More Heavy Rains Soak All Crockett County

Heavy rains in the north and northwest sections of the county sent draws and streams on a rampage at midweek. Wednesday morning all crossings on Johnson Draw in Ozona were closed to traffic, except for the bridge on Hwy. 290.

While a 6-inch deluge fell northwest of town early Wednesday morning, only 52 of an inch of rain fell in Ozona. During the past week of thunderstorms and showers, 1 inch of moisture was recorded in town.

A pre-dawn thunderstorm this morning dumped another 54 of an inch of rain in Ozona.

Up to 12 inches of rain fell on ranchlands northwest of Ozona from Friday up to Wednesday, with some loss of livestock reported.

Road crews were out Wednesday morning clearing the Big Lake highway of debris washed across the road from the early morning rain.

Rainfall was general throughout the county, with other areas reporting up to 2 inches. Except for rain showers and thunderstorms, Crockett county escaped the violent weather which plagued other cities in the area during the weekend.

Two soldiers narrowly escaped fatal injury Friday, shortly after noon in a head-on collision 19 miles west of Ozona on Hwy 290. Both late model automobiles were demolished. Investigating officer John Harris indicated that seat belts worn by both men were responsible for saving the lives of the two men.

Involved in the accident were Pedro Martinez, Jr., of Sonora, who was driving a 1969 Chevrolet and traveling east, and Roberto De La Cruz, Jr., of Ft. Hood, driving a 1968 El Camino and traveling west. The El Camino veered into the east bound lane while rounding a curve and the head-on collision ensued.

Both men were taken to San Angelo by a Janes Ambulance. They were not seriously injured, but were transferred due to military requirement.

Two Extensions To Ozona Field Are Completed

The Ozona (Canyon sand gas) field of Crockett County gained two extensions with completion of two projects by Delta Suburban, Odessa, six miles south-south-east of Ozona.

The No. 1-18 McMullan, 1/2 mile east, was finalized for a calculated, absolute open flow of 6.6 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ratio of 23,168-1. Gravity of the liquid was 70.2 degrees. Production was through perforations at 6,041-174 feet, which had been fractured with 40,000 gallons and 80,000 pounds of sand.

Location is 1,320 feet from the south and west lines of 18-KL-GC&SF.

The No. 1-18 McDonald, 1/2 mile south and 3/4 mile northeast, was finalized for a calculated, absolute open flow of 950,000 cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ratio of 89,219-1. Gravity of the liquid was 71.2 degrees.

Production was through perforations at 6,284-286 feet which had been fractured with 20,000 gallons and 23,300 pounds of sand.

Location is 1,020 feet from the north and 1,220 feet from the north and from the west lines of 18-KL-GC&SF.

Architect on the new structure is J. C. McDermitt of San Angelo, and general contractor is Oscar Wagner of San Angelo. Work will begin next week with the contractor having 180 days for completion.

Next Sunday will be a day of high celebration for the congregation of the Ozona United Methodist Church, according to the pastor, Dr. R. F. Curl.

The occasion will be the groundbreaking ceremony for a new Adult Annex to contain a small chapel, three adult class rooms and two offices.

This will complete the Gothic structure as originally planned in 1948. The total value of the plant with this addition will be $350,000.00.

Leading the ceremony will be Bishop and Mrs. O. Eugene Slater of San Antonio. Bishop Slater was pastor of the Ozona church in the late 30's and early 40's and has a warm place in the hearts of Ozonans.

Participating also will be Rev. and Mrs. Kermit F. Gibbons of San Angelo. The Rev. Gibbons is the District Superintendent and will conduct the Annual Church-Charge Conference.

The celebration will begin with Church School at 9:45 a. m. Mrs. Slater will teach the Adult and High School classes in the sanctuary while Bishop Slater will teach Junior High and 4th and 5th grade classes giving them an opportunity to be near and come to know a "live Methodist Bishop," Dr. Curl said.

