At press time we were awaiting the outcome of a hearing requesting an injunction against purging of voter registration lists across Texas and sending notices to persons that they must re-register pursuant to S. B. 300 Chapter 296 Act of 64th Legislature in regular session, 1975.

The hearing on the injunction was scheduled for Monday afternoon at 1:00 p.m. in the United States District Court in Tyler.

The motion was submitted by members of the Mexican American Legal Defense and Educational Fund, about which I know absolutely nothing. All tax assessor-collectors in the State of Texas have been named as a class of defendants, and according to George J. Korbel, Associate Counsel for MALDEF, if the injunction is granted it will be binding on each of the tax assessor-collectors. Korbel was the attorney for MACO in the recent precinct lines dispute and appeared before the Commissioners Court here at least twice, to our knowledge.

The racial disagreement here was worked out last Tuesday, Oct. 27, by the two factions. Korbel and Odessa attorney Lucius Bunton, representing the court, along with their clients, managed to reach a compromise in the local dispute.

The tax assessor-collector's office was notified Friday about the pending hearing to attain the injunction prohibiting re-registration in Texas. Apparently this situation came about after the Voting Rights Act of 1965 was expanded to include Texas. MALDEF contends that the new Texas Election Law to have voters re-register is contrary to the federal law, and will cause "immediate and irreparable harm" to the plaintiffs.

This came about after, in compliance with Texas law, tax assessor-collectors all over the state had materials, and instructions to re-register voters. Presently, persons are listed to vote in Texas who have been dead for years, moved from the state or the county in which they were registered and have otherwise become ineligible.

This development brings home with force to Texans that what has been feared since Reconstruction Days, Federal Control in state and local elections, has now become fact. This should concern all Texans, regardless of their ethnic background.

I do not have information on how our two senators voted on this bill, but I do know that our Congressmen, along with several other Texans, voted for the expansion, and thus for federal intervention (CONTINUED ON LAST PAGE)

SUNDAY MORNING VIEW OF JOHNSON DRAW as it flows south and on into the Devil's River. The five inches of rain Saturday night and early Sunday morning sent the draws on a rampage. For the first time this year, the only negotiable route across Johnson's Draw was the bridge on Hwy. 290. Gurley Draw ran bank full in the east part of town. The rain was the heaviest rainfall recorded this year for Ozona in a 12-hour period.

AMOCO To Drill Wildcat In S'east County

Amoco Production Co., will drill an 8,600-foot wildcat in Crockett County, 26 miles southeast of Ozona, seven miles southeast of a 7,900-foot Canyon gas producer in the Crockett portion of the Denison multiphase field and 4-3/4 miles north of the Adams-Baggett Ranch (Canyon gas) field and 3-1/4 miles southeast of a 10,013-foot failure, it is the No. 1-A1, F. & M. E. Suddeth. Location is 1,320 feet from the south and 1,620 feet from the west lines of 11-G-GC&SF.

The failure, Cities Service Oil Co. No. 1 Ferner, abandoned March 10, 1951, topped the Strawn at 9,140 feet, Fusselman, 9,420 feet and Ellenburger at 9,932 feet on elevation of 2,337 feet.

Ozonans Attend 4-H Leader Training

Several Ozonans were on hand for the 4-H Leader Training Session held Saturday in Brownwood at the Texas 4-H Center. Attending the informative and interesting training session for 4-H leaders were Lorelei McMullan, Carolyn Clayton, Nancy Hale, and Coleen Everett.

November Arrives With 5 Inches Rain

November made its entrance this year with a very respectable amount of rainfall. A slow-moving front covered the area Saturday night bringing rainfall which lasted well into Sunday. The official gauge at the Water District Office recorded 4.62 inches of rainfall for the period. The heavy rain sent both draws running, for the first time this year. Johnson Draw was up considerably, but Gurley Draw ran almost bank to bank.

League's Gift Bazaar Is November 25

The Annual Woman's League Gift Bazaar will be held Tuesday November 25 from 4 until 6 p.m. at the Civic Center.

