This is another one of those weeks when all the news got here at deadline time or after. I really expected to get crowded out of this space again, but managed to make it one more time. We've even made it from spring to winter and back to spring since last week. The Easter spell, as we call it, lowered temperatures to 20 degrees early Sunday morning. I guess that takes care of the fruit crop. At least the fruit trees at my house will have nothing but leaves

It's awfully dry around these parts. All the cold fronts have been dry, dusty and windy. After last September, I thought we'd never in the world be begging for rain again. Guess that's the price we pay for living in

Looks like we are up to our ears in elections this month. We should all make an effort to get to the courthouse Saturday and vote in the school board and water board election. Of course, the school board election has generated more interest because there are five challengers for the three spots, but we should also be interested in the water board election. In spite of the fact that there are no contested races, the water district is an important part of the county structure. And since the bulk of our tax money goes to the schools, we should be most interested.

Annual Arts & Crafts Festival Set

The Annual Arts & Crafts Festival, sponsored by the Ozona Womans Forum, will be held Tuesday, April 15, in The Granny Miller Hall from 3:30 until 5 p.m.

Local artists are invited to exhibit paintings and hand crafts in the show which will have an adult division and a children's division, Exhibitors are asked to bring items to the hall Tuesday morning. April 15. Entries should be picked up by owners at the close of the show.

The show has provided much interest in past years and has abounded in items by talented local artists. Club members expect all new exhibits this year and the public is cordially invited to view making an advance payment the show during the open hours, at the bank by May 1.

Cold Weather Hampers First WTRA Rodeo

Weather put a damper on the first West Texas Rodeo Association show of the season held here Friday and Saturday. However, in spite of the bitter cold, close to 50 contestants entered the show. Spectators were made up for the most part by loyal parents and friends.

Several Ozona contestants placed in the various events. In the 16-19 age group, Sally Bailey won first in the flag race and tied Deklyn Cain for fourth in the barrels. Karen Kirby won third in second in steer roping. In the 13 -15 age group only one Ozona youth got in the win column. Douglas Bean won third in tie-down roping and fourth in steer barrels and David Bean won

In the 9 to 12 age group, the great state of West Texas. Kristi Kirby won first in barrels, Lori Clayton won second in barrels and flags, Lisa Mitchell and Gaye Burns tied for fourth in barrels. Will M. Black won second in breakaway roping and Louis Bunger won third in the same

Stories Needed For Crockett County History

Work continues on the ambitious project by the Historical Society to publish a complete history of Crockett County. For several weeks now, members of the society have been taking orders for the books in the lobby of the Ozona National Bank, Cost per book is $15,60, including

The society sent out letters urging citizens of the county to get their family histories in for publication in the book. In writing a family history, 1,000 words or less should be used. If additional space is needed, a small charge will be added. The story should begin with the state or county from which the family came, the date and the area settled in Crockett County. Also the mode of travel, their first house and all family names. The writer should tell about

Pictures will add interest. Articles, pictures etc. should be turned in at the museum or given to Mrs. Pleas Childress, III, no later than September 1, 1975. Books may be reserved by

Three Elections This Month For Crockett County Voters

Crockett County voters have three elections coming up this month. Saturday the polls will open for the School Board Trustee election and for the election of three mem bers of the Crockett County Water District Board, The election for two proposed constitutional amendments has been set for April 22. All precincts will consolidate and vote at the courthouse with the exception of the voting boxes at Powell Field and the Power Plant, These boxes will be open for all elections.

Absentee voting for school board and water board closed Tuesday. A check with the county clerk's office revealed an unusually large number of absentee votes for the school board, 97 as of Monday morning. There were no absentee votes for the water board.

The large number of absentee votes in the school board election indicates a great deal of interest and a heavier than usual turnout on election day. Three places are open for the school board and five men have filed for the positions.

The three incumbents are asking for another term. They are John Lee Henderson, Jr .. John R. Jones and Luis C. Martinez. The two other men filing for places on the ballot are R. J. Everett, Jr. and Rober G. Flores.

