After reading all the pros and cons on the proposed new state constitution which will make up the November 4 ballot, I have decided that if the voters are not confused, they just don't understand the situation. All eight propositions seem harmless enough on the surface, but a little digging turns up a document which seems to be written by lawyers for lawyers or by legislators for legislators. And, to me at least, that seems to leave the public out.

Everyone, pros and cons agree that the complete revision of the constitution would give vast new powers to the legislature. In fact many of the provisions, written by the legislature, are so vague and ambiguous that they are subject to many different interpretations by state officials and lawyers. It is our contention that ours is a government of laws and not of men and should stay that way. We need a strong constitution to protect our basic rights from a legislature which can and often does change complexion every two years.

I have contended for years that Texas needs a new constitution, but it should be superior and more workable than the old. I see no point in trading something used for something new when there is no improvement as far as the people of the land are concerned. Perhaps there are some good features in the new constitution, but I believe the bad far outweighs the good. We don't need to adopt a constitution which would turn our Texas Legislature into a fulltime "Congress" which would exercise enormous control over our lives. Heaven knows we have enough federal controls and regulations to concern ourselves about.

There is no urgency in revising the constitution. The one we have worked well for 100 years. If there are some good features in the proposed revision, they can be put to the voters of Texas in the future as amendments. Texas has managed to operate in the black where many states have been operating in the red for decades. If the new constitution is adopted, the expense to the taxpayer would be tremendous. Comptroller Bob Bullock says the new constitution would give so much power to the legislature that it is impossible to estimate how much it would cost the taxpayers.

The main proponents of the new constitution are members of the legislature. We prefer to keep them as our servants, instead of making them our masters. The way to do that is to vote "no" on all eight propositions next Tuesday.

Lions Hopes High For Dist. Title After Sonora Victory

The Ozona Lions took dead aim at the District title Friday night, downing Sonora 11-7 and keeping their District 7-2A record clean. They will host the McCamey Badgers tomorrow, Friday night. The Badgers lost to Crane Friday night.

Crane and Ozona remain unbeaten in district play and chances are the district title will be decided when the two teams meet in Crans November 7, which will be the final district game of the season for the Lions. The Lions have an open date November 14.

The Lions scored through three routes Friday night to down the Broncos on the Sonora field, a touchdown, a field goal and a safety.

Neither team scored in the first quarter of play. Gary Warren, the district's number three ground-gainer, scored for the Lions in the second quarter, capping a 55-yard drive. Warren blasted over from the six-yard line. The PAT failed, but the Lions had a 6-0 lead. With five seconds left in the quarter, John Galvan booted a 23-yard field goal to up the lead to 9-0 at the half.

Sonora closed the gap after the half when quarterback John Elliott hit paydirt for the Broncos on a one-yard plunge. The PAT was good and the Lion lead was cut out to 9-7.

The final Lion score came in the fourth quarter when the Lion defense downed the Sonora quarterback in the end zone for a 2-point safety. Ozona led in the statistic department also, having 14 first downs to Sonora's 19. The Lions rushed for 168 yards and passed for 34 yards for a total yardage of 202. The Broncos had 70 yards on the ground and 70 in the air for a total of 140 yards. The Lions hit 2 out of 5 passes and had no interceptions. Sonora attempted 11 passes, completed six and had one interception. The Lions punted five times for an average of 49 yards. Sonora punted three times for a 38 yard average. Sonora lost two fumbles and the Lions lost none. The Lions had 5 penalties for 50 yards and the Broncos were penalized 4 times for 30 yards.

Cool Front Adds Half Inch Of Rainfall
A cold front passed through the area at mid-week last week bringing rain and pellet-size hail to Ozona. A down-pour Wednesday afternoon amounted to a half inch of rain. Along with the rain very small hail stones fell. Early Saturday morning drizzle amounted to .16 of an inch of rain.

Temperatures dipped to the lowest of the season Saturday morning and many Ozonans turned on furnaces for the first time this fall.

By mid-week this week foggy mornings and clear days with a warming trend in the afternoons characterized the weather picture.