League members make all items offered for sale at the annual event, and there will be several booths to select from.

There will be a drawing of an original photographic landscape by Mrs. Charles Black this year.

Food orders will be taken in advance. Orders should be called in to Mrs. Charles Spieker, 392-2274. Deliveries will be made at the food booth at the bazaar.

TAP Mobile Unit To Be On Display Here

Texas Department of Agriculture's Food and Fiber Mobile Unit will be on display at Ozona Tuesday, Nov. 19, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

The visit will feature the Ozona premiere of a colorful theater exhibit consisting of 800 slides showing Texas agriculture and agricultural products. Mr. and Mrs. Jess Moreland will have the Mobile Unit open daily at the Ozona High School to welcome all visitors free of charge.

The couple will also have recipes and information about Texas agriculture for free distribution to all interested persons.

The new slide show lasts about eight minutes and vividly pictures the diverse story of Texas' productive agriculture.

Commissioner White invites all visitors and participants in Ozona to see the show. "In it we remind everyone of the quantity and quality of Texas Agricultural Products," he said.

Band Boosters View Contest Band Films

Ozona Band Boosters met in regular monthly session at the Band Hall Monday night, with Mrs. Don Yeager presiding.

Members present viewed films made with the new machine of the November 1 marching contest in Brady and half-time shows at recent games.

During the business meeting Mrs. Herculano Delgado resigned as secretary of the organization, and Mrs. Joe Moran was elected secretary for the balance of the year.

Those planning on participating in the Ozona Follies are asked to be at the High School Auditorium Saturday evening, November 8 at 7 p.m. or, for those who cannot be there, Monday evening, same time and place. This is important as the committee needs to know what is being offered to enable it to coordinate the program. Dress rehearsal will be November 13, and the show on Friday the 14.

Hosp. Auxiliary To Meet Mon.

A meeting of the Crockett County Hospital and Care Center Auxiliary has been scheduled for Monday, Nov. 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the Care Center. Officers for the organization will be elected at that time.

Lions To Meet Crane Friday In Battle For District Title

The stage was set for the battle between the Ozona Lions and the Crane Golden Cranes for the District 7-2A championship game in Crane Friday night, when the Lions beat McCamey 16-14 on the home field here last Friday night.

Both Crane and Ozona go into the battle for the title with unblemished district records, and fans should see a super ballgame.

The Lions struck twice in the final period to pull out the victory in the McCamey game. John Galvan booted a 20-yard field goal to provide the winning margin midway in the fourth quarter. Only four minutes earlier Galvan had recovered a McCamey fumble at mid-field to launch a touchdown drive, which was climaxed with Ricky Perry plunging over from the one.

Estate Planning Seminar Slated

Who gets your property when you die? What will be the cost, and how do you minimize this cost?

Answers to these questions and many more will be offered at an Estate Planning Seminar at Texas A&M University, Dec. 15-16.

The seminar, which will be held in the Rudder Conference Center, is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and is open to all farmers, ranchers and other property owners as well as to professional estate planners such as attorneys, tax accountants, insurance underwriters and trust officers, announces Tom Prater, Extension Service economist in management who is chairman of the event.

John Lawrence of Bryan, president of the State Bar of Texas, will speak at a dinner the first evening.

Among key topics to be featured at the seminar will be minimizing federal estate death taxes, forms of farm and ranch ownership, use of gifts and planning for the full family preservation.

Attorneys and trust officers will be on hand to discuss such key areas as the transfer and disposition of property and the place of wills and trusts.

Internal Revenue Service officials will explain how they evaluate and audit farm and ranch land and other agricultural properties. They will also discuss the pitfalls that farmers, ranchers and estate planners need to avoid in preparing an estate planning report.

Another major area of estate planning that will be highlighted will be the cost of probate in Texas.

Prater points out that all county Extension agents have detailed information on the upcoming seminar along with registration forms.

The registration fee is $25.

The win gave the Lions their third district win of the season against no defeats. It was the badgers' first district loss.

