Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

I had sort of looked forward to the Olympics on television after being a captive audience of both the Democratic and Republican National Conventions and the post-mortems of both by newscasters, but I just thought we were going to have some relief from politics.

The Olympics have been nothing but politics from start to finish. From barring the Rodesian athletes from participation to the horrible take-over of the Israeli athletes by the Palestinian guerrillas, it has been dirty politics.

The Iron Curtain countries have fielded crooked judges who consistently gave American athletes low scores for no apparent reason. The outcome in all events which depended on judges' decisions were outrageously in favor of athletes from the judge's own country and against the American. They have switched times in races where the American entries were sure to be the winners, and even denied the American pole vaulter the use of his own equipment.

It has been a disgusting display of foul-play, and if American Olympic officials had a lick of sense, they would withdraw from further participation, until some sort of fair-play standards were set up and adhered to.

I am sick and tired of having every little country in the world, some less than half the size of Crockett County, kick the United States around. When it comes to cheating the finest of our athletes, both boys and girls, I feel that instead of "turning the other cheek," as has been our policy for years, we should simply withdraw from further participation in games with communist countries.

We had a very quiet holiday around these parts Monday, and if it had not been for the traffic, we might have been on the moon. There were no wrecks to speak of that we know anything about, and certainly no news. Of course, Tuesday made up for it and we've been running around like the proverbial "chicken with his head cut off," all week. What a wonderful thing for this business if they would move all the holidays to Friday, or better yet, to Saturday.

After a couple of weeks of having a husband "down in the back," and I mean literally, I have decided that life really is full of little problems. I would much prefer to be down in the back myself. I am more the type to suffer in silence. However, it's really been hard on both of us. It's physical pain to him and mental anguish to me. We've tried all sorts of remedies. To date, nothing has really worked. He has found that cussing does nothing to lessen the pain, and I have decided that the only thing to do for a husband who's down in the back is shoot him. Why do less for a husband than they do for a horse?

One gem of knowledge has come to me through all this. I found that doctors have more patients with this complaint than all others put together, and that it is seldom if ever fatal. According to a clipping I saw on a doctor's wall, low back pain can be caused by almost anything, being too fat, being too thin, being too tense, worrying too much, dieting too strenuously, you name it and that can cause it. It also said the pain is apt to leave as fast as it descends. This knowledge is some comfort to me when I think it is going to go on forever, but Tom didn't read the clipping.

No wonder: Driving up to the house to deliver a couple's seventh child, the doctor almost ran down a duck. "Is that your duck out front," he asked the husband. "It's ours all right," answered the man, "but it ain't no duck, it's a stork with its legs worn off."

SENIOR GIRLS SELLING MUMS FOR THE HOMECOMING GAME is not an unusual sight at this time of year, but the current class is out-doing itself trying to set a record. Here they appeal to the citizens of Ozona in sign language. The homecoming game is a month away, but the girls are taking orders and will

Crockett Ranch Shooting Results In Charges Against S.A. Woman

Marie Higginbotham, 52, was lodged in Crockett County Jail last Tuesday night and charged with "attempted murder" following the shooting of C. A. Butler at the Butler ranch in the northeast corner of Crockett County late Tuesday night.

Butler, 59, was shot once in the head and once in the back with a .22 caliber pistol. Officers were dispatched and met Butler on the road near his ranch home. They returned to the house and called a ambulance. He was rushed to Shannon Hospital in San Angelo where he was in intensive care and critical condition until late last week. He was to have been transferred to the Veterans Hospital in Big Spring early this week.

Mrs. Higginbotham, a San Angelo woman who had been living at the Butler ranch for several months, drove to a neighboring ranch after the shooting to notify officers, and was taken into custody there. The shooting followed an argument between the man and woman. The small caliber pistol belonged to Mrs. Higginbotham, and had been purchased in San Angelo.

Mrs. Higginbotham was released under a $2,500 bond late last week. The case will be presented to the grand jury at its next session.

Sept. Adds To County Bountiful Rain Record

The month of September has brought good general rains to Crockett County and the surrounding area. Friday night and Saturday morning 1.17 inches of slow-falling rain was recorded in the official gauge at the Water District office for the city of Ozona.

Some of the rangelands in the southwest part of the county which had received almost no rain during the summer recorded up to three inches during the same period.

A heavy shower Tuesday morning left .88 of an inch of rain on the city and sent draws running. Cloudy skies prevailed

Tuesday with periodic light rain.

