Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

Tuesday's ice storm brought things to a screeching halt in Ozona. Only those who were forced to do so left their warm homes for the cold icy outside. Being one of those who had to, I was a nervous wreck before the day was over. I live approximately seven blocks from town and it took me just under thirty minutes to get to the office.

I had no more than left the safety of my car port when I knew I was in trouble. I slid around the corner onto the highway without coming to any sort of stop. From the time I touched the brake until the time I found myself headed toward town I had absolutely no control. I was surprised to find myself creeping toward town without a scrape. There was no turning back on that sea of ice, so I let the automatic choke take over and pointed the nose toward the office.

Deciding it was much too dangerous to come on down to the intersection (which incidentally was well sandbed by then) I turned by the park, went up the hill and back in front of the courthouse. There were two abandoned cars at the next corner, nose to nose and sideways in the street. I came to a stop somehow to figure a way around, and that's when I made my second mistake (my first was getting out of bed). After I mapped a way around the cars, I gave it a little gas and instead of inching forward, it just began slipping sideways toward a big truck that just happened to be parked and minding its own business.

I sat there for a full twenty minutes trying to decide whether to abandon ship and make my way to the office afoot or keep trying to make my car go forward, the way it was meant to. I tried driving several more times, getting closer to the truck each time. Just as I gave up, the car surged forward and I was on my way again.

Now my problem was to stop when I reached Hwy. 290. Lucky for my there were no trucks or other vehicles headed west, so I slid around the corner in comparative safety. After navigating the icy highway on foot (which was no small accomplishment) I wound up at my desk completely undone.

I recovered enough to get out for lunch and wished I had not many times before I got home. My automatic choke got stuck again just before I got to the school house, and believe me, I was in trouble.

It's bad enough going by the high school during the noon hour on a dry sunny day. You would think they would be to old for it, but they play a game to try to see which one can get the closest to a car moving down the highway without getting hit. Occasionally one will jump out in front of your car and then back as soon as he sees a horrified look on your face. This is a very funny game. The reason I know it's funny, I have had occasion to glance in my rear view mirror after the shock has worn off, and they are convulsed with laughter.

However, I took this into account and left the office a little early Tuesday. I might possibly have made it without a nervous rigor if the darned choke hadn't acted up, but it did and there I was. To touch the brake would have been a disaster and I was too busy dodging parents who came to pick up their children to think of trying anything else. To my horror I saw that a bunch of little boys from the elementary school had left the high school cafeteria and were ice skating in the middle of the highway. I bore down on my horn with my driving hand and waved them aside with my other hand and they immediately scrambled for the safety of the sidewalk. I was somewhat surprised, but guess they aren't old enough to know about "the ROARING FLAMES LIT THE SKY to the south of Ozona one night this week when an oil pit at the Ozona Gas Processing Plant just south of the city was being burned off. Many Ozonans, seeing the huge fire, rushed to the area to find out what was happening.

Senator Tower Stops Over On Tour of Area

At press time Tuesday U.S. Senator John Tower's scheduled visit to Ozona on Wednesday had not been cancelled, despite inclement weather.

Senator Tower was to arrive by plane at the local airport at 10:30 where local county officials and Citizens for Tower chairman Joe Couch were to greet him.

The schedule called for a fifteen minute visit at the airport before departing for the Shell Gas Processing Plant north of town where Senator Tower was to inspect the facility. From there the entourage was to go to the Couch ranch for a brief inspection of livestock and then to the Civic Center by 11:50 for a luncheon, sponsored by the combined civic clubs and women's clubs in Ozona.

Senator Tower was scheduled to speak at the luncheon where the public was invited and after a brief visit depart at 1:10 p. m. for the airport.

The text of the Senator's speech was not made available beforehand. A full report will be made next week.

Second Producer For S. Crockett Gas Field

Second producer and a 5/8 mile southeast extension to the Miller (Ellenburger gas) field of Crockett County was assured with the flowing of gas for 15 hours at the rate of 12.4 million cubic feet daily, along with 30 barrels of water, no distillate, at Amoco Production Co., Odessa, No. 1 Chandler-Williams Gas Unit, in 6-0-W. E. Jones, 25 miles south of Ozona.

