Senator Snelson Says Most Office Holders Sincere

A large crowd of Rotarians was on hand Tuesday noon to hear Senator W. E. (Pete) Snelson review highlights of the last legislative session.

As Senator Snelson reviewed the session, he discussed the scandals which had cast a spell of gloom over the legislative body. He urged his audience not to jump to the conclusion that "Everyone in politics is a crook, " because of the recent scandals. Senator Snelson assured the Rotarians that the vast majority of those holding office were sincere, dedicated Senator Snelson said that the silver lining in the cloud of gloom was the fact that publicity over the stock scandal had increased awareness and renewed interest in state politics on the part of the public. "Voter apathy," he said 'always leads to problems."

Senator Snelson told the group that 3, 000 bills had been introduced in the session just ended and that 1,000 had been enacted into law.

"The legislative process is one of compromise, "the Mid-land senator said, "and the final product has to pass before any cure can be had, Senator Snelson was guest speaker at the Civic Center l'uesday afternoon for a joint 'Guest Day" sponsored by the Ozona Woman's Forum and the Ozona Woman's League, an annual event.

Lions Meet Powerful Coahoma Here Friday

The Ozona Lions will host Coahoma in Lion Stadium tomorrow night in their second District 5 AA clash of the season. Coahoma downed Stanton 57-22 in their district opener last Friday night, while the Lions were upset by the Reagan County Owls 13-0.

The Coahoma Bulldogs have ■ 5-1 record coming into the game with the Lions, losing only to Sonora in their season opener, 20-16. The Lions season record stands at 3-3.

The Bulldogs bring a seasoned team for their encounter with the Lions, and will no doubt be favored to win the tilt. Last year the Bulldogs soundly trashed a more seasoned and experienced Lion unit are urged to be present to obtain their tags during the period scheduled. The deer season will open November 13, 1971 and close January 2, 1972. The bag limit will be three deer, no more than two bucks. Still It Rains!

Fall Downpours Continue in Area

Fall rains continued in the county this week with a total of . 50 of an inch recorded in the official gauge at the Water District office Tuesday after-

Rainfall the past week has put the yearly total over the 30-inch mark, a record for normally dry Crockett County. Skies were overcast and rain was falling intermittently homa, so revenge could motivate this year's edition of the Lions and an upset could very well be in the making. The Lions can stay in the running for the district title with a win over the Bulldogs, and after last week's fiasco with the Big Lake Owls, they should be win hungry. Big Lake had no trouble moving the ball on the Lions' home field last Friday night. On their first pocession they drove straight for the goal line and only a fumble with the Lions recovering on the 5 yard line saved a Big Lake score. The Lions were held on downs and forced to punt. The Owls drove from their own 48-yard-line and chalked up the score on their next series of downs. The PAT was no good, but their potent defense held the Lions to no gain through the quarter. The Owls picked off a Lion pass and were headed for pay-dirt again when the Lions recovered another Owl fumble on the Ozona 15. Held on downs again, the Lions were forced to punt. The Owls took the ball on their own 44 and drove for a first down only to have it wiped out by a pe Two plays later the Owls David Hickman broke loose for 35 yards and another Big Lake score, Love toed the extra point, and that ended the scoring for the night. Penalties and the tough defensive line of the Owls held the Lions to only 4 first downs and a total of 75 yards rushing and 28 yards passing, while the Owls rolled up 372 yards and 15 first downs with no gain in the passing department.

The Lion secondary allowed no yardage for the Owls in the air, and managed to knock down 7 Owl passes.

The second half was strictly a defensive battle, but the Owls still held the edge in yards rushing. The Lions tried to get their passing game going with no luck at all.

The Owls were inside the tions 5 yard line and fumbled for their third time. The Lions signers "understand that this will result in an increase in taxes in order to pay the bonded indebtedness for construction."

Although locations of the petitions had not been fully publicized, a total of 239 signatures had been affixed to the petitions. The request for the court's consideration was made at the last week session of the Court by the Rev. John Berkley, pastor of the Ozona United Methodist Church, Rev. Berkley told the court he had been asked by friends to present the request and later endorsements of the proposal came from meetings of the Administrative Board of the Methodist Church and from the Ozona Rotary Club.

Copies of the petition have been placed in the Ozona National Bank, at the Ozona Stockman office and at the Community Center, Persons who wish to sign the document are invited to call at any of these places.

