Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

While we've only had brief respite from the hot, sticky days of summer, the calendar and the cool of the early morn tell us that fall is surely on its way. The end of Daylight Saving Time arrives the last Sunday of this month and the bi-annual time adjustment must be made by all. Surely the 90th afternoon cannot last.

kk
 We have an unusually large number of stray dogs and cats around town this year, and it might be a good idea to warn your children about playing with these animals.

This is the rabies season and there is no way of telling whether an animal has had its shots or not when they are running loose.

The shots can be very painful and even dangerous for youngsters, so a little parental advice is certainly called for.

kk
 Is there really a possibility that our nation is going to be kept out of other nation's wars in the future? It looks hopeful. It has been over five days and then some since the Arabs attacked the Israelis, and we haven't sent ground troops and artillery yet to aid either side.

Of course, American sentiment is with the Israelis, and in the past they have taken care of themselves against overwhelming odds. Why should this time be different.

Local Girl Ends Naval Training

PAULA RAMIREZ

Orlando, Fla. -- Navy Airman Recruit Paulita Ramirez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Ramirez, Jr. of Ozona, graduated from recruit training for women at the Naval Training Center here.

A graduate of Ozona High School, she is scheduled to report to Corpus Christi.

THIS FAMILY OF PACHYDERMS WAS A CIRCUS HIGHLIGHT last weekend when the Fisher Bros. Circus was in town. Many Ozonans drove down to the circus site to have a look at the three elephants as they waited for the circus to open Saturday.

The show, sponsored by the Southside Lions Club was hampered by rain most of Friday, but recovered in time to play two performances to packed houses Saturday afternoon. The circus was a first for many local children.

Lions Prepare For Dist. Opener After Blanking Iraan 9-0 Fri.

The Ozona Lions will rest up this weekend and prepare for the district opener with Big Lake next week.

In the final game of pre-season play, the Lions beat the Iraan Braves 9-0, pushing their pre-season record to 3-2. The Owls kept a perfect pre-season record by beating Alpine 13-14.

While the Lions are idle, the Owls will be opening the district play with Stanton and they are likely to keep their winning ways. The Owls are picked to win the district and are one of the top-rated class AA teams in the state.

If the Lions can get their offense together and avoid the costly penalties which have plagued them all season, the upset could be accomplished. They have fielded a superior defensive team this year and have given up very little yardage by air or on the ground.

In Friday night's defensive duel against the Iraan Braves, the Lions held their opponents to a total yardage of 49 in the air and on the ground, while they amassed 204 yards.

Lesley Russell got the Lions on the scoreboard in the first quarter with a 17 yard field goal. The only other score in the game came on a one-yard plunge by Romaldo Cervantes in the fourth quarter of play.

The Lions dominated the statistics, making good on 12 first downs while holding their opponents to only 6.

Neither team performed well in the air, as Ozona managed 31 yards and held Iraan to 16. Ozona completed 4 out of 9 passes and the Braves were 2 for 10.

The Lions piled up 173 yards on the ground while holding Iraan to 33. The Lions felt the sting of numerous penalties, seven for a total of 55 yards.

Tax Notices Are Mailed In County

Tax bills for 1974 property taxes were mailed Monday to property owners in Crockett County. The bills were a week late this year, due to a new computerized method recently put into effect.

Those who pay this month may take advantage of a 3% discount. In November the discount drops to 2% and a 1% discount is allowed in December.

The total amount is due in January, 1974, and becomes delinquent in February.

The Iraan crew had four penalties for 40 yards.

The Lions punted four times for a 30 yard average and the Braves were forced to punt 5 times for an average of 32 yards.

The Lions turned over the ball four times on fumbles and interceptions and the Braves lost the ball three times.

Pete Maldonado was the leading ground gainer for the night with 96 yards.

Ozona JV Downs Sonora

Coach Charlie Spieker's junior varsity scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter last week to beat the Sonora junior varsity 12-0. The JV will be in Big Lake tonight.

After a bitter defensive battle last Thursday night at Lion Stadium, Larry Beard got away for a 52-yard romp to score late in the fourth quarter. The PAT failed. Shortly after, Frankie Garza pushed the ball over for another six points. Again the PAT was no good, but the Lions managed a 12-0 victory at game's end.