Henderson, local rancher who resigned as a bank officer last year, is a graduate of Angelo State University and a lifelong resident of Ozona. He and Mrs. Henderson have two children in scho

Jones replaced Charles E. Davidson, III, on the board when he retired last year. He is asking for his first elected term. He is a rancher and a life long Crockett County resident. He and Mrs. Jones have a youngster in school

Martinez owns and manages the Dina's Poco Taco here and is employed at the courthouse. He and Mrs. Martinez have five children, four in school and a graduate. Martinze is also a lifelong resident of Crockett County. R. J. Everett, Jr. is also a lifelong resident of Crockett County and a rancher. He and Mrs. Everett are active as 4-H adult leaders. They have three children in school. Robert Flores is another native of Crockett County. He is an employee of Southwest Texas Electric Coop, He and Mrs. Flores have three children in school. Polls will open in the courthouse library at 8 a.m. and will close at 7 p.m.

License Check Turns Up Murder Supect

A routine license check last Tuesday night resulted in the arrest of a suspect wanted for murder and robbery in California and auto theft, armed robbery and kidnapping in Louisiana.

Patrolman Tom Finley. DPS, arrested Charles E. Waldon, 20 year old Negro male, after receiving information that the California car he was driving was reported stolen. Finley stopped the 1975 Lincoln Continental with Waldon at the wheel about one and a half miles east of Ozona on Highway 290.

A search of the vehicle turned up a can containing a substance believed to be marijuana. He was placed in Crockett County Jail under an initial charge of felony theft over $200 and possession of marijuana. Further investigation revealed the charges pending on Waldon in California and Louisiana,

After contacting authorities in California, Finley was asked to hold the subject and formally charge him with murder and robbery. The car Waldon was driving was reported stolen in California on March 14 and belonged to Lee Arter, who was found murdered about the same time in Los Angeles, Arter, a 62 year old white male, was a wealthy prominent citizen of Los Angeles, Credit cards and other personal effects belonging to Arter were found in Waldon's possession.

Waldon waived extradition and was escorted back to California Tuesday by the California authorities, Patrolman Finley will be required to attend both the pre-trial hearing and the trial of Waldon in Los Angeles.

Ozona Lion tracksters found the weather to their liking in Del Rio Thursday, gaining the highest point total of the season. The Lions outscored second place Sonora Broncos 212 to 144 for the division championship.

WHOLESALE SURRENDER

It is not surprising to find that the extreme left wing elements vision, widely regarded as an in the United States, not at all satisfied with the Kissinger-State almost impossible task for the Department policy of piecemeal surrender, should now be urging wholesale surrender to the Communists in Indochina.

Anthony Lake, a writer for the Washington Post, urges an "immediate, peaceful turning over of power" in Cambodia. "We and Senate voted out proposals are not, after all," he avers, "really facing the 'loss' of Cambodia.

Such a statement on the part of Mr. Lake indicates either, at best, total ignorance on his part of Communist aims and objectives, or, at worst, a deliberate attempt to mislead and confuse his readers. For years the Communists have made it abundantly clear that they consider the unconquered areas of Southeast Asia to be "ours" - i.e., part of the free world - and that they, the Communists, would resort to any means to destroy freedom in those areas.

Dumitru Danielopol, a syndicated columnist for Copley News Service, reported these statements by top world Communist. sources, and although the word "Vietnam" is used, the term applies with equal force to other nations in Southeast Asia. including Cambodia

From Kommunist, official journal of the Soviet Central Committee: "If a defeat is inflicted upon American imperialism in Vietnam it could open the floodgates for mass democratic [read Communist] action on a world scale, with deep social consequences

From Polish Red boss Wladislaw Gomulka. "The Vietnam War, although localized, has in fact become a world conflict between socialism and imperialism

From Peking. Red China: "We are living in the great era of world revolution. The revolutionary storm in Asia, Africa and Latin America is striking an annihilating blow to the old world." From a resolution adopted at a Communist summit meeting in Moscow. "... the successful struggle in Vietnam reflects the changes in international correlation of forces and the growing power of socialism, democracy and national liberation on a world

Obviously, the Communists, from their own clear declarations, intended to take by force what is "ours" - i.e., part of the free world and make it part of "theirs" i.e. the Communist

It is interesting to note that columnist Damelopol wrote his report, released by Copley News Service, in January, 1970 - more than five years ago. It is disappointing that writers, such as Anthony Lake, who comment on Communist activities ignore what Communist leaders say about their activities.