All parts of the county reported rain during the first five days of the month with the heaviest falls in the southwest part of the county. Up to two inches were reported toward the western edge of the county, while an inch to an inch and a half was the general report in the south part of the county. Good rains were also reported in the northern and eastern sections.

According to the official gauge, 2.14 inches have been recorded from the first of Sept. until the fifth.

Jacoby stated that the program will be devoted to problems and conditions that occur in Crockett County. Homeowners are invited to come and discuss problems that occur in Ozona.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Keesler for specialized training in communications-electronics systems.

Airman Karr is a 1972 graduate of Ozona High School.

Potent Lion Squad Set For First Test Against Junction Fri. Night

Coach Rip Sewell announced the starting line-up for the Lions this week to go against the Junction Eagles in the first game of the season in Lion Stadium Friday night. At left end will be Randy Crawford, 172 pound senior, offense and defense; at left tackle on both offense and defense will be Joe Martinez, 185 pound senior. Fred Vela, 185 pound senior will play left guard on offense and right tackle on defense. David Weant, 165 pound senior will play center and middle guard. Melicio Martinez, 190 pound junior will be at right guard, and George Gries, 188 pound senior, will play right tackle on offense. Gary Mitchell, 188 pound junior will play right end on offense and left linebacker on defense.

Former Ozonan Gets LVN License

Mrs. Patsy Glasscock, the former Patsy Sessom of Ozona, will be one of a class of 30 to receive her Licensed Vocational Nursing Certificate at exercises Saturday evening at 7:30 at Harris Baptist Church in San Angelo.

The course consisted of a year of classroom instruction and extensive on-the-job training in San Angelo hospitals.

Patsy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Sessom of Ozona and is a 1964 graduate of Ozona High School. She has two children, Devin and Lisa. After graduation she plans to work in one of the San Angelo hospitals.

Range Experts To Head Special Rancher Program

Crockett County Agricultural Agent Pete Jacoby announced that a special program will be held for local ranchers. The program will be held from 3:30 to 5:00 in the courthouse courtroom and will include color slides presentation.

Presenting the program will be Dr. Bill Jacoby, Area Range Specialist, and Fr. Del Davis, Area Livestock Specialist, both of whom are headquartered in the District 6 office at Fort Stockton. The program will deal with localized situations and discussion of problem areas in livestock and range is encouraged.

In the back field will be quarterback David Sewell, 179 pound senior, who will play right halfback on defense; Gerald Huff, 175 pound senior, will play left halfback and defensive safety; fullback Gary Whitley, 180 pound senior, will play right line-backer on defense. Ruben Tambunga, 178 pound senior, will play left halfback on offense and right safety on defense. Ricky Webster, 150 pound senior, will start at defensive left halfback and Oliver Payne, 160 pound junior, will be at defensive right end.

Other Lions have proved outstanding in the two practice scrimmages and will see lots of action Friday night, according to Coach Sewell. Backs who looked especially good were Tim Evans, Pete Maldonado, Payne and Rick Humnicutt. Linemen to see duty are Steve Wilkins, Less Russell, Jack Baggett, Dan Davidson, Sam Tambunga, Jim West and Saul Torres.

Last year's opener with Junction saw the Lions win 7-0. The Eagles are an experienced team with eight starters returning, so the Lions will have an opportunity to prove their worth. Coach Sewell thinks the outcome of Friday night's game will be determined on the breaks as both teams look about the same in size, experience and speed. The Eagles might have the edge in size and the Lions might have a little more speed. At any rate, the game promises to be a fine season opener and Lion fans are urged to be on hand to give their team that extra boost.

The Lions have shown up extremely well in both pre-season scrimmages this year. The almost totally junior ball club last year has matured into a first rate senior club, and beat the Lakeview Chiefs, a AAA ball club 2-1 in the first scrimmage, while beating the Alpine Bucks 2-1 in the scrimmage at Fort Stockton last Friday night. The Bucks were rated ninth in state in pre-season Class AA polls.

Trevino Infant Buried Sunday

Funeral services for John A. Trevino, 21 months, were held Sunday, July 27, from the Catholic Church.

The child, ill from birth, died Saturday, July 26, in the Crockett County Hospital. He was born Nov. 1, 1970 in Ozona.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andres Trevino and several brothers and sisters.

