I have come up with a fantastic plan for fighting inflation. If I do say so, it's brilliant.

First we will eliminate all government economic advisors, every last one. They are never right anyway. This will save millions in salaries, office expense, etc.

Second, we will send the United Nations to that little African country whose leader suggested it. Can't recall his name at the moment. We would, of course, withdraw our major financial support. This will save billions and at the same time get rid of an ineffectual organization which has become a sounding board for terrorists and murderers.

Third, we will cut every government official's salary in half. If they are sincere about wanting to whip inflation, they should be happy to take the cut.

Fourth, we will shut down the government printing office, thereby, eliminating waste baskets full of trash, saving money and doing a lot for the paper shortage.

Last, but not by any means least, we will quit funding commissions, agencies, study groups, investigations, etc.

I could go on and on, but I'm using an electric typewriter and this is not saving energy. On second thought, why not just cut out the federal government entirely and let the states govern themselves? This would be a good time to make the switch, income tax paying time. No more federal budget, and no more federal taxes. Right on!

In bowing to criticism of our policy on ERA or Woman's Lib, we have decided to take it to you, our subscribers.

Shall we change The Ozona Stockman to The Ozona Stockperson? We'd like to hear your opinions on this very important matter, and shall await your response.

This bit of trivia this week is sincerely dedicated to Ann Davidson in Dallas, and the other two or three of you, wherever you are, who feel this column makes your week complete. Bless you!

Buildings Change Hands

Bert Sorrells has purchased the old Smith Drug and Parker Cleaners buildings from W. W. West.

Sorrells is presently remodeling the Smith Drug building and will open a men's wear store there in the near future. He plans to restore and rent the building which housed Parker's Cleaners for so many years.

Car Wreck Injures Two Boys

Rick Hunnicutt and Bill Armstrong of San Angelo narrowly escaped serious injury in a one-vehicle wreck 13 miles south of Ozona on State Highway 163 about 2 p.m. Friday afternoon.

The two boys were returning to town from the Hunnicutt ranch when they were literally run off the road by an oncoming vehicle. Hunnicutt, who was driving the late model El Camino, attempted to avoid a head-on collision with what he lost control and the vehicle flipped end over end, coming to rest in a pasture. The boys only suffered severe bruises and superficial cuts.

They were brought to the hospital by Jesse Marley, who radioed ahead. Both boys were treated in the emergency room and hospitalized. Hunnicutt was released the following day, but Armstrong was transferred to St. John's Hospital in San Angelo where he was still under observation at mid-week.

Rick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hunnicutt and Armstrong is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Armstrong of San Angelo. Both boys are students at Texas Tech in Lubbock. Armstrong was visiting here before their return to school from the holidays when the accident occurred. Hunnicutt returned to school Sunday although suffering from a badly sprained ankle.

Oil Producer Fined In County Field

Gulf Oil Corp. No. 1 Parker Ranch Co. Ltd., State, Strawn pay opener 3/8 mile northeast of the one-well Bouscaren (Ellenburger) field of Crockett County, eight miles north of Iraan, was fined for 691.6 barrels of 43.9 gravity oil, plus 29 barrels of water daily, with gas-oil ratio of 766-1.

Production was through a 15-64-inch choke and perforations at 7,678-684 feet, which had been acidized with 500 gallons. Top of pay was picked at 7,678 feet on ground elevation of 2,960 feet.

Drilled to 8,223 feet, where 5 1/2-inch casing was set, it is plugged back to 8,205 feet.

Location is 4,921 feet from the east and 467 feet from the south lines of 52-HH-GC&SF. The Ellenburger opener, the firm's No. 1-J Bouscaren, was fined Dec. 27, 1974, to pump 104.9 barrels of 42.7 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 305-1, through perforations at 8,143-58 feet.

1975 Vehicle License Plates To Go On Sale Here February 3

License vehicle tags for 1975 have been received and will go on sale at the County Tax Assessor-Collector's office February 3. Deputy clerk Mrs. Luetta Beall said the plates were scheduled to go on sale Feb. 1, but the office is closed on Saturdays and with Sunday also being a holiday, it will be Monday, Feb. 3, before the first plates will be sold.

In a telephone interview with Mrs. Beall Monday, she informed the Stockman that the new plates were indeed the new multi-year plates, which have been billed by officials as the license plate which might outlast the vehicle that "wears" it. The multi-year plates will be used on all passenger vehicles, with the exception of those using personalized plates. The series begins with EWY-150 and the second series begins with EWZ-10.

