Today is the first day of summer, officially at least. It's really been summer for a couple of months as far as weather goes.

Maybe we will be well-conditioned for July and August, traditionally our really hot weather months. Of course, the way things change, we might have our first norther along about then. Wishful thinking I'm sure.

kk
I'm happy about the price freeze. My office supplies and paper had already gone sky-high. I had reached the point that I couldn't look my customer in the eye when I quoted a price.

My paper company had started issuing throw-away price books and had informed me that prices were going up so fast I could expect a new book every month or so.

I dread phase IV. I prefer price controls and I believe phase III proved that people cannot be relied upon to voluntarily hold prices down.

When we went into phase III, utilities went up, the telephone bill went up, the cost of having the paper printed went up, wholesale price on paper and paper supplies went up not once but several times, and service became a thing of the past. Of course, good service has been going down the drain in America for years, along with craftsmanship, look at all the foreign-made products Americans buy. I can remember when a "made in Japan" label automatically brought to mind a product that would fall apart immediately. It meant cheaply made and inferior. Now, suddenly we've seen a change in all that and it's American products that fall apart, and although cheap they may be, they are usually very expensive and hit the consumer right where it hurts, in the pocketbook.

Price controls, along with other government controls, are offensive in a free country. But we've become so lazy and greedy, it seems they are very necessary. More's the pity.

I took off last week and made a flying trip to "Colorado" for a visit with my family. I drove and was a little apprehensive about the gasoline situation. I had no problem from here to the top of the Panhandle, in fact, gasoline seemed plentiful and cost less than it does in our area. However, when I got to Colorado, I found gas at least 10¢ a gallon more and was allowed only 10 gallons per fill-up.

However, that didn't seem to keep any vehicles off the road. I've never seen so many campers and trailers in my life.

Five Injured In Car-Truck Crash Saturday

Five persons were injured in a freak truck-auto accident on Lancaster Hill west of Ozona at mid-morning Saturday.

The accident occurred when a 1969 truck tractor and semi-trailer, owned by G. Peveto of Orange and driven by Dwayne Irvan Meyer of Orange went into a curve too fast and hit the retaining wall and overturned.

The truck skidded down the hill and hit a 1967 Chevrolet head-on. The car was driven by Russell E. Puckett of Aberdeen, N.C., stationed in San Antonio with the Air Force. He was hospitalized along with the others in the Iraan hospital. His 12-year-old son, Jeffery Puckett, was a passenger in the front seat and was hospitalized with cuts and bruises. The most seriously injured was Puckett's wife, Billy Jean. She was asleep in the rear seat when her son cried out as he saw the overturned cattle truck coming toward the car. She raised up and was struck in the head by the hood of the car as it crashed through the windshield. She sustained a serious head injury.

The driver of the truck, and a passenger who was asleep in the sleeper cab, Billy Jack Scarber of Buena, were both hospitalized and in fair condition.

The truck was loaded with 116 head of calves enroute to a Pecos feedlot.

Several of the animals were injured and at least one was dead from the crash. They were rounded up and put in a trap nearby.

Traffic on the heavily traveled road piled up in both directions. B. B. Ingham, who has a ranch near the scene of the accident, routed travelers through an improvised detour and the traffic jam was soon thinned out.

The accident was investigated by Highway Patrolman Bobby Papsan, DPS.

ized in the Iraan hospital. There was barely room for traffic to squeeze by the wreckage, and cars and trucks piled up in both lanes until a detour was set up to relieve the congestion. Injured were the truck driver and his passenger and an air force family.

Plane Narrowly Misses Cyclists At Airport Fri.

Tragedy was averted Friday night when an alert pilot spotted motorcyclists on the landing strip at the Crockett County airport and pulled his plane up, barely missing two youngsters on motor bikes.

The pilot saw the cyclists dimly in his landing lights and pulled up to try another landing.

A complaint to H. C. McCorkle, airport manager, prompted him to ask The Stockman to publish a notice that Federal law prohibits any type vehicle from being on an air strip at anytime, day or night.

McCorkle especially urged that parents take heed if their children operate motor bikes of any kind, and to impress on the children the danger of riding on the air strip, also the breaking of a law, for which parents will be held liable.

