Archaeologists Complete First Phase Ft. Lancaster Excavations

An archaeological team from the University of Texas at Austin, headed up by Mrs. Desimae Lorraine, finished a month's work on the ruins at Fort Lancaster last weekend. They were honored at a dinner Thursday evening at the Fort by members of the Crockett County Historical Survey Committee.

Following a downpour of rain, the committee was given a tour of the grounds.

Larry Albers Named To VFW District Office

Larry Albers, Post Commander of the Ozona V.F.W., was elected Junior Vice Commander, District 22, San Angelo in a District meeting there Saturday.

Albers expressed his appreciation to Ozonans for making the poppy drive a success in the city and announced that the local post will donate their part of the proceeds of the sale to the Boy Scouts of Crockett County.

Coming events at the V.F.W. Hall include a barbecue dinner and bingo party. The club invites all members of the American Legion, their wives and guests to attend this event Saturday, June 12, at the V.F.W. hall.

Officers for the coming year were elected Saturday night at a regular meeting. Albers was re-elected to the office of post commander; Charlie Applewhite was elected senior vice-commander; Martin Harvick, junior vice commander; John W. (Bull) Walker, judge advocate; Perry Hubbard, chaplain, and Al Fields was re-elected to the post of quartermaster by a unanimous vote, with Ray Boyd as adjutant.

Named as three-year trustees were Janes O'Haire, Jack Williams and Gene Williams. Elected as guard or officer-of-the-day was Pete Pridmore.

During the past month the team of archaeologists has unearthed the foundations of three buildings, the officers' quarters, the hospital building and kitchen and the commissary. The group apparently unearthed the original flag-pole hole and base.

The entire area of the fort is very much the same as when it was occupied from August 21, 1855 until the 1880's, when it was finally abandoned.

The recent excavation determined that the buildings burned, rather than fell into decay. Artifacts from the three recently excavated buildings will be processed in the University of Texas Archaeological Laboratory and the local committee will receive a report on them in the next three to six months.

The excavations have been covered and the foundations secured with plastic sheeting. The next step will be stabilizing the ruins and preserving them by various methods.

Long range plans include completely restoring at least one building.

Much work has already been done on the old fort and over 1,000 persons have visited the visitor's center and fort site since January of this year.

The spacious center contains some sketches and charcoal of the original buildings and various artifacts cataloged and displayed. However, glass display cases are on the way and many artifacts from an earlier excavation will be on display soon. Artifacts to be displayed include various brass army insignia, buttons, bottles, cooking utensils, pottery, etc.

An archaeological team from Southern Methodist University undertook the initial investigation in June of 1966. They established that the fort was a rectangular cluster of 29 buildings grouped around a parade ground.

The Meadows family donated the fort site to the Firm Bookings Policy Adopted For Civic Center

At a recent meeting of the civic center board, it was brought to the attention of the directors that on occasion an individual or an organization would book a room in advance and then fail to use it.

It was decided that in the future those failing to cancel reservations will be charged the same as if they had used the room booked.

The board directed Richard Armistead, youth director, to meet with the Youth Council and set up a dance for July to include junior high and high school members. If the council can come up with a fund raising project, funds will be matched by the board to engage a name band for the event.

Armistead reported that 1,246 youngsters used the youth center last month. This is a daily count of the youths using the center.

Armistead reported that the pool tables had been recovered and the remainder of the furniture for the youth room had arrived. Also, a stereo tape set has been purchased for the youth center by the Ozona Women's League.

Presently the center is in the middle of a pool tournament for members. The winner will be presented with a trophy. The summer schedule will be announced soon.

EDUCATION HAS FALLEN DOWN

James Michener, in his recent book Kent State, believes that nothing angered the National Guard more than the vocabulary of many girl students. Their language was cruder than any the troops had heard from the Army or even the roughest street people. They made obscene insults about the wives of the National Guard and conjectured how they might be spending their time, according to various accounts by men in the Guard.

The simplicity of these students boggles the imagination. It also calls into question the quality of their education. Their simplicity lies in their believing that they can shout obscenities at men and simultaneously enjoy physical immunity. The quality of their education is highly questionable for not having prepared them to expect the logical consequences of their offensive acts, and even more for not teaching them to behave like civilized women.