The "multi-year" license plate is renewable annually for five years of driving, but there will be no change in registration procedure, at least for the present.

Instead of the usual metal plate, a heavier, non-corrosive steel has been used for greater endurance. Also the plate will be reflectorized and will feature black letters and numerals on a white field, considered by experts to be the most easily readable color combination.

"The real change in registration procedure will come in 1976," Mrs. Beall explained. Next year, instead of buying a new license plate, owners will purchase a 1 by 2 inch adhesive-type validation tag that will be placed in the debossed upper left corner of the plate. In 1977, the tag will be stuck in the upper right corner to cover the debossed "75," and

B&C Automotive Burglarized Friday Night

Charles Preddy, owner of B & C Automotive, opened up Saturday morning and discovered that he had been burglarized late Friday night or early Saturday morning.

The thief or thieves made off with approximately $500 in change, a tape player, 26 tapes, a calculator, a multi-band radio and two testing instruments. All the missing items were taken from the office in the front of the building. Entry was gained through a back window. A ladder was taken from behind West Texas Utilities, propped against the building and pulled inside the garage portion of the building. Preddy discovered the ladder after finding the office robbed.

The only thing missing from the garage portion was the screwdriver which forced entry to the office from the back side.

Police officials have no suspect at present, but do have the serial numbers of the missing items.

Funeral Service Monday For Howard Westfall

Funeral services for Howard Lee Westfall, 79, native Ozonian from Sonora, were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Ozona United Methodist Church with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Westfall, one of West Texas' best known rodeo cowboys, died early Saturday in Shannon Hospital in San Angelo after a brief illness.

Westfall had been an active roper in rodeo circles most of his life and was a charter member of the Cowboys Turtle Assn., forerunner of the Rodeo Cowboys Assn. He won roping championships in the United States and was named champion calf roper in London, England, in a 1936 engagement. Only last April, he won the annual "old men's roping contest" in Marfa for the third time.

Westfall was born in Ozona July 1, 1895. His father, Wesley Westfall, was an early day steer roper and justice of the peace in Crockett County. He operated the Howard Well Ranch near Ozona. Westfall was married to Lois Allen June 19, 1935. For the past 25 years, they have lived on the Jack Turney ranch 33 miles south of Sonora.

Survivors include his wife; three daughters, Mrs. W. F. Culp of Barnhart, Mrs. Joy Goetsell of Odessa and Mrs. Wayne Steele of Anaheim, Calif.; two sons, Howard Westfall, Jr., of Kermit and Jim Westfall of Andrews; four brothers, Bart Westfall of Barnhart, Opie Westfall of Brownwood, Hubert Westfall of Paris and Dub Westfall of California; three sisters, Alpha McKinney of California, Phoebe Siple of Blythe, Calif. and Euda Teele of Mesquite; 10 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Boykin holds the exuberant Penny, while daughter, Kendy, gives her a pat. Kendy loves Penny, but prefers to keep her distance.

THIS IS THE REMAINS of a late model El Camino which flipped end over end in a freak wreck south of Ozona Friday afternoon. Almost a miracle was the fact that its occupants were able to walk away, badly bruised, cut and scratched, but not seriously injured. See story on this page.

WORLD WAR III IS HERE

Football buffs know what happens when a hard-charging 200-pound fullback crashes into a stationary 200-pound linebacker. The linebacker comes out second best.

Project that familiar scene onto a global field, with the Soviet Union and the United States pitted against each other, and what you have is not a game. It is, in the words of at least one distinguished analyst, "World War III." Take a guess which superpower is carrying the football.

"My thesis is that we have been in World War III for the past 25 years, and that the long-range Soviet goal is to win it without a nuclear exchange," writes Sir Robert Thompson in a new book, Peace is Not at Hand. The author adds that Russia's goal "requires that eventually the Russians should force a strategic surrender by the United States by undermining American will and purpose, or by maneuvering the United States into an untenable global situation — or by some of both."

Thompson, a British military expert who served as an advisor to the U.S. on Southeast Asian affairs during the late 1960s, argues that, since World War II, America's "grand strategy" has been defensive. Soviet strategy has been offensive, "motivated by an expansionist communist ideology."