Flow was natural through a 40-64-inch choke and from open hole at 11,331-642 feet. Operator was preparing to take potential.

A later test of the well registered a calculated, absolute open flow of 16,656 million cubic feet of gas daily. The discovery, the firm's No. 1 Miller Ranch Gas Unit, was finalized March 20, 1964 by Pan American Petroleum Corp. (now Amoco) and Highland Oil Co. for a calculated, absolute open flow of 10.9 million cubic feet of gas daily.

Houseguests in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Littleton and Mr. and Mrs. Pleas Childress over the holidays were Miss Jan West of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Berry and children, Cynthia and Catherine, of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hardberger of San Antonio and Mrs. Homer Hardberger of O'Donnell.

FLIGHT OF THE BUTTERFLY was the theme of the two-day school of instruction and fraternal visit for members of the Eastern Star here Monday and Tuesday at the Civic Center. The auditorium was beautifully decorated by Eastern Star members. Above Mrs. Kaleta Shepperson assists an out-of-town instructor during a decorating session early Monday. The event was counted a success in spite of the bad weather.

This time exposure by David Wallace shows how the big fire, to the left of the picture, lighted up the structures and tanks at the gas processing plant. The scene made a beautiful night-time picture.

BEVERLY JO LOUDAMY

Beverly Jo Loudamy, daughter of Mrs. Letha Loudamy, was one of the 313 students completing requirements for graduation at Baylor University for the fall semester.

Miss Loudamy received her BA degree in elementary education. No public graduation exercises were held. The university's next official commencement exercises will come at the end of the spring semester. The December graduates are eligible to take part in those exercises.

Rash Of Accidents Over Holiday Period

A rash of accidents occurred in the county during the New Year's holiday period, but personal injury was negligible. Surprisingly, only minor fender-benders had been reported up to noon Tuesday from the cover of ice which blanketed the area Monday night. The most serious of these occurred on Highway 163 when a transport truck braked and fishtailed on the ice, hitting a late model Buick parked in front of Baker Jewelers and belonging to Mrs. Mildred Goodson. The trunk and left rear fender of the car was heavily damaged.

Two accidents occurred in the early morning hours last Thursday, both caused by sleepy drivers, and both on Highway 290 west of Ozona.

At 3:30 a. m. Paul Boubibi of Houston went to sleep at the wheel of his new Ford Pinto and went off the road, hitting a bridge abutment and blowing out two tires. He was not injured and slept in the wrecked auto until daylight and help arrived. Almost an hour later and ten miles nearer Ozona, Jose Garcia of Weslaco dozed at the wheel of his Ford Mustang and ran off the road, overturning in a pasture. He and a passenger were treated for minor injuries at Crockett County Hospital.

Around 6 o'clock Friday 15 miles southwest of Big Lake on a Crockett County road Thomas Bowen of Big Lake wrecked his car when he lost control, veered across the road, slid back across and overturned. Bowen was charged with D. W. I. and excessive speed.

Friday afternoon at the intersection of Third Street and Ave. G a 1965 Mercury driven by Carl Welch turned off Ave. G and struck a parked 1969 Chevrolet owned by Carl Conklin of Houston. The accident occurred at mid-afternoon. Both cars were damaged heavily, but there were no injuries.

Monday night another accident occurred at the intersection of Hwys 290 and 163 in downtown Ozona. A '71 Triumph driven by Bill Conway of Seattle was stopped at the signal light when a '64 Chrysler driven by Warner McCall of Universal City, Tex. hit it in the rear. Both cars were headed west. Damage was minor.

Investigating officers were Highway Patrolmen Gary Hill and John Harris, DPS.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Clayton and Mrs. B. W. Stuart were in Dallas last weekend for the Cotton Bowl game and the Cowboy-Forty-Niner play-off.

First Real Winter Weather Grips Area

Ozonans awoke Tuesday morning to find the city covered in a sheet of solid ice, and the spring-like temperatures which had prevailed through the holiday period had dipped to sub-freezing.

A blast of winter air from a fast-moving cold front moved into the area late Monday night, bringing with it freezing drizzle, sleet and snow flurries. The low temperature for Tuesday was 18 degrees above zero in town while 14 degrees was recorded on the east hill.

