Kitty's Korner

by Kitty Montgomery

There has been a lot of discussion, both pro and con, about Ozona's Christmas lighting. Some say that although we have plenty of electricity, it will project a bad image to be "all lit up while the rest of the nation is in the dark."

Some say that since there is no shortage here, we should go along as usual and do what we usually do.

And I guess both have a point. There seems to be no official position on whether the lights go on December 1, as they always have. After the President's guidelines are published, perhaps it will be settled for us and there will be no argument locally.

However, I tend to side with those who think we should go along with the rest of the nation and leave our lights out too. To me, this is just being American. Six months ago we were hearing very little about the energy shortage. Today that is all we hear, and tomorrow we just might be out of gas in our own Crockett County.

This is not a crisis which is going to pass overnight. We are in for it, and for a good long while. Unless, of course, we knuckle under to the Arab states and change our foreign policy to suit them. Somehow it doesn't seem very American to submit to blackmail.

Our heritage was built on independence, and the fact that we have become dependent on other nations for our energy is untenable.

Apparently our leaders do not plan to allow this to happen, and we all have an obligation to pitch in and help out.

The shortage has caught the entire nation by surprise. Some of us are saddled with gas-guzzling automobiles, that we can't afford to get rid of. Most have heating and cooling systems in our homes and businesses which are entirely dependent on natural gas or electricity. Our electricity is fueled by gas, so the thought that we might be uncomfortably cool this winter or hot next summer has become a fact.

The shortage of pipe for the drilling of wells and the transporting of the product is another complicated situation. Many shortages will result from the energy crisis and (CONTINUED ON LAST PG.)

OZONA VETERINARY CLINIC is now open for business. Dr. Gary L. Vannoy will have offices here and will specialize in general practice, large and small animals. The clinic is located north of Ozona on State Hwy. 163 near the theatre. Mr. Vannoy will assist in the office. Although the lettering on the building has yet to be installed, everyone is welcome to go by and meet the Vannoy's and take a tour through the clinic. The new clinic is a first for Ozona.

OHS Sets 43rd Annual Basketball Tourney

Ozona's 43rd Annual Basketball Tournament will get underway here next Thursday, Dec. 6, with thirteen teams scheduled to participate.

Coach Charlie Spieker reports that he and assistant coach Richard Granado are holding off on brackets for the tournament until after Friday night's football play-offs. Three of the teams, Alpine, Eldorado and Rankin are still in the play-offs and a win for any team would mean cancellation for the tournament.

Other teams are Comstock, Del Rio, Big Lake, Brady, Mason, Sonora, Wall, San Saba, Lakeview and the Ozona Lions.

Holiday Lights Go Up, Stores Open Late Thur

Christmas lighting is going up as scheduled in Ozona; however, whether the lights will be lighted at night and for how long is another question. The lights are usually turned on Dec. 1 of each year. There has been no official meeting of the town's elders, and no one seems to know what stand Ozona will take on curtailing outside Christmas lighting due to the energy crisis, if the federal government bans all outside lighting, as the President asked in his Energy Message Sunday night, the town will be without Christmas lights, of course.

Herman Feltner, Chamber of Commerce holiday committee head, announced early this week that most downtown stores will stay open until 9 on each Thursday night before Christmas. Stores and shops in the shopping center do not plan to stay open with the exception of the Village Drug, and they plan to try the Thursday opening for at least a week or so, with half staff.

Stores in the downtown area which will be open beginning tonight are Mity Nice Bakery, Morrisons, Western Drug, Brown Furniture and the United Store, Feltner said.

Safe Holiday Weekend in Crockett Co.

The holiday weekend was quiet and safe in Ozona and Crockett County for the most part. There were two wrecks, one Saturday afternoon in town and a deer wreck Monday night on the Big Lake Highway north of Ozona. Eight Arizona men were picked up and booked on possession of marijuana charges.

Saturday afternoon at Ave. J and 5th St. Dawn Burns, driving a 1971 Chevrolet was in collision with Harold J. Laird, who was driving a 1972 Chevrolet. Neither driver was injured, but vehicle damage was estimated at $1,000 to each automobile.

Marion E. Cook of Midland was not injured when he hit a deer at Hwy. 137 at the intersection of Hwy. 29, but his car sustained heavy damage. Both accidents were investigated by Deputy Sheriff Ron Everett.

County 4-H Food Show Is Saturday

Crockett County 4-H members will focus on Texas foods when the Crockett County 4-H Food Show gets underway, Saturday, December 1, at the Civic Center. There will be 55 4-Hers entering this year's food show.

