Sunday, October 26, at 2 a. m. the nation will return to Standard Time and Crockett County will follow suit. If you don't want to stay up until 2 a. m., I would suggest you turn your clocks back an hour before retiring Saturday evening. This works out just as well in the long run.

I had at least a dozen different things to talk about today, but the news crowded me out. We'll catch up next week.

Home Break-In Gives Officers Peculiar Case

Local officers have been investigating a peculiar case in the break-in of the Bill Carson home at 1305 Ave. B, along with several burglaries.

Discovery was made Thursday morning that a window had been broken and someone had entered the Carson home during the night. Inside, officers found evidence of a person or persons with a peculiar mental twist. Ladies lingerie had been strewn through a bedroom and soggy, wet lingerie was in the bathroom. The bath tub had been used apparently by someone with shoes on. It was full of dirt and grass. The bed was wet where someone had lain with wet clothes on. Officers investigated, locked the house, and Thursday night the house was broken into again.

The second time, a mutilated Dalmatian dog was found in the bath tub. Officers said it looked as if the dog had been drowned, then had its throat cut, along with other mutilations. This time the intruder used the master bedroom and made himself at home, turning the covers back and scattering ladies underwear about. A ladies bra, torn in half, was found by the bed. The knife, apparently the one used to butcher the dog, was found in the trash along with numerous empty bottles of perfume.

Officers stood watch on the house around the clock, but the intruder did not return.

However, while they were watching the house, a thief entered the Tony Gomez home, two blocks away, and made away with two guns, a bicycle and a tape recorder. This break-in occurred sometime Saturday night.

Sometime Friday, the Ozona Trading Post was entered and around $800 in cash taken from the safe.

Officers picked up a suspect about noon Tuesday. The arrested man was seen by officers outside the Carson house during the vigil, and was arrested near there Tuesday after trying to elude officers. He has been charged with possession of stolen property so far.

OZONA VFW POST #6109 donates United States flag to Ozona High School. Donating the flag is Post Commander Tom Montgomery. Accepting on behalf of the youngsters is Richard Harrison, president of the Ozona High School Student Council, and Superintendent of Schools Foy Moody. The Post donated four flags to the school in all.

Ozona Lions Down Big Lake 14-8 In District Opener

In spite of a bad case of fumbleitis, the Lions prevailed in their first district game and downed the Big Lake Owls 14-8 in a crucial District 7-AA battle here Friday night. The Lions will try to run their district winnings to 2-0 against arch rival Sonora in Sonora tomorrow, Friday night. Sonora lost their first district tilt to Crane last Friday night.

It was 8-6 at the halftime as the Lions settled down after the half and took possession of the game both offensively and defensively.

Both teams were contributing their share of mistakes during the first quarter. On the Owls second possession, Lion Gary Warren intercepted a long Owl pass, only to see the ball fumbled back to the Owls on the Lions' next possession.

On the second play after the recovery by the Owls, the Owls fumbled the ball back to the Lions, as defensive back John Galvan fell on the Big Lake fumble. However, on the first play running back Frankie Garza ran eight yards and fumbled the ball back to the Owls. Two plays later Lion defensive back Clifford Crawford picked off a Big Lake pass to give the Lions possession again.

It was only a matter of seconds before the Owls took the ball away from the Lions again. Big Lake's Jennings Teel ran for a first down before Lion Henry Fay recovered another fumble. The turnovers ended a few plays later when the Lions fumbled the ball away to the Owls and they got down to putting the first score on the board. The Owls' Terry Cunningham ripped through the line for 42 yards and paydirt with 6:32 remaining in the half. The two-point conversion was good, and the Owls had the lead, 8-0.

The Lions came right back, mixing running and passing and drove down for their first score. Ricky Perry gathered in a Vaden Aldridge pass on the five yard line to cross the goal line for the Lions with 4:17 remaining in the half. The try for two points was no good, and the teams went to the locker rooms with the Owls leading 8-6.

The Lions came out in the third quarter loaded for bear (or should we say bird). They drove downfield from their own 43 for another Lion score. Warren pushed it in from the one-yard-line for the score. Warren was also responsible for most of the scoring in the drive, as he led the running by gaining a total of 86 yards for the night.

The try for two points was good, as Galvan caught a jump pass with 7:20 remaining in the quarter to give the Lions a final 14-8 edge.

The remainder of the game was a defensive battle as neither team could cross the line to score. The Owls threatened in the last 10 seconds of the game, but Garza knocked down one pass and the other fell incomplete and the game was over.