Ironically, while this country continues to pay homage to its own rosy interpretation of "detente," the USSR repeatedly has affirmed that, to it, the term simply means a new form of conflict. Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev, for example, said this in a 1972 speech: "While pressing for peaceful coexistence, we realize that successes in no way signify the possibility of weakening the ideological struggle. On the contrary, we should be prepared for an intensification of this struggle between the two social systems."

Thompson warns that, quite aside from the huge conventional and strategic arms buildup by the USSR, Russia's willingness to provide full diplomatic and logistic support in its allies' wars has gained it credibility throughout the world. On the other hand, America's wavering among its friends in the wake of Vietnam is "a recipe for failure," argues the author.

"Involvement can lead to either success or failure," says Thompson. "Non-involvement leads only to failure. The answer is to keep the options open."

AMERICA AS ANCIENT ATHENS

Although it is more fashionable to compare the decline of U.S. power and influence in the world with the prolonged decline and fall of Rome, a better comparison may perhaps be found in ancient Athens. Author-journalist William Gill drew the analogy in a recent radio program by the American Security Council.

Gill pointed out that America has never really resembled Rome because we are not a militant, imperialist power bent on world conquest. We are more like Athens, which was a mercantile state and which became the most prosperous country in the world of its day and the envy of all other nations. Its Golden Age, under Pericles, came after it led the Greeks in defeating the Persian invaders.

Then came the Peloponnesian War with Sparta. Sparta attacked first. The Athenian fleet prevailed at sea, but every time Athens won an advantage, the Spartans called a peace conference while they continued to build up their own navy. The Athenians were defeated at Syracuse, and the Spartans sailed their new fleet boldly against Athens' client cities, capturing one after the other until they ultimately forced the surrender of Athens itself.

"It is not difficult," says Gill, "to pinpoint the similarities in Athens vs. Sparta and America vs. the Soviet Union. The three decades since World War II have been our Peloponnesian War, and you can take your pick as to whether Korea or Vietnam was our Syracuse. While America focused on these two sideshows, Russia built a powerful navy and the world's most formidable nuclear striking force. Fortunately, the final act has not yet been played out in the tragedy. There is still tremendous energy in our country. America may never be another Rome, but it need not repeat the folly of Athens."

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

Trailer Warning
 Due to the unusually high price charged for gasoline today, many motorists are purchasing the smallest automobiles possible.

This is a commendable way to economize on gasoline, but it's not so good from the standpoint of safety if you are going to be pulling a boat or trailer, unless the entire rig is a mighty light one.

Many a fisherman has discovered to his great surprise that a sudden and strong gust of wind can cause a loaded trailer to "flip" and in the process of doing so cause further damage by overturning the light automobile.

So, it is well to remember that the pulling car must outweigh the trailing unit, and then some.

Smallest damage that can be done is to crash your trailer and your boat. There's also a likelihood of seriously injuring yourself and your companions, and a possibility of crashing into an approaching or parked vehicle.

It's not worth the risk to underpower any automobile. But it is well worth the investment to overpower, just in case extra weight or added speed is needed for one purpose or another.

Charging Caution
 When your car or boat battery goes dead and needs a quick charge, a booster charge, or a lift from another battery, be sure and disconnect your battery from both of the battery cables.

Otherwise you may damage such equipment as the radio, clock, alternators or impulse tachometers.

Reason is that semi-conductors can be injured by current exceeding their own ratings.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
 by Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN, Tex.—The 64th Texas Legislature started with a bang and a burst of action last week.

State Senators set new records for speed in organizing while the House named Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake its new speaker and debated rules.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, as promised, named a complete roster of Senate standing committees on the first day of the session, January 14. Only changes in chairmanships were Sens. Don Adams of Jasper moving up to head the housekeeping appropriations panel and Sen. Pete Snelson of Midland taking over the intergovernmental relations committee.

The Senate went to work almost immediately on a proposed emergency pay raise for state employees, while both houses advanced a measure to extend unemployment compensation benefits four weeks and gain $5 million in federal funds.

Clayton, who defeated Rep. Carl Parker of Fort Arthur for the speakership, delayed naming of his committees until this week, while he concentrated on getting rules changes he wants.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe submitted lawmakers a long list of emergency measures for immediate consideration, including the pay raise for state workers and $80 million in stop gap aid for schools.

Other than the emergency measures, and rules adoption, little action is expected on the floor of either house until after the inauguration of Briscoe and Hobby to second terms Tuesday (January 21).