The 1974 food show theme will be "Lone Star Foods". Local youth will be entering main dishes, side dishes, breads and desserts, or snacks and beverages as they choose one of the four entry classes for competition.

The public is invited to view the food exhibits and attend the awards programs at 3:00 p. m. Free recipe booklets of the 1974 food entries will be available.

The 4-H foods program main emphasis is nutrition. The contestants will be asked to demonstrate knowledge of nutrition, meal planning, food buying and meal service as well as the ability to prepare food.

New Classes Added To 4-H Livestock Show

New classes for the 1974 Crockett County 4-H Livestock Show to be held on January 12 have been added, reports county agent Pete W. Jacoby. Classes will be set up for 1973 colts and fillies. Any boy or girl of 4-H Club age who has a colt or filly may enter the show. Advise the County Agent if you have an entry.

Also there will be beef cattle classes for steers and heifers. Several 4-H members have projects underway.

The show will have a fat swine class and a number of fat lamb classes consisting of fine-wool and crossbred commercial lambs.

Show judges will be Dr. Del Davis, Area Livestock Specialist with the Extension Service at Fort Stockton, who will judge lambs, swine and beef cattle; and E. O. "Dusty" Nevills, County Agent at Big Lake, who will place the colt and filly classes.

Ray D. Siegmund, District Agent of Fort Stockton, will be showmanship judge and select junior and senior herdsman award winners.

ASCS To Assist In Diesel Allocation Here

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service-ASCS and the Texas Railroad Commission have joined hands in an effort to increase efficiency in the handling of the mandatory allocation of middle-distillate (diesel) fuels, according to County Executive Director Cliff Elder.

Beginning immediately, ASCS County Office personnel will verify fuel needs for hardship cases on Form OOG-PAP-20 for all applications prior to their submission to the State Allocation Officer, Texas Railroad Commission. The local office mostly concerns itself with the needs of ranchers, but will assist others in completing the form, such as truck drivers and contractors.

Form OOG-PAP-20 is to be used by wholesale purchasers to request emergency allocations for immediate use. Form OOG-PAP-17 is also available for the use of purchasers of middle distillate fuels in bulk supply to adjust their monthly allocation for the year or for obtaining a new allocation.

OHS Lion Cagers Drop First Game To Colorado City

Coach Charlie Spieker's Ozona Lion Cagers dropped their season opener to Colorado City Saturday night in Colorado City by a score of 49-56. Richard Sanchez was high point man for the Lions with 23 points.

Coach Spieker said the game was typical of a first game and errors and mishaps were abundant. Only one man returns to the team from last year's varsity, Oliver Payne. The roster is not set for this year, but 10 players will be carried on the varsity, and will be selected from the 35 high school boys who are out for the basketball team.

Both the freshmen and the junior varsity won their games in Colorado City, the freshmen by a score of 54-25 and the J. V. by 58-32. John Galvan was the big gun for the freshmen, swishing the nets for 20 big points. Gene Castro led the junior varsity with 18 points followed by Greg Thompson with 15.

The boys were scheduled to play Rankin Tuesday night, but the game was called because Rankin is still in the football play-offs. They will host Colorado City in three games Friday night. The first game will start at 5 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Joslin spent the weekend in Coleman visiting their daughter, Mrs. Ed Strickland, and her family.

Lions Place Three Players On 7-AA All District Ball Team

District 7-AA coaches met Monday morning and made their selections for the All-District team.

Ozona placed three players on the all-district team for this year.

Romaldo Cervantez, 150-pound Ozona High School junior was a unanimous choice for runningback. Melecio Martinez, 185-pound senior, was picked for an offensive guard slot, and Pete Maldonado, 175-pound senior was a unanimous choice for defensive back.

District champions, Big Lake, topped the first team on offense and defense, placing ten players. Ken Stout of Big Lake was the unanimous choice for quarterback. The running back selections included Putt Choate of Coahoma, Cervantez of Ozona, Johnny Hickman of Big Lake, Steve Bird of Big Lake and Elvin Brown of Stanton.

Ends included Monte Barnes of Big Lake and Leland Bolen of McCamey; tackles, Frank Coates of Coahoma and Marvin Baker of Big Lake; guards, Kyle Kiser of Coahoma and Melecio

Martinez of Ozona, and center, Mike Kiser of Big Lake.