Completions Slated In County Field

R & S B Operating Co., Midland, will re-enter and plug back to 1,450 feet for completion attempt as a San Andres discovery at the former Inexco Oil Co., Midland, No. 1 Shannon Estate, 7,879-foot failure in Crockett County, 12 miles northwest of Ozona, 1/4 mile northeast of the current one-well Wyatt (Ellenburger gas) field and two miles north-east of the Donham (Grayburg and San Andres gas) field, but separated by San Andres failures. It is the No. 2 Shannon Estate. It was plugged and abandoned Jan. 25, 1971. It tested through perforations at 1,524-44 feet, recovering load oil, and through perforations at 1,258-22 feet, recovering load, salt water and sulfur water.

Location is 1,980 feet from the south and 1,480 feet from the west lines of 36-UV-GG&SF.

Hit And Run Victim Is Identified

The victim of a hit and run accident west of Ozona on Highway 290 last week was definitely identified by law officers as Michael Jude Saladino, 37, of New Orleans, La. His parents came to Ozona to claim the body following notification. Services were held last weekend in New Orleans.

Lawmen are still trying to locate the driver of the auto which struck and killed the man. Reported to be a dark green car with damage to the front end and minus a radio aerial. The aerial and pieces of green fiberglass were found at the scene.

A local service station attendant informed officers that a dark green car with damage to the grill stopped for gas about 7:15 the same morning the man's body was discovered. The two men in the car asked if there was another route to Austin besides Hwy. 290. They were routed through Eldorado on Texas 29.

Compromise Is Reached In Precinct Dispute

Commissioners Jesus Castro, Precinct 4, and Jesse Marley, Precinct 1, along with their lawyers were making a survey of precinct 1 and 4 lines late Tuesday afternoon.

Earlier in the day at a called meeting of the Commissioners Court the two factions reached a compromise and both sides agreed to move 75 eligible voters from Precinct 4 to Precinct 1.

A Mexican American group protested the action of the court in re-drawing precinct lines August, 1974, at the regular meeting of the Commissioners Court earlier this month. The lawyer for the group, George J. Korbel of San Antonio informed the court at that time that the Federal Voting Rights Act, recently expanded to Texas, required that all changes in voter procedure be submitted for approval to the U. S. Attorney General, retroactive to 1972. He informed the court that his clients would protest the submission of the lines as drawn in 1974.

The court agreed at the earlier meeting to hold a called meeting Tuesday. Olessa attorney Lucius D. Bunton was retained by the court. Attorneys for both sides, plus a courtroom full of spectators met at 9 a. m. Tuesday. After spending much of the day in closed session, the compromise agreement was reached at 3:15.

After the agreement was reached, both attorneys agreed that submitting the redistricting to the Attorney General would be a matter of form and would be routinely passed without protest. The lines as redrawn will be the boundaries until the 1980 census is taken.

Due to a press deadline, this story will be written in more detail next week.

Logans Attend Dental Meet

Dr. and Mrs. Joe B. Logan have just returned Monday from Chicago where Dr. Logan attended the 23rd Annual Academy of General Dentistry and then attended the 116th Annual Session American Dental Association and the 63rd World Dental International. Their two children, Richard B. Logan and Sharon Leigh Logan of Austin, met them in Dallas and accompanied them to Chicago.

Absentee Voting Indicates Lack Of Interest In Nov. 4 Election

If absentee voting is really an indicator of voter turnout, very few of Crockett County's registered voters will go to the polls to vote on the revision of the Texas Constitution next Tuesday, Nov. 4. At press time, eight absentee ballots had been cast. Tomorrow, Oct. 31, is the final day to vote absentee. The election will give voters the opportunity to vote on a complete revision of the state's Constitution for the first time in 100 years.

Crockett County voters will vote in their various precincts. The polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. Precinct 1 voters will vote at the courthouse with Dr. Gary Vannoy election judge. Precinct 2 voters will vote at the Civic Center where Elizabeth Applewite will preside as election judge. Precinct 3 voters will vote at Ozona Intermediate School with Steve Kenley election judge. Precinct 2 and 3 will just change polling places this year, due to re-districting.