The Lions led 18 to 12 in first downs. The Lions had 172 yards rushing and 88 yards passing for a total yardage of 260 and the Owls had 165 yards on the ground and 27 in the air for a 192 total yardage. The Lions had a big night in the passing department, completing seven out of eight pass attempts. The Lions were able to hold the Owls passing game in check and they were 1 for 5 with two interceptions.

The holiday was called to give teachers an opportunity to attend the District 14 TSTA meeting which will be held in Brownwood.

UIL Changes To Affect Ozona School

The University Interscholastic League announced changes in district athletic and scholastic alignments Monday. Ozona will remain in District 7-AA, along with Crane and Sonora.

Kermit, formerly a Class 3-A school, will be the other member of the district. McCamey and Big Lake, presently members of District 7-AA, have been dropped back to Class A districts.

In making the changes, the UIL took the average enrollment for the past two years of the 1,004 schools in the league to determine classes.

Front Brings 2.2 Inches Of Rainfall

A cold front passed through the area last week, bringing thunderstorms and cooler temperatures, which have lasted well into the current week. Heavy rainfall, accompanied by high winds and thunder hit Ozona at 2:15 last Wednesday afternoon and heavy to light rainfall Wednesday night and Thursday morning amounted to 2.20 inches of moisture according to the official gauge at the Water District Office.

The first part of the current week brought cold nights and pleasant, cool days. A Pacific front was due in the area Wednesday, but no moisture was forecast.

Girl Scouts Set Halloween Carnival Sat.

Election Laws Create Mass Confusion For Local Voters

Confusion has surrounded voting procedure here and elsewhere since Texas was included under the Federal Voting Rights Act recently. Adding to that confusion are changes in the Texas election law, regarding voter registration procedure under S. B. 300 passed by the 64th Legislature, which completely changes the registration system of the State of Texas. Locally, some question has been brought up as to the legality of changes in precinct lines as approved by the Crockett County Commissioners Court in 1974.

In the upcoming Amendments election to change the Texas Constitution, local officials believe that all laws have been complied with, to the extent of printing ballots in both English and Spanish. Crockett County residents will vote in precincts designated by the County Commissioners Court in 1974. This will effect some change in polling places, but all eligible voters will vote in the precincts they are now listed in.

Instead of Precinct 2 voters casting ballots at Ozona Intermediate School, they will vote at the Civic Center. Precinct 3 voters, formerly casting ballots at the Center, will vote at the school. There are no changes in polling places for voters in Precincts 1 and 4. Precinct 1 voters will cast ballots at the courthouse and Precinct 4, at Ozona Primary School as in the past.

Locally, the Texas election laws will be followed until brought to a test in federal court, which could be years in the future. The re-registration

Antlerless Deer Permits To Be Issued Here

Paris and Wildlife Department biologists have finished their deer census work and antlerless deer permits for the upcoming hunting season will be available to landowners in Crockett County on Oct. 31 at County Courthouse.

Wildlife officials at P&WD urge landowners to pick up their permits at the designated place and time since P&WD officials will be on hand to answer any questions they may have regarding the new permit system and issuance rate.

Permits this year are based on current deer censuses by designated compartments in the county. Maps outlining the compartments and rates of issuance will be available to the public at the county courthouse prior to the issuance dates.

will be conducted as ordered November 5 through December 15, 1976, for eligibility in 1976 elections. The local Tax-Assessor Collector's office will mail out application forms during these dates to all persons now eligible to vote in the Nov. 4, 1975 Constitutional election. Two applications will be mailed, one in Spanish and one in English, to comply with the law. Letters explaining the applications will not be mailed as planned. There was no Spanish translation of the form letter, causing the plan to be dropped. Voters will instead, have to go by information on the forms only. Applications must be mailed back to the tax office on or before January 31, 1976. Applications received after that date will be treated as new applications and processed as such. Certificates will be issued to applicants and mailed in February, 1976. February 29, 1976, all registrations now in effect or which will become effective before March 1, 1976, will expire. New registrations go into effect March 1, 1976, and will be good for two years.

Under the Texas law penalties for false registration have been expanded. A registrar is now subject to a third degree felony for knowingly issuing a certificate to a person who is not actually the person described on the application or who is not that person's agent. Now, also, the person who is applying falsely is subject to a penalty, a third degree felony.