LABOR DAY MISHAP IN OZONA - An Austin couple was returning to their home after a week of seeing the sights and enjoying their camper in the Big Bend when this mishap occurred. The wife was driving and the husband was asleep in the camper. She decided to pull over and switch places and when she did the limb from a large pecan got in the way of the overhead camper, throwing the pickup onto the sidewalk and literally wrecking the camper. Needless to say, it was not necessary to awaken the husband.

PAMPAS GRASS in the W. E. (Cap) West yard is outdoing itself this year, as in many other yards in town. The plants seem to thrive in heat, humidity, and all the other weather conditions this August has brought. The graceful plants may be seen all over town at their magnificent best these days.

FOUR THREATS TO YOUTH

Former Attorney General John Mitchell said: "It is no exaggeration to say that the drug danger threatens the moral and physical health of an entire generation." Most Americans know there is a drug problem, but few understand its core. There are four basic types of dangerous drugs that everyone should be familiar with.

One: hard narcotics derived from the opium poppy. Red China and Turkey are the chief opium sources. Opium is converted into morphine and heroin.

Two: stimulants called "ups" that produce feelings of energy. Ups act directly on the central nervous system, causing weight loss and inability to sleep. Amphetamines are the most widely used stimulants, often called "speed," "dexies" or "pep pills."

Three: depressants called "downs" that relieve tension temporarily, produce sleep and deaden the central nervous system. Barbiturates are the most common downs, also called "goofballs" or "barbs."

Four: hallucinogens such as LSD and marijuana that lure the mind into pipe dreams. LSD is usually called "acid" because its chemical name is lysergic acid diethylamide. Marijuana, and hashish, its more concentrated form, contain THC (tetrahydrocannabinol), a brain-damaging substance. They are usually called "pot," "grass," "hash," or "joints."

Of the above drugs, heroin is the most deadly, marijuana the most dangerous. Heroin addicts, reports the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, steal an estimated $9 billion worth of merchandise a year to pay for their habits. Less than one out of 10 addicts recover. Most are dead within a few years.

Marijuana is particularly insidious because it is usually the first drug people try, often as a dare. According to a veteran Federal narcotics agent: "Eight out of every 10 heroin addicts I've talked to in the last 10 years started their drug career with marijuana."

Marijuana smokers, or "pot heads," claim that it is no worse than alcohol. We cannot ignore alcoholism. Neither can we be deluded into believing that one illness is tolerable because there is another one just as bad. Dr. Stanley Yolles, former Director of the National Institute of Mental Health, says medical evidence shows that marijuana "is similar to LSD; can, in sufficient high dosage of THC, induce psychotic (insane) reactions."

Hippies at Miami's recent Democratic convention dedicated a Pot Tree. They just might be in asylums or cemeteries by the next convention.

Ozonan Speaker At SA Club Meet

Mrs. Leonard L. Bryant of Ozona will present a parliamentary workshop during the International Toastmistress Clubs meeting Saturday at the Cactus Hotel in San Angelo.

The San Angelo club will host the regional council meeting and special emphasis will be placed on parliamentary procedure. Mrs. Bryant's workshop will deal with facilitating and expediting business in Toastmistress and other organized group meetings.

Mrs. Bryant is a member at large of Toastmistress International, having served at all levels and having organized and served as president for the third term of the Busy-lines Toastmistress Club in Fort Worth.

She organized and served as president of the "By the Rule" Parliamentary Unit, is a member of state and national parliamentary associations and has taught classes in parliamentary procedure at the Y, W. C. A. and other organizations.

There will be a meeting Tuesday, Sept. 12, at 8:00 P. M. in the Border Patrol Office. The agenda will include officer election and fall activities.

Letters To the Editor

Dear Mrs. Montgomery:
Two decades ago Dwight D. Eisenhower realized the danger of a Communist takeover in this country.

He said: "Americans, indeed all free men, remember that in the final choice a soldier's pack is not so heavy burden as a prisoner's chains."

We must be ready to dare all for our country. For history does not long entrust the care of freedom to the weak or the timid. A people that values its privileges above its principles soon loses both.

What a far cry from the pacifist politicians of our day!

Washington News Letter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Is Ramsey Clark McGovern's choice to replace J. Edgar Hoover?

A Big Lake housewife has asked me what I think about that prospect, should Senator McGovern be elected President. The answer is, of course, speculative, but the odds seem to favor Clark.