The Lions started the scoring late in the first period as Perry swept over from right end to climax a 65-yard drive with a 4:20 left in the quarter. Galvan booted the extra point and the Lions had a 7-0 lead.

McCamey pulled ahead in the second quarter and hit on two quick touchdowns drives within a six minute period to go into the half time with a 14-7 lead.

Both teams battled it out defensively in the third period with neither team being able to score.

When Perry scored a Lion touchdown early in the fourth quarter, things looked bleak as a two-point passing attempt failed. However, later in the quarter Galvan booted the field goal to give Ozona the win.

The Lions had 13 first downs to the badgers' 10, but the badgers ran up 238 yards all on the ground to take the lead in total yardage.

The Lions rushed for 108 yards and passed for 29, for a total yardage of 137. The Lions completed 3 out of 9 passes and had one interception. The Lions punted 5 times for an average of 39.8. The badgers punted twice for a 26 yard average.

The Lions lost no fumbles while the badgers lost four and that was probably the ball game.

Fire Dept. Has Ladies Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Ozona Volunteer Fire Department re-organized Monday night in a meeting at the fire station. The auxiliary had been disbanded several years ago.

Mrs. James Montgomery was elected president; Mrs. Doyle Lovell, vice president; Mrs. Larry Hill, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Dee Keilers, reporter. Ten members were present for the first meeting.

The next meeting will be held the first Monday in December at 7:30 at the fire station. New members and visitors are welcome.

TRED CLOWN LEFT OVER FROM HALLOWEEN -- The staff, here at the Stockman, thought we had found an orange and black stuffed doll, but as it was, it was a real live boy. The Halloween activities so exhausted him, he took time out for a nap in a recliner in the corner of the office. He was hardly disturbed by press noise or anything else for that matter. However, he's up and at 'em this week. He is 14-month-old Mark Ramirez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Ramirez, Jr.

Simple Arithmetic

We are indebted to a recent Investment Bulletin of the American Institute for Economic Research for what it calls "some simple arithmetic."

Writes the Institute: "Every investor should understand some simple arithmetic that reveals the odds against investment success during prolonged inflation. Most people are so accustomed to thinking that 'a dollar is a dollar' that they fail to see the combined consequences of taxes and the continued depreciation of their dollars.

"For example, if a person aged 30 is planning for his retirement he may be inclined to deposit his savings in a savings bank where the interest rate is 5 percent. We assume that he deposits $1,000 during the current year.

"Presumably, the tax rate applicable to his investment income will be at least 30 percent. Therefore, his after-tax return will not be 5 percent but 3.5 percent. In thirty years, compound interest at a net of 3.5 percent will increase the original deposit to $2,807.

"Precisely what the rate of increase in the cost of living will be cannot be foreseen, but indications are that it may not be less than 10 percent annually. Recently, it was in excess of 14 percent, and in Great Britain the rate has reached 26 percent. Even if the rate is only 10 percent, in thirty years the buying power of the dollar will have decreased to $.57, that is, the $2,807 accumulated after taxes will buy only $161 worth of goods at today's prices. In other words, of the original $1,000 worth of buying power, $839 will have been lost in spite of accumulating at an after-tax compound interest rate of 3.5 percent."

The Institute points out that even long term bonds yielding about 9 percent offer no protection against this type of inflation. Again assuming a 30 percent tax bite and a 10 percent inflation rate, the $1,000 invested is worth only $358 of today's goods after 30 years. And $1,000 invested under the new tax-free retirement plan now permitted by the government would, if placed in a savings bank at 5 percent interest and after allowing for all taxes saved, result after 30 years in only $452 of today's purchasing power.

In any case, the point to be made is that if inflation is not controlled, then investments which merely offer security of principal are going to be sure losers. Consequently, if he is to have any hope at all of staying even, the investor must apparently accept some degree of risk on his principal in order to obtain a higher potential return.

These are the economic facts of life in the America of the 1970s.

Tax Reform — Or Tax Gouging?

