It was a mighty quiet holiday as far as Ozona was concerned. Nobody was working downtown except the Stockman staff, and the traffic was mostly tourists. I guess they were tourists. I've never seen so many campers pulling trailers and boats in my life. The motor homes were mostly pulling small cars. If I saw a vehicle passing through without attachments, it wasn't noticed. Traffic on 290 picked up considerably about 3:30 Monday afternoon. Since there was no news we spent most of our time observing the sights. Who said you had to travel great distances to see the sights? We can look out our window here and see most anything you can see most anywhere.

Guess that will all change when 1-10 is completed, and I can't really say I am sorry.

The Lions were working that hot Labor Day afternoon too, and they probably accomplished more than we did. They are getting ready for their opener with Junction Friday night. Football season is here, the Christmas card albums have arrived, school has long since begun the fall term. What we're waiting for is that first norther. It can't be far behind. Or can it?

I am surprised at the prolonged furor over First Lady Betty Ford's admission that she would not be shocked to discover her 18-year-old single daughter was having an affair. In the first place that question was completely out of line on the part of the interviewer. In the second place, what woman in this day and age would be surprised; disappointed, hurt, heartsick, and outraged, but not "surprised." I know news is in short supply these dog days of summer, but for heaven sake, let's not castigate a woman for telling the truth. After all, she did not advocate that sort of behavior, she just said she would not be surprised or shocked. I think every head of every religious order in the United States, plus the anti-abortionists have attacked her, along with some others in high position. Any woman who would be "surprised" at this sort of thing, needs to get her head out of the sand and take a long hard look at what kids grow up with these days. From toddler on even the commercials they see on television are sex oriented. Everything from the Saturday morning comics to the soap operas contain sex and violence. This includes movies, magazine advertisements, etc. We've sat on our backsides as a nation and let immorality reign. We should be surprised, yet, at what our kids do? How absolutely hypocritical can we get?

We had a phone call last week from a citizen informing us that the county road department was at work paving a private alleyway or driveway between two fine homes on Hwy. 290. The caller asked if this was legal. We were not sure how this works, but upon investigation we found: A property owner may have private property paved by the county upon paying in advance to the county clerk. The cost of seal coat is 45¢ per square yard and the cost of paving is 75¢ per square yard. The county clerk has a check in her possession for the work inquired about.

You will notice we started our "Back the Lions" football page this week. We tried to catch everybody who is a known Lion booster, but we always seem to miss contact with one or two. If we did miss you, and you want a signature on the page, please call us and we will get your name on the page next week. O.K. ?

MISS AMERICAN JUNIOR RODEO ASSN. QUEEN OF 1976 is Ozona's Ann Tillman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tillman. Ann won the title at the national finals held last week in Odessa. She was selected by the AJRA membership over six other contestants. She is presented the traditional bouquet of roses by a former Ozonan, Steve Bland, president of the association. Ann graduated from Ozona High School in May and is presently a student at Texas Tech. She has been a consistent winner in junior rodeo circles for years.

Crockett County law enforcement statistics for the past two weeks were filed today by Deputy Sheriff Bill Wilkins. These statistics include the Labor Day weekend violations. The public is reminded that these statistics are compiled on the actions of county lawmen, and are not always filed in Crockett County courts.

Four were warned on signal intention violation. Charges were filed on one motorcycle violation and 2 warnings given. Charges were filed on 1 vehicle equipment violation and 9 warnings given. Fifteen warning tickets were given for parking violations.

In other categories, 12 driver license checks were made and 626 stolen car license checks.

Seven charges were filed for public intoxication, 2 for assault and battery, 1 for worthless checking and 3 for D. W. I.

One fugitive was apprehended and one escaped prisoner.

Officers investigated 12 family disturbances and 10 miscellaneous calls.

Billy Mills is in Houston undergoing medical tests this week.

NEW ADDITION TO SOUTH TEXAS LUMBER CO. -- Work is progressing on the new addition to the company located at the intersection of highway 163 and I-10 in Ozona. The new addition will more than double the space of the present building. Here W. H. Whitaker looks over the expansion project with Arthur Madden, representative of one of the companies South Texas purchases materials from.

Fall Shearing To Increase Screwworms

Fall shearing of sheep and goats in western areas of Texas is in full swing, and skin wounds that inevitably result are attractive to screwworm flies as egg-laying sites.

