Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

Here it is, a brand new year. We can wonder what 1969 will bring, but we don't really know until this year is over.

Battered and bruised by the events of the past year, and all the nation has to do is to have faith and hope. We hope that somehow things will be better this year. Faith in our new leaders that they will lead us to a wiser path and restore sanity.

I might say, hope that our nation can get back to normal, but I can't remember what normal was.

I'm not really prepared to write this column this week. I thought I was going to write a guest editorial. Carl Franklin said he would be more than glad to write it for me, being home from law school with nothing to do. He also said it would only take him about eight minutes.

That was last Tuesday afternoon, and here I am writing my column as usual. I'm not really all hung up with surprise and disappointment. This has happened many times before. If all the people who offered to write my column really came up with it, I'd have a position instead of a job.

It was a cozy gathering at the country club Christmas night. The band and the crowd were fairly evenly matched. I can remember Christmas dances at the country club when the crowd was so large it was a struggle to get to the dance floor. I can't imagine what has happened.

Those who were absent, the biggest majority of the membership, really missed a great band. They played music, and that's something I'm afraid this modern music is a great deal like modern art, nobody understands it or likes it, but they would die before admitting that someone thinks them better. Me, I'm square. Neither my ears nor my soul can take today's mod music.

Like most of you, lived in suspense during the voyage of Apollo 8. I was certain the three brave men would never set foot on the planet again. I felt that relief at their safe return. The men involved in the program just must have the true pioneer spirit. Their successful venture was the right spot in an otherwise busy mixed up year.

However, I could have done without the pictures of the man taken from near the moon. I was absolutely horrified to discover what a ball world we live in, or could I say on. I've been around all week with the sensation that I might be off any minute.

Having to work on New Year's Day was a drag, but I had my compensations. It was a nice and quiet day with absolutely no one to interfere with the hours of concentration. I had to park my car in front of the bank, just like I own it. I didn't have to listen to Tom and Jim argue during the football games and skip all the housework that I am always confronted with on a day off. After all, it was a pretty good day.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Foster of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Whitley and daughter, Elizabeth Ann, of Beaumont visited Miss Mildred North and Mrs. Gertrude Perry and other relatives during the holidays.

Funeral Services Held Tuesday for W. Ben Robertson

Funeral services for William Ben Robertson, 72, long time Crockett County resident, were held Tuesday afternoon from the Ozona Church of Christ with A. C. Knight, minister, officiating. Burial was in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of James Funeral Home.

Mr. Robertson died Sunday night at 10 o'clock in Crockett County Hospital where he had been a patient for a day. He had been in ill health for several months.

Born in Sutton county March 2, 1896, he moved to Ozona with his family as a small boy and lived here the rest of his life. He was married to Bertha Cawley here in 1918. He was a rancher and made his home on his ranch southwest of Ozona.

Mr. Robertson was a long-time member of the Ozona Masonic Lodge.

Surviving are his wife, a son Dr. W. B. Robertson, Jr., of Ozona; three sisters, Mrs. Earnest Sparkman and Mrs. Roy Miller, both of Ozona, and Mrs. Joe Forehand of Phoenix, Ariz.

Pallbearers were Hartley Johnson, Frank James, W. H. Whitaker, W. E. Friend, Delbert Stewart, Ted White, Basil Dunlap and Sam Willis.

No Injuries In Three Holiday Period Accidents

Thus far in the holiday season, Crockett County has escaped any bad automobile accidents and there have been no personal injuries at all. Officers investigated three accidents Sunday, all on Hwy 290.

At mid-afternoon Sunday a little over a mile west of town, Orlando Terrazas of Ft. Stockton, driving a 1967 Chevrolet, ran into the rear of a 1948 pickup driven by J. L. Drake of Odessa. The two vehicles, locked together by bumpers, skidded around in the highway and came to rest on the shoulder of the road. No one was injured, but damage to the car was $800 and to the pickup $100.

Later the same afternoon, 14 miles east of town, a 1964 Rambler station wagon, driven by Julie Flores of New Mexico, was wrecked when a deer ran out from the left side of the road and hit the left front fender of the car. The deer was killed and damage to the car was $150, but the driver was not injured.