Briscoe prepared long-range recommendations for delivery to a joint session of the House and Senate Wednesday (January 22).

PRODUCTION STILL "WIDE OPEN"—February is the 35th straight month of wide open statewide oil allowable.

Texas Railroad Commission once again set a 100 per cent production order.

Meanwhile, independent oilmen said the decline in Texas oil production has begun a "big turnaround."

Frank Pitts of Dallas said 60,000 to 70,000 wells can be drilled a year instead of the present 30,000. There are lots of places to drill oil wells, but the cost is going to be high, said Pitts.

Crude prices should average $90 to $100 per barrel to encourage drilling the maximum number of wells, said the Dallas oilman.

INVESTIGATION FUNDED—A Senate sub-committee was given a budget to begin an investigation of questioned Southwestern Bell Telephone Company operations in Texas.

The Senate Administration Committee approved a $27,832 allowance to hire utility rate experts and two investigators to look into allegations of wire-tapping, campaign slush fund contributions and keeping of dual sets of books (one for rate cases).

Sen. Ron Clower of Garland, chairman of the Senate Sub-Committee on Consumer Affairs, said the panel already has an extensive file of leads. Clower said he

Bob Krueger Reports
 U.S. Representative
 21st District

In this, my first report to the District since it honored me by electing me its Representative, I want to comment on two things: the state of Congress and the state of the Union.

First, the state of the Congress. Some press reports have suggested that the large number of new members means that the new Congress will be "liberal." I disagree. Most of the new members come from basically conservative districts, like ours, and I doubt that those members campaigned in favor of big new spending programs. Further, I doubt that they will vote for such programs. Certainly I do not intend to.

What the new Congress has done, however, is to bring reforms and procedures that altered the seniority system. Now districts with new congressmen have a chance of a more equal voice, so that they can be represented as effectively as the districts of long-time senior members. This change reflects democracy: all congressional districts should be equal and their need be no apology for these reforms. They will help the 21st District and the American system.

Second, the state of the Union. The President in his address said that the state of the Union "is not good." I disagree. Yes, we have problems: high inflation, deepening recession, uncertainty about our national direction. But improvement lies within our power. We can work to control federal spending, and I will do so. We can give short-term, immediate relief to those most in need, as the President suggests, but we must always recognize that money spent today must be paid tomorrow, and I have strong reservations about the massive deficits that the President is asking for and that some in Congress will be willing to provide. The only way that I know to restore government to sound financial footing and to control inflation is to have the government live within its income. I will work for that, and I will work to find others to join me.

I hope to use these columns to give you a first-hand report from your Representative on events in Washington, and I hope you will call on me for help with any particular problem.

THE LIONS ROAR

by Virginia H. Suzanne W. Debbie M. Debra C.

Your horoscope for Thursday, January 23, 1975:

Aries: If you want to free yourself from someone, do so graciously. Explain how you feel about the situation and you will get good results.

Taurus: You may make a mistake today and have to do all your work over, which could be very embarrassing.

Gemini: A new neighbor may issue you an invitation today. You can make a good friend now.

Cancer: The time is right to do something new with money which is just sitting in the bank.

Leo: You may be difficult to please today. You can make yourself difficult to everyone you deal with now.

Virgo: You may come into contact with someone whom you want to see quite badly. You'll also win new favors.

Libra: You may be elected to take over a special job which is quite important. You scarcely know what to say, so just get to work.

Scorpio: A younger person may not have the affection for which you imagine. This person is pleasing enough to charm you.

Sagittarius: The time is right for you to learn some things which you only half suspected before.

Capricorn: The day is favorable for travel and little else. If you stay at home, you will find only dullness.

Aquarius: You may get a raise in pay commencing now and may also be informed of some new work to do after the month ends.

Pisces: You may get a chance to do some new work, but find it doesn't suit you. It can contain some complicated machinery which you don't like at all.

Gossip: Does Virginia H. really think that George Washington is still around today? Coach Richey will answer your question, Virginia. Is it true that Max S. is building a 20 ft. trophy case for all of his awards? Suzanne W. really had the family reunion of her life Saturday at the FFA show. It couldn't be true that David B. offered his car for the "Car Bash" that the Seniors will be sponsoring. Is it true that Clifford C. drank Tabasco sauce in his baby bottle?