News stories out of Washington are that Congress is again about to tackle the sticky problem of "tax reform." The move is based, at least in part, on the very good grounds that the present income tax forms are hopelessly complicated, so much so that the average taxpayer faces a major, time-consuming problem each spring trying to determine how much is owed to Uncle Sam.

It would be rare, indeed, to find a person who would not agree that life would be a lot easier if the income tax reports were somehow made easier to fill out. However, if we are to judge by the scanty information which has leaked out thus far, it would appear that the way some Members of Congress figure to "simplify" things is by eliminating altogether some of the tax deductions now allowed — such as, for example, the gasoline tax. The argument is that the "saving" to each individual taxpayer, under present rules, is very little; but that the Government would gain, when totalled, a great deal.

The fact is, elimination of this "loophole" would in effect double the taxes you now pay on every gallon of gasoline you buy. The only difference is that instead of paying the total tax out in cash at the gasoline pump — where it would show up in bold, out-in-the-open figures — you would pay it again at the end of the year. Of course, it would be hidden away in your income tax payments where, obviously, Congress hopes you won't notice it.

There are even rumors, unconfirmed, of talk to do away with the deduction for interest charges. Of course, those who would be hit the hardest are those who cannot afford to pay cash for everything they buy, and that would include every home-owner paying interest on the mortgage for his house.

All of which raises the question: Are the Congressional planners really interested in finding ways to simplify present income tax reporting methods, or is it their real objective to extract more money from the pockets of Joe Citizen?

If the Members of Congress are genuinely interested in easing the burdens of the taxpayers, they will adopt President Ford's suggestion to cut government expenses and overhead. Then we will all breathe easier.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN — Railroad Commissioner Ben Ramsey's decision to step down at the end of his present term Jan. 1, 1977, assured a wide open race for his position next year.

A large field already is forming. Ramsey, 71, took many by surprise with the announcement he plans to return to law practice in San Augustine in a little more than a year.

His public service career dates back to 1931 when he first entered the House of Representatives. He served six terms as lieutenant governor—longer than any Texas.

State Rep. David Finney of Fort Worth, Houston attorney Terence O'Rourke and Walter Wendlandt, an Austin attorney and former Commission division head, are announced candidates.

Secretary of State Mark White Jr. said last week he is seriously considering getting in the race. White is an appointee of Gov. Dolph Briscoe, and speculation favored him to replace Ramsey if the incumbent stepped down before end of his term.

Other possible contenders for the Commission—which regulates Texas oil and transportation industries—are Texas Legislative Council Executive Director Robert E. Johnson and State Rep. Lane Denton of Waco.

Lawyer Policies Due

State Insurance Board members are considering a new type of policy covering attorneys' fees.

The State Bar and agents' representatives requested approval of a plan authorized by the 1975 Legislature. The Board must approve guidelines.

The Bar is prepared to distribute group policies through a non-profit corporation, a staff member stated. Insurance Company of North America and American National Insurance Company have applied to the Board for authority to sell the coverage. Fees are expected to run $5 to $7.50 per month for such coverage as wells, deeds, advice, defense against traffic charges and domestic cases.

Minority Gains Few

A state legislator claims state agencies have made no progress at finding jobs for blacks, Mexican-Americans and women.

Rep. Paul Ragadale of Dallas said the number of black employees in 38 agencies increased only four-tenths of one percent in the last year, the number of Mexican-American workers 1.1 percent, and the number of women 3.7 percent.

Bob Krueger Reports

This week the Senate passed a natural gas bill jointly sponsored by Senator Bentson of Texas and Senator Pearson of Kansas. The bill offers a sound approach to the nation's impending natural gas short-term prices and long-term problems. I therefore introduced an identical bill in the House of Representatives and will work in subcommittee, full committee and on the floor for its passage.

The bill recognizes the basic injustice of having two markedly different prices for the same product. Currently the price of interstate natural gas (gas transported across a state line) is regulated by the Federal Power Commission at 52¢ per thousand cubic foot. The price of intrastate gas (gas produced and consumed within the same state) is however not regulated by the federal government.

