Coates and Mustard Williams, but to no avail, for Cloudt caught it before it touched the ground and raced across the goal standing up. Babb made a beautiful dropkick for the conversion.

The game was far from over for the Ozona boys. Stanley Lemmons, Ozona guard, sped through the Goat's line and took the ball out of the Rocksprings' spinner man and raced for 31 yards before being caught from behind by a Rocksprings player. Ozona tried for the three times but failed to gain the necessary yardage for a first down. Hannah, Ozona passer, bulleted a long heave that was good for the last touchdown of the game. Cox again followed up with a line drive for the extra point. This made the score 34-7.

In the last few minutes of the game, Coach Patterson sent in a flock of substitutes. Among them was "Little Squab" McWilliams, 90 lb. back for Ozona.

The starting line ups:

Ozona
Ends—B. Williams and Hokit.
Tackles—West and Thurman.
Guards—Lemmons and L. Coates.

Rocksprings
Ends—Hutt and Brown.
Tackles—Franks and Draper.
Guards—Varga and Isbell.