Tonight is the senior sponsored "Basketball Game of the Year." Playing the game will be the Ozona High faculty against the senior boys that aren't on the basketball team. There will also be a cake raffle, so you'll come and try your luck. Admission is 50¢ for all. Come and back up your favorite senior!

SNIPS, QUIPS AND LIFTS

Two things are bad for the heart—running up stairs and running down people.

What this country needs is more family trees that will produce more lumber and fewer nuts.

People should keep their mouths shut and their pens dry until they can know the facts.

It's true to err is human—but it can be overcome.

Always remember there are some people who set their watches by your clock.

Envy provides the mud that failure throws at success.

Egotism is the glue with which you get stuck on yourself.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

It's time to shape up fruit trees.

There is so much pruning going on now to shape up damaged shade trees, you may forget your fruit trees. Proper pruning of fruit trees is essential for an abundant crop of large fruits. Young fruit trees should be pruned early to establish a good, strong scaffold system with wide-angled, well-spaced branches that will not tend to split. Once the trees are of bearing age, however, similarities in pruning disappear. The rapid-growing species require heavier pruning than the slow-growing ones.

Rapid growers such as apricots, peaches and plums are among the most vigorously growing fruit trees. Prune heavily to remove two-thirds of last year's growth. This will encourage new shoots which bear fruit only once during the following summer. If heavy pruning is not done, fruit will be produced farther and farther out on the branches each year.

Slow growers—apples, cherries and pears are among this group. Little new growth that bears fruit is produced each year. Instead, fruit is produced on long lived spurs. For this reason, pruning consists mainly of cutting out dead and misplaced branches.

Training a fruit tree to make a pleasing landscape specimen, while at the same time getting a good crop of fruit, often presents a problem. Becoming familiar with how the plant grows naturally and pruning each year to direct this growth in a natural way will help to get the greatest benefit from your trees.

Don't be timid when you prune. A few wrong cuts made during the pruning season will not kill a tree, and new spring growth will soon hide most of the mistakes. Better to make a few mistakes when pruning than not to prune at all.

Pruning shears, lopping shears, and a pruning saw are essential parts of any gardener's tool implements.

Don't fail to water shrubs if no moisture falls soon.

Debra Says

by Debra Price HD Agent

Are you having problems making your money go as far as you would like? Planning ahead is the key to successful personal money management. But don't overdo it. Holding spending down and increasing savings too much will put your family in a strain.

Families need to save and spend according to the needs of their family. Then live by your own plan, not that of your neighbor. A savings and spending plan should be designed to work for you.

Budgeting should not be a burdensome bookkeeping procedure. A budget should be a financial plan. Budgeting is an organized spending and saving plan drawn up ahead of time, not a record of expenditures set down afterwards.

Budgeting is a joint family effort. Everyone must work together. It is unfair for parents to expect their children to know how to manage their money wisely when they become adults if they are not trained in this area while they are growing up.

The starting point is taking what's left from your paycheck after taxes and other deductions are made. Break down your financial plan (income and estimated expenses) on a payday basis. Deposit your paycheck in your bank and use checks to pay for all significant expenses. Also make regular deposits in your bank savings account.

When the checks are returned by the bank, you can sort them out, total each category, and see whether you stayed within or exceeded your budget plan. It is convenient to pay by check and much safer.

We all feel that way at times. And, tragically, there are some folks who feel that way much of the time.

But while the world in which we live leaves a lot to be desired, it's our world. And life in that world is pretty much what man himself has made of it.

The God who created us and our universe had some excellent plans for life as it should be. They are clearly set forth in the Bible whose writing He inspired. And they have become the spiritual blueprint of constructive living for millions of believers.

As the earth continues its endless turning, search for your goals in faith—not escape... in the Word of God—not the words of cynics.

Fabric Grain Important Element In Sewing

Grain refers to the direction of the yarns in a piece of fabric. And proper grain is most important for a garment to hang straight, according to one clothing specialist.

"Lengthwise grain runs parallel with the fabric's selvage, and crosswise grain runs perpendicular to the selvage," explained Marlene Odle with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"When making a garment, follow the pattern markings for lengthwise and crosswise grainline as you lay the pattern on the fabric," Miss Odle advised. In buying printed fabrics, be sure to notice whether the design is printed on grain. Sacrificing grain for a bargain will cause problems in constructing the garment, she noted.