CAMBODIA: AN AMERICAN TRAGEDY

Over a decade ago, President John F. Kennedy said, "Let every nation know, whether it wishes us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend or oppose any foe in order to assure the survival and as a slate

Recent votes and party maneuverings in Washington indicate that, in current jargon, President Kennedy's words are no longer "operative" for most Members of Congress, including the great majority of his fellow Democrats. The Democratic Party caucus votes of 189 to 49 in the House and 38 to 5 in the Senate have virtually assured defeat of a last-ditch attempt to provide emergency aid to Cambodia and South Vietnam.

Although the situation in South Vietnam - which has an impressive military machine is serious but not yet critical, Cambodia is something else again. More than 10 percent of the Cambodian population has been killed - the equivalent of the U.S. losing about 22 million Americans. Many thousands more will surely be slaughtered after the Communist takeover, which now seems inevitable, barring a miracle.

It is true that the $222 million sought by the Ford Administration for Cambodia might not change the outcome. By the same token, however, withholding these funds makes unconditional surrender of Cambodia a virtual certainty.

The fall of Cambodia will, of course, be a major tragedy for that country and the free world as a whole. It will also particularly be an American tragedy. In the face of aggression from North Vietnam and local insurgents, U.S. officials have continued to troop to Phnom Penh to urge resistance. Without such encouragement, Cambodia might have sued for a settlement many thousands of lives ago.

It is not difficult to assess the sobering effect that this U.S. policy of piecemeal surrender will have on other free world allies who are in the path of the Communist dragnet.

The House and Senate passed a major tax bill giving rebates to most middle income and low income families more. and giving some tax relief to all Americans, I voted against that bill, in spite of traditional political advice never to vote against a tax reduction. Why did I do this? Because the tax bill would add $22.5 billion to our federal deficit, which is likely to reach $50 - $75 billion for the current year. I think, and I believe most Americans agree, that the government must stop piling up such enormous deficits. Any money that the government spends is taken from the taxpayers directly through taxation, or indirectly through piling up debts which create more inflation. These expenditures will have to be paid for by the American people, and when the government spends money it doesn't have, it is borrowing from the American

While we all recognize that there are areas that require government spending, and there are certain things which only the federal government can do for its citizens, people will only recover some control over their own economic lives if the government spends less and leaves the people

At the same time, there are some features of the tax bill that are good: the tax rebate will provide a stimulus to the economy; it raises the standard deduction to allow for inflation; it allows working couples to deduct child care expenses as business expenses; it helps small businesses that are incorporated by shifting the tax rate from on the first $25,000, and 22% on the next $25,000; it continues an oil depletion allowance for small producers and independents; and it gives $50 to all social security recipients for their immediate spending needs. Like so many things, this tax bill is a mixture of positives and negatives. What our country requires is constructive governmental policies so successfully they not only hold jobs, they obtain food stamps, collect welfare checks and raise families. They sometimes serve as a prime source for recruits for the radical protest groups proliferating our country, such as La Raza . . . meaning the "Union of the Race."

La Raza Unida not only benefits financially from illegal job holders, but it swells their ranks for demonstrations and protests. So great has been the influx of illegal aliens in the Southwest, Mexican-Americans are openly talking of taking over a large chunk of the United States. Already many parts of the Southwest are more Mexican than North American.

For American citizens of Mexican heritage, the illegal alien is a particularly thorny problem because he represents competition of the most dangerous sort. Tied together by language and geography, most want to help their racial brothers but not at the cost of losing jobs or businesses.

Obviously, patrolling 5,000 miles of border in the rugged country of the Southwest is a nearly impossible task. According to officials of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, they are woefully understaffed to do the kind of job they should do and would do, given the wherewithal.

If it is simply a case of money, as many of the Immigration officials believe, perhaps we should suggest to our legislators that some of the vast sums of taxpayers' dollars going out of America to countries all over the world might well be spent better in our own backvard.