Applications for new registrations are possible any time during the year. Persons may register in person at the tax office or may register by mail. Voters will not be eligible to vote until the 30th day after making application.

At a called meeting next Tuesday morning, it will be decided whether the Crockett County Commissioners Court will submit its present precinct lines (lines as redrawn in 1974) to the U. S. Attorney General's office for approval or whether they will compromise with a group led by Precinct 4 Commissioner Jesus Castro who has a different plan to submit. According to San Antonio Attorney George J. Korbel, the group will object to the present precinct lines. Under the Federal Voting Rights Act, all changes in voter and voting procedure must be submitted to the U. S. Attorney General for approval or disapproval, and this law is retro-active to November, 1975. The new Texas Election law also must be submitted to the U. S. Attorney General for approval.

Law enforcement officials were still trying to identify the victim of a hit and run accident which happened 14 miles west of Ozona on Hwy. 290 late Monday night or early Tuesday morning at press time. An all-points bulletin has been put out for a dark green car with damage to the front end and minus a radio aerial, and thought to be traveling east on 290.

Pieces of green fiberglass and a radio aerial were found at the point of impact some forty feet from the body of a young man, possibly in his early twenties. The victim had the name Michael Ted Saladino on a slip of paper in his billfold. Other than that there was no identification on the body. Officers were trying to identify him through fingerprints. He was six feet tall or more and weighed 175 to 180 pounds, dark complexion, short brown hair and small mustache. He was wearing slacks and a knit shirt with a lightweight jacket.

Bill Dixon identified the young man as a hitchhiker he tried to assist Monday afternoon in that vicinity. Dixon said he stopped because the man appeared to be lost, he was attempting to get a ride first on one side of the road and then the other. Dixon was coming toward Ozona and the young man rode with him to the roadside park about three miles west of town. He told Dixon he was looking for a place to "bed down" for the night, also that he was on his way to El Paso. Dixon said he had no bedroll or parcel but carried a plastic jug which he assumed held water. The jug was found near the body Tuesday morning. The impact knocked the man out of his shoes and drug him about 40 feet. Apparently he was killed instantly.

The body was discovered early Tuesday morning by a Highway Department employee. Funeral arrangements were pending at James Funeral Home at noon Tuesday. Investigating officer was highway patrolman Manuel Hartnett, DPS.

LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS determine that the body of a young man found 14 miles west of Ozona early Tuesday morning was the victim of a hit and run driver. Late developments Tuesday afternoon indicated that the dark green car officers were looking for in connection with the case stopped at Williamson Arco Station about 7:15 a. m. and left Ozona on Hwy. 163 north. Two white males asked the attendant if there was another way to get to Austin other than Hwy. 290. The attendant reported that the dark green Buick had damage to the fiberglass front. He said the two men paid cash for gasoline and apparently took Highway 29 through Eldorado toward Austin.

This Is "Education"?

No one needs to be reminded that in the past few years, the Federal Government, running on the track of "Aid to Education," laws passed by a generous Congress (generous with your money), has spent millions upon millions of dollars in order to have "better schools."

In terms of the physical and material quality of our public schools, they probably are "better" than the wood-structure buildings that once housed our classrooms and students. By comparison, our modern schools are very plush, indeed.

Unfortunately, the "better" the schools, the worse the students, in terms of scholastic ability and achievement. According to the College Entrance Examination Board, the scores on verbal and mathematical aptitude tests taken by nearly one million college-bound high school seniors dropped sharply this year to the lowest level in more than two decades.

Worse yet, the sharp decline this year is but an increase in the constant and continuing rate of decline over the past 12 years.

The College Board exams reflect results already noted by the colleges and universities. The head of the English Department at the University of Maryland, for example, reports that "The verbal skills of students have gone down incredibly in the last 10 years."

In an effort to make up for the deficiency, the University has established basic English courses to teach reading and writing to college students who should have acquired these skills in Junior High and High School. At the University of Wisconsin this year, 125 out of 200 students failed to pass an English usage test to qualify for study in journalism.

This year, reflecting the powerful lobbying interests of the N.E.A. and entrenched bureaucrats, Congress repeated the same mistake they have made for years: passed legislation calling for the expenditure of millions of dollars, based upon the theory — now proven false by the record — that an injection of Federal dollars would create better students. But with every increase in the Federal education budget, scholastic abilities of our public school students decline.

Isn't it time for Congress to learn the obvious lesson?