Sunday night at 9:30 a two-car collision occurred in the middle of town at the intersection of Hwy 290 and Hwy 163. Beatriz Enriquez of Houston was traveling east on 290 in a 1964 Dodge and Merlinda Chipman of Ozona was traveling south on 163 in a 1964 Ford. Both cars entered the intersection at the same time and a collision resulted. Details were not clear, according to investigating officer Orvil Perry. He had a witness to the accident and the two drivers came up with three separate accounts. Damage to the Dodge was $200 and to the Ford $300, no injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Foster of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Whitley and daughter, Elizabeth Ann, of Beaumont visited Miss Mildred North and Mrs. Gertrude Perry and other relatives during the holidays.

296,000 Eggs Scrambled When Truck Overturns

There were plenty of scrambled eggs Monday night a few miles out of San Angelo on the Merton highway when a Flying W Egg truck overturned loaded with 546 cases of eggs. Each case contained 30 dozen eggs.

Manuel Longoria of Ozona, driver of the truck was meeting an oil transport, and discovered a cow in the middle of the road. As a result the truck overturned and came to rest in the barrow ditch.

Longoria was not injured, but the truck was heavily damaged, not to mention the contents. The cow was killed in the crash.

Lions Oppose Sanderson In Big Lake Opener

Ozona's Lions will play Sanderson this afternoon at 5:30 in their first game of the annual Big Lake basketball tournament. They beat Sanderson handily in their only encounter of the season at the Iraan tournament recently. The Lions brought home the championship trophy from the Iraan tourney and will be striving for a repeat at Big Lake this weekend.

Tuesday night in a triple-header with the Iraan teams, the varsity had a bad night and lost to the Braves by the lopsided score of 51-48. The only other loss of the season for the Lions was at the hands of the Braves in their first game with the Iraan crew early in the season. However, the Lions beat Iraan to collect the championship trophy in Iraan's tournament.

In the last game of the night, the Lions just couldn't rally and David Wilson paced the winners with 26 big points. Marlin Farris had 17 points for the Lions, followed by Don Huff with 10.

The Freshmen played the first game and squeaked by the Iraan freshmen 38-33. Mike Jenkins was high-point man for Ozona with 18.

Scoring 75 points, the Lion B gave the Brave B a good old-fashioned country whipping and remained undefeated so far in the season. The Braves had 32 points. Jim Montgomery took high-point honors for the Lions, swishing the nets for

Local Merchants Report Booming Holiday Business

"More people are shopping in Ozona," said Steve Fogle, manager of the United Department store, when explaining the store's big increase in Christmas business this year. This was the opinion of most Ozona retailers.

Fogle has been manager of the United for three years and says business has increased, not only during Christmas shopping days, but overall each year. He attributes this in part to expanded lines and more quality merchandise.

Mrs. Levon Parker, manager of Brown Furniture, said that while furniture stores do not count on a big volume of Christmas business and December is usually a relatively slow month, that overall business compared very well with that of last year.

Another pleased merchant was Jim Evans, proprietor of Jim's Gent Shop. He said the store's December business was well above that of last year as well as the year's business.

Oscar Kost at the Ozona Boot & Saddlery said his business for the year was considerably above last year's, but he had not had time to compare his December business with that of 1967.

January Last Month For Voter Registration

A check with the county tax assessor-collector's office revealed that only 225 residents had registered to vote at the end of 1968.

Residents have until January 31 to register. This includes everyone who wishes to vote, without exception. There are no exemptions, and those wishing to have a voter registration application mailed to them may do so by calling the tax office.

Although 1969 is an off-year as far as elections are concerned, local residents will elect directors to the Water District Board this month and the school board election will be held in April.

Those qualified to vote are urged to register before the Jan. 31 deadline.

Three New County Commissioners Take Oath Of Office Next Week

ASCS Practices For County In 69 Same As Last Year

The 1969 Agricultural Conservation program practices have been approved, Cliff Elder, office manager of the Crockett-Sutton County ASCS, announced in a letter to producers the past week.

The practices for the two-county unit remain the same as last year with one exception. Grubbing of prickly pear is not offered for Sutton county in 1969. A list of practices and cost share rates will be mailed to all producers in the near future, the news letter said.

A request form must be filed prior to starting a practice, Mr. Elder pointed out. Invoices for materials where needed to carry out an approved practice, must be furnished to the ASCS office when reporting performance.