Tips For Gardeners From the Ozona Garden Club Mrs. Bailey Post

April is the month for enjoying the garden. This spring, flowering bulbs, shrubs, and trees have really been showoffs and lawns are beginning to turn greens such as abelia, live a lush green.

And April is for gardening: and annual flowers, rooting cuttings, finish pruning, and planting of shrubs and trees.

This month bluebonnets should reach their peak bloom- 13, 14, 17, 18, 23, 24. ing season. There are several colorful spots in gardens and along hillsides in Ozona, You may want to join one of the many tours scheduled annually,

If you still have a gift poinsettia left over from Christmas, now is the time to either repot it or plant it outdoors, if repotting, cut the plant back to 4 or 5 inches in height, shake the soil from the roots and replant in a fertile, welldrained soil to which two or three handfuls of peat or compost have been added. After repotting, set the plant in a shady place for several days and water well, if planted directly into the yard, select a sunny spot with well drained soil. For a bushy plant, pinch out the tips of new growth during the growing season until about the middle of August.

Your established herbaceous perennials will benefit from being fertilized just as soon as the soil is dry enough to be worked. Use 20 to 25 pounds of 5-10-5 for each 1,000 square feet, Lift, divide and replant crowded perennials. When resetting them, add a handful of bone meal to the soil mix at each planting site. Container grown perennials are available at garden centers and can be set out now. Good ones to select are dianthus, gaillardia, rudbeckia, Shasta and Gloriosa daisies and others.

Gift pots of Easter lilies keep longer if they are placed in a cool room at night. Keep plants moist, but not wet. After the flowers fade, cut back the plant 3 or 4 inches and transplant outdoors. They will continue growing outside, but the annual flowering date will be later than the forced plants.

Don't be alarmed if everoak, photinia and others are shedding their leaves. The seed sowing of more vegetables mature leaves are being replaced with new ones. Watch for aphids.

April planting days: Above-ground crops - 12, Root crops - 2, 3, 4, 9, 25, 26, 30.

What price will consumers pay for convenience? Foods with services added to the basic ingredients save time and trouble in home preparation. Convenience products save time, but sometimes cost more than the "from scratch" foods.

Some convenience foods enjoy such popularity and volume sales that they actually may cost less. Some of the pie crust, cake, biscuit and cornbread mixes are sold in large enough volume that they may be a real bargain. These products may be as delicious as the homemade products. Frosting mixes, although more expensive, are foolproof in flavor and texture, Other bargain convenience foods are frozen juices, especially the larger cans. Frozen orange concentrate is one of the cheapest forms of orange juice, Refrigerated canned biscuits are much less expensive than those baked at home. The date code insures freshness for consumers. But frozen breakfast foods such as waffles or biscuits cost more than homemade ones.

and seasoned rice as well as one dish skillet meals are available now. These convenience foods do have their place--especially for the inexperienced cook or working homemaker. But consumers can save money by using a favorite recipe to combine basic ingredients and spices to make the same dish.

Frozen vegetables in the boil-in-bags are definitely more expensive but do offer vegetables processed at the peak of the season throughout the year.

Consumers will have to deexpense of some convenience foods is worth the time saved in the kitchen.

Some designers call sofabeds the furniture with a "secret" because the sofas are so attractive no one would guess they change into a bed until you actually see them change yourself.

Years ago, many sofa-beds were not so beautiful, and they were often uncomfortable and difficult to operate. Their limited use was a necessary

But in recent years, through the ingenuity of the furniture designers, sofa-beds, or convertibles, have really changed into beautiful, comfortable and practical pieces of furni-

Sofa-beds can now look like any other type of attractive sofa, in any style, and they may be had in all sizes from a love-seat that sleeps one, to a long-boy containing a king size mattress.

The versatility of design and size makes them usable in the most elegant living room, as well as the den or sun room and the ease of operation makes it possible to convert these sofas into beds with no difficulty.

All of these features, plus the fact that for day-time use they are just as comfortable for sitting as any other sofa, makes them a good buy.