The precinct revision did not affect polling places in other precincts. Precinct 4 voters will vote at Ozona Primary school and Fela Gutierrez will preside as election judge. Nancy Hale will be in charge of box #5 in Powell field and J. A. Carroll will again be election judge at the power plant, box #6.

A. O. Fields New President Of W.T.J.P.

A. O. Fields, Justice of the Peace, Crockett County has just returned from attending the 16th Annual Conference of the West Texas Justice of the Peace Association at Hereford which was held the 25, 24 and 25 of October. The conference was presided over by Judge Glen Nelson, Justice of the Peace, Deaf Smith County.

Highlights of the meeting were addresses by Speaker of the House, Bill Clayton and Senator Max Sherman, Senatorial District 31, Amarillo. In the opening session the keynote address was delivered by Judge Fields.

New officers were elected at the final meeting of the convention and Judge Fields was elected president of the association for the incoming year of 1975-76. Howard County and the city of Big Spring were selected as the site for the 1976 conference which will be held in October, 1976.

Projects for the coming year will be the acquisition and restoration of some property in Langtry near the Judge Roy Bean Museum to be known as the Texas Justice of the Peace Museum.

The ballots are printed in English and in Spanish and voters may vote in either language. There are eight separate propositions on the ballot which would completely revise the present constitution. Proposition number 1 is the constitutional amendment revising the separation of powers, Legislative, and Executive provisions of the Texas Constitution. The proposal makes no real change in the basic structure of state government. It does provide for single-member districts, annual sessions of the legislature, a commission, appointed by elected officials to set salaries for legislators; and several minor provisions which would grant more power to the legislature.

Proposition No. 2 creates a new Article V. The judiciary which governs the powers and organization of the state court system. Among other things, it provides for the merger of the Court of Civil Appeals and the Supreme Court. Proposition No. 3 creates a new Article VI. Voter Qualifications and Elections. It provides that a person who is at least 18 years of age, is not a convicted felon in prison on parole or probation, or is not mentally incompetent, would be qualified to vote under laws enacted by the Legislature.

Proposition No. 4 provides for a new Article VII, education which governs public education. The amendment calls for an equitable system of free public schools below the college level. The system must provide each individual an equal educational opportunity but may provide local enrichment of educational programs. The Permanent and Available school funds remain intact as do the Permanent and Available University Funds for the use of the University. (CONTINUED ON LAST PAGE)

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Given new growth by good fall rains and coolness, roses vie with chrysanthemums for attention at this time. Both should be at their best until frost comes along to spoil them.

When frost does come along, and you have an asparagus bed, cut it back to the ground when plants are killed. Then mulch with rotted manure or compost.

If you have cold frames or a green house, clean well in preparation for protecting any frost tender plants, and to grow hardy plants for spring transplanting. Some are trying tomatoes.

With cacti and other succulents be particularly careful not to over water, but do not allow them to dry completely, even in winter. The Christmas cactus will bloom more surely if you rest it from early October until mid-November by keeping it in a fairly cool room and giving it little or no water.

Your garden can put on a new colorful show next spring if you plan now to plant bulbs this fall. Some want to plant them early so they will form a good root system before winter. Others wait until December which gives later blooms in the spring. Bulbs are especially effective for small areas, borders, a corner, dooryard planting, naturalistic setting, base of trees, a pocket of color, and patio edging. Soil should be prepared to a full 6 to 8 inches depth so there will be the best conditions for bulb growth. Bulbs like good drainage and a soil not too heavy. Add peat moss or vermiculite to loosen. Fertilization is not too important. Many advise using bone meal in the soil at planting time. Others use a light dressing of 5-10-5 chemical fertilizer, but do not use manure.