Producers are reminded to file applications for incentive payment as soon as possible as each sale of wool or mohair is made. Computations of payment rates are now being made at the Data Processing Center in Kansas City as applications are received from 1968 marketing year.

Hiway Patrolmen Shift Positions

Patrolman John Harris, DPS, has been transferred here from the Brownwood area to replace Del Copeland, who was re-assigned to Eldorado and took up his duties there Monday.

Harris is married and has two children. The family has rented the Larry Arledge house on Live Oak Dr.

Three new county officials will be sworn in at an informal meeting of the Commissioners Court next week. The three, who have made bond and signed a written oath to qualify for their elective positions, are Jesse Marley, Commissioner Precinct 1; Bill Black, Commissioner Precinct 2; and Jack Williams, Commissioner Precinct 3. They will officially take up their duties at the regular meeting of the Commissioners Court, January 13.

All West Texas Pick Includes 3 Ozona Players

Three Ozona football players were selected to the All-West-Texas Class AA team last week by the San Angelo Standard Times.

Marlin Farris, big center for the Lions, was named to the first team offense as center. He won the same position last year.

Fleet Coates was named back on the first team offense and Tony Wheeler was named to a tackle slot on the first team defense.

Farris and Coates are Ozona High School seniors and Wheeler is a junior.

Class 5-AA champions, Reagan County, also placed three players on the first teams. Joe Barnes was named to the quarterback slot and Gary Mills to tackle on the first team offense for the Owis John Watson made defensive lineman. Runner-up Crane also placed three men on the All-West-Texas team, end, Tommy Jones; tackle, Keith Cesna, and on defense, back, Tommy Jones. The other two teams placed one player each. Lineman Bob McKee of McCamey made first team defense along with back David Jones of Stanton.

Marley, who unseated Lefty Walker for a four-year term in Precinct 1, campaigned in three elections to win the post. In the democratic primary in May he forced Walker into a runoff, was victorious in the second primary and beat James Baggett, his Republican opponent, in the November general election.

The Precinct 2 election was for the unexpired term of Rex Halydier, who died in office. Mrs. Halydier was appointed to fill the vacancy until the election. She ran for the position in the first primary and was unseated by Bill Black in the second primary. Black also had a Republican opponent, Charlie Applewhite, in the general election, but won handily.

Jack Williams polled the most votes in a large field of candidates for commissioner in Precinct 3. He was victorious over incumbent commissioner Rusty Smith in the second primary and faced no further opposition.

These three men, along with Judge Bernice Jones and Commissioner Glenn Sutton, Precinct 4, will make up the new Commissioners Court in Crockett County.

Two other county officials, Sheriff Billy Mills and County Attorney Fred Chandler will also be sworn in for new terms in office. Each was elected without opposition for new terms in office in the 1968 elections. District Attorney Dixon Mahon also begins a new term in that office by virtue of having been re-elected without opposition.

THE WONDER OF IT ALL

It was the most marvelous of all holiday seasons in 1968 years. Not since the star beckoned at Bethlehem has mortal man been more awed.

The pictures of our little Earth, from 230,000 miles in space, could only cause each man to rethink his concepts of what and where and why he is. No reminder of earth man's place in the universe was ever so pointed. For the picture clearly showed that little earth was swimming in an endless sea of darkness, alone and unguarded, in a sky that has no beginning and no end.

In the span of a lifetime—in three score and 8 years—Americans had mastered the art of flight and perfected it so that 3 men could literally leave earth and explore part of the unknown of the universe. It was so thrilling as to be unreal. One thought, in passing, that President Johnson had prepared a fabulous finale for his last days in office. What future president could ever hope to match the high drama of Apollo 8 during a term of office?

And then he spoiled it. A White House spokesman said that President Johnson was "seriously concerned" over the reported treatment of the Pueblo men by the North Koreans and had ordered an "urgent investigation."

Was he surprised? What in heaven's name did he think had been going on in those North Korean jails for eleven months? Is it possible that he has never heard Edward Hunter's classic, Brainwashing, nor Duane Thorin's A Ride to Panmunjom? The mind boggles at the naked naivete of such a statement.