First team defensive picks included Jerry McGee of Crane, Maldonado of Ozona, Johnny Hickman of Big Lake and Scott Little of McCamey. Linebacker selections were Marvin Baker of Big Lake, Putt Choate of Coahoma, Kyle Kiser of Coahoma, and James Taylor of Ozona Lions receiving honorable mention were Craig Tallafiero, quarterback; Oliver Payne and Rick Hunnicutt, runningbacks; Gary Mitchell, end; Dan Davidson, guard, and Lessly Russell, center. Making honorable mention on defense were Oliver Payne, back; Richard Sanchez, back; Lessly Russell, linebacker; and Stanley Flanagan, end.

One Change In C of C Hunting Contest

There was only one change in the chamber of commerce sponsored hunting contest in Crockett County this week. The 11-pointer registered at Cooke's Market last week gave way to a 12-point buck this week.

The widest rack and the heaviest field dressed deer remained the same. A deer with a 20-inch rack width was still tops at the beginning of the week, and Bill Williams' 150-pound field dressed buck still held the record for the heaviest field dressed.

Since the beginning of the season Cooke's Market has registered 212 deer and the Trading Post a total of 200 for a harvest of 412 in all. The weather has been a little warm for hunting in spite of a cold front which moved in early Monday morning.

County Gains Gas Discovery

The Superior Oil Co., Midland, completed a Canyon gas discovery its No. 1 W. W. West, 3/4 mile southeast of a 7 1/2 mile east extension to the Euleeone (Wolfcamp gas) field of Crockett County, 28 miles south of Ozona, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 247,000 cubic feet of dry gas per day.

Production was through perforations at 3,392-726 feet, which had been acidized with 500 gallons and fractured with 12,000 gallons, 6,000 gallons of carbon dioxide and 16,500 pounds of sand.

The Canyon sand was topped at 3,380 feet on ground elevation of 1,996 feet.

It was drilled to 5,000 feet, where 4 1/2-inch casing was set, and plugged back to 4,920 feet.

Location is 1,520 feet from the north and 1,070 feet from the west lines of 23-O-GH&SA. The long extender, Amoco Production Co. No. 1 W. W. West, was finished July 17 for a calculated, absolute open flow of 1 million cubic feet daily through perforations at 3,631-39 feet, identified as Canyon, topped at 3,538 feet, however, potential was filed in the Euleeone (Wolfcamp) field.

McCamey. Defensive ends were Dean Wood of Coahoma and David Tarvin of Big Lake, while linemen included Steve Bird of Big Lake, Robbie Tindal of Coahoma, Stanley Selby of McCamey and H. A. Schuelke of Stanton.

Five Ozona players made the second team. They were Pete Maldonado at runningback; David Bean, tackle; Gary Mitchell at linebacker; Henry Fay, lineman; and David Bean, lineman.

LOTS OF LEAVES, BUT NO PECANS, these youngsters find as they search for the large nuts which are usually present in the city park at this time of year. A late freeze last spring took care of the Ozona fall pecan crop. High winds have blown most of the leaves off the trees and the few pecans that did escape the freeze. Pecan picking youngsters from left to right are Gary Adcock, Missy and Bobby Baird.

HOLIDAY DECORATIONS go up on schedule in Ozona, but whether the lights go on or not is another question. With no shortage of electricity, there is no practical reason to keep the lights off, but many feel that because of the energy shortage it would be the patriotic thing to do.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITAL

BY BILL BOYKIN
Texas Press Association

Gov. Dolph Briscoe released an eight-volume Texas Land use study which he said will serve as a starting point for discussion of a major modern problem. He first made clear that it does not necessarily represent his own policies. The bulky, five-pound report was ordered by former Gov. Preston Smith in 1972 at a cost of $99,500. A lawsuit was filed to force Briscoe to release it (the report was completed eight months ago), but the governor made clear at the time he would make it public when his office had reviewed it thoroughly. Three alternative approaches are suggested: --Delegation to local governments of responsibility for land resource management. --Recognition that the state must play an active role in managing its resources, but making the role limited and well defined. --Placing the state in the central position of regulating land use through statewide controls of all lands rather than specific areas or types of development. This alternative, conceded the report authors, would scarcely be "politically palatable," since it would put the state in position of issuing permits for land use rather than simply taking the lead in planning. The report states federal regulations will be imposed in the land use field if states fail to assume more leadership. Designation of a statewide agency to coordinate changes in handling of land resources is termed essential. ANTI-CRIME PROGRAM PUSHED--A $605,416 crime prevention program aimed at reducing burglaries in six cities by 18 per cent in a year was unveiled by Gov. Briscoe. Burglary accounts for 45 to 70 per cent of major crimes in Texas. The program, patterned after one in England, concentrates on security rather than apprehension after a break-in. Cities participating will be Abilene, Amarillo, Beaumont, Odessa, Waco and Corpus Christi. Midland has had a similar program for a year and a half. Specially-trained units in the cities will analyze crime statistics, train police in prevention, make citizens aware of importance of crime prevention, provide security inspection service and implement a statewide prevention campaign. Each local project director already has attended a four-week school at the National Crime Prevention Institute in Louisville, Ky. At least five hours' in-service training in crime prevention techniques will be given all police personnel in the six cities. OIL ALLOWABLE AT 100 PER CENT--For the 21st straight month, the Texas Railroad Commission continued oil production at 100 per cent of market demand. Commission Chairman Jim Langdon commented that stocks of crude oil are "alarming when coupled with the fact that Middle East crude oil supply is disrupted and Texas is producing crude oil at maximum rates without creating waste." Langdon further accused the federal government of doing nothing to increase sources of fuel. He said allocations of all petroleum products is to be expected. The December order will al-