The Coming Capital Crisis

Increasingly, warnings come that the U.S. economy faces a catastrophic shortage of investment capital. New York's Chase Manhattan Bank took a full page ad in the Wall Street Journal to state that it foresees a massive capital shortfall by 1985, with unemployment double what it is today.

The Chase Econometric Group predicts that by the end of 1976 or early 1977 the prime rate of interest will be 15% with a resulting abortion of the present recovery. Mr. Needham sees not only reduced production and unemployment in the U.S., but global reverberations in the form of reduced U.S. markets for foreign economies dependent on exports.

These forecasts must be taken seriously. The root of the problem is that U.S. capacity for formation of capital resources is inadequate to our needs as a modern industrial nation. Our industrial plant is older than Europe's and Japan's. With the shortage of capital, industry will have to lower over-all capital requirements, reduce investments in plants and equipment, or cut back inventory spending. These steps will mean reduced business activity, more unemployment, substantially reduced growth rate, and chronic inflation.

What to do? The Chase bank is blunt: "Our country must change its economic direction. Now!"

We agree. This means an end to the misguided tax policy which caters to the politically popular but economically unwise demands to "soak the rich." This applies particularly to the taxation of corporate profits and capital gains. Our tax policy in both areas is far harsher than in most countries, including such a supposedly "socialist" nation as Sweden.

Corporations need to retain earnings to reinvest in business through more realistic depreciation allowances and credits for dividends to shareholders. Greater incentive must be provided for individuals to take investment risks inherent in providing the equity capital which is the lifeblood of American industry. Since investment capital can only come out of savings, policies must be followed which will encourage, not discourage, such savings.

We can continue current policies only at our peril. It remains to be seen whether our political institutions and politicians are equal to the crisis which confronts us.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Gov. Dolph Briscoe rocked proponents of a new state constitution by coming out firmly against all eight revision propositions on the November 4 ballot.

Briscoe's announced opposition may have applied the finishing blow to revision this year, many observers of the campaign feel.

Others insisted the Governor's resistance will not be crucial. Briscoe centered his criticism on proposed annual sessions of the legislature.

He said he feels yearly meetings of lawmakers would be counterproductive, would sharply increase state spending and lead to a fulltime legislature.

The Governor also specifically criticized the judiciary article (merging of top courts), lifting of welfare spending ceilings, increasing bonding authority of the Permanent University Fund and continuing constitutional authority for a two cent property tax dedicated to state buildings.

He said the proposed new document would be subject to endless court tests and interpretation, confusion and chaos in state government and reduced checks and balances on government.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Atty. Gen. John Hill, House Speaker Bill Clayton, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and other revision proponents disagreed entirely with the Governor.

Insurance Up Auto insurance rates are going up again—away up—by a statewide average of 17 per cent.

The increase just ordered by the State Insurance Board effective January 1 is the largest in more than 15 years.

Texans will be paying $112.8 million more in premiums next year. At that, the hike is less than the insurance industry wanted. Industry spokesmen asked a 24.9 per cent increase which would have meant $165.4 million in additional premiums.

Total state premiums at the elevated rates will come to about $663.6 million a year.

Actual increases vary according to age, residence, make and model of cars, driving records and use of vehicles. They will range from $8 to $43 more annually for a typical auto owner. But a young, unmarried male driver in Houston may see an increase from $581 to $706 in his total premiums.

Full comprehensive will go up an overall average of 8.8 per cent, $100 deductible collision 12 per cent, bodily injury liability 21.1 per cent, property damage liability 16 per cent and uninsured motorist coverage 32.4 per cent.

Seek Free Mail Secretary of State Mark White is pushing congressional legislation to provide free postal delivery of any voter information materials.

Governor Briscoe asked U.S. Rep. Richard White to introduce the bill which would facilitate the right to vote in all public elections by allowing election officials to transmit voter material and information in free mail covers.

Short Snorts State Rep. David Finney of Fort Worth, 42, announced he will run for Railroad Commissioner in 1976, and Walter Wendlandt, an Austin attorney, said he also will run if the incumbent, Ben Ramsey, does not.

AG Opinions The Attorney General held terms of the final settlement agreement of a Killeen former city employee's suit for reinstatement and public information and disclosure.

Gas Crisis

WASHINGTON—Cold homes. Dark factories. Long unemployment lines. That's the bleak prospect facing possibly millions of Americans this winter as the natural gas emergency grows ever more severe.

Make no mistake about it. The natural gas emergency is a dire national threat that could deal a severe blow to our hopes for economic recovery. Tens of thousands of jobs could be at stake.