Then there was the business of the MP's. Each man of the Pueblo was firmly escorted by an MP. It almost seemed that the men had been traded from one captivity into another. Things like that are never officially explained; unofficially, the story was that the men were being protected from reporters. After all there was going to be an official inquiry, and it was for the protection of each man that he was precluded from talking with the press where he might say something that would jeopardize him in the inquiry.

Or, maybe a few days of debriefing followed by an inquiry will give each man the right idea of the right story he can give to the press?

It is difficult to escape the impression that the Administration was overly anxious to preclude any possible critical word being uttered by Pueblo veterans within earshot of reporters.

THE DAY AFTER ELECTION

One of the most hotly-contested issues before the last session of Congress was the compulsory gun registration bill. The Administration proposed such legislation and thousands of Americans wrote or wired their objections to Congress. The Congress responded by defeating all gun registration bills. The only gun bill passed in the session was one restricting interstate and mail-order sales of firearms.

But on November 6 — the day after the Federal elections — announcement of a Federal gun registration edict was made in Washington, Congress notwithstanding. What bureaucrat presumes to impose such regulations? Believe it or not, the Collector of Internal Revenue.

In the Federal Register for November 6, 1968, Volume 23, No. 217, the Internal Revenue Service served notice that it is prepared to enforce new rules on reporting the sales of ammunition and firearms. Under the new rules, any person buying firearms or ammunition from a dealer will have to report his name and address, height and weight, place and date of birth, and provide identification. Further, the rules will empower the regional offices of the Internal Revenue Service to require regular reports from all dealers on the names and addresses of every person who buys firearms or ammunition.

Thus, every firearm, and every purchase of ammunition, will be a permanent record in the files of the Internal Revenue Service. And that is gun registration by bureaucrat, in defiance of the clearly expressed will of the Congress of the United States.

It will be more difficult to arouse public opinion on the issue now, because those citizens who screamed last summer have relaxed in the belief that the Congress rejected gun registration. And it did. But the frightening fact is that the Internal Revenue Service is prepared to do, on its own, what the Congress refused to make the law of the land.

Delusions of grandeur are not unknown among bureaucrats. But no manifestation has been so conspicuous as this travesty. It is a bad joke. And unless Congress has become a joke, it will quickly correct the Federal Register for November 6, 1968.

IRS Explains Community Property Law And Your Income Tax

(This series of news stories was prepared by the staff of the District Director of Internal Revenue Service in Dallas, and is being published by your paper to help you save dollars and trouble. The tax instructions that you receive in the mail from Internal Revenue Service do not fully explain all of the tax benefits available to you under community property law.)

Taxpayers don't like to read instructions. However, the Internal Revenue Service points out that married Texans who fail to read the community property instructions (Document 555, available at IRS offices) may cost themselves even more than the taxpayers throughout the country who don't want to take the trouble to read the regular 1040 instructions. In Texas you may need to read both.

The Dallas District Office, covering the Northern half of Texas, emphasizes that there are three special areas affected by the community property law that may provide tax savings:

- 1) An additional dividend exclusion of $100.
- 2) An extra capital loss of $1,000 (if they file separate returns), and
- 3) Additional retirement income credit worth up to $228.00 in tax savings.

Although all married taxpayers in Texas are affected by the community property requirements, divorced taxpayers and taxpayers not divorced but separated and living apart, are forced to split their income on separate returns under community property requirements. Since a gift of community property is made equally by husband and wife, Texas taxpayers may make larger gifts to their children (or others) without paying a federal gift tax.

And finally, both halves of the community property are re-evaluated to fair market value on the date of death of either spouse. This can save a large amount of income tax on the sale of property after your spouse has died.

There are more than 1,000 married couples who are required to file income tax returns from Northern Texas in 1968. Income tax statistics of past years indicate that these families (800,000 individuals) will report about nine billion in income on their 1968 returns. These couples have to estimate a joint return or file the community income, deductions, and credits for their spouse and each file one half on their separate returns. In some cases, community property creates considerable tax savings for the taxpayer, in other cases the taxpayer, Internal Revenue is required to follow the state law on who is entitled to the income in a case.