In discussions during last week's court session, members of the court expressed interest in the plan and county Judge Troy Williams said the court had been probing the question for the past two years. He said that the court needed an expression from the people and invited sponsors to prepare and present a petition to the court, promisng to pursue the matter with

NO INNOCENT COCKTAILS

"There is no such thing as an innocent cocktail," says Dr. Melvin H. Knisely, head of a research team at the University of South Carolina Medical School.

SENSING the NEWS

Dr. Knisely reports that alcohol even in moderation, speeds up the destruction of nerve cells and initiates senility earlier in the life of any drinking person. Alcohol induces senility by a process known as "blood sludging."

As a result of his findings, Dr. Knisely has himself given up alcohol. He explains that alcohol forms an adhesive substance in the blood which cuts off blood cells from their oxygen supply. The trapped cells eventually die, affecting the heart, liver and brain. As more cells are destroyed, senility sets in. The sludging process becomes detectable even after the consumption of the smallest amounts of alcohol.

The blood sludging process also takes place in other diseases, such as arthritis, cancer and malaria. With their zer of an economic venture, new-found knowledge of how to induce it, the South Carolina team is now attempting to reverse the process. By examining the chemistry of sludging, the team hopes and again in the Southern states to find ways to neutralize it.

The results of this team's research suggests that the public be warned of the harmful effects of alcohol consumption. Such preventitive measures have been taken with regard to cigarettes. Perhaps the time has come when received enormous favorable similar action will be taken in this case.

Washington NEWS LETTER

Congressman O. C. Fisher

The president's wage-price control program survived attacks in the House and Senate last week when attempts were made to scuttle the wage freeze portion of it were beaten down in crucial tests

Another part of the New Economy package was a tax reduction, and a bill to achieve this was approved in the House. Designed to help consumers and encourage plant expansions (which means more jobs), the tax relief treatment should cure many ailments which have plagued the economy.

Phase II of the new approach, announced by President Nixon, certainly has my full support. The continued controls will be extremely difficult to manage because of various hardship situations which will inevitably develop. But, hopefully, adjustments can be worked out. The degree of success of this battle against inflation will relate very directly to the degree of cooperation given it by business, labor and the general public, Already wholesale prices have dropped dightly, with retail prices expected to follow.

The new tax bill, approved in the House, calls for repeal of the 7% excise tax on automobiles, with the repeal also applicable to jeeps and pickups of under 10,000 pounds, retroactive to September 22. C., to form something called the Southern Growlicies Board, Terry San ford, a former New Frontierstyle governor of North Carolina and now president of Duke University, was prime mover of the organizational meeting. The New York Times reports. however, that the idea of the board "really originated within the leadership of the L.Q.C. Lamar Society, an organization MESQUITE FIREWOOD - Cut of about 700 liberals and progrestives in the South, " Five foundations reportedly will

According to its organizers, the board will deal with the problems of rapid change in a 'post-racial" period of growth and expansion, Mr. Sanford suggested that the board could provide the quality of guidance that would allow the South to construct an example of intelligent growth for the rest of the country. The organizers will try to sell the concept of the board to the legislators of the 17 states involved.

On the basis of past experience with groups of this sort, it is not unreasonable to take a dim view of the board's future. in the mid-1930's, Dr. Howard Odum and his associates at the University of North Carolina in chapel Hill promoted a similar Southwide organization. The organization lost public confidence because it became more interested in transforming the values of Southerners than it was in advancing economic opportunities. Time and again, organizations of this sort, aiming at uplift of the region, have Village Drug, White's Auto allied themselves with leftliberal elements on the national scene and adversely affected the FRIDAY BRIDGE CLUB economic development and social well-being of the Southern

Gov. Jimmy C rter, of Georgia, who attended the neeting in Durham, expressed oubts about the organization, aying: "What bothers me is

Such skepticism is in order. It is hard to see how the board. L. Q. C. Lamar Society, can make a contribution to the wellbeing of the Southern States. These states, in order to enjoy continuing economic growth. need more fiscal conservatism. better supervision of their voter rolls to maintain and improve the quality of the electorate. stronger policies against monopoly unionism which retards economic growth, a firm commitment to the meeting of energy requirements, and a generally more favorable climate for investors who create jobs. with us. Early in October, some L. Q. C. Lamar organization, it is unlikely that such policies would be favored by the Southem Growth Policies Board. The organizers of the board say that they want the South to avoid the mistakes made in the Northern states. But the mistakes made in those states are in the area of excessive permissiveness on social issues, undue toleration of union power, a failure to act against lawless elements, and catering to welfare elements in the population There's nothing in Mr. Sanford's background to suggest that he will recommend the hard-line policies that the South and every other region of the country need in order to achieve economic growth and a higher quality of life. Thus if the Southern Growth Policies Board wants to persuade the public that it intends to play a constructive role, it will have to spell out in detail its plans and policies. At the moment, the public isn't likely to give the board a vote of confidence.