Motorists found it slow going and abandoned cars were a common sight on the hill-sides early Tuesday. Employees of the Highway Department were busy spreading sand on the ice-covered streets, and sidewalks in front of business houses were liberally sprinkled with salt for the most part. However, in spite of the precautions there were several mishaps.

A strong north wind prevailed throughout Tuesday and any warming trend was hardly noticeable.

The weather forecast called for warmer weather Wednesday.

Ricky Crawford Named To All-WT Class AA Team

Ozona's Ricky Crawford, 160-pound Lion center, gained a spot on the Class AA All West Texas team. Crawford was named first team center on offense.

Class 5-AA champions Coahoma dominated the team, placing five men on the first team and two on the second.

Other players in Class 5-AA named to the first team were Tommy Washington and Ronnie Holland of Crane, Mark Kohutek and David Hickman of Reagan County, and Robert Tabb of McCamey.

McVean and Barlow will begin construction twenty miles west of Crockett County. The company's crew will be based in Ozona during the time of construction which is expected to take several months to complete.

THIS LONG-HAIR AGE brings leisure in the barber shop. Shop owner Garland Young finds his own barber chair a fine place to relax and read the newspapers. With his feet well rested, the barber's thoughts must surely stray back to the good old days of crew cuts, flat tops and burr cuts for the boys and young men and the neat trims for the mature men. #### THE GREATEST CRIME OF THE 20TH CENTURY

The twentieth century has been characterized by more great wars, more terrible revolutions, and more senseless killing than any other century in recorded history, and it still has 28 years to go. The awful highlights are World War I, the Russian Bolshevik Revolution, World War II and the massacre of Jews and anti-Nazis of various kinds, the Chinese Communist Revolution with its consequent killings to outdo those of the Russians, the Korean War and the Vietnam War.

Yet the deeper we go into the twentieth century the more evident it becomes that one of the greatest crimes of all must be laid to us, the Americans, for failing to take advantage of the God-given strength we had in 1945. Then we might have imposed a Pax Americana, an American Peace, upon the world, obviating the vast cruelties of the Soviet, Chinese and other Communists; and unifying the world once and for all in freedom.

But we did not do that. Instead, we deliberately built up the Soviet Government and nation to impose a balance against ourselves, thereby giving the Russians the license to expand and make war without fear that the Americans would ever try to win. That was the greatest crime of the twentieth century, for it presented to the Americans more than 100,000 dead in two wars and nearly half a million casualties, in addition to the much greater losses suffered by Koreans, Chinese, and Vietnamese, North and South.

When will the American people wake up and call a halt forever to this kind of aimless sacrifice? When will we learn that appeasement is the road to war and defeat? When, indeed, will the American people learn what has been done to them by their leaders since the end of World War II? Let us resolve now to fight no more no-victory wars, and never to leave South Vietnam except in full control of its territory and able to defend it against aggressors.

WHO KILLED THE MONROE DOCTRINE?

Putting Castro in power firmly established the military presence of the Soviet Government in this hemisphere. It effectively ended the Monroe Doctrine barring further penetration of the American hemisphere by foreign powers. Krushchev ridiculed the Monroe Doctrine as dead. He killed it. The magnitude and enormity of Castro's Communist dictatorship are attested by the following facts:

About one-tenth of the people of Cuba, more than 760,000, have been forced into exile, chiefly in the United States. A foreign diplomat in Cuba has put the number of Communist executions by firing squads up to April of 1969 at 20,161. About 2,320 had by then died of torture.

This bears comparison with the French Revolution. The difference is that the French Revolution has had tremendous press coverage. In regard to Cuba, The New York Times sent a young woman reporter there a couple of years ago, and she wrote about the cultural gains made under Castro. A more cynical attitude toward the destruction of a nation has never been taken by the press.