Some years ago when natural gas was abundant and was essentially considered to be a byproduct of oil and to be of little value, the price was cheap everywhere and was cheaper in intrastate than in interstate markets. Today the situation has changed. Before World War II, less than 5% of our nation's energy came from gas. Today, 39% of it does. Its use grew because it is the cleanest, most easily transportable fuel that we have.

But its very qualities naturally mean that more people will want it and just as supply will follow demand, so does price follow demand. As more people wish to buy, the price naturally rises.

In the last few years, the price of intrastate gas has risen higher than that of interstate gas. Those of us living in the San Antonio area are paying particularly high prices for gas because our suppliers did not have sufficient reserves to meet our needs. The higher price paid in Texas for gas has meant that we are able to have adequate supplies whereas there will be a short fall of 10-20% of natural gas in many states this winter.

People will be put out of jobs in other states and as factories have to shut down because of inadequate supplies of gas, it is not hard to understand that those states which can pay only 52¢ per thousand cubic foot for gas will have less than those states like Texas which now pay about $1.60 per thousand cubic foot for the new gas contracts assigned for future years.

The bill which I am introducing will require other states to pay as much for gas produced onshore in the United States in the interstate markets as is paid in

Some Congressmen, including my subcommittee and committee chairmen, wish to consider only the short term emergency rather than the long term problem, but it seems clear that the nation will have to have one price for this product and that price should be the same to all users and should be set competitively in the market place rather than by a government bureau. Allowing that to happen will allow the incentive for new exploration. That, in turn, will mean that our nation will have the energy it needs and can avoid the dependence on imports that we unfortunately developed in oil. With adequate supplies of gas, jobs and industry all over the country will be protected and that will be in the interest of all of us.

The people who gave so generously of their time and dollars should know that they have done something special—they've helped give a better chance in life to children who must struggle to breathe. Our appreciation also goes to the newspapers, radio and television stations of this community for spreading the word about children's lung-damaging diseases and the efforts of the Breath of Life Campaign.

I hope that someday we'll conquer children's lung-damaging diseases, which each year kill more children than any other disease except cancer. When that "someday" arrives, our friends in Ozona will have helped make it possible.

the intrastate market. And over a period of time, off-shore gas will also be sold to those states at market prices rather than at federally regulated prices.

Tips For Gardeners
From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Many of our trees and shrubs are coming alive with brilliant fall color. One of the earliest are a few Chinese tallows which are at their peak now, but do not hold their leaves for very long. The Ray Boys on Henderson Dr. have one at their front, also the I. C. Schroeders and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Josey, new residents of Ozona on Cedar Drive.

Sumacs are one of the first deciduous shrubs to display intensely red foliage along our highways and in a few gardens. Crepe myrtle has fall foliage that turns yellow and red in the sun. Elms and pecans turn an attractive yellow a little later. The evergreen nandinas are a brilliant red in fall and winter if exposed to sunlight. The high-quality red and Spanish oaks produce a beautiful red to maroon fall color. Watch for a beautiful fall.

If you order your roses, now is the time to have them for winter planting. Nurseries will have them soon. Purchase from a source that sell bushes with strong, healthy canes. Select varieties known to do well in this area. Prepare the planting bed for the roses before they arrive; work the soil well, add a generous amount of organic matter. Group the plants for easier care in a well-drained, sunny exposure.

From now through February is the best season of the year for planting or transplanting trees, shrubs and woody vines. Adequate moisture is available for root development prior to spring top growth.

One of the most colorful house plants is the croton (codiaeum variegatum) and any of its many hybrids. Crotons will grow to a height of 6 feet in their native habitat. In the home they seldom grow much over 24 inches, but there are exceptions and there is an example in the hospital lobby.

Depending on the variety, there is a wide selection of leaf shapes and colors. The foliage comes in colors of bronze, pink, reds, yellows, and a wide assortment of colors. The more light the croton gets, the deeper the color of the foliage.

Any good potting soil high in humus is adequate for planting. Crotons are tropical, so they require plenty of moisture. Keep the soil evenly moist for best results. An application of water-soluble fertilizer every two weeks will keep the plants looking healthy.