Natural gas, our most economical and cleanest-burning fuel, presently accounts for about one-third of U.S. energy consumption.

But supplies of natural gas are dropping almost as sharply as crude oil supplies dropped when the Arab oil embargo was imposed two winters ago.

Demand for natural gas is outrunning available supplies by about 15 per cent. Curtailments of natural gas could hobble industries in the Middle Atlantic states. Shortages in some areas could be so severe that home heating with gas—for which there is no economical substitute—may have to be curtailed.

The Federal Energy Administration estimates that, given present conditions, curtailments this winter could total 1.3 trillion cubic feet, up 30 per cent over last year. A severe winter could drive the shortfall to 1.45 trillion cubic feet.

Most of the blame for the natural gas shortage must fall upon Congress. Federal price controls have sharply retarded the development of new supplies of natural gas and have slowed the expansion of supplies from existing gas wells by denying producers a fair return. By holding the price of natural gas below those of other fuels, price controls also have encouraged overconsumption, misuse and waste of this precious fuel.

Now, as the cold winds of winter draw ever closer, Congress continues to ignore the real cause of the shortages it has helped create and make more severe.

The search is on for scapegoats, not answers. Congressmen and Senators are trying to find someone or something on which to put the blame for their mistakes. Short term solutions that will last through the next election are given priority over long-term solutions required to resolve the problem.

I for one am heart sick over the politicking and demagoguery that has taken place on this issue. Congress must face the reality of the natural gas crisis and put aside previously determined biases.

No political compromises, no price ceilings or rollbacks, no new bureaucratic agencies can avoid the fact that if demand is greater than supply, either we cut back on demand, increase supplies, or both. The hard economic facts say we must deregulate, and deregulate now.

Too many politicians say deregulation makes good economic sense, but bad political sense. I say we must look at the long term solutions, even if they are politically unpopular in the short run. There are times when politicians must act like statesmen, and do the right thing even when it is not the popular thing. This is one of those times.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

After twenty years in Ozona I finally had the opportunity and great pleasure of going to the Big Bend Park last week. The weather was perfect, and we found many native flowers and shrubs in bloom. The imposing canyons, colorful arroyos, expansive plains and the beautiful Chisos mountains were even more inspiring than I had imagined. Especially, I noticed the many pinon pines that grow on the mountains. And you know, they will grow here if cared for the first few years after transplanting. Some seedlings we planted from Alpine 18 years ago are now 20 feet tall and made beautiful trees. If you haven't been down there, try not to miss a wonderful treat.

Should you be going to Ft. Davis before the frost comes, be sure to see a most unusual and colorful display of bicentennial colors of petunias, geraniums, snapdragons and others in an enclosed garden facing a gift shop and around an apartment house on the main highway through town.

After the rains of last week, our area is already greening up and should have a while longer to grow.

Be ready most anytime now to move potted plants indoors if you haven't already done so.

Here is a rule you might like to try on how to predict a frost. Critical low temperatures are not the official ones the weather man takes, but the colder ground level temperatures. If the forecast is for as low as 40 degrees F. look out for it to be 30 degrees at ground level by morning.

Now is the time to harvest many plants to dry, seed pods and those that have already dried. Most of them need to be hung upside down if gathered still fresh. Gather some small flowered and foliage sprays to use in miniature arrangements while no fresh flowers are available. For grasses or filler material, there are many beautiful varieties you may find in pastures, including Johnson grass. These will be good sale items for next month's plant sale.

CARD OF THANKS
Members of Mount Zion Baptist Church wish to thank all their white friends for their help in the recent pastor's installation by Deacon Gordon. Thanks again.

That Thanksgiving turkey will look better on a new dining room suite from BROWN FURNITURE COMPANY. Many styles to choose from at reasonable prices.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

Brought to you by Lillian Brown

No home ever seems to have enough storage--but you can do something about it.

You can use various furniture pieces for storage and thereby not only add the necessary convenience to your every day living, but also add more beauty to your home with storage pieces that are nice to look at.

For instance, the right room divider that has drawers or compartments could be used between a living room and dining room--and could be used to store things for both rooms.

And, you can consider any one of a number of different kinds of beautiful cabinets that give you shelves or drawers, such as credenzas, breakfronts, buffets, hutches, and so many more. Then, as just one more example, there are coffee and end tables that have doors and storage space underneath. So many of these pieces are both "storage-full" and beautiful.