"This means an increase in the flesh-eating pests," says Dr. Mike McWhorter, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Screwworm case reports prepared by the USDA Screwworm Eradication Laboratory at Mission indicate that wounds in sheep and goats are being associated more frequently with confirmed screwworm cases.

"Producers can make a great impact in reducing screwworm cases in sheep and goats by spraying or dipping animals after shearing," points out McWhorter. The use of ronnel (Korlan) or coumaphos (Co-Ral) as a spray or dip will provide a degree of protection from screwworms until shearing wounds heal. These materials will also control residual populations of lice, ticks and keds which lower wool and hair quality and reduce animal vigor during the upcoming winter months.

If producers are unable to spray or dip animals, the entomologist advises that wound protectants containing toxophene, ronnel, lindane or coumaphos be provided to shearing crews for immediate wound treatment during shearing.

"Producers should strongly consider these management practices to help curb the total screwworm population this fall and to diminish the importance of the Texas sheep and goat industry as a screwworm production reservoir," emphasizes McWhorter.

Services Here Friday For Mrs. Jake Young

Funeral services for Mrs. Jake (Hester Bunker) Young, 68, were held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Ozona United Methodist Church with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of James Funeral Home.

Mrs. Young died in the Crockett County ambulance while enroute to a San Angelo hospital late Wednesday. She had been a patient in the hospital here after becoming ill at her home Tuesday.

She was born September 24, 1906, in Ozona. She was married to Jake Young in Ozona May 25, 1938.

Mrs. Young owned and operated a dress shop here for years before retiring about ten years ago. She was a past president of the Ozona Parent-Teacher Association and a member of the Community Center governing board. She was an active member and a past president of the Ozona Women's Forum.

Survivors include her husband; a son, Jake Young, Jr. of Albuquerque, N. M.; a daughter, Mrs. Taylor Jones of El Paso; a brother, George Bunker of Ozona; two grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Ozona Lions Take On Junction Eagles In First Game Of Season

After two pre-season scrimmages, the Ozona Lions will open the football season tomorrow, Friday, night at Junction. The Lions will leave Ozona around 4 p.m. Game-time is 8 o'clock.

Coach Rip Sewell says he expects a tough game from the Eagles of Junction. It is early in the year for scouting reports on other teams, but Junction is big and strong with several lettermen back from last year. If the Lions are to repeat their 26-0 victory over the Eagles this year, they are going to have to be ready both physically and mentally, Coach Sewell says.

The Lions are ready, the coach says, with no injuries and none of the illness which has plagued most of the town.

Coach Sewell reported a good scrimmage session at Rankin last Friday night. The Lion defense is more outstanding at the present time. This is to be expected, since most of the returning lettermen are defensive players. However, the coaches were very impressed with some of the younger players just up from the junior varsity, such as Gary Warren and Javier Reyes, along with lettermen Henry Fay, Mike Fay and John Galvan.

Although neither team managed to score in the 40-series scrimmage, Rankin moved the ball successfully from their 30-yard-line to the Lion 10 before the Lions managed to stop them. After that, the Lions had no problems stopping the Red Devils.

Offensively the coaches were impressed with Warren who had 101 yards on eight carries and Orlando DeHoyos who had 52 yards on 10 carries. Although the offensive line is small, they held their own with the Rankin players. They are quick and have learned the blocking system well enough that there were no mis-blocks on their part.

The junior varsity, in a 20-series scrimmage, scored once and the Rankin team scored once.

Coach Sewell feels if the team can keep well and off the injury list, fans can look forward to a very good season of winning ball games.

Captains were elected by the team last week. They are three senior ball players, Gene Castro, Henry Fay and Lonnie Martinez. Martinez played tackle and guard last year, but a knee injury sidelined him the latter part of the season. He has been moved to center this season, where with the help of his tall 200 pounds, he is doing a good job for the team.

Season tickets for the Lion's five home games may be purchased at the Superintendent's office. The first two games with Junction and Eldorado will be played away from home, with the first home game Sept. 19, with Ballinger.

Schedules for the Lions and the Junior Varsity follow. Clip and save for future reference.

Location is 2,640 feet from the north and 1,320 feet from the east lines of 85-OP-GC&SF.

The field, which also produces from the Ellenburger, produces from the Queen at approximately 1,100 feet and the Grayburg-San Andres at approximately 1,500 feet.