McCorkle was not at the airport at the time of the incident, but was contacted by the shaken pilot later. It was assumed the cyclists were youngsters, as they were in the act of racing the plane to the end of the runway.

Heavier air traffic at the local airport than in past years makes the landing strip dangerous to those on the ground at most any hour.

Tenn. Funeral Services For Ozonan's Brother

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Lott attended funeral services in Selmer, Tenn. June 9 for Mrs. Lott's brother, Lowell Jones, 32, who died the previous Thursday after a brief illness. Mr. Jones was 32 years of age.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones of Selmer, one brother, Gordon Jones and two sisters, Mrs. Lott of Ozona and Mrs. Iris Tull of Selmer.

Mr. Lott is pharmacist for Western Drug here. His father, who is pharmacist for the Western chain in Sonora, filled in here during his absence.

New Director To Take Over Civic Center July 1

Walter W. Wooley, a native of Marfa, will take over as Civic Center and Youth Director, July 1, replacing Earl Hacker who resigned recently.

Wooley, 46-year-old graduate of Marfa High School, is presently serving as Youth Director of the First Baptist Church in Crystal City, and has retired a principal of the Crystal City Community School in order to accept the position here.

Wooley attended Laredo Junior College and Trinity University with a major in sociology. He has served in dual capacities throughout the years as a teacher, coach, and Baptist pastor. He has vast experience in working with youngsters. Besides his job as principal of the Community School, a school accredited for a 12 year curriculum, he directed two kindergartens, the personnel of grades five through twelve, and operated the school's youth program.

He has served as pastor of two south Texas churches, was youth counselor for the Community Action Council, and taught four years in the Eagle Pass High School.

He is married and has two children, his wife, Ann, is 38, and his two sons, Robert and Greg, are ages 16 and 17 respectively.

Mr. Wooley applied for the position in February when Hacker resigned and then decided to stay on. The board, in reviewing applications received at that time, felt that Wooley was the best qualified applicant.

Historical Marker For County's First Town To Be Dedicated Tue

Dedication of an official Texas Historical Marker designating Emerald as the first townsite in Crockett County, 1899, will be held Tuesday afternoon, June 26 at 3:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Civic Center. This dedication will follow the closing of the regional meeting of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. The public is invited to come and hear a brief program concerning the first colonization of Crockett County and the little town which was destined to live only a few years. Descendants of some of the original famies of Emerald are living in Crockett County and throughout Texas.

The land promotion was the brain-child of T. A. Wilkinson, agent for the Ft. Worth and Rio Grande Railroad. Mr. Wilkinson then lived in Ft. Worth and early deed records in the Crockett County Courthouse show an ample number of Ft. Worth, Dallas and Tarrant Co. citizens investing in an undivided 1/20 th of the section of land designated as the townsite for Emerald Grove. Within a radius of a few miles, early deeds show the landowners to be from Ohio, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Iowa and other states which suffer from severe winters. Mr. Wilkinson promoted Crockett County as a fertile land bathed in sunshine with a salubrious climate.

Prespective clients were brought in by railroad either to Ft. Worth or San Angelo and on to Crockett County to view the site. Records show that he was successful in selling tracts usually in a section or half-section block. Most of the owners were carried on early tax rolls as non-resident and in time the land was sold and today comprises parts of several larger ranches.

The program for the dedication will tell of the formation of the little town and human interest stories of the people who lived there. Many of these people later became citizens of Ozona after it was organized as the County Seat of Crockett County.

Mr. Truett Latimer, of Austin, Executive Director of the Texas State Historical Committee, will dedicate the marker.

History Appreciation Activities Are Told

A week full of activities has been planned for Crockett County Historical Appreciation Week, which gets underway Sunday.

Sunday the various churches will pay tribute to the pioneer and charter members.