Besides being the offensive leaders, Beard and Garza were also outstanding on defense.

Services For Mrs. Smith Are Held In Sonora

Services for Mrs. Erma Johnson Smith, 65, were held at 2 p.m. Friday, Oct. 5, in First Baptist Church in Sonora with burial in Sonora Cemetery. Clifton Hancock, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and Bill Morrison, Ozona Church of Christ pastor conducted the services.

Mrs. Smith died Wednesday in Shannon Hospital in San Angelo.

She was born July 4, 1908 in Talihina, Okla., and was married to Gordon W. Smith Feb. 10, 1928 in Poteau, Okla. She had lived in Sonora several years and had lived in Ozona the past four years.

Survivors include her husband; a son, Joe N. Smith of Sonora; a daughter, Mrs. Van Miller of Ozona; her mother, Mrs. Flora Johnson of Talihina, Okla.; two brothers, Herbert Johnson of Talihina and Harold Johnson of Fort Smith, Ark.; and three grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Dick Morrison, Hubert Baker, L. C. Hardesty, Ervin Willman, Bill Savell, and E. E. Johnson.

Land Owners May Pick Up Doe Permits Nov. 8

Landowners in Crockett County will have an opportunity to pick up their antlerless deer permits and special antlerless deer tags Nov. 8 at the courthouse in Ozona.

Special antlerless deer tags are issued in lieu of permits in some counties according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

The difference, say officials, is that permits are issued in limited quantities based on overpopulation of deer, carrying capacity of land and in ratio to the proportion of land having surplus deer. Further, no antlerless deer permit may be issued later than ten days before the opening date of the hunting season.

Special tags are used where either-sex hunts are approved. There are no limitations on the number of tags a landowner may obtain since the hunts are designed to allow full landowner control of deer harvest.

Crockett County Commissioners Hope For Nursing Wing Approval

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met in regular session Monday, and among other items on the agenda there was a report on the proposed nursing home wing for the Crockett County Hospital.

County Judge Troy Williams reported that the Regional Health Planning Committee had approved the application of the county for the construction of the nursing home as of October 4, 1973. Judge Williams told the Stockman Tuesday that the initial approval of COG's health planning committee gave the court high hope for early approval in Austin.

There was no report on the Wednesday night meeting due to an early news deadline, but Judge Williams told the Stockman Tuesday that the initial approval of COG's health planning committee gave the court high hope for early approval in Austin.

The date for the hearing in Austin will be set soon after approval from the COG Executive Committee. Following the meeting when the initial approval was made, officials of the committee assured Judge Williams that two of the members would accompany the Ozona delegation to Austin for the state hearing to assist in pleading the county's cause.

Work at the hospital to comply with the medical fire safety code was reported finished. This included replacing the patient doors with solid core doors and steel jamb. The court instructed Dudley McCary to begin repainting and finishing the new doors.

Lawrence Jones, local funeral home director and emergency ambulance operator, appeared before the court to discuss the town's ambulance operation situation. He made several recommendations to the court and they have been taken under advisement. The court has been aware that qualified drivers for the ambulance is a problem which must be faced.

Purchase of a new ambulance is in the offing for the county, and the court plans to look at the new modular type ambulance which is installed on a 1-ton truck chassis and can be removed and replaced on another chassis within a matter of hours.

Garland Young, Civic Center Director, appeared before the court to discuss the excessive utility bills for the building. The court agreed to investigate the possibility of moving the thermostat to the north addition of the building and leaving the cooling of the auditorium off except when it is in use.

It was voted to build a new baseball diamond on the county owned Henderson tract north of town, after the Little League Park south of town and in the path of 15 10 is completely removed. It has been dis-

THE OZONA LIONS SET UP TO PASS in Friday night's game with the Iraan Braves. The Lions took the win 9-0 and are resting on their laurels this weekend thinking about the big district opener with Big Lake here next weekend. The Lions will open district play with a 3-2 pre-season average. They will play host to the Owls Oct. 18, and kick-off time will be 30 minutes earlier, at 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock.

Hwy. Improvements Slated For County

Projects in Crockett County are included in a $40.7 million program to increase safety and improve sections of non-interstate highways in Texas.