Arctic Front Sends Mercury To New Winter's Low

The coldest weather of the winter season descended on Ozona late Monday in the wake of an arctic cold front. Temperatures dipped to 16 degrees above zero early Tuesday morning and cold days and nights followed. Skies were cloudy all day Wednesday, but no precipitation followed.

Two fronts moved into the area Friday, bringing howling winds and somewhat lower temperatures. However, pleasant weather prevailed over the weekend. High winds preceded the mass of cold air which moved into the area Monday, and more of the same is predicted for the weekend.

TIPS FOR DOORSMEN

Cleaning Made Easy

Wipe things neat by seal-sh on an old copy of a fine. Clean one fish, couple of pages, clean er, and son on. You al- have a clean place to and very little mess to afterwards.

Shine To Lures

Simple method to shine all fishing lures is to them in water that po- have been boiled in.

Uses For Tape

Wise angler carries a of plastic tape in his box. It is a good emer- repair kit for all of things, such as fix- ose fishing rod guides, tent holes, holding a mirror to a tree, etc.

This Is a Ducky Idea

You can pluck ducks eas- er by first soaking them in detergent. It cuts the oil in the feathers and makes them easier to remove.

Cigarette Filter Ear Plugs

If the muzzle blast of your deer rifle bothers you as you tune up for the hunting sea- son, improvise as couple of ear plugs from cigarette fil- ter.

Silica Prevents Fogging

Silica cream, available at any Army-Navy store, rub- bed on your glasses or scope, or binoculars will prevent them from fogging.

Wash Hands Periodically

Nothing will stop fish bit- ing like getting gasoline and oil on your hands and trans- ferring it to your fishing bait. Carry a plastic soap supplier with you. Use it to wash hands periodically.

Coffee Can as Worm Box

Make a handy worm con- tainer by cutting both ends of a pound-size coffee can and put one of the plastic lids over each end. Now it is a simple matter to retrieve worms no matter which end is up.

THAT IMPRESSIONABLE AGE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

You have to be so careful what you say to children when they're at that impressionable age.

Our neighbor has a little daughter. And, being something of a skeptic, he's been careful not to let her be exposed to religious teaching, at least not in any direct way.

But the other night she asked, "Who is God?" And, since he wants to see her grow up with the highest ideals, he hesitated a moment before he answered her question.

Then he said, "God made the world." (And he wondered why he hadn't said "God is nobody — there isn't any god.")

Her wondering eyes and pursed lips tugged at his heart. "Gosh, Daddy," she mused, "He's somebody to know!"

Whether you're a child or an adult, that pretty well sums it up. Either God is nobody—or He Is Somebody To Know!

And the church bells ring every Sunday.

C Of C Names Three Winners In Hunt Contest

Winners in Chamber of Commerce sponsored hunting contest were announced this morning by Hank Wellman of the Ozona Trading Post, the official weight and measure station.

Robert E. Dixon of Irving won the rifle for the buck with the most points. He killed a 15-pointer around a week ago on the Sonny Bailey ranch.

The binoculars, prize for the biggest field dressed deer went to Duane Childress of Ozona. The deer, killed at the Childress ranch north of town, weighed 126 pounds. Childress had held the lead in this contest for several weeks.

Don Grider of Abilene won the binoculars for bringing in the buck with the widest rack. The winning rack measured 21 1/2 inches. Grider brought his trophy rack in early in the season and has not been challenged.

FARMERS AND RANCHERS BUY CREDIT BANKS:

On December 31, 1968, the Texas Production Credit Association join the other 33 Association in Texas in buying back nearly $8 million in capital stock, held by the Government in the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, announced Phil H. Lane, President of the Texas Production Credit Association.

The Houston Bank is one of twelve federally incorporated banks which operate exclusively in the field of agricultural credit.

The Federal Intermediate Credit Bank discounts short and intermediate term notes of farmers and ranchers for the 34 Production Credit Associations, which are federally chartered but farmer-owned, and about 11 agricultural credit corporations, livestock loan companies, and commercial banks.

Lane pointed out that the repayment of this Government capital is not mandatory but the Associations have concluded to take advantage of recently enacted laws which authorize them and other patrons of the Bank to become complete owners of the equity interests in the Institution.