Monday evening the Crockett County Historical Society will

MAINTENANCE DEPT. COMMENDED -- Crockett county maintenance division, State Highway Department, headed by Scotty Houston, supervisor, was among those receiving commendation from the State Highway Department in Austin for a job well done during the worst winter and early Spring in recent history. A letter of commendation went to heads of some 250 maintenance divisions in Texas. "The past few months serve to remind us of the skill, courage and dedication of you and your crew in emergency situations," the letter said. No better performance was turned in by any division than that by the one headed by Mr. Houston. Abortion Confusion

Fuzzy thinking continues to plague good people who see abortions as murder and therefore seek to force everyone to conform to their views. Anti-abortion forces have in recent months applied enough pressure (and fog) to stampede otherwise unflappable politicians into introducing legislation in Congress to reimpose laws which reflect the thinking of this segment of the population on all the people of the country.

The cardinal principle of the Supreme Court's long-awaited decision on abortions refuses to be acknowledged by many anti-abortion zealots. That is that the present law forces no one to have an abortion.

What the court said was that prospective mothers, and their doctors and husbands, have the right to decide for themselves during the first three months of pregnancy whether an abortion is desirable or necessary.

In extending freedom of choice for three months to mothers, the medical profession and fathers, the court struck down laws based on one church theory which forced all Americans, whether members of that church or members of no church, to conform to that theory.

Whether a fetus is a human being before it is three months old is an ageless debate; those opposing abortions have, in effect, killed many mothers. Abortionists, opponents say, kill babies, churchmen and medical men differ on the issue. That being the case, how can anyone who believes in individual liberty, no matter how self-righteously certain of his view, attempt to force everyone else in the nation to abide by that theory—through law and punishment?

Football & Drugs

Sworn depositions in a lawsuit settled out of court recently for a whopping $260,000 indicate the use and abuse of drugs has become a way of life in professional football. The depositions, given under oath in the presence of lawyers for both sides, revealed drug usage among the San Diego Chargers, Oakland Raiders, Kansas City Chiefs and Cincinnati Bengals.

Jack Murphy, writing in "The Sporting News," reports the Chargers received as many as 10,000 prescription drugs a year through a bulk delivery system and that pep pills, pain killers and sedatives were distributed in the locker room.

The $260,000 award went to Houston Ridge, a former Charger now on a crutch, facing further surgery on his hip. He claimed in the suit he had taken a muscle relaxant, pain killers and three amphetamines the day of the game in which his hip was injured. Obviously, under the effects of this, one's normal senses on pain and injury are dulled—and this is the danger of drugs.

Of course, the brutality and violence of football is partly at fault. But the drug way of life, to enable players to go on, in the face of injury and pain, is not the answer. The answer is to make football, by reforming the rules on body contact, less violent, more a sport of skill and execution rather than a butt-head confrontation of physical brawling. The porkers and unthinking like good head "knockin", as they call it, but this has killed and permanently injured too many players and has now produced a drug "rot" within professional football. It has been half a century since Teddy Roosevelt first cleaned up football, further reform is overdue.

Too Many Awards

The television industry would do well to concentrate on producing mature, intelligent programs, rather than the typical puerile, phony-laughter fare it has long been dishing up for gullible corporations seeking to sell the lowest morn soap or deodorants.

If the networks and independent producers did so, they would not be wondering—every year at this time—why the public is so indifferent to the industry's Emmy awards show.

The truth is there are too many awards—far more than are deserved—and the public knows it. Nor is the presentation of all these awards considered important by most Americans, because of a lack of respect for the television industry in general.

Much ado about nothing is a good way to describe it. Or one might say: "Who cares?"

The Dash-7

From Canada comes a new idea in air transport which might alleviate or help alleviate some of the nation's future airport and air traffic problems. The idea is personified in a short take off and landing airliner called the Dash-7.

This airliner will take off on a very short runway. That means it can serve cities with small airports safely and, interestingly, very quietly. In view of the urgent need for progress in the fight against excessive noise and air traffic congestion in and around the nation's airports, the idea seems to contain considerably merit.

The makers of Dash-7 claim it is not only capable of landing at small airports with short runways, and operating quietly, but that it is almost pollution-free, to a greater degree, for example, than 1973 automobiles.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Did you ever have a doctor tell you you've got a heart ailment? Well, I have. Not bad, but the sort of thing that sounds a warning, you know!

Feeling a bit weary one day recently I casually dropped by the Capitol Physician's office for a brief checkup. I was soon receiving a cardiogram (E, K, G., they call it). Dr. Cary didn't seem to like what he saw, and promptly ordered another EKG. In 20 minutes I was on my way to a hospital!