District Engineer J.A. Snell of San Angelo said work to be performed under the annual program includes such things as widening of pavements and structures, reconditioning, resurfacing, providing additional surfacing, sodding and improvement of shoulders and other miscellaneous work.

Statewide, the 1974 State Highway Safety and Betterment and Farm to Market Road Improvement Program includes work on 5,095.2 miles of US and State-numbered highways and Farm to Market Roads. The program includes 810 individual projects in 209 counties.

THE OZONA HIGH SCHOOL BAND with over 100 marching members put on a delightful show for football fans Friday night at Lion Stadium during the halftime of the Ozona-Iraan football game. Here the band forms a car complete with engine in a comedy routine and the twirlers put on their show to the tune of "Sweet Caroline."

TEAMWORK FOR A COMMON GOAL

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITAL

BY BILL BOYKIN

Texas Press Association

The third largest state oil and gas lease sale in Texas history brought more than $21.4 million to the state permanent school fund and boosted its total above $1 billion.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said the sale further may be the "most significant" ever conducted by the state, since it "marks beginning of a new concept in management of mineral resources."

For the first time, leases contain a new "in kind" provision which allows the state to accept its one-sixth royalty (where there is production) in oil or gas for resale, as well as in cash.

Armstrong said new pollution control regulations are written into the leases to protect the environment while drilling continues. Additional regulations were imposed to protect the Padre Island National Seashore.

Gulf tracts attracted more than $16 million of the bonus payments, bay tracts $4.5 million and upland leases the balance.

The School Land Board leased 1,440 acres in the Gulf off the mouth of the Sabine River, in spite of a state of Louisiana protest that the area may be within its boundaries. Tracts off Matagorda Island were also leased over protest of the Air Force which has a bombing range in that region.

Bid on one of six Gulf tracts which the federal government protested for inclusion in the sale was held in abeyance. The U.S. says it may own the tracts due to shoreline erosion.

CONCOM PUBLIC INFO COMMITTEE MEETS--An all-out effort to get the news and information about the 1974 Texas Constitution Convention is being planned by a legislative committee headed by Rep. Tim Von Dohlen, Goliad.

Rep. Dohlen met with legislators and newsmen last week to discuss a public information office for the ConCon where all news media can get complete information about the convention.

The office will be set up in the capitol building as close to the convention hall as possible, Von Dohlen said, and asked reporters how they wanted the information bureau set up for maximum efficiency for all media.

SCHOOL TAXES UP--According to a Texas State Teachers Association survey, 44 percent of local school district officials responding to a survey said local school tax increases were necessary this year to balance budgets.

Seventy-five percent, said TSTA, responded that they will have to raise local taxes in 1974-75 to keep programs at present levels. Twenty-nine percent said programs had to be curtailed this year.

SNIPS, QUIPS AND LIFTS by Lottie Lee Baker

The time we kill often sends its ghost back to haunt us.

In too many instances the politician's bumper sticker lasts longer than his promises.

Some students drink at the fountain of knowledge; others just gargle.

If females are not dangerous to males, why does he take out an insurance policy as soon as he marries one?

Two teen-age sons gave their father a surprise birthday present: a box filled with their sheared hair and a card reading "Dear Dad, Forgive us our past trespasses."

The best technique for losing weight is not acquired with ease. It takes great strength of character to say, "No thank you, please."

According to the doctors you will live much longer if you give up everything that makes you want to.

There are some people who are members of the "in" crowd -- insignificant, insecure and insipid.

Gossip is like mud on the wall. You can wipe it off, but it leaves a spot.

Walking isn't a lost art. How else would one get to the garage?

If you dipped a sheep into chocolate, would you get a Hershey Baa?

If nobody knows the trouble you've seen, you are not talking to the right people.

In this streamlined age too many people have dreamed brains.

One small jack can lift a car, but it takes a lot of jack to keep it up.

A LIFT FOR THE WEEK-- The best way to climb high is to stay on the level.

A Third Party?

In America veteran political experts have long warned third-party hopefuls such efforts are doomed to failure. But a little more than a hundred years ago a third party was successful (the Republican Party).

And today in England, where the Conservative and Labor parties have enjoyed a monopoly of government for many decades, a third party--the Liberal Party--has pulled even in the polls. Liberals have, for the first time in a generation, a chance to form the next government in London.