The studied use of obscenities in current films reflects the policy of the New Left to destroy the sensitivities inculcated by our traditional Judeo-Christian culture. These sensitivities correspond to basic values of Western civilization, which the New Left considers a corrupt, middle-class culture whose taboos must be shattered.

The particular value that comes under fire in the case is respect for the rights and dignity of the individual. For the New Left, individuals have no rights and merit no respect: only the Communist Party, the liberation movement, or some indefinite mass is supposed to have rights and merit respect.

The use of abusive language is intended as an important part of the psychological warfare against our country and our culture. We should counteract the warfare by passing local laws against insulting our police. Such insults should bring arrest.

END THE DOLLAR CRISIS

Many things can be said against the late Benito Mussolini, but he was more right than wrong when he called the great depression of 1929 "a vast bookkeeping error."

People were starving, and many more hungry amid plenty, or the possibility of producing plenty. At the same time, mules were balking at the unaccustomed task of plowing under every third row of cotton. Soon to come was the system of paying farmers not to produce food, which is still being done. The fields, the farmers, the factories, the workers, the managers, and the owners were all there, but something was wrong with the system.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt took the country off the gold standard, but dollars could still be exchanged for gold by foreign holders of our money. Gradually the United States regained a measure of prosperity. After World War II the United States was the richest and strongest nation in the world. The monetary and economic system could not have been all bad.

But affluent America overdid. We gave away $178 billion in Lend-Lease, aid, grants and gifts. The economy perked along and no one complained. But one of our World War II partners, the Soviet Union, proved to be an aggressor nation. So we had the Korean war and the Vietnam war, costly conflicts that started our balance of payments deficits in our foreign trade, 20 in the last 21 years.

Now there is a plethora of dollars in Europe. So let us do what has to be done to correct the situation, without hard feelings or name-calling among nations.

IS SENATOR MANSFIELD ISOLATIONIST?

Why does Senator Mike Mansfield act so isolationist? Why does he so often put himself in a losing position? He is a very skillful floor leader, capable of juggling difficult issues and even more difficult Senators.

Suddenly he raised the issue of withdrawing 250,000 American troops from Europe, only to be defeated largely by his fellow Democrats. Why? His leadership on the subject of the Vietnam war has repeatedly been rejected. Why does he now want America out of Europe as well as Asia? Does he really think the cold war is ended? As the Senate majority leader, he owes greater generalship to the people. They get little guidance from mere negativism. Too much withdrawal in a world overrun with aggression can lead to surrender.

Wool Promotion Referendum Set For June 7-18

A nationwide sheep producer referendum has been called for June 7-18 by U. S. Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin. The referendum, conducted by mail ballot, will decide whether or not the sheep industry wants to continue promotion of its products through the American Sheep Producers Council.

For approval, this promotion program for lamb and wool requires a "yes" vote by more than two-thirds of the sheep represented in the referendum by those voting.

All sheep producers and feeders are eligible to vote if they owned sheep or lambs, six months of age or older, for any one period of at least 30 days since January 1, 1971.

Sheepmen contribute to the promotion program through a deduction from their incentive payment on wool. The incentive payments amount to 1 1/2 cents for each pound of shorn wool and 7 1/2 cents for each 100 pounds of wool.

Last year, all John Benson saved was $54.32. This year, he joined the Payroll Savings Plan.

Poor John. Money just seemed to slip right through his fingers. Every time he planned to stash something away, there wasn't anything left.

Then John decided to join the Payroll Savings Plan where he works. Now, an amount he specifies is automatically set aside from his check before he gets it. And invested in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Because John has become such a systematic saver, he's almost forgotten about it. When he gets around to remembering, he's going to have quite a nest egg laid away.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5 1/2% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra 1/2%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

If you keep forgetting to save something out of your check, join the Payroll Savings Plan and let somebody else do the remembering for you.

Take stock in America. New Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

Cadillac for 1971. It could well be your best car buy, any way you look at it.
Styling. It's a carefully created combination of styling continuity and contemporary flair.
Comfort. A longer wheelbase and new suspension system mean an even smoother ride.
Performance. The proven 472-cubic-inch V-8 is amazingly responsive—on regular gasoline or no-lead and low-lead fuels.