"Doctor," I protested, "I'm not sick, I have no pain!" "It's a matter of precaution," the M. D. explained.

"But Doctor," I persisted, "Surely not now... My full committee meets tomorrow on our big annual $20-billion military procurement bill. It's the big day of the year for me, I'm Chairman of a subcommittee that for 6 weeks has been holding hearings on 3 sections of the big bill... I've got to make that report myself... Can't you give me a couple of days? ... I feel fine."

"Nope," said Dr. Cary, "Your health comes first, and by then I was on my way."

Forty minutes and one more EKG later I managed to call my office and explain my whereabouts.

After getting settled in the Coronary Ward at the Naval Medical Center, between blood tapping and and EKGs I got to thinking about some commitments.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Editor:

We don't know how the Watergate business is being played by the media throughout the United States; but here in the Nation's Capital, the atmosphere has all the elements of the vigilantes, the witch-hunters, and the inquisition rolled into one. In all our years as observers of the Washington scene, we have seen nothing to compare with it. Some comparison has been made with the McCarthy era; but I challenge anyone to show that the anti-communist campaign was given one-half the coverage of the current anti-President vendetta.

And need we be reminded that much of the Washington press corps sympathy, in those days, was overwhelmingly on the side of the accused, not the accusers. And was even so much as one McCarthy target sent to prison for 35 years? Where are the outraged cries today that "characters are being ben-smirched, careers ruined, lives destroyed?" No, there is little comparison between McCarthy and Watergate.

We nearby choked when one correspondent, in a television round robin interview (I think it was on the Today show) proclaimed, in dulcet tones, "Of course we are all saddened and grieved by etc., etc."

In the words of Dr. Fred Schwarz, it is a wonder that the words didn't shrivel in his throat. Every new jab to the belly is greeted (outside the range of cameras and microphones) with hysterical laughter and malicious glee. Should you think we ex-

Which Is Worse?

Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo admitted photographing secret government papers and releasing them to the world, thus taking upon themselves the right to decide what national security secrets the government could have.

Bud Krogh, incensed by Ellsberg's behavior, and like Ellsberg believing ends justified the means, sanctioned a break-in at the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist, to learn more about a man he thought to be a threat to U.S. security.

Ellsberg is currently pictured by the press as a national hero; Krogh seems to be in heavy trouble, is widely pictured as a villain.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Rogues' Gallery

Arrested on a charge of gambling, Greg was tried and found not guilty. Later he learned that the police were including his photograph in a public "rogues' gallery," open to inspection by victims of crime.

Greg hastened back into court, this time as a plaintiff. He demanded that the police remove his picture from the gallery, even though they might still consider him a suspicious character.

And the court ordered the police to do just that. Citing Greg's right of privacy, the court said: "A visitor (to the gallery) might conclude that all the pictures were of criminals. This is not a pleasant thought for one conscious of his innocence."

Most courts agree, frowning on undue publicity given to a person who has been cleared of a criminal charge. Nonetheless, privacy—like all legal rights—has its limits.

Another complaint was filed by a man who had been acquitted of receiving stolen property. He wanted the police to remove his photograph and fingerprints from their private files.

But this time, the court said no. The court said keeping good records is a key to effective police work, adding:

"An accurate identification system may be an assistance not only in finding the guilty criminal but in clearing an innocent suspect."

A different aspect of the problem arose in a homicide case, when the defendant objected to evidence that some years earlier he had been convicted of manslaughter. He said he had already paid his debt to society, and was therefore entitled—under the privacy doctrine—to keep his past a closed book.

But the court ruled that his past could be reopened, because a second offense is more serious than a first offense.

"One who has been convicted of crime (forfeits) whatever right of privacy he may have possessed," said the court, "to the extent that the protection of society requires such forfeiture."

fairness, justice, and perspective still prevails.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITAL

BY BILL BOYKIN
 Texas Press Association

Texas state government may see far-reaching new changes in budgeting techniques, hopefully to save money and curb a tax increase.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe expressed enthusiasm for the Georgia "zero base" budget methods inaugurated by Gov. Jimmy Carter two years ago.