The Rev. Mr. Gibbons will lead in the 11:00 worship service and Bishop Slater will preach. Immediately after the worship service the congregation will repair to the east side of the present church plant, located at the eastern extremity of Ozona on Highway 290, for the breaking of ground for the new addition.

This will be a colorful and joyous occasion with the older members, recently received members, and representatives of organizations participating, Dr. Curl said.

After the groundbreaking ceremony, a family fellowship luncheon will be held in the fellowship hall honoring the Methodist graduates of Ozona High School this month. These will be Nanette Bailey, Douglas Blanton, Fleet Coates, Buddy Couch, Jesse Deaton, Marsha Moore, Sharon Logan, and Rodney Rutherford. According to long standing custom, Bibles will be presented to these graduates. Their parents and families will be guests of the congregation. Co-chairmen of the committee for the fellowship luncheon will be Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Childress, Jr. and Mrs. George Russell, Jr.

Immediately following the luncheon, the annual Church-Charge Conference will be held. Architect on the new structure is J. C. McDermitt of San Angelo, and general contractor is Oscar Wagner of San Angelo. Work will begin next week with the contractor having 180 days for completion.

BELEAGUERED CAMPUSES

There has been much in the press these last few weeks about the riots and confrontations which have turned so many university campuses into battle-grounds.

Historically springtime has been a time for much gentler riots, largely kindled by collegians with an excess of adrenalin coursing through their veins. This was mischief only, a letting-off of steam. Certainly, there was no real malice underlying them.

How sad that what was once a sophisticated rite has turned into sinister and malevolent actions in a dozen different places.

In trying to spot the main differences between the present upheavals and earlier protests, one comes inevitably to the presence, in the case of Cornell University, of armed demonstrators. Though the group protested that they were armed against anticipated attack, no acceptable evidence has yet been furnished to document the claim.

It is difficult, at this distance, to understand why the Cornell administration gave way to the main demands of the rioters, not to mention its tacit acceptance of guns and ammunition as persuasive instruments.

It is clear now that such permissiveness has been widely interpreted to mean that if a minority group wants to get its way, it has only to take up its weapons and scare its way into acceptance. Militants at one South Carolina college have already proceeded on that premise.

Any student of history knows that the door to a march and revolution has very often been first, prised open by students. Many of the Cornell faculty members who speak out against the university's handling of the students were, not surprisingly, professors of history and government. They know violently conceived, should be firmly and quickly dealt with. There can be no other answer.

DECISIONS, DECISIONS

By Marsha Moore

As the end of the school year draws near, nearly all students will face certain decisions. For the underclassman, it may be such things as "Should I work this summer?", or "Should I spend my leisure hours goofing-off or should I bone-up a little bit on my weakest subject (s) so I can make a better grade next year?" The graduating senior has to decide whether to go to college and if so, which college; and if not, whether it will be the army or a business course or some other technical training.

All the decisions that we have to make can be sorted out into two main groups. One kind calls for an answer to the questions: "What am I going to do?" and the other, "What different things could I do?" It's like searching for a path in a forest.

Answers to these and other questions should come from many sources. All of the facts and information available from parents, teachers, friends and one's own logic and reasoning should be carefully weighed. Even though the outcome may not be as planned, the freshman should give as much thought to decisions as the older student because maturity is achieved by profiting from past mistakes as well as accomplishments.

Some decisions can be answered with a simple "yes" or "no", and others may call for sacrifices now that will bring rewards and self-satisfaction later. For instance, a student who is not able to "do it all" might give up some sport in order to make better grades, or let grades drop a few points to take up sports or other activities.

The most important point to remember is that after all things have been carefully considered and the decision has been reached, an attitude of "no return" should be applied. In other words, don't waste time worrying if it's right or wrong, but put all energies into making it succeed. If it doesn't, then there will be another chance another time.

GOSSIP

By Debbie Moore

Marsha and Chris, are you all sore from riding horses? Are all the Seniors going to have a blast at all their parties?

Did some girls get scared while they were skinny dipping?

Danny, do you always get mad when girls lose you? Was everyone blessed with Sr. songs Saturday night?