Luxury. In the incredible quietness inside, in the beautiful standard appointments and in the many features you can order.
Choice. The first Cadillac luxury you enjoy. There are nine models from which to choose.
Value. A Cadillac traditionally returns a larger portion of original investment than any other car built in the land. Cadillac is the leader—any way you look at it. And now is the time to look at it—at your authorized Cadillac dealer's showroom.

Cadillac 1971

Cadillac is doing something about traffic safety, but some things only you can do. You might be surprised by the scope of our involvement in advancing the cause of safety.
Did you know, for instance, that Cadillac was the first to install safety glass in its cars? And introduced the triple braking system?
Today you can see evidence of the magnitude of our concern. The 1971 Cadillac incorporates a host of recent safety developments. Including an energy absorbing steering column. Padded instrument panel. Seat belts for all passenger positions. Side-Guard steel beams in the doors. And the work goes on. But all our efforts will not be enough, unless you do your share.

Here are five ways you can help. 1. Always use your seat and shoulder belts. 2. Make sure your car is in good running order. 3. Never drive when you're tired or under the influence of alcohol. 4. Support driver training and uniform traffic codes and enforcement. 5. Drive defensively. Please. We'll do our part!

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club By Mrs. Bailey Post

Summertime is here when June arrives, and brings a wide range of flowers. The roses, daylilies, and oleanders are dotting the gardens with colorful blossoms for their best show of the season.

June brings lengthened days and the time change extends the time for gardening activities. Early morning and late evening hours are the most pleasant to do mowing, edging weeding and tending flower beds. During these hours the wind is generally calm, so it's a good time to spray or dust for insects.

Zinnias are always a standby for the garden and as cut flowers. Massed in smart color choices and heights can be strikingly effective. They are easy to grow and few annuals rival them. Zinnias grow so fast in the summer heat you can sow seeds in early June and have blooms from about the middle of July to the end of August or later. Sow zinnia seed 1/2 inch deep in a well drained rich soil mixture in a place where they will get at least six hours of full sun. Give plenty of moisture until they are well established. When seedlings are three to five inches high, thin them to eight to twelve inches apart.

Another annual to plant this month or put out in small potted plants, is the marigold for use in masses in the flower beds, planters and borders. The more sun they have, the more sunshine the blossoms bring to the spot where they are planted.

There may be spots on your porch or patio where you would like to place attractive house plants for the summer. If sunny most of the day, check the soil in the pots daily for moisture. If you can plunge the pots up to their rims in soil near the edge of your patio, or in bare spots in your shrubbery bed, the pots will retain more moisture and the roots of plants will remain cooler.

Cut off or pull out bulb foliage as it dries up, but do not cut off iris leaves into fan shape unless you are setting out new plants or thinning old plants. In the fall when the leaves die, they can be removed. Through their leaves they feed for next year's bloom.

Continue to water azaleas and camellias during the summer months. Soak as frequently as needed. Keep in mind that when camellia buds drop during the winter, the cause may be blamed on lack of water through the summer months.

Also keep all evergreens well watered during the hot, dry days. --0--

NSING the NEWS

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

an business is under the attack succeeds, the system which has this country's prospective destroyed or impaired. Unfortunately, there is no sign of a major attack by free enterprise.

business climate is rapidly changing. Ralph Nader's campaign against this climate, in his pocketbook form, has been reported in the country. Mr. Nader's lectures are frequently on TV, and complaints go unanswered. Business groups organize truth squads to get the "low profile" and "low key" message. This is very important for business has been presented as forcefully as possible.

The public, for example, hears a great deal about industrial pollution but almost nothing about the millions of dollars industry is spending for pollution abatement. There are endless stories about alleged technological failures -- inadequate or costly auto bumpers, for instance. But few stories point out the great successes of American technology. Almost every airline in the world uses American aircraft. Why? Because they are safe, dependable and excellent overall. Highly political church groups want General Motors, Gulf and other U. S. corporations to wind up their operations in countries that these groups don't like. Little, if anything, is said about the constructive role of American corporations in creating jobs and introducing industrial know-how in lands that need opportunities and technical information.