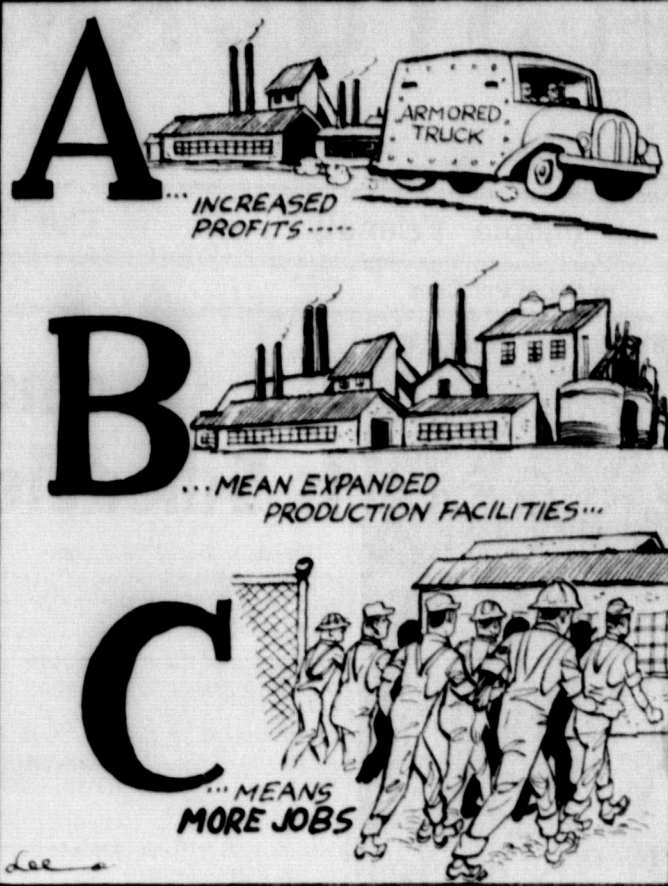

The Russians are in control of Cuba, but you would never know it from reading most of the newspapers. The Bay of Pigs disaster came in 1961. The nation that led the invasion of Europe across the English Channel in 1944 could not even bring off a successful landing in Cuba.

About $3 billion worth of American property in Cuba is gone. Cuba now is the seat of training for such sophisticated guerrilla activities as blowing up American oil refineries, stimulating prison riots by various advanced methods and other activities requiring special skills. Chinese Communists sit side by side with Russian Communists in Havana. There, too, sit American Communists.

The New York Times deliberately misled the American people on Castro. Even if we assumed that The Times merely erred at first, it has had more than 12 years in which to correct its mistake but it has never done so. The Times wants the United States to establish relations with Cuba. It is trying to arrange this now through the back door of the Organization of American States.

The Times has opposed every effort on the part of Cubans in exile to train themselves in order to reclaim their homeland for freedom. A fraud has been committed upon the people, and first of all the people of Cuba. Our national guilt for that is clear. The establishment of this bloodthirsty government just off the shores of the United States is the most incontestable example of how dishonest, untruthful, fabricated news causes the loss of lives needlessly, in this case Cuban lives.

AS SIMPLE AS THAT!

PROFITS MEAN JOBS

"Putting it quite bluntly, let me say I am for profits because I believe that more profits means more jobs. And at this particular time we need more jobs."

These words of President Nixon at the Economic Club of Detroit make clear the wisdom of not imposing bureaucratic controls on profits.

He pointed out that price control in a very real sense is a form of profit control once removed. "When there is control of prices and costs," he said, "the only way that there can be more profits is for the industry involved to expand and that means more jobs and we think that is good."

Also, he reminded us that government is a major beneficiary of high profits because of the 50 per cent corporate income tax, and that "there are 100 million Americans who share in profits, either as stockholders, as members of mutual funds or who are beneficiaries of profits in one way or another."

American workers receive the highest wages in the world, approximately twice as much as the nearest competitors, according to the President. He said it will be possible for these workers to continue to compete, "only if they have the equipment and the machinery, and the organization that gives them a competitive advantage over those from abroad."

"When you really look at what makes this economy work, when you really look at what produces jobs, it comes from profits being plowed back into industry and making American workers thereby more competitive, and thereby producing more jobs," the President said.

He said he thought every American would be for this, if they understood.

'72 Registration Forms Mailed To State Car Owners

Austin -- If you own one or more of the more than seven-and-a-half million motor vehicles in Texas, some important mail is coming your way.

The first of 7.5 million renewal applications from the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department were dispatched from the Post Office's facilities in Dallas Friday, Dec. 31.

Owners of motor vehicles should be receiving the renewal applications -- for obtaining 1972 Texas license plates -- early in January.