Today's furniture manufacturers are making more and more things that combine good looks with efficient use to help you solve the ever-present storage problem. And, whatever your furnishing needs are, stop in here and let us show you a wonderful selection.

FREEZING BAKED GOODIES:
Having a supply of your favorite baked goods on hand is a real convenience. You can be prepared for expected or unexpected guests during the holidays.

All types of yeast breads and rolls freeze well. If home baked, allow to cool, then wrap in freezer paper, freezer foil, or place in plastic bags. Bakery bread should be over-wrapped. Yeast bread and rolls may be stored 6 to 8 months.

Unbaked yeast dough may be frozen for a very short time (about 1 week). It is usually more satisfactory to store the baked product.

Biscuits, muffins, corn bread, doughnuts, nutbread, waffles and popovers freeze well. All kinds of cakes, including those made from mixes, may be frozen. Icings made with egg white do not freeze satisfactory. Those made with powdered sugar and butter, or fudge or penicuke types freeze very well.

Place iced cake on heavy cardboard which has been wrapped with freezer paper or foil. Freeze without wrapping, then place in turkey-size plastic bag or wrap in freezer foil, and return to freezer. Thaw unwrapped at room temperature on cake rack.

FRUITCAKE COOKIES

- 4 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup shortening
- 2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 2 eggs
- 2/3 cup buttermilk
- 1 cup chopped pecans
- 2 cups dates, cut up
- 1 cup candied cherries, cut in quarters
- 2 4-oz. cans candied fruits and peels
- red or green candied cherries for top

Sift together flour, soda and salt. Cream shortening. Add sugar and eggs. Beat until light and fluffy. Add buttermilk and flour. Add nuts, cherries, dates and candied fruit. Chill dough for several hours. Drop by teaspoonfuls about 2 inches

Bake in moderate oven (350 degree) for 14 minutes or until golden brown.

While warm, spread with icing. Makes 3 to 3 1/2 dozen rolls.

ICING: Mix 2 cup confectioners sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla and about 2-1/2 tablespoon hot water.

Womans League Meets At Pierce Home

The Ozona Women's League met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Joe S. Pierce, IV, with Mrs. Frank McMullan serving as co-hostess.

Mrs. Johnny Jones introduced Mr. Bob Faulkner, Mr. Joe Kemp, and Mr. Jack Ballow who presented a program on emergency rescue service. They lectured on the proper procedures for artificial respiration, blood stoppage, and poisoning, the three most vital areas of first aid. As they informed, they cited examples and demonstrated with "Rescue Anna", a breathing mannequin.

President, Mrs. Tony Allen, then called the meeting to order. The roll was called and the minutes of the last meeting were read.

Co-chairmen, Mrs. Tommy Wilson and Mrs. Jack Probst, announced the committee for the bazaar on November 25.

Orders are now being taken for special foods and pastries. These will either be delivered or can be picked up at the booth on the day of the bazaar. Place your orders now by calling Mrs. Charles Spieker at 392-2274 or after 4:00 p.m. with Mrs. Lane Scott at 392-3441 or Mrs. H. O. Hoover at 392-2350.

Other members present at the meeting were Mmes. Bill Carson, Dwight Childress, Pleas Childress, Buster Deaton, Terry Gries, Bruce Hill, Jim Leech, Bruce Mayfield, H. M. Phillips, Billy Reagor, Lane Scott, Charles Spieker, Jeffrey Sutton, Tommy Stokes and John Parks.

One guest, Mrs. Jim Williams, was also present.

COMING SOON!!!! DON'T MISS IT!!!! THE OZONA FOLLIES!!!!

By Joan Nicholas
A first for Ozona (and we hope not a "last"), the Ozona Follies will be presented the night of November 14 (that's a Friday night - no football) in the High School Auditorium, benefitting the Ozona Band Boosters.

This is going to be a community-wide show with talent recruited from the whole of Crockett County.

A reminder to all those with a "thing" they would like to do, please register with Ray Boykin, Chmn., by November 1; but, if you are a little tardy, just be on hand for auditions at the Band Hall November 8 at 7 p.m. The dress rehearsal will be November 13.

This should be a really fun event and we want you to participate, and the rest of you to come and enjoy the fun. Lots of zany things are in store for Ozona. The Master of Ceremonies will be the versatile Chamber of Commerce manager, the eternally young, Mr. Hubert Baker.