Debra, how did you hit your head on the door knob? Did Debra, Sharon and Lou get a surprise Friday night?

Everyone get a date to the Western Dance Saturday night at the arena!

Good luck to all the Cheerleaders going out Wed. The twirlers wish all girls going out for twirler and drum major Good Luck!

Rodney, did the horse get away from you, or do you always ride with your feet around its neck?

Only 5 more school days to go: Srs!

Is Henderson's the latest recreational park? Is it true the Jrs. are so jealous of all the Sr. parties that they are giving themselves one Friday when the Srs are gone?

We didn't realize you felt so left out!

Johnny can't you take a hint?

Sadie, why did you scream so loud Saturday night?

What do Chris and Nannette have planned for Friday?

CLASS MEETINGS

By Doug Blanton

Last Wednesday class meetings were held. All four classes had much business to discuss during the 30 minute meetings.

The Seniors had the most business. The class chose ushers for the graduation exercises. Selected to help in the Baccalaureate and Commencement Exercises were: Diana Deaton, Elizabeth Jones, Sooner Williams and Moose Coates. Kathy Lynn Russell was chosen to play the piano for the exercises. The class colors picked were purple and gold, and the class flower will either be carnations or roses.

The Junior class met and organized several projects to help make money. In the near future, the class will have a rummage sale and a bake sale. The Juniors decided to contribute $50 to the memorial for Mr. Pelto. The Sophomores decided to contribute for the J. A. Pelto memorial fund, and after this was completed, the remainder of the time was used for a study hall. The students also received Cancer Society envelopes, as did the other students.

Also deciding to contribute $50 toward the memorial, the Freshmen finished their business matters after deciding the amount.

THERE'S NO DISGRACE IN DATING YOUNGER BOYS

By Deena Vargas

It's hard to understand why so many girls attach more importance to a boy's age than to his other qualities. If he's fun to be with, what difference does his age make? Most girls are afraid to be seen even talking to a younger boy. She will even turn down a date if she knows he is younger, for fear that her friends will talk behind her back. This means she may miss out on a lot of fun for no reason at all.

It's no disgrace to be seen with a boy younger than yourself. Teenagers should feel free to go out with anyone they choose, younger or older, without the criticism of their friends or parents. Wouldn't it be nice to have someone trying to please you once in a while? There's no one better at it than a boy who's just a little bit younger. Not one that babies you, or does things all the time, but doesn't take to maturity and who know he can't.

Although there are younger boys who are and immature, aren't twenty-one-year-olds act the same? Judge either group must admit that some younger boys are very mature and come the best company.

This doesn't mean girls should date boys, but if you should be given a chance to show your true qualities, before you up your mind.

Another Postal Rate Hike Looms

An "inherited" postal deficit of $1.2 billion is responsible for proposals to raise the postage bill for residents of Ozona Postmaster Floyd Hokit said today.

Postmaster General Winston M. Blount advised that the deficit compelled President Nixon to seek postage rate increases.

In addition to increasing letter mail from 6 to 7 cents, as proposed by the Johnson administration, President Nixon also asked that second and third-class mailers help reduce the large postal deficit.

For bulk third-class mail and most magazines and newspapers, the rates would be increased 16 to 20 percent above today's levels. These percentages include rate hikes already scheduled by previous action of Congress.

The recommended increases will reduce the 1970 postal deficit by more than 600 million dollars.

Other proposed increases include: First Class Mail: Letters and post cards would be increased one cent to 7c an ounce and 6c each, respectively, July 1, 1969. Airmail postage would remain 10c. This proposal will yield 557.2 million dollars in new revenue.

Second Class Mail: A handling charge of three-tenths of a cent per piece for circulation outside home counties would become effective July 1, 1969. This proposal would yield 15.3 million dollars annually and would represent a 12 percent increase in addition to the 8 percent increase scheduled to take effect Jan. 1, 1970.

Third Class Mail: Rates would be increased one cent per piece, yielding 12.4 million dollars. For regular bulk third-class, the minimum would be increased to a uniform rate of 4.2 cents Jan. 1, 1970, as contrasted with the present rate of 3.6 cents.