LI. Gov. Bill Hobby and a delegation of Texas budget experts, including Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris, visited Georgia last week for a briefing by Carter's aides.

When the officials returned, Briscoe said he expects to "be proceeding with implementing (changes) very shortly."

Hobby is chairman of the Legislative Budget Board, which ramrods the Texas budget process. Briscoe said he will instruct his own budget office to take the Georgia system as a model in preparing the executive department's spending recommendations.

Under the "zero base" system, all agencies are instructed to start "from scratch" in drawing up their appropriations requests rather than taking present levels of spending as their beginning point.

Governor Carter asked all Georgia agencies to detail how they would operate under existing revenues, as 15 per cent cut and slight increase. He also insisted that they list their own priorities of programs as a guide to the legislature in directing economies.

Briscoe has emphasized repeatedly that he proposes to follow that procedure in weighing the value of existing educational programs, as he maps his recommendations for revision of the public school finance system.

Leaders Challenged--One of the top leaders in the National Democratic Party was in Austin last week. That's a unique political position for a head of the nation's largest corporation.

C. Peter McCoolough, chairman of the board of Zerox Corporation, told top business executives in the capital city that social problems in the United States have become problems of business and industry and challenged the Austin leaders to quit treating symptoms of problems instead of causes.

Businesses must become less resistant to change. American institutions must examine all fundamental values in the 1970's and establish a new framework to come to grips with new problems.

Education Study Ordered--The State Board of Education agreed to go along with Governor Briscoe's request for a complete restudy of the school system after some griping that the job already had been done.

Some board members claimed they had gone over the system with a finetoothed comb since the initial Rodriguez case decision in 1971 faulting present finance methods for public education.

Briscoe, meanwhile, said he isn't asking for "just another study." What is needed, said Briscoe, is to determine the fair market value of each school district. A fundamental change, he insisted, is necessary in methods of evaluating wealth of a district. There will, pledged the Governor, be no sacred cow in his coming study.

"It would be unfair to commit the people of Texas to another spending increase measured by billions without taking every step to first correct the crumbling foundation of public school finance," said the Governor.

Energy Crisis Steps Ordered--State agencies have been called on by the Governor to cooperate in fuel supply and energy-saving plans, including travel curtailment and use of car pools.

Brig. Gen. James Rose was named to coordinate energy conservation efforts among state agencies.

At the same time, it was announced bids on the state's annual fuel contract will be three cents a gallon higher than at present for gasoline and four cents more for diesel fuel. The State Board of Control was able to contract for about the same amount of gasoline and slightly less diesel fuel, although consumption usually increases about 10 per cent per year.

The agencies, directed the Governor, must not only keep fuel consumption within given allotments but attempt to build up reserves due to uncertainty of future supplies.

Courts Speak--The Court of Criminal Appeals held the state's 1967 law against incitement to riot unconstitutional.

The State Supreme court affirmed a Potter County commissioners' decision that a dead man's name can legally appear on an election ballot.

The High Court ordered re-lease on bond of a Carrollton lawyer pending a June 20 hearing on a contempt of court order in which a Wichita Falls judge accused the attorney of unprofessional conduct following a divorce action.

AG Opinions--A person under probated sentence for violation of narcotics laws can be granted another probated sentence for a later felony violation of the same act, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

School districts should receive their pro rata share of any county permanent school fund distribution based on their resident scholastics of free school age. The money does not alter entitlement to state funds.

The Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation cannot use appropriated funds to pay back wages to employees unlawfully terminated under discriminatory practices rulings, but legal adjustments can be made.

There is no authorization for a pawn transaction in excess of $2,500.

Commissioners courts may authorize payments of accrued vacation time and other earned compensation but may not authorize payment at death of benefits not previously earned or accrued.

A person who owns the land at the time an oilwell is abandoned is the legal "landowner" liable for cost of plugging if operators do not fulfill their obligations.

HMO Hearing--The State Insurance Board held a hearing this week (June 19) to study possibility of establishing Health Maintenance Organizations--pre-paid medical plans--under Texas law.

Board Chairman Joe Christie said development of HMOs as an alternative to traditional health care should be examined thoroughly to see if runaway medical bills can be checked.