Here is some of the background for that belief: a year ago Senator McGovern publicly praised Ramsey Clark very highly, and then described him as the "perfect choice" to succeed Hoover as Director of the FBI. At the time the Senator made that statement he was an active candidate for the Presidency.

Clark has been one of the chief architects of the McGovern campaign since the Senator announced. Clark recently went to Hanoi, supposedly to investigate U. S. "war crimes" against the Communists. After consulting with Hanoi's warlords, he reported that the election of McGovern would trigger the immediate release of some U. S. prisoners of war next Jan. 20 and the release of all of them in another three months.

The Hanoi regime had previously announced hope McGovern would be elected President, and Clark's follow-up mission to the enemy's capitol may have been to exploit that fact by connecting the fate of POW's with the political fate of his choice for President.

While in Hanoi Clark in radio interviews with Communists, heaped abuse on the U. S. He spoke of "massive, inhuman" U. S. bombing for which "there can be no possible justification in the eyes of common morality."

Ramsey Clark's mission to Hanoi had the markings of a political ploy, and served as a stage for him to repeat his bitter attacks on our country's resistance to Communist aggressors in South Vietnam. It would appear certain that either his mind is drifting or as an American he has engaged in grossly outrageous and despicable conduct.

Specialist Gives Tips On Wardrobe Planning

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a two-part fashion series on fall wardrobe—planning and selection—prepared by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. In Part II, which concerns wardrobe selection, Roxanne Schnorr, Extension clothing specialist, outlines tips for selection fashions while staying within a budget.)

College Station—Getting the most satisfaction for your clothing dollar depends on your buymanship abilities, according to Roxanne Schnorr, Texas Agricultural Extension Service clothing specialist.

"Your season's wardrobe budget will have more buying power if basic rules, such as selecting the correct size, checking the fit, analyzing workmanship and reading hangtags, are followed," she advised.

In discussing effective selection of wardrobe items, the Texas A&M University specialist added that other considerations team with basic rules for success in buying. They are the budget itself, fabric care after purchase, and flexibility of style.

"Completing your wardrobe and being fashionably dressed can be done without overspending," Miss Schnorr insisted. "Your budget is the best guideline for getting the clothes you need at prices you can pay."

"Avoid impulse spending spree," she cautioned. "It's wiser to buy one outfit at a time to coordinate with your total wardrobe and to observe the new arrivals at stores periodically."

"Be sure to set aside enough money for large purchases—especially if they won't be the first selection you make in the season."

"Don't go overboard on price for any one article. Many changes may be more satisfying for an on-the-go female than one or two high-quality outfits. Fashion turnover seems to be frequent, and the 'in' look may be easier to achieve with a moderate price," the Texas A&M University specialist explained, adding that all fashions can be purchased on the ready-to-wear market at prices to fit a budget.

A second major consideration in selecting wardrobe fashions is upkeep required of the fabrics. Easy-care fabrics may be more suitable to the budget as well as the time schedule, Miss Schnorr said.

Flexibility of style marks the third consideration. "To extend your wardrobe as far as possible, think in terms of different effects you can get by switching separates around," she suggested. "Dual-purpose outfits add flexibility to the wardrobe."

"Accessories are important, too, as they help make your wardrobe go further. They're fun to buy but often are fads, so you won't want to put a lot of money into any one thing. Remember, prices often are reduced to a modest level soon after they first hit the market," she cautioned.

Returning to the basic rules of buying, Miss Schnorr offered these tips for checking fit and style:

Before you make the final decision, check the appearance of the outfit from all angles. Look to see how it appears from the back.

It should be comfortable and look well while you're seated and while you're walking.

"One of the best rules of thumb is never buy anything unless it does something for you," the specialist concluded. "It should emphasize figure assets, flatter you with color to highlight your skin tones, the color of your eyes and sheen of your hair, and it should make you feel great."

"Consider your selections carefully, and you'll love wearing your seasonal-fashion wardrobe," she added.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
By Mrs. Bailey Post

That faint tinge of Autumn you feel early mornings and after sunset is a gentle reminder that the fall planting season is but a few short weeks away. In the meantime, there is some garden grooming to be done as well as some September planting to be made.

If seedlings of such hardy annuals as petunia, phlox and salvia have germinated in your flower beds, take them up spade the soil and apply a complete fertilizer. Replant the seedlings, giving them plenty of space. Mulch them lightly. Your reward will be early flowers of good quality next spring.