At Last

Stung by the refusal of our NATO allies to help us help Israel in the recent Middle East war, Congress is now moving to force these allies to assume their fair share of the burden of keeping 250,000 U.S. soldiers in Europe. Although probably judging European governments too harshly, because few NATO-nation politicians could survive an Arab oil embargo (these countries are desperately and almost wholly dependent on Arab oil and thus afraid to get involved), Congress is justified in acting and action should have been taken long ago. The United States, as Senator Henry Jackson (D-Wash) recently pointed out, has given NATO allies some $25 billions in NATO grants since World War II. But the U.S. economic task has been difficult in recent years, because of a balance of payments deficit, and the dollar's stability is threatened, in part, by U.S. military outlays in Europe. On this basis, cuts in those outlays are justified. Congress should order them, even if it means some reduction in the number of troops maintained in Germany.

Nixon's Comeback

Some foes refuse to acknowledge the turn, but there is evidence President Nixon is enjoying the beginning of a comeback. Several polls, some by newspapers and some by broadcasting stations, have shown a majority in their area want the President to remain in office. In Congress there is a growing conviction among Republicans that the worst is over, that President Nixon should not be voted out of office even if he erred in the effort to minimize and suppress the Watergate scandal. President Nixon has managed several major accomplishments in recent weeks, which helps his cause. Ending the Middle East war was a major plus. Secretary of State Kissinger's latest China trip has moved China and the United States even closer together. Unemployment is down. The trade balance is much improved. And, of course, extracting U.S. troops from Vietnam earlier was a major accomplishment. These events, and public resentment of overemphasis on Watergate, have worked to the President's advantage. This trend is reflected in the adverse public reaction experienced by several major news publications which recently called for the President's resignation. There is a growing feeling that the President, and the nation, have suffered enough over Watergate errors and misdeeds, and that the hari-kari season should come to an end and the nation get on with its urgent business, bad as it was.

Reagan's Defeat

The nation watched in fascination as Governor Ronald Reagan perfected, and put to a vote, a plan whereby California's state taxes and spending would have been permanently limited. In a close vote (54-46 per cent) the plan was recently rejected. Of course, politics entered into the picture. Reagan is of the minority (Republican) party in California. There is good reason to believe if the project had been originated by both parties, and politics and Reagan's political future not involved, it would have won overwhelming endorsement by voters of the nation's most populous state. Democrats, however, feared that if Reagan won the tax-limit referendum he would become a national hero to millions, and on his record as Governor could have won both the Republican presidential nomination in 1976 and perhaps the White House itself. The public is unquestionably strongly impressed by politicians who lower and limit taxes; thus there was an element of national politics as well as state politics in the California voting. Aside from politics, defeat of the tax-limit amendment is a tragedy for the country. Taxes, can easily be increased, and constantly are being increased. The squeeze on millions today is therefore very real. Reagan believes, and rightly so, that governments can operate on fixed limits for funds if they must. He would have seen to it that the State of California's spenders faced this must. Unfortunately, politicians and political considerations defeated Reagan; his defeat was also a defeat for the people of California, and the people of other states where California's example would have been followed.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