HMOs offer a comprehensive range of medical services and facilities to a single organization at a fixed contract fee paid in advance by subscribers. Christie termed the system "insurance to stay healthy."

He said national figures indicate a saving to a family with three children of about $115 a year.

Insurance Rates Reduced--More than half Texas' fire, extended coverage and home-owners insurance companies are now selling at reduced rates, according to Insurance Board Chairman Christie.

The Longest Day

It was twenty-nine years ago on the 6th of June that the greatest amphibious assault in history began, with U.S. and British troops leading the assault across the English Channel against German defenders in France.

That invasion, plus a larger Russian offensive far to the east, doomed Hitler and Nazi Germany, after the Fuhrer had become the Napoleon of the 20th century by conquering practically all of Europe. For Jews, the final assault on June 6th, 1944, was the beginning of triumph on the continent after years of unbelievable horror and persecution.

On the beaches of France that morning many men and boys died, from many countries, but overwhelming Allied air and sea power insured the landings' success. Germany was to fight on for eleven months, striking back at the United States in the Battle of the Bulge that December, but the 6th of June signaled the end for the Third Reich.

Ozonans Attend Youth Congress For Baptists

The 10th Annual West Texas Youth Congress began Monday at noon at Paisano Baptist Encampment near Alpine. Taking part in the campfires, mission trip into Mexico, religious dramas, and spiritual refreshment are Teresa Shaw, Lynn Thompson, Ann Glynn, Ronald Shaw and the pastor of First Baptist Church, Rev. S. Nelson Lanham, Jr. The main program personality is Billie Hanks, Jr., native of San Angelo, who has led in several round-the-world "Meet Jesus" crusades. The Ozona group will return Friday afternoon.

Medicare Aid Given Disabled

Starting July 1, Medicare coverage will be extended to 1.7 million disabled people under 65. Disabled people who have received social security disability payments for 2 years or more will be able to get help from Medicare in paying their hospital and doctor bills and other covered services, according to J. M. Talbot, social security manager. Medicare was previously available only to people 65 or over.

TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY
In the month of May the Texas Highway Patrol investigated 58 Rural Traffic Accidents in the six county area consisting of Coke, Crockett, Irion, Schleicher, Sterling, and Tom Green Counties. The Patrol listed 15 as injured and 3 killed in the 58 accidents reported. In Crockett County the Highway Patrol investigated 19 accidents in which 1 person was injured and 1 was killed. During the 5 month period through May 1973 the patrol investigated 63 accidents in the Crockett county area. In those accidents 18 persons were injured and 3 killed. During the same period in 1972, 71 accidents were reported in which 32 were injured and 2 were killed in Crockett County.

New Legislation Raises Hunting, Fishing Licenses

In ceremonies held at the State Capitol, Governor Dolph Briscoe signed legislation which raised fees charged for both hunting and fishing licenses. Major changes which will affect most Texas sportsmen are increases in the resident hunting license charges from the previous $3.25 to $5.25 and the fishing fees from $2.15 to $4.25. Something new for this year, a combination resident hunting and fishing license for $8.75, was also approved by the Texas Legislature. Resident hunting licenses are required of every Texan who hunts outside the county of his residence or who hunts deer or turkey. Exceptions are persons under 17 or over 65 years of age and individuals hunting any species of game except deer or turkey on land where they reside. An exempt license is necessary to hunt deer and turkey because of required tags.

Miss Garmon Is Shower Honoree

Garmon, mother of the bride-elect; Miss Becky Garmon, a sister, and Mrs. Louie Andrews, the bride-elect's grandmother, all of Sonora.

The school will be held daily Monday through Friday from 8:30 until 11:30 a.m. Pre-registration will be held Saturday morning, June 23, at 9:30. The registration will be followed by a parade through downtown Ozona and refreshments.

Blue Lights On Water Means It's Cop In Your Wake

That flashing blue light on the lake shouldn't be too hard to figure out, it means the same as a flashing red light on land. When out boating and a flashing blue light comes your way, take heed. A lawman may want to talk to you. According to law, you should reduce power to a no-wake speed until the intentions of the officer are made clear to you. If he wants to talk to you, you should stop the boat and wait for the officer to come to you. Flashing blue lights on the water are limited to game wardens and other water safety officers.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

I see Kitty is lamenting no rain too. And my husband is such a pessimist he predicts it won't rain a shirt-tail full before September. For me, every little cloud that appears gives me hope that soon we will have the always welcome rain. Better be dry than washed away as some have been.