In short, American business is having a rough time with its public relations. Moreover, the critics of business don't seem greatly interested in specific improvements of a product or service. They seem much more interested in running down business in general.

In mid-May there was a conference in Washington, D. C., on "corporate responsibility" that was indicative of the current climate of opinion. One part of the conference was entitled "Launching A Full-Scale Attack On A Corporation." It described strategies to be used in curbing corporate actions. A brochure used to advertise the conference referred to the "socially destructive acts of corporations."

The corporation also is under attack on the campus. For example, this year the John Fitzgerald Kennedy School of Government at Harvard organized a study group on "Corporate Power in a Liberal Democracy." The school's announcement said that "Corporate power is a major public issue once again after two decades of complacent assurance that the reforms of the Progressive and New Deal periods had subjected American industry to effective public control."

That's the way it goes these days. And, of course, corporations are under even more direct attack. In California, branches of the Bank of America have been burned to the

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

A super welfare measure has been reported to the House and is due to be debated within the next few weeks. Similar to the one approved in the House last year, the new version does increase the guaranteed annual income to $2,400 a year instead of the $1,600.

By liberalizing eligibility for boarding the welfare train, it is now estimated that, as reported by the committee, the total recipients will be about 26-million. The cost tag will be more than $5-billion a year more than welfare is now costing, with a strong likelihood this amount will soon double.

While work incentives may conceivably cause some recipients to leave welfare, it is equally certain that the attractiveness of the liberal payments will cause many to seek and retain the welfare status.

Already the radical Welfare Rights Organization, the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the congressional Black Caucus, and several other militant outfits, are demanding that the $2,400 per year for each family of four be raised to $6,500.

Once the concept of an annual guaranteed income is enacted into law, we can expect a constant battle to increase the handout.

The recent "help Hanoi" demonstrations in Washington cost taxpayers $5.5 million, according to findings of a congressional committee. This included all extra costs for police and military, and does not include damage to private property and loss of business caused by visitors being scared away from Washington while the protests were going on.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Postman vs. Home Owner

More often than not, the relationship between postman and home owner is a warm and friendly one. But even into this sunny climate a little rain must fall. Such as, when the postman gets hurt and sues the home owner for damages.

As a general rule, the home owner is not liable if he is not guilty of any negligence. For example:

A home owner was sued by a postman who suffered a bad fall when a rotting porch step suddenly caved in. But a court found no liability. The judge pointed out that since the rot was visible only

In terms of sheer frequency, the Number One hazard that the postman faces is a bite by the home owner's dog. Many thousands of on-the-job bites are suffered each year by mail carriers.

In such circumstances, the home owner is usually liable if the state has a "dog bite law." Under this law, a dog's master may be held responsible for a bite not only when he was negligent but even when he was not negligent in any way.

If the state has no dog bite law, the home owner might still be liable—but only if he was somehow to blame for the bite.

In one case, the owner of a vicious dog did take the trouble to post a "BEWARE OF DOG" sign on his front door. However, when a postman rang the bell to deliver a package, the man opened the door and permitted the dog to dash outside and bite the postman in the leg.

A court duly imposed legal liability on the householder. The judge said posting the warning sign did not end his responsibility toward those visitors who, like the postman, had a perfect right to come onto the premises.

from underneath, there was no reasonable way for the home owner to have discovered the danger.

By contrast, take the following case:

A postman slipped and fell in the outer hallway of a home, because an excessive amount of wax had been applied to the floor. This time, there being negligence on the part of the home owner, the court ordered him to pay the postman's claim.

How a minus on your paycheck can be a plus in your future.

Sound confusing? It isn't, really. When you join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, an amount you designate will be set aside automatically from each paycheck. That's the "minus."

That amount will then be invested in U.S. Savings Bonds. That's where the "plus" comes in. Because you're automatically saving for your future, with one of the safest investments there are: U.S. Savings Bonds.

And, by deducting a little at a time from each paycheck, you don't feel the pinch financially. Before you know it, you'll have quite a tidy sum tucked away.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Put a little "plus" in your future. Join the Payroll Savings Plan.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a good way to save.

Take stock in America.
Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.