What under our constitution constitutes an impeachable offense? In our 184 years since the first Congress met, impeachments have been attempted 50 times, mostly against judges but once against a President. Sec. 4 of Art. II of the Constitution says "The President, Vice President, and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office for... treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors." The Constitution further spells out the procedure--charges must begin in the House, trials are before the Senate, where to convict requires a two-thirds majority. The big question is: What constitutes an impeachable offense? It is generally recognized that the writers of the Constitution had in mind a proven and definable violation of a criminal statute. To expand it beyond that would, experts maintain, be to engage in a form of "lynch law" tactics--which some people like but most Americans recoil against. Only once in our history--105 years ago--has a President been tried for impeachment. That was Andrew Johnson, who antagonized Congressmen, the northern press, the pulpit, and the Washington bureaucracy because he vetoed two anti-Southern reconstruction bills and also vetoed an unconstitutional Tenure of Office Act. The latter, passed by Congress in a wave of hysteria, forbade him to remove his Senate-confirmed appointees to office without the consent of the Senate. But the President went ahead and fired Edwin Stanton, his disloyal Secretary of War. That ignited ill-conceived demands for impeachment. Clearly, firing Stanton was not an impeachable offense, but the wolf pack would not be denied. Impeachment charges were voted, and the Senate trial cleared the President. Historian Samuel E. Morison concluded, as have historians generally, that "the impeachment against Johnson was the most disgraceful episode in our history." --0-- Elementary Many a girl is just attracted by the simple things in life--men. --Algon, Des Moines.

Golf Cart Accidents

Hanson and his wife were heading for the clubhouse in a golf cart when she had a sudden urge to stand up. But as she did so, she lost her balance and fell against the tiller. The cart lurched crazily, throwing Hanson to the ground. Painfully injured, he determined to seek damages from the management of the club. "Considering how unstable their carts are," he argued in a court hearing, "they should have posted a warning against anyone standing up. This they failed to do." However, the court turned down Hanson's claim.

Less Driving

Many--obviously those who don't make their living driving--welcome the prospect of fewer cars on the highways because of the fuel shortage. More walking, bicycling, and less driving, congestion and air pollution, will be good for both the American people and the atmosphere. Physical condition experts have long urged Americans to exercise more, and walking and cycling are two of the best forms. Cutting wood is another--and some will be doing that again for the first time this winter, which will also be good for us.

Shop Early

While Christmas does not arrive until the 25th of December, enjoyment of the 1973 Christmas season may depend on how much planning or preparation for the major religious observance of the year (and holiday) are done in early December. Most pressing need at the moment is to mail Christmas presents which must reach a far away destination. Buying the many presents, cards, wrapping, some food preparation and general planning can be completed in the first days of December. First, one avoids larger crowds. Second, there's a better selection. Thirdly, the hours of daylight are longer and the weather not so bitter. There are other advantages and the most important of all is that in preparing in advance one leaves himself time to really enjoy the holiday and participate physically and spiritually in the true meaning of Christmas.

My Neighbors

In another case, the golf cart was missing the rubber pad that normally covers the brake pedal. When the driver tried to use the brake, his spiked shoe slid off the pedal and hit the accelerator, causing the cart to run into another golfer. This time, the victim collected from the club management. Grounds: negligent maintenance of equipment. One club tried to block any and all claims by including a "we are not responsible" clause in its rental form. But the clause was so well hidden in printed verbiage that a court later found it to be null and void. The court said enforcing such a clause against an injured golfer, unaware of its existence, "would truly be unconscionable." Tips For Gardeners
From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

When planning for winter planting of bare-root trees or shrubs, be sure to consider the ones that supply fall foliage color. Some of these are the sumacs, crepe myrtle, spanish and red oak, some fruit trees, tallow, maples and pecans. Many of these over our city have put on a colorful array after we were lucky enough to miss a severe early freeze. Trees and shrubs put out now will have time to establish a good root system before the coldest winter weather. Set out container grown plants now also. For the most part, the flowering season is over, even though there may still be a few roses, late mums and borders in bloom.

It is now time to tidy up the garden before the cold winter begins. For a neat and well-kept appearance, the general clean-up needs to be done. Too, one important reason for a clean-up is to destroy insect pests and disease organisms that could over winter and cause damage to plants next year. Dead weeds piled high in places could be a dangerous fire hazard.

Annual plants should be pulled up when they have finished blooming. Perennials should be cut back after flowering is over. Even the green foliage of iris and day lilies may be reduced to 3 or 4 inches in height. Cut tops off of mums as they finish blooming.

Keep leaves raked to avoid damage to lawn, or break up the leaves with a mower to prevent their packing.

Many ornamental plants are subject to injury from scale insects. If not controlled, the leaves will drop prematurely. Gardeners are urged to make thorough spray applications when the scale and mealy bugs are still small. Eucymus scale is one of the most common armored dormant. Oil sprays should not be used in periods of hot (85 degrees) or cold (below 40 degrees). Several insecticides are effective for scale control such as dimethoate, Di-Syston, and Metasystox-R. These systemic insecticides which are absorbed by the plants can be used anytime during the year, but applications made when plants are making a new flush of growth in the spring are most effective. Soil treatments are as effective as foliage sprays, but require a longer time to become effective. Diazinon and malathion are also recommended for scale control.