CHEEK YOUR CHEEK-BONES! High cheekbones, like naturally long lashes or a beautiful complexion, are marks of beauty that are much admired in our society. All the glamorous photographers' models have high cheekbones — or so most of us think. Actually, many of these beauties learned to create the illusion of high cheekbones. It's done with the artful use of cheek makeup.

Some women with high cheekbones will have them all their lives. Others, either through gaining weight, which fills out the face, or through the effects of aging, will lose the naturally prominent cheekbone. Then they, like their full-faced sisters, can still create the illusion of fine bone structure.

The reason some of us don't have prominent cheekbones, obviously enough, is because the area directly below the bone is as full as the cheekbone. So we must "contour" the area with a clever use of cream and powdered blush products. When the powdered blusher is applied below the cheekbone, we darken that area in contrast to the uncolored bone, creating a "shadow." This darkened area appears to recede, thereby bringing out the illusion of a high cheekbone. The secret is to place color under, but not on the cheekbone. A frosted powdered blusher can be used for more color and drama. Perfect is Merle Norman's Frosted Sheer Glo.

Some women fortunate enough to have high cheekbones fail to make the best of this asset. They diminish the potential of this lovely bone structure by casually brushing the cheek and bone area with a blusher with no delineation. Not only must they place the color properly, but just as important is the choice of color. The high-cheekboned woman should choose a blusher either much lighter or much darker than her complexion. Here is the basic placement pattern of the color for high cheekbones. A cream cheek coloring should be used first. One dot of cream goes directly below the outer edge of the eye on the fullest part of the bone. Another dot is placed toward the hairline, about parallel to the first dot. A third dot is dabbed on just below that second one, slightly above the ear lobe. Then with fingers gently blend, using upward movements.

This procedure alone will beautify. But here, too, addition of the Frosted Sheer Glo gives extra flattering highlights.

All women must be careful not to extend blush products too far down the face, for the result is an aging one. Misplaced color certainly doesn't enhance your cheekbones, no matter what kind you have. But with a little practice, you'll have the look of a model's fine bones through the clever use of cream and powdered blusher. Did you ever think it could be so simple?

Dear Mrs. Robinson
I am 16 years old and I hate my nose. I want to be prettier and I am saving for plastic surgery. Wouldn't you if your nose made you ugly?
B.L.

Dear H.L.
At your age girls often think they are ugly when they really are not. A reputable plastic surgeon will tell you truthfully if the shape of your nose needs cosmetic correction. But he'll make sure that it is your nose and not your feelings of insecurity that are the reasons for your thinking you are "ugly."

Garden Indoors With Light

Don't give up indoor gardening just because your house doesn't let in enough light for plants.

Everett Janne, a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says plants will grow with artificial light in the form of fluorescent lamps.

"Fluorescent lamps give off little heat and are excellent for plants because they can be placed near enough to give off high light intensities," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist. The standard cool-light lamp is most popular for growing plants, but special bulbs are now available that are designed to meet the light requirements of plants.

Janne recommends using a lamp with two tubes of at least 40 watts each. Suspend the light fixture about a foot above plants and keep the plants lighted for about 14-16 hours. Two lamp fixtures will light an area four feet by four feet.

"As the plants grow, adjust the lights to allow at least eight inches between the plant tops and the light tube," recommends the specialist. If the temperature in the room falls below 60 degrees F., Janne advises providing supplemental heat that can be controlled with a thermostat.

For the avid indoor gardener, specially equipped units with lights and plant trays are available from garden shops and hobby centers.

GARDEN CLUB TO MEET
The Ozona Garden Club will meet November 17 at 1:30 p.m. — rather than November 19 — in the home of Mrs. Bascomb Cox, with Mrs. Allie Lock and Mrs. Steve Kenley as assisting hostesses.