Band students will be selling tickets and admission will be $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for students. The funds raised will go towards accessories for the already acquired video-tape machine and other band necessities. Band Boosters thank everyone who has made the purchase of the machine possible.

Please help us as we work toward the furthering of the musical education of our youth - we need your talent and we need your support of The Ozona Follies.

Don't be shy... come by and try... on the 8th!

Miller & Robison Families Subject Of History Meet

By Lucile Harrell

Twenty-eight members and guests were present for the regular quarterly meeting of the Crockett County Historical Society on Monday evening, October 20, in the Auditorium-Coliseum.

Mrs. P. L. Childress, president, presided at a brief business meeting after which Ted M. White, program chairman, presented Mrs. Fred Hagelstein and her sister, Mrs. C. O. Walker, who told the stories of the Jones Miller and P. T. Robison families.

Jones Miller was born in Gonzales and attended schools there and in Bell County. He and Amy Willis, daughter of a pioneer Bell County family, were married on January 1, 1878, and lived there for ten years. They then moved to McCulloch County for several years and then came to Crockett County where they lived until their deaths at 84 and 93 years of age. The family consisted of two daughters; Tinnie, (Mrs. Wile Owens), Pearl, (Mrs. P. T. Robison), and twin sons, Rob and Roy. They located 15 miles east of Ozona on the Turkey Root ranch and lived in a tent for several months until Mr. Miller could complete a two-room house. He bought sheep at $2.00 and $3.00 per head and in 1901 bought an 8 section ranch west of Ozona. It was sold in 1908 when he bought 31 sections of the old Metcalf ranch from T. A. Kincaid, 20 miles south of Ozona on the Del Rio divide road. There they lived the rest of their lives.

Mrs. Miller was one of seven charter members of the Ozona Church of Christ and both she and Mr. Miller were active members in it.

A Miller family tradition was the annual New Year's Day Dinner celebrating Mr. Miller's birthday, their wedding anniversary and the wedding anniversary of their youngest daughter, Pearl, and her husband, Pink Robison. Each grandchild was always

Women Need To Be Aware Of SS Benefits

Franklin Upp, manager of the San Angelo Social Security office, said that many women are unaware of the benefits their social security taxes provide for them and their families. Since 1975 has been designated as International Women's Year this is an especially good time to advise women that the benefits provided for them and their children are essentially the same as those provided for the man of the house.

This has not always been true in past years. However, Congress has recognized many women now work outside of their homes and in many cases are the major or sole source of support for their children. If a working mother becomes unable to work, she and her children can now receive monthly social security benefits on her work record regardless of whether or not the father is working and supporting the children.

In the past if a mother died and left eligible children, they could not receive benefits on her account unless she had worked at least half of the time out of the last 3 years before her death or was furnishing their support. Now they can draw on her account without this requirement. There was no provision in the law to pay benefits to the surviving father with minor children in his care. However, the surviving mother with minor children in her care has always qualified for monthly benefits. Due to a recent supreme court decision the surviving father can now receive monthly payments on his wife's work.

Many women have the idea that there isn't any advantage to them in paying social security taxes. However, the two preceding examples should lay this idea to rest. In addition, when a working woman retires she will receive a larger retirement payment on her own work record than she would be able to receive if she was just eligible as a wife on her husband's account.

Mr. Upp said that anyone who has questions regarding benefits payable to working women and their families should telephone, write or visit the nearest social security office.

given a silver dollar. Mr. Miller loved and cherished every single member of his large family.

Pinkney Thomas Robison was born June 19, 1872, in Delta County, Texas. He died in Ozona in 1961. When he was four years of age his family moved to Limestone County, crossing the Trinity River on a ferry twenty miles from Dallas. He attended schools in Kirk and Frossa, Texas. His mother was a teacher in the Frossa school and she and her four children walked the three miles to school each day. When his father died, Mr. Robison was only eleven years of age but accepted the responsibilities of head of the family. He managed large numbers of cattle and had bought a General Merchandise store about the time the boll weevils ruined most the farmer's cotton. He was forced to sell everything in order to pay his creditors but did this in preference to taking bankruptcy.

In 1902 he came to Crockett County to the J. B. Reilly ranch 9 miles north of Ozona. Together they acquired more than 4,000 sheep. In 1911, he bought a 17 section ranch northeast of Sanderson in Terrell county which is now owned and operated by Blanch Robison Walker and her husband, C. O. Walker. Mr. Robison put in the first wolf-proof fences in that area and found the expense well justified by increased lamb crops.