DIDN'T MAKE IT UP THE HILL - Milam Northcutt of San Angelo was a surprised truck driver late Friday afternoon when his dump truck stalled as he was traveling up the hill on Fairview Drive. He allowed the vehicle to roll back to the shoulder, only to find there was no shoulder and the truck tipped over spilling its contents into the canyon. The driver was not injured but some damage to the truck was reported. (Joey Moran Photo)

Conservation: A New Way of Life

The great and wonderful United States of America, which has been blessed with 200 years of almost unlimited growth and expansion, is inevitably and irreversibly plunging toward a time of destitution and want in many areas of natural supplies. For years, Mother Nature has provided us with all of the natural resources we desired. There appeared to be, and indeed for most of that time there was, literally no limit to what we could have, from the earth, the sky, and the sea. The larder was always full, and all we had to do was simply to take what we wanted.

But within a very few years, when we turn to Mother Nature for further supplies, we will find the cupboard bare. There won't be any more of many things. The oil and gasoline shortage of last year was simply a ripple on the surface, a bare tip of the iceberg. We are running out of things, and within a shockingly short period of time, there will be no more to be had.

The enormous impact of this new, totally unprecedented situation upon the American economy and society has yet to be perceived by the American people. But it is high time to start thinking about it.

The Brookings Institution has projected that by the year 2000, a very short 25 years from now, we will be totally dependent on foreign sources for 12 of the 13 basic raw materials required by American industry to fill consumer demands: bauxite, chrome ore, copper, lead, manganese, nickel, sulfur, tin, tungsten, zinc, phosphorus, and potassium. All known reserves of iron will be gone in 72 years. Natural gas, used for heating millions of American homes, is rapidly disappearing. We are told that there are untapped reserves of natural gas in Alaska, but if we tap that supply with the idea that it will last forever, we will be foolish indeed. Asphalt and concrete paving now covers a land area almost equal to that of the entire New England states, covering soil once available for the raising of crops and cattle.

What all of this means is that the American people, both manufacturers and consumers, must begin thinking in terms of conservation of not only energy and fuel, but of a great many things that we have heretofore taken for granted.

This does not mean that we should become alarmists, or hysterical, or see the end of the world. It does and will mean, however, that there is a new way of life ahead for most Americans, and we had best get ready for it.

Congressmen Invited to Talk Turkey

Turkey is an out-of-the-way place rarely visited by Americans. Perhaps that is one reason it was so easy for Congress recently to refuse to lift an arms embargo to Turkey: there was little risk of public protest from citizens who only slowly are coming to appreciate the great potential harm to our national interest of that refusal.

One American who strayed from the beaten tourist path and recently visited Turkey, however, returned with some timely advice for Members of Congress: go see for yourselves.

"I wish our silly Congressmen would quit playing politics and be practical and stop this cutting off arms aid to one of our few remaining friends, the Turks," writes publisher Nathan Bolton from Kars, Turkey. Bolton, who heads the Bastrop Enterprise Publishing Co. in Bastrop, La., adds that, "If the Congressmen want to continue to take 'junket trips' . . . then they should come to Turkey and see for themselves, instead of going to other places around the world like Cuba, Russia, Paris and London."

Bolton, in his column in the Daily Enterprise, also suggests what Members of Congress would find in Turkey. "All over these parts we saw Turkish soldiers and army barracks, for this is near the Russian border. Turkey has the largest army in the world for its population — a half million men in arms. That is one reason that we ought to keep the friendship of the Turks. They are powerful fighters as they demonstrated when their armies fought with us in the Korean War, yes and when they fought against the Allies in World War I and never lost a battle."

More to the point, Bolton notes that Turkey has now moved to take control of many of the estimated 25 U.S. military and intelligence-gathering bases in that country — bases that are absolutely irreplaceable as windows on the military moves of nearby Russia.

"We need to write our Congressmen and Senators and let them know that they are endangering the security of our nation," says Bolton. "These bases are solely for ourselves. Turks are not involved in them."

We believe Mr. Bolton's advice hits the nail on the head. Maybe an on-site visit to this vital NATO ally is just what Congressmen need before settling down again to talk Turkey. With that background, perhaps next time they will vote in the U.S. national interest, and not against it.

AUSTIN — Organized crime is involved in Texas prostitution, bookmaking, fencing stolen goods, car theft and drugs, according to the latest report of Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council.

The Council's latest annual report estimates $1 billion in illegal bets were placed with bookies last year, turning profits of nearly $121 million.

Bookies were said to be operating in Belton, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, Midland, Odessa and Wichita Falls and regularly contacting others in 117 Texas cities and 119 in other states.

Placing illegal bets on college and professional basketball games was pegged as the state's largest organized crime activity of 1974.