Does this indicate the time is at hand when a third party can make its mark in America? Viewing the split in the Democratic Party, and the state of affairs in the Republican Party, some think so. Many do not.

It is, of course, true that our two major parties contain strange political mixtures. The Solid South is finally split but there are still conservative Dixie Democrats. There are far left eastern Republicans. They would probably feel more comfortable and it would make political sense if these and certain other elements realigned themselves within the parties.

More likely, perhaps, is the advent of a third party, led by some with more than a regional appeal, perhaps a group from both major parties. Chances are against such a political evolution immediately, but events of the last thirty-five years, and current politics in England, indicate there's a chance a new party could be successful.

TV & Crime

There's every indication Congress will adjourn this fall without having taken action to reduce the outpouring of glamorized crime on commercial television.

This is the outlook despite the fact new fall programs rely heavily on crime and violence to attract audiences, more heavily than last year.

Anyone who seriously contemplates tragedies such as the mass murder by young, impressionable television-age youth in Houston must realize that glamorized and sadistic crime, which flood into American homes via commercial television, inevitably mislead, fascinate and influence some among the unstable and the young.

Unquestionably, this flood of television sordidism and violence is responsible for some of the shocking crimes in America today; one of the most disillusioning failures of Congress is its failure to move to curb this deluge. Children have been protected against cigarette ads on television but not against inducement to serious crime.

One trouble is that too many members of the Senate and House committees regulating television have financial interest in stations. Another is the tremendous power of the three networks, which can almost make or break politicians.

Only if parents (voters) everywhere demand such a curb will Congress act; thus between now and next January citizens should let their Senators and Congressmen know of their alarm and demand for a curb in no uncertain manner.

Inflation

One economic fact many are unaware of, as inflation continues to cause concern, and increases criticism of the Nixon Administration, is that, as of July, real per capita disposable income of the average American was up 5 per cent over July, 1972--taking into account inflation.

Thus the economic situation of Americans up to the summer of 1973 has been quite good. Employment rose by 2,900,000 in the July-July year and the unemployment rate fell from 5.6 per cent to 4.7 per cent.

Some of today's concern over the economy centers on inflation in August and September, and on fears the economic boom of the past year is slowing down.

A national growth rate of eight per cent (expansion of the real gross national product), which occurred in the last quarter of 1972 and the first quarter of 1973, cannot, of course, be maintained.

Thus, the expectation is for some slowing down. But unless the slowdown is quite severe, Americans can still enjoy a healthy economy for some time to come, even if not a constantly-booming one.

Trees & Fall

In the days and weeks immediately ahead the countryside and forests will again offer unusually beautiful and even inspiring scenery to all who have the time to enjoy nature and her annual autumn spectacular.

Maple, gum, oak, nut, sycamore and so many other trees, ending their 1973 cycle of life, now beckon all outdoorsmen to enjoy a beauty which can't be duplicated.

Bankruptcy: A Clean Slate?

Almost two billion dollars in debts will be wiped out this year in the nation's bankruptcy courts. Almost one American in every 1,000 will take this means of "getting out from under."

Most of them will emerge with a clean slate. However, there are certain kinds of obligations that bankruptcy does not touch. The most important are:

1) Taxes less than three years old. This includes taxes owed to federal, state, or local governments.

2) Debts based on family obligations. This includes alimony and child support.

3) Debts based on a written false financial statement. Suppose, for example, that in obtaining a personal loan you deceived the lender by purposely understating your liabilities. Under these circumstances, you would ordinarily remain liable for the loan even after going through bankruptcy.

4) Debts based on "willful and malicious" injury inflicted on persons or property.

Usually this involves liability for causing an automobile accident. Thus:

A drunken driver, travelling at high speed on a rainy night, swerved across the double line and smashed into an oncoming car. Held liable afterward in damages, he sought refuge in bankruptcy. But a court said bankruptcy did not wipe out this debt, because his driving was not just negligent but "willful and malicious."