Authorities predict that by 1980 more than half of all the furnishings sold will be acrylic or plastic. Therefore, homemakers should learn proper care of these materials.

First, check for care instructions attached to the piece of furniture. Read and follow these recommendations--each plastic responds best to specific care. In general, avoid using abrasives. Cleanser and other harsh substances cause scratches.

Also, never use solvents on plastics. Dry cleaning fluids, nail polish, nail polish remover, perfume, alcohol and waxes containing solvents "eat away" the surface, leaving dull spots. For best results, clean with soap or mild detergent and warm water. Then dry with a soft cloth. Hot water may soften the plastic.

To reduce dust-collecting tendency of the furniture, consider using an anti-static cleaner. When scratches occur on plastic furniture, use a paste wax on the surface. Deep scratches must be buffed out. Usually this covers up the damage and brings back the finish's original appearance.

Clean Furnace Filters Give Better Heating

"Checking your furnace filters will help avoid problems when the heating season arrives," says W. S. Allen, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Most warm air furnaces in use today are equipped with filters. Keeping these clean can add to your comfort by reducing airborne particles in the air. Furthermore, a clogged filter can prevent proper operation of furnaces," the Texas A&M University System specialist points out.

A dirty filter may restrict the air flow to such an extent to prevent proper heating of the house. Restricted air flow may also cause an overheated furnace, especially if the high temperature limit control should fail to operate.

"On most furnaces the filter can be easily removed and replaced," says Allen. "If you don't know the size filter to purchase, remove the old one and examine it. The size should be marked on it."

After removing the filter the engineer suggests using the hose attachment of a vacuum cleaner to remove any accumulation of lint and dust in the blower section of the furnace.

Allen adds that the belt on the furnace blower should be examined and replaced if it is cracked or shows signs of wear.

"Most fans and fan motors should be oiled about once or twice a year," Allen points out. "Add enough oil to oil holes to fill the cup or opening without overflowing."

A lightweight automobile engine oil is satisfactory unless a particular oil is specified in your instruction manual, adds the engineer.

Why does a cooling of the air often produce clouds?

The air always contains a certain amount of moisture. When there are no clouds in the sky, the moisture is invisible, but it's there. Cooling condenses air and reduces its capacity to retain water.

In doing so, the invisible water particles in the air become relatively greater in content and finally become visible droplets of moisture. A cloud, then, is the result of cooling of air, which changes invisible moisture into visible form.

This cooling process also produces fog--the lowest of the clouds. The sun's heating of the earth, which, in turn, heats the air above it, which rises and is cooled in the higher altitude causes the formation of most clouds.

A thermometer is indispensable in the home... even though it can't cure a thing. Its first function is to prove that someone is sick so that diagnosis and therapy can begin. Then it keeps tabs on the patient's progress. Ultimately it can suggest, though not absolutely, that the crucial stages of illness or infection are over.

You hear people call ours a "sick" society. Is anyone taking its temperature? Yes, the media is doing a thorough job reporting the fever of the times.

A more crucial question: Is anyone striving to heal society? The Church is! It has always been quick to diagnose men's spiritual ills and ready to make available the remedies God has prescribed.

Obviously, however, society isn't one person but many. Its cure will progress as we get the patients and the doctor together.

Betty Crocker Tests To Be Held Here Tue.

The 20th Annual Betty Crocker Search for Leadership in Family Living (formerly the Betty Crocker Search for American Homemakers of Tomorrow), a $111,000 college scholarship program sponsored by General Mills, gets underway Tuesday. More than 750,000 high school seniors here and throughout the country will join in written knowledge and attitude examinations which will determine individual college scholarship awards of $500 to $5,000.

Male student eligibility for the educational program, initiated for the first time last year, has been made a permanent part of the Betty Crocker Search for Leadership in Family Living. Participation by both males and females, a reflection of increased emphasis on the mutually shared responsibility for family leadership in American culture today, is the reason behind the change in the program's title for the first time in 20 years.

Participating seniors will compete in a 50-minute examination prepared and graded by Science Research Associates, Chicago, which is also responsible for all judging and selection of winners. The local winner will receive a specially designed award from General Mills and will, together with all other school winners, remain in the running for state and national honors.

State winners--one from each state and the District of Columbia--will each be awarded a $1,500 scholarship. Chosen in judging that centers on performance in the written examination, state Family Leaders of Tomorrow will also earn for their schools a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation. Second-ranking participants in each state will receive $500 college grants.