A Railroad Commission representative said "spotters" for the thieves find out where oil is stored on leases, and participating truckers roll up in early morning hours to load the oil and haul it to a refinery with bogus credentials from an East Texas independent oil operator.

Roy Payne, Railroad Commission field operations director, said a syndicate appears to have been set up to steal the costly crude oil. Hill said he suspects an organized theft ring, possibly extending across state lines. Some operators complained of thousands of dollars in losses.

Attorney General John Hill held bonds required on mobile homes cover liability only insofar as it grows out of the warranty of the manufacturer or dealer. He said surety on the bonds may minimize liability by requiring that its principal carry products liability insurance against such loss.

THE LIONS ROAR
BELINDA BEBEE & KAREN MOODY

The 1975 Football season gets underway this Friday night when the Lion's play Junction here. Everyone seems to be looking forward to having a good season this year, and if the entire student body contributes the spirit and support that they are capable of doing, it will be. Captains who will lead the Lion's this year are: Gene Castro, Henry Faye, and Lomie Martinez.

The cheerleaders, twirlers, and drum major all had a busy summer preparing for this year's Football season. They attended camps and practiced for at least an hour every day learning all of their routines. Now that school has started they are busier than ever. The cheerleaders are busy painting signs and organizing pep rallies; the twirlers are practicing routines and working with the band; and Karen Moody, the Drum major, is working with the band to get them ready for half time shows. After all the work that the coaches, football team, cheerleaders, and band put out, the least that the rest of us can do is give them the support that they deserve.

The number of blacks enrolled in college increased 56 per cent between 1970 and 1974.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

"O sweet September, thy first breeze bring, the dry leaf's rustle and the squirrel's laughter, the cool fresh air whence health and vigor spring and promise of exceeding joy hereafter!" - George Arnold.

September brings the beginning of fall and cooling weather. The pattern of our gardening efforts begin to change from one of maintenance chores to activities connected with planting and transplanting.

Rose buds should be thoroughly worked, but not too deep, in preparation for the fall bloom. Remove any diseased foliage, prune out any weak or dead wood, and apply fertilizer. Feed with two tablespoons of ammonium sulfate or equivalent around the base of each plant. Continue to spray or dust for black spot, mildew and insects. Keep well watered if no rain.

Minor blooming bulbs may be planted now, including anemones, baby gladioli, alliums, crocus, narcissi, Dutch and Spanish iris, Greesia, grape hyacinths, lycoris, snowdrops, oxalis, scillas and ranunculus.

Tulips should be purchased early, placed in cold storage until December to insure results.

Chives and parsley potted from the garden or planted in pots and taken indoors will supply pickings in winter for salads, seasonings and garnishing.

Now is the time to begin planning for next year's bi-centennial flower show in April. Flower shows, however, do not just happen. They require careful and detailed planning and days of arduous work on the part of the dedicated individuals who consider the show worth all the work it entails.

Fall is the best time to establish permanent lawns so that the grass will become well established before severe weather. Prepare the soil carefully if to be seeded, leveled so there will not be holes which detract from a well groomed lawn, and is much easier watered.

Conifers and other evergreens need to be pruned this month if their pruning has been neglected. You can improve the plant's form or shape and at the same time remove excess growth that could cause trouble later.

Branches that might break because of high winds should be removed. Watch for two limbs that touch one another and rub together, causing bark damage. Remove one of these limbs. On old large conifers, check for long branches that overhang structures, driveways, or power lines. If they look weak or heavy, remove them so that they will not snap off during a severe storm and cause property damage. Be sure to use shears that are large enough for the branch. Don't twist the shears while cutting, or you may tear the bark and damage the shears. For larger branches, use a saw. Be careful not to let fall and tear the bark. If too large, cut off long limb first and then the stub will be easier to remove. Cover exposed edge with a commercial wound dressing.

Band Boosters Hold First Meeting

Approximately twenty persons attended the Ozona Band Boosters' meeting held in the High School auditorium on Thursday evening, August 21. The turnout of parents was deemed disappointing; however, much was accomplished by the group. Lane Scott, Band Director, stated that he was very excited about the bands this year, that the Junior High School band had a "great bunch of students enrolled". He added that overall he felt very confident that this would be a better year than ever.

Mrs. W. J. Carlisle, Jr. accepted the chairmanship of the Poor Man's Supper scheduled for October 10 prior to the Brady football game. The Talent Show, with a committee headed by Ray Boykin, is planned for November 14.