Fabric with its design printed off the grain can be easily spotted because the design doesn't follow evenly along the selvage. The specialist advised looking for this characteristic along the selvage—not the cut edge—because fabric bolts are seldom cut on grain. "In knits, the looped yarns form a grain. Some knits cast a shadow in one direction. Be careful to check this in natural lighting before cutting," she said.

Permanent press fabrics and knits that don't meet at the selvage after preshrinking should not be pulled to meet. They will eventually return to their original shapes. Lay the

Food Industry Workshop Scheduled At A & M

With rising costs, inflation, fixed margins and general economic uncertainty, the only way to increase profits is to increase productivity.

That's why people in the food industry will be participating in a national productivity workshop at Texas A&M University, Feb. 3-6.

Search On For Rural Hero

Some deserving individual who risked his or her life to save another will receive the 1975 Rural Heroism Award sponsored by the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

The council sponsors the award program to help promote safety in rural areas, according to Wayne Keese, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service who serves as secretary of the council.

All nominations must be submitted by Feb. 21 to the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, Box 489, Waco, Texas 76703.

The recipient of the award will be presented an inscribed plaque at the annual meeting of the Texas Safety Association at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston on March 3.

"Individuals who performed acts of life-saving heroism in a farm or ranch environment during the 1974 calendar year are eligible for the award," points out Keese. "The nomination should include a detailed report of the incident, names of all persons involved, and the location and date. News pictures and stories will be helpful."

According to Keese, highway or transportation accidents, industrial accidents or recreational accidents on public property are among those not considered eligible. However, exceptions may be made when the incident involves farm and ranch families or employees.

The workshop to be held in the Rudder Conference Center is designed to meet the needs of food industry people from processors to retailers as well as university and public agency personnel, according to Dr. Bill Vastine, economist in food distribution for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The theme will be "Meeting Consumer Demand and Productivity."

The first day of the workshop will be open to the public, announces Vastine. This session will provide an overview of the problems, opportunities and challenges for improving productivity in food distribution. Emphasis will be given to recent legislation, technological developments, labor and consumer action on productivity.

Workshop sessions Feb. 4-6 will be limited to 50 participants and will emphasize skills and techniques available to evaluate and implement cost-reducing programs, says Vastine. Workshop topics will include recent developments in transportation, storage, product handling, and electronic checkout systems. Use of the systems concept for citrus and meats to increase productivity in wholesaling and retailing will be discussed.

Those in the food industry who wish to attend the workshop should contact Vastine in the Department of Agricultural Economics, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

The workshop is being planned by the Extension Service along with the Food Distribution Research Society, U. S. Department of Agriculture, and National Commission on Productivity.

Screwworm Cases For Year Down Compared With 1973

The 6,902 screwworm cases recorded in Texas during 1974 compare to 8,913 during 1973, and 90,980 during 1972, notes Dr. M. E. Meadows, director of the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Screwworm Eradication Program.

December cases totalled 66, compared to 486 in December of 1973.

Meadows gives credit for the lesser numbers in 1974 to ranchers who promptly submitted samples of suspected screwworm infestations and carefully worked to keep numbers of this live flesh eating parasite at a comparatively low level during 1974. "Weather helped, too," he commented, noting the relatively dry year over much of the screwworm barrier zone.

A build-up of screwworm cases in sheep and goat rearing areas was noted during the late summer and fall shearing season. A large number of cases was also noted from ear-tick caused wounds in south Texas during September, October, and the first part of November.

Dr. James E. Novy, director of field operations for the program, which is administered by the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), notes that many of the September and October cases were in navels of newborn calves. "These are the two months when screwworms are usually most plentiful. Ranchers could help the program next year by controlling breeding so calves are not born in those months," he says.

Female screwworm flies deposit their eggs on edges of wounds in all warm blooded animals. Emerging larvae burrow into the wound to feed on live flesh. Heavy infestations weaken the host animal, and may cause its death, if untreated.

The female screwworm fly mates only once in her two or three week lifetime. The APHIS eradication program works by releasing thousands of artificially reared and sexually sterilized male flies to mate with fertile wild females. Eggs produced by such matings do not hatch, thus reducing the native population.

The Screwworm Barrier Program is based on the sterile male release technique and seasonal weather patterns. Winter weather kills the wild population south into its warm over-wintering areas.

Sterile flies are released along the northern border of the wild fly population to force it even farther south during the winter. In spring and summer, as flies migrate northward with warming weather, sterile males are released to slow movement and attempt to keep screwworms from reaching the United States.