On April 21-26 of next year, the 51 state Leaders in Family Living will gather in Washington, D. C. for an expense-paid educational tour of the capital city and Minneapolis, Minnesota. Personal observation and interviews of the state winners during the tour will be added factors in the selection of the 1974 Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow and three runners-up. Scholarships awarded to the four national winners will be for $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000.

For the third successive year, a $1,000 Nutrition Scholarship will also be awarded. Recipient of this award will be the participating student who is planning a college major in nutrition or a related field, ranks among the highest in his or her state on the total Search examination and, from those meeting these two criteria, achieves the top score on the test's nutrition items.

More than nine million students have been enrolled in the Betty Crocker Search since its beginning in the 1954-55 school year. With this year's grants, total scholarships awarded will exceed $2 million.

No doubt about it, a freezer can save you time and money when you take advantage of in-season products and special sales. But good planning is needed to gain all the benefits and avoid some of the problems you could have with freezing food.

For example, foods vary in the degree of temperature and moisture needed to retain their fresh quality. So, keep a thermometer handy to check your refrigerator and freezer for proper temperatures. Refrigerators should be below 40 degrees F., and freezer cabinets should be maintained at zero degrees.

According to the Food & Drug Administration and Agriculture Department, food begins to thaw and cannot be safely held for any length of time over 10 degrees above zero. In the regular part of the refrigerator meat should not be held over five days. However, in the freezer at zero degrees meat can be held for several months or longer depending on type and cut.

In case of electrical power failure, do not open the freezer unless absolutely necessary. If it has been properly operated, food should keep for about 24 hours if freezer is not opened. You may safely refreeze most thawed foods if they still contain ice crystals or if they are still about 40 degrees and have been held at this temperature no longer than one or two days after thawing.

If you are going to buy large portions of meat such as a quarter or half of beef, keep in mind that there is a substantial loss in trimming. For instance, a quarter of beef weighing 125 pounds could trim out to about 87 pounds, so figure cost per pound on the trimmed meat.

Next, be sure to wrap meat properly for freezing. Wrappings should be sealed carefully to keep natural moisture in and air out.

A&M Field Day Is Scheduled In San Angelo

Certain West Texas ranchers, in the management of their livestock, look to fencing and confinement for partial protection from predators. And fencing and confinement are among those management practices to evade losses to predators that will be discussed during Dec. 20 field day at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at San Angelo. Guests at the field day will hear some dozen recognized authorities discuss the predator situation from as many different points of view.

The Dec. 20 program is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, and the Rodent and Predator Animal Control Service. Among other subjects to be discussed: nature of the predator problem in relation to game and to livestock, coyote behavioral patterns, current status of predatory animal control programs, husbandry practices to evade losses to predators, research into non-lethal methods of evading losses to predators. The program begins at 8:30 a. m. and ends at 3:45 p. m. Lunch will be catered and Dutch-treat.

The empire style dress is popular this season. One of the loveliest designs for the Christmas season is a low, high waisted bodice of black velvet, or fashioned of one of the new jersey-like fabrics, combined with a solid color skirt of contrasting color.

WANT TO BUY - hide-a-bed and trade 2 bunk beds for a double bed. Call 392-3093 after 6 p. m. 38-1tc

Food & Fiber Appreciation

It's a modern day miracle, the production of food and fiber for the mushrooming population of this state and nation. Yet it's happening because dedicated people are working hard and caring for the land and striving to do their best to provide high quality food and fiber products for their fellow countrymen.

"Texans are invited to take a close look at the agricultural industry of their state during the month of November, which has been designated as 'Food and Fiber Appreciation Month.' It's a fitting tribute to an industry that serves as the lifeblood of humanity," points out Charles Baker, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Texans should be proud of their agricultural industry which contributes more than $10 billion to the state's economy each year and employs about 30 per cent of the state's labor force. Of the state's 168 million acres of land area, 142 million are devoted to agriculture."

What are some of the other facts and figures that make Texas an agricultural giant? Baker lists a few:
-- Texas ranks third nationally to only California and Iowa in total agricultural income.
-- Texas leads the nation in producing cotton, grain sorghum and rice.
-- It is the top cattle producer and also leads in the production of sheep and wool, goats and mohair.

-- Texas ranks third among agricultural exporting states and is the leading exporting state in rice, cotton, hides, tallow and cottonseed oil. About 21 per cent of the state's 1972 cash receipts from agriculture came from exports.
-- Texas is second only to Georgia in peanut production and is a major producer of other oilseed crops such as cottonseed, soybeans, flaxseed and castors.
-- Texas is the third leading vegetable producing state behind California and Florida. It ranks first in cabbage, watermelon and spinach production and second in onions, carrots and cantaloupes.