The actual motor vehicle registration "season" at county tax offices does not begin until February 1.

However, vehicle owners may go ahead and order their license plates by mail immediately.

All that is required is to send the entire renewal application, the registration fee and $1 for each vehicle to be registered to the local county tax office. License plates will be returned by mail after registration begins formally on February 1.

Vehicle owners should allow at least 30 days for processing and delivery. The application should be sent to the local county tax office -- not to the Texas Highway Department.

License plates can be obtained in person at county tax offices and designated sub-stations beginning on February 1.

In any case, registration will go faster if the owner leaves the three-part form intact and does not separate any of the three parts.

Complete, easy-to-follow instructions are contained on the form and on the envelope. Deadline for displaying 1972 license plates is midnight, April 1.

J. P. Pogue and Mrs. Maggie Crawford attended funeral services Monday in Welch for Alvin Scheel, former Ozonan who died Sunday after an illness.

A VISIT WITH JEFFERSON DAVIS

JOHN J. SYNON

MONTGOMERY -- A person doesn't go around expecting to run into Jefferson Davis, you know, so when I saw him sitting alone under that magnolia near the south entrance to the capitol, I was nonplussed.

"Hello, John," he replied, casually enough. "Sit down." I hesitated a moment, then did as I was told.

"Mr. President, I thought you were in Richmond."

"Well, I am, most of the time, with my family. But I enjoy coming back to Montgomery, every now and then."

"You certainly are looking well."

"Well, I've had some rest," he smiled. "For a while we went on like that, making small talk. Finally, I said:

"Mr. President."

"Why do you suppose they never took you to court? They had you indicted for treason; why didn't they go through with it?"

"I don't know, really. Perhaps if you'd ask Sumner or Butler or Thad Stevens, they could tell you. But I do have a theory."

"Well, you kept asking them to get on with the case, didn't you?"

"Indeed so. As I remember, I demanded trial six or seven times. I kept going back to the Federal building there in Richmond, my lawyer or me, one of us, but they just never would proceed. Finally, they dismissed me, untried, and, I may add, unhung."

"Yes, sir, I know. But why? They sure had the goods on you if they ever had it on anybody."

"That's exactly right, John, they didn't have any treasonous goods on anybody. They didn't try me and therefore convict me because what I did -- what all of us Southern people did -- was not treason at all. We had a perfect right to pull out of the Union. In a court of law, they knew I could prove that."

"But if you could have proved your innocence in court, how could they have convicted you?"

"My dear man, they could have and, no doubt, would have convicted me -- they had the power -- had they proceeded."

"That wasn't what they were concerned about, convicting me. They were concerned about ledger sheets, bookkeeping supplies and assorted office materials at the Ozona Stockman office."

"I thought that over for a while, then started again."

"Mr. President, what do you see for us in the future, I mean, the South?"

He smiled. "What did the witch say: 'Trouble, trouble, toil and trouble'."

"Yes, trouble. And there is another saying you will remember: 'Truth, pressed to earth shall rise again.' And I might add to that: But not without toil and trouble."

"But, sir, there doesn't seem to be much leadership. There is George Wallace but..."

"There will be. There will be," he interrupted, with what I thought to be a bit of flint in his voice.

And that seemed to close the conversation. For a while we just sat.

"Well, John," he finally said, "it's been nice visiting with you but it is tea time and a person tries not to keep Miss Varina waiting."

We both rose and the former President of the Confederacy extended his hand. "There will be leadership," he said, "there will be."

And with that he left me. And I watched his long form go down the slope and beyond.

SENSING the NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

NADER'S CAMPUS OUTLETS

For many thoughtful citizens who have examined the operations of self-proclaimed consumer advocate Ralph Nader, Naderism is the McCarthyism of the 1970's. Mr. Nader's various organizations maintain a continuing barrage of fire against business. But the attacks rely on scare tactics, half-truths and emotionalism.

Now the Nader conglomerate is trying to move onto the campuses, using student fees as a means of financing the scare operations. The objective of the Nader organizers is to establish so-called public interest research groups. These PIRG groups, as they are known, have been set up in Oregon, Minnesota, Connecticut and elsewhere. South Carolina is among the current target states.