Some have asked for the glycerine curing method. Evergreen material and grasses cured in one part glycerine and two parts water will take on a deep, gleaming mahogany hue and remain pliable indefinitely. The secret of success lies in getting freshly cut stem ends into the solution before they dry out. As water evaporates, add enough to keep container filled until all the glycerine is absorbed or material is the color you want. This will take four to six weeks for some, and less time for lighter textured plant foliage. Add hot water if you want it to act quicker. Magnolia, cherry laurel, eucalyptus, Ligustrum, holly and locust are especially beautiful.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

Brought to you by Lillian Brown

In our column this week, we'd like to discuss something we thought you'd find interesting. It's about how a theory has come to interior decorating—not from the usual sources of books or experts—but from... of all places, nature.

Oddly enough, years ago, leading decorators everywhere said it was wrong, for example, to use blues and greens together. Then, it finally dawned on the experts that one of the most beautiful sights in the world was green grass under a blue sky. If such a scene of green and blue was pretty outdoors, why wouldn't it be pretty inside?

And that's how it happened. People realized that Mother Nature was ahead of everybody when it came to creating beauty, and gradually, the use of greens and blues were accepted. It's reassuring to know that nature showed the way, ahead of men and machines.

And this is true of more than just greens and blues. Years ago, people thought that many colors—and materials—didn't go together. Now we know they do, and if you question this, just look at a pretty flower garden where all color combinations are used together beautifully by nature, or at a scene where different kinds of woods blend beautifully.

And speaking of beauty, remember we can help furnish your home beautifully. For a fine selection, stop in.

BE A SMART SHOPPER ABOUT GIFTS

How much money do you spend for gifts each year? Gifts and cards, some of the most overlooked expenses in the family budget, may take more family income than you realize. Families differ in the number and type of occasions that occur for giving gifts and cards. They also differ in the amount of money spent.

Gift Expenses
Recall your family gift expenses for the past year. How many occasions required a special remembrance? How much was spent? What expenses do you expect in the next 12 months?

Don't forget that wrapping paper, ribbon and bows, postage, flowers, party decorations, and food are also part of your special remembrance dollar.

Planning Ahead
List the approaching special-remembrance occasions. For each occasion, ask yourself the following questions: How many friends and relatives should be remembered? How should they be remembered - by present, card or party? How much money is available to spend? How much should be spent on each person? What extra expenses does the occasion involve? Have I included the cost of gifts, wrapping materials, postage, food and decorations?

Christmas—the year's main gift-giving occasion for many families—can take a large part of the family income during November, December or January. Save time, money and frustration by planning ahead. After deciding how much money you can spend, stay within your limit. Buy or make gifts early to avoid Christmas shopping crowds.

Cutting Gift Expenses
Use the following money-saving tips to reduce gift expenses.
Take advantage of sales and specials to buy gifts. By planning ahead, you may purchase gifts at bargain prices.

Use your imagination in choosing gifts. Try new types of stores and items. Instead of one large present, consider several small, related gift items or combine purchases with homemade items.
Make your own gifts if you sew, bake, paint or are skilled in other crafts. These may mean more to the receiver than a purchased item.

Buy Christmas cards, supplies and decorations for the following year during the after-season markdowns.
Instead of buying gifts for everyone, consider drawing names at Christmas when the family or group is large.
Set aside a place at home for storing gift items and wrapping supplies.

Be realistic in the amount of money you budget for special occasions. Spend only what you can afford. Substitute money with time, effort and skills.

Gift-giving should be a joyful experience for the giver and the receiver. Don't kill your pleasure by wrecking the family budget.

LOVELY LIPS: There is an ideally shaped mouth. I'll describe it quickly. The bow of the mouth is directly under the nostrils. The corners of the mouth line up with the inner edges of the eye. The distance between the bow and the base of the nose should be about half the distance as that between the bottom edge of the lip and the tip of the chin. You don't have this perfect mouth? I'm not surprised. Few of us do. But with proper use of beauty products for the lips, a less-than-perfect mouth can be made prettier.

While some women do fairly well by applying lip coloring to the mouth directly from the tube, others do not. They tend to get a hastily-smeared-on look. Some women's lipstick tends to "run" or "bleed" into tiny lines. Others say their lip coloring doesn't last very long. The reasons might be that they smoke or drink lots of coffee or have a tendency to lick their lips often.