Non-auto injuries may also be considered willful and malicious. In another case, a man allowed his vicious bulldog to run free even after it had bitten three pedestrians. When a fourth victim went to court and won a sizeable verdict, the dog's owner tried to escape through bankruptcy. But again, a court held him still liable. The judge said bankruptcy laws were meant to protect the hapless debtor, not the malicious wrongdoer.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Check And Double-Check Is Bass Angler's By-Word

PART II

Every master bass fisherman heads for the lake fully prepared. Hence a thorough check of all gear before he ever leaves home. Long, long ago he learned by experience, that advance preparation pays handsome dividends--namely the landing of lunker bass.

Check All Gear Carefully He checks to see that each of his four or five rods is solid, has no cracks or breaks of any kind--anywhere; that the lineguides are smooth on the inside, with no rough spots or abrasions; and that the tip-top guide is cemented on tightly.

Furthermore, he corrects immediately any faults he finds. Next he makes a critical inspection of the reel--takes it apart, cleans, oils and greases it thoroughly.

If a break-test reveals a weak line he replaces all the line on the spool. If the line is strong but the supply is low he adds more line, filling the spool to within 1/8" of the lip and no more.

He knows that a properly filled spool means easier casting and fewer lost fish. Also he realizes that nylon line stretches. Therefore he doesn't fill the spool to overflowing, for after battling with a lunker he may not be able to bring the bass in close enough to net.

Always Carries Spare Line In case of emergencies Mr. Cautious Angler invariably carries in his tackle box an extra spool or two of brand new line.

Once he has seated the reel securely in the rod handle the angler will tie the end of the line to the shank of the rod, or attach a snap swivel and loop the line around the rod.

If he is taking along a closed-face reel for top-water fishing in open areas, he ties the end of the line to a round paper clip to prevent the line from retreating through the bungee-hole in the reel cap. For safety reasons he does not attach a lure until ready to make the cast.

Other items on his must list include an extra supply of gasoline; a tool kit for emergency repairs; a jug of ice water; an icebox of refreshments; at least three rods with matching reels for worm fishing, bait casting and top-water angling. Also an anchor or two, a bail bucket, a flashlight, a hook pole, two paddles, a seat cushion for each passenger and we hope a "coast-guard approved" life vest for everyone aboard.

Depth Finder Now A Must Naturally there are other essentials such as a trolling motor and a depthfinder, together with the necessary batteries to operate the 100 H.P. or larger powerhouse on the transom, the troller on the bow and the fish locator in between.

All of which explains why today's bass boats carry only two passengers and have grown in length from 14 to 15 to 16 footers; while the lure cases have expanded from cigar-box-size to six, seven and eight deckers.

And the best is yet to come, for new gadgets for fishermen are being manufactured every day.

Veterans' Day

Veterans' Day 1973 is observed on October 22nd, originally Armistice Day, commemorating the end of World War I. In recent years the strong, unified sentiment that existed in 1917-1918 has not prevailed; instead, many exhibited hostility to the military and questioned Washington policies.

However, those who serve this country, often risking their lives, have had nothing to do with policy decisions resulting in military operations. Rather, it is their duty to serve and to obey. To those who felt the sense of duty, who obeyed the law of the land, and sacrificed in serving this country, the nation owes gratitude and admiration.

Notice: Be sure brain is in gear before engaging mouth! --LR-- When you're lonely-I wish you love, when you're down-I wish you joy, when you're troubled-I wish you peace, when things are complicated-I wish you simple beauty, when things are chaotic-I wish you inner silence, when things look empty-I wish you hope. --0--

Deer Hunters Fail To Harvest Bag Limit

Although the bag limit for white-tailed deer in many parts of Texas is three, few hunters (approximately seven percent) harvested that many last year.

Only 37 percent of deer hunters killed two or more deer, according to a deer and turkey harvest survey for the 1972-73 hunting season conducted by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. The bulk of white-tail deer hunters, 62 percent, killed only one deer during the entire season.

The information from the survey came from responses to 38,774 questionnaires mailed to a random sampling of hunting license holders.

According to the survey, an estimated 516,900 hunters accounted for approximately 362,000 whitetails while 37,000 hunters killed an estimated 14,400 mule deer. Turkey hunters numbered 102,800 and they killed an estimated 35,700 birds.

Department officials found, among other things, that 20 percent of the deer harvested were killed the first weekend of the season, and the kill on weekends was two to three times as heavy as the kill on weekdays.