Debra Says

Plaster flaking? Wallpaper spotting? Shingles flapping? Don't wait for these drastic signs to appear before checking condition of the roof. Although modern roofing materials have an "expected lifetime" of about 20 years, roofs can be damaged or wear out faster, and inspecting the roof annually can help avoid expensive repairs. First check the underlayment. This is the covering of asphalt-saturated felt laid over the sheathing to protect it and the roof structure from moisture. Be sure there are no obvious holes beneath the shingles.

Another trouble spot may be in the flashing, those metal or tar-like strips located where roof planes intersect — such as where a dormer meets the main roof, along the eaves, or at vent stacks or chimneys. Flashing strips should be anchored securely to help keep the roof watertight.

Also routine maintenance procedures should include making any immediate repairs — replace damaged shingles, for example. Clean fallen leaves, twigs and other debris from gutters, downspouts and roof surfaces so water can drain freely. Trim nearby trees to prevent the branches from rubbing against the roof. Prune climbing roses and vines well below the eaves.

Although a homeowner can make simple repairs and maintenance, major jobs require a professional roofer. When hiring a roofer, get at least three estimates of the total cost for comparable materials and installation.

Ask for references and check them. Beware of the roofing salesman who will restore the roof with a "special magical coating," because coatings can be used successfully in some small areas, but they often damage roof materials. CARAMEL NUT POUND CAKE
1 cup butter or margarine
1 box light brown sugar
5 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 cup finely chopped nuts
powdered sugar (optional)
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup white sugar
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
3 cups all purpose flour
1 tablespoon vanilla

Cream butter, shortening and brown sugar thoroughly. Gradually add white sugar and beat thoroughly. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Combine baking powder, salt and flour. Add alternately with milk to creamed mixture, beginning and ending with flour. Add vanilla and nuts, blend well. Pour batter into a well greased and floured 10 inch tube or Bundt pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 1-1/2 hours, or until cake tests done. Cool cake at least 15 minutes before removing from pan. Dust with powdered sugar, if desired.

When you go to pick out furniture, you should keep in mind that to achieve really effective decorating, your rooms should have an atmosphere, a mood, a personality, a character.

Rooms can be dramatic, or romantic, or nostalgic, or cheerful, or comfortable looking, or whatever you want them to say -- if you select the right furnishings.

And, you can create different feelings in different parts of your home. For instance, your living room could have one kind of feeling, while the family room could have another, the bedroom another, etc.

In this way you can have distinctive decorating, bringing not only new beauty to your home, but the feeling of comfort or happiness or whatever it is you want in particular rooms.

How do you really go about achieving this? Well, after finding the kinds of atmosphere or personality you want various rooms to have, we can suggest certain types of furniture and specific pieces that will help you accomplish that goal. Then, there are other considerations such as the scale of furniture, the textures, the use or non-use of patterns, the over-all color contrasts, and the accessories that will be used to complement and point up your decorations. With it all, you can have a home that has the character you want, and we are here to help you create it.

Immunization Important To Childhood Health

Each year many U. S. children die or become disabled from diseases they needn't have contracted, Carla Shearer, a health education specialist, says.

"Immunizations are readily accessible to prevent these tragedies. Diphtheria, pertussis (whooping cough), tetanus, polio, measles and rubella are diseases which can cause disabilities and even death, but they can be prevented through immunizations, Miss Shearer, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

"When vaccines were first available, the incidence of childhood diseases dropped sharply, but as the effects of the diseases faded from people's minds, parents made less effort to be sure their children were fully protected--so immunization levels declined."

The Texas immunization law requires that all children be immunized before entering school--but it's important to protect preschoolers also.

This is the parents' responsibility since these youngsters aren't in school yet, Miss Shearer said.

She noted that reports show immunity levels among 1 to 4-year-olds are low enough to sustain substantial spread of disease, including outbreaks.

The Texas Department of Health Resources suggests that a child start his immunization series at 2 months of age by receiving DTP (diphtheria-tetanus-pertussis) and polio immunizations.