Who doesn't like to be remembered? It's natural to feel a certain glow when you receive a greeting card. It means that someone has thought of you, that someone cares. Yet how foolish it would be for any of us to ever believe that we are alone or friendless. There is always Someone who cares, who cares very deeply... who cared enough to sacrifice His only Son for us. At times we are all lonesome. Yet we are never really alone. There are few places in the world where we cannot, if we but look, find a church that will welcome us wholeheartedly. God's house is not like other houses. There is always room in it for one more. And when that one more has entered, there is room for yet another. Start taking part in the life of the Church today!

Wise and Otherwise

Reflections

been an adult delinquent for many weeks in Ozona. And come to it in reality there are delinquents except All juvenile delinquents of whom we have to be more than our fair share of adult delinquency.

sure so be in Stockman's has been the lack of hospital care both Mr. Waite and I have nudged me more than one occasion. I came back this week to reminisce a bit. Yes, was the fifty-third anniversary of my first attempt to preach a sermon. I still not a High school graduate.

father died when I was ten years of age leaving a family, of which I was the oldest boy at home. I had about $400 or $500. This was a lot of money. So my brother and I went with my Uncle to the water-well machine which my father left as his only legacy to my family until we were able to pay off this indebtedness.

done, we rented a farm and moved from a small village into the city to try our hand at farming. I had never put the plow on a mule or horse. I had ploughed a furrow somehow we managed to live for three crop years as poor white tenants.

ing that time I was becoming increasingly a permanent fixture in the community. I had had nine years in school. I studied hard and passed an examination for both a third grade and a second grade teacher's certificate. I became a primary teacher in our two-room school and enjoyed the task of teaching 120 children in grades 1 through 3.

me assure you that the state of Alabama committed a crime against those children and that whatever they learned was by their own native intelligence and the grace of God. We got through somehow and some of those children made fine and useful citizens.

le I was still seven years of age the pastor asked me to take over Sunday School supervision. For such a task I had no better qualifications than I did as a primary school teacher.

the good Lord was with me and by His help and the wonderful co-operation of the fine folks who cultivated the small farms in our community, we had a Sunday School even during an "evergreen" year. (An evergreen Sunday School was in those days a dry, rutted road and a pop-belled stove, one had to keep open the five bad winter months we could expect in climate.)

der the influence of a wonderful young circuit-riding preacher who became our pastor, I felt a call to preach. I felt that I had no ambition except to be a mathematician in a college or a politician who could be so skillful a politician as to be elected President of the United States and I had believed that before the age I am now I would have had two very successful terms in that office and be a former President as much admired and beloved as was the late "Ike" Eisenhower.

But I have never regretted I did not launch upon that assured career of success. I am quite happy to be a plain Methodist preacher and pastor at Ozona.

At any rate on that first Sunday in May, 1916, I tried my hand (Should it be tongue?) at preaching. As I remember it in the golden glow of many years it was a very successful day.

The little box Church at Fairview, Glenn Allen Circuit, Jasper District, North Alabama Conference, was full to overflowing with every open window holding a couple of people and the steps about the door crowded. The only thing that marred the day for me was the fact that my mother could not be present because she was at the home of our adjacent farm neighbor helping the doctor deliver the sixth child in the family.

Last Sunday here in Ozona I used the same text—although, of course, not at all the same sermon and the good Methodists listened with kindness and attention. I still firmly believe, although the world is totally changed, that the blessed Apostle Peter spoke nothing less than absolute truth for his day and ours as he said: "There is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved."

I know it was true 1900 years ago when Peter spoke it; I know it was true fifty-three years ago when I, as a boy, had faith to believe and proclaim it; I know it is true in the troubled world today. Yes: The world needs Christ.

My neighbors were a lot of people. The only thing that marred the day for me was the fact that my mother could not be present because she was at the home of our adjacent farm neighbor helping the doctor deliver the sixth child in the family.