Ranch Predator Problem Subject TSGRA Meeting

What can sheep and goat producers do about their predator problem.

The subject will be explored in detail by a panel of experts at the Tri-annual directors' meeting of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Assn. Nov. 6, in San Angelo. The one-day session is set to begin at 8 a.m. in the University center on the Angelo

State University campus. "Primary purpose of the fall meeting is to develop a financing plan to insure an effective predator control program, " said Surton Allison of Fort Stockton, TS&GRA president.

Results of a recent survey conducted by the Texas A&M University Extension Service indicate that producers in 52 of the counties in the 77county sheep and goat producing area are experiencing losses due to predators,

In explanation of the day's program, Allison further stated. "The panel of experts, moderated by TS&GRA first vice president, John Cargile, will discuss the present predator problem and how it is changing, in addition, the panel will explain how the sheep industry can raise additional funds to cope with this problem. All sheep and goat producers are being affected by predators, either directly or indirectly. It is high time and do something about them. We hope that all sheep and goat producers will make plans to attend this meeting. Committee meetings will start at 9 a, m, following registration at 8 a, m. The remainder of the meeting will be devoted to the Predator situation,

A woman crossing the border on foot was stopped because a customs inspector "had a hunch" that she was carrying narcotics. Ordered to strip in the presence of a matron, she was indeed found to have a quantity of heroin in her clothing.

Nevertheless, this evidence was held not admissible in court. The judge said such an intensive search could not be conducted for such a flimsy reason.

But in another case, the compulsory stripping of a woman was upheld. This time, suspicion was based on specific information furnished by a reliable informer. With that much to go on, ruled the court, customs officials were The Ladies Bridge Assn. met

Our locality is not the only area missing the usual fall color which should reach its peak of brilliance this and next month. Two factors are necessary for the production of red fall color -- sunlight and cool nights. There must be warm, bright, sunny days during which time the leaves manufacture sugars. Such days must be fol-lowed by cool nights. We have been having the cool nights, but very few sunny days the past month. Perhaps this is the reason for so little color to this date. Several of those who have visited the eastern and northern states say the color has not appeared there

Brightly colored foliage of our deciduous trees and shrubs interspersed with evergreen plants, presents an array of fall beauty. The blazing reds of native sumac, red maples and oaks are the first fall colors. Then come the bright yellows of the elms, red bud, persimmons, pecan, pome-granate, oaks, hackberry and Chinaberry.

Trees with a multitude of colors, from wine to red to yellow are the tallows, crepemyrtles, sugar mapel and crab apple. Foliage of trees and shrubs growing in the shade usually do not show much red

The best time to plant trees, shrubs and woody vines in the Southwest is during the fall and early winter months. Container grown plants are the only ones available in early fall. After deciduous plants become dormant and lose their leaves, they may be dug either bareroot or balled-and-burlapped. Points to remember before moving plants: deciduous or evergreen plants about 12 feet in height are seldom moved bare-root. It usually takes one season to overcome the shock of severe root damage after moving. By planting as soon as possible, considerable advantage can be taken of the soil's remaining warmth. Root growth will increase rapidly.

By spring, the root system al-ready will be established to supply the plants' requirements of food and water.

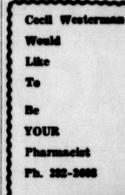

To extend the blooming season well into the winter, you may want to set out some of the following: Sweet Olive, Flowery senna, Loquat, Elaeag-nus, Holly and Camellias.

Chrysanthemums are the most popular blooming perennial beginning to flower now. If in pots they may be placed in groups to give color to your garden. Sturdy plants and abundant dant flowers are the result of special attention to watering, feeding, pinching of buds and pest control. Water plants frequently.