For these problems I strongly recommend the use of a lip brush and opaque lipsticks rather than glosses. A lip pencil is a special problem solver, too. A lip pencil has more wax in it. If the mouth is first outlined with a lip pencil, filling in the lipstick with a brush which enables one to apply a heavier coat more evenly distributed—the problem of running or bleeding is very much reduced. Lipstick will last longer, too, if one application to the lips is blotted and a powder lightly applied, and then another application of lipstick follows.

For lips that are too full or too thin, the lip pencil is again called into use. Outlining thin lips slightly beyond their natural line, or slightly within the full lip line, is the first step in a creative lip reconstruction. Using a lip brush, fill in the rest of the mouth, using strokes from the line towards the center of the mouth.

Finally, it is important for all women to choose shades of lip coloring that are complimentary to their skin tones and to the colors they wear. A pink lipstick that looks good most days will not be flattering the day you wear orange. There is no one shade of lipstick that will cover the range of colors in most of our wardrobes.

I strongly recommend the use of lip brushes in applying lipstick. Many women resist even trying them, because it seems time consuming and difficult to master the art. Once you've learned, however, you can use a lipstick brush quickly and see a marked improvement in how the lip coloring flatters your mouth. Especially like Merle Norman's Designer Brush Collection, for it includes a retractable lip brush, so convenient to carry to the office or out to dinner in your purse.

Lipstick brushes are marvelous for another reason. Lipsticks often break during application, through no fault of the manufacturer. Sometimes women swivel the lip coloring too far out of its case, and in direct application, the stick may break off. With a brush, you need extend the lipstick only a half-inch out of its case, get the brush heavily saturated, and distribute the coloring evenly.

If your mouth is not your best feature, color again is an important factor. Draw attention to your features, such as your eyes, with mascara, eye shadow, extra lashes, and de-emphasize your mouth with subtle or soft shades of lipstick or glosses.
Remember, the shape of your mouth is important, but so are the words that come forth. Did you have kind words for someone today?

Dear Mrs. Robinson:
I wash my hair in the shower every morning and just blow it dry. My new haircut makes it very easy to take care of now. But my mother says shampooing every day is bad for my hair. Is that true? K.W.

Dear K.W.:
It used to be believed that washing hair too often was harmful. But research has shown that hair can be washed as often as needed and oily hair does require more shampooing than dry hair.

SHE NEEDS HELP

Her brother realizes that. And so do my wife and I... most of the time. But sometimes Sunday mornings mean a ride in the country... sleeping late... receiving guests. Something, every Sunday.
Then one day, watching her trying to read, I realized that filling her mind and heart and soul is a continuous process. It can't be restricted to days of the week.
So Sundays in church have become part of our life style. We all are finding new insights, strengthening our faith, discovering ourselves and God.
Our little girl needs help. To this Christian family that's the understatement of the year!

Texans:

If you are tired of bigger government and higher taxes, vote NO on the proposed new constitution November 4.

Don't give future Legislatures a blank check.

The Houston Chronicle calls the new constitution "a dangerous document." Governor Dolph Briscoe warns it will "lead us down the road to a state income tax."

Governor Briscoe says: "It is my personal view that the current Constitution under which Texas has grown and prospered for a century is preferable to the proposed new constitution. Accordingly, I believe it is in the best interest of Texas that all eight propositions on the ballot be rejected."

Play it safe. Keep our present Constitution by voting NO on Tuesday, November 4.

Womans Forum Program On Bicentennial

The Woman's Forum met Tuesday October 21, with 25 members present. Coffee and a Halloween Snack Sack, filled with sandwiches and assorted cookies and candies were served before the president Mrs. T. J. Bailey called the meeting to order.

Mrs. Larry Arledge gave a brief report on The Heart of Texas District, ITWC meeting held in Brownwood on October 18. This was attended by Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Arledge and Mrs. Bonnie Warth.

The Program was given in two parts, first - a study on the Acts imposed by the British which incited the Colonies, called "Rumbles of the Revolution", by Mrs. W. R. Hagggett, Second, the Acts resulted in the Declaration of Independence, called "The Die is Cast", by Mrs. Arthur Phillips.