Lions Win One And Lose One In District Play

Both the Lion Varsity and Junior Varsity won one and lost one in district basketball play which began last week.

In the first game Tuesday night the varsity lost to Crane 61-57, the JV score was 52-47. Tommy Hoover led the varsity effort with 18 points. Richard Sanchez was the only other Lion in double figures with 13. Orlando DeHoyos and John Galvan had 12 and 11 points respectively for the JV.

The Lions won the double header with McCamey Friday night. The varsity beat the Badgers 59-55 in an overtime and the JV took a 42-40 win. David Bean led the Lion scoring with 20 points while Sanchez again had 13. High point man for the JV was Mike Fay with 12 and DeHoyos had 10.

Both teams were in Sander-son Tuesday night and will have district games with Sonora Friday night in Sonora.

Mrs. Beall warned that certain classes of motor vehicles will still require annual purchase of plates. These include radio operators, dealers, state officials and those passenger cars displaying personalized plates. She also said that annual registration fees for motor vehicle owners will remain the same as in the past—$12.30 for vehicles weighing up to 3,500 pounds; $22.50 for vehicles weighing 3,501 to 4,500 pounds; $30.30 for vehicles weighing 4,501 to 6,000 pounds. Vehicles weighing 6,001 pounds or more are charged at the rate of 55 cents.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

Brought to you By Lillian Brown

At one time, homemakers with small children or pets who wanted practical furniture had to settle for furnishings that weren't always the last word in beauty; and, by the same token, furniture that was beautiful was often fragile and not practical for a growing family because you always had to be careful, and worry about it.

But, today there is in the home furnishings field a concept of "casual elegance"—and strange as it seems, those two words are not contradictory to each other. Elegant things CAN be casual today and casual things CAN be elegant.

Just one reason for this change are soil-resistant fabrics that have been developed over the years. Now if something spills on a beautiful piece, you don't have the worry you once had.

But that's not all. Manufacturers have been able to produce elegant furniture without the fragile construction of other years, and at the same time, they've been able to truthfully say that built-in ruggedness in a piece does not prevent it from being beautiful and graceful.

Thus, today you can enjoy the best of both worlds as never before. You don't have to settle for fragile furniture if you want beauty, and you don't have to sacrifice beauty if you want sturdy, easy-to-care-for furniture.

To see a good selection of beautiful furniture, come and see us.

per hundred pounds of weight. Also for the first time, a new five-year travel trailer plate will be available. This classification includes all camper trailers and house trailer-type vehicles which are not in excess of 6,000 pounds gross weight or not in excess of 8 feet wide or 55 feet in overall length when measured in combination with the towing vehicle, regardless of weight.

Motorists are encouraged to register vehicles early and avoid the "last minute" rush. Registrants may apply by mail immediately, or "in person" at their county tax office beginning in Crockett County Feb. 3. Mail applicants are reminded to return the entire renewal notice along with their payment and one dollar per vehicle to cover postage and handling. Allow at least 30 days for delivery of plates. Registration deadline is midnight April 1.

SASA Branch To Open Here

Stockholders in San Angelo Savings Association were informed at the annual meeting last week that application for a branch office has been approved and arrangements are now being made to open a SASA branch in Ozona. Association President H. J. (Mickey) Sallee reported that San Angelo Savings has in excess of $600,000 in savings and approximately $900,000 in loans from the Ozona area.

In October, 1974, San Angelo Savings expanded its operation by opening a branch office in Sonora. This new branch contributed to the last quarter's growth of the association, according to Sallee.

REDDY'S REFRIGERATOR SAVINGS TIPS

Don't open refrigerator door unnecessarily. Plan your trips to the refrigerator while cooking. Make sure the children maintain a closed door policy.

Buy the size that fits your needs. An over-large refrigerator or freezer wastes space as well as electricity.

Clean external coils, fins and motor often and keep them free from dust.

Defrost your refrigerator and freezer before ice deposit exceeds 1/2 inch. Excess ice causes your refrigerator to work harder.

Cleaning Inside of cabinet

- a. Should be cleaned twice a month
 - dispose of forgotten foods
 - clean up spills
 - eliminate "off" odors that transfer flavors
- b. Use warm water and baking soda solution (1 teaspoon soda to 1 quart water). Rinse in clear water and dry.