Suggested immunization schedule:

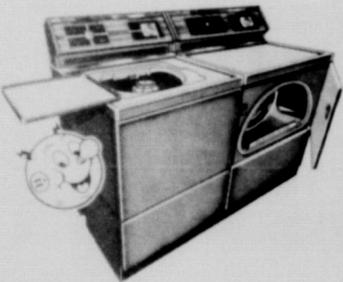

Basic Series
2 months	DTP and Polio
4 months	DTP and Polio
6 months	DTP and Polio
12 months	Measles and Rubella
15-18 months	DTP and Polio
Booster Doses
4-6 years	DTP and Polio
14-16 years	Td (tetanus-diphtheria)
Thereafter	Td every 10 yrs.

The specialist urged parents to check their children's immunization records.

 in Texas elections. We need to bear this in mind in future elections. We need less, not more, federal government in Texas. The next thing you know, they'll pass a bill to funnel Texas Highway Taxes into New York City to help with the big bail-out.

You would think, listening to the news commentators, that everyone in the nation lived or worked in New York City. They want to be bailed out by taxes from the other 49 states, but apparently have come up with no plan to become solvent. This is one thing I can agree completely with President Ford on. Of course, he could change his mind tomorrow, but I don't think the rest of the nation will.

Freeze Ahead For Thanksgiving

Avoid last-minute rush for the Thanksgiving party--freeze appetizers ahead of time. Frances Reasonover, a foods and nutrition specialist, advises.

She's with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Prepare as usual such appetizers as small open-face sandwiches, rolled canapes, puff shells, stuffed nuts and olives, cheese rolls, and bacon-wrapped tubs. Dips and spreads of cheese, deviled ham, fish and avocado mixtures freeze well also.

"But before packing in freezer containers, spread appetizers in single layers on metal pans and freeze them," she advised.

Toast or crisp-base appetizers need different care, she noted. Package them separately from other appetizers.

"Use shallow containers that hold no more than two or three layers. Separate layers with pieces of moisture-vapor resistant paper. Overwrap the entire container with this paper.

"Thaw toast and crisp-base appetizers two to three hours without unwrapping. Other appetizers can be arranged on serving trays and thawed at room temperature for one hour. Store up to two or three weeks," she said.

Apples Top 'Good Buy' List Now

Apples top the "good buy" list at Texas grocery stores as the holiday-food-buying season gets underway.

New-crop apple supplies show excellent quality--with bagged apples in smaller sizes "attractive buys," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt advises.

"Also, grapefruit is in better supply with quality improving weekly--while pears and grapes offer good selections at reasonable cost, she said.

Mrs. Clyatt is a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

At vegetable counters, dry onion prices are higher than last year because supplies are lower.

Seasonal vegetables in the "good choice" category this week include eggplant, broccoli, brussels sprouts, turnips and rutabagas.

"Most economical" items are mustard, collards, carrots, cabbage, hard-shell squash and potatoes, Mrs. Clyatt added.

Dairy sections are featuring cheese--particularly longhorn and cheddar cheese, along with low-fat milk and sour cream.

The specialist also noted economy buys on fishery products, advising consumers to sample the wide variety of choices in determining family preferences--for greatest savings.

On the meat scene, a few turkey "specials" are available on birds over 10 pounds--and on wings and drumsticks. Fryer chickens are showing slight price increases.

Pork prices remain high with only a few Boston butt features available.

As a rule, store "specials" really are the best beef values and this week's choices include chuck steaks and roasts, round, sirloin and rib steaks, ground beef and liver, Mrs. Clyatt said.

HOLIDAY CHECKLIST
 --It's time to start buying fruit cake ingredients.

--Popcorn snackers can choose white kernels for a bit more tenderness or yellow for larger kernels. In buying, avoid bags with scratched or cracked kernels, as they may pop only partially or not at all.

--Raisin forecasts show an adequate supply.

What's the difference between herbs and spices? Herbs are leaves and sometimes flowers of aromatic plants grown in the temperate zones; spices come from aromatic plants grown in the tropics.

Mrs. Stephen Ferner and Mrs. George Bean flew from Midland over the weekend to Los Angeles, Calif. where they will take a cruise down the southern coast of California to Acapulco and back.