The shrewd plan devised by the Nader organizers is to harness student activity fees at colleges and universities. Student fees are raised $1 to provide operating funds for the PIRG. The Nader people say that those students who object can get their $1 back, but the Naderites know that few students will go through the red tape involved. Therefore, access to student activities fees means a captive group of supporters for the PIRG organizations. A PIRG uses student activity fees for controversial purposes, precisely as labor unions use the dues of members (who are forced to join) for political purposes. Donald Ross, a 28-year-old lawyer who is in charge of the PIRG program,

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

When the Senate recently voted, by a narrow margin, to allow each major political party to have Presidential campaigns financed by tax money -- totaling about $20-million for each party, and a measly $6-million for George Wallace's third party -- attention was called to the fact that for the first time in ages all Senate Presidential hopefuls were on hand to vote for the innovation.

The House bucked, and there'll be no such tax check-off before 1976 -- and not then unless the Congress acts on it in the meantime.

I'm opposed to it. Since tax funds would be given to all political parties which get a certain percentage of the total vote cast at the preceding Presidential election, this new financing scheme would spawn splinter parties galore -- each hoping to pick up enough bloc votes to place them aboard the gravy train at the next election. Besides, tax money shouldn't be raised for political uses.

With an array of Presidential-minded Senators either running or waiting for the nod, complaint has been heard recently that the hopefuls have missed too many roll calls, being preoccupied too much with campaign speechmaking while neglecting the nation's business. Most of them have missed about half of the recorded votes this year -- some more.

This prompted Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine to suggest a constitutional amendment which would automatically expel any Senator who during a session misses as much as 60% of the roll calls. The lady is too generous. It should be much lower than that -- and it should apply to House members as well.

MEN NEEDED in this area to train as LIVESTOCK BUYERS

LEARN TO BUY CATTLE, HOGS AND SHEEP

at sale barns, feed lots and ranches. We prefer to train men 21 to 35 with livestock experience. For local interview, write age, phone, address and background to:

NATIONAL MEAT PACKERS TRAINING 1805 East Ave., Dept. FL, Worth, Texas 76103

is candid about the aim of the movement. He was quoted in the Washington Post as saying: "This project has all the potential for creating a legal revolution. . . ."

Ralph Nader's PRIG concept is an exciting idea for radicals on college campuses. In the past, they had difficulty funding their activities. A PIRG organization, however, offers the prospect of continuous, substantial financing.

If administrators or college trustees believe that the PIRG outfits will engage in sensible student activities, they should look at the record. In Connecticut, the state PIRG has zeroed in on a weapon firm, alleging intentional shoddiness in the manufacture of M-16 rifles -- hardly an activity that a student group need pursue. If such an investigation is required, Congress is the agency to conduct it.

There's reason to believe that a PIRG group on a campus will injure a state's economic opportunities. Industrial prospects are likely to take a dim view of a state where a college or university authorities authorize compulsory student financing of a free-wheeling, hate-business group. The Nader organizations are well-known for their arrogance. When the Naderites couldn't get a PIRG started in Ohio, their spokesman disdainfully stated: "We can't find anyone who wants to live in Ohio."

College students have better things to do than to serve as Ralph Nader's field hands. In the first place, there is plenty of evidence to suggest that participation in Naderite studies ill-prepares a student for serious, responsible research. It is becoming increasingly clear that the Nader studies are slanted and unfair.

The New Republic magazine, a leading liberal journal, recently published a devastating criticism of a product of the Nader report factory, saying: "Like other Nader-sponsored studies, 'The Closed Enterprise System' resists assimilation to conventional categories of expression. Scholarship it is not, if by scholarship one means an honest search for truth rather than a mere parade of learning. It is a highly tendentious work, in which patent self-contradiction is never permitted to blunt a good sally."

The Nader view of idealism and citizenship is questionable. Inherent in it is an authoritarian concept of our society. The basic Nader theme is that American society needs more government regulation. Presumably, Ralph Nader is to be the fountainhead of wisdom in the new society which he envisions.

A full analysis of Ralph Nader's concepts and operations has been published by the Southern States Industrial Council (a special report entitled "Naderism: The War Against Corporations," 918 Stahlman Bldg., Nashville, Tenn., 37201, 25 cents a copy). It explains in detail how Ralph Nader wants American business to manufacture by government edict instead of by marketplace democracy.