Mrs. Dick Kirby, Treasurer, was accepting membership dues at the meeting, which are $2.00 per person, and she will be happy to receive checks through the mail at P. O. Box 266. Chairman of the Membership Committee is Mrs. Somy Kirklen. There will be an honor roll posted at the band hall with the names inscribed of all dues paying members.

The various committee chairmen will be holding meetings and plans for the various activities will be submitted for approval of the membership at the next meeting, in three to four weeks. Those wishing to volunteer to help on the fund-raising projects and other Band Booster matters should contact the chairmen.

Mrs. Pelto To Wed Mr. Jeanes

Mrs. Marjo Pelto will become the bride of Dr. Jack Jeanes September 13 at 7 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church in Richardson. Invitations will not be mailed, but all Ozona friends are invited to attend.

Mrs. Pelto taught in the Ozona School system for many years, and moved to Fort Worth to teach following the death of her husband, J. A. Pelto, longtime Ozona High School principal. She presently resides in Fort Worth.

Dr. Jeanes is the owner of a chemical company in Richardson.

Following a trip to Hawaii, the couple will be at home in Richardson.

Garden Club Meets Mon.

The Ozona Garden Club will hold its kick-off meeting Monday at the Civic Center with a covered dish luncheon at 10:30.

Hostesses are Mrs. Ben Bohmfalk, Mrs. Ralph Jones and Mrs. L. L. Bryant.

What is home? A blend of memories and mortar... walls and roof and smells of breakfast cooking... a place of rest at the end of the day... a feeling of possession, of belonging... a place of hates, loves, anger... center of things living.

Home may be a mansion on a hill, a cramped apartment, a farmhouse, a hovel, a new suburban split-level, the house Father built... but only to you and your family is it home. No one else may call it that. For home is a part of you!

Centuries ago a shepherd-poet felt this. Lonely seasons on the grazing slopes had taught him to love... to long for... HOME.

But he realized that, through this life and beyond, the nearness of God is part of the sense of home. Goodness and mercy would follow him all the days of his life. And he would dwell in the house of the Lord forever!

Something to count on!

At a time when the economy is unstable, it's hard to pick a winner. The stock market jumps up one day and down the next. Even experts are unable to reliably predict the future of investments. That's why SASA's four certificates of deposit are truly something you can count on for any period from 90 days to 4 years. SASA certificates of deposit pay from 5.75 to 7.50 percent annually. With daily compounding, they produce from 5.92 to 7.79 percent annually. They are insured up to $40,000 by the FSIC. Now, that's something you can count... and count on!

ANNUAL RATES COMPOUNDED DAILY
PASSBOOK: 5.25% ANNUAL YIELD 5.39%
SAVINGS CERTIFICATES: 5.75% TO 7.50%
ANNUAL YIELD 5.92% TO 7.79%

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

Brought to you By Lillian Brown

It's a good idea to consider various types of furniture now available to show off your hobby or collection.

For example, beside the usual cabinets with shelves, you might want to think about something like a glass-topped table with a storage area right below the top, where the collection can be seen from above.

Another kind of piece to consider is one that has open shelves on either side. This can be a good buy if you're looking for both a room divider and a place to house pretty possessions.

Then there are bookcase-desk combinations where collections can be displayed effectively in several different ways.

Incidentally, a general rule of decorating is that most collections usually look better if they're grouped, they're more dramatic and eye catching.

The main point to remember is that you can add new beauty to your home--and to your collections or hobbies--if you get the right piece of furniture that will show them off to their best advantage. We can help you with everything from different cabinets with shelves to all kinds of tables. To see a wonderful world of ideas, and a fine selection, stop in.

We goofed last week, but no one noticed except our respective correspondents, Mrs. Bailey Post and Debra Price. In our last minute rush after the deadline, we inadvertently put Debra's under Tip for Gardner, and vice-versa. However, both columns were on gardening and we got by with it as far as the general public was concerned. Mrs. Post was the first to call it to our attention, and when Debra came in she wasn't too sure, but she felt that she had not written about flowers in her column. We had to fess up.

Cystic Fibrosis Fund To Be Held Here

The annual fund raising drive for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation will be held in Ozona during the week of September 14, according to Bekke Diaz, local chairman. Cystic fibrosis, an inherited disease, is the most serious lung-damaging disorder affecting children, according to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

"Although there is no cure for cystic fibrosis, it can be effectively treated," said Robert D. McCreery, president of the Foundation.