To encourage roses and dahlias to bloom until frost, give them a light application of fertilizer now.

For blooms next spring, plant bluebonnet seeds in September. Seeds are available at most garden centers. Scatter seed over the seedbed, then lightly rake them about 1/4 inch into the soil. They'll grow during winter with no injury from frost or light freezes. They are a member of the lupine family and prefer to grow in soil that's poor rather than rich or heavily fertilized. Bluebonnets do best in slightly alkaline soil and need full sun and good drainage. Once established, they grow better when undisturbed by transplanting.

You may plant now for spring these perennials, Canterbury bells, English daisies, foxglove, snailflower, Shasta daisy and snapdragons that grow as a perennial here.

If you plan to move broad-leaf evergreens, they should be moved this month so that the plant's cut roots may re-establish their sources of moisture supply before the ground freezes.

Deciduous plants that are to be moved before their leaves drop should be treated like evergreens and lifted only with a root ball.

HOW IMPORTANT IS YOUR FURNITURE?

Next to buying your own home, your purchase of furniture is probably the most important item you will ever buy.

BROWN

Your furnishings reflect your way of life. Actually, they are your way of living. There is an old saying that "A home is a place for a man to hang his hat, but for a woman -- it is her very life." And like many old sayings it is completely false.

The home is for every member of the family and it should be furnished accordingly. It is an important part of the atmosphere in which your children are being raised. It affects the mental health of the entire family by influencing everyone's attitude toward the daily routine of life.

Knowing that your furniture selection is of such importance, buying furniture is actually an emotional experience for many people.

It's a good idea to discuss your family's furniture needs with an experienced furniture counsellor, and we stand ready to help you. Come in and talk over your furnishing needs. Remember, there is no obligation.

Is now the time to buy land?

Acquiring that farm might seem more practical with financing through the Federal Land Bank. Land is easier to pay off when costs are amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less. Ask us for help: We know land values; we will inspect the property. We will then try to make a loan that meets your exact needs.

More than a FRIEND

Did you ever have a pal who was like a second shadow to you... a friend who was always there when you needed him... someone who laughed with you when you were happy, and comforted you when your turtle died or your puppy ran away?

Our world is a big place, and people, even close friends, can't always stay together. One day you had to say "goodbye" and go your separate ways.

Since then, you've found new friends. You've also found an emptiness, a need, which people alone could not satisfy. We need a goal at the end of life's path and un-failing strength and guidance along the way.

Only God can fill this emptiness.

Only God can be with you the entire length of your path.

And when you reach the end? Only God can take you safely beyond.

Come to church this Sunday. You don't have to walk alone.

Debra Says:
By HD Agent
Debra Gentry

Classics are back in a big way, according to Debra Gentry, county Extension agent.

"Seemingly as American as apple pie, styles are comfortable and neat, yet have a softness to give just the right touch of femininity for the wardrobes of active women."

"Don't think for a minute that a grab into mom's attic will create clothes with a classic look.

Classics this fall include a variety of vests, elongated jackets and sweaters, pointed lapels and collars, wrap-arounds and tie belts, sweater sets with crew necks and straight stitch.

Treatments of the classics make the difference and mark the fashions for today, the agent explained.

"For one thing, most designs are washable, no-iron fabrics and yarns--every bit as good looking but with the built-in economy and time saving qualities of easy care. Because of the many synthetics and blends, save hangtags with laundering instructions and post in the laundry room for quick reference," she suggested.

Although the framework is there, significant changes make today's classics a really new scene.

Softness comes with fluffy, brushed, nappy materials--plus tucks, ruffles and tiny trims. Cap sleeves, as well as traditional cuts, mark jumpers that can "go it alone."

"Skirt lengths, too, have settled to a practical length somewhere around the knee. Exceptions occur in some mid-lengths and particularly for the youth market--a showing of six-inch-1 1/2 above-the-knee dresses," the agent remarked.

Blazers and shirttail jackets are to-everywhere items, topping pants and long skirts and everything in between.

The newest in pants is wide and cuffed--often with front pleats and high-fitted, belted waistline. Jeans are still popular, now seen with turned-up cuffs of contrasting printed lining or two-tone treatments.

"A new phrase, body build-up, is fashion talk for the layered look--well established last season and still popular this fall." Bodysuits are designed to go under other layers, go alone, or come coordinated with their own build ups," the agent said.