Ralph Nader has done an extraordinary job of selling himself as the expert on virtually everything in our society. But the steady stream of sensational charges produced by the Nader factory is proving to be counter-productive. Mr. Nader's secrecy about the financing of his own operations also is turning out to be hurtful. Many citizens are beginning to realize that the Nader groups are more interested in power than the public interest.

SHELLEY JONES INJURED IN ACCIDENT WITH HORSE

Shelley Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dempster Jones, narrowly escaped serious injury on a run-away horse Monday afternoon.

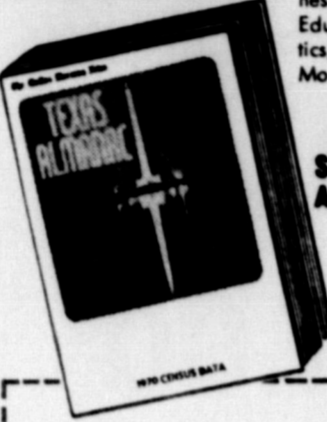

Shelley, a skilled rider and a long time member of the 4-H Horse Club, was riding at the rodeo arena when a part of the gear on the horse's bridle broke. The startled animal bolted for home and as he hit the pavement fell.

Shelley managed to get her feet out of the stirrups before the animal fell and almost got clear. She suffered a severely skinned knee and stitches were required to close a cut in her leg.

Regardless of how many warning reports you get about the weather, there are times when a sudden, unexpected, unpredictable squall hits while you're on the water. And it can upset the best fishing plans.

Sudden storms strike whether you're on the Gulf, on a lake, on a stream, even on a pond. You're likely to be caught while fishing the Gulf, more frequently than anywhere . . . probably because you are farther from shore. Isn't that natural?

Anyway, sometime back a group of us went to Freeport. We had plans for going out to the snapper banks early the next morning. When we returned for the evening everything looked fine. We had listened to the weather reports and everything was "go". But when we stuck our head out the door at 2 a.m. there was a storm blowing. We went back to bed and tried again at 6 o'clock.

Despite the fact that the wind was still high, we got on one of Raymond Muchowich's boats and headed out. We hadn't gone five miles before practically every man on the boat was sick from bouncing on the high waves. So, we turned around and headed back.

Another time four of us left Austin for Greer's Ferry lake near Little Rock, Arkansas. When we boarded the plane in Austin it was a beautiful spring day.

We drove the 70 miles from Little Rock, to our fishing area, under a star-filling heaven. But at 4 a.m. we were awakened by wind cracking through the tall pine trees and thunder and lightning that made us wonder if the world was coming to an end.

I could go on and on reporting dozens of such incidents. Each time conditions seemed fine, but turned out different. Sudden weather changes call for more than just having a weather eye out. You need to be prepared for such emergencies.

Always be sure to have good rain gear along, not just some flimsy something, but real gear that not only will keep you dry but warm. Then have either a tarp or some plastic material to protect your fishing equipment and other paraphernalia aboard. This especially if you're fishing salt water.

Those who carry cameras will do well to keep them in tightly closed plastic bags. In fact, every tackle box should have a few of these large-size plastic bags just for emergencies.

Naturally, life jackets or other safety equipment is a must. Under existing laws in most states, and certainly those covering boats that go out into the Gulf, there are legal requirements about life jackets. This is something every individual should carefully check for his own protection.

Coast-guard approved safety cushions offer some security but they are far from adequate under certain conditions. If all go overboard who's left to toss you a cushion? Or even a life-saving ring. If you can't swim, wear a life jacket at all times. It's better to be called a sissy than a corpse.

There's another good idea, too. When you are on the water and see indications of an approaching storm, crank up that motor and head back to shore. Or, if you are too far away from your camp, head into the nearest land and make your boat fast. Be sure all your gas tanks are closed well, and that your motor gets protection. Without either of them you may be grounded for quite a spell.

For boat equipment it is well to always have with you either a large tarp or several painter drop cloths made of plastic. They take up practically no space, yet they furnish good, one-time protection against the elements.