During these dry periods, pay particular attention to the moisture needs of shallow-rooted ornamentals such as azaleas, camellias, hydrangeas, coleus, chrysanthemums and caladiums. Even in the shade, the warm breezes of summer can quickly dry out soil and plants.

Now that iris have finished blooming, they may be dug, divided and replanted. If making a new flower bed before planting, thoroughly mix 1/2 pound of 5-10-5 fertilizer and 3 or 4 inches of organic matter into each 10 square feet of soil area.

An attractive perennial in bloom now is the blue salvia or sage. Texas alone has about 20 wild species of sage. The most widely known or distributed is Salvia (farinacea). This herb has numerous erect stems that grow from 1 foot to 3 1/2 feet tall, from a stout, woody, root. Blue flowers are borne in terminal spike-like racemes in rather dense whorls. Varieties available to the public include Blue Bedder, Royal Blue, and Catima, which is an improved strain with 1 nger, very strong flowering spikes with dark blue flowers. Seed can be planted in Spring and will produce flowers from June until frost. Started plants may be purchased in containers to use as accent or border plants. If you like blue in your garden, this is an excellent plant that will furnish bloom year after year.

Dobra Says:

By HD Agent Debra Gentry

Butter Lovers--take note! The price of butter is down! Now's the time to take note on how to buy it. You'll find the U. S. Department of Agriculture grade shield on many packages of butter.

U. S. Grade AA butter is top quality. Made from high quality, fresh sweet cream, it has a delicate, sweet flavor; smooth, creamy texture with good spreadability; and the salt is completely dissolved. Grade A butter, also made from fresh cream, has a pleasing flavor and fairly smooth texture. Grade B butter, which is made from sour cream, may have a slightly acid flavor. Some consumers prefer the characteristic taste of the grade.

Did you know you can freeze butter? If you usually buy a quarter-stick a week, you may be able to save a few cents by buying a pound and freezing part of it. Butter can be safely frozen for up to a month without loss of quality.

Because of its delicate flavor and aroma, butter should always be stored in the original protective wrapping or container until ready for use. Unprotected butter readily absorbs other refrigerator food odors.

For convenience in spreading butter on toast and sandwiches, try the whipped variety. It's regular butter that has been homogenized to a smoother and softer consistency. Whipping increases the volume of butter, so use 1/3 to 1/2 more in recipes calling for regular butter measured by volume (tablespoons or cups). If the measurement is by weight (1/2-pound or 1-pound), you can use the same amount.

For those who prefer the flavor of unsalted butter, or require it for reasons of health, you'll find it labeled as "Sweet" or "unsalted" butter.

Whatever your taste in butter is, now is a good time to butter up!

HOW SMALL, YET

HOW BIG

How small a man seems—walking down a lonely road on a rainy day, with gaunt trees towering over him.

How small man is, and how frail in body. The trees in the picture and even the chimneys on the old house will probably long outlive the man.

Yet how big man is—in the things that are not of the body, but are of the mind and soul. God has not made man mammoth. But He has made him potentially great—if he will but accept the blessings given him, and use the tools of Christian teachings.

Man finds in the Church, the encouragement and the instruction to enable him to make from his God-given divine spark something great and enduring—and of benefit to all human-kind.

Highway Sign Regulations Into Effect June 30

Owners of signs along Interstate and federal-aid primary highways face a June 30 deadline to apply for a permit and a license for them. The Texas Highway Beautification Act, in effect since June of 1972, requires owners of signs which are within 660 feet of interstate or federal-aid primary highways and are visible from main traffic lanes to file permit request with the district offices of the Texas Highway Department. The permits cost $5 each. Before permits can be approved, sign owners must obtain a $25 state license and post $2,500 bond for each county in which they have a sign. Maximum bonds of $10,000 are required of owners with signs in more than three counties.

Both license and bond applications can be obtained from Right of Way Division, Texas Highway Department, P. O. Box 5075, Austin, 78763, or any Highway Department district office.