Mrs. Robison, Pearl Mary Miller, was born in Bell County in 1886 and came with her family to Crockett County in 1890. She attended school here and at San Angelo Business College. She was employed in the Ozona Post Office at the time of her marriage to Mr. Robison. They spent their wedding night in the Sheffield Hotel where the groom filled in as a fiddle player at a dance being held there.

Their life on the Terrell County ranch was an isolated one--Mrs. Robison once went nine months without seeing another woman. Their first car, a Ford, helped this situation somewhat.

In 1920 they moved to Ozona to educate their children: Blanche, Totsy and Miller. Mr. Robison soon bought the Clifford Weaver 8 section ranch north of Ozona, now owned and operated by Totsy Robison Hagelstein. He later bought a 14 section ranch near Marfa where his son lived. Now he had realized the ambition to have a ranch for each child.

Mrs. Robison was unfailingly friendly to everyone--understanding and tolerant. She was an avid Club woman and held every office in the Ozona Woman's Club. She loved her family and her church.

Mrs. Hagelstein concluded: "I am so indebted not only to my parents and grandparents, but to all Pioneers of this area for the hardships and trials they so courageously endured--always striving to do what was best for their families--leaving us such great examples of courage and determination. I feel that the love and devotion of wonderful parents is the greatest inheritance one can receive."

Children of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Walker are two daughters, Gwynell Wells and Janis Almond; of the late Mr. Hagelstein and Mrs. Hagelstein, son, Rick, and daughter, Peggy Holden; and of Miller Robison who married Eda Schneeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Schneeman of Ozona, Lewis, Tom, Ann and Ray.

Ozona Garden Club Has Interesting Program

The Ozona Garden Club met in the Civic Center last Monday with Mrs. I. W. Howell and Mrs. Starley Lenamon as hostesses. Before the meeting the hostesses assisted with a luncheon for the out of town guests in the home of Mrs. Bob Childress.

Mrs. Childress presided over the business meeting and announced that plans will be made for the annual plant and bulb sale later in the month and will be discussed at the November meeting which will be Nov. 17.

The program, "Preparing and Arranging with Weathered Wood," was presented by Mrs. John Willingham of San Angelo. She presented an informative and interesting lecture on the techniques of cleaning, selecting and finishing the many kinds of decorative woods. Her emphasis was on the many tools she used to clean, prime, saw and join the wood. Also individuality can be expressed through unusual combination of materials, unexpected

Telephone Pioneers Honored

A recent issue of the Fort Stockton Pioneer, Fort Stockton, Texas, gave the story of the first telephone exchange in that city and the Stockman ran a picture of the dedication of a historical marker in memory of pioneer E. W. Bennett and family.

Mrs. Rob Miller of Ozona, daughter of the late E. W. Bennett, is a remaining member of the original family, along with Mrs. Karl Butz of Fort Stockton.

Before establishing the exchange in Fort Stockton in 1908, Mr. Bennett and his sons, John and Will, established a telephone exchange in Ozona. They subsequently extended the line from Ozona to Fort Stockton.

Davidson Is Re-Elected To SC District

In a recent election Charles E. Davidson, III, was re-elected to serve a term as director of Crockett Soil and Water Conservation Zone 2.

Davidson began a new five-year term the day following his re-election. Other directors of the Crockett District are Bill Baggett, Alvin Harrell, Joe Couch and Bud Hoover.

Posters Can Make Walls 'Come Alive'

Posters can make walls "come alive" easily, inexpensively, Denise Beigbeder, a housing and home furnishings specialist, says.

"Posters catch the eye, hold attention and communicate. They reflect personality and interests of whoever hangs them and can also accent the decorative theme of the room," she said.

"Posters come in different moods--from contemporary designs in bold graphics to quiet reproductions of well-established artists. The selection of posters is so vast, but the important thing is to buy one mainly because you like it," the specialist advised.

After selecting a poster that fits the tastes and budget, consider how it should be mounted or framed. This can be a "do-it-yourself" project or an art supply store or frame shop can do it.

"A shadow box makes a good poster 'showcase' and materials to build it at home are available at lumberyards.

"Cut a rectangular piece of plywood the dimensions of the poster. Glue or nail two-inch-wide strips of plywood or lathing around the plywood base. Paint the outer sides of the shadow box black or a color that will complement the poster. Then using a thin coat of rubber cement or wallpaper paste, glue the poster to the base. Smooth out any wrinkles before the glue dries," she said.