-- The state is second in producing grapefruit and third in oranges.

-- Texas leads in native pecans and is third in overall pecan production.

-- Honey production is also big business, with Texas being third in the number of bee colonies.

-- Texas is among the top 10 dairy states in the nation.

-- The state is a leading producer of poultry and eggs.

Other enterprises that are important generators of agricultural income in Texas are timber, horses, fish farming and recreation. Texas is the leading state in horse numbers and is among the leading states in fish farming.

"Agriculture is indeed 'big' in Texas," notes Baker. "and

Sen. Snelson Announces Grant For Hospital

Senator W. E. (Pete) Snelson announced today that Kerrville State Hospital has been awarded $12,215 in federal formula grants to provide community level aftercare services for alcoholics treated at the hospital and the hospital's Outreach Center.

The Texas Commission on Alcoholism approved the grant application, effective Dec. 1. Grantee contributions of $6,103 will bring the total project cost for the year to $18,318.

Project Director Philip J. Ryan explained that the program, by providing community-based aftercare services, will substantially lower the rate of recidivism among the recovering alcoholics.

A field counselor will give direct services to the alcoholic and his or her family and will coordinate existing community-level alcoholism treatment resources to provide optimum support for the alcoholic. If the need arises, the counselor will also establish new treatment resources.

Another objective of the project, the evaluation of alcohol abuse and alcoholism, will be achieved by involving citizens in the community in educational programs. These programs will stress the need for early recognition of alcohol abuse as well as the need for responsible, healthy attitudes toward alcohol use.

it continues to grow to meet the ever-increasing demands for high quality food and fiber products."

There are many good reasons why it takes some land of your own to be sure of a future in agriculture. ### The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

Although the federal mail fraud statute—one of our oldest consumer protection laws—has been on the books for 99 years, the fertile minds of confidence men keep producing schemes that lead to consumer disappointments and law enforcement actions.

One of the most famous of mail frauds undoubtedly was the simplest. The promoter advertised in newspapers and magazines: "Last Chance. Send $1." His postoffice box number followed.

By the time government officials put a halt to that, the fellow had gathered in $200,000 worth of dollars which had been rushed by mail by people who didn't want to miss out on that "last chance." No charges were filed, however, since the advertiser had not misrepresented anything, and hadn't promised anything he did not deliver.

Most of the frauds which are perpetrated cost the victims much more—not only in money, but in terms of time and effort.

Among the most vicious, I believe, are the fake job promises.

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division has been the recipient of complaints from persons who followed through on advertisements about employment guidance, only to have their hopes dashed. Typically, the advertiser offers information about "job opportunities" to the person who will send $3 or $4 to learn more. In some cases, the mailing of the money is the last episode, but the average consumer just chalks the loss off to experience.

Other schemes are more complicated, and more lucrative. They may involve a notice that the sender of the original fee has been "accepted," and for a couple of dollars more, he or she is urged to return an "application" to rush along the referral process.

If the consumer doesn't hear any more after that, real disappointment sets in. By then enough time and effort and hope has been invested that the person really feels cheated, and turns to an agency such as our Consumer Protection Division, or a county or district attorney, or the U. S. Postal Inspector.

If you have any doubts, or complaints, do notify the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division office in Austin, Houston, El Paso, Lubbock, San Antonio or Dallas, or your better business bureau.

we might as well tighten our belts and stick it out for a few years.

There is very little we can do about the current situation, but we certainly should do all we can and if burning our holiday lights a few hours a night or for a shorter length of time or not at all, only indicates that Ozonans are patriotic, then I say we should do it.

Everybody my age and older has been through it before. Our kids will not be any the worse off for having to cut out and cut down. In fact it might go a long way toward helping them attain the maturity they must have if they are to go through life with the strength of character every human being needs.

For some time now we have been trying to keep our subscription rate the same by having all subscriptions come due in June of each year. We have pro-rated the subscription bills and sent them out. This was done some time ago.

If you miss your paper next week, it will probably mean you have been taken off the mailing list. When a subscriber is past-due for any length of time, we must assume he no longer wishes to receive the paper.

kk
It saddens us that O. C. Fisher, who has represented us for so many years and so ably in the Congress of the United States has elected not to run for that office again.

We have received several news releases from those who will be candidates for the position, and even had a news conference by telephone, along with 53 other news media, with one candidate. However, we are going to mull it over a bit before we make a decision. We seem to have plenty of time.