The Edwards Plateau Regulatory District accounted for 46 percent of the statewide white-tailed deer harvest, while the South Central Regulatory District was second with 20 percent of the total kill.

The average whitetail hunter spent approximately six days afield, and mule deer hunters spent approximately four days. Some 46 percent of the whitetail hunters were successful, while 36 percent of mule deer hunters bagged a deer.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Now is the time to notice colorful shrubs and trees that you might want to add to your new and growing plants. A portion of the landscape should be planted will fall in mind, considering colorful flowers and foliage.

Available are many fine plants with brilliant fall color that are attractive during the entire year. A new tree to add is the "Autumn Sunset" American red maple (acer rubrum), which rivals the older varieties of sugar maples and grows faster in the south. One of the most spectacular shrubs is Eonymus alatus compactus, described as literally "burning" with color. Another is the Eonymus Americanus.

Though fruit trees may not live too long here, the "Bradford" pear leaves make a colorful fall show, and the mass of white spring blooms gives an extra bonus. Fruit will set from this tree if planted within 200 feet of other pear trees.

Now is the time to place your orders with nursery men for the bare-rooted fruit and nut trees to be planted during the winter. This will assure you of a desired date and varieties wanted.

Why do leaves flame in the autumn? This and next month a colorful foliage pageant unfolds. Why are the leaves yellow and sometimes red? Frost has nothing to do with producing color in leaves. The U. S.

Forest Service says that change in coloring is the result of chemical processes which take place in the tree during preparation for winter. In the fall when the cool weather causes a slowing down of the vital processes, the work of the leaves comes to an end. The green chlorophyll is broken up into the various substances of which it is composed, and whatever food there is on hand is sent to the body of the tree to be stored for use in the spring. All that remains in the cell cavities of the leaf is a watery substance in which a few oil globules and crystals and a small number of yellow, strongly refractive bodies can be seen. These give the leaves the yellow coloring. It often happens that there is more sugar in the leaf than can be transferred back to the tree. The chemical combination with other substances produces many color shades from brilliant red to red-browns.

If leaf spot has shown up in your strawberry beds this fall, you should try to control the disease. Spray with captan or a commercial copper fungicide. It is important to remove and destroy dead leaves because they provide the source of infection of healthy leaves.

Are you packing more brown bag lunches to go to school and work these days? Many homemakers face the "brown bag blues" daily now as they try to find ways to save on the family food budget. The cost of eating out has increased—even in most school cafeterias.

When you prepare lunches, be sure you pack foods so that they will remain wholesome. Meat and poultry foods require special care because they are perishable. To help you maintain this wholesomeness, here are some tips on food safety from the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), the USDA agency handling federal meat and poultry inspection:

What are the "brown bag blues"?

Another term for it is food poisoning—from bacteria such as salmonella. Clostridium perfringens or Staphylococcus—caused by carelessness in preparing "brown bag" lunches.

How do I know food poisoning is the problem?

You wouldn't—without thorough medical tests. But if you have severe headache, diarrhea, vomiting, abdominal cramps and fever after eating, there's a pretty good chance it might be food poisoning. Because of the similarity of symptoms, "flu" or other stomach disorders and food poisoning are often mistaken for each other. But if you see signs of this "disease," which is rarely fatal except to infants and elderly persons, ask your doctor about the possibility of food poisoning.

How can I avoid food poisoning problems with "brown bag" lunches?

Be careful when preparing lunches. All utensils and countertops should be scrupulously clean. They should be washed with soap and hot water after contact with raw food and before contact with cooked food. Wash your hands the same way. Cook food thoroughly. Don't let the lunch stand at room temperature for long periods of time. Don't prepare lunches if you have open cuts or sores on your hands, unless you wear rubber or plastic gloves. Sterilize vacuum bottles after each use. Keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold, so that whatever bacteria are present don't have a chance to grow and spread. Remember, ignoring these simple food care and personal hygiene precautions can pave the way for bacterial contamination of "brown bag" lunches.

What kinds of meat and poultry products are best for "brown bag" lunches?

Canned Meat and Poultry products are a good bet (if the can is sealed and not bulged or dented). Dry meats, or fully cooked products like bologna and franks, keep well too. Soups, stews, or chili are good in lunches, and can be kept piping hot in a vacuum jug. Frozen chicken or turkey is good, too. Virtually any meat or poultry product can be used if it's cooked and handled properly.