Lane added that this is the last step taken by farmers and ranchers of Texas in paying back the capital originally invested by the Government in the three Farm Credit of Houston, the Federal Land Bank, the Houston Bank for Cooperatives, and now the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank. Farmer ownership of the net worth in the Intermediate Credit Bank will be nearly $32 million, and in the three Farm Credit Banks, over $118 million.

On Stressing Self-Reliance

As Americans look forward to the promising new team in Washington, they should not imagine that all the problems of the nation can be solved in the nation's capital. On the contrary, the new President is likely to surprise many people by telling them to solve their own problems, or at least the majority of them.

This is as it should be. It is not only foolish but basically wrong to look to Washington for the solution to every difficulty at the city, county or state level. To be sure, the Kennedy and Johnson administrations encouraged such dependence and reliance. But that's not the American way. Traditionally, self-reliance has been the great national virtue. We need to return to self-reliance, beginning January 20.

It will take time for people to get adjusted. The National League of Cities, meeting in New Orleans, recently urged continued direct financial links between cities and the federal government. The Kennedy and Johnson administrations encouraged direct aid, for they knew that the White House would be able to exert great power in the city halls of the nation. It is far better, however for any aid that goes to cities to be first channeled through the states. In that way, the authority of the states is upheld. Happily, Vice President-elect Spiro Agnew has indicated that aid will be routed through the states.

No doubt it will be hard for everyone to get accustomed to trying to handle more problems at the local level. People have fallen into the habit of running to Washington with every problem. Washington, however, isn't the fountainhead of wisdom. The cities and states know their own problems best, and they should welcome an administration that frankly tells them to get to work on solving these problems.

The idea also emerged in recent years that all the money in the land is in Washington. The notion also exists that the federal government has some mysterious, independent source of funds. Actually, of course, the federal government doesn't have any money but that which it takes from the cities and states — from individual citizens, that is — by way of taxation. Thus the federal government can't "give" anything without taking it from someone else. If the public insists on a new service or facility, it will have to pay for it one way or another. There aren't any free service or facilities in the United States.

Furthermore, getting money from Washington, instead of taxing the home-folks, isn't a way of getting financial help at low cost. When the federal government spends a tax dollar, a big chunk of it goes for overhead — for maintaining the huge federal administrative set-up. In the long run, therefore, Americans will find it cheaper to have services provided by cities and states rather than by the federal government.

Hopefully, the Nixon administration will really "talk up" the themes of economy and self-reliance. It also will need to take administrative action to prevent waste of money by federal agencies. For example, one of the first steps that Robert H. Finch should take when he becomes Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare is to place strict regulations on welfare assistance.

Outgoing Secretary Wilbur J. Cohen, in an action calculated to please reliefers and radical groups urging vastly increased government assistance, has proposed that eligibility procedures for relief be eliminated and that welfare clients qualify for aid on the basis of a mere request for assistance. If all eligibility rules are abandoned, the drone population will soar. It is sad but true that some people in this country want a free ride and seek to live a comfortable life at the expense of the taxpayer.

Mr. Finch certainly should move quickly, once he is in office, to shelve the Cohen plan and then to review the entire field of welfare aid so as to discourage the "hand-out hounds" who are so numerous. He faces a major problem of analysis, however, as under the Great Society the federal welfare establishment has swollen to 250 separate programs, 107,000 employees and an annual budget of about $50 billion. Once his analysis is completed, however, he will have to use a budgetary axe to slash the waste.

In the meantime, conservative reform of HEW and other departments will be facilitated by new public understanding of the importance of personal independence and local initiative.

All West Texas Art Show Slated In Snyder Feb. 18

More than three hundred paintings have been entered in the first West Texas Art Show scheduled for February 18 in Snyder, according to Wacil McNair, general chairman of the event. Sponsor of the all-West Texas show is the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The entry deadline has been set for January 15 for notification of entry in the show. Official notification must be sent to the WTCC office in Abilene by that date, according to McNair.

Oils, watercolors and other media from all sections of West Texas have been entered in the show. Artists who participate must be residents of the 132-county area of the WTCC and the subject matter of the paintings must be West Texas oriented. Tourist attractions, scenery or West Texas historical subjects are the only subjects being shown.

The one-day show will be held in connection with the annual WTCC Tourist Development Conference at the Seurry County Coliseum. Judging will be done on Monday, February 17 and the pictures will be on public display on February 18.