The Bicentennial Programs the club is presenting this year take us back to the beginning of our Nation, and remind us of the hardships our forefathers lived through. The Declaration of Independence was read, and it was one of our First Ladies, Abigail Adams, who said, "The flame is kindled, and like lightning, it catches from soul to soul". The past 200 years has proven this to be true.

Others present were, Mrs. W. T. Stokes, Mrs. Marshall Montgomery, Mrs. W. H. Whitaker, Mrs. Hugh Childers, Jr., Mrs. Arthur Kyle, Mrs. P. L. Childers, Mrs. John Coates, Mrs. J. D. According to USDA figures, Texas had 3,083 cattle herds under quarantining on Aug. 31. This is about one-third of the 9,452 infected herds identified nationally.

The new drive for final eradication was prompted by recent increases in the number of brucellosis-affected herds, primarily in the South. As a result, the USDA has given top priority to the program and has committed the necessary resources.

Lack of Effort Cited In Brucellosis Eradication

Since an intensified co-operative federal-state effort to protect both human and animal health from brucellosis or Bang's disease has not been fully accepted by Texas, the nation's leading cattle-producing state may suffer several consequences.

According to Billy Reagor, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Animal Health Commission recently rejected certain proposed changes in rules which would require branding of cattle exposed to infected animals and a negative brucellosis test of cattle moving into Certified Brucellosis Free areas in the state.

The rules changes were recommended by industry representatives and veterinary officials of all 50 states and approved by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Because of the state's refusal to tighten brucellosis regulations, the USDA has informed the Texas Animal Health Commission that federal funds to fight brucellosis in cattle may be withdrawn. In addition, Texas cattle may be placed under federal quarantine to prevent the spread of the disease to other states.

Texas counties also would lose Modified-Certified and Certified Brucellosis Free status. Additional testing would be required in order to ship cattle interstate.

The action to remove federal brucellosis funds would become effective Jan. 1, 1976, when a cooperative agreement with Texas for brucellosis eradication would be terminated unless remedial steps were taken by the state.

As a result of the brucellosis eradication program begun in 1954, more than 99 per cent of the nation's cattle are now free of brucellosis. However, the one per cent still infected causes millions of dollars in losses to the livestock industry through abortions, breeding problems, weakened offspring and reduced milk production. The disease may be passed from animals to humans as undulant fever.

Currently the annual federal expenditures to eradicate brucellosis in Texas amount to $3.7 million, $2 million of which is in indemnities paid to owners of infected cattle and $650,000 for cooperative agreements for herd testing, notes the agent.

Election—

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 of Texas and Texas A&M University Systems, A second "Higher Education Fund," financed by a 10c property tax, would be available for all other state colleges and universities.

Proposition No. 5 creates a new Article VIII, Finance, which governs the financial management of the state. In this amendment the requirement that all new taxes be equal and uniform would be limited only to the levy of property taxes. It would require the establishment and enforcement of uniform standards and procedures for the appraisal of property over the state. The proposal permits the authorization of state indebtedness and the pledging of the credit of the state without a Constitutional amendment.

Proposition No. 6 provides a new Article IX, Local Government, which authorizes the powers of local government. Under this amendment local government would remain basically the same with the exception that County Commissioners' Courts would be granted ordinance-making powers.

Proposition No. 7 provides a new Article X, General Provisions, which is basically a housekeeping article. It includes: the homestead provisions, separate or community property; protection of personal property from forced sale; protection of wages from garnishment; limitations upon banking corporations; provisions for the regulation of alcoholic beverages; and provisions for the regulation of medical practitioners. It prohibits lotteries and gift enterprises; regulates interest and lending; provides for the various retirement systems of public employees, and protecting the environment, conserving natural resources and public property as well as wildlife resources.

Proposition No. 8 provides a new Article XI, Method of Amending the Constitution of the State. It maintains the same basis for submission of amendments as was utilized in submitting these eight amendments; that is, submission by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the membership of both houses of the legislature and adoption by a simple majority of the people voting in an election called for that purpose. It does add a provision that a question of a constitutional convention be submitted by the Legislature at least once each thirty years.