Are special precautions needed with fruits and vegetables?

Just be sure they're clean and well scrubbed. Besides bacteria, they may be contaminated with surface residues of pesticides or herbicides.

What about soups, stews and chili?

If these products are boiling hot when poured into a sterile vacuum bottle, you shouldn't have any problem with them at all. Salmonellae, for example, are killed by exposure to 155 degrees Fahrenheit. Soup brought to a boil and put into a vacuum bottle will be safe.

How long should I store products like lunchmeat?

These should be used within one week after purchase. If kept longer than that, they can become contaminated from being opened and handled in the kitchen. And their already high spiciness is increased by storage.

What is the real key to packing a safe "brown bag" lunch?

Very simply: Good, sensible sanitation, personal hygiene and sound food care techniques. Following a few simple, easy precautions now will save you and your loved ones a lot of grief later.

UGLY OR BEAUTIFUL?

It all depends on whether or not you are a lobster-lover. To those who enjoy this succulent fruit of the sea, a lobster is a thing of beauty. To others, it seems incredibly ugly.

Beauty is "in the eye of the beholder," but, contrary to another old saying, it is not skin deep. True beauty often can't be seen at all. It is something you feel, something of which you are aware—not necessarily seen.

Beauty, for instance, surrounds you when you walk into a church. There is something in the atmosphere that you can't quite define. No matter what's been happening to you, in God's Home, you feel a sense of peace, of sanctuary.

Had that experience lately?

Commissioners—Weekend Rains Continue To Dot County

Citizens who have old cars or old car bodies to get rid of around their premises now have an opportunity. Judge Williams reported that a metal baler has been set up at the old dump ground site south of town and old car bodies are being disposed of there.

After discussion, the court decided to leave all voting boxes and precincts the same for the Nov. 6, election, as they have been in past years.

Judge and Mrs. Troy Williams were in Austin two weeks ago and sat in on a hospital hearing.

Cubs 8th Wins, Cub 7th Loses In Sonora Play

The Ozona Junior High Cubs traveled to Sonora last Thursday to add another win-loss to their record. The 7th graders lost their game 27-0 while the 8th grade shut out the Colts 22-0.

Although the 7th grade team failed to score, they played well. Danny Sewell and Joel Sanchez were outstanding both defensively and offensively.

The 8th grade team continued to show their ability in their romp over the Colts.

Javier Reyes brought home the first TD with a 4 yard run while Blake Moody ran in the 2 conversion points. The Cubs scored again when Blake Moody ran in from 7 yards, but the PAT failed. Randy Allen scored the third touchdown with a 20 yard run. Two points were added with a pass from Moody to Reyes.

There were three interceptions during the game. Randy Allen snatched the first one with Steve Pagan and Danny Weant taking Sonora's ball to set up the last two touchdowns.

Outstanding on defense were Max Schroeder and Blake Moody.

CARD OF THANKS

Our warmest thanks to all who expressed their sympathy with cards, food, flowers, and especially prayers during the loss of our loved one.

We are very grateful for the comfort our friends gave and continue to give us.

CORRECTION:

There was an error on the part of the Stockman in the Trade Rite Grocery ad last week. The price for 10 pounds of pinto beans should have read $1.98 and not $1.59 as stated. We regret the mistake.

The Old Timer

"A class reunion is a time when old school mates get together to find out who is falling apart."

Teen Council Members Elected

The Teen Council for the Youth Center elected new members in a school-wide election last week. Members of the council work with the director in planning activities, assist in decorating for dances and otherwise oversee youth activities at the center.

Elected from the eighth grade were Bill Dudley, Kelly Fenton and Danny Weant. From the ninth grade, Brian Gries, Bobby Knox and Jim Tankersley were elected. Tenth grade members are Lynn Maness, Kirby Kirklen, Ricky Perry.

Juniors elected to serve on the council were Sally Bailey, Debra Clayton and Darrell Karr. Senior members include Gary Mitchell, Mark Kerby and Craig Taliaferro.

Mrs. James Childress and Mrs. Bill Clegg returned Sunday from a three week tour of Europe.