If you must fight out a storm, try to head into the waves and keep the passenger load weight low. The heavy rain may beat into your face, but it also tends to hold down the force of the waves.

Sudden squalls are very frequent during the hot summer months, especially on the Gulf. Most of them give only a short notice of their approach, so be ready and keep a weather eye out for signs of any disturbance of the elements.

Retirement.

The end of work, or the beginning of worry?

Most people look toward retirement as a time of relaxation and enjoyment. And it can be if you prepare for it. But if you don't, it can be a time of worry and discontentment. A time when you can look back and think of a million ways that you could have saved, but didn't.

Well, there's no better time to think about retirement than now, while you're working.

One easy way to save on a regular basis is by purchasing U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds -- for E Bonds, 5 1/2 % when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months

(4% the first year). That extra 1/2 %, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970 . . . with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds. They'll help make your retirement just what you want it to be.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America. Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

Tips For Gardeners
From The Ozona Garden Club
By Mrs. Betty Page

Beginning another new year, you should lose no time in making plans, ordering seed and plants for your landscape area, and vegetable garden.

Much of the fun in gardening lies in the fascination we get from watching plants grow, and change with the seasons. Winter is the time to plant autumn foliage plants and assure your yard its share of fall color in years to come.

Such trees and shrubs are permanent parts of the landscape: so give thought to combining them into the overall landscape picture. Be sure that you give large growing trees space to grow and mature. The autumn's color pageant is greatly intensified through contrast and accent of evergreens. They lend depth and relieve monotony in a garden or lawn.

Evergreens used with restraint contribute year-round form and interest. They create a background for seasonal changes of deciduous plants, in many gardens evergreens are grouped into accenting masses of forms that define a garden pattern for the winter scene. Without their background contrast to deciduous plants, much beauty is lost. Usually evergreens should make up about one-tenth of the planting in home yard landscaping; perhaps a bit less for a small property. The other nine-tenths of the plantings give seasonal interest and color in flowers, fruits, twig and form. Unless you buy balled and burlapped plants, all trees and shrubs should be planted between now and early March.

Every home yard benefits from plantings of small flowering trees. They're ideal to use with low ranch-style homes where large shade trees might overpower the home. Consider these and others you may like, crabapple, dogwood, redbud, flowering peach, plums and crepe myrtle trained to a tree. All shrubs need to be watered if dry weather continues.

Dear Editor—

After New Years Eve, there should be no doubt in our minds about what is wrong with our youth.

Not only do our so-called responsible community leaders condone beer parties for our teenagers, they encourage them by providing a place to have them.

Is this our way of trying to lessen our guilt, by allowing them to follow our examples? It would be far better to stress church attendance than give our approval to Keg Parties.

That's what makes saucers exciting — no telling where you'll land! No steering... no brakes... no telling which way you'll turn or how fast you'll go.

Swirling may be exciting on a snow-laden hill. It's something else again on the rugged slopes of life. So many parents who want the very best for their youngsters are living with the gnawing fear of how a child's future may unfold.

The Church offers sound answers to our fear. Religious training provides steering in a human life. Moral principles become the necessary brakes. And for the continuing uphill climb which beckons and challenges youthful souls, faith unlocks the resources of spiritual power.

Weather Causes Cancellation of Basketball Tilts

Basketball games for the Lions and the Lionettes in Rankin Tuesday night were called off due to the weather.

After losing three games in Del Rio last Tuesday night, the Lions freshman, B team and varsity picked up three wins at Sonora Thursday night.

The varsity begins play this afternoon in the Big Lake tournament while the B team is in McCamey for their B team tournament.

The Lionettes, off during the holidays, open district play tonight, hosting the Coahoma girls in the high school gym for two games, starting at 6 o'clock.

K-K-

(Continued from page 1) game. "My relief did not last long. Alas, when I got to my corner, I just couldn't make the turn. The car went every way but the right way and all I could see was a utility pole dead ahead.

By another miracle, I found myself straightened out and on my street. By the time I navigated the driveway and was trying to decide whether to run headon into Jim's car or hit the house, I hit a dry spot and came to a dead stop.

Coming back to work wasn't much better, but by then, I was in such a state that it just really didn't seem to matter anymore.

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Simon and family were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Childress.
